BOB HULL, SPORTS EDITOR

MARSHALL'S BIG GREEN BASKETBALL TEAM WILL BE TRYING TO GET BACK IN THE WIN COLUMN SATURDAY NIGHT AT 8:00 IN THE HUNTINGTON MEMORIAL FIELD HOUSE, WHEN THEY TAKE ON THE GOLDEN EAGLES OF MORRIS HARVEY COLLEGE.

THE HENDERSON MEN HAVE NOW LOST TWO IN A ROW IN MID-AMERICAN CONFERENCE PLAY. THE MARSHALL BASKETBALLERS WERE BEATEN BY KENT STATE UNIVERSITY AND WESTERN MICHIGAN, BOTH ON THE ROAD IN WHAT COULD BE CALLED UPSETS.

COACH EDDIE KING OF MORRIS HARVEY WOULD LIKE NOTHING BETTER THAN TO KNOCK OFF THE BIG GREEN AND GET REVENGE FOR THE TWO SETBACKS THAT MARSHALL HANDED THE GOLDEN EAGLES LAST YEAR 86-80, 101-92. ON THE OTHER HAND FOR MARSHALL IT IS ONE OF ITS BIGGEST NON-CONFERENCE BATTLES.

TWO BOYS WHO LIVE IN THE SHADOWS OF MORRIS HARVEY, GENE PRICE AND PAUL UNDERWOOD FROM SOUTH CHARLESTON COULD WELL BE THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THE GREEN AND THE EAGLES. PRICE IS LEADING THE MARSHALL SCORING OFFENSE WITH AN AVERAGE OF 24.3 AND UNDERWOOD IS FOURTH IN TEAM SCORING WITH 16.8 PER GAME. CHARLESTON FANS ARE EXPECTED TO FOLLOW THE MORRIS HARVEY TEAM TO HUNTINGTON TO SEE THEIR TWO LOCAL BOYS IN ACTION AGAINST THEIR HOMETOWN COLLEGE.

THE OTHER STOPPING BLOCK IN FRONT OF COACH ED KING'S MEN WILL BE 6-5 CHARLIE SLACK. CHARLIE SET HIS SEASON'S HIGH FOR REBOUNDS LAST YEAR BY PULLING 43 BALLS FROM THE BACKBOARDS IN THE FIRST MEETING BETWEEN THE HUNTINGTON AND CHARLESTON SCHOOLS. NOT ONLY WILL THE GOLDEN EAGLES HAVE TO STOP SLACK IN THE REBOUND DEPARTMENT BUT IN THE SCORING AS WELL, BECAUSE SLACK IS NOW SECOND IN TEAM WITH AN AVERAGE OF 19 POINTS PER GAME. IN MARSHALL'S LAST GAME, AG INST WESTERN MICHIGAN, THE NATION'S NUMBER ONE REBOUND MAN HIT FOR 27 POINTS TO LEAD MARSHALL SCORING IN A LOSING EFFORT. -30-

Company Of 100 Presents Ballet Program Tonight

Two traditional ballets and one new production will be seen when the London Festival Ballet appears tonight at 8:45 P. M. at the Keith-Albee Theater as a Marshall College Artists Series presentation.

Among the stars in the company of 100 are Nora Kovach and Istvan Rabovsky, Hungarian dancers who escaped from behind the Iron Curtain last year.

The program includes Tchaikovsky's "Swan Lake," "Scheherazade," by Rimsky-Korsakov, and "Napoli," a work being seen in this country for the first time.

A brief description of the story behind each of the ballets follows:

Napoli: The scene is set in the city of Naples. Gondoliers dance and a street-singer entertains the people. Then to the strains of the barcarolle, the newly-married couple, Teresina and Gennaro, appear with friends. Their romantic wedding dance is followed by the pas de six, into which is interpolated a pas de deux. The ballet is brought to a close with the renowned tarantella and finale.

Swan Lake: Prince Siegfried and his friends have planned a midnight hunt by a lake, where the night before, they had seen a flock of swans flying. As the swans approach the surface of the lake, the first of the swans reveals herself as a beautiful princess. She explains she is a princess who is in the power of an evil magician, and is forced to assume the form of a swan except between midnight and dawn. The young swans dance with the prince's companions and the dawn proclaims the hour of enjoyment has passed. The princess resumes the form of a swan and takes flight, leaving the prince bewildered and grief-stricken.

Scheherazade: The curtain rises on the Palace of Shariar, King of India and China. His brother, Shah Zeman, tells him his suspicions about the infidelity of his wives and especially of his favorite Zobeide; but Shariar does not believe it. They both pretend to leave for a hunting expedition. No sooner have they departed than the wives bribe the chief Eunuch, custodian of the Harem to open the doors leading to the slaves' quarters. They appear and join the Sultanas. Zobeide enters last, compelling the Eunuch to open the last door, from which darts the Golden Slave. An orgy follows, with food, wine and passionate dances at the climax of which Shariar appears. He is disturbed about Zobeide, whom he deeply loves, and she tries to regain her lord's grace. He is about to pardon her, but his brother reminds him of Zobeide's lover who has slain at his feet. Shariar throws her into the hands of his guards to be killed, but she snatches a dagger and stabs herself. As she dies, the Shah buries his face in his hands and the curtain falls.

Tamara Toumanova will be a guest artist when the London Festival Ballet appears at 8:45 P. M. tonight at the Keith-Albee Theater as a Marshall College Artist Series presentation. She will be seen in "Swan Lake."

2nd Slot In MAC Is At Stake

Marshall College's Big Green cagers hit the hardwood again tonight at Kalamazoo, Michigan, where they will encounter the Broncos of Western Michigan in a Mid-American Conference tilt which will have a decided effect on the conference standings.

Cam Henderson's crew, now running second to Miami of Ohio in the MAC, is playing the third place squad and the outcome can either boost Marshall into a one-game-away position from a tie for the lead or knock them down to the third slot.

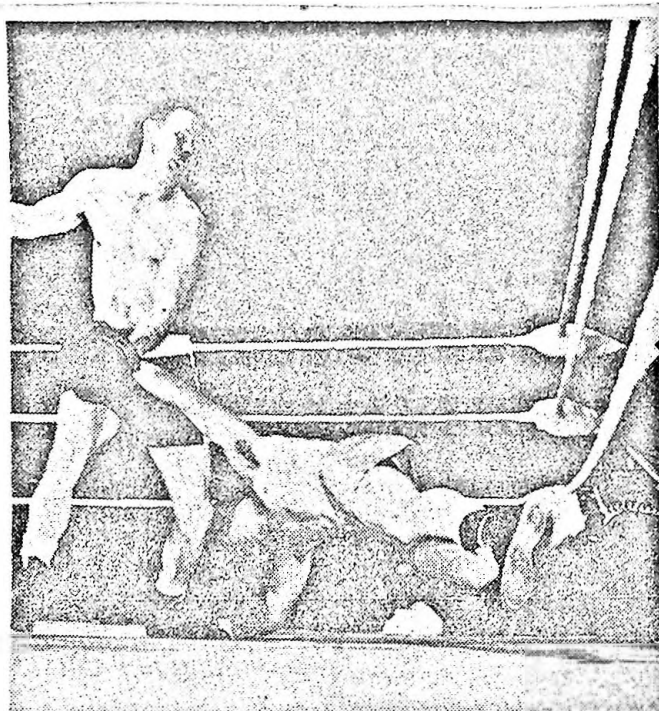

The Big Green's MAC record is 5-2 and the Broncos' 5-3 while the Miami's Redskins sport a 7-2.

A repeat of Marshall's conquest of Western Michigan this season, in which they downed the Broncos 79-50 at the Field House, will bring the Big Green within one game of Miami, who plays Toledo next Saturday.

Marshall's only defeats in the MAC have been at the hands of Miami and Kent State, fifth ranking in the conference. The Redskins downed Marshall January 5 and the Golden Flashes upset the Big Green at Kent January 22.

The Big Green now possesses a 13-2 season slate (counting a win over the Republic of China). Their next home game will be a non-conference affair with Morris Harvey Saturday at the Field House.

Big Audience Thrilled At Theatre By Ballet

2.3.55 adv.
The London Festival Ballet completely conquered a Marshall College Artists Series audience that packed the Keith-Albee Theatre last night for its mid-season program. The well-conceived program opened with a sparkling ballet, "Napoli," given in America for the first time, followed with the classical "Swan Lake" and worked up to a thrilling climax with the sombre and melodramatic "Scheherazade".

In the latter work, the audience interrupted the action with prolonged outbursts of applause for the remarkable dancing of its star artists, Hungarian-born Nora Kovach and Istvan Rabovsky.

The charm and grace of Miss Kovach's dancing, and the extraordinarily emotional effect of Mr. Rabovsky's dramatic acting and remarkable leaps and spins highlighted the evening's performance, and brought them before the curtain for an ovation at the close.

Other outstanding performers included Tamara Toumanova, John Gilpin, Nikolai Polajenko, Natalie Krassovska, Violette Verdy, Oleg Brainsky and Anita Landa. Miss Toumanova, especially, captivated her audience with a movingly touching interpretation of the lead role in Tchaikowsky's "Swan Lake".

Long and careful training was evident in the ebullient performance of the youthful corps de ballet, scenic and lighting effects were excellent, and the orchestra was ably conducted and efficient. It all added up to a dramatically exciting evening of fine entertainment.

Classes To Get Started At Marshall

(Special to The Advertiser)

New freshman, transfer students, and other full-time students who failed to take part in advance registration, were registering at Marshall College today in preparation for the opening of classes tomorrow at 8 A. M.

Registrants met with college officials yesterday in a briefing and testing program which lasted throughout the day. Today they registered for their choice of the 563 spring semester courses in the main reading room of the James E. Morrow Library. According to Luther E. Bledsoe, Marshall registrar and director of admissions, the registration process has been greatly speeded up by the use of new mechanical registration equipment.

Late Fee Is Set

Part-time students will enroll in the library Friday, February 4, between 7 and 9 P. M.

A late registration fee will be imposed upon all full-time students who enroll after today. The late fee will be one dollar Thursday and will increase at the rate of one dollar each business day until Wednesday, February 9. Full-time students will not be registered after 4:30 on that date.

For part-time students, the late registration fee will be one dollar Monday, February 7, and will increase at the rate of one dollar each week day until Saturday, February 12. No part-time students will be enrolled after that date.

Subjects ranging from art and advertising to zoology and chemistry will be offered to the students during the spring semester. These subjects represent thirty-eight fields of endeavor and are presented to the student in some 563 classes.

Day classes will begin tomorrow at 8 A. M. and evening classes will commence Monday.

Frosh Defeat Morris Harvey For 10th Win

Marshall College's Freshmen basketballers took an early lead and fought off a late rally by Morris Harvey's Junior Varsity last night in Charleston to defeat the Eagles, 97-86.

The Little Green led by 14 at halftime, but saw the margin slip to three early in the second half. However, Marshall's Dave Kirk, Jack Freeman and Hal Greer had enough to ward off the rally and win.

Kirk led the winners with 33, as the usual high-scoring Freeman was held to 19. Greer chipped in with 16. Others in double figures included John Mayfield with 11 and Dave Dingus with 10. For the losing Morris Harvey team, Jones had 17 and Larry Tyree 12.

The Little Green now own a 10-1 record, losing only to Ohio U.'s frosh.

Green Frosh Trim Eagle Jayvees 97-86

The Marshall College Freshman team turned back a second half rally by the Morris Harvey Junior Varsity, and put on a closing point streak of their own to defeat the 'Little Eagles' 97 to 86 last night at Charleston.

After leading by fourteen points at intermission, the Little Green, was hard pressed as the Eagles came breathing down their neck. In no time at all Morris Harvey cut Marshall's 54 to 40, half time lead to a narrow three point margin at 58 to 55. The high riding Marshall Frosh had enough in them to turn back the tide for their victory.

They now own a 10-1 record and it marks the second time this season that they have beaten the Morris Harvey JV's.

High scoring Jack Freeman was held to 19 points, but David Kirk filled in outstandingly, with 33 markers.

Bob Null, Sports Editor

College basketball returns to Huntington tomorrow night at 8:00, when Marshall College takes on Morris Harvey at Memorial Field House.

For both teams it will be a non-conference affair. The Marshall team of the Mid-American will be meeting the defending Champions of the West Virginia Conference. Of the two conferences the Mid-American is the largest and the toughest, but whenever Marshall plays Morris Harvey, you can pitch the past records and statistics out the window. In the past it has been the Big Green the winner, but the boys from Charleston always give the Marshall team one of its hardest games.

If Coach Eddie King hopes to stop the Marshall team, he will have to use some type of defense to stop the Big Green's fast break offense. In 13 games this season, the Marshall fast break has produced a total of 1120 points for an average of 86.2 per game. (28)

The pacemaker in the scoring this season is fast break middle man Cete Price. Price has scored 316 points for an average of 24.3. Cete is followed in the scoring by center Charlie Slack, who is hitting at 19 per game. Other double figure scorers are Co-Captain Dave Robinson 17.6, and Paul Underwood with 16.6.

Last year's Morris Harvey-Marshall game brought national notices as 6-5 center Charlie Slack got 43 rebounds, which was the highest single game effort nationally by any player. At the present Slack is picking the ball off the back boards at an average of 25.4.

Coach Cas Henderson is expected to start with Price and Robinson at the forwards, Slack at center, and Underwood at guard. The other guard positions will be played by either 6-6 Ray Frazier or 6-2 Lewis Burns. Frazier started Marshall's last game at Western Michigan.

The 21st annual congress of the United High School Press of West Virginia and the annual meetings of two associated organizations will take place at Marshall College April 29 and 30, it was announced today by Professor W. Page Pitt, head of the Marshall College department of journalism and founder of the UHSP.

The other organizations are another student group, the United High School Yearbook Association, and an organization of teachers, the Journalism Teachers Association of West Virginia.

This will be the fourth annual meeting of the yearbook association and the 17th convention of the teachers' group.

About 300 young people from 170 West Virginia public high schools and 5 Catholic high schools are expected to attend sessions of the UHSP congress.

The annual banquet will take place at the Marshall College dining hall Saturday evening, April 30. This affair is sponsored each year by the Huntington Publishing Company and Col. J. H. Long, known as the "Daddy of the United High School Press of West Virginia."

The Chamber of Commerce luncheon is scheduled for the same place at 1 p. m. that day. Don Baker, managing director of the Huntington Chamber of Commerce, will direct the event.

The United High School Press is an organization of high school newspaper editors who come together each spring to exchange ideas and find inspiration by meeting successful journalists and other Americans active in mass communications.

Professor Pitt, who is executive secretary of the UHSP, organized the press group in 1927. The first speaker was Governor Howard M. Gore. The greatest attendance at the annual congress was reached in 1931 when 601 young people from all parts of West Virginia assembled on the Marshall campus.

Speakers for the 21st annual congress will be announced after arrangements have been completed. Last year's banquet and luncheon speakers were C. Yates McDaniel, noted Associated Press foreign correspondent now assigned to the department of defense, and Dallas C. Higbee, news editor of the Charleston Gazette and 1939 journalism graduate of Marshall College.

Program chairman of the event is James H. Herring, director the Marshall College Information Service and member of the journalism department faculty. Miss Virginia Lee of the journalism faculty is in charge of registration.

Officers of the UHSP are Yvonne Watson, Belle, president;

Ohio University's Bobcats will serve as the opponents for Marshall's basketballers at 8:00 Wednesday night at Memorial Fieldhouse, as the Big Green returns to Mid-American Conference play.

In the first meeting of the two teams this season at Athens, Ohio, Marshall was the winner 105-85, but it was a red hot Marshall team that night. During the time that the Marshall men played Ohio, they took on Virginia and Carnegie Tech and went over the century mark in all three contests. After the Carnegie game Marshall was the number one scoring team in the nation, hitting for an average in the nineties, but dropped to 87.7 per game.

In Marshall's last game against Morris Harvey College, The Big Green cut of his cold streak by hitting for 108 points, which was their highest of the season. So Ohio University may have the misfortune of having to play the Henderson men when they are at their best.

The Marshall team can look for a real battle from the Bobcats, because the Ohio team beat Miami, which handed Marshall its first defeat of the season. The Ohio team dropped Western Michigan from the leadership of conference back when the Broncos won its road trip.

The visiting Bobcats will be meeting a team that is undefeated on its home court in Marshall. On the other hand Ohio University is the only conference game that Marshall has won on the road this season.

For both teams its the make or break game. A defeat for either Ohio or Marshall would just about put them out of the conference race.

If Ohio hopes to win they will have to play a tight defense, because four of Marshall's starting five are scoring in double figures, both in conference play and in all total games. Cebe Price is top scorer with an average of 24.2. Charlie Slack is next with 19.7, followed by Dave Robinson with 18.1, and Paul Underwood's 17.5.

Charlie Slack, the nation's number one rebounder is averaging 25.7. He is leading the Mid-American Conference with an average of 25.1. Slack was the number two rebounder in the nation last year and the top man in the conference.

(Life Planning Week)

"The Time of Your Life" will be the theme for the annual observance of Life Planning Week programs at Marshall College February 20-24, and Dr. Floyd Faust, pastor of the Broad Street Christian Church of Columbus, Ohio will be the feature speaker.

A period for religious emphasis on the Marshall campus, Life Planning Week this year will consist of convocations, vespers, seminars, class room talks and informal bull sessions.

Dr. Faust, has been pastor of the Broad Street Church since 1929 and under him it has become one of the strongest and most influential in Ohio. He has served in all phases of civic and religious circles in his city and state, and was president of the Columbus Council of Churches for several years. (47)

Dr. Faust holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Wilmington College and a Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts from Ohio State University. He received his PhD in the field of philosophy from Ohio State in 1935.

Life Planning Week will begin with a Vesper service in the Student Union February 20 at 4:30 p. m. and will be followed at 8:30 with a Hymn Sing directed by Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Eddowes, directors of music at Huntington's First Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Faust will deliver five addresses during Life Planning Week, based on his central theme "Living With Energy and Enthusiasm." His first two messages, "Something to Live On" and "Something to Live For", will be delivered in the Greenhouse Lounge Monday, February 21

Don Farnworth and Marlene Dell, renowned dances, step into the Marshall College Convocation spotlight Thursday, Feb. 10, at 11 A. M. with a program ranging from classical ballet to musical comedy.

