FACULTY MEETING

President John G. Barker has announced a faculty meeting at 4 p.m. Tuesday, April 3, to be held in Old Main Auditorium. The President will present the plans of the Ad Hoc Committee for the study of a merit system. The faculty will be given the opportunity for open discussion following Dr. Jennings’ presentation.

Bertoia to visit

Internationally-known sculptor Harry Bertoia will address the Marshall University Interdisciplinary Honors Seminar Wednesday, April 4.

Italian-born Bertoia will present a sculptor’s reaction to the seminar theme for this semester — “The Search for Meanings in a Meaningless Universe” as seen through the media of fine arts. The Interdisciplinary Honors Seminar consists of approximately 50 students — the freshman honors and the upper-level honors, according to the directors, Dr. Carolyn Karr, assistant professor of social studies, and Dr. Larry Ten Harmsel, assistant professor of English.

Bertoia was a pioneer in the field of creating sculpture through the direct metal technique, combining sound and motion in sculpture.

Bertoia was the sculptor for the fountain erected this fall in the Memorial Student Center plaza. He said although his sculpture was in memory of those who lost their lives in the Marshall air tragedy of 1970, he hoped to convey “the living, rather than commemorating Death itself, in the waters of life, rising, renewing, reaching to express upward growth, immortality and eternity.”

Bertoia, who lives at Barto, Pa., came to the United States when he was 15, studied at the Society of Arts and Crafts in Detroit and at the Cranbrook Academy of Art at Bloomfield Hills, Mich., where he later taught.

He has received wide recognition for his work with architectural sculpture and has been awarded gold medals from the American Institute of Architects and the Architectural League of New York.

PERSONNEL CHANGES

Two administrative changes in the Division of Student Affairs at Marshall University were announced today by Dr. Richard G. Mund, vice president for student affairs, effective July 1, 1973.

Dr. Charles R. Quillin, dean of students since July 1, 1972, will become assistant to the vice president for student affairs.

His reassignment leaves a vacancy which will be filled at a later time, said Mund.

Dr. Richard W. Waite, director of the Student Development Center since July 1, 1972, will expand his duties at Marshall. His title will be director of Student Development and Health Service.

“By this reorganization of existing personnel, we will utilize their abilities, training and experience to the fullest extent,” according to Mund.

“The reassignment will effect an economy in personnel and permit the vice president’s office to expedite and initiate more services and programs for students,” he added.

Dr. Quillin received his B.A. degree from Wabash (Ind.) College and his M.S. and Ph.D. degrees from Brown University.

Before joining the Marshall University staff last year, he was associate dean of students at Colby College, Waterville, Me.

Listed in “Who’s Who in the East,” “American Men of Science,” and “Who’s Who in the Midwest,” he has taught on secondary and university levels. He is a member of the National Association of Student Personnel Administrators and other professional organizations.

Dr. Waite, who joined the university staff in January, 1968, was formerly an associate professor of education.

Under Waite’s direction, the first counseling and testing center was established on Marshall’s campus.

He received the B.S. degree from The Ohio State University, his M.S. from Indiana University and his Ph.D. from the University of Michigan.

From 1970-73 Dr. Waite authored four federal New Careers proposals funded at some $20,000 each.

He is a member of Phi Delta Kappa, the American Personnel and Guidance Association and the National Vocational Guidance Association.

MU NEWCOMERS

VICKIE SUE EARLY, ID clerk for the Registrar’s Office, and MRS. LOIS JANE CLECKLEY, secretary for the Athletic Department, are recent newcomers to the Marshall campus.

Marshall University administrators, faculty, staff and students welcome you!

Get well wishes

English Institute

Marshall University’s Department of English will hold the 13th Annual Marshall University English Institute Thursday, April 5, for secondary school teachers of English and language arts.

The theme for the Institute is “Teaching the Works of Oliver Goldsmith.” The year 1973 is the 200th anniversary of Goldsmith's comedy, She Stoops to Conquer. Scenes from the Goldsmith comedy will be presented by members of the Marshall University Theatre, under the direction of William G. Kearns, associate professor of speech, at both sessions of the Institute.

A student convocation in Old Main Auditorium will be held at 11 a.m. Keynote speaker will be Dr. Thomas Hambrick, chairman of the department of English, Concord College. His topic will be “Pure Comedy: The Example of She Stoops to Conquer.”

