Breakfast dialogue planned with Dr. William Sloane Coffin

The Campus Christian Center is cooperating with the First Presbyterian Church to foster a faculty/student dialogue with noted civil rights and anti-war activist Dr. William Sloane Coffin at an 8 a.m. breakfast meeting Monday, Nov. 22, at the church.

Reservations for the $2 per plate breakfast may be made by calling the Christian Center, extension 2444. Marshall students will be served free, according to the Rev. Bob Bondurant, Presbyterian campus minister.

Arrangements for bus transportation to the church may be made at the same time as breakfast reservations. Buses will leave Memorial Student Center's Fifth Avenue side at 7:45 a.m. and 8:45 a.m.

Coffin, former Yale University chaplain, also will speak on the nuclear freeze at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 21, at the church. Considered the fifth most influential religious leader in America, Coffin is senior minister of New York City's Riverside Church.

Community-oriented programs topic for Roundtable luncheon

Marshall University and its resources for the community will be discussed at a quarterly luncheon meeting of the Community Service Roundtable at 11:30 a.m. Tuesday, Dec. 7, in the Special Dining Room of Memorial Student Center.

Reservations for the $4 per plate luncheon must be made by Friday, Dec. 3, with the Information and Referral Service, 529-2600.

MU Admissions Director James Harless will be the moderator for the program which includes discussions of community-oriented programs by Philip Carter, MU assistant professor of sociology; Dan O'Hanlon, MU Criminal Justice Department acting chairman; Dr. William McDowell, MU Counseling/Rehabilitation Department chairman, and Dr. Joseph Wyatt, MU Psychology Clinic director.

Staff Council explores educational benefits

Highlights from the Staff Council meeting, Nov. 11: The Educational Benefits Committee has been working with Dr. Queen of the MU Foundation, Inc. to expand the policy of partial payment for courses taken by employees. The Foundation will pay up to one-half the cost or $35 maximum for three credit hours of regular University courses. The guidelines and application are now being finalized and, hopefully, this will be accomplished in time to begin in the Spring Semester. The program will be publicized and final details will be published.

Arrangements are being made for a Staff Appreciation Night for staff and guest(s) at a future basketball game. There will be a discount in the price of the ticket(s). Please keep this in mind for a night out with your fellow-employees.

Marshall University-Huntington Shoppers Discount Program Update: Merchants offering discounts from 10% - 15% on non-sale items are listed below. To receive a discount, present your MU-HS Membership Card and University ID Card. If you do not have a card and wish to join, call Georgia Childers at 6608. Participating merchants are:

Wiggins, 5th Avenue; Michael's Paint & Decorating Center; Cabell Paint & Decorating Center; Mack and Dave's; Ponderosa Steak House (3rd Avenue); The Smart Shop; and the YMCA (Lauer Building).

If any employees represented by the Staff Council, have anything they wish placed on an Agenda or, any questions, they may call Jill Prichard, secretary, at 3160. Or, you may contact any Staff Council member. I urge you to use your Council for any concern, questions, ideas, etc. We are here to serve you!

'THANKS' FROM DR. CASE

The HPER Department hosted the 1982 West Virginia Association for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance (WVAHPERD) convention last weekend (Nov. 7-9) at Henderson Center.

The convention was a tremendous success because of the unselfish support from the appropriate campus divisions: Buildings and Grounds, Graphic Services, Food Service, Athletic Department, Memorial Student Center staff and the university administrative staff. All were most cordial and helpful and we extend our thanks.

chairmen: PATTI BOSTIC, intramural activities supervisor, to the Administration and Supervision Division; OLIVE B. HAGER, assistant professor, to the Elementary Physical Education Division, and student Jeff Raines as student representative to the state association. Graduate assistant Blake Smith and Ms. Bostic were the physical fitness winners in overall competition. DR. ROBERT CASE, department chairman, was convention manager, assisted by Ms. Bostic and Mrs. Hager.

DR. ROBERT L. MADDOX, History Department chairman, and DR. DAVID WOODWARD, professor of history, attended the recent annual meeting of the Southern Historical Association in which Maddox serves on the Membership Committee. The meeting was held in Memphis, Tenn.

