More faculty and staff achievements, activities

(Continued from page 3)

DR. HAROLD MURPHY, Modern Languages Department chairman, was elected to a two-year term as president of the West Virginia Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese during the fall meeting of the West Virginia Foreign Language Teachers Association, the parent organization of the various language associations, held Oct. 22 at Parkersburg Community College. Also attending the WVFTLA were DR. EMBRY CARE, associate professor; DR. CHRISTOPHER DOLMETSCH and NANCY STUMP, assistant professors; and SARA HENRY, instructor. Murphy also attended the executive committee meeting to plan the WVFTLA's spring meeting which will be held in the Charleston area.

DR. CARL S. JOHNSON, associate professor of curriculum and foundations, presented a talk on “Geometry Through Paper Folding” to the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics regional conference in Knoxville, Tenn., Oct. 15.

MICHAEL CORNFELD, associate professor of art and Birke Art Gallery director, has an exhibition of his fiber art currently on display at the Creative Arts Center Gallery at Shepherd College. The exhibition, which opened Oct. 17, will close Nov. 10 with a slide-illustrated lecture by Cornfeld.

Major contributors

(Continued from page 1)

this institution has not been limited to dollars, but he has also supported the University in many other ways. In 1916. Last spring, the Alumni Association presented a representative of the National Home Economics Teachers Association, Dr. Grace Bennett, with a slide-illustrated lecture on "The American Expeditionary Force: Published Sources for the Study of Military Operations, 1914-1918." DR. WARREN W. WOODEN, professor of English, was one of four American scholars elected to membership in the Académie des Sciences, Lettres et Arts de Bordeaux, France.

Schedule of meetings

(Continued from page 1)

FRIDAY, NOV. 4
9:45-10:30 Medical School Administration
11:30-Noon Lunch
1:30-2:15 Medical Ed. Bidg. Meeting with Medical Students (Wrap-up)
2:45-3:30 Med. Ed. Bidg. Meeting with Medical School Administration
3:30-4:15 MB Cafeteria
4:30-5:30 Medical Ed. Bidg. Meeting with Marriott Dining room

Committee vacancy election

The Commencement and Honorary Degrees Committee vacancy election ballots have been distributed to department chairmen for distribution to their faculty members. Dr. Zane McCoy, professor of educational administration, Eleanor Terry, assistant professor of educational research, Dr. Howard Wilson, professor of geography, Dr. Grace Bennett, professor of home economics; Dr. Wayne Taylor, associate professor of mathematics; Dr. William Taylor, professor of social studies, and Myra Taylor, student representative.

Among the members of the MU English Department attending the West Virginia Association of College English Teachers meeting in Jackson, Miss. Oct. 21-22 were DR. JACK R. BROWN, professor emeritus; DR. BABIT W. KOYER, professor emeritus; DR. ROBERT J. GILKES, professor emeritus; DR. WARREN W. WOODEN, professors, and LOUISE BAILEY and DR. JAMES Riemer, assistant professors. Wooden, who served as secretary-treasurer of the association this past year, was elected vice president.

EUGENE CRAWFORD, public safety officer, was elected as a representative of the West Virginia Society for Autistic Children (WVSAC) at its state conference Oct. 14-15 at Jackson's Mill. His one-year term begins Jan. 1. He is the father of an eleven-year-old autistic son.

DR. JOSEPH LAbsCIA, Economics Department chairman, was invited to speak at the annual franchise planning conference of the Franchise Division of Norell Services which was held Oct. 20-22 at Stouffer's Pine Isle near Atlanta. His topic was "The U.S. Economy and Business Opportunities in the Years 1984-87."

PATRICIA SUTTON, instructor of management, conducted the Marshall Job Market Fair for employees responsible for hiring, evaluation and termination. Among the topics for the sessions, held Oct. 14 and Oct. 24, were Employee Selection, the Interview, Performance Evaluation, Job Specifications, the Application, Disciplinary Action and Documentation and Termination.

DR. DAVID R. WOODWARD, professor of history, has a revised edition of his book "The American Expeditionary Force: Published Sources for the Study of Military Operations, 1914-1918." Among the speakers for the special dedication ceremonies on Monday, Oct. 25, will be James E. Morrow Library, director. The cost of the project — including installation — was approximately $100,000, Queen said.

Among the speakers for the dedication ceremonies on Monday, Oct. 25, will be President Dr. Howard Mills, member of the MU Physical Facilities and Planning Committee, will officially accept the Thornburgs' gift on behalf of the university.

The program will also include a special dedication to the late Paul Balchuk, MU School of Fine Arts director, on whose initiative the carillon was installed.

The carillon, which sounds on the hour and the half hour, can be played manually or automatically by electronic impulses programmed on tape. Queen said. "The sound produced is actually from the bells as their clappers are activated electronically," he explained.

Thornburg carillon dedication Saturday

Marshall University's C. I. and Marie Thornburg Carillon will be dedicated at 10 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 29.

The ceremony, which is open to the public, will be conducted outdoors behind the James E. Morrow Library, where a commemorative bell recognizing the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Thornburg has been hung.

