MARSHALL COLLEGE INFORMATION SERVICE, HUNTINGTON, W.VA.---5-1-57

For Immediate Release

(National Science Fair Delegation---1)

Four adults and two Huntington High School students will leave Huntington by air Wednesday, May 8, for Los Angeles, Cal., where they will participate in the National Science Fair.

The party will be the official delegation from the 1957 Marshall College Regional Science Fair. It will consist of the following:

Richard E. McCoy, Jr., 16, of 125 Whitaker Blvd., Huntington, winner of the grand award for boys in the Marshall College Regional Science Fair; Mary H. Henson, 16, of 1903 Wiltshire Blvd., Huntington, who won the regional grand award for girls; Dr. John H. Hoback, 1957 regional science fair director; Dr. John D. Wolszen, 1958 director of the regional science fair; Jack Nichols of the Huntington High School faculty, teacher of the grand award winners; and James H. Herring, Marshall College public relations representative at the National Science Fair.

Mrs. Cliver J. Henson will accompany her award winning daughter on the trip without the status of a delegate.

The Huntington group will leave Tri-State airport on Piedmont Airlines flight No. 31 Wednesday (May 8) at 8:52 a.m. at Cincinnati, it will take American Airlines Flight No. 43 for Los Angeles. The time of arrival at International Airport is 4:35 p.m., Pacific Daylight Saving Time.

ODK Gives Awards Assembly Tomorrow At 11 In Old Main

The Marshall College Annual Awards Assembly will start tomorrow at 11 A.M. in Old Main auditorium. The program is open to all students, according to Dick Helpel, Huntington senior and master of ceremonies.

Sponsored by the Marshall Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa, men's national leadership honorary, the Assembly is held each spring for the purpose of recognizing and honoring those students who have excelled in scholarship, leadership, service and athletics in college activities during the past school year.

Approximately twenty-seven awards will be given in seven divisions. The awards include: Academic, Leadership, Service, Military, Athletic, Student Senate and Scholarships.

Both this year's Senate and the newly elected group will be introduced. The newly elected Student Body President will present gavels to the outgoing president and vice-president. Bob Alexander will conduct the swearing-in ceremony for the new president and vice-president.

The members of ODK have requested this year that no speeches be made when an award is presented. If more than three awards are to be made to a single group, the persons will stand as their names are called, remain standing and then be seated with the entire group. The awards are to be given by that group at such time and place following the assembly as seems best.

All ROTC members are required to attend the program this year.

Thanks to a recent hitting binge against Morehead early in the week, Marshall's batters apparently are set to flex their muscles for a two-game weekend setto invasion by Ohio University tomorrow and Saturday at Inco Park.

The Big Green belters raked Morehead pitching for 28-hits to sweep a double-header and lift their mark to 4-8. Marshall's power display was easily their finest showing of the season as they clubbed six home runs and dented home plate 19 times.

First baseman Hal Greer led the fireworks with three round trippers in collecting five hits for the afternoon to pad his batting average to .310, tying third baseman Donzil Hall for the club lead.

Close behind the two are catcher Sam Sirianni, .308 and shortstop John Mayberry, .300. Percentage wise, outfielder Junie Hall has the best figure, .462. But the promising sophomore has only been to bat 13 times.

On the basis of his one-day barrage, Greer has taken over the team leadership in home runs with three, one more than D. Hall. Greer's nine runs batted in also is tops in that department with outfielder Harold Bunn runner-up with eight.

A campaign to raise $300,000 for erecting and equipping a Marshall College student Christian center has been launched in Huntington.

The contemporary style brick structure will be located at Fifth Avenue and Seventeenth Street. It will be owned by the Marshall College Student Christian Association Sponsors, Inc., a corporation seeking to establish and maintain a program of Christian activities and fellowship for students of Marshall College.

Willard Chitty Organizers, Inc., a church fund raising company of Benton Harbor, Mich., is conducting the campaign to finance the building project. Richard Rothman of Nashville, Tenn., is campaign director.

A $30,000 goal has been set for the Marshall College campus fund drive. It was expected that this goal would be reached before mid-May.

Mr. Rothman said gifts from the college community---students, faculty and administration primarily---should reach about $100,000 by the end of May. That would leave $200,000 to be raised from off-campus sources, including residents, companies, organizations and church groups of the Huntington area, and from Marshall College alumni throughout the country.

The off-campus campaign will begin June 6 and continue for about three weeks. Weekly pledges covering a period of three years will be sought.

Hundreds of persons, including Marshall students, alumni and friends, have volunteered their services in the campaign. Workers have been carefully organized so as to assure a successful fund drive.

Alumni wishing to send contributions to the $300,000 fund should address them to Chapel Fund, Marshall College, Huntington, W. Va.

The student Christian center will consist of a chapel with a seating capacity of 175; three rooms for the director and assistant director of campus Christian activities and for student religious leaders; a lounge; a patio; a fellowship hall seating 250 persons with a stage; a kitchen to serve 300; adequate storage space; a music room; a library; guest rooms; ~~and~~ residential rooms; two class rooms, and council rooms.

Members of the association's building committee are Harry Wolfe, Jr., Dr. James T. Browning, Dr. Stewart H. Smith, Dr. Harry M. Bryan, Dr. John J. Hayes, Dr. Julius Bemis, James E. Moore, and J. D. Francis.

The finance committee is composed of Rev. Joseph A. Garshaw, E. M. Starr, Rev. John Henry Shadburn, Paul Pancake, W. C. Petty, W. E. Bowles, Russell Dunbar, Sterling Diddle, more

(Marshall Parking Lot)

Ground breaking ceremonies were conducted yesterday afternoon at 4 P.M. at the corner of 17th Street and Fifth Avenue for the new Marshall College parking lot.

This effort is the project of the Robe, men's honorary fraternity, and the Student Christian Association with Charles Kes model, Charles ton junior in charge of the project.

The plot of ground being used is ~~the~~ to be used later for the erection of a Student Chapel and the lot will be open to all students until ground is broken for the Chapel this fall.

Several local bus inessmen donated their services toward completion of the parking area. Fats y Jefferson, golf course owner from Earboursville, donated grading equipment. Burn Cornwell, owner of the Farm Supply Outlet af Fifth Avenue and Eighteenth Street, did the actual grading, and operated the donated equipment. Huntington Sand and Gravel donated two truckloads of gravel to be placed on the more important sections of the lot.

About fifty cars can be accomodated on the lot, owned by the Chapel Fund, and no charge will be made for its use. However, a "ballot box" type of container will be placed in the area so that persons may contribute to the Fund if they so desire.

Science Winners Leave For Los Angeles

The grand award winners of the Marshall Regional Science Fair April 5-6, Richard E. McCay, Jr., 16, Huntington High School, winner of the grand award for boys; and Miss Mary H. Henson, 16, Huntington High School, winner of the grand award for girls, will leave Huntington by air Wednesday, May 8, for Los Angeles, California, where they will participate in the National Science Fair, May 9-11.

An official delegation from the 1957 Region Science Fair will also participate in the National Science Fair. This delegation will include Doctor John H. Hock, director of the regional science fair; Jack Nichols, Huntington High School faculty member and teacher of the winners; Richard McCoy and Mary Henson, Huntington High School students and winners of the regional science fair; James H. Herring, public relations director; Dr. John D. Wolozon, 1958 director of the regional science fair.

On arriving in Los Angeles, the students will set up their exhibits in the Los Angeles County Museum, where winning science projects will be displayed. McCoy's exhibit on "How To Make a PH Meter," and Miss Henson's project on "Man-Made Fibers" will compete for national awards. Award winners will be announced Saturday afternoon.

The four-day program will include tours of scientific interest, luncheons, banquets and public display of exhibits.

MAJORETTE TRYOUTS

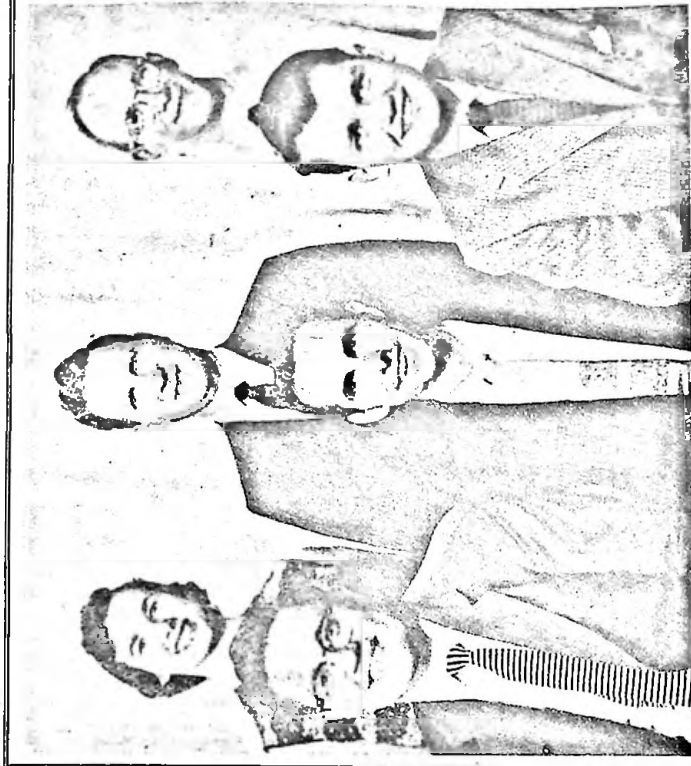

A meeting for prospective majorettes will be held Monday at 4 P.M. in Room 108 of the music hall, according to Prof. Thomas S. O'Connell.

Women wishing to try out for majorettes for next year are asked to attend.

John Howard, television star of "Dr. Hudson Secret Journal," will be the master of ceremonies at the Friday evening banquet.

Featured speaker at the awards luncheon Saturday will be Doctor Glen T. Seaborg of the University of California. He is professor of chemistry, director of nuclear research and associate director of the university's radiation laboratory.

The Marshall delegation will begin their return flight at midnight Saturday.

Senate, Constitution Ratified By Minority

By LAVERNE LOGAN

Dave Kirk defeated John Mayberry in the race for student body president by a margin of 364 to 281. Norman Haddad was elected vice president without opposition, 447 to 0. All men were GGP candidates.

Light balloting marked the elections as only 680 out of an eligible 1,911 voters turned out to vote for the candidates and pass the new student government constitution by a 533 to 54 vote.

Only four offices were in contention, those being president of the student body, junior class president, junior and senior senators. These were the offices for which MSP candidates vied.

One MSP write-in presidential candidate, Cecil Jividen of Charleston, withdrew from the race in favor of Kirk. The other, John Chafin of Huntington finished third behind Kirk and Mayberry. Mayberry will be in the senate as losing presidential candidate.

John Karickoff, Spencer, won the sophomore class presidency unopposed by a vote of 236. Brooks Adkins, Huntington, and Beverly Lowe, Williamson, won hold-over positions in the senate by polling 188 and 191 respectively. Gloria Brothers, Huntington, and Carolyn

Summer Registration Begins For First Term Next Monday

By TOM MILLER

Advance registration for the first summer term will begin Monday, May 6, according to Luther A. Bledsoe, Registrar. There will be no pre-registration for the 1957 fall term.

According to President Stewart H. Smith, "there will be no advance registration for the fall term this year because no good plan to overcome the present registration flaws has been found."

At a meeting of the Administrative Cabinet April 30, the following recommendations were made and approved by President

Smith: (1) that more afternoon classes should be scheduled at 2:00, 3:00, and 4:00 P.M. and (2) that each department should be required to schedule at least one class and departments of more than one member shall be required to distribute in their class schedules a number of classes proportionate to their staff members between the hours of 2:00 and 5:00 P.M.

The hours of advance registration will be from 8:30-11:30 A.M. and 1:15-3:30 P.M. Monday through Friday, and from 8:30-11:30 A.M. on Saturdays in Main 116.

The registration procedure will be practically the same as it was last semester. Students must have their ID card to register. Schedules of courses may be picked up Monday morning in the Registrar's office.

Regular summer registration will be on Monday, June 3, in the Library, for the first term.

Registration for the second term will be on Monday, July 15, in the college library. There will be no advance registration for the second term.

A complete report on why there is to be no advance registration for the 1967 fall term has not been released yet.

Miss Dorothy Bragonier, associate professor of mathematics, and Miss Dorothy Buzek, Huntington newspaper woman, were elected to honorary membership.

Members are chosen on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character, and service.

The purpose of the organization is to promote college loyalty, advance a spirit of fellowship among women, encourage high scholarship, and to recognize and encourage leadership.

Advisers to the group are Mrs. Veta Lee Smith, College Secretary; Mrs. Lillian Helms Buskirk, Dean of Women; and Miss Miriam Gelvin, associate professor of music.

Fagus will meet at 6 P. M. Tuesday in the small dining room of the cafeteria.

Chapel Tag Day Begins Wednesday

Arrangements for the Chapel Fund's Tag Day campaign, Wednesday, May 8, are nearing completion, according to the Fund's Executive Committee. Tag Day has been planned to give the fund raising drive final impetus and to avail all students of the opportunity of donating.

A Chapel Fund Pledge Card is included in this issue and has been arranged for the convenience of the men and women on the campus. Gloria Brothers, Huntington freshman, and Tag Day chairman, requests that students use the card and give it to a volunteer solicitor on campus or place it in the Chapel Fund Mail Box located at the top of the steps between Old Main and the Library Building.

Contributions and pledges will be indicated by solicitors with a red ribbon pinned on the contributor. Student solicitors will wear larger tags for identification.

Blood Drive Set For Wednesday

The annual Spring Red Cross Blood Drive will open Wednesday, May 8, in the Student Union, at 10 A. M. and close at 4 P.M., according to Don Coyne, chairman of the 1957 blood drive.

The blood donated in the campus drive is put in the special Marshall College blood bank which makes blood available to all students, faculty members and their families without charge. The Spring drive must equal the fall drive which totaled 205 pints in order that the college may keep this bank.

The campus earned the blood bank in the fall drive by donating a number of pints equal to 10 per cent of the full-time student enrollment.

In last fall's drive the Cavaliers, independent men's organization, and Alpha Sigma Tau sorority had the highest percentage of membership donations of the social organizations for the third straight semester and so gained permanent possession of the trophies symbolic of that achievement.

However, trophies will not be awarded to the winning social organization this spring. The student senate passed a resolution that the only award that may be presented to the winners is a certificate of recognition. Whether a certificate will be awarded or not is the decision of the blood drive chairman.

Parental consent slips will be available to students under 21.

All donations from members of Greek or independent groups will be tallied and recorded so that those groups with outstanding amounts can choose memorials in the new Chapel. For this reason the Executive Committee of the Fund urges all students to indicate their organization on the pledge card.

Recognition will also be given to the volunteer solicitor who reports the largest total amount of contributions throughout the campaign.

Chambers Named Head Of Life Planning Week

Lee Chambers, Huntington senior, has been appointed 1958 chairman of Life Planning Week, according to an announcement by President Stewart H. Smith.

Chambers served as personal conferences chairman for the 1957 committee.

He is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity, the Robe, men's honorary, Omicron Delta Kappa, men's leadership ior. Honorable mention went to Ped Ramsey, Huntington sophomore; Sue Ratcliff, Philippi sophomore; Rosalie Hudson, Huntington junior; Nancy Barbour, Huntington sophomore; John Davis, Huntington sophomore; Barbara Johnson, Ironton, Ohio, sophomore and Rosalie Cottrill, Huntington sophomore.

Miss Hess received a bound copy of the complete works of Fredric Chopin and tickets to a program of the 1957-58 Artists Series. The college entrants received certificates and tickets to a program of the 1957-58 Artists Series.

Miss Hess appeared on WHTN-TV Sunday in a special Chopin Award program, and WSAZ-TV's "Current" Tuesday. She will also be featured in the musical portion of the annual business meeting of the Woman's Club of Huntington tonight.

122 TO 101 VOTE.

In the primary Kirk defeated Mayberry, but Mayberry was permitted to run again by student court ruling. Haddad won the GGP vice-presidential nomination over Mary Pat Tench, Alloy junior.

Kirk, a graduate of Huntington East High School, is a ministerial student and is active in the Student Christian Association. He is a member of the Robe, and Sigma Phi Epsilon social fraternity. He is now serving in the senate as junior class president. He has played varsity basketball for the last two years.

Vice President Haddad, a speech major, is from Beckley and graduated from Woodrow Wilson High School. He is a member of the Robe, men's honorary, Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity and is commander of the Drum and Bugle Corp.

Apathy In Action

By BOB COLE

There was a lot of action connected with the just-past general election. Everybody was directly involved in the mechanics of carrying out the election except the majority of the student body.

Despite, or possibly because of, the great amount of controversy involving legality of election procedure and candidates, only 680 students voted in the general election. The full-time enrollment here is approximately 2300, which means that about 30 per cent of the student body decided the outcome of the election.

Playing hide-and-seek with the polls on election days is a favorite national sport now, though, so we haven't set any precedent. Rather, we're making sure that no change is likely to come about, since we'll carry our poor voting habits out of here with us and join the apathetic herd of election day shut-ins who don't run the country now.

At best, we can hope that some blessing has sent us good candidates this time to help revitalize the student government—which is not said so much in criticism of the present group as it is in the implication that the work they have done must be continued and then some. We'll have to hope now, because we missed our chance to act.

'Unethical acts,' cross-balloting, 'illegal' write-in ballots, and general poor procedure have been charged to the elections. The student court and senate took action on all protested issues and handed down their rulings and interpretations, right or wrong as they were.

For this they are to be commended, as is the election commission for its attempts at enacting standing election procedure. Whether the work of all concerned parties was as good as could be is debatable; but, they did make an effort, which is more than roughly 70 per cent of the students did—and, which, to our way of thinking, gives them some protection from any criticism by the non-voters.

So, the senate and court considered all petitions. But, who will try those who did not even hand in a ballot petition?

Senate Passes Three Motions Dealing With May 1 Election

By BOB COLE

(Ed. Note. A Parthenon headline in the May 1 issue implied that the Senate might take action in its special session of April 29 to affect the general election ballot. The following is the action they took.)

The Senate passed by simple motion three decisions affecting the general election:

1. Write-in votes will not be honored in the general election.

2. "... candidates (may) be nominated to run in the general election only on the basis of the votes they received from the party to which they consigned their affiliation (in the primary election)..." This motion was not to be an exception of Section E of the 1955 Constitutional Amendment, but to give the election commission a definite basis for decision on any cases that might come up over candidates who were nominated on both MSP and GGP primary tickets.

This motion made Barbara Varney ineligible to be a candidate for junior senator because of her write-in MSP nomination, because she was defeated on the GGP ticket to which she had consigned her affiliation. Miss Varney was put on the general election ballot because she presented a petition with the necessary 20 per cent of her class asking for her candidacy.

3 Holdover senators will be decided on the basis of general election returns. Senator John Corns advised the Senate that the primary is not really an election, but the nomination, and the action was taken on this basis.

The Senate also accepted Senator John Mayberry's resignation of his holdover senator's seat so that he could run for president of the student body.

(Marshall Art Exhibit---1)

An exhibition of paintings representing the varied stylistic tendencies of the country's younger artists will open at the James E. Morrow Art Gallery on the Marshall campus Monday, May 13, according to Professor Joseph S. Jablonski, head of the art department at Marshall.

The exhibition will continue through May 31. The exhibition hours are 9 A.M. to 4 P.M. on Monday through Friday and 9 A.M. to 12 noon on Saturdays.

Entitled "Young American Painters," the exhibition is being circulated by the Museum of Modern Art, New York, as one of a series of shows intended to acquaint the public throughout the country with the work being done by artists who are as yet not widely known.

The 26 works comprising the exhibition were done by 14 artists from all parts of the United States and have been selected to emphasize the creative independence and vitality of contemporary American painting. Varied in style and subject matter, these recent paintings demonstrate the artist's right to a personal idiom and the positive values that arise from this individual choice and conviction. Portraits, figure studies, still life and landscapes are among the themes selected for representation, in addition to abstract compositions. In style, they range from those related to such dominant French movements as post-impressionism and post-cubism, to an expressionism akin to that of German artists of the earlier 20th century; they include as well several varieties of abstraction, from geometrical to abstract expressionism. The latter, a distinctly American innovation, is attracting an increasing number of younger artists today and is represented by several artists in the current show. A number of paintings reveal influences from certain aspects of Oriental art which have appealed recently to many Western artists.

Despite the fact that these young artists are still in their twenties and thirties, they have exhibited widely in group or one-man shows, have won numerous awards and are represented in many public and private collections. Several have studied and exhibited abroad and despite their youth have already won reputations in Europe as well as in this country. A number are currently engaged in teaching or have previously been associated with faculties of college or university art departments or with art schools throughout the United States.

Artists included in the exhibitions are Calvert Coggeshall, Edward Corbett, Richard Diebenkorn, Sam Francis, Michael Goldberg, Ellsworth Kelly, Elaine de Kooning, John Leves, Kenneth Noland, Stephen Pace, Alton Pickens, Cornelis Fuhtenberg, Stanley Twardewicz, and Jane Wilson.

Many of the works included in the exhibition are for sale.

LOS ANGELES---(Special)---Two Huntington High School students, Richard E. McCoy, Jr., and Mary H. Henson, set up their exhibits at the National Science Fair today along with 223 other boys and girls from 40 states, the District of Columbia and Alaska.

Judging to determine national awards winners was in progress throughout Thursday afternoon and evening. Awards for the best science exhibits will be made at a luncheon Saturday afternoon.

Richard and Mary were grand award winners in the Marshall College Regional Science Fair April 5 and 6.

Young McCoy's project on "How to Build A pH Meter," and Miss Henson's exhibit on "Man-Made Fibers," are in adjacent booths in the Los Angeles County Museum science fair display rooms.

In the Marshall College Regional Science Fair delegation besides McCoy and Miss Henson are their high school science teacher, Jack Nichols; and Dr. John H. Hoback, 1957 regional science fair director, Dr. John D. Wolszon, next year's director, and James H. Herring, Marshall College public relations representative.

The party arrived Wednesday evening by air. The flight back to Huntington will begin Saturday night.

Marshall's delegation spent Thursday afternoon touring scientific points of interest in Los Angeles and Hollywood.

LOS ANGELES, May 11---(Special to the Herald-Advertiser)---Winners of the Marshall College Regional Science Fair held on the campus last month have received special recognition from foreign observers at the National Science Fair in Los Angeles.

The local winners were Richard E. McCoy, Jr., 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. McCoy, 175 Whitaker Boulevard, and Miss Mary H. Henson, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver J. Henson, 1903 Wiltshire Boulevard. Both are students at Huntington High school.

Miss Henson received a medal of commendation from Richa Anstyakul, official of the Science Society of Thailand. Forty other students received similar awards.

McCoy's exhibit was selected by Japanese observers as a good model exhibit and will be taken to Japan.

Miss Henson's colorful display of "Man-made Fibers" was a favorite of both exhibitors and the public at the national exhibition.

