

9-29-1983

Marshall University News Letter, September 29, 1983

Office of University Relations

Follow this and additional works at: http://mds.marshall.edu/oldmu\_news\_letter

---

Recommended Citation

Office of University Relations, "Marshall University News Letter, September 29, 1983" (1983). Marshall University News Letter 1972-1986. Paper 410.

http://mds.marshall.edu/oldmu\_news\_letter/410

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Marshall Publications at Marshall Digital Scholar. It has been accepted for inclusion in Marshall University News Letter 1972-1986 by an authorized administrator of Marshall Digital Scholar. For more information, please contact zhangj@marshall.edu, martj@marshall.edu.

Tickets at half-price for concert by Hampton orchestra

Tickets for the concert by Lionel Hampton and his orchestra, scheduled for Monday, Oct. 3, are available from the Marshall Artists Series Office, located on the first floor of the Memorial Student Center. Part of the Marshall Artists Series' Student Division programming, the performance will be in the Keith-Albee Theatre with curtain time set for 8 p.m.

Reserved seat tickets for the general public are available at $8 and $5 each, but MU employees may purchase them at half-price, according to Mrs. Nancy P. Hindsley, Marshall University cultural events coordinator. Tickets may be reserved by calling the Artists Series Office at 696-6656 or 696-5436.

Hampton's appearance on the Artists Series has been made possible in part by a grant from Arts and Humanities, West Virginia Department of Culture and History.

RETIREMENT RECEPTION

A 20-year veteran of the Marshall University staff, Marian E. Green, second from right, was guest of honor at a reception prior to her retirement this past summer. Miss Green, office manager for the Provost's Office at the time of her retirement, began her career at Marshall as a stenographer in July 1963. Shown with Miss Green at the reception are, from left, Willidean Chapman, College of Liberal Arts administrative aide; Nancy Stiltner, Graduate School secretary, and Dr. William S. Deel, associate provost. (MU photo by Rick Hays)

Campus chapter of NOW sets reception for members

The Marshall University Campus Chapter, National Organization for Women (NOW), will sponsor a reception for new members from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 4, in the Alumni Lounge, Memorial Student Center.

All interested faculty and staff members and students are invited to attend, according to Patricia Matters, MU Women's Center director. Those unable to attend the reception may call the Women's Center, extension 3112, for membership information.

Personnel personals. . .

Marsha Steffen Smith, daughter of Ruby Steffen, Graduate School clerk, has been elected gymnastics chairman for West Virginia at the annual state meeting of the U.S. Gymnastic Federation and will represent the state at the National Gymnastics Congress in Washington, D.C., Oct. 6-8. As state chairman she will be responsible for coordinating all state activity with national headquarters in Indianapolis. According to her mother, this is the first time anyone from the Huntington area has been elected to this position.

Proud of a family member's accomplishment? Is there a new baby at your house? Is there something else you'd like to share with your colleagues? "Personnel personals. . ." is just the place. Send your information to Judith Casto, University Relations, Old Main 102.

NEWCOMERS

New to the campus are:

GABRIEL CANADA, secretary, Minority Students Office; RODNEY D. HAGLEY, lab technician, Biochemistry Department; ELIZABETH GRAYBEAL, clerk, Accounting Office; PHILLIP M. SERGENT and SHERRY L. HATFIELD, computer operators, Computer Center and FREDERICK CECIL DAMRON, technician, Instructional Television Services.

Welcome to Marshall!

Beneficial approach

(Continued from page 1)

students from southern states are enrolled in the programs here, while 39 West Virginians are studying in programs elsewhere.

The University of Kentucky—nearest Academic Common Market institution—and Marshall are cooperating currently in two other graduate programs, according to Marshall's Graduate School dean.

"Marshall's social work division is assisting UK with the placement of its Master of Social Work degree candidates in experiential learning situations," Maddox said. UK's M.S.W. degree program is available through the Academic Common Market to Marshall's Bachelor of Social Work degree program graduates and other students from southern West Virginia. "The program is even more accessible to students in our region since classes are offered at Ashland (Ky.) Community College," he said.

Also the two schools have joined forces in the library science area with UK offering courses from its Master of Library Science degree program in West Virginia. With the approval of the faculty advisor involved, up to 12 semester hours may be earned through UK and applied to Marshall's graduate degrees in Communication Arts and in Library Science.

In the same vein, UK authorities have agreed—again depending upon the faculty advisor's approval—to accept undergraduate and graduate credits from Marshall's Educational Media Department.

"This cooperative approach of the Academic Common Market is beneficial to everyone involved as it offers much needed access to a variety of degree programs on a cost-effective basis," Maddox said.