The carillon's 16 bronze bells are housed in the cupola atop the Morrow Library. Cast by the Paccard Fonderie de Cloches in Annecy, France, the bells range in weight from nearly half a ton to 71 pounds.

The carillon was installed during the summer and has been programmed and tested during recent practice sessions, according to Dr. Kendrick Queen, MU Foundation executive director. The cost of the project — including installation — was approximately $100,000, Queen said.

"It was one of my dreams to have the bells pealing across the campus," he said.

Marshall University's C. I. and Marie Thornburg Carillon will be dedicated at 10 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 29.

The ceremony, which is open to the public, will be conducted outdoors behind the James E. Morrow Library, where a commemorative bell recognizing the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Thornburg has been hung.

The carillon's 16 bronze bells are housed in the cupola atop the Morrow Library. Cast by the Paccard Fonderie de Cloches in Annecy, France, the bells range in weight from nearly half a ton to 71 pounds.

The carillon was installed during the summer and has been programmed and tested during recent practice sessions, according to Dr. Kendrick Queen, MU Foundation executive director. The cost of the project — including installation — was approximately $100,000, Queen said.

"It was one of my dreams to have the bells pealing across the campus," he said.

Marshall University's C. I. and Marie Thornburg Carillon will be dedicated at 10 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 29.

The ceremony, which is open to the public, will be conducted outdoors behind the James E. Morrow Library, where a commemorative bell recognizing the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Thornburg has been hung.

The carillon's 16 bronze bells are housed in the cupola atop the Morrow Library. Cast by the Paccard Fonderie de Cloches in Annecy, France, the bells range in weight from nearly half a ton to 71 pounds.
Mount Snow, of students may sign up for the trip. Dr. Leonard Fenniger said he thinks nation wide to consolidate are unfortunate. "If you take that course, there would be less cost of available medical care," he said in response to a question. "It is much more economical to maintain medical education and medical research as close to the community as possible."

In his prepared remarks, Fenniger said knowledge and technology are going to have to be viewed different.

Lunchbag seminar topics are announced
"Living Alone and Liking It," a discussion of societal attitudes and opportunities for personal growth for the single person, will be held tonight by Devis Devo, Student Development counselor, at a Lunchbag Seminar noon Wednesday, Nov. 2, in Prichard Hall 101.

Sponsored by the Women's Center, the weekly seminar sessions are open to all interested persons, according to Patricia Matters, Women's Center director. The center will provide coffee and tea, she said.

Other topics for discussion during November are:
Nov. 9, Sex Discrimination in Review of sex discrimination laws in employment and education and procedures to follow if subject to discrimination will be a focus of a meeting set for 12:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 9, in room 160, Macro.
Nov. 10, Institutional Women: Information sharing by women from other countries with Judy Assand, International Students Program coordinator, as moderator.

MUSIC FACULTY RECITAL
Five members of the Marshall music faculty will present a chamber music program at 8 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 30, in Smith Recital Hall. The program is free and open to the public.

 Appearing will be Dr. Deborah Egkvist, assistant professor of music; Dr. Mark Wachter, instructor, on cello; Kenneth McWhorter, assistant professor, on piano, and Dr. Donald A. Marshall, music faculty, staff achievements, activities

MUSIC FACULTY RECITAL
Dr. John Vilkind, Philosophy Department chair man; Dr. Howard A. Slattke, professor of philosophy, and Dr. Francis J. Minnini, assistant professor of philosophy, attended the fall conference of the West Virginia Philosophical Society at West Virginia University Oct. 22 at Parkersburg Community College.

The event is free and open to the public.

Report from auditor holds no surprises

All recommendations in the Legislative Auditor's report on the Marshall University Athletic Department either have been or are in the process of being implemented, according to MU Acting President Sam Clay. The audit, covering the period from July 1, 1982, through June 30, 1983, was conducted at the request of the West Virginia Board of Regents following reports of a deficit in the Athletic Department operations. The audit showed a deficit of $86,433 as of June 30.

"The auditor's report contained no surprises and we were pleased with it for a number of reasons," Clay said. "First and foremost, there is no indication of irregularities. There were questions about some procedures and these are being looked into. However, the audit shows substantial progress being made in removing the deficit. We are especially grateful to members of the Big Green Scholarship Foundation for their efforts in helping to achieve this," he added.

"Actually," Clay said, "the results of this audit were far better than we expected. We have already reduced the deficit to zero and we expect to have a surplus by the end of the year."

The Athletic Department was caught short when the economic situation worsened," Clay said. "There are still problems with the budget, but we believe now that we are well on the road to building the budget around and removing the deficit entirely by next June 30."

No additional information may be obtained by calling Silberstein, extension 6770.

CHRI STMAS SALE
The Marshall University Bookstore will begin its annual Christmas Sale at 8 a.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 1. Faculty and staff will receive a 40 percent discount on boxed cards, bows, ribbon, paper and ornaments, and 20 percent discount on all Bookstore's lower level. Cash, checks, Visa and MasterCard will be accepted.