McCoy's project on "How to Build a PH Meter" was an object of interest for scientific-minded young people from many parts of the United States.

Both Miss Henson and McCoy were recognized at the awards luncheon held yesterday in Los Angeles.

They won the trip to the National Science Fair by taking top honors in the regional science fair here.

Bobcats Get 12 In Ninth, Top Marshall

By VERNON BALL

Marshall College's ace pitcher, Paul Underwood, had a brilliant four-hit shutout for eight and on-third innings yesterday against Ohio University's Bobcats at Inco Park.

And then the roof fell in.

When the smoke had cleared, the Bobcats' big bats had boomed 12 runs across the plate to take a 12-2 victory over Marshall and ruin Underwood's brilliant performance and his bid for a 2-0 shutout.

AFTER THE first man up in Ohio University's half of the ninth made a routine out, Bowen walked. Another walk, a single, a walk, a double and back-to-back home runs by Tewksbury and Griesheimer and the Bobcats had seven runs across.

Then came a single and a homer by Bowen for two more runs. Three more singles, a walk, another single and two more walks and the Bobcats had their 12 runs.

MARSHALL broke the scoring ice in the first inning when John Mayberry walked, went to second on an infield out and rode home on Donzil Hall's single.

The way Underwood was pitching, Marshall apparently put the icing on the cake in the fifth inning when they added another run. Underwood singled, took second on a sacrifice and came home on Gary Wolfe's triple. As it turned out, that wasn't nearly enough.

Marshall's record now stands at four wins and 10 losses. The Big Green will be back in action again on Monday afternoon, when they take on Morris Harvey College in Charleston.

Green Hit Seven Homers In Twin Win Over Eagles

Hal Greer hit three of seven Marshall home runs to lead the Marshall Big Green to a 7-2, 12-7, twin killing over the Morehead Eagles in a doubleheader yesterday at Morehead. The wins snapped a four game Marshall losing streak and put their record at 4-8.

The Big Green pounded out 28 hits in the two games, but it was Greer who stole the spotlight. The lean first baseman collected two hits in the first game and three in the second.

Sam Sirianni's three run homer in the second inning of the first game was all that Paul Underwood needed to record his second victory of the season. John Mayberry led off the second game with a home run for Marshall, and his teammates followed with four more in the next four innings. Greer and Stan Malecki had back-to-back homers to highlight a big five run fifth inning.

School Board Okehs Retirement at M. C.

The State Board of Education yesterday approved the retirement of four Marshall College faculty members effective May 31 and the employment of five new faculty members as of the beginning of the 1957-58 term.

Those retiring are Dr. Florence H. VanBibber, professor of psychology; Professor Melvin P. Loy of the science department; Ina Woodward Hart, instructor in education, and Professor Hollie C. Darlington of the science department.

The new faculty members are: E. V. Core, presently principal at Rupert High School in Greenbrier County, associate professor of education; Leland C. Marsh, now a graduate assistant at Syracuse University, instructor in science; Thomas S. Turbyfill, presently a high school principal at Concord, N. C., associate professor of education; Mrs. Helen Scott Hunter, presently a teacher in the Cabell County schools, instructor in education, and Daniel E. Thornburg, presently director of publicity at Simpson College in Anamosa, Iowa, instructor in journalism and director of information services.

Mr. Thornburg will succeed James Herring, who will go to Bowling Green State University in Ohio.

Formally approved by the board was the employment of Mrs. Veta Lee Smith as assistant professor of English at Shepherd College, effective September 1. Mrs. Smith, who has been Marshall College secretary for 18 years, will resign that post August 31.

In other action the board: Authorized Marshall to grant a new degree of Associate in Business Administration based on completion of two years of prescribed work in business administration. The college now grants the degree of Bachelor of Business Administration for a four-year prescribed course.

$6,250 For Parking

Authorized expenditure of $6,250 for grading and applying a two-inch surface of asphaltic concrete on a parking area west of the music hall, and for grading a parking area west of the music hall, and for grading a parking area along Eighteenth street on the eastern end of the campus, applying a stone base and providing an asphaltic concrete surface.

Authorized the college to take bids on certain repairs at Old Main building at an approximate cost of $6,000 as a means of providing storage space.

Approved a plan whereby the Huntington Board of Realtors will aid Marshall in the event it become possible to buy additional land for college plant expansion.

The 1957 Legislature enacted a measure whereby Marshall may receive $600,000 for land purchases if this amount remains in the state treasury in addition to a minimum of $6,742,432 as of June 30. If the amount over the minimum is less than $600,000, the amount available to the college will be less.

At Luncheon After Marshall ROTC Inspection

patch and member of the State Board of Education, and Colonel J. D. Jackson, commandant at Murray (Ky.) State College. Others of the inspection team were Lieutenant Colonel Kenneth R. Welton and Major Lisle B. Lake, Pennsylvania State University, and Chief Warrant Officer James C. Baltes, Pennsylvania Military College. (Staff Photo. Additional picture on Editorial Page)

Marshall Last In Triangular Meet

The Miami Redskins overpowered Ohio U. and Marshall in a triangular track meet by scoring 173 points yesterday at Athens, Ohio.

Ohio was a distance second with 65 points and one man, Ray Dunlap, gathered all of Marshall's five points. Dunlap was third in the 100-yard dash and second in the 220 yard dash.

Marshall's track record is now 0-2. They were beaten by Morehead last week at Fairfield Stadium.

Underwood Only Marshall Regular Hitting Over .300

By DON HATFIELD

Marshall's baseball team has only one man hitting over .300, but after yesterday's onslaught at Morehead, Ky. it appears the Big Green averages may climb a bit.

Prior to yesterday's two wins over the Eagles, in which Marshall got 28 base hits, only pitcher Paul Underwood boasted a .300-plus average. Paul was hitting at a .385 clip, having chalked up five base hits in 13 trips.

Actually, the highest average is possessed by Huntington's Junie Hall, who's hitting .400. Hall, however, has been up only five times, getting two hits.

The figures compiled by the staff were based upon all games, excluding the West Virginia Tech game last week, through Monday. This also excludes yesterday's double-header at Morehead.

Last year, a couple of outfielders named Clarence York and Stan Malecki paced the Big Green at the plate. York hit .417 and Malecki well over .300. At this point of the 1957 season, however, York is hitting .222 and Malecki .211.

Substitute Charles Carney, catcher Sonny Sirianni and third baseman Donzil Hall back up Underwood's mark. Carney is hitting .286, Sirianni .273 and Hall .258.

Hall has the most hits—eight. Two of them were doubles and one a homer to give the tow-head hot-corner man the lead in extra base hits.

Pat Paden leads the pitchers with a 1-0 record. Underwood is next with 1-2. Carroll Coleman, figured upon for a fine year, has yet to win in four starts.

Underwood leads in strikeouts with 19. He's given up 27 hits in as many innings.

Rugged Foes Help Big Green

Competing in the rugged Mid-American Conference has obviously helped Marshall's baseball team more than it realized.

The Big Green has won just one MAC game and has been rather weak at the plate in its loop stepped out of the conference for a twin-bill against Morehead. The results were downright amazing.

The Big Green won both, 12-7 and 7-2, and bombed Morehead with 28 base hits, seven of them home runs.

Three of the circuit clouts were off the bat of Hal Greer. Stan Malecki, Donzil Hall, Sonny Sirianni and John Mayberry banged out the others.

Marshall now, however, must return to the conference for two more rough games. It plays host to Ohio University at 3:30 P. M. Friday and again at 2:30 P. M. Saturday.

Scientific Honorary Takes 14

Fourteen Marshall College students will be initiated into Kappa Chapter of Chi Beta Phi, national honorary scientific fraternity, at ceremonies tomorrow at 5:45 P. M. in Room 101 of the Science Building at the college.

The service will be followed by a banquet at Lakeside Inn at 7 P. M. Clayton R. Page of the college speech department will show pictures he made on a recent trip to Europe. Lee Chambers of Huntington, president of the chapter, will preside.

Those to be initiated are Phyllis Perry, James Hamm, Kenneth Tees, Doris Wellman, Harry Tweel, Charles Turner, Patricia Shumate, Richard Arnold, Dallas Lawhun, Raymond Lambert, Elva Hall, Mary Kirkland, Fred Carney and Frank Terrill.

Faculty advisers of the local group are Dr. Howard Mills, associate professor of botany at Marshall, and Donald D. Cox, assistant professor of science at the college. Dr. Donald C. Martin, professor of physics, is national president of Chi Beta Phi.

Dr. Martin and three others from Marshall will attend a regional convention of the fraternity Saturday at Davis and Elkins College.

Accompanying Dr. Martin will be Dr. Mills, Mr. Chambers and Don Plymale.

The Marshall College 4-H Club held its first official meeting at the college this week and elected John Murphy, Clarksburg sophomore, president. Dr. Mike Josephs, student adviser, said the club was formed by students formerly engaged in high school 4-H work. About 35 students have expressed interest. In the picture, from left, first row, are Ruth Jeffries, Betty Marshall and Allene Ruddell. Murphy is standing. Second row: Suzanne Rothgale, Carol Campbell, Lola Jean Roush and Dr. Josephs.

Big Green Golfers Win, 14-4

Marshall College golf team picked up its 13th victory in 14 starts by downing the University of Dayton, 14-4, yesterday at the Madden Country Club in Dayton, Ohio.

Linden Meade, sparked Marshall, opening a three-day road trip. Meade fired a par-tying 72, with a 39 on the front nine and a 33 on the back side.

This afternoon Marshall visits the University of Cincinnati and goes to Oxford, Ohio, Saturday morning for a Mid-American Conference match with Miami University.

The results, with Marshall players listed first, were:

Linden Meade 39-33-72 (3) defeated Ed Longo 41-37-78 (0); Jack Freeman 38-37-75 (2½) defeated Jerry Kindle 38-38-76 (½); Buddy Graham 41-37-78 (½) lost to Frank Hennessy 40-37-77 (2½); Drexel Meade 41-40-81 (2) defeated John Blust 46-37-83 (1); Larry McDowell 39-37-76 (3) defeated Bill McBeth 41-38-79 (0); Dick Kern 43-41-84 (3) defeated Bob Payne 44-44-88 (0).

Marshall Nine Faces Bobcats

Marshall College's baseball team will face the Ohio University Bobcats here today and tomorrow at Inco Park in Mid-American Conference tilts.

Coach Bill Chambers is expected to send little left hander Ed Mickel (0-2) or right hander John Derrow (1-0) to the mound in the opening game against Ohio today. He'll counter with his ace Paul Underwood (2-2) in Saturday's wind-up.

Gets Commendation

M-SGT. HERMAN J. Schwartz, left, recently assigned to the Marshall College ROTC Unit here, was presented Thursday with the Commendation Ribbon with Metal Pendant for "outstandingly meritorious service in connection with the organization of the Sunny Point Army Terminal, South Port, N. C." Sgt. Schwartz served as director of administration for the terminal from October, 1955, until March, 1957. The presentation was made at Marshall College by Lt. Col. T. E. Carter, right, professor of military science and tactics at the college and commanding officer of the ROTC unit. (Staff Photo)

Marshall Nine Takes on VPI This Afternoon

(Special to The Advertiser)
BLACKSBURG, a. — Marshall College came here today to meet Virginia Tech's baseball team.

The Big Green of Huntington, W. Va. knocked off Emory & Henry, 13-10, yesterday on the first stop of its three-day, three-game road trip.

Marshall had to score four runs in the final inning to win. Two E & H errors, a wild pitch, a single and Donzil Hall's long triple produced the runs.

Hall led the Big Green with three hits.

Tomorrow, Marshall visits Virginia Military. It returns home the following day.

Spring Dance Is Planned By Sorority

The Beta Sigma Phi sorority city council will sponsor its annual Spring dance May 18 at Harmony Hall on Fifth avenue. Bob Akers and his orchestra will play from 9:30 until 1:30 P. M.

The dance will be semi-formal for members and their guests. Members of Nu chapter will be in charge of decorations and arrangements.

The decorating committee is composed of Mrs. R. C. Weatherall, Jr., chairman, Mrs. William Jones, Mrs. Barbara Adkins, Mrs. Dan Deaton, Mrs. Raymond Austin and Mrs. T. D. Draughn Jr.

Leo Byrd Averts Tennis Shutout For Marshall

Basketball star Leo Byrd continued to carry more than his share of the load for Marshall's struggling tennis team yesterday when he scored a singles victory which averted a Big Green shutout at the hands of the University of Kentucky.

Leo came from behind to outgame and outbattle Olaf Haugen of the Wildcats for the lone Big Green point in the 8-1 defeat on the campus courts. The scores were 3-6, 7-5, 6-0.

Byrd's personal record this year is eight victories and four defeats, a remarkable achievement in view of Marshall's team record of 3-9. Tomorrow the Big Green hosts Eastern Kentucky. Here's the results with Kentucky players listed first:

SINGLES: Randy Sexton defeated Charles Bearden, 8-6, 3-6, 6-4. Art McCarty defeated Cebe Price, 6-3, 6-1. Carl Barwick defeated George Templin, 6-4, 6-1. Olaf Haugen lost to Leo Byrd, 3-6, 7-5, 6-0. Jim Baughman defeated Jack Young, 6-2, 6-1. Bob Whalin defeated Jim Craig, 6-0, 6-2.

DOUBLES: Sexton and McCarty defeated Bearden and Byrd, 5-7, 6-3, 6-3. Barwick and Baughman defeated Price and Templin, 6-8, 6-0, 6-0. Haugen and Whalin defeated Dale Freeland and Joe Wilburn, 6-4, 6-4.

Big Green Golf Team Forced to Rebound Again

For the second time this season the Marshall College golf team will be out to bounce back from a loss to Miami.

The Big Green linksmen will host Xavier Wednesday and Dayton Saturday as they head into the final lap of the current golf season.

At Oxford, Ohio, Saturday, Miami again turned the tables on coach Whitey Wilson's golfers, 10½-7½. The loss was only the second in 16 tries for the Green and White but both were to Miami.

The summary with Marshall players listed first:

Linden Meade 37-36-73(0), Joe Glass 36-34-70 (3).

Jack Freeman 39-36-75 (2), Art Halml 41-35-76 (1).

Bobcats Hand Marshall Ninth Defeat, 11 To 5

Ohio University scored five runs in the fifth inning to break a 2-2 deadlock and went on to down Marshall, 11-4, yesterday afternoon at Inco Park. The two clubs will conclude their two-game series today at 2:30 P. M.

Marshall led once, enjoying a brief 2-1 lead after the first three innings.

Gary Wolfe and Stan Malecki furnished the Big Green with the home run power, while Scotty Griesheimer and Bowen hit round trippers for the visitors.

The win left Marshall with a 4-9 record while the Bobcats copped their 11th win in 15 outings.

Marshall Plays 4 On Road

Coach Bill Chambers and his Marshall baseball team, with slightly more than 24 hours to recover from their nightmarish defeat at the hands of Ohio Saturday, have four games coming up this week against the kind of opposition which could give their season a semblance of respectability.

The Big Green begins the week this afternoon at Charleston where it plays traditional rival Morris Harvey. There more road games wind up the week.

Thursday the Big Green visits Emory and Henry, Friday the tour continues against Virginia Tech at Blacksburg, Va., and it ends Saturday at Lexington, Va., against Virginia Military Institute.

Victory Elusive

What transpired at Inco Park Saturday shouldn't happen to a dog, let alone a baseball team. Paul Underwood held a two-run lead and had a four hit shoutout against the powerful Bobcats for eight and one-third innings and Marshall's second Mid-American Conference victory seemed assured.

But, then, one thing led to another and before the Cats, defending conference titlists, were retired they had pounded 12 runs across the plate for a 12-2 win.

Marshall's record is now 4-10, quite a bit different from the great expectations which were being expounded by one and all during pre-season training.

Marshall Gets Bid to Cincy Cage Tourney

A bid to the Cincinnati Invitational basketball tournament has been extended Marshall College, it was learned last night.

Marshall will join host Cincinnati, Xavier and St. Bonaventure in the annual tourney December 13-14 at the UC Field House.

This will be the top tournament appearance for Marshall since the 1947 season when it won the Los Angeles Invitational and the NAAI at Kansas City.

Last year, all three of the other teams entered competed in the famed National Invitational in Madison Square Garden.

Redskin Netters Blank Green, 9-0

The Miami Redskins blanked the Marshall tennis team yesterday 9-0 in a Mid-American Conference match played on the Marshall courts.

The summary (Miami players first):

Green Netmen Face Road Trip

A three-day road trip which will find the Marshall College tennis team going against Mid-American Conference foes Bowling Green, Toledo and Kent State, is on tap for the Big Green netmen this week end.

Saturday, a fourth MAC opponent, Miami, delt the Green and White its ninth defeat, 8-1, on the campus courts.

Leo Byrd, of Marshall basketball fame, spoiled the Reskin's bid for a shutout by coming from behind to beat Olaf Haugen, 3-6, 7-5, 6-0.

SINGLES: Randy Sexton defeated Charles Bearden, 8-6, 3-6, 6-4. Art McCarty defeated Cebe Price, 6-3, 6-1. Carl Barwick defeated George Templin, 6-4, 6-1. Olaf Haugen lost to Leo Byrd, 3-6, 7-5, 6-0. Jim Baughman defeated Jack Young, 6-2, 6-1. Bob Whalin defeated Jim Craig, 6-0, 6-2.

DOUBLES: Sexton and McCarty defeated Bearden and Byrd, 5-7, 6-3, 6-3. Barwick and Baughman defeated Price and Templin, 6-8, 6-0, 6-0. Haugen and Whalin defeated Dale Freeland and Joe Wilburn, 6-4, 6-4.

MC Cindermen Encounter Two

This week Marshall College's track team faces two foes in Fairmont State and Kentucky, the first of these meets to be run at Fairmont tomorrow the latter at Fairfield Stadium Saturday.

Meanwhile, West Virginia Wesleyan handed the Big Green its third loss in as many outings, 77-29. Ray Dunlap had the only two first place wins for Marshall as he grabbed the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

Marshall Golf Team on Road

Marshall's once-beaten golf team leaves today for a three-day road trip on which it will seek revenge for its only loss.

Today, the Big Green plays in Dayton. Tomorrow, it's in Cincinnati and Saturday it encounters Miami—its only conqueror—at Oxford.

Un'y Wi Take Hill For Green

By DON HATFIELD

Ace righthander Paul Underwood takes the mound today when his Marshall team encounters rugged Mid-American Conference foe Ohio University for the second time in as many days.

Game time at Inco Park is 2:30.

Yesterday, OU capitalized on Marshall's mental and physical errors to thump the Big Green, 11-5. It was Marshall's sixth loop loss against one win. Overall, the Big Green is 4-9.

The Bobcats banged 15 hits off hurlers Ed Mickel, Carroll Coleman and John Darrow. Two of them were home runs.

Marshall hit for the circuit twice, also, with Stan Malecki and Gary Wolfe doing the clouting.

Not Thinking

Coach Bill Chambers was at a loss in attempting to explain the trouble with his Marshall team.

"I suppose," he said, "it can all be summed up with this: We're not thinking winning baseball."

All year, mental lapses and untimely hitting have plagued the Marshall team. Yesterday's game was no different. Marshall got the hits all right—ten of them. But, as usual, they came at the wrong time.

"We had them on the ropes there once," Chambers said, repeating his favorite complaints, "but we just couldn't finish them off. We're not hitting with men on base."

'Cats Are Down

OU is the defending MAC champ, having advanced to the quarter finals of the NCAA tournament last year. But, this year's team appears to be slightly down from that of 1956. The Bobcats are powerful, however, as are most teams in the MAC.

But if Underwood is right today, Marshall just might rack up its second conference victory.

HUNTINGTON---(Special)---Winners of the Marshall College Regional Science Fair held on the campus in April have received special recognition from foreign observers at the National Science Fair in Los Angeles.

The tri-state area winners are Richard E. McCoy, Jr., 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. McCoy, 175 Whitaker Blvd., Huntington, and Miss Mary H. Henson, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver J. Henson, 1903 Wiltshire Blvd., Huntington.

Both are students at Huntington High School.

McCoy's project on "How to Make a PH Meter" was selected by Japanese observers as a good model exhibit. It will be shipped to Japan for study and exhibition in connection with science fairs in Japan.

Only eleven other exhibits were chosen for the same purpose by the Japanese observers.

The selection of young McCoy's exhibit was made by Professor Motoichi Tada, president of Tokyo Communication Engineering High School and national leader in scientific education in Japan, and Noriyuki Murahani, a Tokyo education administrator.

McCoy's exhibit was an object of interest for scientific minded young people from many parts of the United States at the National Science Fair.

Miss Henson received a medal of commendation from Richa Amatya-kul, official of the Science Society of Thailand. Forty other students of the 233 having exhibits in the National Science Fair received similar awards. Her project was on "Man-Made Fibers."

Both McCoy and Miss Henson were recognized at the awards luncheon at Roger Young auditorium in Los Angeles May 11. National Science Fair exhibits were at the Los Angeles County Museum.

The two Huntington High School students won the trip to Los Angeles by taking top honors in the Marshall College Regional Science Fair April 5-6.

Other Marshall College Regional Science Fair delegates to the national exhibition were:

Jack E. Nichols, science teacher of McCoy and Miss Henson at Huntington High School; Dr. John H. Hoback, 1957 regional science fair director; Dr. John D. Wolszon, 1958 regional science fair director; and James H. Herring, Marshall College public relations representative.

The party traveled by air.

McCoy and Miss Henson represented an area covering 21 counties in West Virginia, Kentucky, and Ohio. They are Cabell, Mingo, Wayne, Mason, Lincoln, Logan and western Putnam counties in West Virginia; Boyd, Carter, Floyd, Greenup, Johnson, Lawrence, Martin and Pike counties in Kentucky; and Gallia, Jackson, Lawrence, Meigs, and Scioto counties in Ohio.

FOR RELEASE SUNDAY, MAY 19, OR AFTER

Marshall's spring sports combines, with the exception of the baseball squad, will begin preparations for its final appearances of the season this weekend, the Mid-American Conference championship at Kent, Ohio.

While the golf, tennis, and track outfits are casting their lots in the conference meet, the baseball team will conclude its campaign by engaging Toledo on Friday, and Saturday in the Glass City. The Big Green, already out of the MAC race, will be attempting to climb out of last place.

Of the contingent heading for Kent, the golf team will bear the best chance of bringing home a title. Comprised of five sophomores and a sole junior, Captain Jack Freeman, the golf squad has copped 16 of its 19 appearances to date.

The three losses suffered by the Green were all inflicted by conference foes. Miami did the trick twice, and Ohio University once, but in each case, the final outcome was close. The Redskins recorded 10-8 and 10½-7½ victories, while the Bobcats collected an 11-7 triumph.

Coach Neal B. Wilson will take a five man squad to the conference meet. Along with Freeman, number one man Linden Meade, Buddy Graham, Drexel Meade and Larry McDowell will carry the Big Green hopes.

