8-30-2016

The Parthenon, August 30, 2016

Lexi Browning
Parthenon@marshall.edu

Follow this and additional works at: http://mds.marshall.edu/parthenon

Recommended Citation
http://mds.marshall.edu/parthenon/619

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the University Archives at Marshall Digital Scholar. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Parthenon by an authorized administrator of Marshall Digital Scholar. For more information, please contact zhangj@marshall.edu, martjj@marshall.edu.
RUN WITH THE HERD

NEWS, 2
> WV AG SPOKESWOMAN FIRED
> Y12SR DEBUTS
> FEST PREVIEW

OPINION, 4
> BROCK TURNER

SPORTS, 6
> HERD FOOTBALL BYE-WEEK
> GOLF WELCOMES COACH BELLOMY

LIFE!, 3
> BLOND(E) IN REVIEW

Marshall University students ride FREE when they show their MU I.D.

Taking the bus and want to see when it will arrive at your stop? Download the RouteShout app now so you can plan your trips on all the popular bus routes Tri-State Transit Authority offers.

How does it work? Download the RouteShout app from Apple iTunes or Google Play. • Select Tri-State Transit Authority • Find your Stop • Get your arrival times

With RouteShout, you can now sneak in a coffee or a few extra minutes of time before hopping on the bus.

If you think you might qualify to be certified as a TTA Dial-A-Rider, Call 304-529-7700.
By CHRISTIAN DAVIS

The Parthenon

Attorney General Curtis T. Ryan is no longer a member of the West Virginia attorney general’s office, according to a statement released by the Attorney General’s Office.

Huntington’s student body will have another place to visit this fall.

The new venue, Tabor said, will offer different selections of seating.

The lineup also includes five current Marshall students, and $20 with a valid student ID.

The Green Machine: Marshall’s Bus System

By KATIE CAMACHO

The Green Machine: Marshall’s Bus System

The Green Machine

The Green Machine is the new Marshall University Police Department initiative to increase awareness of a bike theft issue that has been occurring in the city of Huntington, specifically on campus over the last few semesters.

The Green Machine is implemented at the Tri-State Transportation Authority's Visual Arts Center and Pullman Square.

Students are encouraged to contact the program to combat addiction in some way. Be it the depression, anxiety, or the use of substances, so yoga gives them a tool to deal with the issue in their bodies, Phillips said. “I think the way that it addresses the mental problem is for every white country and every black country and every brown country to understand it. It’s an important tool for everyone.”

Students should ride a bike with a thick, curved bar, and don’t buy a specific u-lock, because if it can’t effectively secure your bike, then it’s not worth the money.

Students will be able to purchase passes for $20 with a valid student ID. The passes can be purchased on Marshall’s campus at 6th Ave. in Huntington.

Students can contact the program by emailing camacho5@m.shal.edu.

Bike theft becoming a growing issue in Huntington

By JORDAN NELSON

Marshall University Police Department is seeing an increase in the number of bike thefts that have been occurring in the city of Huntington, specifically on campus over the last few semesters.

“Bikes and students should buy a specific lock, because they are much stronger than any other regular chain from your house,” Terry said.

By NANCY PEYTON

News Editor

Marshall University mental health specialists are starting a yoga-inspired recovery program to combat addiction recovery in the Huntington community.

Y12SR will begin at 5:15 p.m., Sept. 1, and continue every Thursday until Nov. 17. The program will take place in the Campus Center Compass but Phillips emphasized that the program is not religiously affiliated.

Students and residents are open to the public and will operate by donation. Phillips said this program is not religiously affiliated.

The Green Machine: Marshall’s Bus System

By NANCY PEYTON

News Editor

Marshall University mental health specialists are starting a yoga-inspired recovery program to combat addiction recovery in the Huntington community.

Y12SR will begin at 5:15 p.m., Sept. 1, and continue every Thursday until Nov. 17. The program will take place in the Campus Center Compass but Phillips emphasized that the program is not religiously affiliated.

Students and residents are open to the public and will operate by donation. Phillips said this program is not religiously affiliated.

The Green Machine: Marshall’s Bus System

By NANCY PEYTON

News Editor

Marshall University mental health specialists are starting a yoga-inspired recovery program to combat addiction recovery in the Huntington community.

Y12SR will begin at 5:15 p.m., Sept. 1, and continue every Thursday until Nov. 17. The program will take place in the Campus Center Compass but Phillips emphasized that the program is not religiously affiliated.

Students and residents are open to the public and will operate by donation. Phillips said this program is not religiously affiliated.

The Green Machine: Marshall’s Bus System

By NANCY PEYTON

News Editor

Marshall University mental health specialists are starting a yoga-inspired recovery program to combat addiction recovery in the Huntington community.