Individually and together Don and Marlene have performed on television shows, in Broadway productions, in night clubs and resort hotels, and on concert tours. They have received critical acclaim from audiences and critics alike for their lively dance interpretations.

Marlene Dell, born in Union City, New Jersey, has been on stage since playing the Junior lead in "Blind Alley" at the age of seven. During World War II, she danced in hospitals to entertain GIs. She has had lengthy ballet training with Madame Anderson, teacher of Alicia Alonso, Melissa Hayden and other stars of Ballet Theatre. Her performances with the Corps de Ballet at the Radio City Music Hall in New York led to frequent appearances on the Perry Como television show and others.

Don Farnworth, born in Carey, Idaho, arrived in New York after his Army discharge, scored immediate dancing success in "Sleepy Hollow" and "Allegro" on Broadway, later on television with "Country Style" and other shows. For TV, summer stock and off-broadway shows such as "Pal Joey", he has danced and done choreography.

Ohio University's Bobcats will take to the floor at 8:00 at Memorial Field House tomorrow night, against the Marshall Big Green.

The visiting Bobcats are expected to give the fast breaking Henderson men one of their toughest games. Marshall has a record of 11-3, with the three losses coming from Miami, Kent State, and Western Michigan. These three teams were beaten by the bobcats.

The outcome of tomorrow night's game will decide third place in the Mid-American Conference. At the present Marshall and Ohio University both have conference records of 5-3. A loss would just about put the team out of the running for the conference crown.

Each team will have four of its starting five scoring in double figures. Cobe Price leads the Marshall scoring with 24.2, followed by Charlie Slack at 19.7, Dave Robinson with 18.1, and guard Paul Underwood 17.5. Fred Moore is the top scorer for the Bobcats with an average of 16.3. He is followed by Dick Garrison at 14.9, Bob Strawser hitting 12.0, and Bob Evans at 10.6 per game.

The Ohio team will make a lineup switch by starting 6-4 Henry Pell. Pell was given the starting position with the hope that he could rebound with Charlie Slack, the nation's number one rebounder. Slack is averaging 25.7.

"An Inspector Calls" will be presented by the Marshall College Theatre in Old Main auditorium March 16, 17 and 18, as the second production of the 29th season, according to Clayton R. Page, director of the play.

The Chinese classic "Lute Song", originally scheduled as the second production of the year, has been shelved because of casting difficulties.

An English play by J. B. Priestley, "An Inspector Calls" was first done in this country in New York in 1947.

The action of the play occurs in an English industrial city in 1910. The plot is concerned with the interrogation of an eminently respectable British family, which is subjected to routine inquiry in connection with the suicidal death of a young girl.

Underneath the play there is an air of mystic unreality that shows the strange twist that takes place in human beings when their conscience are affected.

"This is a plot play", Page said, "one that calls for real acting because of the long, sustaining parts necessary to develop the plot."

The cast calls for three women and four men and to give more students an opportunity to take part in the play Page said that he might use a double cast.

This will be the 112th play in twenty-nine seasons for the Marshall players.

Campus Sports News.

Saturday night's basketball battle between Morris Harvey and Marshall was somewhat of a homecoming for one of Marshall's all time greats, "Mr. Basketball", Jule Rivlin. Jule was down from Wheeling with the sports editor of the Wheeling Intelligencer, Bill Bibb, and Co-Captain Dave Robinson's father, to see the fast breaking Big Green in action.

Before game time, Jule went down to see his old college coach, Cam Henderson and jokingly said "Hope Price fouls out". Rivlin looked in good enough shape to have taken over for the youthful Price.

When field house announcer, Bob Friedly, announced that Rivlin was in attendance, the crowd gave him quite a hand, which goes to prove that the real greats are never completely forgotten. Marshall has had some of the nation's best men in the middle of its fast break offense, such as Babe Mazza, Bill Toothman, and Walt Walowac, but Rivlin was the first. Even though he played his basketball back in the late thirtys, his name is always mentioned when Marshall fans talk of basketball.

Rivlin, who saw his first Marshall game in seven years, said at a downtown Huntington restaurant that Cebe Price had the making of a great fast break man and with a year under his belt that he was going to be hard to cope with.

Welcome, Mr. Rivlin, and come again soon!

If you talk to Albie "Big Horse" Maier, Marshall's All-Mid-American Conference Guard, you can tell he has only one thing in mind, and that is pro football. The man with the size 19 inch neck, was drafted last week by the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Maier, from Farmingdale, New Jersey, had had many honors from football, but being drafted to play pro ball was one of his tops. Maier was All State of New Jersey for two years when at Lakewood High School; at Marshall he was All Ohio Valley Conference, All Mid-American Conference, and was named to the All Opponent team of powerful Miami University. Only last month the 222 pound Maier won the weight lifting contest of the College by putting up 235 pound. Look for the "Horse" to play professional football.

COM: Bob Noll, Sports Publicity Director, Marshall College, Huntington, W. Va.

Marshall fast breaking Big Green, after dropping Morris Harvey College 108-94 for its highest point total of the year, will return to Mid-American play Wednesday night at 8:00 at the Huntington Memorial Field House, when they take on one of the dark horses of the Mid-American Conference, Ohio University.

In the first meeting of the two teams at Athens, Ohio, the Marshall team beat the Bobcats 105-85 for its only conference win of the year on the road. When Marshall beat Ohio University, they were at their best and were undefeated, but have dropped three games since then to Miami, Kent State, and Western Michigan. The Marshall basketballers have looked very good in spots this year. Some of Marshall's best performances were during the time that they beat Ohio University, Virginia, and Carnegie Tech. They played the three on the road and went over the century mark in all three contests.

After scoring 108 points against Morris Harvey, it looks as if the Green has hit the comeback trail, and Ohio University may have the misfortune of having to play them when they are at their best. The Bobcats can give the Green all they bargain for--they beat Miami, who gave Marshall its first defeat and dropped Western Michigan from the leadership of the conference. (63)

The Big Green is undefeated on its home court this year and have proven that they are hard to handle when playing at home. Ohio should give them a stiff test Wednesday night.

The Morris Harvey game gave Marshall fans some real action and made things pretty uncomfortable all the way for Marshall. Highlight of the game was Cap Smith, who hit for 36 points and showed he was the sharpest basket shooter since Marshall faced Buzz Wilkinson from Virginia.

Marshall gave the home town crowd something to cheer about as four of five starters hit for over twenty points. Slack, the nation's number one rebounder got 30 rebounds and was the high scorer for the second straight time, by getting 28 points, followed by Paul Underwood with 26, Dave Robinson 25, and Cebe Price, the team's leading scorer got 24.

THE TOLEDO-MARSHALL GAME WILL BE ANOTHER MID-AMERICAN CONFERENCE BATTLE, AND IS VERY IMPORTANT FROM THE BIG GREEN VIEWPOINT. THE MARSHALL TEAM IS IN THIRD PLACE IN THE CONFERENCE, WITH A RECORD OF 6-3, AND A LOSS HERE WOULD JUST ABOUT PUT THE MARSHALL TEAM OUT OF THE RUNNING FOR CONFERENCE CROWN. ON THE OTHER HAND FOR TOLEDO, THE DEFENDING CONFERENCE CHAMPS IT'S NOT TOO IMPORTANT AS FAR AS WINNING THE CONFERENCE IS CONCERNED, BECAUSE THEY ARE ALREADY OUT OF THE RUNNING WITH A RECORD OF 7-8. STILL THE ROCKETEERS WOULD LIKE NOTHING BETTER THAN TO GET REVENGE FOR THE 68-56 WHIPPING THAT MARSHALL GAVE THEM AT HUNTINGTON EARLIER IN THE SEASON. (5)

THE BIG GREEN, WHO DEFEATED OHIO UNIVERSITY LAST NIGHT 84-73 FOR ITS TWELFTH WIN OF THE SEASON, AS AGAINST THEIR DEFEATS WILL MEET A TEAM WITH ABOUT THE OPPOSITE RECORD. TOLEDO HAS WON THREE AND LOST 13.

ALL STATISTICS WOULD POINT TO A MARSHALL VICTORY, BUT STILL THE MARSHALL TEAM HAS WON ONLY ONE CONFERENCE GAME ON THE ROAD THIS SEASON, WHILE LOSING THREE. Dear Editor:

After having had to cancel the annual convention last fall of the West Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association, we on the staff of The Parthenon have been attempting to set up a year round program that will add new life to the organization.

Always before all the group did was to meet once a year and to exchange ideas at that time. This we feel is one of the causes of lack of interest in the organization. By adding some method of mutual aid and information between meetings and other such ideas, maybe better interest in the organization will develop.

Since we received replies from only a few schools who let us know they were interested in attending the convention, we are interested now in finding out just how many of the member schools are interested in remaining in the organization. Enclosed you will find a blank containing places for information on what you desire out of the press association. We are also leaving space for you to mark some weekend in March that you will be able to attend the convention here. We would appreciate your answering immediately.

As we do not know what your feelings are toward the organization unless you write, please return the enclosed marked one way or the other. If you are definitely not interested in the old organization or attempting to revive it to serve a better purpose we would also appreciate your comments. (6)

It is our hope that you will not allow some thirty years of work in the organization go down the drain. If enough people are interested in the organization we will attempt to discuss the revision of the constitution at our convention sometime in March. Please circle what dates you can attend and return it as soon as possible.

Laidley Hall Women Are Preparing For Open House Sunday

Janet Paul of Hurricane, left, and Mary Lynn Means of South Charleston, make with the elbow grease mopping floors of the big Marshall dormitory.

Spring house cleaning got started early at Laidley Hall, women's dormitory on the Marshall College campus, and the gals are busy with paint brush, floor mop, dust cloth and other housewifey pieces of equipment.

It's all in preparation for the dormitory's big open house next Sunday from 2 to 5 P. M. when parents, friends, fellow students and the public in general may come and see how pleasant and attractive dormitory life can be.

Mrs. Leva R. Huffman, hostess, says an effort is made to get the young ladies to stick to conventional color schemes when they start wielding paint brushes, but this isn't always possible. However, they are permitted to fix up their rooms according to their own tastes, so long, of course, as they don't get too drastic in what they're doing to college property.

In the receiving line for Sunday's open house will be Mrs. Huffman; Miss Rosanna Riffe, Crab Orchard senior, Laidley Hall president; Miss Nancy Schuman, Williamson senior, vice-president and social chairman in general charge of the open house; Miss Ann Flack, Oak Hill sophomore, secretary, and Sandra Snyder, Whitesville sophomore, treasurer.

Mrs. Huffman said the cleanup program as the second semester gets under way is intended to serve as an incentive to the young ladies to keep their rooms clean and orderly, and is a part of the good housekeeping and good citizenship program. The gals receive merits for good housekeeping. Mrs. Huffman said this isn't stressed so much the first semester because freshmen who have never lived away from home need a little time to get used to housekeeping chores.

Students Compete For Big Prizes At Science Fair On April 15-16

2.8.55 adv

Science students in approximately 150 high schools in this area will be given an opportunity April 15-16 to compete for important prizes at a Science Fair sponsored by Marshall College in cooperation with the International Nickel Co., the Huntington Chamber of Commerce and The Advertiser.

In addition to other prizes, the two grand winners, a boy and a girl, will receive a free trip to enter their exhibits in the National Science Fair at Cleveland May 12-14. Two teachers of the top winners will also make the trip with all expenses paid. They will be accompanied by Dr. D. P. Stewart, assistant professor of geology at Marshall who will serve as director of the regional fair.

May Enter State Fair Too

Those who do not win prizes here may also enter their exhibits at the state fair at Fairmont April 22-23, Dr. N. B. Green, Marshall professor of zoology and publicity chairman of the regional event, announced.

Treasurer of the Marshall fair is Dr. Allen W. Scholl, head of the department of chemistry.

Exhibits will be set up in the Green House in the basement of the cafeteria building.

Notices of the event have been sent to principals of high schools throughout the region, which embraces the following counties:

Cabell, Boone, Wayne, Lincoln, Putnam, Mason, Mingo, Logan, Wyoming and McDowell, West Virginia; Gallia, Jackson, Lawrence and Scioto, Ohio; Boyd, Greenup, Martin, Pike, Carter, Floyd, Johnson, Magoffin, Elliott and Morgan, Kentucky.

March 15 Entry Deadline

The principals are requested to pass the notices on to the science teachers and they are expected to encourage students to work out projects to be entered.

Each student may enter only one exhibit, but schools may send as many as desired, Dr.

Green said.

Entry blanks should be in not later than March 15.

Blanks were sent to the schools with the notices, and others will appear later in The Advertiser. The full list of rules for entering also will appear later.

Watch For Other Information

Prospective competitors should watch The Advertiser daily for hints that will help them choose a subject for entering and for other information that may help in preparing the exhibit.

Entering the fair this year may mean much more than a prize or a free trip to Cleveland. It can stimulate interest of many high school students in scientific studies leading to distinguished careers.

There are wonderful opportunities awaiting properly trained scientists, engineers and technologists. A shortage in these fields exists right now, Dr. Green said, and will continue for many years.

The Huntington Branch of the American Association of University Women voted last night to donate the money now in the branch's scholarship fund to the Marshall College Foundation for use as the foundation sees fit, it was announced today by Mrs. Gerald R. Phillips, AAUW president. The amount now in the fund is $191.36.

This is the second contribution of the local branch to the foundation. Two years ago the university women gave $500.

Also at last night's session at the Woman's Club Mrs. Phillips read a statement from Mrs. C. R. Davisson of Weston, president of the West Virginia Division of AAUW, relative to a recent report on school conditions in the state released by a committee of the Morgantown Branch of AAUW. The report, which stated that overcrowded conditions of classrooms and the teacher shortage were "greatly exaggerated," brought comment from many school officials and the West Virginia Education Association termed the report "a complete distortion of facts" and accused the Morgantown committee of "consciously or unconsciously" misusing statistics.

The statement read by Mrs. Phillips, prepared and released by the state executive committee following a special meeting, said the division has always supported a program of study, interpretation and improvement of education and that the Morgantown Branch's study was based on a plan suggested by Mrs. Alice Leopold, director, Women's Bureau of the Department of Labor, and F. M. Brownell, Commissioner of Education, Department of Higher Education and Welfare.

Win Places Marshall 3rd In MAC

By FRED BURNS

It took another supreme effort by Marshall but they had the stuff to turn back Ohio University last night at Memorial Field House 84-73. The victory was the second of the season for Coach Cam Henderson's Big Green over the Bobcats and while the first one was 105-85, last night's was even sweeter for it knocked the Bobcats out of a tie for third place in the Mid-American Conference and left the Big Green in full possession of the third spot.

And most important it kept the Marshall quintet still in contention for the conference title. They are now only two and one half games behind Miami, the leader, and two games back of Western Michigan's second place spot. Miami has four conference games left to play. Western Michigan three and Marshall has five. One of the Marshall games is against Miami here in Huntington.

Once again it was a brilliant finish which turned the tide for Marshall. Ohio had made a bid late in the game after they had been 12 points behind. The Bobcats moved up and with only 4:40 left to play they cut the Marshall lead to only six points. Another fielder or two at this point could have turned into a Bobcat win but some ball hawking and tight defensive work saved the day. Of course it is hard to tell just how important the 31 rebounds were which big Charlie Slack pulled off the boards but they were a big factor.

They eventually led to at least part of the 31 field goals netted by the Big Green and far overshadowed 28 fielders by the Bobcats and the 50 rebounds they got as a team. Marshall had 61 rebounds and the top rebounder for Ohio was Dick Garrison with 13.

Again the big four in the Marshall scoring provided the offense. Dave Robinson led the way with 21 but Cebe Price and Paul Underwood, each with 20 were close. Slack found time for 17 points when he wasn't rebounding.

Both clubs were a bit off at the start and it was nearly three minutes before either could score. Price broke the ice with a fielder and Underwood followed with another. Marshall kept in front until Ohio pulled up to grab a two-point lead 26-24 just past mid-

2.10.53 li
This set up a scoring battle which saw the lead change hands ten times before Underwood and Slack put two fielders together to shake off the Bobcats. They got to within one point again but a foul goal by Price and a foul goal by Underwood stretched Marshall's half-time lead to six points at 42-36.

Fred Moore and Harry Weinbrecht did most of the scoring as the Bobcats tried to overcome the fast moving Big Green. But they just couldn't match the speed and fancy ball handling. With 9:55 to play Marshall was riding a 12-point lead 66-54.

Ohio got a rally going and they cut into the Marshall lead until only six points was the difference and only 4:40 to go.

A fielder by Price and a pair of foul goals by Crum made it ten points and Marshall put on the freeze and increased their margin to 14. Then Ohio outscored Marshall four points to one in the final minute when Marshall had subs on the floor.

The Big Green has five games left in conference play. They go away for a pair this week-end. They are at Toledo Saturday and move on to Bowling Green for a game Monday night.

After playing Morris Harvey at Charleston one week from today they'll entertain Bowling Green here in Huntington on Feb. 19 and Miami on Feb. 22. Their final game of the season is at Western Reserve on Feb. 26.

Green Frosh Whip Ohio U., 85-70

The Marshall College freshman team kept their winning streak going last night at the expense of the Ohio University frosh when they triumphed 85-70. It was nine straight and a season record of 12 wins and only one tainted loss. The Ohio frosh hold the one victory over the Little Green by a margin of two points. It was in a game which was stopped two minutes short to make way for the varsity game.

Last night Jack Freeman led the way for Marshall with 21 points while Dave Dingess playing in a substitute role copped second honors with 18. John Mayfield with 17, Hal Greer with 13 and Dave Kirk with 10 were the others who hit in double figures.

Marshall led at the half 44-28 and kept about the same margin through the second half. Peters with 17 was high scorer for Ohio.

Press Club Is Reorganized; Bob Willis Named President

The Press Club, for journalism majors and minors, has recently been reorganized after being inactive for the past four years.

Bob Willis, Huntington senior, was the organizer and is now president. The purpose of the club is to encourage and practice those things which are recognized as the higher ideals of journalism both at Marshall and in the business world.