The tennis squad finished its season with a 4-12 mark and is a decisive underdog in the tournament. Coach Lanny Brisbin has a relatively young squad that is short on experience. The only court hardened veterans are three seniors, Captain Charlie Bearden, Cebe Price and George Templin.

Brisbin is forced to lean heavily on sophomores Leo Byrd, who had a fine season, Joe Wilburn, Jack Young, and Dale Freeland.

Marshall's track forces, which dropped all of its five meets, will have a long way to go against the strong squads represented at the meet. A lack of depth has been the cause of Coach Jule Rivlin's woes all season.

Rivlin will only have nine hopefuls to call upon this weekend. They include dash man Ray Dunlap, the squad's top winner, Captain Don Adkins, Ken Adkins, Dick Jackson, Warren Whitaker, Don Trainor, Gary Kinsell, Bill Reese and Dick Hall.

WITH HEAD SHOT OF DAVIS

James L. Davis, Marshall College senior from West Hamlin, has received a $2,060 National Woodrow Wilson Fellowship to Northwestern University for the academic year 1957-58.

Davis is the only student at a West Virginia institution of higher learning and the only student from the state to receive this honor. It offers him a tuition scholarship of ~~$600~~^{$600}, and an award of $600. In addition to this he will receive a cash award of $800.

This fellowship is awarded upon invitation only and only upon nomination by members of the academic profession. The purpose is to see if students wish to enter careers of teaching and scholarship, but it entails no obligation to enter the academic profession. The fellowship is awarded for one year.

He was notified by Richard C. Boys, national director of the fellowship, that he had been selected by the National Selection Committee, and that Northwestern University has sustained the admission to its graduate school.

Davis, who is a geography major, will receive his commission in the Army Reserve as a second lieutenant May 27 26. While in the ROTC, Davis was battalion executive officer, a distinguished military student, and he was in the top 10 per cent of the ROTC class in his freshman and junior years.

WITH HEAD SHOT OF DAVIS

James L. Davis of West Hamlin, who will graduate from Marshall College Sunday, has received a $2,060 National Woodrow Wilson Fellowship which entitles him to attend Northwestern University for the academic year of 1957-58.

Davis is the only student at a West Virginia institution of higher learning to receive this honor under a program sponsored by the Association of Graduate Schools in the Association of American Universities.

The fellowship gives him a tuition scholarship of $660 and cash awards totaling $1,400.

The National Woodrow Wilson Fellowship is awarded on the basis of the recommendations of members of the academic profession. The program is designed to encourage outstanding students to begin careers of teaching and scholarship, although it entails no obligation to enter the academic profession.

Young Davis received word from Richard C. Boys, national director of the fellowship, that he had been selected by the national fellowship selection committee and that Northwestern University had sustained his admission to the graduate school.

Davis, a geography major, will receive his commission in the Army Reserve as a second lieutenant May 26. He was in the top 10 per cent of the Reserve Officers Training Corps class during his freshman and junior years at Marshall College. He was a battalion executive officer of the ROTC.

The fellowship recipient ^{has been} ~~is~~ a member of Phi Eta Sigma, freshman men's ~~scholastic~~ scholastic honorary; Pi Delta Phi, French honorary; Gamma Theta Upsilon, geography honorary; Scabbard and Blade, military honorary, and Omicron Delta Kappa, national leadership honorary, while attending Marshall College. He is also a member of Lambda Chi Alpha, social fraternity, in which he has served as vice president and treasurer.

Davis earned a grade average of 3.8 out of a possible 4 points at Marshall, making the dean's honor list every semester while in college. He has been selected for Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges for two years.

He has been a member of the student senate for three years.

MINUTES, RADIO AND TELEVISION COMMITTEE MEETING APRIL 17, 1957

The radio and television committee met in Dean Bartlett's office Wednesday, April 17. Those present were Dean Bartlett, Mr. Felty, Mr. Luell, Mr. Herring and Mr. Collins. Meeting with the group were Mr. Shipp of WBAZ-TV and Mr. Bacon of WHTN-TV.

Arrangements were completed with WHTN-TV for offering a two-hour course in Geography of Soviet Lands during the first term of the 1957 summer session. It would be taught by Dr. Leslie Davis, head of the geography department.

The class was set for 11 a.m. to noon Monday through Friday.

Mr. Bacon agreed to use educational films on days when tests were given.

The matter of what course would be offered by WHTN-TV during the second summer term was left undecided. Consideration was being given to a course in geography of Canada and to a course in zoology. It was agreed that no public announcement about the WHTN-TV summer class schedule would be made until Dean Wilburn had discussed the matter with Dr. Davis.

No decision was reached on the point of origin for the WHTN-TV summer programs. Mr. Luell suggested that any installment connected with the televised summer classes be made on a reasonably permanent basis. A three-inch conduit would be needed in Science Hall auditorium if this were selected as the point of origin, according to Mr. Luell. Room 320 in Science Hall also was mentioned as a possible point of origin.

Dean Bartlett agreed to arrange for schedule clearance of any room selected by the committee. It was understood that Mr. Puell would call another meeting after working out the room problem.

Mr. Puell and Mr. Herring agreed to work on the problem of bus transportation for students taking classes to be televised next fall.

The length of classes to be broadcast over WBAZ-TV next fall was discussed. Questioned about having the full 50 minutes of each class session televised, Mr. Chimp said the station would experience difficulty in making any change in the present 30-minute class period.

(Science Fair to remain on campus---1)

HUNTINGTON---(Special)---With Marshall College physical facilities already taxed by the rapid growth of the annual regional science fair sponsored by the college, the 1958 fair will remain on the campus rather than be moved to Memorial Field House.

This decision has been made by the Marshall College Regional Science Fair committee after careful study of the problems brought on by the fact that the event draws a steadily larger number of exhibits each spring. The field house had been considered as a place where all exhibits might be brought under one roof.

The 1957 regional science fair, held April 5 and 6, brought 275 exhibits by junior and senior high school students of the tri-state area to the Marshall campus. Projects were displayed in the physical education building and in the gymnasium of the laboratory school annex.

Members of the committee concurred in the opinion that the fair has an academic tie-in which can best be preserved by close association with the physical setting of a college.

At the rate the regional science fair has grown in the three years of its existence, the total of exhibits next spring probably will be well above the 300 mark. The National Science Fair at Los Angeles, which was attended by the two grand award winners from the Marshall regional event and four Marshall faculty members May 8-11 had only 233 exhibits.

(Science Fair to remain on campus---2)

The Marshall College regional science fair had 12 exhibits the first year, 1954. Eighty exhibits were displayed in the 1955 fair, and by 1956 the total had increased to 200. The 275-exhibit total for 1957 made it necessary for the first time for exhibits to overflow into a second building. An additional 75 in 1958 would probably necessitate a third building for exhibits.

The college cafeteria was virtually overflowing at the 1957 science fair banquet. The banquet next year may bring both the main and ground floor dining halls into use.

"Growth of the science fair idea is national as well as regional," said Dr. John H. Hoback, just back from the National Science Fair in Los Angeles. "Regional Science Fair winners from 40 states, the District of Columbia and Alaska joined our two regional science fair winners in displaying their scientific projects. The total of exhibits probably will reach 300 next year. I think this movement is doing much to bring more capable young people into the important areas of science where they are needed."

Marshall's two grand award winners, Richard E. McCoy, Jr., and Mary H. Benson, both students of Huntington High School, received international recognition at the National Science Fair. McCoy's project on "How to Build a PH Meter" was selected as a model exhibit for display and study in Japan. Miss Benson received a medal of commendation from a science society official of Thailand for her exhibit on "Man-Made Fibers."

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

A 24-game schedule, set in motion by the University of Cincinnati Invitational Tournament December 13 and 14, was announced today by Athletic Director Robert A. Morris, Jr. for Marshall's 1957-'58 basketball forces.

The eye appealing tournament will serve to catapult Marshall on the national basketball. The mid-December festival is regarded as one of the finest early season tournaments in the country. Included in the four team field are Cincinnati, Xavier, and St. Bonaventure. All three appeared in the National Invitational Tournament at New York's Madison Square Garden last March.

Three new opponents will make their way on the Big Green schedule. Florida State will meet Marshall for the first time in both school's history, while Washington and Lee and Xavier return after an absence of a few years.

All three contests have been set for Huntington's Memorial Field House. Marshall will face Washington and Lee on December 28, Florida State on February 1, and Xavier on February 10.

The Big Green will open its season at home Wednesday night, December 4, against an old nemesis, Morehead. The Kentucky squad has inflicted five consecutive losses on Marshall in the past two seasons.

Five Saturday night home tilts highlight the Big Green card. They include Western Michigan December 21, Washington and Lee December 28, Kent State January 11, Morris Harvey January 18, and Florida State February 1. All told, the Green will play 12 home games.

Marshall will play its required 12 conference engagements, filling out its schedule with a pair of games with St. Francis (Pa.) and a single session with Murray at Murray, Ky.

The Green will conclude its schedule on Wednesday night, February 26, with an away contest against last year's conference champions, Miami. Marshall finished in the runner-up spot behind the Redskins with an 8-4 Mid-American mark and 15-9 overall.

(Teachers in 10 states get awards---1)

HUNTINGTON---(Special)---Thirty four stipends have been awarded to high school physical science teachers to enable them to participate in the Summer Graduate Program for High School Physical Science Teachers at Marshall College from June 3 to July 12, and from July 15 to August 23, 1957.

These stipends were made possible by a grant received by Marshall College from the National Science Foundation.

Twenty-one stipend awards were made to teachers in West Virginia, three to teachers in Kentucky, two each to teachers in Virginia, and South Carolina, and one each to teachers in North Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Illinois, Ohio, and Pennsylvania.

These teachers will take courses for graduate credit in the fields of chemistry, physics, geology, and astronomy.

Several guest lecturers will visit Marshall College from time to time to give special lectures to the participating teachers.

Dr. John S. Richardson, Professor of Science Education at Ohio State University, will discuss "Methods in Science Education" during the first four days of the program, June 4 to 7.

Dr. Mark W. Zemansky, Chairman of the Physics Department at the City College of New York and a textbook author, will deliver two lectures on July 9 on the subjects of "The Approach to Absolute Zero" and "The Properties of Matter at Very Low Temperatures."

Dr. Paul M. Marcus, Professor of Physics at Carnegie Institute of Technology, will deliver a series of four lectures on "Solid-State Physics" on July 16 and 17.

One of the highlights of the summer program will be a lecture which will be open to the public on the "International Geophysical Year" to be given by Dr. Joseph Kaplan, Chairman, U.S. Committee for the International Geophysical Year and Professor of Physics at the University of California. This lecture will be given in the Science Auditorium of Marshall College on the night of July 18 at 7:30 P.M.

Marshall's golf, track and tennis forces invade Kent, Ohio tomorrow to fare against six other school's in the Mid-American Conference meet Friday and Saturday on the athletic grounds of Kent State University.

Of the three groups in question, Coach Neal B. Wilson's crack golf team appears as Marshall's most serious threat in the two day festival. Compiling a gaudy 19-3 record during the course of the season, Wilson selected five golfers that have averaged 76 or better.

Leading the list is number one man Linden Meade with a neat 73.9 figure. He is followed in line by Captain Jack Freeman, 75.5, Buddy Graham, 76.6, Drexel Meade, 76.8 and Larry McDowell, 76.6.

The three losses the link squad has suffered were inflicted by conference schools. Miami turned the trick twice, with Ohio University owning the other victory. However, season records won't have any bearings in the determination of the champion as the title will be decided on 36-hole medal play with the low four scores included in the total.

Coach Jule Rivlin will carry only six members of his shallow track squad that is 0-5 for the year's work. The Marshall mentor will be pointing to a couple of relay wins, the 880 and mile events.

The 880-yard team comprised of Captain Don Adkins, Ken Adkins, Gary Kinsell and Ray Dunlap has copped four of its five appearances. The first two, along with Warren Whitaker and Dick Jackson make up the mile relay quartet.

Dunlap and Jackson have supplied the Green with most of its points the last two meets. Specializing in the 100 and 220, Dunlap collected 25 points while Jackson in the 220 low hurdles and 440-yard run has accumulated 22½ points.

The tennis team under the tutelage of Lansing Brisbin will be underdogs at Kent. The netters finished with a 4-12 mark, being winless within the conference circle in five outings.

Brisbin will enter his top four players in the tennis field. They include Captain Charles Bearden, Cebe Price, George Templin and Leo Byrd ranked in that order.

The first three are seniors, with the latter mentioned a sophomore. Although this was his first year on the courts, Ryrd nevertheless enjoyed a fine season, picking up more wins than anyone else.

Three-hundred seventy-five degrees will be conferred upon 374 persons at Marshall College commencement exercises Sunday. Graduation exercises at the Keith-Albee Theater will begin at 2 P.M. The baccalaureate service will come four hours earlier at 10 A.M.

Degrees to be conferred include 299 bachelor's, 41 Master's, and 35 in the associate category.

The only one of the group to receive two degrees is Cardestal McGraw of Ansted, who finished his bachelor's work in January and completed the work toward a master's degree this month. He is a major in psychology. Both degrees are in the arts category.

Two hundred eighty-one of the degree candidates are in the May graduating class. Those who finished their work in January total 94.

Of the 375 degrees to be conferred, 129 will have been earned in the teachers' college, 205 will have been earned in the college of arts and sciences, and 41 will have been completed in the graduate school.

The heads of Syracuse University and the Yale University Divinity School will be the commencement and baccalaureate speakers respectively. Dr. William P. Tolley, chancellor of Syracuse, will give the commencement address. Dr. Liston Pope, dean of the Yale University Divinity School, will be the baccalaureate speaker.

Dr. Tolley and R. Virgil Rohrbough, state superintendent of schools, will receive honorary doctorates.

MARSHALL COLLEGE INFORMATION SERVICE, HUNTINGTON, W.VA.---5-23-57

NOTE TO EDITOR

The Marshall College Information Service will be closed from June 1 until further notice from the president of Marshall College. James H. Herring, the present director, will become and administrative officer in public relations at Bowling Green State University, Bowling Green, Ohio, June 1. You may talk with President Stewart H. Smith about what plans have been made for continuing the function of the Information Service after Mr. Herring leaves. A successor has been recommended to the West Virginia Board of Education.

The Information Service will distribute news copy under the present management until the end of the work day Friday, May 24. The office, however, will be at your service in any other way until the closing hour Friday, May 31. It is suggested that you deal directly with college administrative offices from that date until the office is reopened under new management.

Thanks for your fine cooperation with the Marshall College Information Service during the last four years. It has been a pleasure to work with you and to serve you as well as the college.

James H. Herring, Director

Marshall College Information Service

EXCERPTS FROM "OUR CONTRIBUTION TO THE SHAPE OF THE FUTURE"

COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS, MARSHALL COLLEGE, HUNTINGTON, W.VA., MAY 26, 1957

DR. WILLIAM P. TOLLEY, CHANCELLOR OF SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY

The following are direct quotations from Dr. Tolley's address:

To be happy in the choice of one's life work is one of the keys to a rich and full life. When our vocation gives us as much pleasure as our avocation, we are usually in the right niche....

The American experiment has proved that there is wealth enough for all, that human values should be respected, and that ^tall men should enjoy the fullest measure of freedom....

A wise man seldom makes a prediction about the future. It is clear, however, that in so far as the Soviet Republics depend on a slave economy and a philosophy of exploitation they represent a revival of outmoded orders. Communist societies will, I think, find it increasingly difficult to compete with a philosophy of freedom.
Surely as we march forward toward the Twenty-first Century the days of slavery and exploitation are numbered.

What else can we say about the future? Well, for one thing the advances in medicine and public health guarantee a doubling of the world's population in your lifetime. Moreover, the rapidity of our scientific and cultural advances foreshadows for a long time to come shortages of trained manpower in literally dozens of fields. Never has education been of such critical importance, never has brain power been in such short supply. Seldom in the world's history have there been greater opportunities for the trained mind....

(Excerpts from Tolley address---2)

There is something of the realist in all of us and the words have a self-validating quality like simple arithmetic. On the surface, at least, we can't quarrel with the proposition that things are what they are and will be what they will be. We have to start with the world as it is, not as it used to be, not as some like to think it is, not as others wish it were. More often than not the truth hurts, but until we face it frankly we can't get very far. It may be hard to adjust to. Nevertheless, we are not going to understand the world until we see it as it really is.

And this is true, of course, in our understanding of ourselves. We are drifting toward disaster if we don't know the kind of body and mind we really have, the kind of disposition we have, the kind of personality we have, the kind of prejudices we have, the kind of ideals and faith we have. The truth about ourselves is the only foundation on which we can build without asking for trouble....

If anything is clear it is our duty to shape the future in so far as it lies within our power. In an open society not yet so rigid or stratified as that of many other lands, it is relatively easy for you to make your influence count. Don't take a dim view of your prospects....

ACADEMIC COSTUME

The custom of wearing academic regalia in the colleges and universities of the United States has been continuous since Colonial times. The colors indicating fields of study and degrees conferred are now of standard significance and at Marshall College show in the hoods worn by the Master's degree candidates. Doctor's and Master's hoods worn by members of the faculty are colorful and elaborate. Hoods for both Master's and Doctor's are made of black, lined with silk chevrons in the official colors of the university conferring the degree, and trimmed with velvet collars in colors distinctive of the degree.

MARSHALL COLLEGE welcomes the families and friends of the graduating class to the spring commencement of its one hundred and twentieth year. The College, established as Marshall Academy in 1837, was named in honor of Chief Justice John Marshall, long-time friend of John Laidley, who is traditionally accepted as the founder of the Academy.

The humble subscription school; the private academy; the College, elevated to collegiate status by the Virginia Assembly in 1858; the "West Virginia State Normal School . . . to be established at Marshall College in the County of Cabell . . ." in 1867. These are the historic milestones in the development of Marshall College as it is today.

The dual program of teacher education and liberal arts established in the charter of 1837 was expanded in 1921 and 1923 into the four-year baccalaureate degrees offered in the Teachers College and the College of Arts and Sciences. The Graduate Division established in 1938, became the Graduate School by act of the West Virginia Board of Education in 1948.

Today, the College is continuing its service to young men and women as it prepares them for business, industry and the professions in West Virginia. The College prepares more teachers for the public schools than any other institution in the state. Many doctors, lawyers and engineers in West Virginia have received their pre-professional education and their bachelor's degrees from the College. Business executives look to the College for trained personnel. The Placement Office reports that seventy firms interviewed seven hundred and fifty prospective employees during recent months, and this figure does not include prospective teachers.

At the close of the exercises today, the College will have graduated 13,507 persons. Marshall alumni remember with affection the classrooms of Old Main or the modern efficiency of the laboratories of Science and Northcott Halls, the skillful teaching and keen wit of a loved and respected professor, the sheltering branches of the Beech Tree, and the cheerful "Hello" that did not wait for an introduction.

The little four-room Academy building standing on its one and one-half acres has been expanded to seventeen buildings situated on twenty-six acres of land in the heart of Huntington, the city that grew up around the College. Sixty-two housing units are available to veterans approximately two miles from the campus. Three residence halls for women, one for men and thirteen fraternity and sorority homes, provide housing for approximately 500 students. A dormitory for 184 freshmen women, opened September 1955, helped relieve a critical shortage of housing for non-resident students. West Virginia provides the major financial support for the College, its personnel, equipment and operation. The Marshall Foundation, a non-profit corporation, was organized in 1947 to acquire and administer funds for scholarships, to secure research grants and to improve facilities beyond the power of the state to provide.

MAC Changes Ruling Affecting Transfers

adv 5-2557

(Special to The Advertiser)

KENT, O. — Apparently Marshall's acquiring ten ex-Morris Harvey football players has the rest of the Mid-American Conference worried.

Worried or not, at least they're stirring uncomfortably. Until yesterday's meeting of conference officials, the MAC permitted athletes whose colleges dropped a sport to become immediately eligible in that sport at another school.

All others, of course, who transfer must sit out a year's eligibility.

Yesterday, the officials voted to force all transferred athletes to sit out that year. The rule, however, doesn't enter into effect until September 15, 1957. Thus, the Morris Harvey lads will be eligible to play for Marshall next fall.

New Officers

The conference elected new officers for the coming year. Dr. Fred Pickard of Ohio University was named president. Vice president is C. B. McDonald of Western Michigan. Secretary is Dr. Fred Cotrell of Miami and member of the executive board is Dr. Ed Saxser of Toledo.

Out going president is Dr. Paul Musgrave of Marshall.

Meanwhile, the MAC Press-Radio Association also held elections. With the exception of eliminating a vice president's capacity, the officers will stay the same as last year.

Salvatore President

Previously, Fred Burns of the Herald-Dispatch was vice-president for the West Virginia section. However, the association did away with that section, establishing a new one in the Southwestern part of Ohio. That office will be filled later.

Ernie Salvatore of The Huntington Advertiser was retained as president and Jim Thacker of WSAZ, Inc. as secretary. Vice presidents keeping their jobs include Dave Martin of WOHO, Toledo, for the north; Jack Moss of the Kalamazoo Gazette for the Michigan area and Jack Gilbert of the Athens Messenger for the southern part of Ohio.

Miss Joanne Jeffries of Marshall College is the winner of a Fulbright scholarship.

Joanne Jeffries Wins Scholarship

Joanne Jeffries, an Alpha Chi Omega who was graduated from Marshall College yesterday, has been awarded a Fulbright Scholarship to study in France.