DR. LEONARD J. DEUTSCH, professor of English, read a paper, "Moral Dilemmas in the Work of John Frederick Matheus," at a meeting of the Society for the Study of the Multi-Ethnic Literature of the U.S. which was held in Atlanta on Nov. 11.

Personnel personals. . .

Linda Olesen, assistant director of Career Services/Placement, returned from maternity leave earlier this week. She and her husband Jeff became the parents of an 8 lb. 2 oz. son, named Bradley Robert, on Oct. 1.

Kitty Allen, secretary/box office manager for University Theatre, became a grandmother on Nov. 12 with the arrival of her first grandchild, a 4 lbs. 7 oz. girl named Chantal Elizabeth Shelby. Chantal's parents are Richard and Elizabeth Allen Shelby.

On Oct. 30, Phyllis York, Athletic Department secretary, and Marilyn Kooiker, Speech Department secretary, received a double dose of "grandmotherhood" with the arrival of twins born to Peter and Paula York Kooiker. The boys, Matthew Phillip and Garritt Pieter, weighed 3 lbs. 13½ oz. and 4 lbs. and 3½ oz., respectively.

Proud of a family member's accomplishment? Is there a new baby at your house? Is there something else you'd like to share with your colleagues? "Personnel personals. . ." is just the place. Send your information to Judith Casto, University Relations, Old Main 102.

THE GREENERY. . .

Tired of grabbing a burger and shake on the run? Why not alter your pace and try dining in the quiet, relaxing atmosphere of "The Greenery," Memorial Student Center's new concept in restaurant dining.

"The Greenery," which serves lunch from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., offers a varied menu, including omelettes, salad bar, sandwiches and soups. It's the perfect place to take time to visit with your colleagues on campus.

DR. CLAIRE HORTON, associate professor of sociology/anthropology, presented a paper, "Perceptions of Health and Disease," at the sixth annual conference of the West Virginia Primary Care Study Group, held at Canaan Valley State Park Nov. 10-13. She also directed two workshops on "Appalachian Definitions of Disease."

DR. WILLIAM P. SULLIVAN, English Department chairman; DR. WARREN W. WOODEN, professor of English, and DR. JEANIE WATSON, assistant professor of English, attended the annual convention of the South Atlantic Modern Language Association in Atlanta Nov. 11-3. Wooden, who served as secretary of the Special Topics section, was elected chairman of that section and secretary of the Children's Literature Discussion Circle for 1983.

DR. CHONG W. KIM, assistant professor of management, attended the Southern Management Association's annual meeting in New Orleans Nov. 10-13 and presented a paper, "Measures of Organizational Structure: A Cross Cultural Examination of Perceptual Scales and Re-Examination of Validity in Perceived Uncertainty." The paper also was published in the Association's "Proceedings."

DR. GRACE BENNETT, professor of home economics, and ELEANOR ZIZZO, instructor, attended the West Virginia Dietetic Association meeting held at the Holiday Inn, Huntington, Nov. 11-12. Dr. Bennett was co-chairman of the program committee.

ELEANOR ZIZZO, instructor in home economics, addressed CardiAction, an association of people with an interest in heart disease, at its Nov. 15 meeting at the First Huntington National Bank. Her topic was "Sodium in Foods." She also spoke on "Hidden Sodium in Foods" at the Oct. 19 meeting of the Tri-County Dental Association.

DR. JEANIE WATSON, assistant professor of English, delivered a paper, "'Eat Me, Drink Me, Love Me': Sisterly Self-Sacrifice in Nineteenth Century British Literature," at the annual Midwest Modern Language Association meeting in Cincinnati Nov. 4-6. She also was elected secretary of the Women and Literature section.

DR. THOMAS J. MANAKKIL, professor of physics/physical science; DR. WESLEY SHANHOLTZER, professor of physics/physical science, and ROBERT DILS, associate professor of physics/physical science, attended the meeting of the Appalachian Section of the American Association of Physics Teachers held Nov. 6 at West Virginia State College. Manakkil was elected section representative to the AAPT National Council. Shanholtzer was elected vice-president for colleges and president-elect of the Appalachian Section.

DR. ROBERT M. BABB, Computer and Information Science Department chairman, spoke on "Computers for Personal and Business Applications" at the annual convention of the West Virginia Foresters on Nov. 12 at the Charleston Marriott Hotel.
