MU faculty and staff achievements, activities. . .

DR. ROBERT L. CASE, associate professor and Health, Physical Education and Recreation (HPER) Department chairman, and DR. C. ROBERT BARNETT, associate professor of HPER, attended the Midwest District Convention of the American Alliance of Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance (AAHPERD) in Chicago March 19-22. Case, president of the WVAHPERD, represented the state at the Representative Assembly. Barnett was elected chairperson of the International Relations Section and presented a paper to the research section on "The 1932 National Football League Indoor Championship Game."

DR. STEBBINS B. CHANDOR, professor and Pathology Department chairman, attended the American Society of Clinical Pathologists-College of American Pathologists (ASCP-CAP) in San Diego, Calif., March 13-19. Chandor was director for workshops on "Review Course in Clinical Immunology" and "Uses of Immunoperoxidase." He also was part of the workshop faculty for "Update in Autoimmunity" and in his role as Council on Immunopathology chairman attended a meeting of ASCP's Committee for Continuing Education.

DR. MICHAEL E. SEIDEL, associate professor, and N. BAYARD GREEN, professor emeritus, both of biological sciences, are the authors of "Evidence for the Occurrence of Cooter Turtles (subgenus Pseudemys) in the Upper Ohio River Valley" to be published in Herpetological Review.

DR. JABIR A. ABBAS, professor of political science, attended the Seventh Annual Conference of the Third World in Chicago March 25-28, sponsored by Governors State University. The conference theme was the dependence or interdependence between underdeveloped and developing countries. Abbas chaired a panel on "International Consequences of Dependent Development" and read a paper, "Egypt, Once the Granary of the Region, Now Dependent on Food Imports for Survival."

DR. ROBERT J. GREGORY, assistant professor of counseling and rehabilitation, co-authored "Kaca and Prohibition in Tanna, Vanuatu," to be published in the British Journal of Addiction. Co-authored with Janet E. Gregory and John G. Peck, the report summarizes a U.S. Public Health Service research project conducted in the South Pacific in 1976-77, when Gregory was an anthropology research associate at Duke University.

DR. ROBERT F. MADDOX, professor and History Department chairman, read "Practitioners of the Craft: Historians on the Job" March 28 at the Southwestern Social Science Association meeting in Dallas, Texas.

DR. MARTHA LEE BLANKENSHIP, professor of home economics, received an award as the outstanding home economist in college teaching at the West Virginia Home Economics Association state meeting held recently at Pipestem State Park.

DR. RICHARD O. COMFORT, professor of sociology/anthropology, will be among 19 West Virginia delegates to The White House Conference on Aging Nov. 30-Dec. 3 in Washington, D.C. The conference will recommend programs and emphases for the 1980s to the White House, Congress, governmental agencies and private groups to guide them in meeting the needs of the elderly. Comfort was a delegate to the state White House Conference on Aging at Jackson's Mill March 24-25, where he participated in a section dealing with mental, emotional and spiritual problems facing the elderly; and to the 31st annual Vocational Council on Aging in Nashville, Tenn., March 28-April 1.

LEO IMPERI, associate professor of music, was one of three guest soloists at the First United Presbyterian Church in Fairmont for a production of Haydn's "The Creation." It was presented by the church and the City of Fairmont Arts and Humanities Commission. Imperi sang bass-baritone, and former Huntingtonian Cyril Johnson sang tenor.

DR. DONALD TARTER, professor of biological sciences, is co-author of a paper, "The Occurrence of Myzobdella lugubris and Piscicola (Hirudinea: Piscicolidae) on Fishes from West Virginia," accepted for publication in Transactions of the American Microscopical Society. Co-authors are Joan Schramm and Curtis Hardman, biological sciences graduate students.

"As a new school, it is extremely important that some of our students demonstrate the quality of their education at medical training centers located elsewhere," Coon explained. "We believe this 50-50 split among the students provides a very healthy balance between this factor and our own state residency program needs," he added.

"It also is interesting to note that our graduates predominately selected primary care residency programs," the dean said.

Five will take graduate training in MU School of Medicine residency programs; one is going to the Charleston Area Medical Center, two will further their educations at West Virginia University Medical Center, and nine will go out of state.

Excused absences. . .

Absences have been excused by the respective deans for the following:
April 12-15 --Women's golf team.

