

11-14-1980

Marshall University News Letter, November 14, 1980

Office of University Relations

Follow this and additional works at: http://mds.marshall.edu/oldmu_news_letter

Recommended Citation

Office of University Relations, "Marshall University News Letter, November 14, 1980" (1980). Marshall University News Letter 1972-1986. Paper 486.

http://mds.marshall.edu/oldmu_news_letter/486

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Marshall Publications at Marshall Digital Scholar. It has been accepted for inclusion in Marshall University News Letter 1972-1986 by an authorized administrator of Marshall Digital Scholar. For more information, please contact zhangj@marshall.edu, martj@marshall.edu.

MU faculty and staff achievements, activities. . .

BETTY JOAN JARRELL, Legal Secretarial and Accounting Programs coordinator for the Community College, is the first woman to serve on the board of directors of the Ohio Valley Accounting Association. She also spoke to the Huntington chapter of the American Women's Business Association on "Women in Management" at the Uptowner Inn on Oct. 21.

HARRIET W. TUCKER, adjunct faculty member in the Music Department, presented a session on "Group Piano" at the West Virginia Music Teachers Association state convention at the Science and Cultural Center in Charleston Oct. 18-20. Two of her students performed in the convention's Merit Recital.

DR. EMORY CARR, associate professor and Modern Languages Department chairman, and CONNIE GILLENWATER, Modern Languages Department secretary, organized a mini-retreat for area high school students held Sept. 27 at Ritter Park. Various tasks, including cooking and teaching games in French, Spanish and German, were performed by Modern Languages Department faculty members DR. HAROLD MURPHY, professor; DR. DOLORES JACOME, associate professor; NANCY STUMP, assistant professor, GAYLE VEST and SARA HENRY, instructors.

GAYLE VEST, instructor of modern languages, conducted a replica of the German Oktoberfest including decorations, food, a film and a description of the origins of the Oktoberfest for area language students Oct. 14 in the Smith Hall faculty lounge. JOHN MILLER, assistant professor of modern languages, gave two slide presentations entitled "Spanish Contrasts in Time and Space" the same day.

CHARLES F. GRUBER, assistant professor of social studies, and Mark A. Lycan, graduate assistant in social studies, attended the national meeting of the Latin American Studies Association at Indiana University in Bloomington Oct. 17-19.

DR. JOHN McKERNAN, associate professor of English, delivered a paper on "The Varieties of Epistolary Verse in the Renaissance" at the annual Sixteenth Century Studies Conference at the Center for Reformation Research at Concordia Seminary in St. Louis, Mo., on Oct. 24.

DR. BILLY RAY DUNN, associate professor of occupational, adult and safety education, addressed the West Virginia Vocational Directors at Cedar Lakes Oct. 15 on the new Vocational Administration Program at Marshall. He also has been appointed to the West Virginia State Advisory Council on Professional Development by State Schools Superintendent Roy Truby.

DR. RALPH OBERLY, associate professor and Physics and Physics and Physical Science Department chairman, attended the fall meeting of the Ohio Section of the American Physical Society Oct. 17-18 at the University of Dayton. The symposium topic was laser applications.

DR. ROBERT P. ALEXANDER, professor and Management Department chairman, spoke before the Kiwanis Club of Barboursville Oct. 27 and the Optimist Club in Charleston Oct. 28. His topic was time management.

DR. ROBERT F. MADDUX, professor of history and director of the Oral History of Appalachia Program, presented "The State of the Art of Oral History" to the West Virginia Library Association annual meeting on Oct. 24 in the Holiday Inn Convention Center. The department chairman also addressed the Upper Vandalia Historical Society at the Putnam County Library Oct. 26, discussing oral history techniques.

DR. THOMAS E. SULLENBERGER, assistant professor of criminal justice, was elected treasurer of the KYOVA Chapter of the American Society of Industrial Security at the regional meeting held Oct. 23 in South Point, Ohio. He has been chairman of the chapter's educational committee for the past year.

DR. CHENG-CHI HUANG, assistant professor of mathematics, spoke to students at South Point (Ohio) High School Oct. 22 on "The Educational System in Taiwan and the Use of the Abacus."

DR. VIRGINIA PLUMLEY, associate professor of educational media, attended two Kentucky, Ohio and West Virginia District workshops for the Pilot Club International. As outreach division coordinator for the district, she presented programs at both on membership, public relations, anchor, compass and extension. The Pilot Club is a service organization that provides service hours and financial contributions to worthy causes in the community. The workshops were held Sept. 29-30 in Dayton, Ohio, and Oct. 25 in Bellaire, Ohio.