Homecoming—special time for MU campus

Dear Faculty and Staff,

This weekend is a very special time for the Marshall University community—it's Homecoming and a time when alumni and friends we haven't seen for a while come back to campus to renew their "old school ties."

As a faculty member, Homecoming has always been rather special for me, because not only do our alumni come back to see each other, but also to visit with faculty and staff members who were important to them during their days as students.

I'm hoping that you will join me in participating in Homecoming 1983. There are several activities to choose from—Friday night's reception at the Huntington Civic Center, the parade on Saturday, the game and a post-game party. Information and ticket costs can be obtained by calling the Alumni Affairs staff, extension 3134.

I'm going to participate—just as I have in the past—and I hope you all will join me.

Sincerely,
Sam Clagg
Acting President

MARSHALL UNIVERSITY

News Letter

Sept. 29, 1983

OFFICE OF UNIVERSITY RELATIONS • NEWS BUREAU • MARSHALL UNIVERSITY • HUNTINGTON, WEST VIRGINIA 25701

Mine Safety degree added to common market

The Southern Regional Education Board (SREB) has added Marshall University's Master of Science degree in Mine Safety to its Academic Common Market, MU Graduate School Dean Robert F. Maddox announced.

The Academic Common Market is a cooperative arrangement between colleges and universities in 13 southern states allowing undergraduate and graduate students to pay in-state tuition when studying outside their home state in a program not offered there.

Marshall's M.S. degree in Mine Safety is the only accredited graduate degree program in that specific field in the country, according to Dr. Maddox.

The program is designed to provide competencies needed by mine management and safety personnel as well as mine safety compliance personnel, according to Associate Professor James B. Stone, program director. It is geared to underground, auger and surface mining as applicable to all mining industries including metallic and non-metallic products.

Co-sponsored with the National Mine Safety and Health Academy at Beckley, the graduate program includes:

Environmental Design and Control—identifying, developing and maintaining a setting which provides maximum safety;

Mine Safety Systems and Compliance—knowledge, understanding and applications of mining and compliance with safety procedures, regulations and reporting;

Mine Safety Programming—development and implementation of safety training programs for all mine personnel. Internships, practicum and cooperative arrangements are provided in active mining operations.

The M.S. in Mine Safety is the second MU Program to be offered through the Academic Common Market. Earlier an undergraduate degree in Sports Communications, offered by Marshall's Health, Physical Education and Recreation Department in conjunction with the School of Journalism, was accepted by the SREB.

Currently there are 30 undergraduate and graduate level programs offered by West Virginia institutions of higher education to out-of-state students under the Academic Common Market approach. Twenty-six

52 new full-time teachers join Marshall faculty ranks

Fifty-two new full-time faculty members — including 16 School of Medicine — have joined Marshall's teaching ranks this fall.

New arrivals at the full professor level are William K. Diehl, Gannett Distinguished Professor of Journalism, M.Ed., Lynchburg College, and Dr. Donald A. Williams, Music Department chairman, Ph.D., University of Michigan.

At the associate professor level, there are seven new members. They are: Henry Ruminski, journalism, Ph.D., Ohio University; Alan L. Livingston, marketing, Ph.D., University of Alabama; Michael M. Boudreaux, marketing, Ph.D., University of Missouri; Edwin L. Anderson, medicine, M.D., Medical University of South Carolina; Anthony Horan, surgery, M.D., Columbia University, and Stephen A. Wolf, surgery, M.D., New York Medical College.

New assistant professors include: Ulrich Albrecht, mathematics, Ph.D., New Mexico State University; Steven R. Banks, education, Ed.D., University of Tennessee; Peter B. Barr, management, M.B.A., Marshall University; George E. Cabannis, chemistry, B.S., College of Charleston; Edward J. Duffy, sociology/anthropology, Ph.D., Duke University;

(Continued on page 4)

(Continued on page 3)

VIP forums to commence on Monday, Oct. 3

"Where Does the Next MU President Stand on Issues" will be the theme for the first Vital Issues Program (VIP) of the 1983-84 academic year, according to Dr. Jabir A. Abbas, VIP coordinator and professor of political science.

The meeting is scheduled for 2 p.m. Monday, Oct. 3, in Harris Hall 134. Members of the Presidential Search and Screening Committee have been invited to attend, Abbas said.

During the forum, faculty, students and staff will be encouraged to discuss their views on issues and commit-

Children's College begins on Saturday

Registration is under way for the Marshall University Community College's Children's College which begins Saturday, Oct. 1, and continues through Dec. 10, according to Robert L. Lawson, Community College continuing education director.

