

11-9-1979

Marshall University News Letter, November 9, 1979

Office of University Relations

Follow this and additional works at: http://mds.marshall.edu/oldmu_news_letter

Recommended Citation

Office of University Relations, "Marshall University News Letter, November 9, 1979" (1979). Marshall University News Letter 1972-1986. Paper 32.

http://mds.marshall.edu/oldmu_news_letter/32

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Marshall Publications at Marshall Digital Scholar. It has been accepted for inclusion in Marshall University News Letter 1972-1986 by an authorized administrator of Marshall Digital Scholar. For more information, please contact zhangj@marshall.edu, martj@marshall.edu.

Council makes recommendations to board should be recommended [see NEWS LETTER dated 09/07/79]. With a view toward giving faculty ample opportunity to present its suggestions, the committee voted to wait until the fall term was well under way before resuming its deliberations. It is now prepared to consider proposed modifications, which faculty are being asked to forward to the committee through their Advisory Council representatives. The committee's only ground rule is that any proposal to modify should be accompanied by a suggested alternative. [Current PB36 appears on pages 50-54 of the latest edition of the GREENBOOK.]

(Continued from page 1)

5. The following actions have been taken by the Council, all proposed via motion and approved by a majority of the members:

- 1) that the Council recommend to the BOR that it request a sum of money that would make it possible to give all employees of the BOR a salary increase in the cost of living [sic] for FY 80-81 and a modest additional sum for merit and/or adjustment.
- 2) that the vote on [the motion in brackets below] be indefinitely postponed until an information paper can be compiled, discussions held with the respective faculties, and a survey of the faculties on this question compiled. [The

More faculty and staff achievements, activities...

(Continued from page 3)

DR. MICHAEL E. SEIDEL, assistant professor of biological sciences, is the author of an article entitled "Interspecific comparisons of blood protein and urea concentrations in musk turtles, (Sternotherus) with notes on fasting in Sternotherus odoratus," which will be published in the Journal of Herpetology.

JUDITH MILLER, international student advisor, attended the annual conference of the National Association for Foreign Student Affairs, Regions 8-9, held Oct. 25-27 at Clayton, Del. She presented a talk on "Responsibilities of the Foreign Student Advisor to the Foreign Student."

DR. FRANK L. BINDER, associate professor of biological sciences, was a selected participant in a National Science Foundation sponsored Chautauqua Short Course in Immunobiology which was held Nov. 1-2 at Pennsylvania State University.

NEWCOMERS

New to the campus are:

THOMAS R. IRWIN, chief engineer, Instructional Television Services; CHARLES E. KING, security officer, Security; WAYNE L. STONE II, carpenter, School of Medicine, and LEOBIA GARRETT, building service worker, Plant Operations.

Welcome to Marshall!

Meeting site changed

The Marshall Council for International Education (MCIE) will hold a general meeting on Wednesday, Nov. 14, at 3:15 p.m. in Science Hall Room 102. The Science Hall location is a change from the MCIE's usual meeting place, according to Dr. Claire Horton, assistant professor of sociology/anthropology, MCIE vice president.

original motion was "that the BOR be requested to seek enactment of legislation that will promote a collective bargaining bill for higher education which ends in binding arbitration."]

3) that the following statement prepared by the Council's Budget Committee be submitted to the Council of Presidents at the joint Faculty/Presidents meeting scheduled for November 14:

"We believe that faculty members make a contribution to the development of our institutions. The budget process is a critical area where the faculty perspective is valuable. Their value was shown during the recent budget hearings where all institutions had faculty representatives present. Therefore, we recommend that faculty participation be expanded to include participation in the entire budget presentation and allocation process."

4) that the Council recommend to the BOR that higher education faculty who are currently participating partially or totally under the State Teacher's Retirement System need to have their retirement benefits protected.

5) that the Council review and reconsider an optical/dental plan.

6) that the BOR strongly support funding for a faculty development program which provides increased travel funds for attendance at professional meetings and which provides sabbatical leave with full pay.

7) that the Council recommend to the BOR that it seek to have the State of West Virginia pick up the employees share of Social Security.

8) that in light of the AED report, that the Regents be advised to re-examine the degree to which it exercises control over the state institutions of higher education, with the object of reducing its control role, reducing its costs and increasing the role of the institutions and their faculties in the governance of higher education in West Virginia.

Your comments or questions will be welcomed.

Frank Aldred

Singer Michael Johnson to give concert Monday

Musician, composer and singer Michael Johnson, whose record "This Night Won't Last Forever" currently is in the number 22 spot on the song charts, will appear in concert at Marshall University on Monday, Nov. 12.

