GRADUATE COMMITTEE
Recommendation

SR-91-92-32(GR)

Change the Graduate catalog description of "General Requirements for Master's Degree" (page 43),

FROM: A student whose program requires a thesis must earn 32 hours of credit in graduate courses. Of these 32 hours, credit not to exceed 6 hours may be granted for the thesis. If a thesis is not required, the student must complete a minimum of 36 hours of graduate course work.

TO: In programs requiring a thesis, a student must earn a minimum of 32 hours credit in graduate courses. A department can require more than 32 hours including thesis. Of these hours, credit not to exceed 6 hours may be granted for the thesis. If a thesis is not required, the student must complete a minimum of 36 hours of graduate course work.

RATIONALE: This catalog change reflects the fact that departments may impose more rigorous requirements than those developed by the graduate school as minimum standards. Some programs require additional hours as part of the requirements.