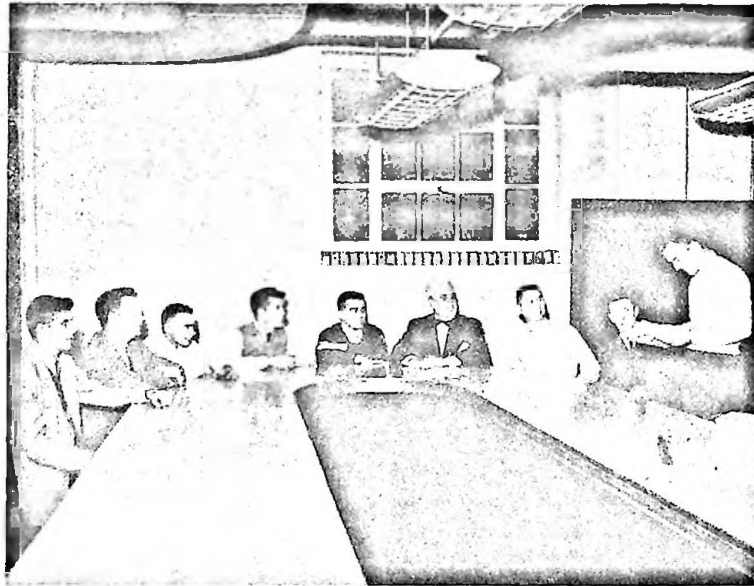

MEMBERSHIP is open to all male journalism majors or minors who have completed ten hours of journalism and working on their twelfth hour. They must have an over-all average of 2.5. Honorary members will be selected on the basis of professional journalism.

Awards will be given at the end of the year to the writer of the story judged best in The Parthenon.

BOB WILLIS has been very active in campus affairs in his four years at Marshall. He was one of the founders of Et Cetera, literary publication of Marshall students. He has served as sports editor of the Chief Justice, news editor of The Parthenon and a member of Life Planning Week Committee. Willis is also a member of the golf team.

The next meeting of the Press Club will be Thursday at 2 P. M. in the Journalism Department. Officers for the coming year will be elected at that time.

A PRESS CLUB, composed of male journalism majors, was recently established on the campus to further the interests of journalism in the professional field. Left to right are Richard Kelly, James Herring, adviser to the group, William Keesee, Ralph Moeller, Steve Posti, W. Page Pitt, Professor of Journalism, Russell Troutman, Arthur Ferguson, and Robert Willis, president.

Another milestone will be reached today in the construction of the new Marshall College Women's dormitory, as workmen put finishing touches to the roof of the $660,000, four-story structure.

Target date for completion of the new residence hall, which will accomodate 184 freshmen women, is next June 7.

Workmen and supervisors are encountering little difficulty in constructing the building and their last "big" job, inside partitioning and plastering, will begin this week.

"About the only trouble we have had so far has been bad weather," said B. C. Jones, general construction superintendent.

Some of the brick work on the outside was delayed because of rain and snow, but now that the building has been enclosed, Jones said that he didn't see any reason why it couldn't be completed on schedule.

Much of the work such as plumbing, heating and electrical wiring is running ahead of schedule. Plumbers are in the process of setting fixtures in the shower rooms and the basement, the boilers are in place, and almost all electrical conduits ~~are~~ have been installed. Stairways have also been constructed and tile is now being laid in stair wells and the shower rooms.

"About the only thing that holds you up on a job like this is the weather and the delay in receiving materials", Jones said.

The job was held up for a month just after the foundation was completed, when the men had to wait on a steel shipment before constructing the framework of the building. Aluminum window sills are now overdue but they should be in sometime next week.

With the exception of a smashed finger or a skinned knee, Jones said there hasn't been any accidents since the men started working on the building last June. (81)

Charles Atkinson, a hoist operator, commented on how well the job was going. "We haven't had to tear down or rebuild anything and we haven't had any union trouble."

When the new dormitory is completed Marshall will be able to provide on-campus housing for 577 students. College Hall and Laidley Hall now accommodate 218 women and ~~Laidley~~ ^{Hodges} Hall houses 175 men. In addition, seven sorority houses and seven fraternity houses are able to handle 143 off-campus students.

New Marshall Women's Dormitory To Be Completely Under Roof Today

$660,000 FUTURE HOME OF 184 FRESHMAN CO-EDS
Latest Campus Addition To Be Completed In Early June

By RICHARD A. KELLY
Marshall Student Journalist

Another milestone will be reached today in the construction of the new Marshall College women's dormitory, as workmen put finishing touches to the roof of the $660,000, four-story structure.

Target date for completion of the new residence hall, which will accommodate 184 freshmen women, is June 7.

Workmen and supervisors are encountering little difficulty in constructing the building and their last "big" job, inside partitioning and plastering, will begin this week.

"About the only trouble we have had so far has been bad weather," said B. C. Jones, general construction superintendent.

Some of the brick work on the outside was delayed because of rain and snow, but now that the building has been enclosed, Mr. Jones said that he didn't see any reason why it couldn't be completed on schedule.

Much of the work such as plumbing, heating and electrical wiring is running ahead of schedule. Plumbers are in the process of setting fixtures in the shower rooms and the basement, the boilers are in place, and almost all electrical conduits have been installed. Stairways have also been constructed and tile is being laid in stair wells and the shower rooms. When the new dormitory is completed Marshall will be able to provide on-campus housing for 577 students. College Hall and Laidley Hall now accommodate 218 women and Hodges Hall houses 175 men. In addition, seven sorority houses and seven fraternity houses are able to handle 143 off-campus students.

$5,000 Fire At Old Main

The fire which broke out last night in a custodial supplies closet in historic Old Main at Marshall College caused an estimated damage of $5,000, Fire Chief John W. Gallagher said today.

The chief also credited the sprinkler system in the building with saving Old Main from possible destruction. There was considerable water damage to plaster, floors and wiring in the middle section of the structure, the only part affected, Chief Gallagher said.

The blaze was apparently started by a smoldering cigaret in a large cylindrical container in which cleaning rugs and brooms were kept.

The sprinkler head that tripped was near the ceiling in the closet on the third floor. The water poured down a stairway and seeped through floors and ceilings to the basement. Plaster fell in many spots.

The fire started about 6:40 P. M.

College Theater Picks Next Play

The Marshall College Theater will present "An Inspector Calls" by J. B. Priestley on March 16-18 in Old Main auditorium, Clayton R. Page, director, announced yesterday.

The presentation replaced the originally scheduled "Lute Song," which was abandoned because of casting difficulties.

The "Inspector Calls" cast calls for three women and four men and Mr. Page said a double cast may be used to give five more students the opportunity to participate.

Marshall Faces Two Important Games, Toledo Foe Tonight, Falcons Monday

Coach Cam Henderson and his Marshall College basketball team are off on a two - game road trip and if they should win both of them the Big Green would be in a good position to have something to say about the Mid - American Conference championship.

Tonight, the Big Green tangles with Toledo's Rockets and then moves on to Bowling Green for a battle with the fifth-ranking Falcons Monday night.

These two tilts are "must" games for Coach Henderson's crew since if both are wins, the Big Green will return home still very much in the race for conference honors.

Marshall is now 6-3 for third place in the MAC, Toledo is 3-8 and Bowling Green is 4-6. Toledo has been beaten by the Big Green 68-56 this season. However, this was a home game for Marshall and they had to come from behind in the closing minutes of the contest to down the Rockets. This is the first time the Big Green has met Bowling Green this season.

As Marshall meets Toledo tonight, another equally important fray to the Big Green is being played in the MAC. Miami, the pace - setters who have compiled an 8-2 slate, hosts Western Reserve, conference cellar dwellers with a 2-7 count. Should an upset occur here, Marshall could even come home in a tie for first, depending on their success against the two foes coming up.

Yma Sumac, beautiful Peruvian songstress who has a five - octave range voice which is unique, beautiful and exciting is shown above wearing one of the dresses in which she will appear Monday night at the Keith Albee theatre under the sponsorship of the Marshall College Artist Series. The dress of white satin is heavily beaded and very handsome. Her music, inspired by the ancient songs of Peru, is strange and thrilling, and just as unforgettable as her thrilling voice.

All Tri-State Students In Grades 10-12 Eligible For Science Fair

Any student in the tri-state area in a public, private or parochial school, grades 10 through 12, is eligible to enter the regional Science Fair at Marshall College April 15-16. Dr. N. B. Green, Marshall professor of zoology and fair publicity chairman, said today.

The fair is being sponsored by the college in cooperation with the International Nickel Co., the Huntington Chamber of Commerce and The Advertiser.

Important prizes will be awarded for the winning exhibits, and the boy and girl grand winners will receive an expense-paid trip to Cleveland to enter the National Science Fair May 12-14. The science teacher of each top winner will accompany them, all expenses paid, as will Dr. D. P. Stewart, Marshall assistant professor of geology and director of the regional fair.

Basis For Judging

Dr. Green also announced the following basis for judging exhibits:

1. Creative ability (originality, ingenious uses of materials)—30 points.
2. Scientific though (organization, evidence of real study, uses of scientific method) — 30 points.
3. Thoroughness (completeness of the presentation) — 10 points.
4. Skill (good workmanship and arrangement) — 10 points.
5. Clarity (proper labels, descriptions, etc., for understanding of visitors) — 10 points.

6. Dramatic value (attractiveness, neatness and eye - appeal, force of presentation)—10 points.

Can Lead To Career

All students in this region interested in entering the fair should watch The Advertiser every day for further information and suggestions on the kinds of exhibits to be entered.

Besides the prizes and the trip to Cleveland, the fair can lead to outstanding careers for students in the field of science. Parents should encourage their children to enter.

There is a scarcity of trained men and women in nearly all branches of science, and there are great opportunities for students.

Big Green At Toledo Tomorrow

After a successful two - game home stand, the Marshall basketball team will take to the road tomorrow for Toledo, Ohio, where it will play Toledo University.

The Toledo-Marshall game will be another Mid-American Conference battle, and is very important from the Big Green viewpoint. The Marshall team is in third place in the conference, with a record of 6-3, and a loss here would just about put the Marshall team out of the running for conference crown. On the other hand for Toledo, defending conference champs, it's not too important as far as winning the conference is concerned because the Rockets already are out of the running with a record of 3-7. Still, Toledo would like nothing better than to get revenge for the 68-56 whipping that Marshall gave them at Huntington earlier in the season.

The Big Green, which defeated Ohio University Wednesday night, 84-73, for its 12th win of the season as against three defeats, will meet a team with about the opposite record. Toledo has won three and lost 13.

All statistics would point to a Marshall victory, but still the Marshall team has won only one conference game on the road this season, while losing three. Marshall defeated Toledo at Huntington, but it also beat Kent State and Western Michigan at Huntington, only to have the tables turned on them while on the road.

Toledo will be meeting a team that has four of its starting five scoring in double figures. Against Morris Harvey and Ohio University, Cebe Price, Paul Underwood, and Dave Robinson went over the 20 point mark in scoring. Charlie Slack hit for 28 against Morris Harvey and 17 against Ohio. Toledo has two of its starting five scoring in double figures. Ray James is the leader with an average of 15.2, followed by Joe Kiefer with 13.2 per game.

After the Toledo game, Marshall will move on to Bowling Green Monday night.

Slack, the nation's number one rebounder, pulled 31 rebounds from the boards against Ohio to give him a stronger hold on the race for the national title. Slack is averaging 26.1 per game.

W MARSHALL COLLEGE INFORMATION BE VICE---2-15-55

For Immediate Release

Bob Kull, Sports Editor

Marshall Big Green basketball team will move out of Mid-American Conference play when they take on Morris Harvey College of Charleston Wednesday night at 8:00.

Tournament hopes are high for the Big Green with a record of 14-3. Marshall has been mentioned as a possible team to play in NCAA or the NIT.

The Marshall-Morris Harvey game is not important as far as the NCAA Tournament goes, because that would come if Marshall wins the Mid-American Conference, but the Green has been considered for a possible NIT berth. A win over the Golden Eagles for a NIT bid would be a must for coach Cam Henderson's fast breaking Big Green.

The invading Marshall team will bring to town two players who are scoring an average of better than 20 points per game. Debe Price, fast break star from South Charleston, is leading the team with an average of 24.1, while big Charlie Slack, the nation's top rebounder, is hitting at a clip of 20.2. Other Marshall men scoring in the double figures are Paul Underwood from South Charleston with an average of 17.9 and Dave Robinson with 17.7.

The first meeting of the two teams this year at Huntington was one of the best games seen at Memorial Field House this season. Marshall scored its high point total of the season by racking the buckets for 108, but coach Eddie King's men kept the games close all the way by scoring the 20 mark. Cap Smith of Morris Harvey was the games top scorer with 36 markers. Smith was the best basketball player that Marshall had faced since playing against Virginia's All-American Buzz Wilkinson.

Marshall has won its last four games and two of them were on the road against Toledo and Bowling Green. The Bowling Green game was a real dog fight with Marshall coming from behind at half time to take over BU 91-89. Cobe Price lead the scoring with 29 points, f followed by Charlie Slack with 22. Robinson and Underwood chipped in with 17 each.

The high scoring Henderson men are scoring at an average of 87.6, while the opponents are firing at 76.7.

Pulitzer Price winning Robert Hillyer, author of more than two dozen volumes of poetry, will address the Marshall College convocation Thursday, February 17 at 11 A. M.

Mr. Hillyer, one of American's major poets, was born in East Orange, New Jersey. He received his preparatory education at Kent School and following his graduation from Harvard and World War I service in France, he studied for a year in Copenhagen, Denmark, as a fellow of the American-Scandinavian Foundation. 106

For nineteen years, Mr. Hillyer was a professor of English literature at Harvard University. He taught for two years at Trinity College in Connecticut and was awarded an honorary degree upon completion of his stay there. He also served for two years at Kenyon College and, for the past year, he taught at the University of Delaware.

Robert Hillyer's poetry has won a world-wide audience, and his "Collected Poems" won the 1934 Pulitzer Price. His latest book of poetry, "The Suburb by the Sea," published in 1952, was a collection of light satirical verses which delighted readers of The New Yorker and The Atlantic Monthly.

Other books include "The Death of Captain Nemo," "Pattern for A Day", "Poems for Music;" the latter an outgrowth of his love and understanding for music.

(Educational Leadership Project---1)

HUNTINGTON, W. VA.---(MCIS)---A "continuing project in educational leadership" which would cost $41,200 annually on state and county levels has been proposed by the West Virginia Cooperative Program in Educational Administration.

In a report embodying the proposal, the WV-CPEA has asked the W. K. Kellogg Foundation to contribute $14,000 annually for the next four years toward the establishment of such a continuing program. This money would be used to pay the salary and expenses of a state coordinator of the program.

The report just released was prepared by the WV-CPEA committee. Dr. Ralph D. Purdy, associate professor of education at Marshall College, is secretary and coordinator of the program. State chairman is C. H. Archer of Princeton.

Action to establish a continuing program is the outgrowth of a research project in educational leadership which was inaugurated in West Virginia in January, 1953. This project has been carried on by county and state agencies with the cooperation of Marshall College. It has involved pilot studies in educational leadership in Greenbrier, Mercer and Marion counties.

The findings of these pilot studies, according to the WV-CPEA report, might become the basis for improving county schools throughout West Virginia. Findings of the experiment to date indicate the need for school administrators and citizens of the community they serve to understand the problems of each other and for the two groups to work together in the improvement of education. Better educational leadership and better state schools are expected to be the result if the continuing project is approved.

The Kellogg Foundation has financed the pilot studies as part of an effort to improve schools in eleven southern states. This regional program is known as the Southern States Cooperative Program in Educational Administration. The SSCPEA is one of eight such programs being financed throughout the nation by the Kellogg Foundation.

Co-sponsors of the studies in West Virginia have been the West Virginia Cooperative Program in Educational Administration and the West Virginia Association of School Superintendents.

The proposal to set up a continuing project in educational leadership in West Virginia involves the following:

109

- 1- Continuing the pilot studies in Greenbrier, Mercer and Marion Counties and directing efforts toward bringing about improvements already found to be needed.
- 2- Dissemination of information on the pilot studies to other counties in order that they might institute similar studies.
- 3- An analysis of the services which the state department of education would give in the county studies in educational leadership resulting from the continuing program.
- 4- Development of experimental programs at teacher and school administrative training centers with a view to producing teachers better prepared to fit into the improved school systems that grow out of these studies.

(Educational Leadership Project---3)

"The proposed project," says the WV-CPEA report, "cuts across institutional and organizational lines. It is essentially a cooperative, coordinated state-wide program with many institutions, agencies and organizations participating in a unified effort toward the improvement of educational leadership. Due to the complexity of this structure, and due to the currently curtailed finances for educational purposes in West Virginia, money is needed from other sources for the state-wide direction and coordination of the continuing project in educational leadership."

In asking for money from the Kellogg Foundation, the report says:

"If granted, this money would be placed with and dispersed by a legally constituted agency of West Virginia."

In addition to Marshall College, which has been associated with the state studies from the beginning, the following West Virginia institutions of higher learning have shown an interest in the proposed continuing program:

Alderson-Broadus, Bluefield, Concord, Fairmont State, Morris Harvey, Salem, Sheppard, West Liberty State, West Virginia State and West Virginia Wesleyan colleges, and West Virginia University.

The Greenbrier and Mercer County pilot studies, directed by Dr. Purdy, have been carried on through Marshall College graduate extension classes which give residence credit toward advanced degrees. As an outgrowth of Marshall's classes, a similar arrangement with West Virginia University has been worked out in Marion County.

(Educational Leadership Project---4)

Dr. Craig Wilson, member of the research staff of the Southern States Cooperative Program in Educational Administration, has been devoting his full time to development of the Greenbrier County pilot study during the current academic year.

Marshall College's high flying Big Green, in the thick of the Mid-American Conference race with a record of 8-3, will have its work out for the rest of the season if it is to stay in the fight for the conference crown.

The fast breaking Marshall team will be at Charleston tomorrow to play a non-conference game against Coach Eddie King's Golden Eagles. Then the Big Green will return home to Mid-American Conference action at Memorial Field House Saturday at 8:00 against Bowling Green University. The BG game is another must for the Henderson men, who are in second place tie with Western Michigan and right behind the front running Miami.

The Miami Redskins from Oxford, Ohio, will move into Huntington Tuesday night to battle the Big Green, in what could well be the most important game of the season for Marshall. A Marshall win could throw the Conference race into a three-way tie between Miami, Western Michigan, and Marshall. The Morris Harvey, Bowling Green games are very important, but it's the Redskin battle that Marshall fans have been waiting for all year.