Sponsored by the Concert Committee of Marshall's Student Activities Office, the concert is scheduled at 8 p.m. in Smith Recital Hall, according to Russ Bowers, Parkersburg sophomore, who heads the committee.

A limited number of tickets will be available to the general public at $5 each, Bowers said. Marshall students with valid ID and Activity cards will be admitted free. MU students with ID cards only may purchase tickets at $2 each. Ticket information is available from the Student Activities Office, Memorial Student Center Room 2W38.

Excused absences...

Absences have been excused by the respective college deans for the following:

OCT. 25—Cross Country team.

OCT. 30—Women's volleyball team.

OCT. 31-NOV. 1—Women's volleyball team.

NOV. 2-3—Cross Country team.

NOV. 8-9—Rhonda Adkins, Carol Bareuther, Anita Bhutani, Jane Chambers, Susan Degnan, Tamara Eye, Sally Garvin, Teresa Kinney, Elizabeth Konieczny and Rhonda Milam.

MARSHALL UNIVERSITY

News Letter

November 9, 1979

OFFICE OF UNIVERSITY RELATIONS • NEWS BUREAU • MARSHALL UNIVERSITY • HUNTINGTON, WEST VIRGINIA 25701

Seminar brings honor students to campus

About 300 National Merit Semi-Finalists and other students from throughout West Virginia, southern Ohio and eastern Kentucky are expected to attend a half-day seminar Tuesday, Nov. 13, in Memorial Student Center at Marshall University.

Counselors from the same region will attend a separate workshop.

The seminar, entitled "National Merit Semi-Finalist and Honor Graduate Day," will deal with student services and academic information and will include SCORES (Search Committee on Recruiting Excellent Students) departmental tours.

After registration from 8:30 to 9 a.m., both students and counselors will be welcomed by Phil Cline, president of the Marshall University Alumni Association, and MU President Robert B. Hayes.

At 9:30 a.m., students will hear from Dr. James W. Harless, MU director of admissions; Dennis Montrella, director of financial aid, and Dr. Alan Gould, chairman of the SCORES Committee.

Harless will discuss the College Level Examination Program (CLEP), admissions examinations and the honors program. Montrella will discuss the types of financial aid available and how to apply for it. Gould will discuss SCORES, its purpose and goals.

Academic information sessions with the academic deans

Report summarizes BOR council actions

Below is a summary of the major actions of the Advisory Council of Faculty of the Board of Regents since the last report:

1. Each of the sixteen delegations presenting institutional budget requests in hearings conducted by the Board's Budget Committee in late September included one or more faculty members. This represented a substantial improvement over the 1978 hearings when not one of the 16 groups contained a faculty member. [Dr. Sam Clagg represented the Marshall faculty this year.]
2. The Council reviewed the draft revision of PB50 prepared by the Board staff and, after suggesting an amendment, forwarded the draft with its endorsement. The Board subsequently approved the amended draft.
3. After some three months of work the Council adopted a set of procedural by-laws. Salient features include the separation of the position of vice-chairman/recorder into two offices, henceforth called vice-chairman and secretary. Margaret E.T. Byrer was confirmed as vice-chairman of the Council for the year 1979-80, and Dr. Lowell Johnson, Professor of Education at Fairmont State College, was elected secretary.
4. You will recall that the Ad Hoc PB36 Committee, when recommending approval of its draft revision to the Board in May, included the proviso that it would continue to study the total policy to determine what additional modifications and departmental representatives of SCORES will begin at 10 a.m. Deans who will address the students in various rooms in the Memorial Student Center are:

(Continued on page 4)

Dr. Steven Hanrahan, College of Science; Dr. George Harbold, College of Liberal Arts; Dr. Philip J. Rusche, College of Education; Dr. Robert Coon, School of Medicine; Dr. Paul Hines, Community College; Dr. Virginia Allen, School of Nursing, and Dr. Sara Anderson, College of Business.

Counselors, meanwhile, will be involved in open forum discussion from 9:30 to 11 a.m. The sessions will be on SCORES, the School of Medicine, scholarships, loans, work-study and Basic Educational Opportunity Grants (BEOG), Community College programs and services, ACT/APP admissions system overview, CLEP testing changes at Marshall, student services and open discussion.

At 11 a.m., both students and counselors will go on SCORES departmental tours and will visit individual academic departments.

The seminar will conclude with a 12:30 p.m. luncheon.

Swearing in ceremonies held for Daniel O'Hanlon

Daniel P. O'Hanlon, chairman of the Division of Community/Public Service at the Community College of Marshall University, was sworn in on Friday, Oct. 26, as an assistant prosecuting attorney for Cabell County.

