Joan G. Edwards stadium was rocking Saturday night as 33,698 fans piled in to watch the Thundering Herd take on Ohio Bobcats in the Battle for the Bell.

The Ohio Bobcats took the early lead in the first quarter by putting the Marshall defense on its heels. The Herd was non-existent. All responsibility for not closing in on the Herd was placed on the shoulders of Marshall. Cato said not coming away with a score was a reason why Marshall lost.

The running attack of the Herd was non-existent. All three of these points are valid, but, he’s also a little deceiving and overlooks the struggles of the second quarter.

Marshall ran 87 plays in the game as 23 in the first quarter, 30 in the third quarter, 25 in the fourth quarter and nine in the second quarter. Compare that to the Bobcats who also ran 87 plays, 14 in the first, 35 in the third, 30 in the third and 10 in the fourth.

In the second quarter Ohio ran 34 more plays than Marshall. Cato and the Herd offensive line were coming out of the gates with a vengeance and had plenty of time to focus on two possessions and prepare themselves for the Ohio Bobcats in the second quarter.

Brian Polito, the quarterback for the Bobcats, turned the ball over three times leading into the second quarter. Ohio had 12 turnovers on 14 possessions.

It was a mere 4:24 for the second quarter Ohio turned the ball over three times leading into the second quarter. Ohio Bobcats. Shuler recorded 13 receptions for 121 yards in the game.

The Marshall University Athletic Hall of Fame gained eight new members at the annual dinner on Friday night at Joan C. Edwards Stadium.

Eight outstanding athletes and coaches were recognized for their athletic achievements during their time at Marshall University.

In today’s world of social media, it’s easy to see the truth as it is. Don’t let your fear of the truth stop you from finding it.

The Constitution of the United States of America

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble; and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.

The Parthenon, Marshall University’s student newspaper, is published by students Mondays through Fridays during the regular semesters. The editorial staff is responsible for news and editorial content.

We’ve all heard people say it, or at least a version of it, especially if you are from around this area. “If he’s better off on the dole.”

Our country is in a major and financial economic crisis. There are many families fighting to get by each day and working their butts off to do so. However, while these people are fighting to get by and to provide for their families, in order to maintain their income their government income toward supporting those on welfare.

The welfare system was created to help those in need and meet. She cries out to the government for help until she is on her feet, but she is rejected. The next example is a divorced woman who was never allowed to work because her husband insisted upon her staying home. The government tells her to “enroll in school.” Does going to school put food on her table?

The true reason behind Obama’s massive political reform from the constitution to the current state of the presidential race for the 2012 election. What’s the real reason behind it? It’s a radical change in the way the government operates.

Herd fans continue cheering despite loss

BY SARAH HAGERTY

Marshall fans continued a long-standing tradition Saturday as they gathered in the parking lot of Joan C. Edwards Stadium to show their school spirit for the Thundering Herd football team.

“My family has been coming to these games for years,” said Skyler Blunt, a sophomore at Marshall.

“I grew up hearing everything about Marshall and now I’m following in my family’s footsteps and keeping the tradition alive by coming to these games.”

The crowd was hyped up for the game to start and went wild during the kick off.

“We are fighting only for God,” Hunt said. “We are fighting only for God.”

And the fans are going wild.”

“I love when all of the things we’ve been looking forward to for the whole season finally happen,” Hoover added.

The Thundering Herd welcomed Ohio University onto the field ready to bat

The herd put up a fight throughout the whole game, leading 14-14 during the first quarter. Ohio came back with a touchdown pass in the end of the second quarter making it 14-14. The Thundering Herd took the lead right before halftime, leaving the score at 17-14.

“We lost or I will always cheer for my school,” Hunt said.

“It was an incredible feeling knowing that I was a part of the best student section in college.”

Marshall’s next home game will be Oct. 6 against Tulane. Just like any other game, Herd fans will be out tailgating and cheering on their team.

Syrria

Syrian man and boys stand in line for bread Wednesday in the Hanano neighborhood of Aleppo, Syria.

A rebel-controlled neighborhood in the center of the northern Syrian city of Aleppo where government troops have long been under siege is without electricity.

Excellent reporting on the conflict in Syria in the Monrovia Daily Times.

 Fifteenaken, a Salaf group that has been known primarily for claiming bombings against government targets, is a fighting force born, with an identifiable base of operations from which it functions. Members of the group claim to be fighting for God, others claim they are fighting to spread Salaf thinking and spread a Salafist interpretation of Islam.

The charity cook-off event, which Marshall University students shot up to eat chili, with some volunteering for the Ronald McDonald House by selling chili tickets to visitors.

"Chili Fest is definitely big for the city of Huntington. It's good to see everyone come together and to have a diverse group of people to donate their time," said Raymond Greer, healthcare administration and business resource-management graduate student. "They make different types of chili so one usually thinks about making, but I just think it's a good event for everyone from the community of Huntington, as well as the surrounding area to come together."
