Vickers to chair Home Economics

Dr. Carole A. Vickers, Marshall University professor of home economics, has been appointed chairman of the Home Economics Department, effective at the end of the current semester, said Dr. Philip J. Rusche, MU College of Education dean.

"The present chairman, Dr. Grace Bennett, has expressed a desire to fully devote her energies to the department's dietetics program, which is her area of interest," Dr. Rusche said.

"Since joining the Marshall faculty in 1965 as depart­ment chairman, Dr. Bennett has worked diligently to keep the university's home economics program in step with the current demands in the field. Her efforts are greatly appreciated," the dean said.

"Dr. Vickers is fortunate to have in Dr. Vickers the leadership necessary to continue the program's growth," Rusche added.

MU Medical School receives earliest full, two-year accreditation

The Marshall University School of Medicine, which graduated its first class in May, has received full accreditation from the Liaison Committee on Medical Education (LCME), said Dr. Craig Monroe, MU associate professor of speech and tournament director, said.

"This is the earliest that the MU medical school was eligible for full accreditation. New schools normally become eligible when their first class is ready to graduate.

"The announcement was made jointly by MU President Robert B. Hayes and Dr. Robert W. Coon, dean of the college."

"This is a red letter day for the medical school," Dr. Hayes said. "The medical education accrediting organization's approval of our school is the result of great effort and support of everyone involved," the president said, praising Dr. Coon and his faculty for their efforts.

"We said at the beginning that we would settle for nothing less than a quality program and this is confirmation that we have such a program," he added.

"As is the case with any new school, the accreditation will be subjected to a two-year period during which the LCME will continue to observe our progress in developing programs," Dr. Coon said. "There is every reason to believe that our accreditation period will be increased then," he noted.

Seminars to set in conjunction with CSP's Business Fair

Julius Berry of Ashland Oil, James McDowell of Huntington Alloys and DelWayne Lyles, MU Minority Students' Program coordinator, will conduct three half-hour seminars starting at 2 p.m. Wednesday, March 4 in the Memorial Student Center Multi-Purpose Room.

"The seminars will be held in conjunction with the Career Services and Placement office's Business Fair. Areas of seminar discussion include the interview process, the resume, black women, tips for minorities seeking jobs, employment benefits, job longevity, proper attire and employment opportunities."

A Marshall University student has been selected to attend the National Women's Leadership Network Conference to be held in Washington, D.C.

Jeanette Rowsey, Huntington junior, was one of 150 participants selected from throughout the country, and one of 100 to represent the state of West Virginia. Her efforts are to learn to organize for sex equity in higher education.

Miss Rowsey is a student assistant in the MU Student Development Center at Barboursville High School. She is a member of student affairs, said. "This is a great honor for Miss Rowsey and for the university."
Honors convocation slated Tuesday

Honors students from 22 Tri-State Area high schools and academically outstanding Marshall University students have been invited to attend the annual MU Honors Convocation at 11 a.m. Tuesday, March 3, in Memorial Student Center Multi-Purpose Room. Dr. Karl Haas, host of National Public Radio’s “Adventures in Good Music,” will be the guest speaker, according to Dr. Michael J. Galgano, MU Honors Program director. Haas will discuss “The Arts in Our Time,” presenting a survey of 20th-century art and artistic trends.

The Honors Convocation is sponsored each year by Marshall to recognize superior students at the university and from the region’s high schools, Galgano said. The program is open to the public.

Marshall students to be honored include full-time students who achieved a 3.5 grade average or better during the first semester. Honors Seminar students, honors readers in various departments and recipients of special departmental awards.

Valium’s memory effects to be studied

MU Provost Olen E. Jones Jr. will bring the university’s greetings to those attending, according to Galgano, who will preside. Dr. Michael E. Cerveris, MU Institute for the Arts director, will introduce the speaker, who is conducting a “Musical Residency” at Marshall.

Haas’ appearances during Feb. 26-March 3 in Huntington were sponsored by the Institute, the Honors Program, the Marshall Artists Series, the West Virginia Humanities Foundation and West Virginia Public Radio. Information on events, all of which are open to the public, may be obtained by calling the Institute for the Arts, ext. 6615.

Non-credit Continuing Education courses listed

Continuing Education courses offered through the Community College of Marshall University this semester will get into full swing soon, according to Robert Lawson, director of Continuing Education for the Community College.

Forthcoming non-credit courses, along with times, locations, instructors and costs, are:

MONDAY
- “Flying Tying,” 7-9 p.m. March 2-20, Harris Hall 137, Byron Osborne, $40; “Executive, Body and Figure Control,” 5-6 p.m. March 16-18, Women’s Gym, Dr. Robert Case, $30

TUESDAY
- “Personal Survival Tactics,” 7-9 p.m. March 3-21, Harris Hall 137, Glenn Crouse, $40;
- “Wall Street Semi-Weekly,” 7-9 p.m. March 10-28, Corbly Hall 407, John Riley, $35

WEDNESDAY
- “Office Procedures” (a Certified Professional Secretary course), 6:30-9:30 p.m. March 4-25, Corbly Hall 336, Brenda Ford, $40;
- “Understanding Automobiles,” 7-9 p.m. March 18-May 6, Harris Hall 135, Dr. Allan Stern, $35

