Faculty balloting is scheduled

Faculty balloting will be conducted Friday, April 20, through 4 p.m. (noon on Saturday), with all necessary appointments to fill committee vacancies, Registrar Robert H. Eddins, secretary of the faculty, announced. Nominations for the posts were made at the April 17 faculty meeting.

Faculty members may pick up and return ballots in their respective deans' offices.

Nominated were:
Student Conduct and Welfare Committee (one to be elected) - Catherine M. Cummings and Carolyn M. Kerr.

Opera event set Tuesday

New York City Opera coloratura soprano Norma French will present an evening of operatic art, "Some of My Best Friends Like Opera," at 8 p.m. Tuesday, April 24, in Smith Recital Hall.

Marshall Artists Series' Mount (Student) Division presentation, the program was conceived by Miss French in an effort to introduce the college students and faculty to the world of opera. "I want this show to expose people to the opera in the most pleasant way," she said. "Some will pursue opera further, some will not; but, I hope their lives will be a bit richer for having spent an evening with me."

Complete with singer and piano accompaniment by David Benedict, the program will include the following airs:
"Un Bel Di" from Puccini's "Madame Butterfly," "O Mio Babbino Caro" from Puccini's "Gianni Schicchi," the Mad Scene from Donzetti's "Lucia de Lammermoor" and "Sempre Libera" from Verdi's "La Traviata.

Tickets are available at the Marshall Artists Series office in the Student Activity Office in Smith Hall Lobby 165, for anyone who is interested in looking at it.

Anthropologist here Wednesday

Dr. William Y. Adams, professor of anthropology at the University of Kentucky, will speak at Marshall University at 7 p.m. Wednesday, April 25, in Smith Hall Auditorium. The free, public lecture, "Qar Ithim: An Ancient Egyptian Frontier Town," will deal with his excavations in the Aswan Dam area.

As the MU Sociology/Anthropology Department's 1979 American Anthropological Association visiting Lecturer, Dr. Adams also will meet informally with interested faculty and students during this two-day visit to the campus.

The excavation director of England's Egypt Exploration Society, Adams holds the B.A. degree from the University of Baltimore and earned his Ph.D. degree from the University of Arizona.

He has been the director of several major archaeological expeditions.