The English Institute for visiting teachers will begin at 7:30 p.m. in Old Main Auditorium. Dr. Hambrick will speak at this time on “Goldsmith in the Classroom.”

All Marshall faculty and students are invited to attend both sessions, said Dr. Jack R. Brown, chairman of Marshall’s English department.

Attention Faculty

The Contemporary Issues Committee of the Office of Student Activities and Cultural Events is sponsoring Human Sexuality Week April 8-12. The following doctors and counselors will be on campus during this time to participate. The times of their scheduled seminars will be released in The Parthenon, Wednesday, April 4. They will be available for class visitations during their free time. If any member of the faculty is interested in inviting any one of these persons to his classroom, please call the Office of Student Activities, 6770.

- Dr. Alan Wabrek - Obstetrician and Gynecologist, Jewish Hillside Medical Center, Long Island, New York. Will present seminar on marriage relations and relationships in general, human sexual response, contraception.

- Mrs. Carolyn J. Wabrek - Wife of Dr. Wabrek, presently a candidate for her Ph. D. in human sexuality, marriage and the family at New York University. She will assist her husband in conducting seminars in sex counseling and marriage relations.

- Dr. Takey Crist - Previously served as Assistant Professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology, University of North Carolina. He is now in private practice in Jacksonville, North Carolina. Will conduct seminars on venereal disease and abortion.

- Dr. Elaine Mastroianni - Obstetrician and Gynecologist at University of Pennsylvania. Will present seminars on childbirth and student gynecology.

Faculty Recital

A joint faculty recital will be presented by J.D. Folsom on trumpet, assistant professor of music, Dr. Michael E. Cerveris on piano, associate professor of music, and Dr. Richard L. Barbour singing baritone, associate professor of music.

The recital will be held Thursday, April 5, at 8 p.m. in Smith Music Hall Auditorium.

Marshall Artists Series

Switched-on “Popcorn” will be on the menu for the concert this evening by “Gershon Kingsley’s First Moog Quartet”.

The creator of the hit album “Popcorn” will appear on the Marshall Artists Series in a concert featuring four Moog electronic music synthesizers, piano, drums and percussion. Winner of two CLIO advertising awards, Kingsley has served as staff arranger and conductor for Vanguard Records, and was musical director for the Broadway show, “La Plume de ma Tante”.

Included on the program will be “Popcorn,” “Ode to Madison Avenue,” “Eleven O’clock News,” “John Philip Moog,” “My Lady of the Island” and “Windmills of Your Mind”.

Touring under the auspices of S. Hurok, the First Moog Quartet is the first such group to present live concerts of electronic music.

The performance will be held at 8 p.m. at the Keith-Albee Theater. The theater box office will be open an hour before curtain.

The Berlin Concert Choir and Orchestra, as part of its first American tour, will perform the “Mass in B Minor” by J.S. Bach in Huntington Wednesday, April 4.

Appearing on the Marshall Artists Series, Fritz Weisse will conduct the ensemble of 70 singers, 50 instrumentalists, and soloists. The performance will be held at the Keith-Albee Theater at 8 p.m.

Soloists for the concert will be Ursula Farr, soprano; Ortrun Wenkel, mezzo-soprano; Sidney Johnson, tenor; and Marco Bakker, baritone.

The theater box office will be open the day of performance from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and an hour before curtain.

‘Outstanding Educators’

Ten members of the Marshall University faculty have been selected “Outstanding Educators of America” for 1973, according to V. Gilbert Beers, director of the Washington, D.C.-based program.

Outstanding Educators of America is an annual awards program honoring distinguished men and women for exceptional service, achievements and leadership in the field of education. Those selected are featured in the national awards volume, “Outstanding Educators of America.”

Selected from Marshall were:
- Dr. William K. Easley, vice president for academic affairs.
- Dr. William J. Kehoe, assistant professor of marketing.
- Dr. William F. Ashford, professor of marketing.
- Dr. Simon D. Perry, professor of political science.
- Dr. O. Norman Simpkins, chairman and professor of sociology and anthropology.
- Dr. Charles Moffat, chairman and professor of history.
- Dr. Ruth T. Wellman, associate professor of education.
- Dr. John Callebs, assistant to the vice president for academic affairs and associate professor of social studies.
- Dr. Mahlon C. Brown, professor of social studies.
Music Festival

The Marshall University Department of Music presents the 6th Annual Contemporary Music Festival Thursday and Friday, March 29-30. Guest composer for the festival is Daniel Pinkham, who is on the faculty of the New England Conservatory of Music and is music director of the historic King's Chapel in Boston.