JEANNE DeVOS, assistant professor and director of the Associate in Science in Nursing Program, was elected to the executive committee of the statewide Health Coordinating Council at its September meeting.

LINDA M. HENNING, assistant professor and continuing education director for the School of Nursing, presented a paper on "The Potential for Rehabilitation of the Elderly Stroke Patient" at the Second National Symposium on Gerontological Nursing held Sept. 8-10 in San Francisco, Calif. She also presented a one-day seminar on arthritis nursing in Bethesda, Md., on Oct. 25, and recently completed a series of continuing education workshops for nurses in West Virginia on restorative care for the elderly.

DR. TERENCE McQUEENY, assistant professor of modern languages, will deliver a paper, "Beckett, Proust, and Schopenhauer" at the Samuel Beckett Symposium at Ohio State University in Columbus May 7-9.

DR. WILLIAM M. SCHMITT, assistant professor of family practice, was awarded a full scholarship to attend the Case Western Reserve/Cleveland Clinic's Symposium on Geriatrics: Treatment of Depression, held Oct. 29-31 at the Cleveland Clinic.

DR. JABIR A. ABBAS, professor of political science, attended the fourth annual Third World Conference in Omaha, Neb., Oct. 22-25. It was co-sponsored by the National Council of Returned Peace Corps Volunteers and the University of Nebraska's Department of Political Science, Office of International Studies and Programs, and College of Continuing Studies. He was a panelist for the session, "Images and Realities in the U.S. and the Arab-American Relationship." While there, he was interviewed by a reporter for Voice of America regarding the war in the Persian Gulf and its objectives. The interview will be aired at a later date.

DANIEL O'HANLON, Legal Assistant Program coordinator for the Community College, is the advisor of the MU Paralegal Association, which conducted "Meet the Paralegals Night" for area attorneys Oct. 31 at the Engineers Club in Huntington.

Regents approve Science Hall plans

The West Virginia Board of Regents, meeting Tuesday in Charleston, approved design/development plans for the Marshall Science Hall project. Architect Tag Galyean was authorized to proceed with the working drawings, targeting construction contract bids for next June.

Galyean told the board the first phase of the project—a 60,000 square-foot addition estimated to cost $5.5 million—should be under construction by next fall and completed in late 1982 or 1983.

Phases II and III, major renovation of the existing structure, should be completed by the fall of 1984, Galyean said.

Total cost of the Science Hall project has been estimated at $11.5 million.

Classrooms, laboratories and offices in the Science Hall are expected to remain in use throughout the project as a result of the plans to complete it in three phases.

MARSHALL UNIVERSITY

News Letter

November 14, 1980

OFFICE OF UNIVERSITY RELATIONS • NEWS BUREAU • MARSHALL UNIVERSITY • HUNTINGTON, WEST VIRGINIA 25701

Social Studies

Dr. Edwin Cubby to retire; Dr. Mahlon Brown named chairman

Dr. Edwin A. Cubby, chairman of Marshall University's Social Studies Department, will end his 32-year teaching career at Marshall at the close of the 1981 Spring Semester, said Dr. Philip J. Rusche, MU College of Education dean.

Succeeding Cubby as department chairman will be Dr. Mahlon C. Brown, MU professor of social studies, who was named to the post by MU President Robert B. Hayes upon the recommendation of a social studies faculty search committee, according to Rusche.

"Although Dr. Brown will not formally assume the post until the end of the spring term, he and Dr. Cubby will work together during the transition period," Rusche said.

"In his many years of service to Marshall, Ed Cubby has distinguished himself in the classroom. It would be impossible to estimate the number of students who have benefitted from his teaching," the dean commented. "As department chairman, he has conducted himself with dignity and is held in esteem by his campus colleagues," Rusche added.

"That Dr. Brown was selected by his fellow faculty members to succeed Dr. Cubby speaks for itself. I am pleased that the department had within its ranks a candidate with Dr. Brown's qualifications," Rusche noted.

During his tenure at Marshall, Cubby has been an active member of various university standing committees, including University Council, the faculty governing body. For many years, he has served as chief faculty marshal for the commencement procession.

Cubby, who joined the faculty in 1949 and became department chairman in 1964, earned his baccalaureate and graduate degrees from Syracuse University.

Brown, who joined the Marshall faculty in 1955, has served on many of the university's standing committees and currently is a member of the Academic Planning and Standards Committee. Brown also was named a Danforth Associate in 1961.

A native of Downsville, N.Y., Brown earned his undergraduate and graduate degrees from Syracuse University.

Hearings set on needs of MU's handicapped

A series of hearings on the needs of the handicapped will be held Nov. 19, Dec. 3 and Dec. 10 by Marshall University's Presidential Task Force on Handicapped Students.