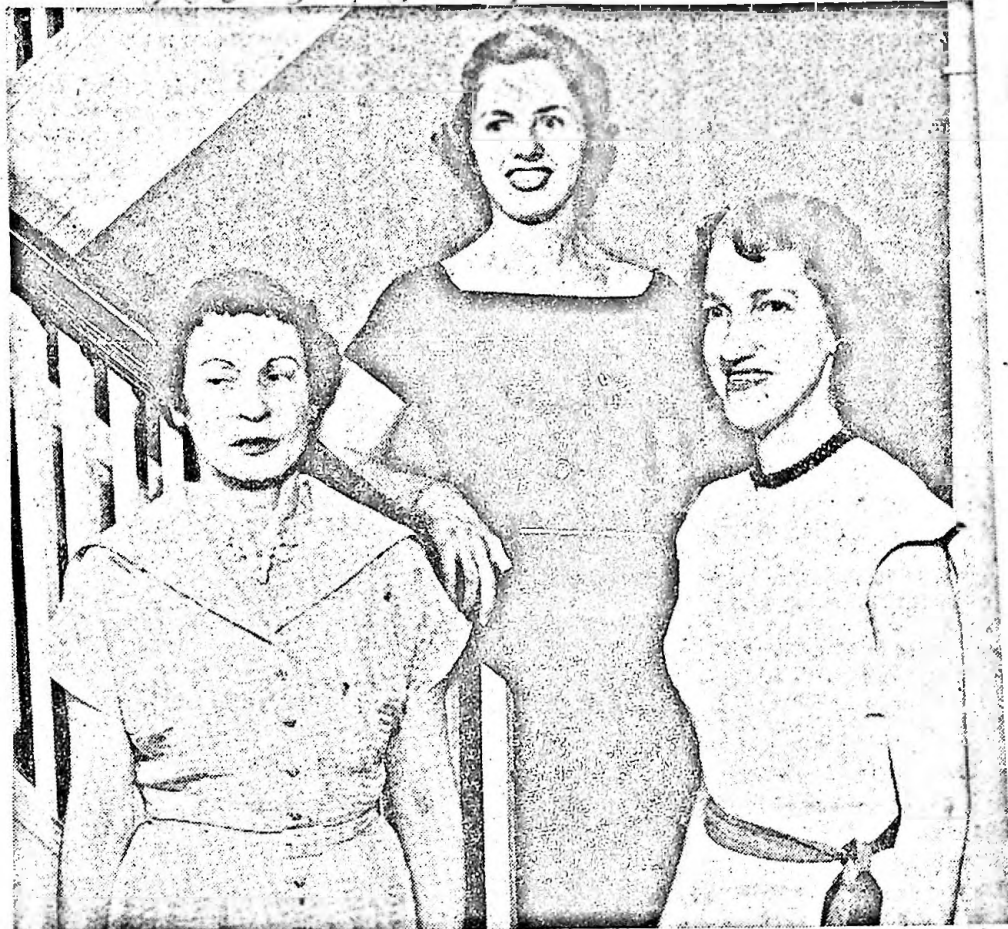

Miss Jeffries is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Jeffries, 118 Waverly Way Clarksburg, W. Va. She and her twin sister, Miss Dianne Jeffries were graduated together yesterday afternoon.

The scholarship won by Miss

Jeffries enables her to study for one year at the University of Rennes, in Rennes, France near Paris. She is expected to report in Paris October 2 for a three weeks orientation period. She will study French literature at the university. At Marshall she majored in French, English and education. Both she and her sister have been active in several campus groups and outstanding members of Alpha Chi Omega sorority.

Marshall Golf Team Is Host

Marshall College's golf team played host to Dayton this morning at the Guyan Country Club. Tee-off time was 9:15.

The Big Green sought its 16th victory in 18 outings. It has lost only to Miami. Marshall and Dayton have met once before this year, with the locals taking a 14-4 win.

Marshall Nine Is Rained Out

Adm 5-15-57

Marshall's baseball team ended its 1957 home season a little differently than planned.

The Big Green was to wind up its home card yesterday by playing Xavier University at Inco Park. Rain, however, forced cancellation.

Marshall has four games left—all on the road. Thursday, it leaves town for a game each Friday and Saturday with Bowling Green.

Distant Fields Appear Greener To Marshall College Graduates

The dreamy, far-off look in the eyes of high school and college seniors preparing for graduation day is an expression of conflicting and confusing emotions.

There is sadness that comes from the knowledge that the old familiar scenes and the sometimes irksome but generally pleasant routine of school are soon to fade into the background of the past forever.

Close friends who have mingled together every day, sharing triumphs and disappointments and the happiness of youthful associations, will soon scatter and never come together again as before.

But this pang of separation is relieved somewhat by the thrill of expectation that comes from looking forward to college or to a job or a professional career.

These conflicting feelings of looking back to a pleasant past and forward to a challenging future are never as strong again as during the excitement of graduation day.

An effort to recapture part of them is what brings thousands of alumni back to their schools and colleges every year at commencement time. The remnant of the feelings that last may also act as part of the drive that keeps men and women plugging through the years in their occupations.

The nature of the commencement time experience depends to some extent upon the character of the student and the use he has made of his opportunity to prepare for his work.

To that extent it also betokens his future success or failure, for the same qualities that make a good student also make a competent and successful workman.

In view of the importance of seniors' reactions to their situation, it must have been a little disturbing to oldsters to read the other day that nine of 10 graduates of Marshall College this year would leave the state for work.

The statements of most of the unidentified students carried a tone of contempt. There was contempt for the state because of its politics, because of its relatively low salaries for teachers and because of its "backwoods influence" that keeps people from realizing there is "more financial good than moral bad" in race tracks and sale of liquor over the bar.

Possibly some of these students didn't realize just how their statements would sound in print. More than likely some of them spoke without serious thought.

Anyway, there is a spirit of independence verging on rebellion in most young people. It's what urges them to strike out for themselves in an effort to carve their own future.

Moreover, the eyes of youth often see failures of oldsters more clearly. Their blunt criticisms, if considered seriously, can bring about important improvements. And there was some justification for most of these criticisms.

Besides all that, no one has a right to blame young people for going where they can find the greatest opportunities.

There is just one bit of advice oldsters would like to give the rebellious graduates: wherever you go, don't take your contempt along.

If you are inclined to be contemptuous of your old state, you may soon find you're contemptuous of your new state or of the people for whom you work. And contempt breeds contempt. Those who give you work may even become contemptuous of you. That will shut the door of opportunity in your face, no matter how great your qualifications.

Above all, the graduate should not present a clipping of the news story expressing his contempt of his state when he applies for a job. Those to whom he applies might get the silly notion that his contempt is a projection of his own failures. Psychologists say such projections sometimes occur. It shows in such actions as kicking a chair after barking a shin on a rocker.

In contrast to the expressions of those who don't like West Virginia was the statement of Mary Lou Maloney of Cedar Grove. It seemed to us to contain the best recommendation of all those quoted in the Marshall story. Miss Maloney said:

"I was born and reared in West Virginia and got my education here. I feel it's my responsibility to stay. I owe it to the state."

We don't know Miss Maloney or any of the other students quoted. But as one who has hired a good many college graduates in his time, we know from experience that her attitude is worth more to an employer than any amount of cocksure, contemptuous superior ability.

Marshall Nine In Final Home Contest Today

Marshall's baseball team makes its final home appearance this afternoon, meeting Xavier University at Inco Park.

Game time is 3:30.

Coach Paul Chambers has picked ace right-hander Paul Underwood to pitch. Underwood, usually retained for Mid-American Conference games, is "completely rested," according to Chambers.

"We'll probably still be able to use him Saturday at Bowling Green," the Marshall coach explained.

Both Underwood and Chambers would like nothing better than to make Marshall's final home game a successful one.

Marshall just returned from a road trip of three games on which it won two.

"We did a lot better," said Chambers, "I hope we can slip up on one of these teams."

Marshall Freshmen Cindermen Beaten

The Ohio University freshman track team defeated the Marshall frosh, 98-46, in a dual meet yesterday at Fairfield Stadium.

Warren Reeser in the shotput, H. K. Smith in the 100 yard dash and Carl Hickey in the 440 yard run were the only winners for the Big Green frosh in the 14 events.

Marshall Makes Penalties For Exam Cheating Stiffer

Penalties for cheating in examinations were made stiffer yesterday by Marshall College.

A faculty meeting unanimously adopted a resolution providing that for the first offense the student shall receive a grade of "F" (failure) in the course in which cheating occurred, shall be expelled from the course, shall be placed on academic probation for the remainder of the semester in which the offense occurred, and shall be barred from participation in college activities for the rest of the semester.

For a second offense, the cheater shall be expelled from the college.

President Stewart H. Smith said the matter of penalties for cheating was brought before a faculty meeting last fall by some members who believed the penalties then prescribed were not sufficient. A faculty committee was appointed to study the matter, and advice was asked of the Student Senate, whose suggestions were generally similar to the penalties proposed by the faculty committee, Dr. Smith reported.

The Marshall president said that if a student chose to contest a charge of cheating made by the instructor, he or she could appeal to his college dean and eventually to the president.

In any event, Dr. Smith added, the college deans will counsel with any first offenders.

Final examinations at Marshall begin next week.

Religious Center Site Bought

The board of sponsors of the Marshall College Student Christian Association yesterday received deeds for two lots on the northwest corner of Fifth Avenue and Seventeenth Streets on which the new Student Christian Center is to be located. The deeds were turned over to Dr. James T. Browning, vice-chairman of the board of sponsors, by Paul C. Pancake, a real estate broker, and Russell C. Dunbar, attorney, members of the board who acted as agents in the transaction.

The cost of the real estate, which was purchased from the Buford Tynes estate and Mrs. Adie Beswick Runyon, was about $15,000. A building fund campaign is now in progress to raise $250,000 to erect the center. Students already have contributed $23,000 through gifts and pledges. The Rev. Joseph A. Garshaw, pastor of the Central Christian Church, is chairman of the Association finance committee for the Center, and Richard Rothman is director of the fund raising crusade.

Mrs. Smith Awaiting Word on New Position

The State Board of Education was expected to act today on a recommendation for employment of Mrs. Veta Lee Smith as assistant professor of English at Shepherd College, Shepherds-town, W. Va. Mrs. Smith has been secretary of Marshall College for the past 18 years.

The recommendation was submitted to the board yesterday by President Oliver Ikenberry of Shepherd.

The appointment would be effective September 1 and Mrs. Smith would resign her Marshall post August 31.

Before coming to Marshall, she taught at Point Pleasant and Welch high schools and Morgantown Business College. She received her AB and MA degrees from West Virginia University and has also done work at New York University.

Mrs. Smith served as president of the American College Public Relations Association in 1953-54; on the public relations committee of the National Education Association, 1950-52, and as West Virginia Education public relations chairman, 1947-51.

She was listed in Who's Who in Education in 1950 and is to be listed in the 1957 supplement to Who's Who in America.

Mrs. Smith is secretary of the Marshall College Foundation, has been active in the Community Welfare Council and the Girl Scout movement, and is currently serving on the Salvation Army advisory board. She is a member of Mortar Board, national women's honorary, and helped organize Fagus, senior women's honorary society at Marshall.

Big Green Nine Pounds VPI 8-4

Marshall College's baseball team pounded Virginia Tech, 8-4 yesterday at Blacksburg, Virginia with little Ed Mickels going the route on the mound for the Big Green, scattering 13 hits along the way.

Marshall collected 17 hits, shortstop John Mayberry pacing the attack with three doubles and a single in five times at bat.

The victory boosted the Big Green's record to 6-11.

Marshall Net Team Plays Kent

(Special to The Advertiser)
KENT, O. — Marshall's tennis team will be entertained by that of Kent State here today to wind up the Big Green's road trip. Marshall lost yesterday at Toledo, 9-0.

The results: Singles — Klaus Raueliser defeated Charles Bearden, 9-7, 6-3; Dan Braden defeated Cebe Price, 6-2, 6-2; Joe Makowski defeated George Tempelin, 6-2, 6-2; Larry Resnick defeated Leo Byrd, 2-6, 7-5, 6-1; Don Knuth defeated Jack Young, 6-3, 6-3; Joe Damrauer defeated Joe Wilburn, 6-2, 6-1.

Doubles — Braden-Resnick defeated Bearden - Byrd, 6-1, 6-4; Raueliser - Makowski defeated Price-Templin, 6-2, 6-2; Knuth-Damrauer defeated Wilburn-Young, 6-3, 6-2.

May Be Final Week of Action For MC Squads

This may be the final week of spring sports activity for Marshall College.

The baseball team definitely ends its season by playing Mid-American Conference for Toledo there Friday and Saturday. Marshall is out of the league championship race and therefore won't compete in any type of tournament.

The golf, tennis and track squads meanwhile, got to Kent for the annual MAC spring sports festival, also Friday and Saturday.

Before competing in the festival, the golfers will participate in a special practice round at Kent Thursday.

Over the week end, Marshall teams split, the baseballers bowing at Bowling Green, 3-0, and the golfers winning a triangular meet at Kent. The linksmen downed Kent State, 8-7, and Western Michigan, 11-4.

Lindon Meade again was low man for the golfers, firing a 71.

Toledo Netters Blank Green, 9-0

Marshall's tennis squad absorbed its 11th defeat in 15 outings in taking a 9-0 blanking at the hands of Toledo yesterday afternoon at Toledo.

The results: Singles — Klaus Raueiser defeated Charles Bearden, 9-7, 6-3; Dan Braden defeated Cebe Price, 6-2, 6-2; Joe Makowski defeated George Templin, 6-2, 6-2; Larry Resnick defeated Leo Byrd, 2-6, 7-5, 6-1; Don Knuth defeated Jack Young, 6-3, 6-3; Joe Damrauer defeated Joe Wilburn, 6-2, 6-1.

Marshall Netters Defeated, 7 To 2

Bowling Green's tennis team handed Marshall its 10th defeat, 7-2, yesterday at Bowling Green, and once again it was Leo Byrd who picked up the only singles victory for the Big Green.

Byrd, of basketball fame, is the winningest player on the squad, playing the No. 4 position. He defeated Jerry Kramer in picking up yesterday's decision, 6-3, 8-6. The doubles team of Cebe Price and George Templin scored the other Marshall point.

The results:

Singles — Dan Bacon (BG) d. Charles Bearden, 6-1, 6-2; Ed Wahl (BG) d. Cebe Price, 6-1, 6-1; Dewayne Smith (BG) d. George Templin, 6-2, 7-4; Le Byrd (M) d. Jerry Kramer, 6-3, 8-6; Dick Abele (BG) d. Jack Young, 6-0, 6-3; John Malloy (BG) d. Joe Wilburn, 6-3, 6-0.

Doubles — Bacon and Wahl (BG) d. Bearden and Byrd, 5-7, 7-5, 6-3; Price and Templin (M) d. Tom Crow and Smith, 6-3, 7-5; Kramer and Abele, (BG) d. Young and Wilburn, 6-2, 6-2.

Marshall Rally In Ninth Tops Wasps, 13-10

EMORY, Va., May 9 (AP)—Marshall College punched across four runs in the top of the ninth inning today to come from behind and whip Emory and Henry 13-10.

Emory and Henry led 10-9 going into the fatal ninth. Two Wasp errors, a wild pitch, a single and Dave Hall's long triple produced the four Marshall markers.

The visitors punched 13 base hits off Jay Jones, the starter and loser for Emory, and Bob Bralley, who relieved in the ninth. Hall had two singles besides his triple.

Big Green Nine Seeks to Sweep 3-Game Trip

(Special to The Advertiser)

LEXINGTON, Va. — Marshall College seeks to make a clean sweep of its three-game road trip here today.

The Big Green take on Virginia Military Institute this afternoon, fresh from victories over Emory & Henry, 13-10, and Virginia Tech, 8-4.

The latter was yesterday, as diminutive Ed Mickel scattered 13 hits over nine innings to notch the win. He had considerable help from his teammates, who pounded out 17 hits.

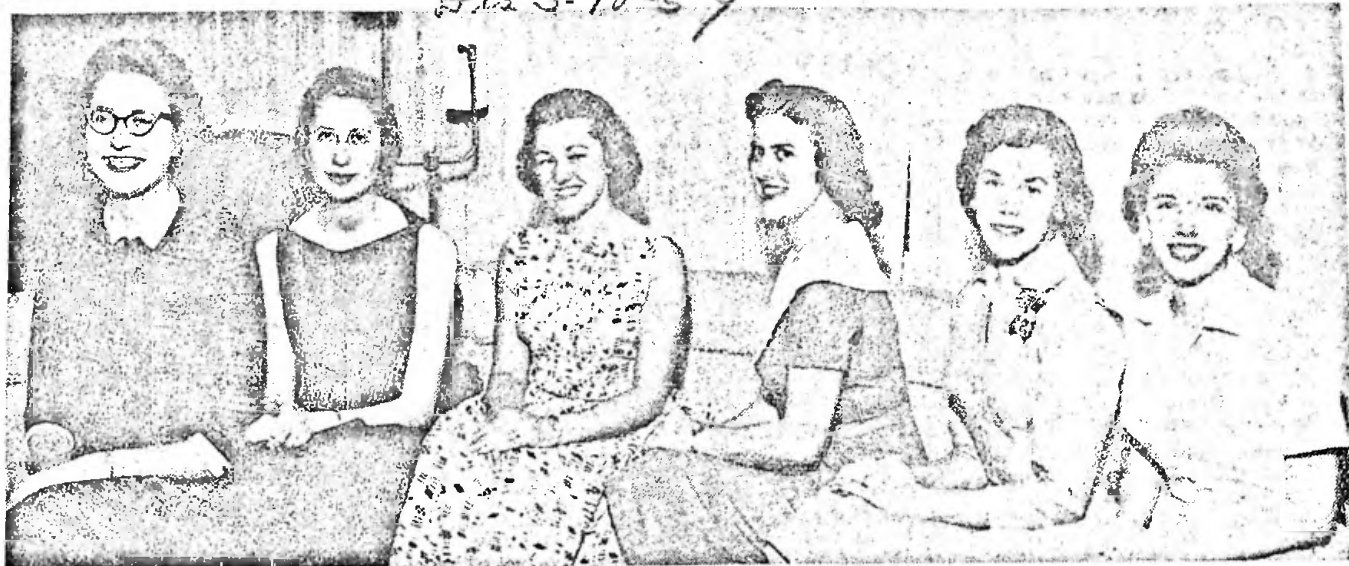

Delmar Preston, Marshall catcher, led his team at the plate with four hits, one a homer, and three RBI's.

Goal Of $250,000 Set For Marshall College Chapel Crusade

By DORIS MILLER

The crusade for funds to build a Christian student center at Marshall College began assuming definite shape when the Board of Sponsors of the Student Christian Association set a goal of $250,000 during its meeting Saturday. A group of outstanding lay leaders of the community will be called together next week to assist in making further plans.

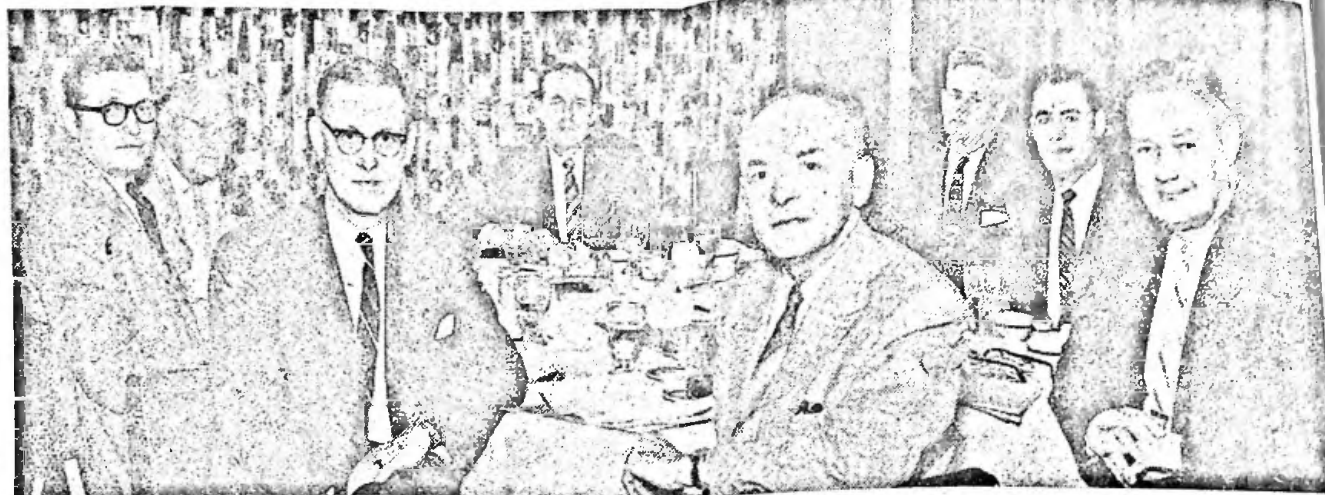

Since negotiations for the purchase of two lots at the corner of Fifth Avenue and Seventeenth Street began almost a year ago, the building to be erected thereon has been alternately spoken of as a chapel and a student center. Eber Bowles, director of Christian education at the Baptist Temple who has been closely associated with the project since its beginning, was asked to describe the type of building contemplated in terms of use rather than architecture.

"It will be a center for Christian student activities," Mr. Bowles explained. "In addition to a chapel in which services of many kinds may be held, the building will contain rooms for other meetings, for recreation, social activities, and study, and the office of the student religious counselor, who is at present the Rev. Lander Beal."

The board inter-denominational character for Christian activity on the campus was pointed out by Dr. Andrew R. Bird, Jr., pastor of the First Presbyterian Church and chairman of the Board of Sponsors.

"The sponsors for the Marshall College Student Christian Association is a voluntary group of those who contribute to the support of this inter-denominational program," Dr. Bird stated. "Any church which believes in Jesus Christ as Saviour and Lord and contributes to the Christian program on the campus for the current year automatically makes its pastor, a layman and a youth worker of the church eligible as members of the organization."

In explanation of the development of the program, Dr. Bird continued, "Over the period of the last 10 years and more, the various church groups interested in the Christian program for students at the college have been growing toward a united program to provide Christian discussion groups, Christian teaching, and Christian activities through the week for students on the Marshall campus. Interested churches have noted that the need which usually exists at state colleges for building de-pastor of the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church; Dr. Stewart H. Smith, president of Marshall College and a Lutheran layman; the Rev. J. Cecil Jones, pastor of the Baptist Temple and president of the Huntington Ministerial Association; Richard Rothman, crusade director; and Dr. Andrew R. Bird, Jr., pastor of the First Presbyterian Church and chairman of the Board of Sponsors.

nominal student activity centers immediately adjacent to the campus has not developed at Marshall, largely because the boarding students have a tendency to go home over weekends or to attend the student fellowship groups in churches of their own denominations nearest the campus. On the other hand, all participating churches have felt the importance of having some kind of continuing student Christian program directly on the campus.

"During the time the student is in college, crossing new frontiers of knowledge, he faces many times of questioning when the immediate guidance and counsel of a religious advisor is imperative. Also, especially on the campus of a state college, there ought to be something which represents religion as a vital part of life. In the past, because of the lack of an adequate religious program, many college students have become confused and have temporarily or permanently lost their faith.

In Huntington we are especially fortunate in having all our denominations working together to support a religious counselor and advisor on the college campus. With more than 3,000 calls on him per year counseling, regular meetings every week that have grown beyond any present facilities on the campus, and many student Christian activities, the work of the counselor has grown so rapidly that the need for a student Christian center has become an urgent necessity. We of the churches are resolved to provide the equipment and personnel to serve our students who seek both aid and expression for their faith during their college years.

"We have found that the students are delighted at having their own counselor and at prospects of their own chapel and center. Out of their own meager resources over 700 students already have contributed in gifts and pledges more than $23,000 on a $30,000 goal which they have set up as their part of the overall cost of their Christian student center: Their achievement appears to us as the greatest possible validation of the usefulness and importance of this program in which our denominations are joining hands."

Contributing further to the discussion, the Rev. Joseph A. Garshaw, minister of Central Christian Church who is chairman of the finance committee on the Christian student center, declared, "The Student Christian Association of Marshall College deserves every ounce of help that can be given to help them plan and build a suitable place to work, fellowship, and worship. They have demonstrated their own interest by pledging a very substantial sum of money out of their own slender resources and by this determined action have given the lie to adults who mistakenly feel modern youth are decadent.

