Marshall gains NASM membership

Marshall University has been elected to associate membership in the National Association of Schools of Music (NASM), the accrediting body for degree programs in music, in 1979. Prof. John Jr. has announced, “This means the programs of the Marshall Music Department meet standards established by those in the forefront of music training and have received the professional seal of approval,” the provost said.

Accreditation by NASM is official recognition of the quality and excellence within Marshall’s music training programs,” he added.

Currently, the NASM approval covers the Bachelor of Arts in Music Education degree and all the master’s level degree programs—music education, applied music, music history and literature, and music theory and composition, according to Dr. George Harbord, dean of the MU College of Liberal Arts.

Dr. William P. Sullivan to head English Department

Dr. William P. Sullivan, professor of English and a member of the Marshall University faculty since 1968, has been appointed chairman of the university’s Department of English, which his father, Dr. Marvin O. Sullivan, who is retiring at the end of the current academic year.

Sullivan’s appointment was effective Dec. 1, according to Dr. George J. Harbord, dean of the College of Liberal Arts, who made the announcement.

Harbord said Sullivan’s appointment has been recommended by the department.

Mitchell has served as English Department chair since 1974. He has been a member of the Marshall faculty since 1952. He will continue as professor of English through the remainder of the academic year, Harbord said.

Payroll deduction plan available for United Way gifts

The campus United Way campaign is under way and supports a number of organizations. According to Dr. Clair Gratt and Dr. Sallie Plymle, this year’s section co-chairman, a new contributions policy has been added under the West Virginia State Employees Combined Campaign which allows for payroll deductions for contributions made by employees to the United Way, American Cancer Society, American Heart Association and Multi- ple Scleorsis, Matz said.

A new payroll deduction plan is one option open to employees in making a United Way pledge and allows contributors to spread the payments out over a 12-month period. (Continued on page 4)
The University Council met on Nov. 28 and conducted the following items of business:

a. Approved the organization of a Budget and Appropriations Committee for possible addition to the standing committees of the faculty. This committee will be proposed as an amendment to the Faculty Constitution for approval which will require a two-thirds majority of the faculty voting. This decision is planned for early spring.

The composition of the proposed Budget and Appropriations Committee is for faculty representation identical to that of the University Council, Academic Planning and Standards Committee, Faculty Personnel Committee and the Physical Facilities and Planning Committee. There will be one student representative and two ex officio members, the Vice President for Financial Affairs and the Provost.

b. The Council is now in the process of reacting to the Higher Education Report prepared by the Academy for Educational Development. The Council response will be directed to the Joint Subcommittee on Higher Education, West Virginia Legislature.

Faculty members having views on any recommendations from the report should make their views known to some member of the University Council.

Physical Facilities/Planning

The Physical Facilities and Planning Committee met at 8:15 a.m. on Thursday, Nov. 29, in Memorial Student Center 2W10. Dr. Simpkins informed the committee of his experiences in the Smith Hall elevator, and Mr. Egnatoff advised the committee that a consultancy agreement with a firm of elevator specialists was in the last stages of being approved by the Board of Regents. The plan policy subcommittee requested an extension prior to presenting its report. The committee also was informed that consultants in graphics, landscaping and energy management had been approved by the BOR and that the objectives of such consultancies were being actively pursued. The matter of design identifying the units within the Medical School Building (Doctors' Memorial Building) was referred to Mr. Egnatoff.

Following extensive discussion of the parking situation and land acquisitions completed or in progress, it appeared as if projections would indicate that, by this coming fall or summer, an additional 600-700 spaces would be available.

Maintenance problems were discussed, with specific problem areas being referred to Mr. Egnatoff. A set of guidelines has been established for the repair of certain areas in and above Prichard Halls, to be sent to affected departments, in preparation. The secretary was instructed to remind Mr. Egnatoff of commitments due by March 8, 1978, establishing the functions and make-up of a safety committee, and requesting him to reactivate same.

Respectfully submitted,
Eric P. Thorn
Secretary, Physical Facilities/Planning