Regents' 1981-'82 budget comparison given

As the Legislature prepares to reconvene on May 4, the budget picture for the Board of Regents' control account for colleges and universities (Account 279) for FY 81-82 looks like this:

Appropriation Item	Appropriated 1980-81	Board Requested 1981-82	Governor's Rec-ommendation	House Rec-ommendation	Senate Rec-ommendation
Personal Services	$ 96,451,291	$108,969,000	$105,780,223	$108,424,728	$108,073,291
Current Expenses	21,298,451	24,237,000	23,388,599	23,388,599	23,595,111
Repairs & Alterations	1,020,400	1,120,400	1,020,400	1,020,400	1,020,400
Equipment	3,900,034	4,200,000	4,000,000	4,000,000	4,000,000
Bureau for Coal Research	1,068,152	1,185,000	1,157,630	1,157,630	1,157,630
National Research for Coal & Energy	1,334,997	1,499,000	1,466,607	1,466,607	1,466,607
Transportation - PRT	1,189,949	1,481,000	1,952,979	1,189,949	1,952,979
Basic Skills Program	-0-	500,000	-0-	-0-	-0-
TOTALS	$126,263,274	$143,191,400	$138,766,438	$140,647,913	$141,266,018

When the Board meets on May 4-5, one topic of discussion will be salary and wage increase guidelines for FY 81-82. During the last couple of years the Board has sought broad input from faculty members on the guidelines question. In meetings with faculty groups on campuses, in discussions with faculty members during the presentations of institutional budget requests, and in joint sessions of the Board and its Advisory Council of Faculty, the so-called "split" scheme of distribution has been the most popular preference. It is not the unanimous choice, but clearly the most popular one.

For FY 80-81 as you know, the split was 6/2. According to the guidelines, all full time faculty were to receive an across-the-board increase of six percent with an additional average increase of at least two percent "for purposes of equalization, promotion, or other bona fide reasons consistent with institutional practices and procedures."

The Board's inclination is to develop guidelines for FY 81-82 similar to those that governed increases for the current fiscal year.

JOHN M. ZERNHELT, assistant football coach, Athletic Department; GLORIA L. JACKSON, typing clerk I, library Acquisitions; NANCY A. BIAS, secretary II, Academic Accounting; REBECCA L. ADAMS, police dispatcher, Security; JAMES L. McCARTY, equipment manager, Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

Welcome to Marshall!

Economist George Gilder to open season

An economic policy advisor to the Reagan administration, a Spanish dance company, a chamber orchestra and five film lectures will make up the 1981-82 season of the Marshall Artists Series Forum Division, according to MU Cultural Event Coordinator Nancy P. Hindsley.

Admission to forum events is limited to season membership holders, Mrs. Hindsley said. Memberships for next season are available now from the Artists Series Office, Memorial Student Center 2W38, at a cost of $24. Faculty and staff may purchase memberships for $12. Memberships may be reserved by calling the office at ext. 6656.

Economist George Gilder, author of the best-seller "Wealth and Poverty," will open the 1981-82 Forum season on September 22 with a discussion of "supply-side economics" based on his book.

On Oct. 12, Robin Williams will present a film lecture, "Florence and the Hill Towns," taking his audience to palaces, villages and towns where the Renaissance began.

The following places will be visited by film:

Appeal procedure, credit by exam discussed

The Academic Planning and Standards Committee met April 7 and approved or discussed the following items:

1. Several items that had been granted prior approval concerning the grade appeal process were omitted from the final documents. The sentences to be added are as follows:

In Step 3, add the following sentence at the end of the paragraph: "The Dean will attempt to bring it to a mutually satisfactory solution through mediation." In Step 5, add the following sentence: "Academic Planning and Standards Committee will inform the student and faculty person of the results of its committee decision."

2. The question of the membership of the review or hearing committee was discussed. A motion was approved to read:

WMUL-FM to air jazz festival

WMUL-FM Radio will broadcast the five best hours of the two-day Marshall University Jazz Festival from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m. Monday through Friday, April 27-May 1.

The shows have not been edited, so listeners may hear the improvisation which went on, according to Keith Spears, MU assistant professor of speech and WMUL-FM faculty manager. Producer was Brian Howard, Huntington sophomore.

The festival held in February, was coordinated by J.D. Folsom, MU assistant professor of music, and featured six guest artists.

Fulbright awards information available

The Graduate School Office has several copies of Fulbright Lecturing and Research Awards Abroad, 1982-83. Interested faculty are invited to pick up a copy to review these opportunities.

Paul D. Stewart
Dean, Graduate School

The Smokey Mountain region of North Carolina and Tennessee with Richard C. Kern, Nov. 2; Yugoslavia with Frank Klicar, Jan. 25; Vienna with Andre de la Varré, March 4; Paris and other French cities along the Seine with Kathleen Dusek, April 1.

"Ole," featuring Pascual Olivera and Angela del Moral—considered among the best exponents today of Spanish dancing—and their company of singers and musicians, will be presented on April 7.

Closing the season on April 27 will be one of Europe's most distinguished musical ensembles, Mainz Chamber Orchestra. The group's conductor, Gunter Kehr, is acknowledged by critics as one of the world's leading authorities on chamber music. Appearing with the ensemble will be the young American pianist Nina Tichman, who won Italy's Busoni Prize and Berlin's Mendelssohn Prize.

All forum events will take place at 8 p.m. on the Marshall campus.

No member of the APSC directly involved in a grade appeal may serve on this committee.

3. The topic of credit by examination was addressed by the committee. The issues discussed were: (1) standardization of policy and terms, (2) scheduling or registration, (3) grade reporting procedures, and (4) fees. The discussion will continue at the April 30 meeting.