"Your child does not need to be gifted to participate in Children's College, just interested in exploring new horizons outside the normal school day fare," Lawson said.

"Classes are available for students in grades four through nine and a youngster may enroll in one class or as many as three," he added.

Among the subjects to be explored by fourth through sixth graders are Creative Writing, Science Fiction, Computer Science, Drama-Storytelling, Microscopic Organisms and Conversational Spanish. Computer Science will be offered on three levels - introductory, intermediate and advanced.

For junior high students, the course selection includes Comparative Anatomy, Archaeology and Computer Science for all skill levels.

In addition to these classes, sessions in playing Dungeons and Dragons will be offered for both age groups, according to Lawson.

"Dungeons and Dragons has great potential as an educational tool," he said. "The interactions of players form an excellent basis for learning in many fields which involve concepts of leadership, teamwork, sociology, mathematics and even politics. The only limits to the game are the limits of the individual's imagination," he explained.

Classes for fourth through sixth graders will be offered in the mornings, beginning at 9 a.m. except for the computer sessions and Dungeons and Dragons which begin at 12:10 p.m. All junior high classes are scheduled to begin at 12:10 p.m.

A package of three classes will be $50, two classes will be $40 and one class will be $20. The cost for families enrolling two or more children will be $40 for each child.

For additional information or to register, call Marshall's Community College at 696-3646.

Thought . . .

The ink of the scholar is more sacred than the blood of the martyr.

-Mohammed

tee members will offer their comments, according to Abbas.

As of earlier this week, the following committee members had agreed to attend: Acting President Sam Clagg, College of Liberal Arts Dean Alan B. Gould, Student Government President Mike Queen, Faculty Personnel Committee Chairman Virginia Plumley, Academic Planning/Standards Committee Chairman Sarah Denman, and Dan O'Hanlon, faculty representative to the Institutional Board of Advisors.

The forum is open to the public as well as the campus community.

Career Planning/Placement announces October recruiters

Eighteen businesses will be recruiting on campus during October, according to Barbara A. Cyrus, recruiting coordinator, Office of Career Planning and Placement.

The schedule includes:

- Oct. 3 Ashland Oil - Computer Science, Sales
- Oct. 4 Putnam County Schools - All areas of Education
- Oct. 5 Charleston National Bank - Mgt. Trainee, Auditor, Acc. Credit Analyst, Business Admn. Finance, Accounting
- Oct. 7 West Virginia University College of Law - Informational Sessions
- Oct. 11 Susie's Casuals - Management Trainee
- Oct. 11 U.S. Air Force - Engineers - Prefer Math Background
- Oct. 12 Main Hurdman - Accounting - Must have 3. GPA
- Oct. 13 Lazarus - All Majors 1. Christmas jobs 2. Perm-Part Time
- Oct. 14 K-Mart/St. Albans - Management Trainee - Marketing/Management
- Oct. 17 Lever Brothers - All Majors - Sales Representative
- Oct. 18 Ernst & Whinney - Accounting
- Oct. 19 Consolidated Gas - Accounting
- Oct. 20 Touche Ross - Accounting
- Oct. 21 Arnett & Foster - Accounting
- Oct. 24 NCR - Sales Representative
- Oct. 25 WV Dept. Natural Resources - Criminal Justice
- Oct. 26 Xerox - Marketing Preferred - Will interview all Majors
- Oct. 28 Berkeley County Schools - All areas Education

All interview applicants must have a completed credential file. A credential file may be established by seniors or alumni by attending one session of the credential file seminar held at various times throughout the semester. Workshops also are being conducted on Resume Writing and Interviewing Skills. A copy of the schedule is available in the Office of Career Planning and Placement.

Additional information may be obtained by calling Career Planning and Placement, extension 2370.

Appreciation

I wish to extend my appreciation to the faculty and staff for their many expressions of sympathy on the death of my mother. Your kind words, cards and flowers were a great comfort and were greatly appreciated.

Thank you,
B.R. Smith
RBA Program Director

MU faculty and staff achievements, activities. . .

DR. DAVID CUSICK, associate professor of mathematics, has an article, "A Logarithm Algorithm for Four Function Calculators," appearing in the Two-Year College Mathematics Journal's September issue (vol. 14, no. 4), on pages 322-324. Cusick also has been named moderator of the High-Q program aired at 11:30 a.m.

