FACULTY PERSONNEL COMMITTEE
Recommendation

SR-91-92-100 (FPC)

That the following "Faculty Off-Campus Teaching Policy" be approved:

FACULTY OFF-CAMPUS TEACHING POLICY

The place at which a Marshall University faculty member normally works is defined as the "usual place of work." Any time a faculty member is required to travel to a place other than the usual place of work, a mileage reimbursement will be made according to the presently existing rate. If the faculty member should have to travel at normal meal times, a meal allowance shall be given, based upon presently existing rates.

Persons taking such off-campus work assignments shall receive additional compensation. The rate is to be determined by the individual colleges involved.

Such off-campus work assignments are understood to be on a voluntary basis; no faculty member is to be penalized in any way for refusal to participate. Assuming the level of additional compensation will produce volunteers, these assignments shall be rotated among the departmental faculty involved, using a system determined by the faculty involved. Any such rotation schedule will necessarily recognize the specific expertise required for the task and the specific expertise of the pool of faculty members available.