"While Marshall College is a state-supported institution of learning, a very large segment of the student body comes from Christian homes and nearly all are conditioned by a Christian environment. These fine young people deserve the support of the church and all Christian-minded people. I might even say 'religious-minded', for the Christian activities building will naturally be available to youth of other faiths if request is made. How could we be Christian and not share when another has a need? We are not dealing with non-religious students merely because Marshall is publicly owned. We are seeking to encourage young women and men from our own homes who are individuals in their own rights and who would have every spiritual benefit we can help them find.

"Every person who is interested in the spiritual development of young people in college should give liberally to this crusade. We believe in the separation of church and state for a free America. The state is doing its part in providing the college. The church must do her part to provide the opportunities for Christian activities and spiritual development."

Activities At Marshall College Commencement

'Freedom' Will Defeat Reds

By DORIS MILLER

Three hundred seventy-five candidates who yesterday received Marshall College degrees at the institution's 120th commencement heard the chancellor of Syracuse University declare that freedom for the individual will win in its battle with enslavement of peoples.

Speaking at the afternoon ceremony at the Keith-Albee Theater, Dr. William Pearson Tolley declared that Communist societies will find it "increasingly difficult to compete with a philosophy of freedom."

Honorary degrees conferred during the program were a doctor of laws degree to Dr. Tolley and a doctor of pedagogy to Ralph Virgil Rohrbough, state superintendent of schools.

Dean D. Banks Wilburn presented the 129 candidates for Bachelor of Arts degrees in Teachers College. Dean John Frank Bartlett presented the College of Arts and Science candidates, including 44 for bachelor of arts, 69 for bachelor of science, 11 bachelor of engineering science, 6 bachelor of science in chemistry, 40 bachelor of business administration and 35 associate in science. The 40 candidates for master of arts and 3 for master of science degrees were presented by Dean

Syracuse University Chancellor Delivers Address

Graduates Told Human Values Must Be Respected

Arvil Ernest Harris. Fourteen students were graduated magna cum laude and 20, cum laude.

Yesterday for the first time in Marshall College's 120-year history, commencement and the baccalaureate service for the graduating class were held on the same day. Dr. Liston Pope, dean of the Yale University Divinity School, delivered the baccalaureate address at the Keith-Albee at 10 A. M.

Dr. Tolley declared in his address, "the American experiment has proved that there is wealth enough for all, that human values should be respected, and that all men should enjoy the fullest measure of freedom."

"A wise man seldom makes a prediction about the future. It is clear, however, that insofar as the Soviet Republics depend on slave economy and a philosophy of exploitation they represent a revival of outmoded orders. Communist societies will, I think, find it increasingly difficult to compete with a philosophy of freedom. Surely as we march toward the Twenty-first Century, the days of slavery and exploitation are numbered.

Speaking on "Our Contribution to the Shape of the Future," Dr. Tolley challenged the graduates to face the truth, to accept the world and themselves as they were, and to fulfill their duty to shape the world insofar as it lay within their power. Finding work they enjoy is their first step, Dr. Tolley believes.

"To be happy in the choice of one's life work is one of the keys to a rich and full life," the chancellor stated. "When our vocation gives us as much pleasure as our avocation, we are usually in the right niche."

Dr. Tolley pointed out that great opportunities exist today for the trained mind. "Advances in medicine and health guarantee a doubling of the world's population in your lifetime.

Moreover, the rapidity of our scientific and cultural advances foreshadows for a long time to come shortages of trained manpower in literally dozens of fields. Never has education been of such critical importance, never has brain power been in such short supply."

Speaking on "With All Thy Might," Dean Pope advised the graduates to use their heads, not lose them. He pointed out that the naturalists see the mind as a tool for human survival, a superior monkey wrench for twisting things; others see it as a greenhouse to create and preserve lovely things, no matter how hard storms blow without; still others, as a storehouse for knowledge.

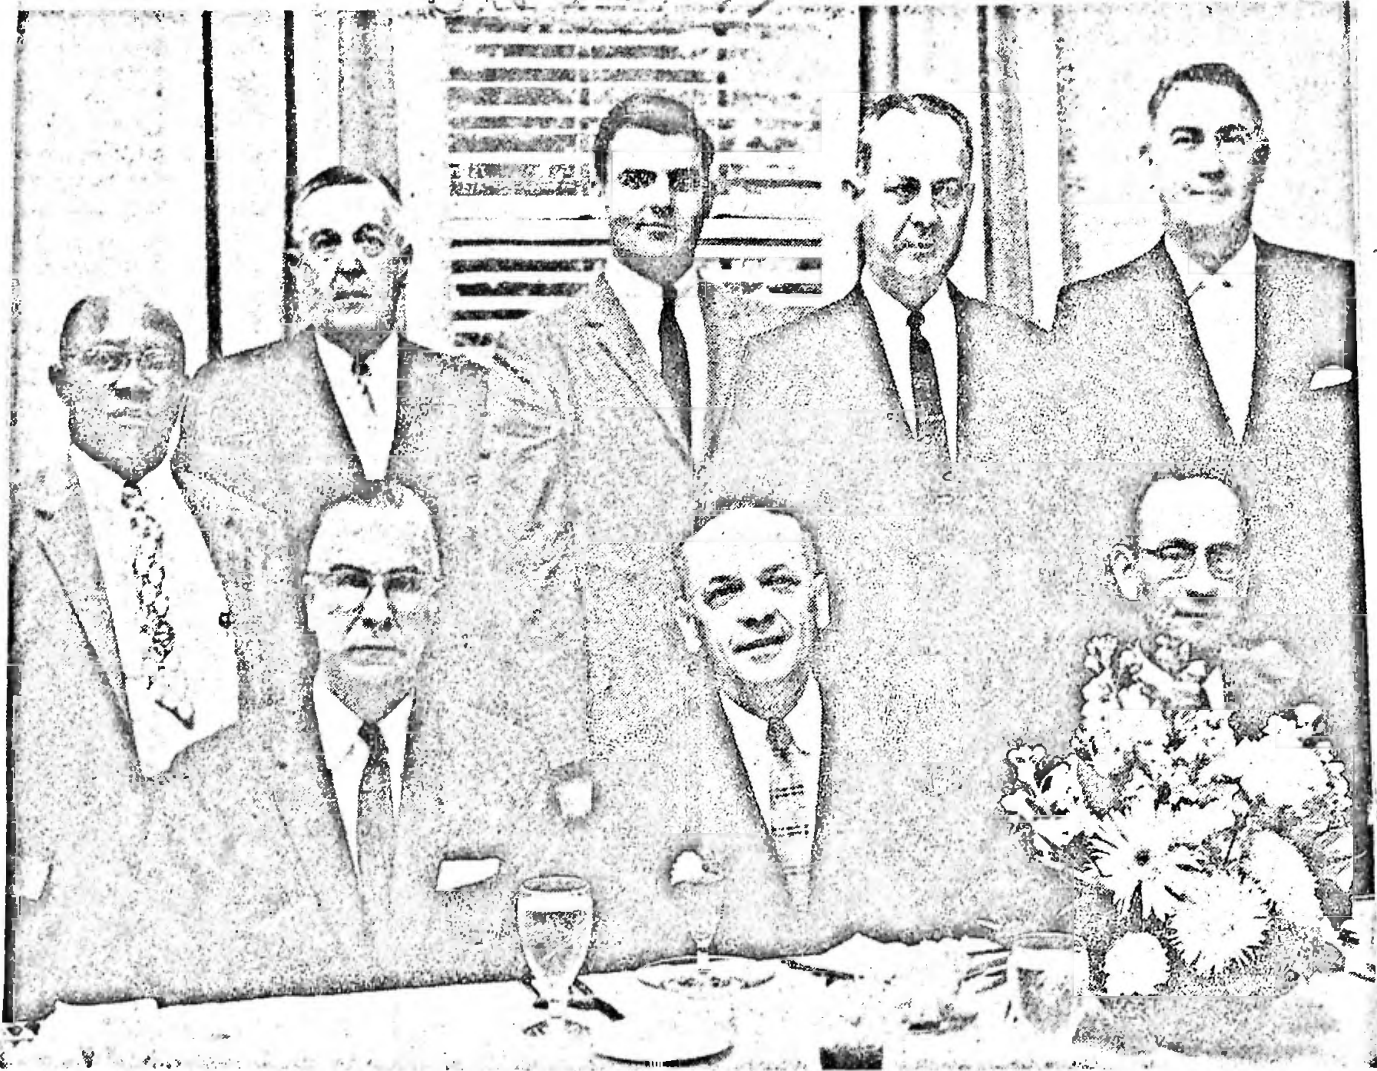

"These three are the principal theories of the mind in our contemporary education," Dr. Pope explained. "Each has some merit. The Old Testament law and Jesus offered a fourth possibility in the Commandment, 'Love the Lord thy God ... with all thy mind.' God is the truth that sets it free. Contemporary education divides the mind into compartments; the love of God can make it whole again. And the love of one common Father can unite a broken world."

Marshall Golfers, Although Second, Take Meet Spotlight

(Special to The Advertiser)

CINCINNATI, O. — Marshall College golfers, although trailing Ohio University by one stroke, were given the spotlight as the 18-hole finals to determine the Mid-American Conference champ opened here today.

Tee-off time was 9 o'clock. Ohio

University, the defending champion, had a score of 297 while Marshall came in with 298. Miami, which defeated Marshall twice this year, totaled 312 to come in fifth after the opening 18.

The Big Green golfers, however, were the lone hopes for Marshall as the MAC spring sports festival continued today.

In tennis, Marshall has only George Templin remaining. And, he drew a bye yesterday.

In track, Marshall has two relay teams eligible to compete in the 880-yard relay and the mile relay after yesterday's qualifying sessions, plus two individuals in three events.

Golf coach Whitey Wilson of Marshall said he felt "better" and that he figured all the pressure "is on Ohio." Wilson was optimistic about today's matches.

Jack Freeman led the Big Green linksmen with a 34-36-70, just one stroke behind medalist Dudley Kircher of OU. Lindon Meade had a 36-39-75, Buddy Graham a 38-38-76, Larry McDowell, a 38-39-77 and Drexel Meade 39-39-78 to compete the Marshall card.

Western Michigan's Danny Telder downed Charles Beardon, 6-2, 6-1; Toledo's Dan Braden topped Cebe Price, 6-4, 6-4; and Bill McConnell downed Leo Byrd — the score unavailable — in Marshall's net matches. Byrd won a previous match, beating Larry Resnick, 8-6, 6-1, but bowed to McConnell in the second round.

Dunlap Shines

In doubles, Beardon and Byrd lost to Hartman and Ludman of OU, 6-4, 6-3, while Price and Templin yielded to Raugiser and McKoski of Toledo, 6-1, 10-8.

Ran Dunlap qualified yesterday for two of today's finals, the 100 yard dash and the 220. He ran he first in 9.8, the second in :21.3. Western's Olympic star, Ira Furchison, however, was first in the 100 with :9.6 and tied Dunlap's time in the 220.

Don Trainor qualified for Marshall in the mile while in the two relays Marshall landed eight men in Dunlap, Gary Kinsell, Dick Jackson, Don Adkins, Warren Hitaker, Dick Hall and Adkins and Jackson again.

MC Runners In Fairmont

Coach Jules Rivlin's Marshall College track squad visits Fairmont this afternoon, still seeking its first track victory.

This is the first of two meets for Marshall this week. Saturday, it plays host to the University of Kentucky.

MC Golfers Top Xavier

CINCINNATI—Two of coach Whitey Wilson's Marshall College golfers, Jack Freeman and Buddy Graham, turned in scores of 72 as the Green and White trimmed Xavier 11½-3½ yesterday.

It was its 15th victory in 17 outings and was the second decision over the Musketeers this season.

Saturday, Marshall will entertain Dayton at Guyan Country Club.

The results, Marshall golfers listed first: Linden Meade, 36-37-73 (3), John Bien, 40-40-80 (0); Jack Freeman, 37-35-72 (2), Bob Lindenschmidt, 36-42-78 (1); Buddy Graham, 41-31-72 (3), John Dumbacker, 43-38-81 (0); Drexel Meade, 39-38-77 (½), Dick Bearman, 37-38-75 (2½); Larry McDowell, 38-36-74 (3), Rod McMullen, 40-41-81 (0).

Marshall Golfers 1 Off Pace

Marshall's highly touted golf team stormed into second place in the Mid-American Conference tournament with a five team total of 298 to trail Ohio University by one stroke at Kent, Ohio yesterday afternoon. The final 18-holes to determine the conference champion will be played today with the golfers scheduled to tee-off at 8 A. M.

Captain Jack Freeman took medal honors for Marshall after the first round with a 34-36-70 to fall one down behind leader Dudley Kircher's 33-36-69. Kircher is Ohio's number one man, while Freeman has been shooting behind sophomore Linden Meade.

Meade was second best on the day for Marshall, firing a 36-39-75 to land into a sixth place tie among the individual leaders. Buddy Graham had a 38-38-76 to tie for ninth position, while Larry McDowell followed with a 38-39-77 and Drexel Meade with a 39-39-78.

Following the leaders in third position 13 strokes off the pace is Western Michigan with a 310 total. Next in order come Bowling Green, 311, Miami, 312, Kent State, 313 and Toledo 335.

Although five members of each squad tee off, the low four scores are the only ones recorded in the final total.

Timing Is Again Off For Green

Once again Marshall College's baseball team out-hit its opposition. And once again, it wound up on the short end of the score.

The Big Green fell before old foe Morris Harvey, 4-3, yesterday in Charleston. It was another case of Marshall's hits coming at the wrong time.

The base knock tally was 11-7, Marshall. Morris Harvey tallied two runs each in the first and fourth innings for the win. Marshall got two in fourth and another in the eighth.

Sirianni Star

Sonny Sirianni led the Big Green at the plate with three hits, including a two-run homer. John Mayberry, Donzil Hall and Gary Wolfe had two safeties apiece.

Marshall will now take two days rest before opening a three-game, three-day road series. Thursday, it plays Emory & Henry, Friday it meets VPI and Saturday it goes against VMI.

Yesterday's starter was Pat Paden, who gave way to John Derrow and Carroll Coleman, in order.

The Big Green now owns a 4-11 record.

Big Green Net Team Is Victor Over Eastern

To set the stage for a three-day road trip beginning Thursday, Marshall College's tennis team notched win No. 4 by downing Eastern Kentucky on the campus courts yesterday, 6-3.

The Big Green netmen will open the trip at Bowling Green, move on to Toledo Friday and wind up at Kent State Saturday. All three are Mid-American Conference matches.

Singles — Cebe Price defeated Don Campbell, 8-10, 6-2, 6-0; George Templin defeated Joe Chapman, 7-5, 5-7, 6-2; Leo Byrd defeated Carl Paulus, 6-1, 6-3; Jim Wilburn defeated Tom Richards, 6-0, 6-0; and Jim Craig defeated Dale Moore, 9-7, 7-5;

Doubles — Price and Templin lost to Burke and Campbell, 6-1, 6-2; Dale Freeland and Jim Young defeated Paulus and Richards, 6-0, 6-0, and Wilburn and Craig lost to Chapman and Moore, 3-6, 7-5, 6-3.

Big Green Nine To Try Again With Beegees

(Special to The Advertiser)

BOWLING GREEN, O. — Marshall's baseball team, with Carroll Coleman taking the mound, opposes that of host Bowling Green here today at 2:30.

Yesterday, BG edged by Marshall, 4-2, despite a performance which included 15 strikeouts by Marshall's Paul Underwood. Underwood gave up only six safeties.

He teamed with second baseman Gary Wolfe to give the Big Green its only hits, each getting two.

Marshall Golf Team at Kent

(Special to The Advertiser)

KENT, O. — A tri-angular golf meet was scheduled here today, with tee-off time at 9 o'clock this morning. Entered were host Kent State, Marshall, and Western Michigan.

Yesterday, Marshall won at Denison, 10-5; for its 17th win in 20 outings. Today's matches wind up the regular season for the Big Green.

Buddy Graham of the winners set the pace for both teams, shooting a par 72.

Results, Marshall golfers first: Linden Meade, 42-38-80 (2½); Walter Millar, 42-40-82 (½); Jack Freeman, 38-39-77 (1½); Mike Griley, 39-38-77 (1½); Buddy Graham, 37-35-72 (3); Bix Preston, 43-37-80 (0); Drexel Meade, 38-38-76 (1); Jim Kraus, 36-39-75 (2); Larry McDowell, 38-36-74 (2); Tom Smith, 36-39-75 (1).

Marshall Baseball To End

Marshall College's baseball team makes its final home appearance tomorrow, possibly with a double-header.

The Big Green plays host to Xavier University at Inco Park. Starting time for a single game will be 3:30. No time has been set for a possible twin-bill, however.

Friday and Saturday, Marshall takes to the road again for two games with Bowling Green, a rugged Mid-American Conference foe.

The Big Green just completed one journey, a highly successful one. Coach Bill Chambers' boys compiled a 2-1 record by winning at Emory & Henry Thursday, Virginia Tech Friday, then losing to Virginia Military Saturday, 9-3.

The loss was a matter of too many home runs, with VMI hitters connecting for four.

Once again Marshall's trouble was timing. It got 12 hits to VMI's 11. But, it left 15 runners stranded on base.

Riv Is 'Very Happy' With 57-58 Schedule

By ERNIE SALVATORE

Advertiser Sports Editor

Marshall basketball coach Jule Rivlin said today that he's very happy with his 1956-57 basketball slate, announced last night by the athletic department.

The 24-game card includes one opponent new to Big Green cage fans, Florida State, and two former opponents who are returning after an absence of one season, Washington & Lee and Xavier.

In addition, Riv said he's "especially thrilled" over Marshall's invitation to the annual Cincinnati Invitational Tournament, set for the Queen City December 13 and 14. Also in the tournament field are such national powers as St. Bonaventure, Cincinnati U. and Xavier.

"Three of those clubs were in the National Invitational Tournament," the coach pointed out. He was referring to the Muskies, Cincinnati and the Bonnies.

Riv disclosed that Marshall came within a whisker of getting a date with the NIT runner-up, Memphis State, which is another former Big Green opponent.

"Memphis State sent us a telegram asking for dates but we couldn't oblige because we were already filled up to our 24-game maximum," Riv said. "But we're laying the groundwork to book them regularly, starting in 1957-58. Another thing we're looking forward to is a possible trip to California in 1957-58 to play George Pepperdine and San Diego State.

The 24-game card will open Wednesday night, December 4, against old nemesis Morehead here at the field house.

Last year Marshall finished second in the MAC with an 8-4 record and was 15-9 overall.

The schedule: December 4—Morehead, Home; 7—St. Francis (Pa.), Away; 13-14—Cincinnati Tourney; St. Bonaventure, Xavier Cincinnati, Away; 18—Miami, Home; 21—Western Michigan, Home; 28—Washington and Lee, Home; January 2—Morris Harvey, Away; 4—Western Michigan, Away; 9—Morehead, Away; 11—Kent State, Home; 12—Morris Harvey, Home; 25—Ohio University, Away; 29—St. Francis (Pa.), Home; February 1—Florida State, Home; 5—Ohio University, Home; 7—Bowling Green, Away; 8—Toledo, Away; 10—Xavier, Home; 14—Bowling Green, Home; 20—Murray, Away; 22—Kent State, Away; 24—Toledo, Home; 28—Miami, Away.

ASME Marks Ladies Night

DR. MADELEINE FEIL

The West Virginia section of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers will hold their annual "Ladies' Night" dinner at 6:30 P. M. Monday, May 27, 1957 at the Ruffner Hotel in Charleston, W. Va. The guest speaker for the evening will be Dr. Madeleine Feil, director of the Psychological Clinic at Marshall College. Dr. Feil's speech is entitled "Understanding Your Fellowmen."

Dr. Feil received a bachelor's degree in Commerce from Ohio University, a Master of Arts Degree in psychology from Marshall College and a Ph. D. Degree in Psychology from Ohio State University. She has been director of the Psychological Clinic at Marshall College for the past nine years.

Winless Over Two Seasons, Marshall Track Team Rates 'E' For Effort

By LOU SAHADI

Marshall's track and field exponents, winless over the span of two seasons, isn't expected to bask in any glory this season. But that doesn't necessarily mean that they haven't tried. In fact, if sheer determination has anything to do with it, they rate an "E" for effort.

"I never saw a group of boys more willing to work," was the capsule analysis Coach Jule Rivlin offered. "They're out at the stadium every day, and sometimes go through their paces on Saturday and Sunday. I couldn't ask for more spirit from such a hard working squad."

The applying of the term squad is rather ambiguous in nature. Rivlin with the mere gestures of his fingers can count his hopefuls in rapid fashion, 13 in all! His group is so profoundly thin in numbers that an injury to any member is almost considered a calamity.

Like the time Kyle Arthur pulled up lame after a meet early in the season. "Why there goes our broad jump, 440, and 880-yard relay man," exclaimed Rivlin with a shrug of his shoulders. And when Gary Kinsell reported with a pulled muscle, the greying mentor discounted any prospective points in the 100, 220 and 880-yard relay.

As if things weren't bad enough, Rivlin has to impose double duty on his manager. When Ken Adkins isn't making with the towels, he's out on the cinder path busily jogging around the cinder oval prepping for the mile relay event.

The unfortunate predicament the Big Green squad finds itself before any meet is that the score is 45-0 against them before the timer's gun is even discharged. But in the face of eminent defeat, "the boys never quit," offered Rivlin. In the presence of dash me ness an almost certain point getter. Dunlap's swiftness of foot has stopped the clock at 9.8 in the 100-yard dash, while also propelling his speed in the 220 - event.

Establishing itself as a solid threat throughout the course of the season is the 380 - yard relay team of which Dunlap also lends his talents. Captain Don Adkins, Dick Jackson along with Kinsell until he was sidelined, carried the baton to victory on all but one occasion.

Things may not be so bleak in the near future, as Marshall hopes to attain the prominence of the 1951 squad that sped to the Ohio Valley Conference championship.

"We have the best group of freshmen that has come along in a long time," pointed out Rivlin. "I hope we can get started back on our feet next season."

Only one more outing is scheduled for the Green thinclads this year, the Mid - American Conference meet at Kent, Ohio this weekend. It's no secret that Marshall will be out manned all the way down the line, but as Rivlin remarked in closing, "we'll be there trying."

Big Green Golfers Favored; Other Marshall Teams 'Down'

By ERNIE SALVATORE
Advertiser Sports Editor

KENT, O. — Marshall, forced to play second and even third fiddle in Mid-American competition, except for basketball, finds itself holding a position of prominence for a change these days.

With the 11th annual conference spring sports festival getting under way here this morning, the Big Green's crack golf team was regarded as the biggest threat to take a championship back to Huntington.

This was viewed with surprise by Marshall officials who figured the favorite's role should be given to Miami. The Redskins handed the Big Green two of its three links defeats.