Marshall's star rebounding center Charlie Slack, who leads the nation in rebounds lost ground in his bid for the national title, when Marshall played at Toledo, Ohio. The Marshall ace got only 10 rebounds in Marshall's 90-74 win over the rockets from Toledo University. In Marshall's last game Slack pulled 24 from the back boards to keep in the running.

In Marshalls last game against Morris Harvey, Coach Cam Henderson kept his record of having never lost to MH team in 20 years intact. The Henderson men dropped the Golden Eagles by the tune of 103-91. Dave Robinson got 27 for Marshall's high, while Cap Smith of the Eagles took the game high with 32 markers.

The nations top rebounder Charlie Slack pulled 19 rebounds from the boards in Marshall's win over Morris Harvey and fouled out of the game late in the fourth quarter. When Slack went out of the game, the MH fans gave him a round of boos.

Marshall's Big Green basketball team, riding a five game winning streak will go into Mid-American action Saturday night at 8:00 against Bowling Green's Falcons at Memorial Field House.

The BG Falcons were the last conference opponents of the fast breaking Big Green. The Marshall-Bowling Green game at Bowling Green, Ohio was a real battle with Marshall coming from 12 points behind at half time to take the game by a 2 point margin 91-89.

The return game between the two teams Saturday night will be another must for the Henderson men who have a 8-3 record in conference play, which is good for a second place tie with Western Michigan, if they are to stay in the running for the conference crown. Marshall must not only win against BG, but also the other two remaining games of the season against Miami here Tuesday night and the Western Reserve game that is to take place at Cleveland, Ohio February 17. Miami and Western are both members of the conference.

Falcon Coach Harold Anderson, is experiencing his poorest season in 30 years as a basketball coach with a record of 5-13, while Marshall's Cam Henderson is enjoying one of his better seasons with a 15-3 record. Anderson's Falcons were runners up for last year's conference champs, but played in the NIT tournament for which Marshall is a contender this season. This season is Henderson's best since 53 and 47. The 53 team won 20, lost 4, while the 47 basket men won 32-5.

Bowling Green will bring to town a team with three of its starting five scoring in the double figures, but Marshall can better this with four of starting team hitting in the double columns. The three from BG are

MARSHALL'S BIG GREEN CARRIES ALL OF ITS MID-AMERICAN CONFERENCE HOPES INTO ACTION AGAINST THE CONFERENCE LEADING REDSKINS OF MIAMI UNIVERSITY AT MEMORIAL FIELD HOUSE, TUE DAY AT 8 P. M.

THE BIG GREEN WITH A CONFERENCE MARK OF 9-3 HAS THE OPPORTUNITY OF THROWING THE CONFERENCE INTO A TIE-BY TIE BY STOPPING MIAMI. MEANWHILE THE BRONCOS OF WESTERN MICHIGAN WILL MOVE INTO AN ALL IMPORTANT CONFERENCE GAME AT BOWLING GREEN TONIGHT, BUT A MARSHALL WIN WOULD BE THE IMPORTANT PART FOR BOTH MARSHALL AND WESTERN MICHIGAN. IF MARSHALL CAN BEAT MIAMI AND WESTERN MICHIGAN TAKES BOWLING GREEN INTO CAMP IT WOULD BE ALL TIED UP AND A TOURNAMENT WOULD HAVE TO BE PLAYED ON A NEUTRAL FLOOR TO SEE WHO WOULD BE THE CONFERENCE CHAMP AND TAKE THE AUTOMATIC BIRTH TO THE NCAA TOURNAMENT. (120)

THE FAST BREAKING MARSHALL TEAM WILL HAVE ITS WORK ALREADY CUT OUT, BECAUSE MIAMI HANDED THE BIG GREEN A 89-74 WHIPPING AT OXFORD IN THEIR FIRST MEETING OF THE SEASON. THE BIG MAN IN THE MIAMI WIN WAS CO-CAPTAIN BICK KLITCH WHO REBOUNDED THE BUCKETS FOR 27 POINTS AND REBOUNDED ALONG WITH MARSHALL'S REBOUNDED STAR CHARLIE SLACK. KLITCH HADN'T SEEN TOO MUCH ACTION UNTIL THE NIGHT THAT HE PLAYED HIS GREAT GAME AGAINST THE REDSKINS, BECAUSE HE WAS BELOW PAR PHYSICALLY. DON BARNETT, 155 POUND NEGRO GUARD HIT FOR 18 IN THE FIRST MEETING AND PLAYED OUTSTANDING ON DEFENSE IN THE FIRST HALF BY HOLDING MARSHALL'S GEBE PRICE TO FOUR POINTS. THE SOUTH CHARLESTON FAST BREAK MAN ROARED BACK IN THE SECOND HALF AND LEAD THE BIG GREEN IN THE SCORING COLUMN WITH 27 POINTS.

THE REDSKINS ARE DUE IN HUNTINGTON AT 3:00 TUESDAY FOR THE BATTLE THAT NIGHT. THE MIAMI TEAM IS TAKING NO CHANCES OF BEING TIRED AND WILL MAKE THE BEST OF THEM.

(UHSP 21st annual congress--1)

HUNTINGTON, W. VA.---(MCIS)---Approximately 300 high school students are expected to attend the 21st annual congress of the United High School Press of West Virginia, when it meets with two other associated organizations at Marshall College April 29-30.

The two associated organizations are the United High School Yearbook Association and the Journalism Teachers Association of West Virginia.

Representatives from 170 West Virginia public high schools and 5 Catholic high schools are expected to be on-hand for sessions of the UHSP Congress, according to W. Page Pitt, head of the Marshall College department of journalism and UHSP founder. 132

The annual banquet will take place at the Marshall College dining hall Saturday evening, April 30, and Raymond Brewster, editor-in-chief of the Herald-Dispatch and president of the West Virginia Board of Education, will be master of ceremonies. This feature of the congress is sponsored each year by the Huntington Publishing Company and Col. J. H. Long, "Daddy of the United High School Press of West Virginia."

The Chamber of Commerce luncheon is scheduled for the same place at 1 p. m. that day. Don Baker, managing director of the Huntington Chamber of Commerce, will direct the event.

(UHSP 21st annual congress---2)

The United High School Press is an organization of high school newspaper editors who come together each spring to exchange ideas and find inspiration by meeting successful journalists and other Americans active in mass communications.

Speakers for the 21st annual congress will be announced after arrangements have been completed. Last year's banquet and luncheon speakers were C. Yates McDaniel, noted Associated Press foreign correspondent now assigned to the department of defense, and Dallas C. Higbee, news editor of the Charleston Gazette and 1939 journalism graduate of Marshall College.

Program chairman of the event is James H. Herring, director of the Marshall College Information Service and member of the journalism department faculty. Miss Virginia Lee of the journalism faculty is in charge of registration.

This will be the fourth annual meeting of the yearbook association and the 17th convention of the teachers group.

1955 State Basketball Tournament
Huntington Memorial Field House
Robert Morris, Athletic Director

Welcome!

This envelope encloses information pertaining to the 42nd Annual State High School Basketball Tournament. You may get your credentials from Bill Fugitt beforehand or may pick them up at the Marshall College athletic office after you arrive in Huntington. Only your working press or radio ticket will admit you to the Field House, to the hospitality room at the northwestern corner of the Field House main floor, and to the press-radio party at the Hotel Prichard. A red press ribbon gives you free movement on the Field House floor.

The Field House hospitality room will be open for your convenience at all times while the tournament is in session. You might as well figure on having dinner there Thursday and Friday, since there will be only about two hours between sessions. The hospitality room will open each day at 12 noon.

We also have set up for your convenience a press room, just off the Field House hospitality room, where all Western Union machines will be and tables and chairs if you care to work. Presumably you have already made arrangements with Western Union, and, if so, you can depend on Roy Fritz to do a good job for you.

The formality of opening the tournament will be simple. The superintendent of Cabell County schools will welcome tournament participants and spectators. Dr. Stewart H. Smith, president of Marshall College, will represent Marshall College at the opening ceremony. President Jonathan Y. Lowe will make a few pertinent remarks. The national anthem will be sung at the beginning of all sessions and the starters on each team will be introduced. 124

Mrs. A. A. Rohrbough, who has seen 'em all, will get 18 red roses and be introduced Thursday.

Players on losing teams will receive State Tournament lapel buttons from the deputy members of the board of appeals between halves of the game immediately following their own. In other words the losing team of the last Thursday game will get recognition between halves of the first game Friday.

All the team trophies and individual medals for champions and runners-up, all-tournament teams for both A and B, best cheerleader and best cheering section will be presented after the last game Saturday afternoon. The press and radio will ballot on the All-Tournament teams during the second half of the Class A final. In addition, the WVHSAA will make its third annual State Tournament Sportsmanship Award at this time. Princeton won it in 1953. Class A Stonewall Jackson and Class B Pax won in 1954.

The sports writers and sportscasters Association will meet separately Friday morning at the Hotel Frederick, and I suggest we all adjourn to the Field House for lunch, since the tournament resumes at 1 p. m.

Complete box-scores, including minutes played, shots taken, rebounds and assists plus the usual, will be available 15 minutes after each game, and coaches' comments 20 minutes after each game.

James H. (Jim) Herring, director of the Marshall College Information Service, is press Director. He and I and our assistants are at your service in every way.

HOUSING

The twelve competing teams will be housed in Hodges Hall, men's dormitory on the Marshall Campus. Each team will be given separate quarters, and all the teams will be segregated from the rest of the dorm. No visitors to a team's quarters will be allowed during the tournament. Coaches of the teams are requested to cooperate in this matter. Teams coming from greater distances may come in on Wednesday evening if they make arrangements in advance. Others may arrive Thursday morning.

The housing arrangements and assignments will be in charge of Mr. Harold Willey, Dean of Men, at Marshall College. Inquiries in arrangements for housing can be made by contacting Mr. Willey.

Students not members of teams who are coming to the tournament will be housed in private homes at $1 per night unless accompanied by a parent who wishes them to stay in a hotel. The housing for onlookers will be arranged by Mr. William Powers, Chairman, Student Housing Committee who can be reached in advance at Box 469 Huntington, West Virginia. Principals at the various schools will send in the students' names. Registration for housing will be at the Greenhouse, under the Marshall College Cafeteria on 18th Street E. between 3rd and 5th Avenue. Guides and Posters will be available to show the way to housing Headquarters.

Coaches' housing will be at the Prichard Hotel and the Huntington Hotel. Reservations can be made at these hotels by writing to them, or contacting this office.

Sports writers, radio men, and publicity personnel will be housed at the Fredrick Hotel. Reservations can be made by writing to the manager or this office. (136)

Principals will be housed at the Governor Cabell or Fifth Avenue hotel and reservations can be made by writing the manager or this office.

Adults who wish hotel rooms may write to that hotel which they prefer. There are also several nice motels in and near the city if preferred. The names and locations of these will be furnished by the Chamber of Commerce or this office.

In any case, remember this: we will guarantee you housing:

ENTERTAINMENT

The competing teams visiting the tournament will have a Marshall College basketball player as sponsor and escort to show them the campus and town if they wish and are allowed to do so by their coach.

The Student Union at Marshall College will be open at all times for visiting students. Entertainment in the form of dancing with a "combo" and with free doughnuts and coffee are offered Friday and Saturday morning from ten until twelve. Campus tours and exhibitions will be open to students and parents. This program on campus is in charge of Mrs. Veta Lee Smith, Marshall College Secretary. A full program will be announced later.

Coaches will be entertained at a buffet given in their honor at the Prichard Hotel after the game Friday night. Admission will be by coaches and Official badge.

Principals will be entertained at a breakfast given in their honor by the Cabell County Schools at the Governor Cabell hotel on Saturday morning. President Smith of Marshall will speak to the group.

Sports writers and Radio and T. V. men will be guests at a buffet given for them at the Fredrick Hotel Friday night after the game.

Plans are being made for entertainment of the wives of coaches and principals. Further plans will be announced later.

MEALS

The competing teams may eat at the Marshall College Cafeteria which is directly adjacent to Hodges Hall where they are staying. Special menus for the teams may be arranged in advance with Mrs. Smock, Dietician. (137)

Other students attending the tournament may eat at the cafeteria if they signify their intentions to do so when registering for a room. The Student Union will be open at all times for serving of quick lunches and sandwiches to those who wish.

There are several good eating places, mostly drive-ins, near the field house. Of course there are a dozen good eating places in the downtown section which are available at most all times. A map of the downtown section will be furnished to show the location of restaurants.

Each of the hotels will have their dining room and coffee shop open at mealtimes.

TRANSPORTATION

Teams housed at the Marshall College Dorm will be able to park their cars at the rear of the dorm. Free bus transportation for these teams while competing will be furnished by Marshall College if the coach desires. He may make arrangements with Mr. Tom Bolyard, Supt. of Buildings and Grounds at Marshall College, or with this office.

Bus transportation from the hotels to the field house will be available on a continued basis throughout the playing times at the tournament. There are several parking lots and garages near the various hotels for coaches or school officials who wish to park their cars during the tournament.

Arrangements are being made to transport the press officials who wish, to the Field House and return. For those press and radio men and officials of the tournament who wish to drive to the Field House there will be parking space to the rear of the Field House. Admittance to this lot will be by pass only. Please secure yours at the time you get your badges.

TICKETS

School reservations will be in the hands of Mr. Bill Fugitt Executive Secretary, West Virginia High School Athletic Association. After they are satisfied, orders may be filled by writing Mr. Fugitt or R. A. Morris, Jr., Athletic Director, Marshall College. Individual game tickets will be sold at the games. Usual prices will prevail. (138)

PRACTICE

Any school arriving on Wednesday and wishing to practice that night may contact this office and a floor and time will be secured, courtesy of Cabell County Board of Education. The Field House floor will not be available for any high school after the Sectional Tournament.

(State Basketball Tournament)

HUNTINGTON, W. VA.---(MCIS)---Housing arrangements for the 42nd Annual State High School Basketball Tournament, to be held in Huntington March 17, 18, and 19, are being made to guarantee housing for basketball followers from all parts of the state, according to Harold Willey, Marshall College Dean of Men in charge of housing assignments.

The housing needs of competing basketball teams, spectators, coaching staffs and radio and press personnel have been accounted for, according to Willey, and Marshall College and the city of Huntington are ready to handle the resulting three-day influx in the city's population.

Separate quarters for each of the twelve competing teams will be assigned in Hodges Hall, men's dormitory on the Marshall campus, and the players will be segregated from all other dormitory residents.

Students attending the tournament who are not members of a team will be housed in private homes at a cost of $1 per night. Registration for student housing will be at the Greenhouse under the Marshall College Cafeteria, at 18th Street E. between 3rd Avenue and 5th Avenue, under the direction of William Powers, chairman of the Student Housing Committee.

Coaches' housing will be at the Prichard and Huntington Hotels, and sports writers, radio men and publicity personnel will be housed at the Frederick Hotel. Housing for school principals has been arranged at the Governor Cabell and the Fifth Avenue Hotels.

Students Compete For Prizes

Science Fair Rules Announced

Each contestant in the Marshall College Regional Science Fair April 15-16 may enter only one exhibit, but a school may enter as many as desired, Dr. N. B. Green, Marshall zoology professor and publicity chairman for the fair, announced today in listing the rules.

The fair will be held in the Green House of the college cafeteria building.

Financial sponsors are International Nickel Co., the Chamber of Commerce and The Advertiser.

Dr. D. P. Stewart, Marshall assistant professor of geology, is director.

Besides other important prizes to be given, grand winners, a boy and a girl, will receive a free trip to the National Science Fair at Cleveland May 12-14. The science teacher of each of the students will accompany them with all expenses paid.

The complete list of rules follows:

"1. This contest is open to students enrolled in any public, private or parochial high school (grades 10 through 12) in the tri-state area.

"2. Exhibits shall be entered in one or the other of the following groups:

A. Biological Sciences — botany, zoology, physiology, agriculture, forestry, public health, biological conservation.

"B. Physical Sciences — astronomy, chemistry, geology, physics, engineering, mathematics, conservation of land and minerals.

"3. Contestants shall be individuals and may enter one original exhibit only, which shall be built by the contestant himself. Teachers or sponsors may advise but must not build any part of the exhibit or install it. Exhibits must be self-explanatory by appropriate labels or otherwise.

"4. Entry blanks, properly filled-out, should be received not later than March 15, 1955, so that ample space may be provided for all exhibits.

"5. Exhibits must be confined (Con. on Page 4, in Col. 3)

Cap Smith Paces Tilt With 32

CHARLESTON, Feb. 17 — Coach Cam Henderson's current edition kept the Henderson tradition alive here tonight as they downed a stubborn Morris Harvey squad, 103-92, here tonight.

This victory is the 20th straight for Henderson coached teams over the Golden Eagles, M-H never having downed one of Cam's units.

However, tonight's contest was one of the most uncertain wins the Big Green has scored over the Golden Eagles. The score was knotted 11 times and coach Eddie King's cagers were leading 47-43 at the half time mark.

That lead was quickly destroyed as Marshall hit the Morris Harvey buckets with two quick fielders in the opening 30 seconds of the second half.

Dave Robinson opened up with a fielder on the Golden Eagles' buckets in the first 10 seconds. Charlie Slack then knotted the count with 30 seconds gone.

A fielder by Cebe Price then broke the second tie of the game and paved the way for the see-saw battle which followed.

The contest was knotted 10 times in this period and the Golden Eagles threatened to take the game right up until the final minutes.

The last tie came at the count of 79-79 with only 5:40 left to play. Marshall then broke the game wide open as Slack and Price collected two foul shots each, which they made.

After that, the Big Green took over and dominated the game, mainly through the aid of foul shots which over-eager Golden Eagles inflicted with a m a z i n g rapidity.

Slack sent the Big Green over the century mark with two foul shots and Ray Frazier and Frankie Crum added the final Marshall tallies, also on free throws. Marshall made their final nine points from the free throw lane.

Robinson paced the Big Green scoring with 27 points.

Morris Harvey's Cap Smith, high scorer of the first Big Green-Golden Eagle tilt this season, added another feather to his cap by repeating the feat, hitting 32 for M-H.

Marshall Plays Toledo Tonight, BG Monday

(Special to The Advertiser)
TOLEDO, O. — Marshall College's high-scoring Big Green basketball team starts a two-game Mid-American Conference road trip here tonight which will decide just how far the Huntington, W. Va., club can go in this year's race.