If you missed yesterday's events, the program begins today at 11 a.m. with a lecture by Pinkham on "The Synthesizer and Electronic Music Composition." The lecture will be held in Smith Music Hall Room 150. At 3 p.m. a contemporary music recital will be presented by Marshall faculty and students in Smith Hall Auditorium Room 154.

At 8 p.m. the festival will conclude with a concert, "The First Moog Quartet," a part of the Marshall Artists Series, Baxter Series, at the Keith Albee Theater.

RCIE Conference

The Regional Council For International Education will hold its 14th Annual Conference at the University of Akron, April 13-14. The theme of the conference will be "New Directions in American Foreign Policy and the Implications for Higher Education."

The keynote speaker for Friday, April 13, will be Dr. Klaus Mehnert, visiting professor, Columbia University; director, Institute for Political Studies, University of Aachen; special advisor to Budestag President, Eugen Gerstenmeier; special assistant to Chancellor Adenauer during historic visit to Moscow, and author of "Peking and Moscow."

Dr. Mehnert's subject will be "The Shape of Change from the Elbe to the Yangtze" Discussion groups will follow his address.

On Saturday a student panel will present "Students' Views on Changing International Relationships."

Conference cost for faculty and administrators is $18 if paid by April 6 and for students $5 if paid by April 6.

Housing costs are motel rates $15 (single) per night and $20.50 (double) per night.

Students may be housed on the college campus at $2 per night.

For further information, contact Dr. A. M. Tyson, Marshall's RCIE liaison, phone 3120.

MILITARY BALL

The Annual Marshall University Military Ball will be held tomorrow evening in the ballroom of American Legion Post 16, Sixth Avenue, Huntington. Playing for the occasion will be the Logos Brothers from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

The motif for the dance will be Hawaiian. Set-ups may be purchased. Tickets for the formal dance may be purchased at $2 per couple at Gullickson Hall Room 217.

Magic Theatre presents...

The Magic Theatre film for this evening is "Quackser Fortune has a Cousin in the Bronx." The movie will be shown at 7:30 in the Multi-Purpose Room of the Memorial Student Center. Admission is free upon presentation of ID cards.

A limited number of guest passes are available at the door on a first-come-first-serve basis.

High School Press Meet

George N. Gill, managing editor of The Louisville Courier-Journal, will be the featured speaker at the 38th Annual United High School Press Convention March 30-31 at Marshall.

A prize-winning journalist who joined The Courier-Journal staff as a reporter in 1960, Gill will speak at the afternoon awards banquet March 31 in Marshall's Memorial Student Center. According to UHSP Director George Arnold Jr., Gill's audience will consist of several hundred high school journalists and publications advisers from West Virginia, Eastern Kentucky and Southeastern Ohio.

The Kentucky editor's presentation will highlight two days of activities that will include newspaper and yearbook seminars, critique sessions, workshops, business sessions, and awarding of 34 certificates in 12 categories of competition.

First held in 1927, the convention consists of three organizations which together form the United High School Press Association, Arnold said. The UHSP is made up of high school newspaper staffs and faculty advisers and is the oldest branch, having been formed 46 years ago by Professor W. Page Pitt, retired founder and chairman of the Marshall Department of Journalism. The West Virginia Journalism Teachers' Association followed in 1931, and the United High School Yearbook Association was formed in 1952.

RCIE Programs

The RCIE/University of Akron 1973 Summer Faculty Seminar in India has been approved for funding by the U.S. Office of Education. However, final approval must be given by the Indian Government.

It is, nevertheless, recommended that interested faculty continue the process of application so that when approval comes we can move as quickly as possible.

Applicants should mark the dates May 3-6 on their calendar for a predeparture seminar which all participants must attend.

The seminar is on "Rural-Urban Change in India." Dates are June 2 - July 27, 1973. Interested faculty members should consult Dr. A. Mervin Tyson, Marshall liaison with RCIE, as soon as possible.

The RCIE is sponsoring a Faculty Seminar in Yugoslavia May 28-July 11, 1973. Applications must be received in the RCIE office in Pittsburgh by April 10.

The objective of the seminar is to enlarge understanding of Yugoslav society and culture through a study of its art, government, and economic and social institutions. The seminar has received preliminary approval by the U.S. Office of Education. Final funding will depend on availability of foreign currencies in Yugoslavia.

