West Virginia Library Association annual meeting on October 17-18 at the University of Dayton. The symposium topic was law applications.

ROBERT P. ALEXANDER, professor and Management Department chairman, spoke before the Kiwanis Club of Barbourville, Ohio, in October and spoke to the Club in Charleston Oct. 28. His topic was time management.

ROBERT F. MADDOX, professor of history and director of the Archives of Appalachia, presented "The State of the Art of Oral History" to the West Virginia Library Association annual meeting on October 24 in the Holiday Inn Convention Center. The department chairman also addressed the Upper Vandala Histe, the Monthly County Library Oct. 26, discussing oral history techniques.

THOMAS E. SULLENBERGER, assistant professor of constitutional justice, was speaker of the "Women in Management" at the Uptowner Inn on Oct. 21.

HARRIET W. TUCKER, a member of the board of directors of the Ohio Valley Accounting Association, also spoke to the Huntington chapter of the American Women's Business Association Oct. 22. She is a member of the Ohio Valley Accounting Association.

TRINA M. STEVENS, director of the Schools for the Blind, held a symposium on "The History of the American Society of Industrial Security" at the County Library Oct. 17 to 19. Stevens is the first woman to hold this position at the American Society of Industrial Security.

Mark Gruberg, professor of modern languages, gave two presentations at the Smith Hall faculty lounge. John Miller, assistant professor of modern languages, gave two slide presentations entitled "Spanish Contrasts in Time and Space" the same day.

CHARLES F. GRUBER, assistant professor of social studies, and Mark Gruberg asssistant professor of social studies, attended the national meeting of the Latin American Studies Association at Indiana University in Bloomington Oct. 17-19.

JOHN MCKERNAN, associate professor of English, delivered a paper on "The Varieties of Epistolarity" in the 19th Annual Studies in Epistemology Conference at the Center for Research on Consciousness Seminary in St. Louis, Mo., on Oct. 24. He was named to the post by Dr. Robert B. Hayes.

VANCE J. DUNN, associate professor of political science, attended the Ohio State University Student Senate Oct. 14 in the Smith Hall faculty lounge. John Miller, assistant professor of modern languages, gave two slide presentations entitled "Spanish Contrasts in Time and Space" the same day.

LINDA M. HENNING, associate professor and continuing education director for the School of Nursing, presented a paper on "The Potential for Rehabilitation of the Elderly Stroke Patient" at the National Symposium on Gerontological Nursing held Sept. 8-10 in San Francisco, Calif. She also presented a one-day seminar on nursing intervention with the elderly Oct. 15, and recently completed a series of continuing education workshops for nurses in West Virginia on restorative care for the elderly.

T.RENECE McQUEENY, associate professor of mathematics, delivered a paper on "The History of the American Society of Industrial Security" at the County Library Oct. 17 to 19. Stevens is the first woman to hold this position at the American Society of Industrial Security.

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration held Oct. 19 in the Smith Hall faculty lounge. John Miller, assistant professor of modern languages, gave two slide presentations entitled "Spanish Contrasts in Time and Space" the same day.

JEANNE DEVOS, assistant professor and director of the Institute in Nursing, was elected to the executive committee of the statewide Health Care Coordinating Council at its September meeting.

LINDA M. HENNING, associate professor and continuing education director for the School of Nursing, presented a paper on "The Potential for Rehabilitation of the Elderly Stroke Patient" at the National Symposium on Gerontological Nursing held Sept. 8-10 in San Francisco, Calif. She also presented a one-day seminar on nursing intervention with the elderly Oct. 15, and recently completed a series of continuing education workshops for nurses in West Virginia on restorative care for the elderly.

T. TERENCE McQUEENY, associate professor of mathematics, delivered a paper on "The History of the American Society of Industrial Security" at the County Library Oct. 17 to 19. Stevens is the first woman to hold this position at the American Society of Industrial Security.

LINDA M. HENNING, associate professor and continuing education director for the School of Nursing, presented a paper on "The Potential for Rehabilitation of the Elderly Stroke Patient" at the National Symposium on Gerontological Nursing held Sept. 8-10 in San Francisco, Calif. She also presented a one-day seminar on nursing intervention with the elderly Oct. 15, and recently completed a series of continuing education workshops for nurses in West Virginia on restorative care for the elderly.

As part of the symposium, the department held a symposium on "The History of the American Society of Industrial Security" at the County Library Oct. 17 to 19. Stevens is the first woman to hold this position at the American Society of Industrial Security.
Footnotes to the university News Letter

The International Students Office is coordinating two events in the next seven days, to which faculty, staff, and students are invited.

The first is an international disco party, sponsored by the International Students Club, beginning at 8 o'clock tonight, Nov. 14, in the Memorial Student Center Special Dining Room. Admission is by Marshall I.D. only, and refreshments will be served.

The second is a reception for the Marshall Green Gals and the Chinese women's basketball teams at 9 a.m. Thursday, Nov. 20, in the student center's Alumni Lounge. The reception will provide an opportunity to meet both teams before their game at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Memorial Field House.

SIGMA XI TO DISCUSS VOLCANO

A slide-illustrated program, "The Mount St. Helens Geological Story," will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 18, in Science Hall Auditorium by the Marshall University Chapter, Sigma Xi science honorary.

Speaker for the event, which is free and open to the public, will be Dr. Dewey D. Sanderson, MU associate professor of geology.

The discussion will include the geological setting of Mount St. Helens, its development through the years, events leading to the eruption of 1980, the eruption itself, its aftermath and possible future activity of the volcano.

Samples of the volcanic ash will also be on display.