Tonight, Marshall, currently in third place with a 6-3 record, plays a return game with defending champion Toledo, a team which lost all but one letterman from last year. The Rockets are only 3-8 in the league as a result.

Monday, Marshall moves over to nearby Bowling Green for a game with the Falcons, second-place finishers in '54 but, like Toledo, a much weaker outfit this season. In ten Mid-American Conference games, Bowling Green has won but four.

Return Game Saturday

If Marshall can take both of these games, it will be in an excellent position to take the conference championship. Next Saturday, Bowling Green plays the Big Green in a return at Huntington and three days later league-leading Miami faces Marshall there.

About a month ago, Marshall came from behind in the final six minutes to whip Toledo in Huntington, 68-56.

In another MAC game tonight at Oxford, O., Miami meets cellar-dwelling Western Reserve. Miami's league record is 8-2 and Reserve's is a mediocre 2-7. If the Red Cats can upset Miami tonight and the Big Green can take its two road games out here, the West Virginians would be in a first place tie with Western Michigan (8-3) and Miami.

Weak On Road

But, Marshall has shown little strength away from home in the league this year, winning only one out of four. In Huntington, Marshall has a 5-0 MAC record.

The Big Green looked sharp in whipping Ohio for the second time Wednesday night and with two weak-sisters for competition this week end, might be able to break its road jinx.

Tonight's game, in the Toledo field house, starts at 8 o'clock.

Yma Sumac Appearance Is Different And Fascinating

By DOROTHY BUZEK

Something quite different and fascinating in the way of artistic entertainment was presented here last night when Yuma Sumac and her company of Incan dancers, singers and instrumentalists appeared at the Keith-Albee Theatre under auspices of the Marshall College Artists Series.

Miss Sumac, whose truly remarkable voice spans a five-octave range from contralto to coloratura, is one of the most commanding and handsome stage personalities ever to appear here. Her stately poise and striking appearance in the exquisite gowns she wears enhances her singing which last night enthralled a large and attentive audience.

The famed Peruvian singer, is said to be descended from Inca kings, sang songs of love, adoration, yearning, jealousy, lullabies and other music of her native land. One of the highlights of the unique evening was a number listed as "Chunchu" in which Miss Sumac imitated strange sounds of nature high in the Andes mountains.

Moises Vivanco, her husband, who appears to be a modest and unassuming man, accompanied her on the guitar and in several of the other songs she presented. Mr. Vivanco, who is credited with discovering and developing Miss Sumac's talent, composes and arranges her music and also directs the entire ensemble.

Last night's program was expertly arranged with Miss Sumac's appearances on stage interspersed with Andean dances, instrumental numbers—some of them featuring talented members of the ensemble in solo parts—and songs by other members of the company. A singer named "Cholita" joined Miss Sumac and Mr. Vivanco in some Andean folklore numbers that were especially appealing.

The spell cast by the more exotic and sometimes weird numbers dominating the program was broken at the right places with comic relief, provided mainly in the dances.

The entire company wore vivid and authentic costumes and the lighting effects were particularly effective and dramatic, causing the lovely Miss Sumac's gowns to change color in a fashion that was in keeping with her voice changes. One never knew when her voice would shift from a ladylike baritone to a soprano or even a coloratura and the whole effect was unusual, to put it mildly.

The Artists Series will next present the Philadelphia Orchestra on Friday, March 4.

Yma Sumac Will Appear Here Tonight

2.14.55 adv
Songs and dances of the Incan peoples of the Andes mountains will be exemplified by Yma Sumac and her company of singers and dancers this evening at 8:30 o'clock at the Keith-Albee Theatre. The performance will be under sponsorship of the Marshall College Artists Series.

The program of the company is of unique character. Miss Sumac will sing Incan love songs, lullabies, ancient chants and other songs drawn from the lore of Argentina, Peru and Bolivia, and other singers and instrumentalists will give a program of music from Incan sources.

Miss Sumac's husband, Moises Vivanco, will conduct the program, and has arranged all the selections which comprise her record albums. Mr. Vivanco, born in Peru of father of Inca ancestry and a Spanish mother, has arranged much of the ancient music of the region exclusively for his wife. Miss Sumac is famed particularly for the extraordinary range of her voice, from contralto to high coloratura in scope.

Standing room only tickets will be on sale at the door, according to Curtis Baxter, director of the Series. Tonight's concert will replace a Paul Gregory-Charles Laughton number originally scheduled, and all season tickets will be honored.

Bowling Green Faces Bobcats Today And Marshall Tomorrow

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio, Feb. 17. — A two game road test in Mid-American Conference competition faces the Bowling Green State University basketball team Friday and Saturday.

Ohio U. will give the Falcons their first battle Friday on the Athens court while Saturday the MAC's fifth-place club will travel on to Huntington, W. Va., to battle second place Marshall.

The Falcons defeated OU, 77-69, at home in January as the BG zone defense proved troublesome for the sharpshooting Bobcats. A victory over the southern Ohio five would boost the BG chances of gaining a first division berth.

Marshall and Bowling Green had a thrilling contest on the Falcon court earlier this week. The Big Green erased a 12-point BG lead early in the second half and held on to the final gun for a 91-89 win.

Coach Harold Anderson, experiencing his poorest season in 30 years of court coaching, doesn't anticipate any changes in his lineup for the trip. Jim Tucker, still holding down first place in the team scoring race with a 15.4 average, will team with 6 foot three Jim Reid at forwards. Reid has been impressive in the rebound department in the last few games.

Lanky Max Chapman, the team's third leading scorer with 200 points, will go at center. Captain Bill Rogers, the jump shot specialist and sophomore Lanny Miles handle the guards.

Tom Dakich, reserve guard, undoubtedly will see plenty of action. The Gary, Ind., junior hit 19 against Marshall and had 25 in the first OU game.

ST. ELMO FOX

St. Elmo Fox Dies After Heart Attack

Miss St. Elmo Fox, 1753 Sixth avenue, a music instructor at Marshall College for 36 years, died this morning at her home.

She complained of being ill at breakfast and sent the maid for a doctor. Upon the maid's return she was dead. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

Miss Fox attended Marshall College and graduated from the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music in 1918. She joined the Marshall faculty that year and had taught there since.

Miss Fox, a native of Huntington, was the daughter of the late Henry and Elizabeth Fox.

She was a member of the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church, Chapter 8, Order of Eastern Star, the Story Tellers League and state and national music educators' associations.

Survivors include a brother, D. W. Fox of Huntington, and several nieces and nephews.

The body is at the Steele Funeral Home where friends may call after 2 P. M. tomorrow.

Board Head To Be M. C. At Banquet

Raymond Brewster of Huntington, president of the West Virginia Board of Education, will be master of ceremonies at the banquet featuring the twenty-first annual Congress of the United High School Press of West Virginia in March.

Announcement of the selection was made today by Professor W. Page Pitt, head of the Marshall College Department of Journalism and UHSP executive secretary and founder.

The banquet is scheduled for 7 P. M. Saturday evening, April 30, in the Marshall College dining hall. Speaker for the banquet will be named later.

This feature of the congress is sponsored annually by the Huntington Publishing Co., and its president, Colonel J. H. Long. Colonel Long is known as "Daddy of the United High School Press."

The Chamber of Commerce luncheon is scheduled for Saturday, April 30, at 1 P. M.

Vespers Sunday Afternoon To Open 'Life Planning Week' At Marshall

"The Time of Your Life" will be the theme for the annual Life Planning Week which will consist of convocations, seminars, classroom circles in his city and state, and Friday through Thursday, and informal discussion sessions. Floyd Faust, pastor of the Broad Street Christian Church in Columbus, will be the featured speaker.

A period for religious emphasis on the campus, Life Planning Week will be held in Ohio. He has served in all phases of civic and religious work in the Columbus area and has received a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Ohio in 1935. Dr. Faust holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Wilmington College and a Master of Arts from Ohio State University. He received his Doctor of Philosophy degree from Ohio State in 1935.

Life Planning Week will begin with a vespers service in the Student Union Sunday at 4:30 P. M. and will be followed at 8:30 by a hymn sung directed by Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Eddowes, ministers of music at the First Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Faust will deliver five addresses based on his central theme "Living With Energy and Enthusiasm." His first two messages, "Something to Live On" and "Something to Live For", will be delivered in the Greenhouse Lounge Monday at 12:15 and 7:30 P. M.

"Someone to Live With" will be the topic of Dr. Faust's address in Old Main auditorium at 11 A. M. Tuesday. He will speak again Wednesday at 7:30 P. M. to a Greenhouse audience on the subject "Someplace to Go," and will make his "Summation" address in Old Main auditorium Thursday at 11 A. M.

During Life Planning Week ministers and laymen from local churches will speak to students in classes, when requested by the

adv 2.14.55
(Special to The Advertiser)

BOWLING GREEN, O. — Marshall's fighting basketball team, still in contention for the Mid-American Conference championship and a bid to the NCAA regionals, moves into town tonight for the first of two games this week with Bowling Green's Falcons.

Marshall, currently in third place with a 7-3 record, one and one-half behind league leading Miami with 8-2, handled Toledo quite easily in the second half Saturday night, 90-74. But, the Big Green needs both tonight's game here and the return in Huntington next Saturday to keep its hopes alive.

Miami, meanwhile, hosts Ohio at Oxford Tuesday and the Redskins will be out to avenge a close defeat the Bobcats handed them earlier this year at Athens. If Ohio does it again, a three-way deadlock for MAC honors will become a definite possibility because second place Western Michigan has an 8-3 record.

Meets Miami

After this week's games with Bowling Green, Marshall will play Miami in Huntington Tuesday, February 22, in what could be the biggest game of the year in the conference.

The victory over Toledo Saturday was the second of the season for Marshall against the Rockets. Unlike their first game in Huntington, Toledo, defending champions, elected to run with the fast-breaking Big Green in the first half which resulted in a phenomenal shooting dual. It ended deadlocked 46-all, with Marshall failing to draw a single personal foul.

The Rockets were out of gas completely in the second half scoring only 28 points while the tireless West Virginians, in great condition, poured in 44 more points despite a series of freezes and semi-freezes put on by Marshall. At one period late in the game

Local Boys Make Good With Frosh

The old story of local boy makes good certainly applies to three former area high school basketball players, at least as far as Marshall College athletics are concerned.

For, pacing the Marshall freshmen cage team this year and ranking one, two, three in scoring are Jack Freeman, formerly of Huntington high, Hal Greer, ex-Douglass standout and Dave Kirk, East star last season. Freeman tops the list with 26.4 points per game. Greer and Kirk aren't far apart; the Douglass grad is averaging 17.8 per tilt while Kirk's average is 17.4.

Also averaging in double figures for the Little Green is John Mayfield, former Coal Grove cager, with 11.5.

Freeman has collected 137 field goals and made good 69 of 99 free throw attempts for a total of 343 points in 13 games. His highest total for one game was 40, scored against Ashland Junior College. In that contest, he scored 20 field goals and no foul shots. The jump shot artist has yet to be ejected from a game on excessive fouls this year.

Life Planning Week Will Begin

By ROBERT WILLIS

Dr. Floyd Faust, pastor of the Broad Street Christian Church of Columbus and religious counselor at Ohio State University, will be featured speaker for Marshall College Life Planning Week observances. The event will begin Sunday with a hymn sing in the Student Union building at 8:30 P. M. and will close next Thursday with an 11 A. M. Convocation program in the Old Main Auditorium.

Life Planning Week is a religious emphasis week at Marshall and will consist of week-long programs concerning the spiritual life of the student. The program features convocations, seminars, sessions with fraternity and sorority groups and private conferences.

Hugh Fultz, Huntington senior, and Maywood Ellifritt, Greenwood junior, are co-chairmen for the event and stressed the fact that all programs will be open to the general public.

Dr. Faust received his Bachelor of Science degree from Wilmington College and later was awarded his Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts degrees from Ohio State University. He received his PhD degree from Ohio State in the field of philosophy in 1935.

He became pastor of the Broad Street Christian Church in 1929 and has since become one of the strongest and most influential ministers in Ohio. He has served in all phases of civic and religious circles in his city and state and was president of the Columbus Council of Churches for several years.

Dr. Faust is quite active on radio and television and carried for years a daily program, "Troubles Anonymous." He was the founder of "Alcoholics Anonymous" in Columbus and organized "Courage Incorporated" one of the nation's largest and most effective shut-in organizations.

College Lists Science Fair's Rules Monday

Watch The Advertiser Monday for a full list of rules governing entries in the Marshall College Regional Science Fair April 15-16.

Joining with the college in sponsoring the event are the International Nickel Co., the Chamber of Commerce and The Advertiser.

Important prizes will be given for winning exhibits, and the two top winners, a boy and a girl, will receive a free trip to Cleveland to enter the National Science Fair May 12-14.

Entering an exhibit may mean much more than a prize or a trip to Cleveland. It can lead to a brilliant career in some field of science.

All tri-state students in grades 10 through 12 are eligible to enter.

Don't miss the rules to be announced Monday by Dr. N. B. Green, professor of Zoology at Marshall and publicity chairman of the fair.

Noted Poet To Lecture At Marshall Tomorrow

Pulitzer Prize-winning Robert Hillyer, author of more than two dozen volumes of poetry, will address a Marshall College convocation tomorrow at 11 A. M.

Mr. Hillyer, one of America's major poets, was born in East Orange, N. J. He received his preparatory education at Kent School and following his graduation from Harvard and World War I service in France, he studied for a year in Copenhagen, Denmark, as a fellow of the American-Scandinavian Foundation.

For nineteen years, Mr. Hillyer was a professor of English literature at Harvard University. He taught for two years at Trinity College in Connecticut and was awarded an honorary degree upon completion of his stay there. He also served for two years at Kenyon College and, for the past year, he taught at the University of Delaware.

Robert Hillyer's poetry has won a world-wide audience, and his "Collected Poems" won the 1934 Pulitzer Prize. His latest book of poetry, "The Suburb by the Sea" published in 1952, was a collection of light satirical verses which delighted readers of The New Yorker and The Atlantic Monthly.

Other books include "The Death of Captain Nemo," and "Pattern for A Day," "Poems for Music;" the latter an outgrowth of his love and understanding for music.

2 Garage Buildings Hit By Fire

Fires yesterday and Saturday seriously damaged garage apartment buildings here and at Wayne.

Yesterday, as President Stewart H. Smith of Marshall College was eating lunch with his family at the president's home 1636 Fifth Avenue, flames were seen inside the garage at the rear of the home.

Firemen were called. The fire caused an estimated $1,200 damage. Woodwork in the garage was burned and a garage apartment occupied by two Marshall students was damaged by water.

The cause of the fire was not determined. It started in the vicinity of a gas heating stove in the garage proper. Dr. Smith's car was not in the garage at the time.

On Saturday at Wayne, according to members of the Volunteer Fire Department, a fire broke out in a garage apartment building at the rear of the Fry Motor Sales Co. The apartment area was damaged by fire as was the downstairs garage area. The cause of the fire was not immediately known.

Meanwhile, Fire Chief John W. Gallagher reported that an East End housewife summoned firemen yesterday after feeling what she believed to be the effects of carbon monoxide gas.

Firemen said that stoves in a room in which Mrs. T. C. Moberley of 2661 Fourth Avenue was doing family washing were not properly vented and that she would have become more seriously ill had she not summoned aid.

Chief Gallagher said Mrs. Moberley's call was added evidence of public alarm over the danger of unvented stoves and hot water heaters. More than 30 persons have recently been victims of carbon monoxide gas here.

2,842 Are Now Listed At College

By DOROTHY BUZEK

Marshall College's total enrollment for the second semester of the current school year is 2,842 students, a gain of 18 per cent over the same period last year, it was announced today by Luther E. Bledsoe, registrar and director of admissions.

There are 439 more students registered this term than were registered for the second semester of the 1953-54 year, almost the entire gain being in full-time enrollment, Mr. Bledsoe said.

Vet Enrollment Jumps

Full-time enrollment at present is 2,091 students, a 26 per cent increase over the comparable period last year, and part-time enrollment is 751 students, a one per cent gain.

There has been a great increase in the number of veterans of the Korean war.

