- JOHNSON FAMILY CEMETARY -

Located in south-western part of Huntington, in Johnson Hollow, just south of the James River Turnpike, and about 15th Street, West. Started by the Family of James D. Johnson, Sr., and used principally by families in Johnson and Gimlet Hollow. In poor condition. Many unmarked graves and many with temporary markers. The graves seem to be in neither rows, nor lots; but rows were followed as much as possible.

The oldest marked grave is that of Madaline Johnson, in 1901.. That of James D. Johnson is probably older, but shows no date.
