4-1-1982

Marshall University News Letter, April 1, 1982

Office of University Relations

Follow this and additional works at: http://mds.marshall.edu/oldmu_news_letter

Recommended Citation
http://mds.marshall.edu/oldmu_news_letter/424

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Marshall Publications at Marshall Digital Scholar. It has been accepted for inclusion in Marshall University News Letter 1972-1986 by an authorized administrator of Marshall Digital Scholar. For more information, please contact zhangj@marshall.edu, martj@marshall.edu.
Science Hall groundbreaking ceremony Saturday

Groundbreaking ceremonies for a $5.8 million addition to the Marshall University Science Hall will be conducted Saturday, April 3, according to MU Vice President for Administration Karl J. Egnatoff. The program, which is open to the public, will begin at 10 a.m. on the south (campus) side of the Science Hall.

The four-story addition will be Phase I of a three-phase project for the Science Hall, originally opened in 1951. The other two phases will involve renovation of the existing building and will be undertaken following completion of the 65,000-square-foot addition, Egnatoff said.

MU President Robert B. Hayes will preside at the groundbreaking. Among those making remarks will be Betsy K. McCrleight and Bob Wilson, representing the West Virginia Board of Regents and its staff, College of Science Dean E.S. Hanrahan and Physical Facilities and Planning Committee Chairman Howard Mills. Also being invited to participate are local members of the West Virginia Legislature and Marshall’s Institutional Board of Advisors, Egnatoff said.

John R. Hess, Inc., of Pittsburgh was selected as contractor for the project, based on a low bid of $5,831,000. Egnatoff said. TAG-VVKR of Charleston is architect for all three phases of the Science Hall project. The contract calls for completion of the Phase I construction by Nov. 18, 1983.

Abuses of campus parking, faculty lounge noted

Two matters of faculty concern have recently been brought to the attention of the University Council. Oddly enough both issues relate to the abuse by a few faculty members of well-established regulations. An additional point of interest is that both issues are as closely associated with faculty privilege or fringe benefits as our faculty has ever achieved. A few acting thoughtlessly can do all of the faculty an injustice by failure to observe our own regulations.

The first is the matter of faculty parking on campus lots. While some faculty have two cars and receive parking stickers for each, the regulations clearly require that only one vehicle be parked on campus at a given time. A spot check of C-lot last week revealed four faculty with a total of eight cars parked on the lot. The check was made because other faculty complained about not being able to find a parking space in their assigned area. The parking regulations state that such a violation can result in the loss of all parking privilege.

The second matter relates to the misuse of the faculty lounge on the eighth floor of Smith Hall. This is the only faculty fringe benefit existing on campus. When faculty members take their classes into the lounge they are denying others the use of this staff facility. Such thoughtless invasion into this only area of faculty domain is eroding the last such privilege available to the faculty. Is this what the few offenders of the policy want for all of the faculty? Indeed, it is their decision to make.

Your cooperation and assistance in observing these regulations would be greatly appreciated.

Sam Clagg, Chairman
University Council

Nearly 1,500 juniors, seniors expected for Academic Festival

Nearly 1,500 juniors and seniors from 44 West Virginia, Ohio and Kentucky high schools will be competing for scholastic honors Saturday, April 3, in Marshall University’s fourth annual Academic Festival, according to Dr. Claire Horton, festival coordinator.

More than two dozen departments are offering exercises in which students may demonstrate their knowledge and win trophies. “The festival brings some of the brightest young people in our region to the campus,” Dr. Horton said.

Describing the event as an “Academic Olympics,” Dr. Horton said that the contests devised by the various departments will range from standardized tests to essays and scientific experiments.”

The festival is sponsored by SCORES (Search Committee on Recruiting Excellent Students), which is composed of representatives from every academic department on campus. “The support that the participating faculty give this program is just tremendous,” Dr. Horton said.

State AAUP Conference to meet here Friday, Saturday

The West Virginia Conference of the American Association of University Professors will hold its spring meeting Friday and Saturday, April 2-3, in Memorial Student Center 2W37.

The meeting will open at 7 p.m. on Friday and continue on Saturday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Topics to be discussed include “New Initiatives in Lobbying” and “Financial Exigencies in Higher Education.”

Marshall University will observe the Memorial Day holiday on Monday, May 31, rather than the previously announced date of May 24, according to Registrar Robert H. Eddins.
CAMPUS ANNOUNCEMENTS...

“Aging and Memory: Downhill All the Way?” will be the topic of a free, public lecture to be given at Marshall University by Dr. F.I.M. Craik at 7:30 p.m. today, (April 1) in Harris Hall 134.

Craik, professor of psychology at the University of Toronto in Mississauga, is recognized internationally as an authority on human memory. His most recent research has been focused on memory changes in the aging process.