O'Hanlon was sworn in during a brief ceremony held in the courtroom of Circuit Court Judge Alfred E. Ferguson. O'Hanlon will prosecute one or two criminal cases each month, he said.

Before joining Marshall, O'Hanlon was a trial attorney for the U.S. Department of Justice and served as a special prosecutor for the U.S. Attorney's office doing criminal trials in Washington, D.C.

MU-MSU out for blood

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will visit Marshall University's campus Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 14-15, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Multi-Purpose Room, Memorial Student Center.

Marshall's Student Government has challenged Morehead (Ky.) State University to see which school can provide the highest percentage of student donors, according to Pam Stacy, donor resources consultant for the Huntington-Cabell County Chapter, American National Red Cross. The winning school will receive a plaque, Ms. Stacy said.

Faculty and staff are encouraged to join the students in donating blood. "Those employees who are enrolled in classes should register as students, rather than staff or faculty, so they will be counted in the student total," she added.

TEACHING AIDS PRESENTED MEDICAL SCHOOL

The Schering Corporation, a national pharmaceutical firm, recently donated a series of teaching slides valued at approximately $1,500 to the Marshall University School of Medicine. The slide sets are on 12 different Dermatology topics and represent the latest in audio-visual aids in that field. The slides, which will be updated periodically by Schering, will be used by medical students, residence and nursing students. John E. McMillan, left, Schering's professional service representative for the Huntington area, presented the sets to Ed Dzierzak, audio-visual librarian for the medical school's Health Science Library, while Ronald D. Martino of Pittsburgh, the firm's district manager, looked on.

Star Trek's 'Scotty' to be here Tuesday

James Doohan, Star Trek's Chief Engineer Scotty, will appear at Marshall University at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 13, in the Memorial Student Center's Multi-Purpose Room.

"Star-Trekking with Scotty," is described as an informal program, featuring remarks by Doohan about Star Trek and television in general, a showing of "bloopers"—mistakes made during the program's filming—and an episode from the series.

Doohan also will answer questions from the audience.

Marshall students with ID and Activity cards will be admitted free to the program, which is sponsored by the Contemporary Issues Committee of the Student Activities Office.

Public general admission tickets will be $2. Student tickets will be $1. Tickets are available from the Student Activities Office, located in Memorial Student Center Room 2W38.

A professional actor for more than 30 of his 59 years, Doohan has appeared in more than 100 stage plays, 4,000 radio shows and several hundred television shows prior to Star Trek.

A native of British Columbia, Doohan played his first role at age 13 when he portrayed Robin Hood in a school production. He served six years in the Royal Canadian Artillery during World War II and his exploits flying small spotting aircraft won him the title of "Craziest Pilot in the Canadian Air Force."

While attending a drama school in Toronto, Canada, Doohan won a two-year scholarship to New York City's Neighborhood Playhouse, where he also taught for three years.

Married with five children and two grandchildren, Doohan lives with his wife in Los Angeles.

Dr. John H. Mead to be heard in recital

The Marshall University Music Department will present a faculty recital by Dr. John H. Mead, associate professor of music, at 8 p.m. today (Nov. 9), in Smith Recital Hall.

Mead, on trombone, will be assisted by Dr. James L. Taggart, MU professor of music, on piano; Ben F. Miller, MU assistant professor of music, and the department's Kingsbury Woodwind Quintet.

The program will include an oboe concerto by Handel transcribed for trombone; a transcription of a concerto for trombone and brass band by Orr; Baudo's "Petite Suite," and a piece by Wilder, reminiscent of the brass band concerts in the park.

The concert is free and open to the public.

Faculty and staff achievements, activities...

DR. JOSEPH S. LA CASCIA, professor of economics and department chairman, presented a paper on "Industrialization of Less Developed Countries" at an International Economy and Resources Seminar held Oct. 22 at the U.S. Army War College in Carlisle Barracks, Pa.

DR. DEWEY D. SANDERSON, associate professor of geology, and DR. RICHARD B. BONNETT, associate professor of geology and department chairman, attended a symposium entitled "The Primitive Earth Revisited," held at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, on Oct. 18-19.

DR. ROLAND L. MADISON, associate professor of accounting, and WILLIAM J. RADIG, assistant professor of accounting, attended the 92nd annual meeting of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants on Oct. 14-16 in New Orleans. They participated in discussions concerning the recent developments in auditing and accounting standards.

