CONTENT AND SCOPE OF THE COLLECTION

This collection consists primarily of the diaries of Samuel Roy Jenkins, written from 1887 until 1941. The early diaries, written between 1887 and 1898, deal with his life as a student at Grafton High School and West Virginia University, and later as a civil engineer in Grafton, West Virginia. The middle group of diaries cover the years from 1906 until 1925; Mr. Jenkins' floral business in Grafton and his increasing financial difficulties are the subjects of many of these entries. In the last group of diaries, written between 1930 and 1941, the entries discuss Mr. Jenkins' return to the engineering profession as an employee of the Federal Emergency Relief Administration and the city of Grafton.

All of the diaries contain entries which demonstrate Mr. Jenkins' continue interest in national and local political affairs, sports, and entertainment, especially music and drama. The early diaries contain many entries dealing with his great interest in reading and hunting; many of the later entries concern engineering projects taking place in the town of Grafton in 1898 and later, during the Depression.

The major gaps in this collection of diaries are from 1893 until August, 1897, and from February, 1898 until 1906. Other large gaps take place between 1926 and 1930, and between 1931 and 1934.

Included in the collection are letters, bills, newsclippings, and programs which are found in the diaries.

SAMUEL ROY JENKINS, 1870-1942?

Samuel Roy Jenkins was born on March 17, 1870, in Grafton, West Virginia. He was educated in Grafton public school's and graduated with a bachelor of science in civil engineering from West Virginia University in 1894. After graduation, he was engaged in an engineering partnership with Clement Ross Jones, who was to become dean of the College of Engineering at West Virginia University.

Sam Jenkins lived in Grafton from 1906 until his death. He worked first with his sister and brother-in-law, Mary and Henry Moore Leps, in the family floral business and on two farming ventures. Later, after the death of his sister in 1920, he encountered financial difficulties, and finally, in 1930, he returned to the engineering profession as City Engineer for the city of Grafton, a position which he presumably held until his death.

He was active in local political affairs, working through the years as a precinct worker or registrar at various elections. He was also a member of the Farmer's Bureau, the Business Men's Association, the Rifle Club, Rotary International, the Chamber of Commerce, the West Virginia Society of Professional Engineers, and the Knights of Pythias.

No specific date of death has been found; evidence places it at 1942 or 1943.

Bk 18 1906

February 24. Outside temperature 28 to 65 ; inside 55 .

Watered the house, took some violets out of bed and set out on the hill; did some potting. Took some flowers to the train, went to the bank and did some marketing after dinner. After supper, went over the river with Mary to carry some flowers to the Campbell's. Miss Kuh finished her week's sewing.

April 3. Clear and bright; 30 to 60 ; inside 55 .

Cut and sold first lettuce to stores, twenty-five pounds. Wheeled twenty-five barrows of manure from Hieronimus stables to the shop cellar. Earl covered a section of mushrooms with sod.

November 16. 34 - 50 ; sun cam out about 11 A.M.; P.M. bright and clear.

Watered everything; put new leather washer on main piston; went to freight depot and found Montgomery and Ward order. Disconnected piping from sterilizers and took all fittings apart and put them away. Mary counted up her sales; they totaled 231 dollars since November 1.

Bk 19 1907

January 15. 40 - 50 ; rain.

Set out some more lettuce in lower bed. Cut fifteen pounds lettuce (three dollars) for Walters and brought it down home to cellar...Finished reading "Quentin Durward". Read it to see how it agreed with "If I Were King" in its account of Louis XI. The style is smoother and action slower than the latter.

June 29. 62 - 88 ; rain early this A.M. and several showers during the day.
Picked twenty-six pounds of tomatoes this P.M. Spent nearly all day yesterday looking up records, packing Hughes' instruments which he asked me to ship him...
Boy worked all day weeding.
Henry and I went up after supper and being weather-bound by a heavy shower of rain we tried the experiment of running engine in kerosine and found it to work perfectly satisfactorily.

September 16.. 64 - 98 . Fair all day.
Worked at greenhouse till 12:30 taking buds and tying up. After dinner we all went to Buffalo Bill's show. Henry took father in hack. May King, Lucy Newhaus, Mary and I were together. The show of course was nother near as large or complete as when Mary and I saw it in Chicago in 1892. Came back and went up on hill and fumigated. Henry and I went up at 10:30 and opened the house up so the plants would dry off.

Bk 20 1908

February 15. 38 - 42 - 30 ; snow and rain.

and got dragged into meeting of Business Men's Association and spent whole morning.

Went back after dinner and spent afternoon getting prices on material. Went up on hill at 5 o'clock and worked in garden till 7:30 trimming tomatoes. Ordered cowpeas shipped from H____bg to Chas. and Inoculation from Baltimore.

December 25. 30 - 40 . Gloomy all day a little snow.

We got the Christmas weather pot plants and cut flowers off with less confusion than usual. Smaller business but nearly all cash. Went over to Mary Moran's for dinner and a cracking good too.

Henry's Xmas present was an announcement of his promotion to Lieutenant junior grade before he had applied even for an examination.

Bk 27 1918

January 21. -8 - 22 - -2 . Fair.

The first of a long list of Mondays which are to be business holidays to save fuel. The town looked absolutely dead when I went down street today and yet nearly all groceries were doing business, I believe. There was a lot more noise, life and movement on back and side streets where youngsters were coasting.

April 11. 32 . Snow and lots of it.

Jinks Mason brought me a load of horse manure and I wheeled enough in to finish No. 4 from lettuce up.

Spaded up some more of No. 4 and Smith set out some tomatoes and potted some.

Tied up some peas. Smoked tonight. The news from Flanders is not very reassuring. The Germans are still gaining slowly in spots.

October 9. Soldiers bodies going through from camps on every train--dying from pneumonia following Influenza.

Chas. Has it bad has two doctors.

December 9. 50 - 55 . Rain. Very dark.

Did not get up till after 10 o'clock. Had breakfast so late I did not go to Business Men's Luncheon.