The hearings were announced by Dr. Nell C. Bailey, dean of student affairs, and Tammy Utt, vice president of student government, who co-chair the task force.

All meetings will be held from 3 to 5 p.m. in Room 2W22 of the Memorial Student Center, and are for the purpose of gathering information. The student hearing will be held Nov. 19; the faculty hearing on Dec. 3, and the hearing for administrators on Dec. 10.

Participants are asked to limit their remarks to three minutes, and to be prepared to answer follow-up questions for an additional three minutes. All hearings will be taped.

Additional information is available from Dr. Bailey at ext. 6422, Miss Utt at ext. 6435, or Jerry Meadows, vocational rehabilitation counselor, at ext. 2394.

Footnotes to the university News Letter

The International Students Office is coordinating two events in the next seven days to which faculty, staff and students are invited.

The first is an international disco party, sponsored by the International Students Club, beginning at 8 o'clock tonight, Nov. 14, in the Memorial Student Center Special Dining Room. Admission is by Marshall I.D. only, and refreshments will be served.

The second is a reception for the Marshall Green Gals and the Chinese women's basketball teams at 9 a.m. Thursday, Nov. 20, in the student center's Alumni Lounge. The reception will provide an opportunity to meet both teams before their game at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Memorial Field House.

SIGMA XI TO DISCUSS VOLCANO

A slide-illustrated program, "The Mount St. Helens Geological Story," will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 18, in Science Hall Auditorium by the Marshall University Chapter, Sigma Xi science honorary.

Speaker for the event, which is free and open to the public, will be Dr. Dewey D. Sanderson, MU associate professor of geology.

The discussion will include the geological setting of Mount St. Helens, its development through the years, events leading to the massive eruption of May 18, 1980, the eruption itself, its aftermath and possible future activity of the volcano.

Samples of the volcanic ash also will be on display.

CHRISTMAS SALE STARTS MONDAY

The MU Bookstore's annual Christmas sale of gift wrap, boxed cards, bows, ribbon and related merchandise begins Monday, Nov. 17. The sale prices, 40 percent off regular prices, do not apply to every day greeting cards.

Merchandise will be displayed in the textbook department, in the lower level of the Memorial Student Center.

SARA CHAPMAN TO ASSUME NEW POST

Dr. Sara Chapman, former associate professor of English at MU, has been appointed executive assistant to the chancellor of the University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire, effective Jan. 1, 1981.

She also served as director of planning at MU and received her master's degree from here.

'The Heiress' to begin four-night run Wednesday

Rehearsals are under way for Marshall University Theatre's second production of the season, "The Heiress," which will open a four-night run at 8 o'clock Wednesday, Nov. 19, in Old Main Auditorium.

The play, based on Henry James' classic novel, "Washington Square," has been a favorite with producing groups and audiences alike since it first opened on Broadway in 1947, according to Dr. N. Bennett East, MU associate professor of speech, who is directing the production.

"The Heiress" also became an award-winning movie with Olivia de Havilland as the central character,

At Eau Claire, she will serve as chief staff associate to Chancellor Emily Hannah, with both internal and external responsibilities, and as professor of English, upon recommendation of that department.

MU JOB OPENINGS ANNOUNCED

The MU Personnel Office has announced the following campus job openings:

Registered Nurse, Department of Medicine, closes Nov. 14;

Residence Hall Desk Receptionist, Student Housing (part-time regular), closes Nov. 14;

Director of Audits, Financial Affairs, closes Dec. 1;

Staff Librarian, Health Science Libraries, closes Dec. 4.

Applications and additional information are available from the Personnel Office, Old Main 207, ext. 6455.

STUDENT DEVELOPMENT TO SLATE VISITS

Staff and faculty members who were unable to attend the recent open houses at the Student Development Center and who are interested in learning about the Center may call Kenneth E. Blue, associate dean/Student Development, at 2324 to schedule a meeting at the center or within their department. The dean and his staff are available to share the services they have available to faculty and staff as well as students.

FACULTY HONORS PROGRAM SCHEDULED

The University Honors Program will sponsor its second Faculty Research Seminar from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 20, in the Honors Lounge, Room 209 Northcott Hall.

The speaker will be Dr. Michael Galgano, professor of history and Honors Program director, who will discuss his summer research into the economic history of women from 1660 to 1700. All faculty members are invited.

EMERITUS CLUB TO MEET WEDNESDAY

The Marshall University Emeritus Club will meet at 12:15 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 19, in the Uptowner Inn on Fourth Avenue.

Guest speaker will be Mrs. Cherry Harrison, who will discuss "Oh, It's That Time Again."