Craik will present a technical discussion of how the mind takes in and stores information at noon on Friday, April 2, in Harris Hall 134. His campus visit is sponsored by the MU Psychology Department with support from the Marshall Foundation's Distinguished Lectureship Program.

ARTISTS SERIES

The Marshall Artists Series will present the “Pavlova Celebration,” a re-creation of an evening of ballets performed by Pavlova and her company at 8 p.m. Friday, April 2, at the Keith-Albee Theater as part of the Community Division programming.

Reserved seat tickets are on sale at the Artists Series Office at $13 each for orchestra, $10 for balcony and $5 for youth age 17 and under for balcony seats. Tickets may be reserved by calling the Artists Series Office at 696-6656 or 696-5436.

ART OPEN HOUSE

Marshall University’s Art Department will hold an open house for the public from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday, April 2, on the sixth floor of Smith Hall, according to Department Chairman June Kilgore.

“The halls will be full of student art displays in various art mediums and we have an exhibit by Donna Kellison, a Charleston graduate student, hanging in the Birke Gallery,” she added. There will be guided tours of the department’s studios and demonstrations of different techniques.

HOLY WEEK CONCERT

A concert of music for Holy Week will be presented by

MU to observe Good Friday

Marshall University will be closed Friday, April 9, in observance of Good Friday. Administrative offices will reopen at 8 a.m. on Monday, April 12. The University News Letter will not publish a Thursday, April 8, edition. The next issue will appear Thursday, April 15. The deadline for submitting material is 10 a.m. on Tuesdays.

The James E. Morrow Library will observe the following schedule during the Easter holiday:

- Friday, April 9 (Good Friday) 7:45 a.m. - 5 p.m.
- Saturday, April 10 CLOSED
- Sunday, April 11 (Easter) Closed

Resume Regular Schedule, Monday, April 12

Monday through Thursday 7:45 a.m. - 11 p.m.
Friday 7:45 a.m. - 10 p.m.
Saturday 9 a.m. - 3 p.m.
Sunday 1 p.m. - 10 p.m.

the Collegium Musicum ensemble of Marshall University’s Music Department at 8 p.m., Friday, April 2, in Smith Recital Hall. The event is free and open to the public.

The program will include Tallis’ “Lamentations of Jeremiah,” and Schuetz’s “The Seven Last Words of Christ on the Cross,” according to Dr. Bradford R. DeVos, MU professor of music, who will direct the group.

MASTER CLASS

The Music Preparatory program of Marshall University’s Music Department will sponsor a Master Class in Piano from 2 to 4 p.m. Saturday, April 3, in Smith Recital Hall.

Christine Fessenmeyer, a master's degree student at the Cincinnati College-Conservatory of Music, will be the guest teacher. As an entering freshman at the Conservatory, Miss Fessenmeyer was awarded the Van Cliburn Piano Scholarship. Currently a student of Bela Siki, she has studied with David Bar-llan, John Perry and Jeanine Dowis. Additional information on the Master Class may be obtained by calling the Music Department at 696-3117.

ART THERAPY WORKSHOP

Judith Itzler, a registered art therapist from White Plains, N.Y., will conduct an Art Therapy Workshop at Marshall University on Saturday, April 3, in Smith Hall 621, according to Dr. Ray Moorhead, coordinator of Marshall’s Art Therapy Program.

The workshop, which runs from 9:45 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., is expected to draw more than 75 public school teachers, supervisors and MU students, Moorhead said. “Also, anyone in the area interested in art therapy is welcome to participate,” he added. Additional information on the workshop may be obtained by calling Dr. Moorhead at 696-6760.

MASTER CHORALE CONCERT

The Huntington-Marshall University Master Chorale, directed by Dr. Wendell Kumlien, MU professor of music, will present its spring concert at 8 p.m. Monday, April 5, in Smith Recital Hall. The event is free and open to the public.

The 30-voice choir will present a program of love songs in two parts. The first half of the program will feature Brahms; “New Love Song Waltzes,” 15 love songs written in Viennese waltz style; “Songs of Broadway Music Theater” is the theme for the second half.

WIND SYMPHONY

The Marshall University Wind Symphony will present its spring concert at 8 p.m. Tuesday, April 6, in Smith Recital Hall, according to Dr. Richard Lemke, conductor. The event is free and open to the public.