Y12SR will begin at 5:15 p.m., Sept. 1, and continue every Thursday until Nov. 17. The program will take place in the Campus Center Compass but Phillips emphasized that the program is not religiously affiliated.

Students and residents are open to the public and will operate by donation. Phillips said this program is not religiously affiliated.

The Green Machine: Marshall’s Bus System

By NANCY PEYTON

News Editor

Marshall University mental health specialists are starting a yoga-inspired recovery program to combat addiction recovery in the Huntington community.

Y12SR will begin at 5:15 p.m., Sept. 1, and continue every Thursday until Nov. 17. The program will take place in the Campus Center Compass but Phillips emphasized that the program is not religiously affiliated.

Students and residents are open to the public and will operate by donation. Phillips said this program is not religiously affiliated.

The Green Machine: Marshall’s Bus System

By NANCY PEYTON

News Editor

Marshall University mental health specialists are starting a yoga-inspired recovery program to combat addiction recovery in the Huntington community.

Y12SR will begin at 5:15 p.m., Sept. 1, and continue every Thursday until Nov. 17. The program will take place in the Campus Center Compass but Phillips emphasized that the program is not religiously affiliated.

Students and residents are open to the public and will operate by donation. Phillips said this program is not religiously affiliated.

The Green Machine: Marshall’s Bus System

By NANCY PEYTON

News Editor

Marshall University mental health specialists are starting a yoga-inspired recovery program to combat addiction recovery in the Huntington community.

Y12SR will begin at 5:15 p.m., Sept. 1, and continue every Thursday until Nov. 17. The program will take place in the Campus Center Compass but Phillips emphasized that the program is not religiously affiliated.

Students and residents are open to the public and will operate by donation. Phillips said this program is not religiously affiliated.

The Green Machine: Marshall’s Bus System

By NANCY PEYTON

News Editor

Marshall University mental health specialists are starting a yoga-inspired recovery program to combat addiction recovery in the Huntington community.

Y12SR will begin at 5:15 p.m., Sept. 1, and continue every Thursday until Nov. 17. The program will take place in the Campus Center Compass but Phillips emphasized that the program is not religiously affiliated.

Students and residents are open to the public and will operate by donation. Phillips said this program is not religiously affiliated.

The Green Machine: Marshall’s Bus System

By NANCY PEYTON

News Editor

Marshall University mental health specialists are starting a yoga-inspired recovery program to combat addiction recovery in the Huntington community.

Y12SR will begin at 5:15 p.m., Sept. 1, and continue every Thursday until Nov. 17. The program will take place in the Campus Center Compass but Phillips emphasized that the program is not religiously affiliated.

Students and residents are open to the public and will operate by donation. Phillips said this program is not religiously affiliated.

The Green Machine: Marshall’s Bus System

By NANCY PEYTON

News Editor

Marshall University mental health specialists are starting a yoga-inspired recovery program to combat addiction recovery in the Huntington community.

Y12SR will begin at 5:15 p.m., Sept. 1, and continue every Thursday until Nov. 17. The program will take place in the Campus Center Compass but Phillips emphasized that the program is not religiously affiliated.

Students and residents are open to the public and will operate by donation. Phillips said this program is not religiously affiliated.

The Green Machine: Marshall’s Bus System

By NANCY PEYTON

News Editor

Marshall University mental health specialists are starting a yoga-inspired recovery program to combat addiction recovery in the Huntington community.

Y12SR will begin at 5:15 p.m., Sept. 1, and continue every Thursday until Nov. 17. The program will take place in the Campus Center Compass but Phillips emphasized that the program is not religiously affiliated.

Students and residents are open to the public and will operate by donation. Phillips said this program is not religiously affiliated.

The Green Machine: Marshall’s Bus System

By NANCY PEYTON

News Editor

Marshall University mental health specialists are starting a yoga-inspired recovery program to combat addiction recovery in the Huntington community.

Y12SR will begin at 5:15 p.m., Sept. 1, and continue every Thursday until Nov. 17. The program will take place in the Campus Center Compass but Phillips emphasized that the program is not religiously affiliated.

Students and residents are open to the public and will operate by donation. Phillips said this program is not religiously affiliated.

The Green Machine: Marshall’s Bus System

By NANCY PEYTON

News Editor

Marshall University mental health specialists are starting a yoga-inspired recovery program to combat addiction recovery in the Huntington community.

Y12SR will begin at 5:15 p.m., Sept. 1, and continue every Thursday until Nov. 17. The program will take place in the Campus Center Compass but Phillips emphasized that the program is not religiously affiliated.

Students and residents are open to the public and will operate by donation. Phillips said this program is not religiously affiliated.