THURSDAY
- “Beginning Photography,” 7-9 p.m. March 5-23, Harris Hall 135, Wallace Cook, $40;
- “Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation,” 7-9 p.m. March 16-26, Red Cross Certification on Veterans Memorial Boulevard, Phyllis Curry, $6;
- “Chinese Cooking,” 7-9 p.m. March 5-23, Corbly Hall 103, Tina Batts, $35;
- “Microwave Cooking,” 7-9 p.m. March 5-23, Corbly Hall 270, Janet Yost, $40;
- “Ballroom and Disco Dancing,” 7-9 p.m. March 12-30, Wall Street Gym, Jack Austin, $35 for singles and $50 for couples;
- “Multi-Media Standard First Aid,” 7-9 p.m. April 2-23, Red Cross Building on Veterans Memorial Boulevard, Phyllis Curry, $57;
- “Update on Mainland China,” 7-9:30 p.m. April 2-May 21, Harris Hall 402, Dr. Ben Fuson, $35

SATURDAY
- “Environmental Relations in Business” (a Certified Professional Secretary course), 9 a.m. to noon March 5-29, Corbly Hall 106, Kathleen Gross, $40

Upward Bound program has four summer job openings

The Upward Bound program will have four full-time temporary positions open from June 17 through August 4.

One is a staff position, the minimum qualifications for which are a bachelor’s degree in a helping profession or vocational/career education.

The other three are teaching positions in mathematics, oral and written communication and science. Minimum qualifications are a bachelor’s degree in a helping profession or academic/technical area.

Upward Bound participants, who are usually junior and seniorDe\\\cell{s} from 31 elementary schools will

Friday&star

Seminar scheduled

A seminar on West Virginia women’s studies will be held April 3 and 4 in Jackson’s Mill.

Proposed seminar topics include “Women’s Studies, the NWSA (National Women’s Studies Association) and Me,” and “Women Incorporating Women’s Studies Into the Curriculum and Into Our Lives.”

Any faculty member wishing to attend should contact Dr. Janet Thorns, regional coordinator for the Upward Bound program at West Virginia State College in Institute, or Judith Stitziel, women’s studies coordinator at West Virginia University.

MU faculty and staff achievements, activities . . .

DR. ROLAND L. MADISON, associate professor of accounting, and WILLIAM J. RADIG, assistant professor of accounting and finance, have co-authored an article, “File on Fear Update: Realists Respond,” accepted for publication in The Accountant’s Magazine of London.

DAN O’HANLON, assistant professor of Legal Studies, has four summer job openings

Valium’s memory effects to be studied

Mu Provost Olen E. Jones Jr. will bring the university’s greetings to those attending, according to Galgano, who will preside. Dr. Michael E. Cerveris, MU Institute for the Arts director, will introduce the speaker, who is conducting a “Musical Residency” at Marshall.

Haas’ appearances during Feb. 26-March 3 in Huntington were sponsored by the Institute, the Honors Program, the Marshall Artists Series, the West Virginia Humanities Foundation and West Virginia Public Radio. Information on events, all of which are open to the public, may be obtained by calling the Institute for the Arts, ext. 6615.

Non-credit Continuing Education courses listed

Continuing Education courses offered through the Community College of Marshall University this semester will get into full swing soon, according to Robert Lawson, director of Continuing Education for the Community College.

Forthcoming non-credit courses, along with times, locations, instructors and costs, are:

MONDAY
- “Flying Tying,” 7-9 p.m. March 2-20, Harris Hall 137, Byron Osborne, $40;
- “Executive, Body and Figure Control,” 5-6 p.m. March 16-18, Women’s Gym, Dr. Robert Case, $30

TUESDAY
- “Personal Survival Tactics,” 7-9 p.m. March 3-21, Harris Hall 137, Glenn Crouse, $40;
- “Wall Street Semi-Weekly,” 7-9 p.m. March 10-28, Corbly Hall 407, John Riley, $35

WEDNESDAY
- “Office Procedures” (a Certified Professional Secretary course), 6:30-9:30 p.m. March 4-25, Corbly Hall 336, Brenda Ford, $40;
- “Understanding Automobiles,” 7-9 p.m. March 18-May 6, Harris Hall 135, Dr. Allan Stern, $35

THURSDAY
- “Beginning Photography,” 7-9 p.m. March 5-23, Harris Hall 135, Wallace Cook, $40;
- “Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation,” 7-9 p.m. March 16-26, Red Cross Certification on Veterans Memorial Boulevard, Phyllis Curry, $6;
- “Chinese Cooking,” 7-9 p.m. March 5-23, Corbly Hall 103, Tina Batts, $35;
- “Microwave Cooking,” 7-9 p.m. March 5-23, Corbly Hall 270, Janet Yost, $40;
- “Ballroom and Disco Dancing,” 7-9 p.m. March 12-30, Wall Street Gym, Jack Austin, $35 for singles and $50 for couples;
- “Multi-Media Standard First Aid,” 7-9 p.m. April 2-23, Red Cross Building on Veterans Memorial Boulevard, Phyllis Curry, $57;
- “Update on Mainland China,” 7-9:30 p.m. April 2-May 21, Harris Hall 402, Dr. Ben Fuson, $35

SATURDAY
- “Environmental Relations in Business” (a Certified Professional Secretary course), 9 a.m. to noon March 5-29, Corbly Hall 106, Kathleen Gross, $40

EASTER HOLIDAY
- Friday, April 17 (Good Friday) 7-4:30 p.m.
- Saturday, April 18 CLOSED
- Sunday, April 19 (Easter) CLOSED

Reserve Regular Schedule April 20 Monday through Thursday 7-4:30 a.m.-11 p.m.
* Friday* 7-4:30 a.m.-11 p.m.
* Saturday 9 a.m.-5 p.m.
* Sunday 1 p.m.-10 p.m.

* New schedule of extended hours on Friday begins March 20.