DR. WARREN W. WOODEN, associate professor of English,

MU faculty participate in state speech meeting

Eight Marshall University faculty members attended the West Virginia Speech Association (WVSA) Convention held at Cedar Lakes on Oct. 5-7.

They were: DR. DOROTHY JOHNSON, professor of speech and department chairman; DR. WILLIAM N. DENMAN, associate professor of speech; C. BOSWORTH JOHNSON, associate professor of journalism; MAUREEN MILICIA, CATHERINE CUMMINGS, DR. BERTRAM GROSS, DR. CRAIG MONROE and B.R. SMITH, assistant professors of speech.

Monroe, the newly-elected WVSA president, served as conference director. Dr. Johnson was elected parliamentarian and Denman is the immediate past president.

Papers were presented by Ms. Cummings on interpersonal communication, Monroe on process consultation, Denman on public communication, and Johnson on journalistic communication. Gross debated former MU student Becky Wiley, now on the faculty of Duval High School, on the values of individual events competition.

Dr. Moat is author of microbiology textbook

Dr. Albert G. Moat, professor and Microbiology Department chairman at the Marshall University School of Medicine, is the author of a recently published textbook for upper-level microbiology students.

Entitled "Microbial Physiology," the 600-page book provides an advanced knowledge of the basic cell structure, metabolism, genetics and the growth of microorganisms such as bacteria, yeast, molds and protozoa, according to the publisher, John Wiley & Sons, Inc.

A member of the MU School of Medicine faculty since 1978, Moat holds the B.S. and M.S. degrees from Cornell University and the Ph.D. degree from the University of Minnesota. Prior to coming to Marshall, he was professor of microbiology at Hahnemann Medical College in Philadelphia.

The author of more than 40 major scientific articles which have appeared in professional publications, Moat is a member of the American Society of Microbiology, the American Society of Biological Chemists and the Genetics Society of America.

Founded in 1807, Wiley & Sons is one of America's oldest publishing houses and is known for its publications in the areas of science and technology, social science, business and medicine.

is the author of an article entitled "The Wit of Thomas More's 'Utopia'" appearing in Studies in the Humanities, Vol. 7, no. 2 (September, 1979), pp. 43-51.

DR. WILLIAM SCHNEIDERMAN, assistant professor of psychology, represented Marshall University at the Ontario Symposium on "Variability in Social Behavior," held at the University of Waterloo, Ontario, Canada, Oct. 20-21.

DR. ROBERT P. ALEXANDER, professor of management and department chairman, conducted a two-hour seminar on "Time Management" for the National Secretary Association at the Gateway Inn on Oct. 6. He also conducted a seminar on "Interview Techniques" for Marshall University seniors majoring in chemistry on Oct. 9.

PATRICIA ANN GREEN, associate professor of music, presented the wrap-up address at the Fall Music Curriculum Conference, held Oct. 14-16 at North Bend State Park. The conference was sponsored by the State Department of Education Bureau of Learning Systems, Division of Instructional Learning Systems, in cooperation with the County Music Directors Association, an affiliate of the West Virginia Music Educators Association. Miss Green was presented a certificate of appreciation by Gerald Perry, special projects coordinator for the state education department, for her work on the music textbook study committee. The committee wrote the "Music Educator's Guide to Textbook Adoption Procedures."

(Continued on page 4)

Eastman Kodak Co. gives $600 to Marshall

Marshall University has received a $600 gift from Eastman Kodak Co. through the firm's employee/alumni grants program, according to Dr. Bernard Queen, MU director of development.

The contribution was made on behalf of Cinda Ellen Foglesong, a 1974 Marshall graduate who is employed in the company's Tennessee Eastman division.

Kodak employee/alumni grants are awarded to accredited institutions for each year completed by those who graduate and join Kodak within five years of graduation. In the case of publicly-supported schools, the grants are made in the amount of $150 for each year the employee attended the institution.

Library announces Thanksgiving schedule

The James E. Morrow Library will observe the following schedule during the Thanksgiving holiday period:

Wednesday, Nov. 21	7:45 a.m.-4:30 p.m.
Thursday, Nov. 22/Thanksgiving	CLOSED
Friday, Nov. 23	1 p.m.-5 p.m.
Saturday, Nov. 24	1 p.m.-5 p.m.

RESUME REGULAR SCHEDULE:

Sunday, Nov. 25	1 p.m.-10 p.m.
-----------------	----------------

REGULAR SCHEDULE:

Monday through Thursday	7:45 a.m.-11 p.m.
Friday	7:45 a.m.-5 p.m.
Saturday	9 a.m.-5 p.m.
Sunday	1 p.m.-10 p.m.