BANNER PRINTING COMPANY

The Banner Printing Company of Huntington, West Virginia, printed the Baptist Banner, one of the first Baptist papers in West Virginia. Revered William P. Walker of the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church in Huntington was instrumental in the establishment of the Baptist Banner in 1889; he served as editor from time to time, and was on the board of directors of the Banner Printing Company. In 1906, one year after Dr. Walker's death, the location of the Baptist Banner was moved first to Clarksburg, then Parkersburg, West Virginia. The Banner Printing Company was afterward sold to L. J. Corbly, president of Marshall College.