But Marshall's 19 triumphs seem to have impressed the experts a lot more along with the shooting averages recorded by Coach Whitey Wilson's free-swinging hitters.

Representing Marshall in the golf competition which began this morning were Linden Meade who has a 73.9 strokes-per-round average; Captain Jack Freeman, 75.5; Buddy Graham, 76.6; Drexel Meade, 76.8; and Larry McDowell, 76.6.

Miami is rated the second choice with defending champion Bowling Green third. Rated an outside threat is Ohio, the only other team besides Miami to defeat the Big Green.

The golf championship will be decided on 36-hole medal play with the low four individual scores of each team member counted in the overall team total. Incidentally, both Linden Meade and Freeman are rated the No. 1 and No. 2 choices to take the individual title.

Which just about ends Marshall's prominence in the festival.

Neither the tennis team with a 4-12 record or the undermanned, five-man track team, 0-5 on the season, figure to do much.

Toledo has been given the co-favorite role in tennis with Miami, which last year shared the title with Western Michigan. The Rockets rolled up a 16-3 regular season mark.

Western Michigan is favored to dethrone the Redskins in track, but that's easier said than done.

Preliminaries in all three sports began this morning with the big championship finals scheduled for tomorrow. The track meet will begin at 12 Noon.

While the festival is in progress, the conference officials will be holding several important business meetings as will the one-year-old Mid-American Conference Press-Radio Association.

OU Golfers Take Crown; Marshall One Stroke Off

By ERNIE SALVATORE

KENT, Ohio, May 25. (Special) — The Redskins of Miami University knocked off their 10th straight Mid-American Conference track championship here today and the Ohio University Bobcats took the golf championship by upsetting Marshall College in highlights of the conference's annual spring sports festival.

Great performances by Captain Jack Freeman of the golf team and Ray Dunlap of the track team kept Marshall from coming home entirely empty-handed, however. Freeman and Dunlap are both juniors, incidentally, so both will be back next year.

Freeman was the low medalist of the golf tournament with a 70-79-149 score. Following him was teammate Linden Meade, 75-75-150. Dudley Kircher of Ohio University, the first day leader with a 69, soared to an 82 today to give him a total of 151 and a tie for third place. Also at 151 was Jack Rudeman of Bowling Green, 72-79-151.

IN THE GOLF PLAY, the Bobcats squeezed out a close one-stroke victory over Coach Neal B. (Whitey) Wilson's linksmen, 612 to 613. The team scores were as follows:

Ohio University	297-315-612
Marshall College	298-315-613
Bowling Green	311-324-635
Western Michigan	310-328-638
Kent State	313-326-639
Miami	312-333-645

The defending golf champion was Bowling Green University.

Other individual Marshall golf scores were as follows: Drexel Meade-78-79-157; Buddy Graham-76-81-157, and Larry McDowell-77-85-162.

The Big Green thinclads racked up 10 points to take fourth place in the track met and the fleet-footed Dunlap had a hand in eight of them.

MIAMI'S REDSKINS racked up 88 points to win the championship with five first places and sharing another, four and one-half second places, five third places, five third places and seven fourth places. Following in second was Western Michigan with 86 points. Although the Broncos had seven first places, they tailed off in the runner-up, third and fourth places more than did Miami. Following were Ohio University, 45; Bowling Green, 20; Marshall, 10 (a four-point improvement over last year's showing); Kent State, 7, and Toledo, O.

Marshall snared four of its 10 points with a fourth place finish in the 880-yard relay. Running for the Big Green were Richard Jackson, Don Adkins, Warren Whitaker and Dunlap. The Western Michigan team won the event with a new conference record time of 1:28.6. Marshall's time was 1:33.

Dunlap accounted for two more Marshall points with his fourth place finish in the 100-yard dash. The event was won by Western Michigan's Olympic champion, Ira Murchison, in a time of 10 seconds.

Dunlap also won fourth place in the 20-yard dash. The winner was Western Michigan's Ed Avery.

A FOURTH PLACE finish in the mile relay accounted for the remainder of Marshall's points. Running for the Big Green were Whitaker, Jackson, and Don and Ken Adkins. Ohio University's relay team won the event with a record-breaking time of 3:19.7. The old record of 3:21.2 was set by Miami in 1954.

One other record was set in the track and field events today. Robert Sawyers of Ohio University did the half mile in 1:54.1. The old record of 1:54.6 was set by John MacKenzie of Western Michigan in 1955.

George Rider, veteran coach of the Miami track team, was just recently named to the Helms Foundation's Track "Hall of Fame." So today's 10th straight championship for the Redskins came as a sort of token of gratitude from his team.

Western Michigan won sole possession of the conference tennis crown with a sweep of all the singles events and a split in the two doubles events in which they participated. Last year the crown was shared by the Broncos and Miami.

All of Marshall's net stars had been eliminated yesterday with the exception of George Templin, who drew a first-round bye. Templin was eliminated in the second round today by Cliff Strong of Western Michigan, 6-4, 6-2.

Top Chemist Speaks At Marshall Banquet

T. A. Boyd, General Motors research staff consultant, will address the Marshall College Alumni Association at its annual banquet May 25 at 6:30 P. M. in the college dining hall.

Mr. Boyd, a native of Fairview, O., began his career as a research chemist in the Research Division of the Dayton Metal Products Co., Dayton, O. In 1920 that organization merged with General Motors and became the nucleus of its research staff which was moved to Detroit in 1925.

From 1923 to 1947 Mr. Boyd was head of the fuel department of the research staff. Together with Charles F. Kettering, former general manager of the research staff, and the late Thomas Midgley Jr., he was a pioneer in the study of fuel composition and combustion, particularly in the search for means of eliminating knock as a barrier to higher compression engines and more miles per gallon.

Out of this research came tetraethyl lead, now used as an anti-knock agent in almost all automobile and aviation gasolines.

For his work in the field of automotive fuels, Mr. Boyd received the Horning Memorial Award from the Society of Automotive Engineers in 1950. On 1939, Ohio State University awarded him the Lammé Medal for meritorious achievement in engineering.

Mr. Boyd received a Bachelor of Chemical Engineering degree from Ohio State University in 1918 and later the professional degree of chemical engineer. He has received honorary doctorates of science from Ohio State and Wayne Universities and was made an honorary Doctor of Engineering by the University of Detroit. Mr. Boyd is a member of several scientific societies. He is a registered professional engineer in Michigan.

Russell L. Daugherty, Cabell county prosecuting attorney, will be toastmaster at the alumni banquet. Mrs. Frederick A. Fitch Jr., president of the association, will preside.

The classes of 1907, 1932 and 1937 will hold reunions and will be seated at special tables at the banquet.

Reservations for the dinner must be made by Thursday, May 23. Tickets are available at the bookstore on the campus, in the alumni office at the college, at Dan's Sport Shop, Collins and Childers, and Foard & Harwood Co.

Mrs. W. T. Smythe is general chairman for the banquet. Mrs. K. C. Boggs is ticket chairman.

Gets Award

JAMES R. EDDY, St. Albans, W. Va., yesterday became the recipient of the 20th annual Engineers Club Award for Merit as the outstanding sophomore engineering student in the Marshall College Department of Engineering. The presentation of the award was made by Col. H. J. Skidmore, District Engineer of the Corps of Engineers, at a luncheon meeting in the Engineers clubrooms at the Hotel Governor Cabell. Only 15 Athletes to Represent Marshall in Conference Festival

By ERNIE SALVATORE
Advertiser Sports Editor

A small band of Marshall athletes, 15 in all, left Huntington this morning for Kent, O., where they'll compete in the annual Mid-American Conference spring sports festival which begins a two-day run tomorrow.

Of the three spring sports squads only the golfers with their impressive 19-3 record are considered having a chance to nail down a championship.

Links coach Whitey Wilson is taking his first five swingers to the festival — Captain Jack Freeman, Linden Meade, Buddy Graham, Drexel Meade and Larry McDowell. All have stroke averages under 80.

Rated Co. Favorites

The Big Green golfers' defeats came at the hands of Miami twice and Ohio but they're reported to be confident of making a real strong run at the crown. Meade and Freeman are rated as co-favorites to nail down the individual golf championship. Both have had brilliant seasons.

Defending conference golf champion is Bowling Green.

Marshall's track forces, coached by Jule Rivlin, will number only five. This will probably mark Riv's exit as cinder coach because of the press of his basketball chores.

Though not in the track title picture, the Big Green is aiming to repeat its 1956 showing when it finished fifth in the six team field. With Toledo competing in track for the first time in six seasons and bringing the field to a full season, Riv says "a fifth place finish will be even better this year."

Avoided Celler

Marshall runners avoided a celler position in the track standings at Bowling Green last year by picking up an all-important point in the final event of the meet—the mile relay. By taking fifth, Marshall wound up with six points to nose out Kent for the fifth spot in the standings.

However, Marshall runners are not without individual stars. Ray Dunlap, a football halfback, took second in the 220 and third in the 100 yard dashes last year as a sophomore. He's even faster this year and might pick up as many as six points by himself.

Big threat for track honors is Western Michigan with Olympic dash star, Ira Murchison. Defending track champion is Miami, which owns more conference championships than any other member.

Marshall's track record is 0-5.

Coach Lanny Brisbin is taking four of his top tennis players to the festival. Representing Marshall will be Leo Byrd, Charles Bearden, George Templin and Cebe Price. Despite a 4-12 seasonal record, Byrd has a winning percentage of better than .600. Miami and Western Michigan shared the court crown in 1956.

Festival activities begin tonight with a reception for all conference staff members and officials and members of the Mid-American Conference Press - Radio Association. The news group is celebrating its first birthday with a membership of 25 sportswriters and sportscasters.

Tomorrow morning both the conference and association have business meetings scheduled while preliminary sports events begin. Tomorrow night, the annual conference banquet, with the sister association invited, will be held.

Press-Radio members will then meet with various conference officials on business matters.

The festival ends Saturday with championship finals in all three sports.

Fayette Marshall Alumni Organize

A Fayette County chapter of the Marshall College Alumni Association has been organized at Fayetteville with Mrs. C. R. Hill of Oak Hill as president.

Dr. Stewart Smith, president of Marshall, and Mrs. F. A. Fitch, alumni association president, attended the organizational meeting. An alumni chapter was organized at Charleston two weeks ago.

Henry King of Charleston is the president. An alumni banquet will be held at 6 P. M. Saturday in the college dining hall. Dr. T. A. Boyd, a consultant for the General Motors Corp., will be the speaker.

Ten Morris Harvey Gridders May Switch Over to Marshall

By ERNIE SALVATORE
Advertiser Sports Editor

Ten former Morris Harvey football players may pull a "Sal Maglie" and wind up in the livery of a hated rival come next fall.

Marshall football coach Herb Royer admitted today that he's "interested" in ten members of the 1956 Golden Eagles eleven which gave his own Big Green a real scare before bowing 13-0 last October.

Morris Harvey recently abandoned football as part of an economy move by officials of the state capital college aimed at meeting some necessary academic requirements to gain admission into the North Central Association, an intercollegiate accrediting organization.

If any or all of the ten do transfer to Marshall they'll be emulating the stunt of former New York Giant pitcher Sal Maglie who now throws them for the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Under Mid-American Conference rules none of the ten would be required to put in a year of residence at Marshall after they transfer. The MAC allows immediate eligibility for players transferring from an institution which has dropped football.

Royer already has one such athlete practically in hand. He's Harold Barsham from Hurricane. Barsham played end for Stetson University of De Land, Fla., which has dropped football. Barsham played both freshman and varsity ball at Stetson but since it has an enrollment of under 800 male students, that year will not count against Barsham's varsity eligibility at Marshall under NCAA regulations. He'll enter Marshall next fall, if all goes well, as a junior.

Herb called the ten Morris Harvey players "very good players and several of them, from what I've seen them do against us, could help us a lot—especially in our conference games."

While he showed a list of the names of the ten players to the press, he declined to release them for publication.

"It would be fair to do that at this time," he said, "especially from the viewpoint of the boys. First, they've got to want to come here. Second, we've got to see if they're academically eligible."

The ten include six sophomores, two juniors and two seniors. They were all part of a group of boys called by Morris Harvey grid coach Eddie King as his best in his career at the Charleston school.

Marshall Nine Travels Today

Marshall's baseball team, its home schedule completed, hits the road this afternoon at 2 o'clock for a game each tomorrow and Saturday.

Both days the Big Green runs into Mid-American Conference foe Bowling Green. Tomorrow's game is set for 3:30 P. M. Saturday they play at 2:30 P. M.

Next week, also on Friday and Saturday, the Big Green wraps up its schedule by playing at Toledo.

Defeat Frosh

Ohio University's freshman track team out-pointed Marshall frosh runners, 98-46, in a dual meet yesterday at Fairfield Stadium.

Marshall had only three first place finishers: Warren Reeser in the shot put, H. K. Smith in the 1-yard dash and Carl Hickey in the 440.

There were 14 events in the meet.

Green Net Team Bows in Final

Marshall's tennis team ended its regularly scheduled season here yesterday, but on a sour note. The big Green bowed to Ohio University, 5-4.

The results were:

Singles—Charles Bearden (M) defeated Jim Hartman, 6-3, 6-2; Al Ludlum (OU) defeated Cebe Price, 6-2, 6-8, 6-4; Bob Brededenboeder (OU) defeated George Templin, 6-3, 0-6, 6-4; Leo Byrd (M) defeated Bill McConahey, 6-1, 6-3; Pete Knight (OU) defeated Joe Wilburn, 6-4, 6-1; Dick Woolwine (OU) defeated Dale Freeland, 6-2, 6-3.

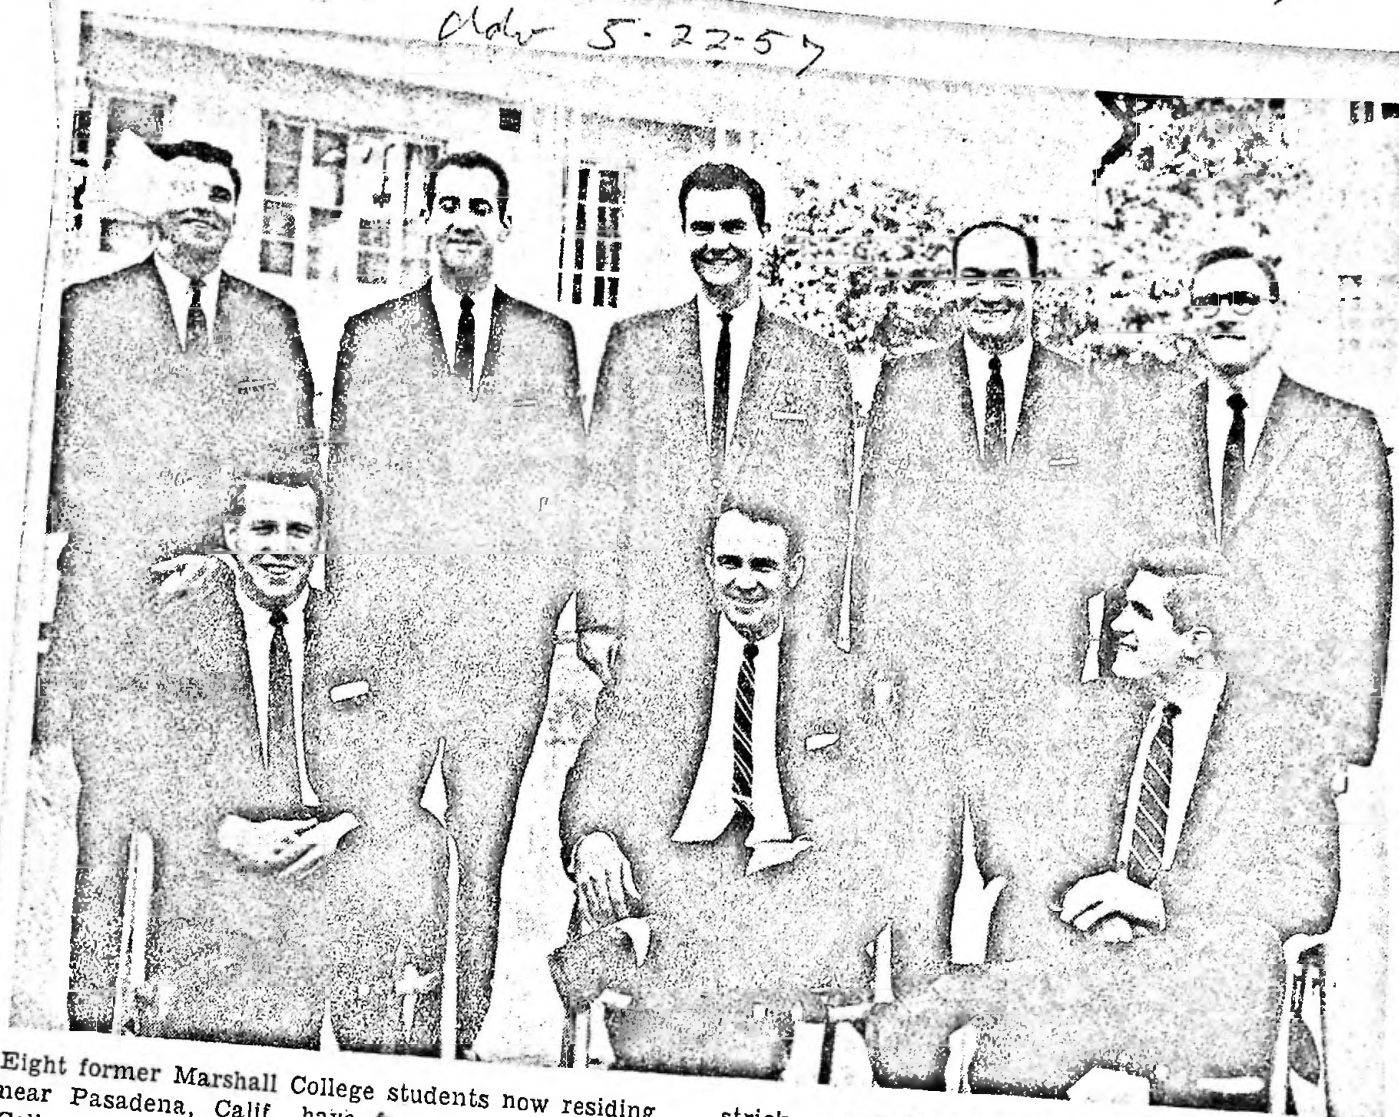

Doubles—Bearden and Byrd (M) defeated Hartman and Ludlum, 6-3, 6-1; Price and Templin (M) defeated Brededenboeder and McConahey, 7-5, 2-6, 6-3; Knight and Woolwine (OU) defeated Freeland and Jack Young, 6-0, 6-3.

Marshallites In California Form Alumni

A group of former Marshall College students, now living in southern California, has formed the Marshall College Alumni Association of Southern California.

Comprising the alumni group are David Wheeler, a sales representative with Remington Rand; Kenneth Sydenstricker, an accountant for Avon Products, Inc.; David Bellamy, a student at the University of Southern California; Peter Williamson, a student at the University of Southern California and a part-time actor, soon to be seen in the current release of "Rain Tree County;" Bruce Thabit, a representative for State Farm Mutual Insurance in the Claims department, who recently left for Greece for a month to participate in the Greek Olympic Track competition; Thomas Skeeter, a sales representative for National Cash Register; George Thompson, associated with the Texas Company in the accounting division; and Lowell Anderson, an employee of the First Security National Bank in the trust department.

David Bellamy, Peter Williamson, Bruce Thabit, George Thompson, and Lowell Anderson are former Huntingtonians. David Wheeler and Thomas Skeeter are formerly of St. Albans, W. Va., and Kenneth Sydenstricker is formerly of Dunbar, W. Va.

Golfers Save Marshall Spring Sports Squads

It's a good thing Marshall College fielded a golf team this year; else its spring sports program might have proved a complete washout.

The Big Green linksmen, coached by Neal B. (Whitey) Wilson, who doubles as athletic department business manager, sparkled brightly in the week end's Mid-American Conference spring sports festival at Kent State.

They finished second, by the way, but not before throwing quite a scare into the champion Ohio University team. OU totaled 612 points for the two-day affair and Marshall had 613, just a single stroke behind.

Freeman Star

But, honors went to Jack Freeman, who has achieved quite a reputation as a basketball player during the winter months. Freeman took medalist honors with a score of 70-79-149. And, Marshall's Lindon Meade was just a stroke away from that at 150.

Meanwhile, the Marshall tennis and track teams were coming in far behind in the festival, while in Toledo, the baseballers were losing their windup game, 8-1.

The diamond loss gave Coach Bill Chambers' nine a 6-16 record, far under the expected result when his hitters were laying the pine to the ball in early drills.

The tennis team was shutout. It recorded only one win, and it was a first-round victory. Leo Byrd, another basketball ace, got that one, but bowed in second-round action.

The track team did a little better, in spite of its poor seasonal record (one meet victory in five starts). It didn't finish last — it came in with ten points to top Kent State's seven.

Speedy Ray Dunlap scored eight of Marshall's ten track points, getting two each in the 100-yard dash and 220-yard run with fourth-place finishes in both. He aided the Big Green 880-yard relay team to four points with its fourth-place finish.

Marshall's other two came from the mile relay team which also finished fourth.

Tennis titles went to Western Michigan and track laurels to defending champion Miami. It was Miami's ninth straight crown.

Getting back to Marshall — besides the baseballers' 6-16 mark, the tennis men of Lany Brisbin ended with a 4-12 record, the track runners with 1-5 and the golfers a brilliant 17-3.

Golfers Not Through

To prove just how much the Marshall team was "off" in its twin losses to Miami, one has only to look at the results of Saturday's matches. Second-place Marshall finished 32 points above the last place Redskins. Marshall's other season loss was to OU.

But, all is not over for the Big Green spring squads — the golfers will compete in the National Collegiate Athletic Association tournament at the Broadmoor Country Club in Colorado Springs, Colorado June 20-29.

Coach Wilson is expected to enter his two top men, captain Freeman and No. 1 competitor Meade.

Kiwanis To Hear Dr. Moffat Today

Dr. Charles H. Moffat, professor of history at Marshall College, will be the speaker at a meeting of the Huntington Kiwanis Club at 12:10 P. M. today at the Hotel Brichard.

MC Cindermen In Final Today

Marshall's track team will entertain that of Bowling Green University today at 2 o'clock at Fairfield Stadium.

Marshall, which has yet to win a meet this year, is ending its regular schedule today. It next competes in the Mid-American Conference meet May 24-25.

Marshall, BG In MAC Battle Of Celler Today

(Special to The Advertiser)

BOWLING GREEN, O. — The Mid-American Conference's cellar-dwellers, Marshall and Bowling Green, will attempt to escape that dungeon here today.

The two meet, weather permitting, at 3:30. Both own 1-7 records, lowest in the MAC. These same two clubs battle tomorrow at 2:30 P. M.

Either Carrol Coleman or Paul Underwood will do the pitching for Marshall. Bowling Green's starting hurler was not named.

