11-30-1984

Marshall University News Letter, November 30, 1984

Office of University Relations

Follow this and additional works at: http://mds.marshall.edu/oldmu_news_letter

Recommended Citation
http://mds.marshall.edu/oldmu_news_letter/366

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Marshall Publications at Marshall Digital Scholar. It has been accepted for inclusion in Marshall University News Letter 1972-1986 by an authorized administrator of Marshall Digital Scholar. For more information, please contact zhangj@marshall.edu, martj@marshall.edu.
MU faculty and staff achievements, activities . . . SARA H. DENMAN, assistant dean of the Community College, and LINNEA S. MAYER, director of planning and assistant to the president, participated in a panel discussion on “Academic Planning Strategies” during the eighth annual West Virginia Conference on Institutional Research and Planning, held Nov. 27-28 in Charleston.

Judith Casto, professor of political science, was represented at the 18th annual meeting of the West Virginia Political Science Association held at the Lakeview Country Club in Pineville on Nov. 2-3.

Dr. Simon D. Perry, chairman, headed a panel on “Research and Public Policy,” while Dr. JABIR A. Abbas, professor, presented a paper, “The Impact of Jesse Jackson’s Presidential Campaign as a Grassroots Movement on the American Electoral and Political Process.”

Reception for Dr. Ferdelman, Meadows, Rosanna

Good news comes in threes these days for Dr. William Violette Eash, associate professor of counseling/rehabilitation counseling. He was elected to a two-year term at the 18th annual meeting of the West Virginia Rehabilitation and General Rehabilitation Council.

Many thanks to friends and associates who attended my farewell reception on November 15th.

In the context of the state association’s Executive Council.

Dr. Charles W. SIMPKINS, professor of educational foundations, participated in a panel discussion on “Academic Planning Strategies” during the eighth annual West Virginia Conference on Institutional Research and Planning, held Nov. 27-28 in Charleston.

Dr. Joan F. Cillessen, associate professor of English, attended the annual meeting of the South Atlantic Modern Language Association in Atlanta on Nov. 8-10.

Dr. Loriene Duke, professor of English, and Dr. Joe A. Darlington, director of student affairs, presented a paper, “The Impact of Jesse Jackson’s Presidential Campaign as a Grassroots Movement on the American Electoral and Political Process.”

This year, there will be a light buffet, entertainment and hospitality.

Issues discussed by President’s Cabinet

(Continued on page 2)

MARSHALL UNIVERSITY News Letter Nov. 30, 1984

OFFICE OF UNIVERSITY RELATIONS • NEWS BUREAU • MARSHALL UNIVERSITY • HUNTINGTON, WEST VIRGINIA 25701

President and Mrs. Dale F. Nitzschke invite the faculty, staff, and employees, current or retired, to a reception in their honor Tuesday, Dec. 11, from 6 to 8 p.m. in the Morris Room of the Marshall University Center.

Santa Claus will make his annual visit.

Marshall University President Dale F. Nitzschke, right, accepts a bag of dimes from the Little Sisters of Alpha Tau Omega, who raised $400 to help defray the costs of automatically opening and closing doors to make MU buildings more accessible to disabled students. Making the presentation, from left, Angie Addington of Craigsville; Ashlyn Wooten of Roanoke, Va.; Nikki Simon of Huntington, members of the Little Sisters, and Randy Bennett, MU's associate vice president for business services.

Dr. Ginsberg to schedule talks with classified staff, students

Chancellor Leon H. Ginsberg, who met Tuesday afternoon with members of the faculty and the administrative staff, plans to return to campus for similar discussions with members of the classified staff and with students, according to President Dale F. Nitzschke.

“We have invited Chancellor Ginsberg to be involved closely with Marshall University and with our people and he has been most gracious in agreeing to do so,” Nitzschke said. “This week, he talked with faculty members, classified staff and administrators, and he will meet a little later with students and classified staff members.

If staff are in as the schedule is confirmed, we will be getting out announcements in regard to those meetings,” Dr. Nitzschke said.

Dimes for Doors

Marshall University President Dale F. Nitzschke, right, accepts a bag of dimes from the Little Sisters of Alpha Tau Omega, who raised $400 to help defray the costs of automatically opening and closing doors to make MU buildings more accessible to disabled students. Making the presentation, from left, Angie Addington of Craigsville; Ashlyn Wooten of Roanoke, Va.; Nikki Simon of Huntington, members of the Little Sisters, and Randy Bennett, MU's associate vice president for business services.

Dr. Ginsberg to schedule talks with classified staff, students

Chancellor Leon H. Ginsberg, who met Tuesday afternoon with members of the faculty and the administrative staff, plans to return to campus for similar discussions with members of the classified staff and with students, according to President Dale F. Nitzschke.

“We have invited Chancellor Ginsberg to be involved closely with Marshall University and with our people and he has been most gracious in agreeing to do so,” Nitzschke said. “This week, he talked with faculty members, classified staff and administrators, and he will meet a little later with students and classified staff members.

