10-24-1980

Marshall University News Letter, October 24, 1980

Office of University Relations

Follow this and additional works at: http://mds.marshall.edu/oldmu_news_letter

Recommended Citation

http://mds.marshall.edu/oldmu_news_letter/480

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Marshall Publications at Marshall Digital Scholar. It has been accepted for inclusion in Marshall University News Letter 1972-1986 by an authorized administrator of Marshall Digital Scholar. For more information, please contact zhangj@marshall.edu, martj@marshall.edu.
Welty heads Staff Council

Raymond Welty, MU assistant director of housing, has been elected chairperson of Marshall's new Staff Council, an organization to deal with concerns of the university's staff.

Staff members held a general election Oct. 8 and 9 to choose members, and the council met the first time Oct. 16 to elect officers. Other officers are Dolores Cook, admissions clerk and records officer for the College of Liberal Arts, vice chairperson; Marguerite Spears, secretary in the James E. Morrow Library, secretary, and Kenneth Reffeitt, library technical assistant, parliamentarian.

The council will serve as an executive body for the staff, will provide a forum for discussion and review of staff members' concerns, and will serve as a liaison between the university president and the staff. It also will provide members for appropriate university committees and will disseminate university information pertaining to staff employees.

A committee of staff members worked from February to July for the sole purpose of drafting a constitution. After the constitution was approved, the election of permanent members was held.

The council will meet again on Oct. 30 to review concerns expressed to council members, to rank these concerns according to priority and to discuss the direction the council will take, Welty said. "Anyone with concerns for the council to take under advisement should contact a representative of his or her employee group," Welty said.

CAMPAIGN BEGINS

Marshall United Way co-chairmen Dr. Sallie Plymale, assistant professor of education (second from left) and Dr. Thomas Bishop, professor of marketing, (standing) pass out materials to United Way volunteers. Volunteers include (from left) head basketball coach Bob Zuffelato; Dr. Patricia Eisenman, associate professor of health, physical education and recreation; Student Affairs Specialist Stephen W. Hensley, and Carol Berry, food service secretary. (MU Photo by Rick Haye)

Arlene Thorn to discuss 'Holocaust' and the family

The Marshall University Honors Program, in conjunction with the Humanities Foundation of West Virginia, will sponsor a free, public lecture by Dr. Arline Thorn of West Virginia State College's English faculty, at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 26, in Science Hall Auditorium.

Dr. Thorn will discuss "The Holocaust" and its impact upon the family, according to Dr. Michael J. Galgano, MU Honors Program director and professor of history.

The lecture is one in a series of public sessions devoted to Nazi Germany and the attempted extermination of the Jewish race during World War II.

INFORMATION SOUGHT

University Relations is seeking information for a Faculty/Staff Necrology. Anyone with information concerning deaths of faculty or staff members during the period from Sept. 1, 1979 to Oct. 1, 1980 is asked to call Judith Casto, assistant director, University Relations, at 6453.
MU faculty and staff achievements, activities...

DR. FRANK L. BINDER, associate professor of biological sciences, presented a paper entitled "Regulation of L-Phenylalanine Transport in the Haustorial Mycoparasite T. thermophila" at the Allegheny Branch Meetings of the American Society for Microbiology at Penn State University Oct. 10-11.

DR. CAROLYN KARR, professor of social studies, addressed a group of National Conference of Editorial Writers spouses and members at the Downtown Holiday Inn Convention Center on Sept. 26. Her topic was "Appalachian Culture." An article based on her talk appeared in the Oct. 6 issue of the Rochester (N.Y.) Democrat and Chronicle on an editorial page.

BRUCE J. BROWN, program director and assistant professor of medical laboratory technology, was a panelist at a symposium and conference for West Virginia allied health educators held Oct. 17-18 in Morgantown.

STEVE HENSLEY, assistant dean for Student Development, and EDYTE M. TAYLOR, director of special services, spoke on "Educational Support Programs" at the West Virginia Association of Student Personnel Administrators Oct. 13-14 in Parkersburg.

Five publications win WVASPA awards

Five Marshall University publications won awards at the annual conference of the West Virginia Association of Student Personnel Administrators Oct. 13-14 in Parkersburg.

A panel of judges reviewed entries from colleges and universities across the state, and made awards on the basis of content, format and creativity, said Don Robertson, MU student activities coordinator, who chaired the conference.

The best "freshman outreach" publication was the "Freshman Record," published by MU's Student Government. A freshman orientation newsletter published by the New Student Orientation Office of the Student Affairs Division, was named best orientation pamphlet.

The best "activities" pamphlet was the Fall 1980 schedule of Marshall Artists Series events for students, published by the Artists Series.

Two counseling pamphlets published by the Student Development Center were combined and named winners in that category. They are on human development workshops and on counseling and group resources.

Footnotes to the university News Letter

An exhibit of Photography in Printmaking from the Pratt Graphics Center is under way at the Marshall University Birke Art Gallery, located in Smith Hall.

The 31-print display will continue through Nov. 3, according to Beverly Twitchell, MU assistant professor of art and gallery curator. The gallery is open Monday through Friday from noon to 4 p.m. and on Mondays from 6 to 9 p.m.

The exhibit shows the uses of photographic imagery and the application of photographic methods in printmaking today, including photographic silkscreen, lithography and etching, Ms. Twitchell said.

Among the artists represented in the exhibit are Jim Dine, Andres Stasik, Clare Romano, Robert Burkett, Scott Hyde, Segui and Allen Jones.

MCIE OFFICERS ELECTED

New officers for 1980-81 have been elected for the Marshall Council for International Education (MCIE).

They are Dr. Thomas Manakkil, professor of physics and physical science, chairman; Diane Fornari, part time instructor for the Community College, vice chairman, and Dr. John Plott, associate professor of philosophy, Executive Committee member-at-large.

MCIE is comprised of faculty and staff members interested in advancing international sensivities in the Marshall community. Its meetings are open. Anyone wishing to be added to the mailing list should contact Manakkil.

GLENN MILLER TICKETS AVAILABLE

Tickets to see the Glenn Miller Orchestra on Nov. 11 at the Keith-Albee Theatre are now on sale in the Marshall Artists Series office in Memorial Student Center Room 2W38.

The tickets will sell for half price each for two tickets for Marshall employees who wish to buy them. If tickets are still available, the Artists Series will begin community sales Oct. 30.

The concert is part of the student series.