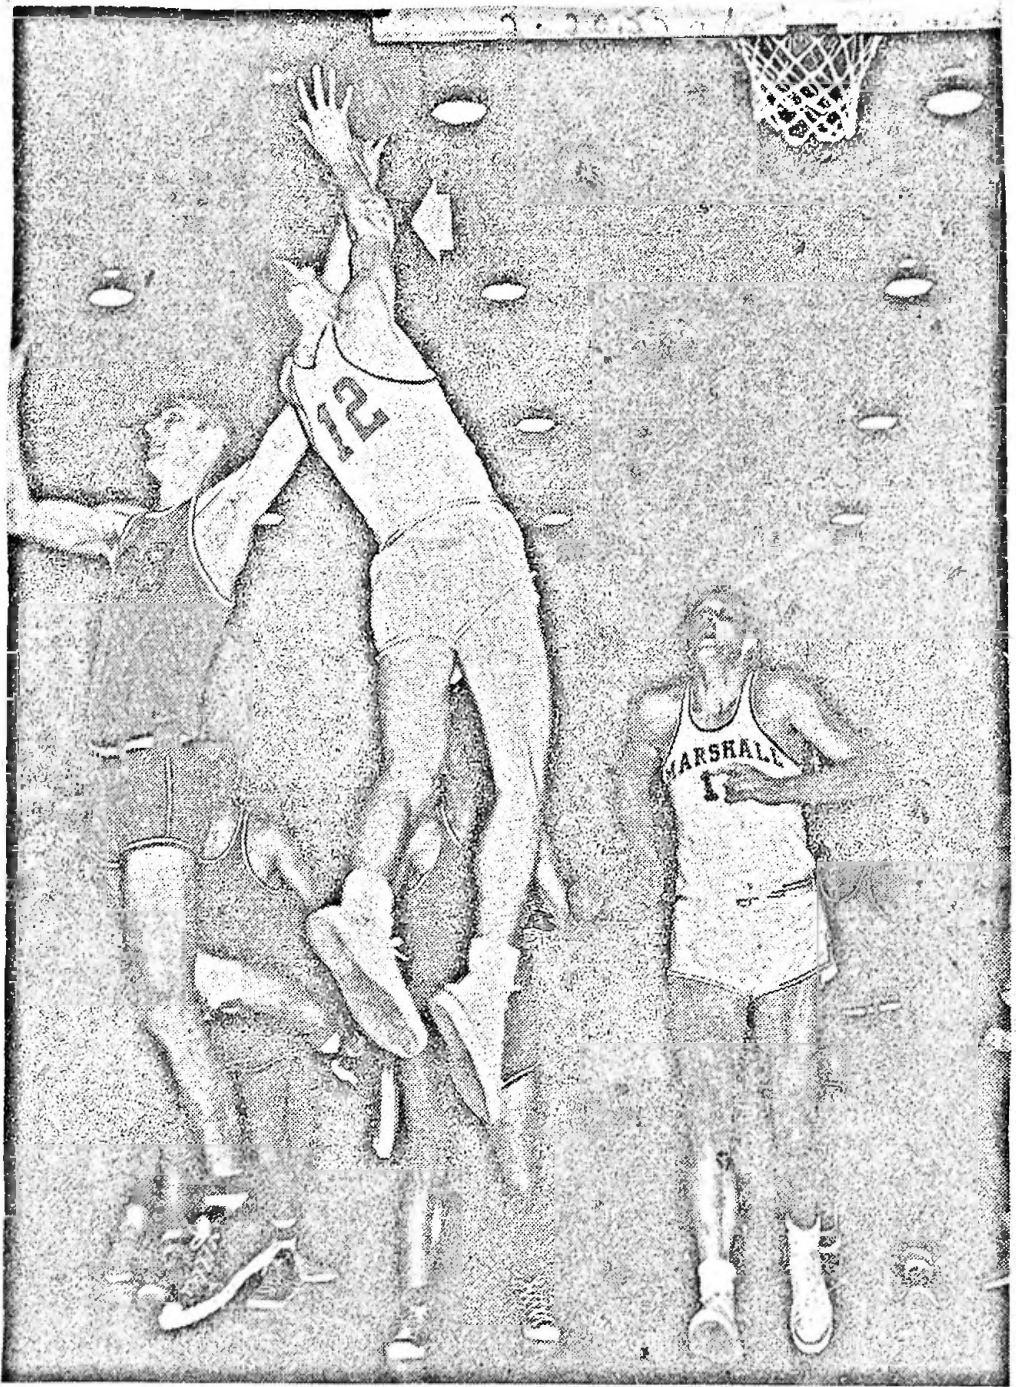

Last year at this time there were 97 such veterans enrolled. This semester there are more than 450 of them.

Enrollment by colleges this term is as follows: College of Arts and Sciences, 1,463, a gain of 24 per cent over last year; Teachers College, 1,026, an increase of 16 per cent, and Graduate School, 353, a gain of three per cent.

Mr. Bledsoe said part-time enrollment and that of the Graduate School remains fairly stationary from year to year.

Slack Second In Rebounds Under New NCAA System

NEW YORK, Feb. 19. (AP)—The NCAA Service Bureau today came up with a new statistical formula for judging point performance and listed Tulsa's Bob Patterson as the No. 1 scorer in major college basketball on a "percentage of opportunity" basis.

The statistics gimmick rates a player according to the amount of scoring he is responsible for in the total points by and against his team.

In Patterson's case, through games of Feb. 12, the two teams have totaled 2,585 points in Tulsa's 21 contests. Patterson contributed 552—or 21.4 per cent of all the scoring. That's the best individual contribution in the nation.

UNDER THE normal system of ranking a player on a game average basis, Patterson is No. 11 with 26.3. In comparison, Darrell Floyd of Furman, who tops the collegians with a 35.5 game average, is only the fourth-ranked scorer under the new system, tossing in just 19.3 per cent of the total points in games played by the Paladins, highest scoring team in the nation.

By the "percentage of opportunity" system, Ohio State's Robin Freeman, now withdrawn from college because of injury and illness, is the runnerup to Patterson with 19.6 per cent and Fordham's

Lambda Chi Fraternity Buys New House Here

Members of Zeta Zeta Zeta chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha social fraternity at Marshall College recently purchased and moved into an eight room frame house located at 1701 Fifth avenue. The chapter formerly occupied and leased residences at 1344 Third avenue.

Professor Berkley R. Shafer, a member of the college physics department and adviser to the local chapter, said that at least three major improvements are planned in the new house. These include the conversion of the third floor into a chapter meeting room and office space, adding additional shower facilities, and in a few years the addition of a two-story annex.

The local chapter has initiated 214 men at Marshall and includes in its membership fifteen members of the Marshall faculty including three deans. The chapter recently won a trophy for having the highest scholastic average of all chapters in the fraternity for the year 1952-53. They have won the campus interfraternity scholarship trophy for six consecutive semesters.

Big Green Trips M-H On Fouls

(Special to The Advertiser)

CHARLESTON — Mid-America Conference foe Bowling Green is next for Marshall's Thundering Herd after a 103-92, triumph over scrappy Morris Harvey here Thursday night.

Marshall will face Bowling Green Saturday night at the Memorial Field House in Huntington. It will be the second meeting of the two this season, Marshall taking the first tilt, 91-89, on Monday."

Some 2,500 fans turned out at the Morris Harvey Gym to watch Marshall take the 21st game in a row in its traditional rivalry with the Golden Eagles and 15th of the season against three setbacks.

Marshall Outgoaled

Outgoaled and out-rebounded, Marshall won the game at the foul line, making 35-of-42 charity tosses. Morris Harvey, with a 37-34 edge from the field, counted on only 18-of-32 free throw. In the rebound department, Morris Harvey pulled down 40, Marshall 38.

Dave Robinson and Charley Slack, the nation's leading rebounder, sparked the Big Green after it trailed at the intermission, 47-43.

Robinson scored 19 points in the second half to lead Marshall's attack with 27. Slack got 17 points and had 24 for the night although his total of 19 rebounds fell six below his average.

Tied Nine Times

The score was tied nine times in the second half before Slack's pair of fouls gave Marshall an 81-79 lead with 5:39 remaining in the game.

Cebe Price, who had 19 points for the game, followed with two more free throws to cement the lead. Morris Harvey closed the gap to 85-82, but faltered after that with Marshall leading at one point, 100-86.

Slack's two foul shots with 37 seconds remaining put the Herd over the century mark for the fifth time this season. Slack left the game on personals with only 29 seconds remaining.

Lead Early

Marshall held a 16-6 lead early in the game only to see the Golden Eagles tie it at 27-27 and move out in front, 29-28, with 6:43 left in the first half.

Morris Harvey kept that lead until Marshall scored three successive goals early in the second half for a 49-47 margin.

Following Robinson, Slack and Price for Marshall was Paul Underwood with 18 points and Lewis Burns with 10. Brisben (Cap) Smith was again the big gun for Morris Harvey with 32 points. Smith got 19 in the first half, making nine-of-15 shots from the field. Center Jim Vandall got 24 and forward Dana Kirk 18 for Morris Harvey.

The loss was the 10th for Morris Harvey against 13 victories and closed the Eagles regular season activity.

Big Green Plays M-H Tomorrow

After going through a full card last night, the area's high school basketball teams have practically the same thing staring them in the face this Friday as seven games are set for that date.

No games are scheduled for tonight and only one for tomorrow when Marshall high hosts Duval. Another game tomorrow, out of the high school ranks, finds Marshall College's Big Green, fresh from a 91-89 victory over Bowling Green Monday night, going to Charleston to meet Morris Harvey.

Seven games were played last night, as Huntington Vinson won at Point Pleasant, 73-62, host East edged Ironton, O., 64-60, Wayne defeated visiting St. Joe, 73-65, Logan won over invader Barbourville, 72-55, Fort Gay got by Buffalo, 74-69, Douglass beat Accoville here, 81-72, and Marshall found Wahama too much trouble in Mason City, 64-51.

On Friday night's card, St. Joe visits Point Pleasant, Vinson goes to Buffalo, C-K hosts East, Marshall plays at Fort Gay, Barbourville invades Montgomery, Milton entertains Wayne and Douglass plays at Coal Grove.

Marshall's MAC Hopes In Jeopardy

By BOB PHILLIPS

Marshall College's hopes for a first place berth in the Mid-American Conference and an automatic spot in the NCAA tourney again hang in the balance as Bowling Green visits the Big Green tonight at 8 P. M. in Memorial Field House.

Cam Henderson's crew, fresh from Thursday night's hard-won 103-92 victory over Morris Harvey, faces a formidable foe tonight even though Bowling Green is the MAC's fifth ranking team with a 4-6 slate.

Marshall's basketballers faced the Falcons on their home court last Monday and limped away with a 91-89 win as Bowling Green gave them scare after scare in the tight, thrill packed fray.

Bowling Green comes here tonight from Athens, O., where they faced the Bobcats. They previously beat the Ohio U. cagers by a 77-69 count at Bowling Green.

For a common foe comparison, Bowling Green was able to give Miami's conference leading cagers a scare as they fought back to allow the Redskins to squeak by with only a 78-75 victory.

2.19.55
lis
Cam Henderson's men, on the other hand, were downed by a much larger Miami margin, the score standing at 89-74 for the tilt.

Starting the game tonight for Marshall will probably be the same quintet Cam sent out to face Morris Harvey Thursday.

That is: Dave Robinson and Cebe Price at the forward posts, "Mr. Rebound" Charlie Slack at center, and Paul Underwood and Lewis Burns at guard.

Robinson led the Big Green scoring in the last tilt, hitting for 10 fielders and a 7-for-9 record at the free throw lane for a total of 27 points.

Slack, the nation's top rebounder, turned in his usual sterling performance and followed it up with 24 points to come in a close second to Robinson in the scoring department.

Price, Underwood and Burns came up with the remainder of the scoring, all hitting in the double digit column.

Coach Harold Anderson brings to town a well balanced outfit paced by forward Jim Tucker who was hitting a 15.4 per game at the buckets before last night's game with Ohio U.

SLACK GRABS 32 REBOUNDS

By FRED BURNS

Herald-Advertiser Sports Editor

Marshall's Big Green basketball team turned back Bowling Green 91-69 last night at Memorial Field House to pull up into a second place tie in the Mid-American Conference.

The victory set the stage for the "big one" for the Big Green. Their next game is Tuesday night when they meet the Miami Redskins at Memorial Field House. Miami won last night over Kent State 91-61 and now lead the Mid-American Conference with an 11-2 record. Marshall and Western Michigan are tied for second with marks of 9-3.

Miami is now assured of at least a tie for their only remaining game is the one here Tuesday. Marshall completes the conference schedule at Western Reserve next Saturday. Western Michigan plays at Bowling Green Tuesday night and meets Ohio University Saturday.

If Marshall wins their remaining two and Western Michigan takes their two there will be a three way tie with Miami and a playoff for the conference title will be necessary, to decide who represents the MAC in the NCAA tournament at Lexington, Ky.

The Falcons who had forced Marshall to the limit last Monday night at Bowling Green before the Big Green squeezed by with a two-point victory, were just not in it last night, at least after Marshall staged a 14-point rally midway of the first half and broke the game wide open.

Until this rally Bowling Green had made a fairly even game out of it. After being behind 6-2, Bowling Green moved up to nose out in front by one point 7-6 after about two minutes of play but Dave Robinson's rebound goal put Marshall in front and they were ahead from then on.

With 12 minutes left in the first half Marshall only led by 18-16 but six points stretched their lead to eight points. Then after the Falcons hit for two fielders to out Marshall's lead to four.

It was at this point that the roof fell in on the Falcons. The Big Green, with Cebe Price, Paul Underwood and Charlie Slack doing the scoring, dropped in 14 straight points to break the game open. In this rally Price netted two fielders and two foul goals, Underwood got one fielder and two fouls and Slack netted two fielders.

This ran Marshall's edge to 18 points and the Falcons with Captain Bill Rogers leading the scoring managed to pick up six of these points by half time when Marshall held the lead 42-30.

DURING THE first half Underwood took four shots from way back and swished all four of them in. He didn't miss a long one until four minutes of the second half had passed.

As the second half got under way Marshall moved out to a 19-point lead 70-51 and when Bowling Green rallied to cut the lead to 12 points with three minutes to go, the Big Green turned on the steam again with Price, Underwood and Robinson doing the scoring and ran their advantage to 22 points.

Captain Rogers' 33 points was tops for the game but he was the only Bowling Green player in double figures. Marshall had four.

Slack grabbed off 32 rebounds just half of Marshall's 64.

FROM: Bob Null, Sports Publicity Director, Marshall College, Huntington, West Virginia

Marshall's Big Green basketball team will take to the road to play its last regular season game against Western Reserve at Cleveland, Ohio Saturday night. The Western Reserve-Marshall game will have a very important bearing on the final Mid-American Conference standings.

Marshall is in second place in the conference only a half a game behind the Redskins of Miami University and a win would give the Big Green a tie for the conference crown. If Marshall wins the Western Reserve game, then a play-off would be held between Miami and Marshall to see who would represent the MAC in the NCAA Tournament.

Marshall is hoping that they don't run into the same trouble that Western Michigan did at Bowling Green last Tuesday night. Western Michigan was in the running for the crown, but Bowling Green beat them. Marshall knows that Western Reserve will be hard to cope with, because Marshall beat Reserve in its first game of the season at Huntington by only six points, 90-84. In that game, Western's center Dick Howard rimmed the buckets for 39 points, and at the present time Howard is leading the conference in scoring and seems a sure bet to break the conference scoring mark set by Marshall's Walt Walowac.

The pressure will be on Marshall Saturday night, but it has been on now for almost a month. Marshall was beaten on a road trip by Kent State and Western Michigan, and from then on every game was a "must win" game for the Henderson men. After the two defeats Marshall hit the come-back trail and won seven in a row, five of the seven wins were against conference opponents, the other two wins were against Morris Harvey College.

Marshall's last game was against Miami at Huntington, with Marshall surprising Miami by the score of 89-77. Miami played a good game, but Marshall played its greatest game of the year by hitting 50 per cent of its shots. Charlie Slack, who got only 15 rebounds at Oxford played an outstanding rebound game by pulling down 26 rebounds against the taller Redskins, and scoring 16 points. Fast break middle-man Cebe Price was the high scorer of the game with 26, while his old high school running mate from South Charleston, Paul Underwood, hit for 22 points, with most of them coming on long set shots.

HUNTINGTON, W. VA.---(MCIS)---The only person who has "seen them all", 89 year-old Mrs. A. A. Rohrbough of Camden, Lewis County, is looking forward to attending her 42nd West Virginia State High School Basketball Tournament in Huntington March 17, 18 and 19. She hasn't missed one since they started in 1914.

Mrs. Rohrbough has been recognized as the Tournament's First Lady since 1934, and for the past 20 years has been honored in a floor ceremony on the opening day of each tournament. This year will be no exception.

"Yes indeed I'm looking forward to this year's tournament," she said in a telephone interview. "My plans have been materializing for some time and I expect to be there."

The "First Lady" had originally planned to fly to Huntington for the tournament, but due to a long layover in Charleston she has decided to drive here with her son, John, who "wanted to see the tournament anyway." While in Huntington she will stay with her granddaughter, Mrs. W. F. Ashford of 1207 10th Avenue. 169

Mrs. Rohrbough has seen three famous athletic sons play for Buckhannon in the tournament. John and Henry played around 1916-19 and later starred in all sports at West Virginia Wesleyan College.

(Tournament's First Lady---2)

Nate, who saw action in the tournament from 1919-22, helped give his mother one of her greatest thrills when Buckhannon won the Championship in 1921-and 1922. He later was an all-around athlete at West Virginia University and coached at Glenville College.

It hasn't been easy to maintain the distinction of having never missed a State Tournament, according to Mrs. Rohrbough, and several times when the big event has come up she has been ill. "There were times when I thought up to the last minute I wouldn't make it, and several times I went to the tournament when I shouldn't have," she said.

But attending all of the past 41 tournaments has been worth the effort, in her opinion, and over the years she has renewed old acquaintances and made many new friends throughout the State.

When asked what she thought of this year's tournament being played in Huntington, Mrs. Rohrbough answered, "I think it will be a change that will help draw a lot of new people into the tournament --- people from the southern part of the state who couldn't make the trip to Morgantown before." 170

Although basketball is her favorite sport, her interest isn't restricted to that sport alone, as she attends many sporting events throughout the year as just a "fan."

As to the outcome of the tournament, Mrs. Rohrbough hasn't picked a winner yet and any pre-tournament predictions will have to wait until after the regional games are played.

The last time Mrs. Rohrbough was in Huntington was in 1940 when she attended a state meeting of the "Order of the Eastern Star."

Henderson Club Never Behind While Turning Back Redskins 89-77

By FRED BURNS

An inspired Marshall College basketball team which refused to be beaten, took charge from the start and then out raced the Miami Redskins 89-77 last night at Memorial Field House before a standing-room-only crowd, the largest to ever see a collegiate game in Huntington.

Some 7,000 fans jammed their way into every available space to see the Big Green hand the Redskins their third loss in conference play and make it possible for Marshall to gain a first place tie in the conference race.

The tie will come about if Marshall can defeat Western Reserve in Cleveland in their final conference game of the season next Saturday night. A win over Western Reserve will leave Marshall and Miami deadlocked at 11 wins and three losses each and bring about a playoff to decide the Mid-American representative in the NCAA tournament.

Western Michigan has had a chance to make it a three-way tie but they were defeated last night by Bowling Green 80-68.

Originally it had been announced that the Marshall-Miami playoff would be held at the Denison University field house in Granville, Ohio on March 4 or 5, but last night Johnny Brickels, athletic director of Miami said he would propose that the game be played in the new University of Cincinnati armory. "We wouldn't draw near as many at Granville as we would at Cincinnati," said Brickels. "I know that the Marshall fans and the Huntington people like to go to Cincinnati and I am going to see if we can arrange the game to be played there either on March 4 or 5. They have a high school tournament on one of those dates and we could play on the other, whichever ever it is."

Marshall was never behind in last night's game and the Redskins did manage to tie the score five times. Four of these were in the early minutes of the game and the other was in the latter five minutes of the first half when Miami managed to come up from an eight point deficit to gain a deadlock at 34-34. However Marshall was back in front by seven points in a little over a minute and held a five point edge 43-38 at half time.

