10-17-1996

MU NewsLetter, October 17, 1996

Office of University Relations

Follow this and additional works at: http://mds.marshall.edu/oldmu_newsletter

Recommended Citation
http://mds.marshall.edu/oldmu_newsletter/274

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Marshall Publications at Marshall Digital Scholar. It has been accepted for inclusion in MU NewsLetter 1987-1999 by an authorized administrator of Marshall Digital Scholar. For more information, please contact zhangj@marshall.edu, martj@marshall.edu.
confidential. Results from the store vote will be transmitted to vote on Nov. 5. Ties throughout the country will participate in the pre-election vote.

Vance said the event should serve as a reminder for students to proper training needs of manufacturers, the integration of technologies throughout the country will participate in the pre-election vote.

dr. HAL HADDAD, associate professor of computer science, and computer science majors EDWARD CURTIS and JEREMIAH BRAGG attended the 1996 annual Southwest College Computing Conference held Sept. 27-29 at DePauw University. They presented a paper on visual illustration of the object-oriented concepts. The paper was published in the 1996 edition of the International Journal of Coal Geology. This study was supported by the West Virginia Geological and Economic Survey and the Petroleum Research Fund.

Dr. HAROLD T. MURPHY, professor and chair of the Department of Modern Languages, presented his paper at the fall meeting of the West Virginia Foreign Language Teachers' Association held Sept. 28 at West Virginia University at Parkersburg. He spoke on "Drama and Language." MURPHY played a recording of several representative "Corridos" and commented on their structure, versification, musical composition, cultural content and how they could be used to teach specific points of Spanish grammar.

Dr. MARJORIE KEATLEY, professor in the Business, Computer and Office Technology Department, and GERALD D. DOYLE, instructor in the department, attended "Marketing at the Market," the District II conference of the National Council on Marketing and Public Relations held Sept. 9-11 in Charleston, S.C.

Attending the National Tech Prep Network annual conference held Sept. 21-23 in San Antonio, Texas were: Dr. MAURICE VANCE, Bookstore holding straw vote

The Marshall University Bookstore, in cooperation with Follett College Stores, will conduct a pre-election vote for all students in the residence halls from 11 a.m. to 6:30 p.m., according to Joe Vance of the MU Bookstore.

Students will have the opportunity to express their pre-election choice for president of the United States.

Vance said approximately $500 stores at colleges and universities throughout the country will participate in the pre-election vote.

Proper identification will be required and students will be limited to one vote. Individual student voting preference will be confidential.

Students who support the vote will be mailed a postcard to the Follett home office Wednesday evening. Results of the national voting will be posted Friday, Oct. 25.

The event should serve as a reminder for students to vote on Nov. 5.
Hinchman family gives material to MU library

The Hinchman Heritage Society recently donated a large genealogical chart and other artifacts of the Hinchman family to Marshall University's James E. Morrow Library. The items will be placed in the library's Hinchman Family Collection which contains other materials previously donated to Marshall by the Hinchmans.

Mrs. Wavel Hinchman, Webb of Tampa, Fla., made the presentation to Lisle Brown, curator of special collections, prior to the Sept. 12 death of Robert Hinchman, a former Huntington resident and Marshall University graduate. The family tradition has Thomas Crasborough of Magna Doodington saving the life of King Henry VIII during a hunt. The king was said to have been excused for drinking, but not for "veri­fying henchman." Crasborough promptly changed his named to Hinchman, thus beginning the Henchman/Hinchman family.

WAC workshop scheduled

A Writing Across the Curriculum (WAC) faculty development workshop titled "WAC Strategies in Science and Math" will be held Thursday, Oct. 24, from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. in Harris Hall, Room 403. All faculty members are invited to attend. To obtain further details contact the WAC Office, 696-4650.

Holocaust will be topic

Conference on the Holocaust and Genocide, and the National Religion Honorary Society, "We are very fortunate to have a scholar of Dr. Berger's stature visit our campus and talk to our students," said Badenhausen. "He is a renowned scholar in his field and is in demand throughout the country as a lecturer, professor."

Berger is visiting this semester sponsored by the Marshall University Honors Program, the MU Office of Multicultural and International Programs and the Federated Jewish Charities of Huntington. To obtain further details contact Badenhausen at Marshall University, 304-696-6405.

Lunchbag seminar slated

A lunchbag seminar titled "Women and Depression" will be presented Wednesday, Oct. 23, at noon in the Shawkey Room in Memorial Student Center.

Diane Mufson, a licensed psychologist with Psychological Assessment and Interpersonal Services, will be the guest speaker. The seminar is open to the public free of charge. To obtain further details contact the MU Women's Center, 696-3112.

Graduate student waiver applications due

Applications for a limited number of graduate student tuition waivers for fall 2007 are now being accepted through Friday, Nov. 8, in the MU Graduate School Office, Old Main Room 113, according to Dr. Leonard J. Deutsch, Graduate School dean.