The seminar is under the direction of the Center for International Programs and Comparative Studies of the New York State Education Department. RCIE faculty members are eligible to apply.

Twenty faculty members will be selected from undergraduate teachers in the social sciences and humanities who are not specialists but are or will be incorporating East European materials into their courses.

A Spring '73 Research Seminar in Poland for faculty members and advanced graduate students is planned for May 12 - July 6. The topic of the seminar is "Polish Perspectives of the Major Issues of International Relations."

Deadline for applications is April 6. For further information, contact Dr. A. Mervin Tyson, Marshall RCIE liaison, phone 3120.
Faculty and staff achievements, activities...

RALPH J. TURNER, assistant professor of journalism, and GEORGE ARNOLD JR.; assistant professor of journalism, conducted two newspaper workshop sessions March 16 at Milton High School.

The workshops were arranged by Nancy Dean and Mike Torlone, Marshall journalism majors currently student teaching at Milton.

MARVIN D. MILLS, associate professor of safety education, will be the guest speaker for the Huntington Columbia Gas Employees monthly meeting, April 3. His topic will be "Safety in the 70's."

NEAL G. ADKINS, instructor in accounting, completed requirements for the professional designation Certified Public Accountant (CPA) on Feb. 1, according to Ernest W. Cole, acting dean of the College of Business and Applied Science.

MICHAEL CORNFELD, assistant professor of art, exhibited a woven wall hanging and a fiber sculpture in the 10th Annual Piedmont Crafts Exhibition at the Mint Museum of Art, Charlotte, N.C. The juried exhibition has been on display from Feb. 18 and will continue through April 15.

GERALD W. REVEAL has been appointed producer-director for the Closed Circuit Television Department, according to Terry M. Hollinger, general manager for the combined operations of WMUL-TV, Closed Circuit Television and WMUL-Radio.

Reveal's major responsibility will be direction of all instructional television programs broadcast by the Closed Circuit Department on the campus.

LYLE F. PLYMALE, associate professor of physical science and advisor of Kappa Chapter of Chi Beta Phi, attended the National Convention of Chi Beta Phi held at "Millisop Cultural Center" on the Bethany College campus. Students representing the Marshall Kappa Chapter were Winton Baker, Edwyn Boyd, Carolyn Clark, Jeanne Heisman, Paul Meade, and Dan Steele.

The Kappa Chapter was chosen as one of the outstanding six chapters nationwide. Mary Jane McDaniel, a senior, was Marshall's entry as Key Award winner. She placed in the top six students on a national basis.

Homecoming Committee

Paul Skaff, coordinator for the 1973 Marshall University Homecoming, announced that members of the Homecoming Committee have been chosen. Skaff, a Charleston junior, will serve as the chairman of the committee.

Earlier this semester Skaff said, "I want to organize a committee that involves everybody - students, alumni, faculty, administrators, and members of the business community."

Through extensive interviews by the Student Activities Associations Screening Committee the following students have been chosen as members of the 1973 committee:

Patti Bazell, Huntington freshman; Beth Eastwood, South Charleston sophomore; Meg Ferrell, Parkersburg junior; Danny Franco, Pompano Beach, Fla., senior; Thomas A. Lundy, Chesapeake, Ohio, sophomore; Deborah King, Ravenswood senior; Deborah Koontz, Charleston senior, and Sharon Pastoria, Huntington sophomore.

Representing the Chamber of Commerce will be Ronald Jenkins, Donald Eppard, and Roy Everett.

Representing the Marshall University Alumni Association will be Robert McCaskey, John McEldowney and Lois Stanley.

Also represented on the committee will be Joseph McMullen, director of athletics, and a member of his staff.

Dr. Charles R. Quillin, Marshall dean of students, and Ruth Liddell Hood, assistant dean of students, will also be on the Homecoming Committee.

Two faculty members are yet to be chosen to fill the 20-member committee.

WILLIAM J. KEHOE, assistant professor of marketing, has been named outstanding professor of that department for the current academic year, Dr. William Ashford, department chairman, announced.

Kehoe was chosen on the basis of teaching performance, service to student, evidence of scholarship, service to the institution outside the classroom, and service to the community.

DR. JOSEPH S. LA CASCIA, chairman of the department of economics, has been invited by faculty members and graduate students of the Department of Economics at Indiana State University at Terre Haute, Ind.