Marshall has two more conference games next week, visiting Toledo both Friday and Saturday. The Big Green's lone loop win was over Kent State, which holds fifth with a 3-5 mark.

MAC Title On Line Today

(Special to The Advertiser)

BOWLING GREEN, O. — The Mid-American Conference baseball championship could easily be settled this weekend when league-leading Western Michigan entertains second place Miami on Friday and Saturday.

Elsewhere in the rugged league competition third place Ohio University will play host to, fourth place Toledo while the loop cellar-dwellers, Bowling Green and Marshall, will cross bats on the Falcon diamond. Fifth place Kent State takes on Ashland in a non-conference fray Friday.

Both Western and Miami only picked up single wins last week as the second games of their respective series were washed out by rain. The Broncos, who stand atop the Mid-Am race with seven wins, downed Toledo, 8-3, but couldn't get the second tilt started because of rain.

Idled By Rain

Miami and Kent State were idled by rain Friday and had to settle for a six inning affair the next day as the Redskins took a 6-2 decision before more rain came.

A pair of victories for the Michigan nine over the Redskins would all but give the Broncos the title and a position in the NCAA regionals. Coach Charlie Maher's outfit, however, must dispose of Kent State next week in order to keep the slate clean.

Western last won the MAC crown in 1955 when they swept by nine foes without a blemish. Ohio U won top honors last year.

The standings:

	W	L	PCT
Western Mich.	7	0	1.000
Miami	6	1	.875
Ohio U.	6	2	.750
Toledo	2	3	.400
Kent State	3	6	.333
Marshall	1	7	.125
Bowling Green	1	7	.125

34 At College Receive Awards For ROTC Work

Ribbons and medals were presented to 34 cadets of the Marshall College Reserve Officers Training Corps at annual award ceremonies at the college yesterday.

Top awards went to Paul R. Robertson, 2870½ Fourth Avenue, outstanding cadet in Military Science IV; James L. Davis, West Hamlin, citizenship award of the Sons of the American Revolution, and Richard J. Dammé, 3718 Auburn Road, Reserve Officers Association gold medal for outstanding leadership in MS IV. All three also received the Distinguished Insignia for Academic Achievement.

The SAR Good Citizenship medal — presented to Cadet Davis by Kenneth C. Mastin, president of the General Andrew Lewis Chapter — was made at Marshall College for the first time. However, it is presented by the SAR at West Virginia University and colleges in other states. In the next two weeks the annual Good Citizenship awards will be made to students at 16 junior or senior high schools in Cabell County.

Others receiving awards were Howard H. Hutchison, St. Albans, Superior Cadet Ribbon as outstanding cadet in MS III, Distinguished Insignia for Academic Achievement and Marshall Physical Education medal as a member of the ROTC rifle team; Robert J. Casto, 2124½ Fifth Avenue, Reserve Officers Association bronze medal for outstanding leadership in MS III and Distinguished Insignia for Academic Achievement;

James E. Wilson, rear 321 Walnut Street, Superior Cadet Ribbon as outstanding cadet in MS II, Distinguished Insignia for Academic Achievement and Marshall Physical Education medals as member of Pershing Rifles rifle team; Joe P. Coffman, Birch River, Leadership Award for MS II and Distinguished Insignia for Academic Achievement;

Roy L. Goines, 1804 Tenth Avenue, Scabbard and Blade silver medal for outstanding academic achievement in MS II and Distinguished Insignia for Academic Achievement; William A. Gill, Ansted, Superior Cadet Ribbon as outstanding cadet in MS I and Distinguished Insignia for Academic Achievement; Michael L. O'Kane, Parkersburg, West Virginia Society of the Daughters of the Founders and Patriots of America Medal for outstanding leadership in MS I, Distinguished Insignia for Academic Achievement, and Marshall Physical Education medal as Pershing Rifles rifle team member.

Howard H. Sutherland, Matewan, Scabbard and Blade gold medal for outstanding academic achievement in MS I and Distinguished Insignia for Academic Achievement.

The Lions Club plaque for outstanding proficiency on the drill field in 1956-57 was awarded to Company D, commanded by R. Sterling Hall, 1418½ Fifteenth Street.

Other winners of the Distinguished Insignia for Academic Achievement, were William E. Hattfield, Ky., and Charles E. McCarty, Charleston, for outstanding proficiency in MS III; Hilton B. Duckworth, 1711 Artisan Avenue, Ronald G. Meade, Huntington Route 4, and Henry L. France, Barboursville, for outstanding proficiency in MS II; and the following for outstanding proficiency in MS I: Floyd D. Harvey, 3069 Wallace Circle; David K. Crigger, 712 Eleventh Avenue; David L. Peters, Bluefield; Philip S. Thompson, Barboursville; Clifford R. Gill, Ansted; Gilbert A. Terhune, Charleston; Raymond L. Brown, Welch; Walter A. Ryder, Barboursville; George B. Stevenson, 528 Fifth Avenue, and Theodore Canterbury.

Other members of the ROTC rifle team to win the Marshall College physical education medals were James P. Anderson, Welch; Richard H. Garretson, 131 Fairfax Drive; John P. Killoran, Lewisburg, and Donald L. Gillette, Stiltnor.

Other Pershing Rifles rifle team members awarded medals were Charles A. Litten, Pineville; Charles H. Duckworth, Parkersburg, and Dennis E. Perkins, 598 Buffington Street.

Marshall Golfers Top Denison, 10-5

Dec 5-18-57

Marshall's strong golf squad slapped Denison University with its first home loss in two years by downing the Big Red, 10-5 at the Granville Country Club. The win gave Marshall a 17-3 record. The loss for Denison, undefeated in three years in the Ohio Conference, left it with a 13-2 mark, both losses to Marshall.

The winners' Buddy Graham was the only one to conquer the huge Granville course, shooting a par 72 to annex medal honors for the match.

Results, Marshall golfers first: Linden Meade, 42-38-80 (2½), Walter Millar, 42-40-82 (½); Jack Freeman, 38-39-77 (1¼), Mike Griley, 39-38-77 (1½); Buddy Graham, 37-35-72 (3), Bix Preston, 43-37-80 (0); Drexel Meade, 38-38-76 (1), Jim Kraus, 36-39-75 (2); Larry McDowell, 38-36-74 (2), Tom Smith, 36-39-75 (1).

Falcons Down Marshall, 4-2

Dec 5-18-57

Bowling Green made the most of six hits to down Marshall, 4-2 in the opener of a two game series at Bowling Green, Ohio, despite a 15 strikeout performance by losing pitcher Paul Underwood. The loss dropped Marshall into the Mid-American Conference cellar.

Marshall collected only two hits off Podogil, two by Underwood and two by second baseman Gary Wolfe.

Conference Spring Sports Festivals Like Vacations

KENT, O. — It is always like old home week at these Mid-American Conference spring sports festivals because it's the only time each year when all of the coaches and brass hats can be found in one room.

And, that's the way it was last night at a lovely place called the Twin Lakes Country Club on the fringes of this cute little college town.

I don't know where the club's regular members were but it was a cinch there wasn't any in sight or even on the premises between the hours of 8 and midnight. The conference had the place then and I estimate that close to 200 coaches, officials, staff members and newsmen were present.

Everything was strictly social with a lot of joshing and kidding going on. It seemed to me that whoever was coach of the weakest team was the most popular guy in his particular group. The winning coaches love to keep their patsies happy.

Marshall "Popular"

Needless to say, Marshall's coaches, with the exception of basketball chief Jule Rivlin, are among the best-liked in the league. Rivlin continues to keep his colleagues in a state of fearful uncertainty. Apparently they've been getting reports about huge young men with gunsight shooting eyes piling up like cord-wood on his doorstep.

With Miami's Bill Rohr resigned and headed for Northwestern to join other ex-Redskin athletic officials, Riv is the only basketball coach in the league with a championship to his credit.

Joe Hoy of Western Michigan shared a title with Miami in 1952, and I wouldn't count that ordinarily, except that Joe is a fine fellow who likes Huntington and the tri-state because his wife is from South Point.

By way of giving you a forecast indirectly, Hoy looked to be the most popular guy in his bunch.

Unhappy Lot

The football coaches were the most uncomfortable lot at the social. A moody sort, at best, they sipped their beers and ate their meals in stony silence. I think only three table cloths were discovered to have been marked up with diagrams of plays. This indicates the football coaches weren't happy at all, but worried.

Happy football coaches can, on normal days, mark up at least four table cloths per man and even do a job on the backs of menus and the floor. But the floor has to be asphalt tile.

Worried coaches keep their plays to themselves.

So, maybe the Mid-American will be a four-team war next season instead of the usual two — Miami and anyone else.

Who can tell? We'll have to wait and see.

Eyes On Baseball

Today, the festival was to hit its preliminaries in tennis and golf, setting the stage for tomorrow's finals. A few meetings are scattered throughout the day, ending with a big banquet tonight.

I have my eye on Cleveland, only 30 miles away, where the Indians and the White Sox are supposed to play a night game. However, chances are against my making that trip, so I'll have to forget about it. Tonight's banquet is a must affair. It gives newsmen a chance to get a line on how the big boys are thinking, for the moment, anyway.

Host Kent State, by the way, has magnificent facilities available for entertaining the festival. Its campus is big, well-groomed, and certainly the most beautiful in the league.

Like other Ohio-state supported schools, it has a building program so staggering in cost, Marshall people get slightly ill at the mere mention of the figure.

Marshall needs to apologize to no one for its compact, well-kept campus. It has a peculiar sort of charm all its own. But, the folks in West Virginia's state capital ought to apologize publicly for years of keeping a strong, restraining grip on the college's attempts to progress.

If it were twice as big as it is, it would still have the smallest campus with the fewest number of buildings in the Mid-American Conference. I haven't seen a school in the league smaller than West Virginia University.

But, I'm not going to preach anymore. This must be a pleasant sojourn, with enough business to make me not on vacation.

Marshall To Confer 375 Degrees

Three-hundred seventy-five degrees will be conferred upon 374 persons at Marshall College commencement exercises Sunday. Graduation exercises at the Keith-Albee Theater will begin at 2 P. M. The baccalaureate service will come earlier at 10 A. M.

Degrees to be conferred include 299 bachelor's, 41 Master's, and 35 in the associate category.

The only one of the group to receive two degrees is Cardestal McGraw of Ansted, who finished his bachelor's work in January and completed the work toward a master's degree this month. He is a major in psychology. Both degrees are in the arts category.

Two hundred eighty-one of the degree candidates are in the May graduating class. Those who finished their work in January total 94.

Of the 375 degrees to be conferred, 129 will have been earned in the teachers' college, 205 will have been earned in the college of arts and sciences, and 41 will have been completed in the graduate school.

Thirty-Three candidates will have completed their work with honors. They are:

Dayhoff, Walter D. Sprinkle, Carolyn J. Evans.

Cum Laude — Ida D. Plymale, Richard O. Bowyer, Elizabeth R. Brisendine, Danny J. Goulding, Ben F. Plybon, Bill L. Neal, George D. Fleming, Donald L. Plymale, Patricia F. Dixon, Barbara H. Farley, Nora A. Flack, Sandra S. Hatfield, Mary J. Jablonski, Joanne Jeffries, Mary Alice Lawson, Jama H. Layne, Anna M. Peckham, Agnes I. Rayburn, Gail S. White.

The heads of Syracuse University and the Yale University Divinity School will be the commencement and baccalaureate speakers respectively. Dr. William P. Tolley, chancellor of Syracuse, will give the commencement address. Dr. Liston Pope, dean of the Yale University Divinity School, will be the baccalaureate speaker.

Dr. Tolley and R. Virgil Rohrbough, state superintendent of schools, will receive honorary doctorates.

This will be the first time in Marshall's history that both the commencement and baccalaureate programs will come on the same day. The change was made to enable more parents to be present for both exercises.

An annual feature of the commencement program will be the alumni banquet at Marshall College cafeteria Saturday at 6 P. M.

He cited, among others, Lincoln "whose Gettysburg address contains only 158 words, but is enough all by itself to have made him immortal" and Einstein, whose "simple one-line mathematical formula concerning the transformation of mass into energy contains only four symbols, but has set his name among the immortals."

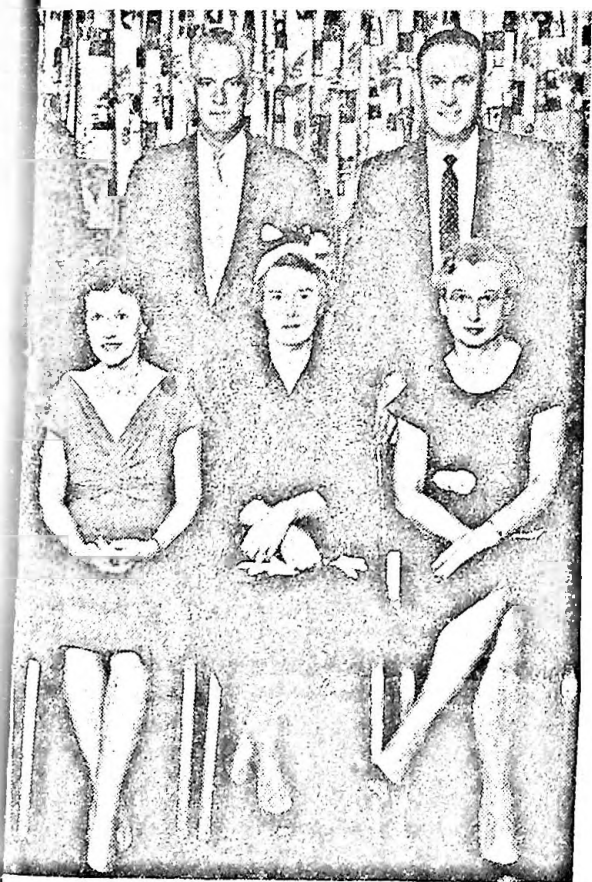

For his work in the field of automotive fuels, Mr. Boyd received the Horning Memorial Award from the Society of Automotive Engineers. In 1939 Ohio State University gave him the Lamme Medal for meritorious achievement in engineering. He has received honorary doctorates of science from Ohio State and Wayne Universities and the honorary degree of Doctor of Engineering from the University of Detroit.

Russell L. Daugherty, Cabell County prosecuting attorney, was toastmaster at the dinner. Mrs. Fitch presided.

THREE CLASSES held reunions yesterday and were recognized at the banquet. These were the classes of 1907, 1932 and 1937, the latter designated the "centennial class" because it was graduated the year Marshall celebrated its 100th anniversary.

Arthur B. Koontz of Charleston was chairman of the reunion of the class of 1907; Sam Metzger of Huntington, the class of 1932, and Hatfield Brubeck, of Wayne, the class of 1937.

Don Leckie, president of the Perry-Leckie Realty Corp., was elected president of the Marshall College Alumni Association at the annual banquet last night in the college dining hall. He succeeds Mrs. Frederick A. Fitch, Jr.

Other officers named include Clyde Ball, first vice-president; Dr. Marvin H. Dill, second vice-president; Mrs. Jack Hamilton, secretary, and Pat R. Haynes, treasurer.

Elected to the executive committee for a two-year term, 1957-59, were Joseph G. Neal, Robert H. Necessary, Burtis W. Anderson, Mrs. James Nash, Mrs. Virginia Webb Rich, David Daugherty and Mrs. Fitch. Named one-year terms to fill vacancies on the committee were Mrs. L. L. Lilly and Miss Mary Jane Wolfe. All of the new officers and executive committee members are of Huntington.

T. A. BOYD, of Grosse Pointe Mich., consultant to the research staff of the General Motors Corp., was principal speaker at the dinner.

"In making a better mouse trap, or a better future, wanting to—wanting to bad enough—can be even more important than knowing how," Mr. Boyd told the Marshall alumni. "Only such a compelling wish can give a fellow the incentive to look for better things. Only that can give him, too, the determination, the devotion, the dogged perseverance needed to overcome the obstacles and objections that are always being met by him who does anything new or out of the ordinary."

The speaker quoted the words of the Chinese philosopher, Ching Chow, that "no rule for success will work if you don't," and added:

"To the person who makes it, the effort to contribute something to the pleasure and profit of people is one of the most rewarding experiences in life; and this may even be so in a financial way."

Nine of 10 to Leave State

Degrees at Marshall Will Be 'Passports' ado 5-17-57

By ANN GARRITY

Marshall Student Journalist

A degree will be a passport to out-of-state jobs for nine of 10 Marshall College May graduates.

If the seniors surveyed reflect the attitude of the class of '57, all roads lead from West Virginia.

Teachers have comprised the most publicized exodus the past several years, but now a large segment of Arts and Science graduates also are seeking employment elsewhere.

Some of these will enter professions with meccas in the larger cities and industrial centers.

'No Money Here'

Many of the grads leaving the state are not running "to" but "from."

The big complaint: "There's no money in West Virginia; there's no advancement here."

A Wheeling woman said: "I certainly am leaving; there is no opportunity in this state, and I am from one of its largest cities."

An engineering major commented: "The only money in West Virginia is in the grafter's pocket."

"Politics" came under fire again when one woman said, "West Virginia has the resources to be a great state."

"Something's wrong somewhere," she declared, "and the political back-rooms seems to be the seat of the trouble."

Another graduate spoke against "the backwoods influence," saying: "This state will never have good schools and good roads until some people see more financial good than moral bad would come from liquor-over-the-bar and race tracks."

The most familiar reply to the question, "Are you leaving West Virginia?" is:

"What's here?"

Some people have an answer: Contacts, family, or as one woman said, "I just like it."

A man, planning to go into insurance, will stay because of important business contacts. Others will join the family business, remain at home, or stay in the state because their husband or wife is already located in a West Virginia job.

Owes State Debt

Where are they going:

Ohio, Maryland and Florida lead the list of destinations for these future educators.

Mary Lou Maloney of Cedar Grove is an exception. She said: "I was born and reared in West Virginia and got my education here. I feel it's my responsibility to stay. I owe it to the state."

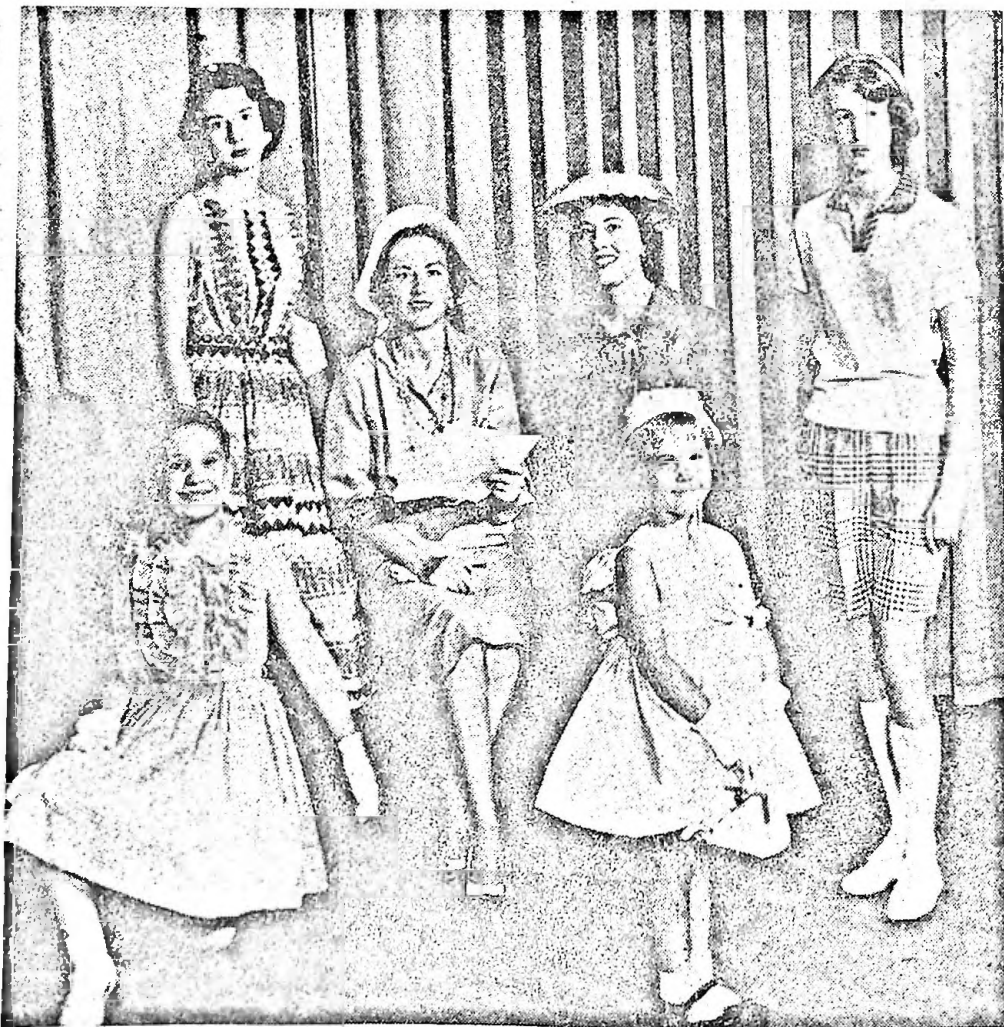

Others feel they owe the state very little.

One education major pointed out:

"Think of the advantages we haven't received — those that other states would have offered us."

Marshall Golf Team Captures Twin Victory

The Marshall College golf team closed out the regular season yesterday with a double victory in a triangular match at Kent State University. Marshall defeated Kent 8-7 and downed Western Michigan 11-4. Coach Whitey Wilson and his Big Green golf team will end the season playing in the Mid-American Conference tournament next weekend at Kent. The victory gave Marshall 19 wins and three losses for the season.

Linden Meade, playing in the No. 1 spot for Marshall, was medalist in yesterday's match with a par 71.

The summary: (Marshall players listed first)

Marshall vs. Kent — Linden Meade 34-37—71 (3); Chub Chionchio 38-39—77 (0).

Jack Freeman 41-38—79 (1); Lou Scrima 39-39—78 (2).

Buddy Graham 37-38—75 (3), Jim Thompson 38-40—78 (0).

Drexel Meade 39-40—79 (1), Ed Zofko 41-37—78 (2).

Larry McDowell 38-40—78 (0), Jack Trier 37-38—75 (3).

Marshall vs. Western Michigan — L. Meade (3), Tom Arch 35-39—74 (0).

Freeman (½), Roy Bovel 40-38—78 (2½).

Graham (2½) Chet Faram 37-39—76 (½).

D. Meade (2½) Neil McPherson 39-43—82 (½).

McDowell (2½) Bob St. Aubin 40-40—80 (½).

Artists Open Season With Symphony

In keeping with its policy of including a concert by a leading symphony orchestra on each season's program, the Marshall College Artists Series will present the famed Symphony Orchestra of the Florence Festival in Italy as its opening attraction of the 1937-38 season. The concert will be given on October 21 at the Keith-Albee Theatre.

This will be the first American tour of the 100-piece ensemble.