Catherine Sloper, whose father believes she is unmarried.

Portraying Catherine in the Marshall production will be Yvea Duncan, Logan freshman, while Jeff Perhacs, Weirton freshman, will appear as her father. Parkersburg Sophomore Frank Binder has been cast as Townsend.

The University Theatre box office, located in Old Main 107, will begin selling reserved seat tickets at $2.50 each on Wednesday, Nov. 12. The box office will be open from 1 to 4 p.m. weekdays. Tickets may be reserved by calling the box office, 696-2306, during those hours. Tickets also will be available at the door on performance nights.

SCHOLARSHIPS GIVEN

Five Marshall University College of business students, majoring in the marketing program's transportation option, were awarded scholarships totaling $1,400. Award recipients shown with Dr. William F. Ashford, MU professor of marketing and department chairman, left, are Michael Bird, Ravenswood senior, who received the Midway Chapter 268, Delta Nu Alpha Transportation Fraternity, Scholarship; Brenda Fizer, Huntington junior, the Kanawha Valley

Transportation Club Scholarship; Kimberly Jones, Russell, Ky., senior, the Ashland Oil, Inc., Transportation Scholarship. (Photo by Rick Hays)

Music Department schedules concerts next week

Two MU Music Department groups have scheduled concerts for next week. Both concerts are at 8 p.m. in Smith Recital Hall.

On Wednesday, Nov. 19, the Master Chorale, a 32-voice chorus composed of students, faculty and community residents, will present free, public concert.

Highlighting the program, according to Dr. Wendell

Kumlien, MU professor of music and chorale director, will be a performance of Bach's "Komm, Jesus, Komm" with chorus and an eight-member woodwind and string ensemble.

On Thursday, Nov. 20, the Wind Symphony will present a concert, conducted by Dr. Richard Lemke, MU band director and assistant professor of music. Jude Gore, Clarksburg graduate assistant, will conduct Charles E. Ives' "Finale from Symphony No. 2," and Anne Lee Haydu, South Charleston senior, will be the clarinet soloist during Paul Jeanjean's "Carnival of Venice."

Candy making class set

Just in time for Christmas, the Continuing Education Division at the Community College of Marshall University is offering a short, non-credit course in candy making, to be held from 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesdays from Nov. 18 to Dec. 16 in Corby Hall Room 103.

Marshall graduate Joyce Stern will demonstrate construction of chocolate-covered delicacies, and will discuss where to buy and how to conserve supplies. The course will include demonstrations of techniques for molding chocolate candies, recipes for fruit-flavored cream fillings and directions for making several types of candies.

Types of candy to be made in the class include peanut butter cups, chocolate-covered cherries, pecan logs, and cream fillings, such as maple nut, cherry nut, pineapple, lemon and vanilla.

Cost for the class is $35. Those wishing more information or to register may contact Robert L. Lawson, Continuing Education director for the Community College of Marshall University, by calling ext. 5431.

Excused absences . . .

Absences have been excused by the respective deans for the following:
 Nov. 5-Soccer team.
 Nov. 9-Wrestling team.
 Nov. 9-10-Greg White and Ken Labanowski.
 Nov. 13-15-John Dotson, David Henry.
 Nov. 21-22-Marching Band.

MU College Bowl Team to participate in tournament

The Marshall University College Bowl Team will participate in a College Bowl Tournament in January at Florida State University in Tallahassee, according to Dr. Robert Mutchnick, MU assistant professor of criminal justice and College Bowl coach.

The tournament will be broadcast by CBS Radio, and will include teams from California State College at Fresno; Washington University of St. Louis, Mo.; the University of North Carolina at Charlotte; Auburn (Ala.) University; the University of Georgia and the University of Chicago.

How the Marshall team does in this and other tournaments will determine whether or not it is allowed to participate in the national tournaments to be held in February. Marshall is in the midst of negotiations to host this tournament, Mutchnick said. Marshall hosted the last national College Bowl tournament Feb. 29-March 3.

Library Thanksgiving hours

Following is the schedule of hours to be observed by the James E. Morris Library during the Thanksgiving Holiday weekend:

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 26	7:45 a.m.-4:30 p.m.
THURSDAY, NOV. 27 (THANKSGIVING)	CLOSED
FRIDAY, NOV. 28	1 p.m.-5:00 p.m.
SATURDAY, NOV. 29	CLOSED
Resume regular schedule
SUNDAY, NOV. 30	1 p.m.-10 p.m.
MONDAY THROUGH THURSDAY	7:45 a.m.-11 p.m.
FRIDAY	7:45 a.m.-5 p.m.
SATURDAY	9 a.m.-5 p.m.