The Green Machine: Marshall’s Bus System

By NANCY PEYTON

News Editor

Marshall University mental health specialists are starting a yoga-inspired recovery program to combat addiction recovery in the Huntington community.

Y12SR will begin at 5:15 p.m., Sept. 1, and continue every Thursday until Nov. 17. The program will take place in the Campus Center Compass but Phillips emphasized that the program is not religiously affiliated.

Students and residents are open to the public and will operate by donation. Phillips said this program is not religiously affiliated.

The Green Machine: Marshall’s Bus System

By NANCY PEYTON

News Editor

Marshall University mental health specialists are starting a yoga-inspired recovery program to combat addiction recovery in the Huntington community.

Y12SR will begin at 5:15 p.m., Sept. 1, and continue every Thursday until Nov. 17. The program will take place in the Campus Center Compass but Phillips emphasized that the program is not religiously affiliated.

Students and residents are open to the public and will operate by donation. Phillips said this program is not religiously affiliated.
Bellomy a swing in the right direction

By ALEXIS LEACH

This summer, the Marshall University Athletic Department hired Cabell County native, Brooke Bellomy, as the Interim Head Coach for Women’s Golf.

Bellomy, a graduate from Cabell Midland High School and Campbell University, said she is excited with her new role as head coach.

Bellomy returns to the women’s golf team after being a volunteer assistant coach last year.

When asked about her new role, Bellomy said although she was nervous, she was excited for the season ahead.

“Being involved with how the girls played for the qualifiers,” Bellomy said. “The coaches told that the girls had been working hard of the summer it showed.”

Excitement was not only found with the head coach, but also with her players.

Sophomore Leigha Holt said she was excited for Bellomy to be her new coach.

“She’s very positive and motivates us every day. Even though we’ve only had a few practices so far, she has given us everything positive,” Holt said.

The excitement is earned after the team came off of a seventh place finish at last year’s Conference USA Championship, the best finish in 11 seasons.

Bellomy graduated a little over two years ago. A factor some may see as a weakness, but a strength in the eyes of Bellomy and her players.

“She knows what we are dealing with first hand, she has been in college and understands what we are going through,” Holt said.

Bellomy had similar thoughts, stating, “I am still fresh, I know everything they are and will go through.”

The two-year standout for Campbell has felt the competition of playing in college and knows that it is a job in itself and continues to motivate the girls.

Bellomy said, “my whole family grew up Marshall fans and my dad kept me updated while I was at Campbell.”

Bellomy added as a sophomore she once told her dad it would be great to be able to coach one day. She had no idea that day would come so soon.

In July, as she accepted the position as the interim head coach, she took on a responsibility of a very young team.

This year’s team is comprised of one freshman, three sophomores, one junior and one senior. Bellomy stated the need of the team to “come back strong.”

Marshall women’s golf opened the fall portion of its schedule with a win Monday in the Thundering Herd Kick-off at Guyan Country Club against Eastern Kentucky and Northern Kentucky.

The Thundering Herd hosts the next event in Batavia, Ohio for David’s Bridal Classic on Sept. 12-13.

Alexis Leach can be contacted at leach34@marshall.edu.
Many people will never for- get the same Brock Turner. To some he is a victim, known as a Stanford Uni- versity student, but to other people, Turner is known as a rapist who preyed on an un- conscious woman behind a dumpster and got a slap on the wrist as punishment. Turner’s maximum sen- tence was 9 months in jail, but he got six months in jail. With good behavior, Turner can get out in three months. Keep in mind Turner was convicted of raping an un- conscious woman. Turner was also banned for life from USA Swimming, including no Olympic trials, and was ex- pelled from Stanford. Stanford has since banned hard liquor at under- graduate events on campus. Students can have wine and beer but “sell” no longer be permitted to have hard al- cohol that has less than 20 percent alcohol by volume or 40 proof.” CNN states that the new policy also limits the size of the bottles of hard liquor they’re allowed to keep in their dorms or common areas to under 750 milliliters. Both the victim and Turner were drinking the night of the affair. A few months after Turner was convicted, Stan- ford implemented this new rule.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 30, 2016 MARSHALLPARTHENON.COM

The Parthenon
The Parthenon, Marshall University's student newspaper, is published by students Monday through Friday during the regular semester and Thursday during the summer. The editorial staff is responsible for news and editorial content.

The Parthenon staff.

Please keep letters to the editors at parthe- non@marshall.edu. Letters that are posted on The Parthenon website, www.marshallparthenon.com, can be printed at the discretion of the editors.

The opinions expressed in the columns and letters do not necessarily rep- resent the views of The Parthenon staff. Please send news releases to the editors at parthe- non@marshall.edu. Please keep in mind, letters may be edited for grammar, spelling, punctuation, unneeded space or factual errors. Compelling examples of this include.