The figures really tell the story of the game for Marshall took 73 shots and made 37 fielders for slightly better than 50 per cent while the Redskins shot 80 times and hit 34 which gave them 42.5 per cent and that will win 90 per cent of the games.

You'll have to praise the Marshall players as a team for all of them were heroes and they took turns coming through in the clutch. First it was Lewis Burns who scored 12 points but ten of that 12 in the first seven minutes of the game and that helped hold off the Redskins who were shooting with Marshall point for point.

Then of course Big Charlie Slack picked off 26 rebounds for his share of the honors. And Dave Robinson was his usual self despite a weak ankle which he had hurt in the Bowling Green game.

He might have been a shade under his normal speed but it didn't slow down his cunning and fancy work with Cebe Price.

But that sophomore pair of Cebe Price and Paul Underwood played like a couple of real veterans and they also grabbed off top scoring honors, Price high for the evening with 26 and Underwood with 22.

Several of Underwood's were from way out and served to break the Redskins' back on many occasions.

All five of the Marshall starters were in double figures, Slack with 16, Robinson 13 and Burns 12, and all of the Miami starters also hit in double figures. Bill

But the Redskins did not quit and started a press which slowed the Big Green and helped Miami get the margin down to eight points but a goal by Slack on the tail end of a freeze, a pair of foul goals by Underwood when he drew the free shots by the freeze and a steal by Price who dribbled in for a layup, let all the wind out of the Miami sails as Marshall was again 14 on top and just a minute and a few seconds to go.

This was the first Marshall victory over Miami since 1939 when the Big Green won 46-29. Since then Miami has won seven straight but the 1939 victory for Marshall was six in a row over the Redskins.

Kennon led with 17 and Charley Fox and Tom Bryant had 16 each, Don Barnette 12 and Dick Klitch 10. Any hope Miami had of catching the Big Green faded fast when Underwood hit for two fielders and Slack tipped one in for three straight to run the Marshall lead to 14 points when there was eight minutes left to play.

There was an indication that Miami couldn't when the second half started and a pair of fielders by Price gave Marshall a nine point lead. The Redskins fought back and tried to cut into the Marshall edge but each time the Big Green fought them off and slowly added a few points to their margin until it reached 14.

That's when the standing-room-only crowd started smelling blood and from then on out there was a constant roar especially when the Big Green got a bit fancy by starting a freeze and then working someone loose for a goal. They did that three times, scoring either a fielder or drawing a foul and collecting the free shots.

TWO MORE POINTS — Cebe Price, Marshall's high-scoring forward who again proved invaluable to the Big Green machine last night, lets one go from the "keyhole slot" to score two points, part of his 26 markers which won him individual scoring honors. The face and legs behind Miami's Tom Bryant, No. 97, belong to "Mr. Rebound" Charlie Slack, who is intently interested in the results of the shot, ready to go up for that all-important rebound. Marshall beat Miami, 89-77.

Now Is Time To Start Work On Entry For Science Fair

All right, boys and girls. It's time to start improving your collections of leaves, twigs, shells, stones or fossils, plant your hydroponics gardens, breed your tropical fish, collect your insect eggs, butterflies or moths, work up your chemical or physical experiments and build your telescopes, mass spectrographs, Geiger counters and radio transmitters.

Huntington is going to have another Regional Science Fair April 15-16, and the deadline for entering is March 15.

The fair will be in the Green House of the cafeteria building under the sponsorship of Marshall College financial sponsors are the Chamber of Commerce, the International Nickel Co. and The Advertiser.

A shortage of scientists, engineers and technologists exists right now, and will continue for many years. You may have the ability and desire to make science or engineering your life work. One step in the right direction is to make a good scientific exhibit which you can show at the local fair.

Science is fun, too. Aside from the thrill you will get by being a contestant, there will be awards, of course. In fact, the two exhibits judged best, together with their exhibitors will be sent to the National Science Fair, Case Institute of Technology and Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio, May 12-14, all expenses paid.

Each of these winners will receive the rainbow-ribboned, solid gold and silver finalist medal of the National Science Fair and have a chance to share in the sizable scientific equipment awards. At Cleveland there will be a round of meetings with the nation's leading scientists, visits to laboratories and sightseeing.

Of course, making an exhibit for display at the Fair does not mean that you will ultimately become a scientist or engineer. But you will know a lot more about science than the person who does not enter the competition.

Remember that regardless of age, within the limits set by the rules, your exhibit will be compared with those made by others of your own school age. You have as much chance at the local or national awards as any other exhibitor. Your folks will be proud if your exhibit is good enough to even rate showing. Your teachers and school will share in your success. You have a good chance for honors.

Paper To Give Ideas

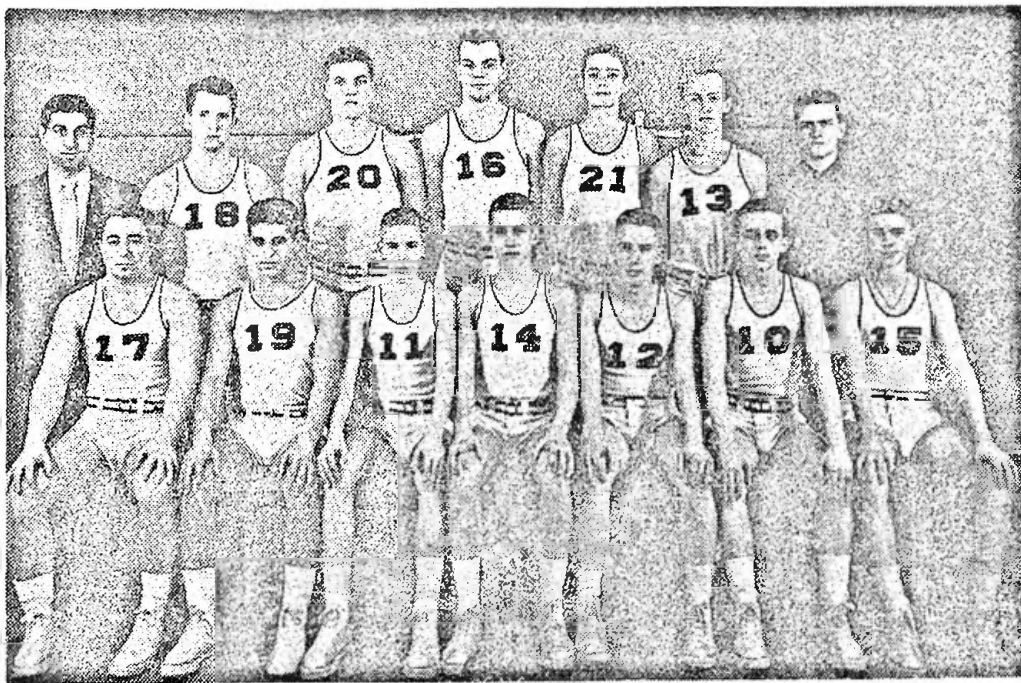

Get started now on a project. Develop some experiment or inquiry that you have been working on, or start something new. You can discuss your ideas with your fellow students and club members and teachers.

Even though the science fair is some time away, an early beginning will produce a better result.

Articles being published in The Advertiser will give you suggestions. But your best exhibit will be worked out by yourself using your own ideas.

College Summer Faculty Approved

The State Board of Education yesterday approved arrangements made by Marshall College for the first six-weeks summer session beginning June 6.

Recommendations of Dr. Stewart H. Smith, president of Marshall, for employment of summer faculty members were submitted to the board at a session in Charleston. Except for six to be designated later, all of the instructors will be members of the regular staff.

The budget for the first six weeks of the summer session totals $73,788, the college reported.

Blaze Damages Apartment Of Marshall Prexy

Fire yesterday caused damage estimated at $1,200 to the garage and garage apartment behind the residence of Dr. Stewart H. Smith, president of Marshall College, 1636 Fifth avenue.

The cause of the blaze, which damaged woodwork in the garage and caused water damage to the apartment, occupied by two college students, was not known. Firemen said it started close to a gas heating stove in the garage. Dr. Smith's car was not in the garage at the time.

On Saturday at Wayne, a fire broke out in a garage apartment building at the rear of Fry's motor Sales. The apartment area was damaged by fire as was the downstairs garage. The Wayne Volunteer Fire Department fought the blaze.

Meanwhile, Fire Chief John W. Gallagher reported that Mrs. T. C. Moberley of 2661 Fourth avenue, summoned firemen yesterday after what she thought to be the effects of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Firemen said stoves in a room where the woman was washing were not properly vented and she would have become more seriously ill had she not called for aid.

City firemen also answered three false alarms, two before midnight and one at 4 A. M. today.

Can Throw MAC Into 3-Way Tie

By BOB PHILLIPS

Marshall's Big Green puts all of their eggs in one basket tonight when they play Miami of Ohio at the Field House in the tilt which may decide the outcome of the hot Mid-American-Conference race.

Game time is 8 P. M.

MAC games tonight could throw the outcome into a three way tie if:

Marshall, now in a second place tie with Western Michigan, both with identical 9-3 MAC records, beats Miami and goes on to whip Western Reserve next Saturday.

Western Michigan whips Bowling Green tonight and downs Ohio U.'s Bobcats on the same night again, next Saturday.

This would throw the conference race into a three-way tie, Miami, Marshall and Western Reserve all with 11-3 records.

Conference officials announced yesterday that, in the event of such a tie, they are considering neutral floors in Dayton, Granville and Cincinnati on Feb. 28 and March 1 as the time and place to break such a three-way knot for top honors.

Marshall's performance has forced the conference officials to start thinking of such a play-off since they have won every game this season which they have played on their home court.

If Marshall defeats Miami tonight, the Big Green and the Broncos are heavy favorites to down next Saturday's foes and bring about the play-off for the MAC crown and an automatic berth in the NCAA tourney.

Henderson's crew has compiled individual scoring records in the MAC which show four starters hitting in the double figures, sophomore forward Cebe Price leading with a 23.7 average per game.

Big Charlie Slack, the nation's leading rebounder, is also a stand-out in this column as he comes up a close second to Price with an average of 19.8.

Rounding out the scoring in this department are Paul Underwood and Dave Robinson, with 18.9 and 14.7 per game respectively.

These four are the probable starters tonight with either Frankie Crum or Lewis Burns, both who have been turning in outstanding performances, filling in the fifth position.

Miami's Redskins will arrive in Huntington today at 3 P. M., traveling by plane in order to arrive fresh and ready for Marshall tonight.

Last Saturday the Redskins displayed a rebounding ability which helped them dominate Kent State, 65-45.

Pacing Miami to the win over Kent was Don Barnette, who collected 17 points. Starting with Barnette tonight will be Tom Bryant, high MAC scorer for the Redskins with a 15.12 average, Dick Klitch and Bill Kennon who are also averaging in double figures, and Charles Fox, one of Miami's top rebounders.

2.22.55 llio

173

Since Marshall's starting five includes four players hitting in the double digit bracket, including "Mr. Rebound" Slack, the Big Green, on their home floor, may revenge the earlier 89-74 whippin at Oxford by Miami.

At any rate, tonight promises to be the best games Big Green fans will see this season.

(Marshall Symphonic Choir ---1)

The Marshall College Symphonic Choir has accepted an invitation to appear in concert at the Music Educators National Conference at New Orleans, La., March 24-29, it was announced yesterday by Dr. C. L. Kingsbury, head of the Marshall College department of music.

The choir, directed by Professor R. Wayne Hugoboom, has been chosen by music educators as one of the outstanding college choirs in the southern states. (176)

The choir will appear in formal concert at the ~~concert~~ conference Monday, March 28, for the division of higher education to perform and illustrate choral selections for the college level. Professor Hugoboom will lead the discussion at this general session on the subject "Criteria for Choosing and Performing Choral Works at the College Level."

Professor Hugoboom will use the choir to illustrate performance possibilities for smaller or unbalanced units, and the changing of parts necessitated under actual teaching conditions in various schools.

"This will be the first attempt to attack ~~the~~ and solve realistically the ever-present problem of many choral directors in the conference," Dr. Kingsbury said.

Before the concert, the choir will have a two-hour rehearsal period on Saturday and Sunday afternoons which will be observed by other students and faculty members. "This will give them a chance," said Dr. Kingsbury, "to follow the building of a heterogeneous group into a choral unit in two rehearsal periods."

For its formal concert on Monday, the Symphonic Choir will present a compact program which will include two selections written especially for ~~this~~ this group. The two selections are "The Hollow Men," by Erickson and "Psalm 150" by Newbury, both of which will be presented for the first time. Other selections will include: "Let Thy Holy Presence," by Tschesnokov; "O Magnum Mysterium," Victoria; "Trois Chansons (in French), Debussy, and "Es Hat Sich Heut' Eroffnet," an Austrian Carol. (17)

Professor Hogoboom has been further honored by being chosen as director of a two-day reading clinic for ~~the~~ "MENC," which is a national group of students members attending the conference. About 150 student members are enrolled in the chorus. The Marshall Symphonic Choir will assist in the clinic as participants and as a demonstration

The Symphonic Choir will also appear in concert while en route to New Orleans, with concerts scheduled at Chattanooga, Tenn., Vicksburg, Miss, and in New Orleans on ~~Satur~~ Sunday ~~x~~ evening. The choir will return to Huntington immediately following the performance on Monday.

As a means of financing ^{the} trip to New Orleans, the Symphonic Choir, assisted by both the A Capella and the Men's Concert Choirs, has initiated a fund raising campaign by presenting concerts and other scheduled events. ~~As~~ one observer put it, "the choir literally ~~is~~ plans to sing its way to New Orleans and back."

A Choir Benefit Dance is ~~is~~ planned next Wednesday evening (March 2) at the Student Union, at which time the Symphonic Choir will appear in a "Penny Serenade." This will be the first in a series of "penny serenade" programs. The Men's Concert Choir plans to follow it up with another at the Student Union the following day at 11 a. m. All students and friends of the choir are being urged to save their pennies and donate them to the choir. (78)

The choirs are eager to sing either a concert or vesper ~~service~~ for any group that will sponsor them during the fund drive.

MC Wrestlers To Meet Miami In Final Match

2.24.55 adv
Marshall College's winless wrestling team goes into its final match of the season Saturday at 2 P. M. against Miami before entering the Mid-American Conference grappling tourney next week end at Bowling Green.

Eight matches, including an exhibition bout, has been scheduled for the college gym Saturday.

Despite their bad record, Marshall boasts two fine grapplers in 167 pound Charley Tanner, former state champion, and heavyweight Bill Harris, only once-beaten in MAC events this year.

Lineup for Saturday's matches, with Miami men listed first are: Exhibition-Bob Rychik vs. Don Willis; 130 pounds-Wendell Gabier vs. Dwayne Ryder; 137-Bruce Harris vs. Don (Morty) Cartmill; 147-Tom Robinson vs. Jerry Bernhardt; 157-Terry Stanton vs. Don Adkins; 167-Dick Frate vs. Charley Tanner; 177-Carroll Knight vs. Dick Bryan; Heavyweight-Pete Davidson vs. Bill Harris.

Marshall Must Whip Reserve

OXFORD, Ohio, Feb. 23. (AP)—Mid-American Conference officials are considering a Cincinnati site if a playoff is necessary to decide the MAC basketball champion.

Miami has finished its league season with a 11-3 record to hold first place honors. Marshall could gain a tie Saturday night by defeating last place Western Reserve.

Dr. David E. Reese, MAC commissioner, announced earlier in the week that the playoff would be held at Denison University at Granville, Ohio.

But John L. Brickels, athletic director at Marshall, and Robert Morris, Marshall athletic director, asked that a Cincinnati site be considered. They conferred by telephone today with Chic Mileham, athletic director at the University of Cincinnati, to see if the new UC fieldhouse could be secured for Friday, March 4.

Cincinnati would be more accessible to the student bodies of both schools than Denison.

Mileham indicated a decision on the availability of the fieldhouse would be made this week.

No playoff would be necessary if Western Reserve knocks off the Big Green. The Cleveland school lost to Marshall 90-84 earlier in the season at Huntington. Western Reserve will be playing its last MAC basketball game. It will drop its affiliation at the end of the spring term.

Need One More Win For Tie

By ERNIE SALVATORE
Advertiser Sports Editor

Marshall College's surging basketball varsity was granted a one day holiday today by Coach Cam Henderson following its great victory last night over strong Miami of Ohio, 89-77, in a Mid-American Conference thriller at Memorial Field House.

Tomorrow, the team will begin workouts for a season's finale against Western Reserve at Cleveland which will decide whether or not the Big Green and their vanquished rivals of last night are to meet next week in a playoff for the conference championship.

While the capacity, standing-room-only crowd of 6,500 roared almost constantly at the big east end arena less than 24 hours ago, Marshall moved to within one-half game of Miami with its victory. Now it can complete its desperate run for the title by knocking off the Red Cats.