In line with the West Virginia Board of Trustees Policy Bulle­tin 49, priority will be given to faculty and staff of the state's colleges and universities and to West Virginia residents. A small number of waivers will be awarded to nonresident students.

Deutsch said academic merit will be the major consideration in awarding these waivers, thus beginning the Henchman/Hinchman family. Hinchman Academic merit will be determined by grade point average and GRE or GMAT scores in order to be eligible for consider­ation. Up to three hours of waivers for graduate course work will be awarded to qualified applicants.

Students interested in being considered for a Board of Trust­ees and academic merit, must be paid by the recipient.

Students who previously held waivers must reapply to be con­sidered for spring semester waivers. Students who are awarded waivers must be notified on or before the 15th of the month.

 Approved waivers can be picked up beginning Monday, Nov. 18. Waivers not claimed by Friday, Dec. 13, will be assigned to other qualified applicants.

To obtain further details contact the Marshall University Graduate School, 304-696-6606.

Shannon to give recital for WVMTA convention

Robert Shannon, pianist and professor of music at Oberlin Conservatory, will be the guest artist for the West Virginia Music Teachers Association (WVMTA) convention being hosted Oct. 25-27 by Marshall University's Department of Music. He will give a recital Saturday, Oct. 26, at 8:15 p.m. in Smith Recital Hall. The concert will begin with financial assistance from the West Virginia Commission on the Arts and the National Endowment for the Arts, will be open to the public free of charge.

Shannon has performed in Europe, South America, Asia and throughout the United States. He records on the Bridge Records label.

He will perform Schubert's "Moments Musicaux" and Rachmaninoff's "Second Piano Sonata." He will be joined by his wife, pianist Haewon Song, for Ravel's "La Valse." Song, also a member of the Oberlin faculty, often appears in recitals with husband.

To obtain further details contact Mila Markum, WVMTA presi­dent-elect, at Marshall University, 304-696-3114.

Artist will discuss lithographs in gallery

Lithographs by Jeffrey Sippel, director of education at the Tamarind Institute at the University of New Mexico, will be on exhibit at Marshall University Oct. 21 through Nov. 16 in Birke Art Gallery.

The artist will discuss his works Monday, Oct. 21, at 7:30 p.m. in the W. Don Morris Room in Memorial Student Center. Admission and a reception will be open to the public free of charge.

Sippel attended the University of Wisconsin, the University of Akron, the University of New Mexico and Arizona State University.

He previously served as assistant coordinator of printmaking and visiting lecturer at Ohio State University, taught printmaking at the Laguna Beach (Calif.) School of Art and taught at Druckhaus E.A. Quesen in Lamspringe, Germany. He also served as a master printer for Oceanes in Newport Beach, Calif.

Journalism students to be here

Thirteen leading high school journalists from West Virginia and Kentucky will participate in the Student Journalism Pro­gram developed by the W. Page Pitt School of Journalism and Mass Communications at Marshall University, according to Dr. Harold C. Shaver, director of the school.

Shaver said the program, which began Oct. 15, introduces high school students to university life. Participants spend three days on the Marshall campus attending classes, working on univer­sity publications and living in residence halls. Advanced MU journalism students serve as college counselors for those selected.

High school seniors and juniors from throughout the Tri-State area who made significant contributions to their school newspa­pers will be considered for the contest. Those selected will receive stipends and tuition waivers. The dead­line for applications is Oct. 25.

To obtain further details contact the Marshall University Department of Journalism, 304-696-6760.

Criminal Justice Career and Law School Fair set

Marshall University's 1996 Criminal Justice Career and Law School Fair will be held Thursday, Oct. 24, from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. on Don Morris Plaza in Memorial Student Center. The fair is open to the public free of charge.

According to Dr. Samuel L. Dameron, chair of Marshall's Crimi­nal Justice Department, Approximately 20 municipal, county, state and federal agencies, private businesses, volunteer agencies, law schools, gradu­ate schools and other professional schools will participate in the fair.

The purpose of the event is to make available to Marshall stu­dents, as well as the general public, information about careers and educational opportunities in various fields.

To obtain further details contact the Marshall University Crimi­nal Justice Department, 304-696-3196.

WWV waivers available

Application forms for West Virginia University tuition waivers for the fall 2007 semester are available at the Marshall University Graduate School Office, according to Dr. Leonard Deutsch, Graduate School dean.

Full-time faculty and staff members are eligible for waivers, with a maximum award of six credit hours. Applications will be due at the MU Graduate School Office Friday, Oct. 25. To obtain further details contact the Marshall University Graduate School Office, 304-696-6606.

MU excesses absences

Absences have been excused by the respective college deans for the following:

November

Nov. 21-25—Christina Keiffer, Kelley Schoonover, Kurtiz Smead.

MU Office of the President