New to faculty ranks

(Continued from page 1)

Kathleen H. Duffy, computer and information science, Ph.D., Duke University; Nicholas Freidin, sociology/anthropology, Ph.D., University of Oxford; Jody Gottlieb, sociology/anthropology, M.S.W., University of Pittsburgh; Jamshid Haghghi, computer and information science, M.A., Marshall University; Donald L. Hall, education, Ed.D., University of Virginia;

Patrick M. Heilman, finance and business law, M.B.A., University of Arkansas; Frances S. Hensley, history, Ph.D., Ohio State University; Kenneth O. Horner, biological sciences, Ph.D., Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University; Shirley A. Lumpkin, English, Ph.D., McGill University; Joan T. Mead, English, Ph.D., Ohio University; Maria C. Riddell, modern languages, Ph.D., Ohio State University; James D. Riemer, English, Ph.D., Bowling Green University;

Daniel S. Shook, health, physical education and recreation, Ph.D., Ohio State University; Richard S. Spilman, English, Ph.D., State University of New York; Marcus C. Waldron, biological sciences, Ph.D., Clemson University; Andrew J. Burger, medicine, M.D., University of Pittsburgh; Carl F. McComas, medicine, M.D., West Virginia University; Nancy J. Munn, medicine, M.D., University of Louisville; Shirley M. Neitch, medicine, M.D., Medical College of Virginia; Michael D. Webb, medicine, M.D., Medical College of Ohio;

Timothy Saxe, pharmacology and medicine, M.D., West Virginia University; Richard Blondell, family and community health, M.D., University of Rochester; Linda M. Savory, family and community health, M.D., University of Michigan; Robert A. Kayser, psychiatry, M.D., West Virginia University, and Patricia J. Kelly, pediatrics, M.D., Boston University.

New instructors include: Laura Adkins, mathematics, M.A., Marshall University; Victoria L. Casey, nursing, B.S.N., West Liberty State College; Terrell L. Childers, mathematics, M.A., Marshall University; Daniel K. Crotty, computer and information science, B.A., Marshall University; Randall L. Jones, computer technology, B.B.A., James Madison University; James W. Mayfield, marketing, M.B.A., Marshall University;

Anna L. Meador, accounting, M.S., Marshall University; Kenneth T. Milne, computer and information science, B.S., Michigan State University; Paula J. Mitchell, computer and information science, M.S.I.S., Arkansas State University; Hossein Mohebbian, mathematics, M.A., Marshall University; Terry A. Shepherd, health, physical education and recreation, M.S., Marshall University, and Lynne Heidseik, family and community health, M.D., University of California.

Thought . . .

Physical bravery is an animal instinct; moral bravery is a much higher and truer courage.

-Wendell Phillips

Sundays on WOWK-TV. High-Q is a contest testing high school students' quick recall of knowledge.

DR. C. ROBERT BARNETT, associate professor of health, physical education and recreation, had an article, "The First Black Steeler," which originally was published in the July issue of the Pittsburgh Steeler Weekly, reprinted in the national and local editions of the Pittsburgh Courier for Sept. 3.

DR. JOHN N. VIELKIND, Philosophy Department chairman, was one of 32 participants in the Capital District Humanities Program National Conference, held Sept. 22-24 at SUNY-Albany. The theme was "The Business of Humanities Programs and the Art of Innovation."

CHARLES F. GRUBER, assistant professor of social studies, and DR. CLAIR W. MATZ, professor of political science, are attending the 11th annual meeting of the Latin American Studies Association in Mexico City, Sept. 27-Oct. 2. They were selected through a juried process to lead a roundtable panel on "The Use of the 'Frontier' as a Concept for Teaching Interdisciplinary Latin American Studies."

Excused absences. . .

Absences have been excused by the respective college deans for the following:

- SEPT. 16-Varsity Football team
- SEPT. 22-26-MU Golf Team

Dutch design exhibit to open

"Dutch Design for the Public Sector," an exhibition of graphic and industrial design commissioned by the Dutch authorities, will open at Marshall's Birke Art Gallery in Smith Hall Saturday, Oct. 1, and will continue through Oct. 26.

Birke Gallery hours are daily from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Saturday from 1 to 4 p.m., Monday evening from 7 to 9 p.m. and other evenings coordinated with events in Smith Recital Hall.

SRAs to be discussion topic

The TIAA-CREF liaison for Marshall, Bruce Smith, will discuss Sheltered Retirement Accounts (SRAs) and TIAA-CREF retirement programs with interested faculty and staff at 9:30 a.m. Thursday, Oct. 6, in Memorial Student Center 2W37.

GRATITUDE EXPRESSED

Our deepest gratitude goes to members of the Marshall campus community who were so thoughtful during the recent loss of our mother and mother-in-law, Mrs. Geneva Maynard, who died Sept. 19. Your kind expressions of support at this time were most appreciated.

Sincerely,
Mary Maynard Kaul
Main Desk Attendant, Student Center
Dr. Bernard Queen
Development Director