Highlighting the program will be a performance of the “Enterprise Overture” by MU composer-in-residence Paul W. Whear, who will be guest conductor for the work. Also on the program will be Williams’ “Symphonic Dance No. 3,” Tchaikovsky’s “March Slave,” Grafulla’s “Washington Grays,” Tull’s “Sketches on a Tudor Palm,” Shostakovich’s “Hamlet Suite,” and the finale from Saint-Saens’ “Symphony No. 3,” which will feature Dr. Robert D. Wolff, MU professor of music, on the organ.
DR. CARL A. GRUETTER, assistant professor of pharmacology, has received a $6,500 grant from the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association Foundation, Inc., for a study of "Nitrate Tolerance; A Possible Mechanism Involving Sulphhydrys and Cyclic GMP."

DR. JOSEPH LA CASCIA, Economics Department Chairman, participated in the Workshop on World Cultures and Civilizations, sponsored by the West Virginia Consortium for Faculty and Course Development in International Studies (FACDIS), on March 19-20 at the Huntington Gateway Holiday Inn.

DR. CAROLYN KARR, professor of social studies, has received a $1,500 fellowship from the West Virginia Humanities Foundation to further her research on a book, "Henry Hatfield and the Progressive Movement in West Virginia." She was one of seven people to receive a Humanities Foundation Fellowship this year.

Career Planning/Placement announces interview schedule

The Career Services and Placement Center has announced the April recruiting schedule for seniors and graduate students. Those interested in interviewing must submit credential files to the center which include a data sheet, grade sheet and three references.

Additional information on how to file or how to sign up for an interview may be obtained by calling the center at 2370.

Recruiters scheduled to be interviewing on campus in April include:

April 2  Raleigh County Schools
Math, Science, Special Ed.
April 5  K-Mart Apparel Corp.
East Brunswick, N.J.
Bus/Mkt. Management Trainee
April 6  Portsmouth City Schools
Elem. Ed. LD, Sci/Chm, Spanish
French, Mid Sch Art, Speech
Therapist K-12
April 8  Kanawha County Schools
All fields of education
April 15  Fidelity Union Life
All Majors
April 16  Shawnee Hills Comm. Mental Health/
Mental Retardation Center
Registered Nurses and Special
Education Teachers
April 21  Wood County Schools
All fields of education
April 23  Tylor County Schools
All fields of education
April 26  Lever Brothers
All Majors - Sales

Services held for Dr. Arrington

Funeral services were held March 21 for Dr. Robert G. Arrington, 61, of 923 12th Street, who died March 18 after a sudden illness. Burial was in Woodmere Memorial Park.

Arrington was staff physician at Family Care Outpatient Center and a World War II U.S. Navy veteran. A graduate of Marshall University, he was a member of the Cabell County Medical Society. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Janis D. Pullen Arrington, two daughters, a son and three grandchildren.

DR. HOWARD A. SLAATTE, professor of philosophy, was general arrangements coordinator for the West Virginia Philosophical Society's spring meeting held on campus March 19-20 with the Philosophy Department as host. Slaatte presented a paper, "Heidegger's View of God," and participated in the symposium on "Can Creationism Be Scientific." Also presenting papers were DR. FRANK MININNI, associate professor, "The Claim of Progress in Science and Its Lack Elsewhere," DR. JOHN N. VIELKIND, department chairman, "eidolon/Socrates/eidos," and Michael Clifford, a junior, "Phenomenological Grounds of Political Freedom."

SUSAN MARINE and PAT SUTTON, instructors in management, were advisors for a seminar, "How to Start Your Own Small Business," sponsored by the MU Student Chapter of the National Management Association and the Small Business Administration and held March 24 at the UpTowner Inn.

DR. ROBERT F. MADDOX, History Department chairman and Oral History of Appalachia Program director, discussed "Oral History and the Oral History of Appalachia Program" at a workshop on Oral History in the 1980s held March 23 at West Virginia University.

International Weekend brings tasting dinner, exhibit, program

The Marshall University International Students will sponsor International Weekend on Saturday and Sunday, April 3-4, with exhibits, the annual International Tasting Dinner and program.

Handicraft from various countries will be on exhibit in the Alumni Lounge of Memorial Student Center from 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. Students from the various countries will be available to discuss the customs of their native lands.

Reservations for the tasting dinner on Sunday at 5 p.m. may be made by calling the International Student Office, 696-2379. Tickets are $3 each for adults and $1.50 for children. No tickets will be sold at the door. Following the dinner there will be a student program of dances, songs and music from other countries.

Excused absences...

Absences have been excused by the respective college deans for the following:

MARCH 18-Dennis Daugherty, James Douglas, John C. Dunkle, Moniqua Hynus, Carla Legge, Lisa Mazzei, Barbara McCarty and Betsy Meadows.
MARCH 19-Men's Tennis Team.
MARCH 23-27-Women's Golf Team.
MARCH 24-28-Men's Golf Team.
MARCH 26-31-Varsity Baseball Team.
MARCH 29-31-MU Wind Symphony members.