That's the way Miami coach Bill Rohr wants it, believe-it-or-not. Suffers First Defeat

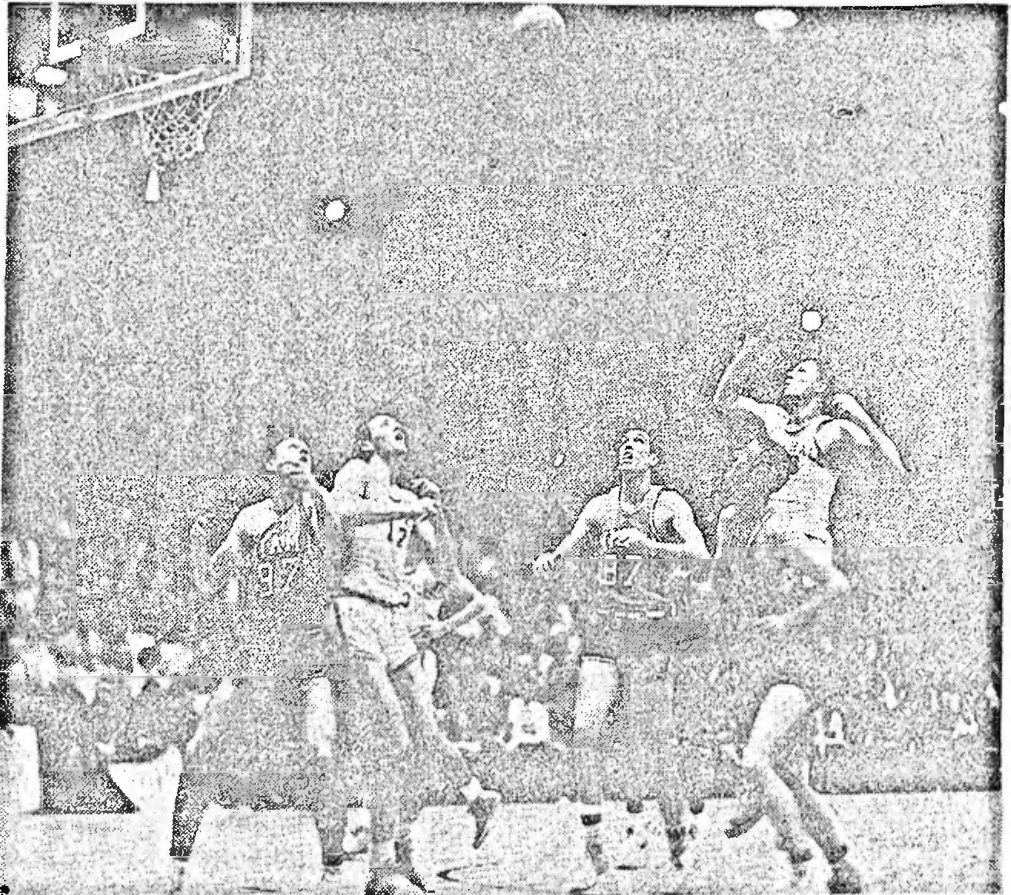

In the dressing room after the Marshall-Miami game, he said:

"We don't want to back into the title. We want to win it on the court. So, that should tell you how my sentiments lie Saturday night when Marshall plays Western Reserve."

Rohr, who suffered his first defeat at the hands of Marshall in a four year career at Miami, praised the Big Green.

"When a team hits 51 per cent of their shots like Marshall did, there isn't much you can do about it," he said. "We hit on 42 per cent of ours and still couldn't win. It was almost a reverse of our game at Oxford last month when we beat Marshall."

Over in the Marshall quarters, stark drama took place. Henderson, one of the great athletic teachers of all time now nearing the end of a magnificent career, assembled his tired players.

Hides motions

"Bo!" he rasped, shaking his head slowly, "you all played some real basketball out there tonight. You played enough out there tonight to last you 100 ball games."

Glancing at the ceiling to hide his emotions, Cam continued:

"I've never cried over a ball game win or lose. But, I want to tell you that I came as close to crying out there tonight as I ever did. When it was over, I just couldn't get up. I had to sit there. I just couldn't get up. It was just wonderful, boys, not so much for me, but mostly for you because you showed out there that you can work and learn and play it right. You were thinking out there and giving it everything."

Since Western Michigan lost to Bowling Green last night to drop back to third, the worst Marshall can do is finish in a second place tie with the Broncos.

Miami tried to run with Marshall but failed. Miami tried a sagging zone defense, jamming up the middle, in the early part of the contest, a trick which worked in its 89-74 win over the Green in January, but it failed. Miami tried possession ball, but it back-fired.

Defense Loosened

Why? Well, last night Lewis Burns, the sometime regular guard, dropped in ten points in the first seven minutes. Miami didn't figure on that so it had to watch Burns as well as Paul Underwood, the soph set shooting guard. The Redskin defense, thus loosened just enough, permitted Marshall to fire away from all angles.

Miami tied the score five times in the first half but Marshall never trailed and the Big Green finished at top speed.

Marshall sank 37 out of 73 field goals for a 51 per cent mark and big Charlie Slack, the 6-5 center, snared 26 rebounds to keep his No. 1 ranking. Underwood hit for 22 points, seven of his ten buckets coming on set shots. Cebe Price the middleman bagged 26 as he handled the attack.

Meanwhile, there was Dave Robinson, the graduating senior forward from Wheeling, playing with a heavily taped sprained ankle in his final home appearance.

Dave Carried Off

Dave got 13 points and he was all over the court, intercepting passes, firing home bullet assists, and playing a tremendous contest. His fellow students carried him off the floor after it was over — no greater tribute could be paid to a more deserving leader.

For Miami, Bill Kennon and Tom Bryant got 17 and 16 apiece to lead the way. Bryant's one-handed push shot was easily Miami's best weapon.

The victory gave Marshall a 10-3 MAC mark and a 17-3 overall record. It was also Henderson's 400th college basketball win and it ended a seven game losing streak to Miami, the series now standing 12-10.

MARSHALL COLLEGE INFORMATION SERVICE — FOR RELEASE SUNDAY,
By Bob Null (Marshall Student Journalist)

The gridiron or the wrestling mats, it makes no difference to 212 pound Bill Harris from Spencer, W, Va, who is Marshall's top candidate for All Mid-American Conference honors in both ~~spots~~ sports.

Harris came to Marshall three years ago as a freshman footballer but had to give the sport up because of head aches, that ~~xxxx~~ were the result of a high school grid game at Spencer. A doctor told him that his playing days were over for ever, but last year he was as Honorable Mention on the all conference team. It is no longer the head aches for Harris but for other conference linemen that have to face his bull like rushes from the left tackle slot.

The ex GI doesn't spent all his time on the football field. He is a member of Coach Sam Clagg's college wrestling team and has won six bouts this year, while dropping two. Bill won his first six bouts in a row befor losing at Ohio University and at home against VPI.

Harris will team with Charlie Tanner, a high-school state champion from Beckley, as Marshall's one-two punch in the All Mid-American matches to be held the 5th of March.

Bill has one more year to shove his 212 pounds on the gridiron and mats. In football he will team with 260 pound Ted D'Alesio to give Marshall plenty of weight at the tackle positions. Bill and Ted could well be tops in the conference next year. In wrestling he could even do better with the years experance behind him. * This is Bill's second year as a wrestler.

At the present Harris is sporting a cauliflower ear from his battles on the ~~water~~ mats.

Orchestra To Play Strauss, Beethoven

Eugene Ormandy, fourth man to serve as conductor of the Philadelphia Orchestra in its 55-year history, will conduct the orchestra in concert here Friday at 8:30 P. M. at the Keith-Albee Theatre.

The program will be under the auspices of the Marshall College Artists Series. Seats for non-members of the Artists Series will go on sale tomorrow at the Becker Music Store, 1040 Fourth Avenue.

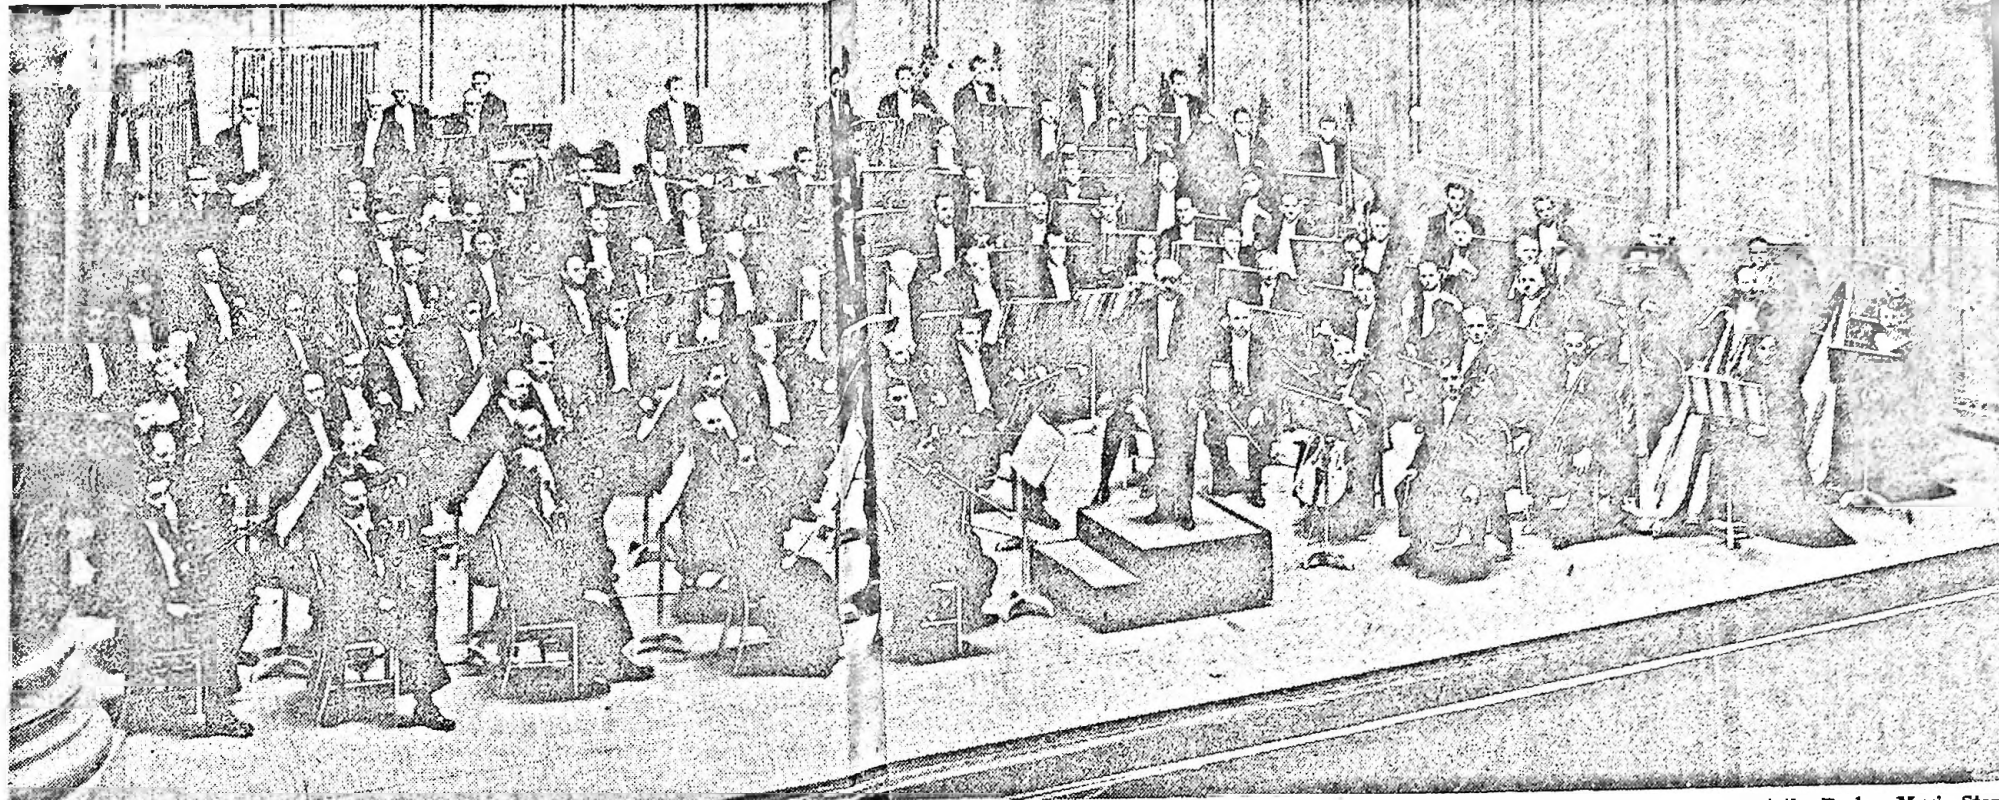

Back in the gay '90s the attention of music-loving Philadelphia was attracted to a series of summer concerts of really superior quality being given at a nearby amusement park under the direction of a distinguished German musician named Fritz Scheel. Mr. Scheel made so happy an impression that no less than three of Philadelphia's musical societies asked him to assume leadership of them and to stay in Philadelphia through the winter. He agreed on condition that an orchestra of professional musicians be put at his disposal for at least two concerts and this condition was fulfilled.

THE TWO concerts, given in the spring of 1899, were so successful that steps were taken a few months later to organize a permanent Philadelphia Orchestra of 80 players with Mr. Scheel as conductor. That orchestra's first concert was given on November 16, 1900.

Then, as now, financial problems developed and deficits mounted. Scheel and his supporters would not be discouraged, however, and musical standards were not only upheld but continuously improved. This policy eventually was justified and year by year public interest increased.

His unremitting labors, however, contributed to the death of Mr. Scheel in 1907. Carl Pohlig, a splendid musician completely in sympathy with the ideals of Scheel and his orchestra, was appointed to succeed him and continued as conductor for five years.

By this time the orchestra, approaching its 13th season, was solidly established in fundamentals and rapidly developing in virtuosity. The time had come for dynamic and adventurous leadership, and such leadership was achieved with the appointment of Leopold

THE PHILADELPHIA ORCHESTRA, now rated the world's greatest, will appear here in concert Friday at 8:30 P. M. in the Keith-Albee Theatre with Eugene Ormandy conducting. The concert will be the musical highlight of the current Marshall College Artists Series season. The box office for the sale of seats to non-series members will open tomorrow at the Becker Music Store, 1040 Fourth Avenue.

Stokowski, brilliant British-born organist and conductor. Under his guidance, his imagination and bold musical enterprise, the orchestra reached a peak of development the like of which had probably never occurred before in the history of orchestral music.

AFTER 1926 Mr. Stokowski's expanding and varied interests made necessary the engagement of numerous guest conductors and his appearances became more and more rare.

In 1936 Eugene Ormandy, now conductor and music director, was appointed conductor with Stokowski. He already had achieved marked success as a guest and was firmly established in the estimate of Philadelphia audiences. Under Ormandy the constant technical improvement, the magnificent and sometimes daring program-making, the distinctive qualities of tonal beauty and power, have never ceased to move forward. Its American and European tours, its recordings and broadcasts, have brought its music to every part of the world and it now is rated the world's greatest orchestra.

The program here will include the Prelude and Fugue in C major by Bach-Ormandy; Symphony No. 2 by Beethoven, the tone poem, "Don Quixote" by Liszt, "Epiqraph" by Dejeu Solo and "La Valse" by Ravel.

THE ARTISTS Series will conclude its current season with a Victor Herbert Festival on March 29. Curtis Baxter, series manager, has announced that the program for the 1955-56 season—the 20th anniversary of the series—will be announced March 27. He said negotiations have been under way for several months and outstanding attractions are being booked to celebrate the anniversary year.

Win Would Mean Tie For MAC

By FRED BURNS

Herald-Dispatch Sports Editor

The Red Cats of Western Reserve stand as the only hurdle between Coach Cam Henderson and one of the best seasons he has had with his Marshall College basketball in the 20 years he has piloted the Big Green.

That hurdle will be faced tonight in Cleveland when Marshall and Reserve meet in the final Mid-American Conference game of the season for both clubs.

For Marshall the game will have tremendous importance. The Big Green needs a win to pull up into a tie with Miami University for the conference championship. If that comes about then Marshall and Miami will meet in a playoff game next week end to decide the MAC champion and to that champion will come an automatic bid to the NCAA tournament.

If Marshall loses tonight, then Miami will be champion. Whether it is Marshall or Miami, the MAC champ will go to Lexington, Ky., on March 8 to play Marquette in the first of two NCAA playoff games. The second game that same night will pit Memphis State against Penn State.

The winners of these two games move on to Evanston, Ill., on March 11 with the first game winner (Marshall-Miami or Marquette) meeting the champion of the Southeastern Conference and the Memphis State-Penn State winner meeting the Big Ten champion.

While Marshall will be battling for a share of the conference title they will be facing a team that is on the bottom of the standings with a 2-11 loop record. But when you're in a game you "have" to win it is always pretty tough and Western Reserve will be making it as tough as they can. The Red Cats are leaving the Mid-American Conference and this is their last conference basketball game. So wouldn't they like to bow out with a victory over the high flying Big Green.

J. 26.55 Ellis

Marshall had to go all out to gain a six-point win over Reserve in the opening conference game of the season early last December. And this same Reserve team forced Miami to the limit before the Redskins could gain a seven point win on the Miami floor just recently. And the conference's leading scorer, Dick Howard, wears a Red Cat uniform and before tonight's game he is just 22 points short of the conference record of 352 points set last season by Marshall's All-American Walt Walowac.

However, Howard is the only Red Cat in the top 13 scorers in the conference and four of Marshall's starters are in that group. Cebe Price, Charlie Slack, Paul Underwood and Dave Robinson are the four. Price is averaging 23.9 per game to Howard's 25.4.

Orient Film On Community Forum Tonight

"This Changing Orient," a color film will be presented on the Marshall College Community Forum at 8:15 P. M. tonight in the college auditorium by "Singapore Joe" Fisher, world traveler. Admission will be by season membership only.

The film shows changes that have taken place in the Pacific and Far East. The film sequences include Honolulu, Guam, Hong Kong, Shanghai, Manila, Sarawak, British North Borneo, Singapore, Malaya, and principal cities of India.

Mr. Fisher, known as "the modern sinbad," has circled the world 14 times and his means of transportation have ranged from ox cart to stratoliner. He pioneered in motion picture distribution in the Orient.

The name "Singapore Joe" was given to him by Sultan of Johore, a personal friend.

WRESTLING

MARCH 5.

Wrestling will take the spotlight for this week's sports activity. The Big Green will make ready for its trip to Bowling Green Saturday March 5, for the All-Mid-American Conference Championship. Coach Tom Clagg's men haven't won a match this season, but will have two of the top candidates for all conference in Bill Harris and Charlie Tanner. Bill, a football star from Spencer has won six bouts this season, while losing two, and fighting to a draw last Saturday against Miami. 167 pound Charlie Tanner has lost only one this year and that was to Bob Downy of Albion University who was Southeastern Champ three years in a row. Tanner was a national guards boxing champion and all state wrestler at Woodrow Wilson High School at Beckley. The fast moving Tanner is also a member of the Marshall College football team where he plays at guard and end. Coach Clagg will take Jerry Bernhart, 157; Don Carmill 147; Don "Stoney" Atkins, 157; Charlie Tanner, 167; Dick Bryan 177; and Bill Harris heavyweight, on the trip to Bowling Green to take part in the action. In Marshall's last match, against Miami, Don Atkins and Charlie Tanner came through with victories while Bill Harris was held to a draw.

FSB. 28-MARCH 4.

will work out at Fairfield Stadium from 3:00 till 5:00. This will mark the first day of practice and 20 to 25 men are expected to report today according to track coach Dan Dickline. (more)
