Music at Marshall

Students at Marshall University are offered various opportunities for participation in major musical organizations on the campus such as the Marching Band, Concert Bands, Stage Band, Marshall Community Symphony, Symphonic Choir, A Capella Choir, Men's Glee Club, Choral Union, Madrigal Singers, Opera Workshops and Ensembles. These organizations play before large audiences each year through appearances at concerts, athletic events, televised programs, and on tours throughout West Virginia and neighboring states. In the summer of 1967 the Department of Music moved into the new Evelyn Hottelberg-Smith Music Hall, one of the most outstanding university music facilities in the nation.

The Wind Instrument Faculty includes artist teachers with advanced degrees from well-known universities and conservatories, and a rich and varied background in professional music.