The First Amendment of the United States of America

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people to peaceably assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.

The Parthenon, Marshall University's student newspaper, is published by students Monday through Friday during the regular semester and Thursday during the summer. The editorial staff is responsible for news and editorial content.

The Parthenon, Marshall University's student newspaper, is published by students Monday through Friday during the regular semester and Thursday during the summer. The editorial staff is responsible for news and editorial content.

The Parthenon, Marshall University's student newspaper, is published by students Monday through Friday during the regular semester and Thursday during the summer. The editorial staff is responsible for news and editorial content.

The Parthenon, Marshall University's student newspaper, is published by students Monday through Friday during the regular semester and Thursday during the summer. The editorial staff is responsible for news and editorial content.

The Parthenon, Marshall University's student newspaper, is published by students Monday through Friday during the regular semester and Thursday during the summer. The editorial staff is responsible for news and editorial content.

The Parthenon, Marshall University's student newspaper, is published by students Monday through Friday during the regular semester and Thursday during the summer. The editorial staff is responsible for news and editorial content.
A Message from President Gilbert

Dear Marshall University student:

Welcome to the fall 2016 semester at Marshall. Having gone through my first summer in Huntington, I am very anxious and excited to see the beginning of the new school year at Marshall. I hope that you are likewise excited and ready for the fall semester.

During the summer, we hired a new vice president for student affairs at Marshall. His name is Cedric Gathings, and I am confident that he is going to bring a new perspective and a new energy to Student Affairs. Vice President Gathings, Provost Gayle Emerman, and I are committed to furthering a campus environment that is conducive to the intellectual, social, professional, and ethical development of our students.

As you come back to campus this fall, we are developing some campus activities that will give you a chance to react to some of the national issues that have occurred over the summer. As stated in the Marshall Creed, we are committed to defending individual rights and exercising civic responsibility. It is furthermore understood that the tension in our political system, the national and international armed violence, and the constant feeding of alarming information in the news and social media has created an atmosphere of tension in the minds of many people. By giving you a chance to attend forums, public discussions, and other events on campus, we hope to assure you that Marshall University will be a voice for respect and civil discourse.

In closing let me say that we are proud that Marshall is an educational community, an open community, a community, a responsible community, a safe community, a community, an ethical community, a pluralistic community, a socially conscious community, and a judicious community. As President, I will work hard to make sure that we are true to these declarations in the Marshall Creed and that we continue to embrace our students as part of the Marshall family.

Best wishes for a successful fall semester,

Jerome A. Gilbert
President, Marshall University
Frank Ocean’s Blond(e) - An Informal Album Review

BY WILL IZZO

Frank Ocean’s last public release was his well celebrated album “Channel Orange” in 2012. Ever since that release, fans have kept tabs wanting more music. Two years after that, fans waited online, but fans were left empty handed. “Blonde” was finally released on August 20. The 17-track album has fans raving, but some still wonder was “Blonde” worth the wait?

This review comes straight from the music critics point of view. "Blonde" was finally released on August 20, 2016. Will Izzo can be contacted at izzo@marshall.edu

The Fun Center
Serving Hungry Herd Fans Since 1961!

Gino’s Original Sandwiches!
Large Pure Beef Steak Sandwich
Large Flaked Ham Sandwich
1/2 Philly Steak Hoagie
Large Hot Ham & Cheese Sandwich
Large Italian Sub
Calzone
Pepperoni Bites
Buffalo Style, Breaded or Boneless
Variety of sauces: mild, medium, hot, garlic, parmesan
Chicken Wings
Made like pizza on a pepperidge farm bun with cheese

We Deliver Our Full Menu
Lunch, Dinner or Snack Time to Marshall University!
PIZZAS • PASTAS • SANDWICHES • PIZZA BREADS • HOAGIES • CHIPS & DRINKS

THE PUB
For Lunch, Dinner or Snack Time to Marshall University!

THE PUB
For Lunch, Dinner or Snack Time to Marshall University!

THE PUB
For Lunch, Dinner or Snack Time to Marshall University!

THE PUB
For Lunch, Dinner or Snack Time to Marshall University!

THE PUB
For Lunch, Dinner or Snack Time to Marshall University!

THE PUB
For Lunch, Dinner or Snack Time to Marshall University!

THE PUB
For Lunch, Dinner or Snack Time to Marshall University!

THE PUB
For Lunch, Dinner or Snack Time to Marshall University!

THE PUB
For Lunch, Dinner or Snack Time to Marshall University!

THE PUB
For Lunch, Dinner or Snack Time to Marshall University!