If staff are in as the schedule is confirmed, we will be getting out announcements in regard to those meetings,” Dr. Nitzschke said.
Concerts, exhibit, lecture on Fine Arts calendar

A string quartet performance, an art exhibit, and a lecture on Picasso will be featured as part of the fall programming of Chamber 10, Huntington Chamber Music Festival. Tickets are $5 each for the general public or $3 for youth. The musicians are the Cappella Choir, Symphonic Choir and MU Symphony can be heard in a free public concert at 8 p.m. in Smith Recital Hall Wednesday, Dec. 12.

Author-artist historian Robert Rosenblum of New York University will speak on "Picasso Today" at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 6, in Old Main Auditorium. A reception will follow at the Huntington Galleries.

The sectional highlights are supported through support from the MU Foundation and Arts and Humanities Division of the West Virginia Department of Culture and History and is a cooperation of the Institute for the Arts, Huntington Galleries, the Birke Art Gallery and the Marshall Honors Program. Tickets are $5 each general admission, $2.50 each for youth, and $4 each for Gallery members.

Resolution of appreciation adopted by MU Staff Council

The following resolution was adopted by the Staff Council on Nov. 15.

WHEREAS, the Marshall University Staff Council is the officially elected body to represent classified staff;

WHEREAS, a good working relationship between Staff Council and the University Administration is a very beneficial and desirable goal; and

WHEREAS, an atmosphere of mutual respect and easy communication is needed to attain the desired goals for the betterment of both classified and non-classified staff; and

WHEREAS, President Dale F. Nitzschke has opened his official residence to all classified staff to enjoy both the home and President and Mrs. Nitzschke's hospitality; therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED, by the Staff Council in regular session on this Fifteenth Day of November, 1984, that an official resolution and message of thanks be adopted; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that a copy of this resolution be spread upon the minutes and that a copy be submitted to the Office of University Relations for further dissemination.

Accent on first page

these incoming minorities was also discussed.

Application deadlines for both positions - For the position of Vice President of Academic Affairs, a faculty member representing each school/college (9 to 13) will be part of the 14-member committee. For the position of Vice President of Institutional Advancement, there will be 2 faculty members on the committee, a classification dealing with staff functions – January 10, 1985.

Finance and Administration - Mike Thomas' report included some suggestions for alteration regarding travel procedures and policies, including possible inclusions for daily mileage, mileage reimbursement and permission for direct billing for lodging. This discussion will be carried over to a future meeting.

This report is available from the committee. At these meetings, I am asking specifically for input regarding faculty concerns. This way important matters can reach the proper office in a timely manner.

Alumni Association sponsors bus trip to MU-WVU game

The Marshall University Alumni Association, through Rick Haye, is sponsoring a bus trip to the MU-WVU basketball game in Morgantown on Saturday, Dec. 8. The bus will leave from the 5th Ave. side of Memorial Student Center at 1 p.m. Price is $38 per person, including game ticket and admission to the pregame Alumni Association reception. The reception will be held from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. in the Holiday Inn adjacent to the Coliseum and will be open to all MU alumni. Forty seats are available on a first-paid basis. Reservations must be made by Wednesday, Dec. 5, by calling the Alumni Association office, 824-2521. Checks should be payable to the Marshall University Alumni Association. Master Card and Visa also are accepted.

Funeral services held for Miss Berryman, Cleo Gray

Funeral services were conducted Sunday (Nov. 25) at St. Paul's Lutheran Church here for Charlotte E. Berryman, professor emeritus of home economics, who died Thursday of cancer at Mon General. Burial was in Monte Vista Cemetery at Bluefield.

Miss Berryman retired in 1970 after a 39-year teaching career at Marshall. A member of the Buford Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, and the West Virginia University Club of Huntington, she served as faculty advisor and national chapter director of Gamma Beta Chapter, Alpha Xi Delta sorority.

Funeral services were held in Charleston yesterday (Nov. 28) for Cleo Margaret Gray, 88, who died Monday after a long illness. Burial was in Cunningham Memorial Cemetery, St. Albans, W. Va.

Miss Gray, who retired in 1962 as associate professor of home economics, began teaching at Marshall in 1947. She survived by two brothers, Fred Gray and Martin Gray, both of Charleston.

Vital Issues forum to address sexual harassment at Marshall

The second Vital Issues Program (VIP) forum of the current academic year will be held at 11:30 a.m. Monday, Dec. 3, in Memorial Student Center 2W22, according to Dr. Libba Goss, chair of the political science and VIP coordinator.

The program will be "Sexual Harassment of Students, Staff and Faculty at Marshall University." Speakers will include Dr. Elaine Baker, professor of psychology, who will discuss "Legal Aspects," and Robert Lawson, Affirmative Action Officer, who will discuss "Legal Aspects," and a student.

VIP forums are open to the public.