DR. LA CASCIA will present several scholarly papers in a series of lectures April 5-6. These papers were researched while Dr. La Cascia was on leave of absence during the 1971-72 academic year as a Senior Fulbright-Hays Professor to the University of Vera Cruz in Jalapa, Mexico. The papers deal with the Mexican economy and the conflict between economic and social goals.

DR. DOROTHY JOHNSON, associate professor of speech, DR. C.A. KELLNER, associate professor of speech, and B.R. SMITH, assistant professor of speech, attended the 19th annual meeting of the Association for Professional Broadcasting Education in Washington, D.C., March 24-25.

The meeting featured workshops and panels on various aspects of broadcast education. Dr. Kellner was in charge of a workshop on courses and curricula for broadcast education on Saturday morning.

Mr. Smith was featured as one of a four-member panel on new techniques in teaching broadcasting and presented a videotape of telelessons used in the introductory course in broadcasting at Marshall.

HERBERT ROYER, assistant professor of curriculum and instruction, was recently elected for a two-year term as president of the West Virginia College English-Language Arts Council at Charleston.

The Council is concerned with the preparation of English teachers and improving the teaching of English and language arts in the public schools.

Counselors' Convention

Counselors in higher education from throughout the state will gather at Marshall University for a series of workshops April 1-2.

The convention will feature presentations and group discussions concerning major problem areas facing counselors at state colleges and universities.

Subjects include abortion and drug abuse counseling, Gestalt and group therapy and approaches to problems confronting black students from Appalachia.

Dr. Richard W. Waite, director of the Student Development Center at MU, is coordinator of the two-day event to be held at Memorial Student Center.

Participating in the sessions will be Dr. Robert Hibbard and Dr. Joseph Mock, Huntington psychologists; Nelson Bickley, director of counseling at West Virginia State College; Col. Marvin Billups, assistant dean, director of the MU Human Relations Center; Kenneth E. Blue, MU counselor; Rev. William Miller and Rev. Kenneth Price, Campus Christian Center; Dr. Donald Chezik, associate professor of psychology at MU; Dr. Robert Dingman and Dr. William McDowell, associate professors of counseling, and Frank Baez, director of the Nicky Cruz Drug Outreach Program in Huntington.

Registration will be held in the Memorial Student Center beginning at 6 p.m., Sunday.

Marshall President Dr. John G. Barker will welcome the convention-goers at a noon luncheon Monday in the faculty dining room at the Student Center.
Special education conference

Marshall University's Special Education Program will sponsor the Second Annual Special Education Conference April 5-6 in the Memorial Student Center.

"Classroom Strategies for Special Education" will be the theme for the conference. Registration will follow a two-hour cracker barrel session with students beginning at 1 p.m.

The keynote speaker for the conference will be Dr. Thomas M. Stephens, chairman and professor, exceptional children, College of Education, The Ohio State University.

Dr. Stephens will address the conference following a banquet at 6:30 p.m. on Thursday. The topic of his address will be "Introduction to Behavioral Approaches."

Dr. Stephens is president of the Council for Children with Behavioral Disorders. The author of three textbooks and numerous articles, received his B.S. degree from Youngstown University, his M.Ed. from Kent State University, and his Ed.D. from the University of Pittsburgh.

Special education teachers and public school principals from the Tri-State area will be participating in the conference which is open to the public.

On Friday, April 6, Marshall President John G. Barker will welcome the visitors to the campus at 8:45 a.m. Dr. Charles Heuchert, assistant professor of special education at the University of Virginia, will address the conference at 9 o'clock. His topic will be "Humanistic Techniques in the Classroom."

Dr. Heuchert is president of the Virginia Chapter of the Council for Exceptional Children. He was formerly director of the Children's Psychiatric Hospital in Ann Arbor, Mich.

The afternoon sessions on Friday will include presentations by classroom teachers of proven methods and techniques for special education teaching within the classroom.

Students excused

The following students were excused from classes Thursday, March 22, and all day Friday, March 23: Winton Baker, Edwyn Boyd, Carolyn Clark, Jeanne Heisman, Paul Meade and Dan Steele.

The students attended the National Meeting of Chi Beta Phi in Wheeling.

Roi Johnson was excused from his classes Tuesday, March 27, to attend a Board of Regents Advisory Committee Meeting in Charleston.