Any questions or comments concerning the above can be made to Giovanna Morton, chairperson, or Sarah N. Denman, secretary.

Bishop Hodges to dedicate Newman Center Sunday

The Most Reverend Joseph H. Hodges, bishop of the Catholic Wheeling-Catholic diocese, will officiate at the formal dedication and blessing of the new Marshall Catholic Newman Center at 7 p.m. Sunday, April 26. Local clergy and university personnel also will participate.

After the ceremonies, Bishop Hodges will celebrate Mass, during which several children of faculty and staff members and some MU students will receive the sacrament of Confirmation. Several priests of the Huntington deanery will concelebrate Mass with the bishop.

The Rev. Mark V. Angelo is chaplain of the Newman Center at 1609 Fifth Ave., and Sister Constance Bahl is the associate chaplain.

Ceremonies will conclude with a reception. The public is invited to attend.

Emeritus baby pictures sought

Any Emeritus Club member who has not yet turned in a baby picture of themselves may send it to Bernice Dorsey, 1301 Neel St., Huntington, or give it to her at the Commencement Luncheon on May 9.

Pictures should be identified on the back.

The pictures will be the program for the May 20 meeting at 12:15 p.m. in the UpTowner Inn, when members will guess which infant is who.

Parents of 12 named Honorary Alumni

Monroe County, W.Va., residents are the first couple to be named "Honorary Alumni" by the Marshall University Alumni Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Gilbert Upton, Sr., of Ballard will be honored Saturday, April 25, at the 44th annual Alumni Awards Banquet.

The Uptons are parents of 12 children, nine of whom graduated from or are working for degrees at Marshall University. The other three children graduated from other colleges and universities.

Mr. Upton, a farmer and carpenter who never completed high school, vowed his children would have a better life.

"We all must use our hands and there is nothing to be ashamed about in that," Mr. Upton said. "But . . . it just makes life sweeter if we also can use our brains."

Mrs. Upton is a graduate of Hinton High School and taught school in Summers County for six years after earning a teaching certificate through studies at Beckley and Concord colleges.

The Upton children who have received one or more degrees from Marshall or have attended are:

Jack Upton Jr. of Prince Frederick, Md.; Don Upton of Union, W.Va.; Paul D. Upton of Lutherville, Md.; Mary Louise

Kilkenny and David Upton, both of Huntington; Calvin Dean Upton and Sue Kirby of Ballard; Ted A. Upton of Lancaster, Ohio, and Terry J. Upton of Hinton, W. Va.

The three Upton children who graduated from other colleges and universities are Elizabeth Miller of Oakton, Va.; Margaret Jordan of Herndon, Va., and Alice Harris of Keystone Heights, Fla.

Faculty suggestions sought on pay increase system

With, say, 10 percent (to keep the arithmetic simple) new personal services money, any number of "splits" would be possible, examples being 6/4, 7/3, 7½/2½, 8/2, and so on.

The Board can be expected to act swiftly once the 1981-82 budget has received the Governor's signature. Meanwhile, your suggestions on the guidelines, expressed via memo or call, will be greatly appreciated.

Redlich Dance Company to perform

The Don Redlich Dance Company will perform at 8 p.m. Thursday, April 30, in Old Main Auditorium as part of the Marshall Artists Series' Student Series.

Tickets for the general public are available from the Artists Series Office, located in Memorial Student Center 2W38, and may be obtained in advance by calling the office at (304) 696-6656. Tickets will be $4 each for adults and $2 each for youth age 17 and under.

In conjunction with the performance, the dance company will offer master classes and lecture demonstrations on Wednesday and Thursday.

On Wednesday, April 29, from 1:30 to 3 p.m., there will be a beginning technique class, followed at 3:30 p.m. by intermediate technique session. Classes on Thursday, April 30, include intermediate technique and improvisation from 10 to 11:30 a.m. and improvisation and composition from 1:30 to 3 p.m.

Information on the dance residency program may be obtained by calling Dr. Mary Marshall, MU associate professor of health, physical education and recreation, at (304) 696-3186.

The residency program and performance by the Don Redlich Dance Company have been made possible in part by a grant from the Arts and Humanities Division of the West Virginia Department of Culture and History.

Footnotes to the News Letter

Free films are scheduled Friday, April 24, and Sunday, April 26, sponsored by the Cinema Arts Society of the Student Activities Office.

Friday's film begins at 8 p.m. on Central Intramural Field and is "Every Which Way But Loose." Sunday's films, in the Science Hall Auditorium, are "Seven Samurai" at 4 p.m. and "Every Man for Himself in God Against All" at 7 p.m.

Bruce Smith, benefits counselor for TIAA-CREF, will be available to discuss trends in the plan and to answer questions from all university employees at 2 p.m. May 1 in Old Main Auditorium.

All seniors and graduate students graduating in May or August will be honored at a reception at 3 p.m. Wednesday, April 29, in the Memorial Student Center Alumni Lounge. The reception is sponsored by the Minority Students Program and everyone is welcome.