Of all the great music festivals of Europe, none possesses the sweep and excitement of the Florence Festival. In the months of May and June music and arts lovers from the five continents come to the city of Dante and Michelangelo to hear foremost singers and instrumentalists and to enjoy the finest creative efforts of composers from Monteverdi to the present.

LONG KNOWN as the land of opera, Italy was also the cradle of orchestras and some of its greatest composers helped create symphonic literature.

Internationally known conductors have played an important role in the development of the Florence Festival Orchestra.

Among them are William Furtwangler, Carlo Maria Giulini, Dimitri Mitropoulos, Artur Rodzinski, Tullio Serafin, Bruno Walter and Carlo Zecchi.

Persons interested in obtaining season tickets for the Artists Series may call Mrs. Will Mount, 2967 Staunton Road.

Home Economics Alumnae To Hold Lunch Election

The Marshall College Home Economics Alumnae Association will hold the annual luncheon in the Garden Room of the Hotel Frederick at 12:30 P. M. Saturday.

All graduates of the home economics department of Marshall College are invited to attend. Mrs. Dorothy Bragonier will be the guest speaker, and will discuss "Broadway Theater, 1956."

New officers will be elected and installed. Mrs. Charles M. Burks is taking reservations for the luncheon.

Hot Marshall Linksmen Top Dayton Flyers

A red-hot Marshall College golf team continued its winning ways yesterday by defeating the Dayton University Flyers for the second time this season, 15½ to 2½. The matches were played at the Guyan Golf and Country Club.

Yesterday's victory gave Coach Neal B. (Whitey) Wilson's team a 16 and two record for the season.

THE BIG GREEN linksmen, though hampered slightly by rain, did their best scoring of the season on the Guyan course. The average score for the six members of the Marshall team was 74.7. Medalists were Larry McDowell and Drexel Meade, both of who fired rounds of 73.

The Dayton team failed to win a single match from the low-scoring Marshall linksmen, although Jerry Kindle did battle Jack Freeman to a tie. The results were as follows, with the Marshall man listed first in each case:

1. Linden Meade, 27-39—76 (3) defeated Ed Longo 41-40—81 (0).
2. Jack Freeman 37-37—74 (1½) tied Jerry Kindle 36-38—74 (1½). (3) defeated Frank Hennessey 41-39—80 (0).

4. DRESEL MEADE 37-36—73 (3) defeated Mike Hilz 42-41—83 (0).

5. Larry McDowell 35-38—73 (2½) defeated Bill MacBeth 38-38—76 (½).

6. Dick Kern 39-39—78 (2½) defeated Bob Payne 41-39—80 (½).

The Big Green links team will get back in action next Wednesday when it takes on the Bobcats of Ohio University at Athens.

Mrs. Bette Benjamin To Give Master Recital Wednesday

The Marshall College Department of Music will present Mrs. Bette Benjamin, graduate student in voice, in a Master's Recital Wednesday at 8:15 P. M. in Old Main Auditorium.

Mrs. Benjamin, a lyric soprano, is a student of Professor John Creighton. She was a recent regional finalist and winner of the Titcomb Award in the Metropolitan Opera Auditions and winner in the West Virginia Artists' Auditions.

Dorothy Emery will be accompanist at the piano.

Last year she appeared with the Charleston Symphony Orchestra as guest soloist and has appeared with the Wheeling Symphony Orchestra in the operatic roles of Rosalinda in "Die Fledermaus" and Suzanna in "The Marriage of Figaro". She spent two seasons with Boris Goldovsky as a member of the Oglebay Institute Opera Workshop and appeared last season as Mimi in "La Boheme."

SHE IS assistant minister of music at Johnson Memorial Methodist church here and is soprano soloist at Ohev Shalom Temple and the Trinity Episcopal church.

VMI Hits Four Homers To Top Marshall, 9-3

LEXINGTON, Va., May 11 (Special) — Virginia Military Institute blasted four home runs off two Marshall pitchers to defeat the Big Green, 9-3, here today.

Marshall out-hit VMI, 12-11, but left 15 runners stranded on base.

Woolwine slammed out two homers and Ross and McCennon one apiece to lead the winners. Woolwine also had a single and four RBIs.

Clarence York broke out of a slump in fine fashion for Marshall, getting a double and three singles in five trips. John Mayberry and Donzil Hall followed with two hits each.

MC Golf Team Is Host Today

Marshall College's fine golf team entertains Xavier this afternoon for a 2 o'clock meeting at the Guyan Country Club.

Marshall will be seeking its second win of the year over Xavier. In an April 22 match at Cincinnati, the Big Green prevailed, 14-4.

Coach Whitey Wilson's golfers have lost only twice in 16 outings, and both defeats were to Miami. Marshall's 14 victories were over such top teams as Ohio University, Louisville, University of Kentucky, Bowling Green, Cincinnati and Dayton.

4 Retiring Teachers To Be Feted

Four members of the Marshall College faculty who are retiring this year and two who have given 25 years of service will be honored at the annual faculty dinner Friday at 6:30 P. M. in the college dining hall.

Those retiring at the end of the current semester include Dr. Florence H. Van Bibber, professor of psychology; Professors Melvin P. Loy and Hollie C. Darlington, both of the science department, and Mrs. Ina Woodward, instructor in the laboratory school.

To be honored for 25 years of service at the college are Professor Juan C. Fors of the Spanish department and Professor Otis A. Ranson of the speech department.

Mrs. T. W. Harvey of the English department faculty will be toastmistress at the dinner. A musical program will be presented by Mrs. Lavelle T. Jones and Mrs. Eugenia Roe McMullen of the music department.

Three members of the faculty will pay tribute to those being honored. The speakers will be Mrs. Dorothy Bragonier, Dr. Paul N. Musgrave and Dr. Roy C. Woods.

Miss Ruth Flower, chairman of the faculty service committee, is in charge of arrangements for the dinner.

Marshall Netters Down Maroons, 6-3

Marshall College's tennis team won five of six singles events to trim the visiting Eastern Kentucky netters, 6-3, yesterday on the Marshall campus courts.

The only Big Green loser in the singles was No. 1 man Charlie Bearden who fell to Bob Burke, 6-1, 5-7, 6-4. The Marshall tennis record is now 4-9.

Singles — Cebé Price defeated Don Campbell, 8-10, 6-2, 6-0; George Templin defeated Joe Chapman, 7-5, 5-7, 6-2; Leo Byrd defeated Carl Paulus, 6-1, 6-3; Jim Wilburn defeated Tom Richards, 6-0, 6-0; and Jim Craig defeated Dale Moore, 9-7, 7-5.

Doubles — Price and Templin lost to Burke and Campbell, 6-1, 6-2; Dale Freeland and Jim Young defeated Paulus and Richards, 6-0, 6-0; and Wilburn and Craig lost to Chapman and Moore, 3-6, 7-5, 6-3.

Morris Harvey Slaps Green With 13th Defeat, 4-3

Morris Harvey's Golden Eagles scored a pair of runs in the first and fourth innings to hand Marshall its 13th defeat of the season, 4-3, yesterday afternoon at Charleston. Marshall has won four.

The winning Eagles collected only seven hits, to Marshall's 11, but their safeties came at the right times. Sonny Sirianni, Marshall catcher, collected three hits including a two-run four bagger in the fourth inning.

Green Track Team Loses To Wesleyan

West Virginia Wesleyan's track team rolled over the Marshall Big Green cindermen, 77-29, in a track meet Saturday at Buchanan.

Ray Dunlap grabbed the only two first place spots for Marshall, winning the 100 yard dash in 10 seconds flat and the 220 yard dash in 22.4.

Coach Jule Rivlin's track men will visit Fairmont State at Fairmont tomorrow.

College Alumni To Hear GM Consultant Saturday

Radio 5-19-57
The Marshall College Alumni Association will hold its annual banquet next Saturday at 6:30 P. M. in the college dining hall. The banquet will be preceded by a social hour in the Freshmen Women's Dormitory.

The main speaker at the dinner will be T. A. Boyd, General Motors research staff consultant. Mr. Boyd has been a leader in research on automotive fuels. In 1939 Ohio State University awarded him the Lamme Medal for meritorious achievement in engineering and in 1950 the Society of Automotive Engineers presented him with the Horning Memorial Award.

Mr. Boyd, a native of Fairview, O., received a Bachelor of Chemical Engineering degree from Ohio State University and later the professional degree of chemical engineer. In 1953 Ohio State awarded him the honorary degree of Doctor of Science. He also has received the honorary degrees of Doctor of Engineering from the University of Detroit and Doctor of Science from Wayne University.

RUSSELL L. Daugherty, Cabell county prosecuting attorney, will be toastmaster at the banquet. Mrs. Frederick A. Fitch Jr., president, will preside.

Three classes will hold reunions — the classes of 1907, 1932 and 1937. Arthur B. Koontz of Charleston is in charge of the 1907 reunion; Sam Metzger of Huntington, the 1932 reunion, and Hatfield Brubeck of Wayne, the 1937 reunion.

Mr. Metzger has announced the schedule of activities for the 25th reunion of the class of 1932. He emphasized that all members of the class, those who graduated in January, June and August, are invited to attend the reunion. He urged all, even those who cannot be present, to call him at telephone number 7593 or Mrs. Maurine Farrish, 21804.

The class will have a cocktail party in Room 208 of the Hotel Prichard at 4 P. M. Saturday. At 5 P. M. there will be a get-together of the three reunion classes in the North Parlor of Old Main at the college. The classes will occupy special tables at the banquet.

MEMBERS of the committee in charge of arrangements for the reunion of the class of 1932 include, in addition to Mr. Metzger and Mrs. Farrish, Mrs. James Cook, Mason Cyrus, Charles M. Peoples, Forrest Jones, Mrs. George Cooper and Mrs. Ted McDonald.

Tickets for the banquet may be purchased at the bookstore on the campus, in the alumni office in Old Main, at Dan's Sport Shop, Collins & Childers and Foard and Harwood.

Mrs. W. T. Smythe is banquet chairman. Mrs. K. C. Boggs is ticket chairman. Mrs. Fitch said reservations must be made by Thursday.

Engineers Will Hear Richardson

Radio 5-19-57
Dr. J. T. Richardson, head of the sociology department at Marshall College, will address the Engineers' Club Saturday, May 25, at noon at the Hotel Governor Cabell. His topic will be "The Engineer in a Modern Culture." Col. George Derby, president, will conduct the meeting.

Marshall Foundation Begins Drive To Hire Secretary

Radio 5-19-57
An organization which collects and administers private funds in support of Marshall College announced today plans to hire an executive secretary by the start of the fall term.

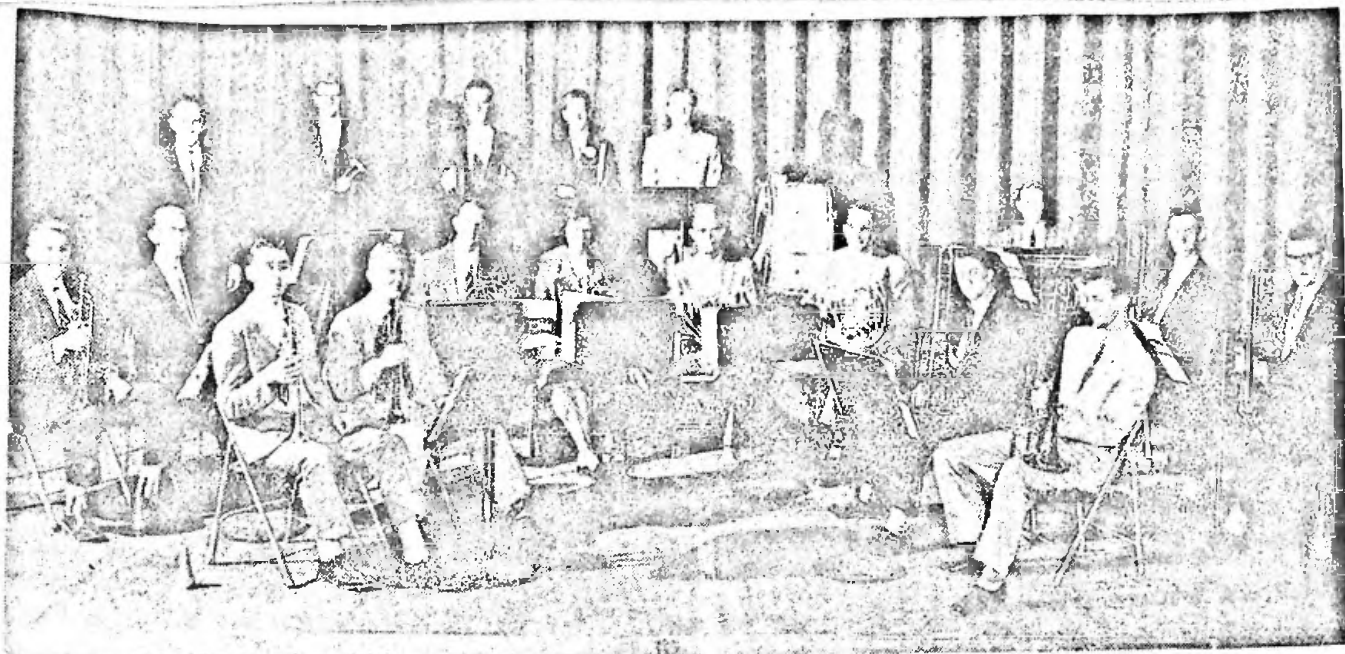

The Marshall College Foundation, Inc., chartered 10 years ago, began a $25,000 fund-raising campaign jointly with the Marshall College Alumni Assn. in 1955 to establish the secretaries office. About $8,000 in cash has been raised and $20,000 more will be sought this summer, foundation president N. W. Yates said.

The executive secretary would serve both the alumni association and the foundation, whose supporters include many persons who never attended Marshall.

The alumni association and foundation now have one part-time employee, Miss Marie White, a retired secretary at the college.

The establishment of a full-time executive secretary's office has been a goal of alumni for nearly half a century. Association spokesmen have expressed the belief that the office would become self-supporting within two years.

Big Green Schedule Is Heavy

Advs 5-13-57
Marshall's spring sports teams have another full week of action on tap.

The Big Green tennis team will be the first of the Marshall teams to end its 1957 campaign, doing so Wednesday. The net men, coached by Lany Brisbin, entertain Xavier tomorrow for their last home match, then hit the road to Ohio University for the wind-up.

All Green & White teams are idle today. The tennis and baseball teams, both meeting Xavier here, are in action tomorrow.

Wednesday's a big day, with the tennis, golf and freshman track teams competing. The golfers visit Athens to play OU while the track men entertain OU's freshmen.

Thursday, all are idle. Friday, the golfers visit Denison. Saturday, the linksmen move on to Kent State for a tri-angular meet while the varsity track squad hosts Bowling Green.

The golfers were the only ones to post a victory over the past week end. Coach Whitey Wilson's crew defeated Dayton, 15½-3½, for victory No. 16 in 18 starts.

The netmen were rained out Saturday in an attempt to play Kent State at Kent.

Coach Jules Rivlin track team made "our best showing yet" but still lost to the University of Kentucky, 74-44, at Fairfield Stadium Saturday.

Marshall Track Team Is Second At Fairmont

(Special to The Advertiser)

FAIRMONT — Marshall's track team folded in the field events to finish second in the Fairmont State College track meet here yesterday.

Despite two first-place finishes each by Richard Jackson and Ray Dunlap, Marshall scored 61 points as compared to host Fairmont's 96. West Liberty wound up last with 22.

Dunlap won the 100-yard dash, with teammate Gary Kinsell finishing third. Ray also took the 220 and Kinsell came in second. Jackson was fourth. Jackson was third in 440 and Miller was fourth. Adkins captured the mile run to give Marshall another first. Jackson won both the low and high hurdles. Marshall took both the mile relay and speed relay. The Big Green's Hunter gave Marshall its only points in field events with a second-place finish in the high jump.

Falcons Post 3-0 Decision Over Marshall

Advs 5-19-57
BOWLING GREEN, Ohio, May 18 (Special) — The Falcons of Bowling Green University took their second victory in as many days from the Big Green of Marshall College today, outlasting the losers 3-0 in a rain-shortened baseball game.

Falcon Pitcher Diefenthaler had the Big Green hitters pretty well at his command through the first seven innings. Then as the losers came up in the first of the eighth, they pushed over two quick runs on three hits and had a man on first with one out. Then the rains came and "washed away" the Marshall rally. The score reverted to the 3-0 count as of the seventh inning.

ERRORS PROVED costly to the Marshall nine. The infield was a bit shaky as the game started and two errors, a fielder's choice and a double by Falcon right-fielder Schoonover accounted for two unearned runs.

Marshall pitcher Coleman kept the Falcon bats quieted for the next three innings, but the winners tallied their final run in the fifth on a base hit, an error and a single by Gissler.

MARSHALL, NOW 6-14 on the season, winds up its campaign next Friday and Saturday with games on successive days against the Toledo Rockets in Toledo.

Marshall is now in the cellar of the Mid-American Conference standings.

College Singfest

Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Delta Zeta won first place, in the fraternity and sorority divisions respectively, at the annual Mothers Day Sing held yesterday in Old Main Auditorium at Marshall College.

Sigma Phi Epsilon was second among the fraternities and Alpha Chi Omega won the runner up position in sorority competition. The sing was sponsored by the Pan-Hellenic and Interfraternity Councils.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon sang "Oh Brothers Dear" and "This Is My Country" and Delta Zeta, "Dream Girl of Delta Zeta" and "There Are Such Things."

Leaving College

Mrs. Veta Lee Smith, Marshall College secretary since 1939, has been recommended for employment as assistant professor of English at Shepherd College. (Story on Page One)

Big Green Nine Hits Road for Three Contests

Coach Bill Chambers' Marshall baseball team leaves today for a three-day road trip on which it will meet as many foes.

This afternoon, the Big Green takes on Emory & Henry. Tomorrow, it goes against VPI and Saturday it encounters VMI.

Marshall takes with it a record of four wins and 11 losses. The Big Green dwells in the cellar of with a 1-7 loop slate.

It has defeated Concord, Morehead twice and Kent State, the latter to furnish its lone conference win. It has lost to Kent, Concord, Miami twice, Ohio University twice, West Virginia Tech, Morris Harvey, Dayton, and Western Michigan twice.

Marshall has, besides these three games, only five games remaining, one with Xavier and two each with Bowling Green and Toledo.

College Secretary To Resign To Join Faculty At Shepherd

(Picture On Page 28)

Mrs. Veta Lee Smith, for 18 years Marshall College secretary, yesterday was recommended for employment as assistant professor of English at Shepherd College at Shepherdstown, W. Va.

The recommendation was submitted to the State Board of Education in Charleston by President Oliver Ikenberry of Shepherd, according to Board Member Raymond Brewster of Huntington. The board is expected to act on the matter today.

It was understood that the appointment would be effective September 1 and that Mrs. Smith would resign her Marshall post August 31.

Before becoming Marshall

secretary, she taught at Point Pleasant and Welch High Schools and Morgantown Business College, and was a graduate assistant at West Virginia University. Mrs. Smith holds A. B. and M. A. degrees from WVU and has done graduate work at New York University.

She served as president of the American College Public Relations Association in 1953-54; on the public relations committee of the National Education Association (1950-52), and as West Virginia Education public relations chairman (1947-51). Mrs. Smith has been active in the Community Welfare Council and the Girl Scout movement.

She is to be listed in the 1957 supplement to Who's Who in America.

Answer 5-9-57

What Do You Think?

By The Inquiring Photographer

QUESTION: Do you think colleges would be better off with or without social fraternities and sororities? Asked of Marshall College students.

ALTON B. GORE JR., Barboursville: "Social fraternities and sororities are not doing the things they were originally meant to do. They were started to aid students with their academic work, and to offer advice to students about college activities. Colleges are primarily for study and it seems that fraternities and sororities have buried that fact beneath social activities."

KENNETH BROOKS, Pi Kappa fraternity: "Colleges are better with, definitely. Sororities and fraternities have organized social life on the campus and have made many college activities better because of organized thought and groups working together. In doing this, the organization helps the young student to develop a social personality. It helps him to study and enjoy and be a part of college life. To say the least, it gives him something to remember for the rest of his life."

JOAN HUFFMAN, Pi Kappa Sigma Sorority: "Without sororities and fraternities on the campus, it would be difficult to say how few friends many college students would have. But with them, students are able to win the friendship of students that will last forever. Campus life in general is more active with the organizations, because all the members take interest in college activities."

JANE PLYMALE, 4335 Piedmont road: "There are many things a student gets out of college belonging to sorority. They help a student in social guidance, how to mix with other students, and talk with other people, how to get along in his scholastic work, and how to be a part of college social life. Many students would have quit college and probably others would never have gone, had it not been for fraternities and sororities. They aren't childish and they continue to propagate logical principles of good human behavior."

Dear Dr. Wolszon:

This folder contains a fairly complete compilation of news stories about the Marshall College Regional Science Fair which a member of the Marshall College Information Service staff produced during the 1956-57 college term. It does not include certain stories which were given directly to reporters over the telephone, and it does not include cutlines for pictures used by the newspapers. I am turning this over to you as an aid to you and the person having charge of your publicity program next term.

For the 1957-58 term, I suggest that the Information Service director again have charge of all regional science fair publicity. Stories similar to those included in this folder may be distributed to newspapers of the area covered by the Marshall College Regional Science Fair. Almost every one of them can be improved by some kind of news picture, made either by newspaper photographers or by the Information Service photographer. The newspapers are always glad to get good news pictures about science fair activities.

My recommendations for improving the publicity program next term follow:

1. Take full advantage of local picture and story ideas in every city of the science fair region. The stories behind science fair exhibits often are extremely interesting from the human standpoint. The public likes to read them and newspaper editors are eager to get them. Questionnaires from all students preparing exhibits for the regional science fair should be collected early in the term so that these stories and pictures can be kept flowing out over the region. The Information Service director may want to take trips to the various high schools to see interesting exhibits and to interview the students making them, this to be done early enough for the resulting stories and pictures to stimulate other students to action.

2. A staff member of the Information Service should be assigned the task of publicizing the regional science fair from the beginning to the end of the term. He should work closely and always under the direction of the Information Service director. He should confer regularly with editors over the region about picture and story possibilities. This staff member, as well as the Information Service director, should meet regularly with the regional science fair committee.

3. The Information Service director should accompany the regional science fair delegation to the National Science Fair each year. He should give the region's participation in the national event full story and picture coverage in all mass media. He should take with him sufficient camera equipment to produce a complete picture record of Marshall's trip to the National Science Fair.

4. If the railroad committee continues to sponsor local science fairs in cooperation with the regional science fair, the publicity program should be coordinated with that of the committee's publicity representative.

I shall be glad to answer any questions that you may have about the 1958-59 publicity program. Please call upon me if I can be of further help to you in planning for a bigger, better Marshall College Regional Science Fair in 1958.

Very sincerely,

James M. Herring
