Resolution to Sponsor WV Budget Education Event

Whereas, the West Virginia Legislature provides a significant amount of Marshall University's revenue;

Whereas, the Legislature's contribution to Marshall has been declining over the past several years due to budget shortages;

Whereas, the West Virginia Center on Budget and Policy has created a presentation that explains the WV state budget and analyzes revenue shortfalls;

Whereas, the West Virginia Center on Budget and Policy is willing to bring their presentation to campus at no cost to Marshall University;

Be it resolved, that the Faculty Senate of Marshall University will sponsor a WV Budget Education event so that Marshall faculty, students and administrators can better understand the nuances of the state budget and therefore be better equipped to discuss funding issues with legislators and the public.

We so resolve.