CHRISTMAS SALE STARTS MONDAY

The MU Bookstore's annual Christmas sale of gift wrap, boxed cards and calendars, beginning at 8 o'clock, starts Monday, Nov. 17. The sale prices, 40 percent off regular prices, do not apply to every day greeting cards.

Merchandise will be displayed in the textbook department, in the lower level of the Memorial Student Center.

SARA CHAPMAN TO ASSUME NEW POST

Dr. Sara Chapman, former associate professor of English at MU, has been appointed executive assistant to the chancellor of the university, Dr. Robert M. Northcott, effective Jan. 1, 1981.

She also served as director of planning at MU and received her master's degree from here.

The Heiress" to begin four-night run Wednesday

Rehearsals are under way for Marshall University Theatre's second production of the season, "The Heiress," which will open a four-night run at 8 o'clock Wednesday, Nov. 19, in Old Main Auditorium.

The play, based on Henry James' classic novel, "Washington Square," has been a favorite with producing groups and audiences alike since it first opened on Broadway in 1947, according to Dr. N. Bennett East, MU associate professor of speech, who is directing the production.

"The Heiress" also became an award-winning movie with Olivia de Havilland as the central character, at Eau Claire, she will serve as chief staff associate to Chancellors, the Board of Trustees, and to both internal and external responsibilities, and as professor of English, upon recommendation of that department.

MU JOB OPENINGS ANNOUNCED

The MU Personnel Office has announced the following job openings:

Registered Nurse, Department of Medicine, closes Nov. 14.

Residence Hall Desk Receptionist, Student Housing (part-time regular), closes Nov. 14.

Director of Audits, Financial Affairs, closes Dec. 1.

Staff Librarian, Health Science Libraries, closes Dec. 4.

Applications and additional information are available from the Personnel Office, Old Main 207, ext. 6455.

STUDENT DEVELOPMENT TO SLEET VISITS

Staff and faculty members who were unable to attend the recent open houses at the Student Development Center and who are interested in learning about the center may call Kenneth E. Blue, associate dean, Student Development, at 2324 to schedule a meeting at the center or within their department. The dean and his staff are available to share the services they have available to faculty and staff as well as students.

FACULTY HONORS PROGRAM SCHEDULED

The University Honors Program will sponsor its second Faculty Research Seminar from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 20, in the Honors Lounge, Room 209 Northcott Hall.

The speaker will be Dr. Michael Calganico, professor of history and Honors Program director, who will discuss his summer research into the economic history of women from 1660 to 1700. All faculty members are invited.

EMERITUS CLUB TO MEET WEDNESDAY

The Marshall University Emeritus Club will meet at 12:15 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 19, in the Uptowner Inn on Fourth Avenue.

Guest speaker will be Mrs. Cherry Harrison, who will discuss "Oh, It's That Time Again."

Music Department schedules concerts next week

Two MU Music Department groups have scheduled concerts for next week. Both concerts are at 8 p.m. in Smith Recital Hall.

On Wednesday, Nov. 19, the Master Chorale, a 32-voice chorus composed of students, faculty and community residents, will present free, public concert. Highlighting the program, according to Dr. Wendell Perhac, MU College of Music professor and director, will be a major work by the late German composer, Richard Strauss, "A Book of Old Masters.

MU College Bowl Team to participate in tournament

The Marshall University College Bowl Team will participate in a College Bowl tournament in January at Florida State University in Tallahassee, according to Dr. Robert Mutchnik, MU assistant professor of criminal justice and College Bowl coach.

The tournament will be broadcast by CBS Radio, and will include teams from California State College at Fresno; Washington University of St. Louis, Mo.; the University of North Carolina at Charlotte; Auburn (Ala.) University; the University of Georgia and the University of Chicago.

How the Marshall team does in this and other tournaments will determine whether or not it is allowed to participate in the national tournaments to be held in February. Marshall is in the midst of negotiations to host this tournament. Mutchnik said Marshall hosted the last national College Bowl tournament Feb. 29-March 3.

Library Thanksgiving hours

Following is the schedule of hours to be observed by the James E. Morris Library during the Thanksgiving Holiday weekend:

WEDNESDAY NOV. 26 7:45 a.m.-4:30 p.m.
THURSDAY, NOV. 27 (THANKSGIVING) CLOSED
FRIDAY, NOV. 28 7:45 a.m.-4:30 p.m.
SATURDAY, NOV. 29 7:45 a.m.-4:30 p.m.
CLOSED
SUNDAY, NOV. 30 CLOSED
THANKSGIVING THURSDAY 7:45 a.m.-11 p.m.
FRIDAY 7:45 a.m.-5:45 p.m.
SATURDAY 9 a.m.-5:45 p.m.

Excused absences...

Absences have been excused by the respective deans for the following:

Nov. 5-Soccer team.
Nov. 9-Wrestling team.
Nov. 9-Debbie White and Ken Lanabowski.
Nov. 13-John Dotson, David Henry.
Nov. 21-22-Marching Band.

Scholarships given

Five Marshall University College of Business students, majoring in the marketing program's transportation option, were awarded scholarships totaling $1000, according to Dr. William F. Ashford, MU professor of marketing and transportation chairperson, who received the Midway Chapter 268, Delta Nu Alpha transportation fraternity, scholarship. Recipients included Brenda Fizer, Huntington junior, the Kanawha Valley Transportation Club; Scholarship; Angela Diane Smith, Parkenburg junior, the Ky-O-YA Traffic Club Scholarship; Kimberly Jones, Huntington senior, the Huntington Transportation Scholarship; and Pat Burdette, Russell, Ky., senior, the Marshall University Transportation Scholarship. (Photo by Rick Haye)