(From 35 to 600 is Conference Record)

From an attendance of only 35 to a whopping 600 will be the record attained in the 13 years of Foreman-Manager Personnel Conferences at Marshall College.

Approximately 600 delegates are expected to attend this Friday and Saturday the thirteenth annual session. At the first conference in 1945 only 35 management men took part.

Co-sponsoring the 1957 event are Marshall and the Huntington-Foreman Managers Club. Conference addresses and group meetings are centered around the theme "Progress Makes Prosperity."

A dinner meeting set for 6:30 p.m., Friday, in the Georgian Terrace Room, Hotel Frederick, is first on the two-day agenda.

Cloyd Steinmetz, director of sales training, Reynolds Metals Co., Louisville, Kentucky, will speak on "Tapping the Creative Power of Your People." E. O. Petrie, Huntington, president-elect of Huntington Foreman-Managers Club, will preside.

A general assembly session will be held at 9 a.m., Saturday, in the Old Main auditorium at Marshall. L. Boyd Smoot, Huntington, president of Huntington Foreman-Managers Club will preside.

From 35 to 600 Record---2

The Rev. Lawrence Davis, assistant pastor, First Presbyterian Church, will give the devotional. Dr. Stewart H. Smith, president of Marshall, will welcome the delegates.

Ben A. Lindberg, director, School of Commerce, University of Alberta, Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, will address the delegates on "The Changing Demands on Management Leadership."

Five group meetings will begin at 10:25 a.m. in various rooms of the Science Hall.

Group leaders include Earl Bowler, Washington, D.C., assistant director, Trade and Industrial Branch, Department of Health, Education and Welfare; John Larew, Portsmouth, Ohio, Personnel supervisor, Ohio Power Co.; W. F. Boyer, Jr., Ravenswood, Foil Department Superintendent, Kaiser Aluminium and Chemical Co.; E. E. Slack, Huntington, assistant superintendent, Motive Power, Work Simplification and Personnel, Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, and Mr. Lindberg.

Presiding at the five group meetings will be Don Ball, Huntington, vice-president, American Container Corp.; F. M. Baker, Ashland, vice-president and general manager, Kentucky Power Co.; D. B. Adams, Huntington, plant manager, Owens-Illinois Glass Co.; Edwin Cubby, Huntington, associate professor of social studies, Marshall, and E. K. Work simplification is more than the organized use of common sense to find easier ways of doing work. It's fun. It provides the opportunity for everyone to participate and be a part of the team. It provides a means for each employee, to the limit of his ability, to improve both himself and his work area. The end result is a better product at a lower cost.

(From 35 to 600 is Conference Record)

HUNTINGTON, W.VA.---From an attendance of only 35 to a whopping 600 will be the record attained in 13 years of Foreman-Manager Personnel Conferences at Marshall College.

Approximately 600 delegates are expected to attend this Friday and Saturday the thirteenth annual session. At the first conference in 1945 only 35 management men took part.

Co-sponsoring the 1957 event are Marshall and the Huntington Foreman-Managers Club. Conference addresses and group meetings are centered around the theme "Progress Makes Prosperity."

A dinner meeting set for 6:30 p.m., Friday, in the Georgian Terrace Room of the Hotel Frederick, is first on the two-day agenda.

Cloyd Steinmetz, director of sales training, Reynolds Metals Co., Louisville, Kentucky, will speak on "Tapping the Creative Power of Your People." E.O. Petrie, Huntington, president-elect of the Huntington Foreman-Managers Club, will preside.

A general assembly session will be held at 9 a.m., Saturday, in Old Main auditorium at Marshall. L. Boyd Smoot, Huntington, president of the Huntington Foreman-Managers Club, will preside.

The Rev. Lawrence Davis, assistant pastor, First Presbyterian Church, will give the devotional. Dr. Stewart H. Smith, president of Marshall, will welcome the delegates.

Bén A. Lindberg, director, School of Commerce, University of Alberta, Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, will address the delegates on "The Changing Demands on Management Leadership."

"U ARE THE ANSWER"

GLENN FOUCHE

Why do men attend conventions?

Some because of the conviviality, some for a change of climate and some, believe it or not, to get new ideas and answers to their problems. A convention is a great place to find answers, for a man must listen at the right place if he wants the answer.

Many times, we do not hear anything new - nothing we haven't heard before - but many times, by exploring together some of the things we already know, we obtain a new viewpoint.

Sometimes we listened at the right place without hearing and sometimes we hear without changing our viewpoint.

When conditions are not as we would like them, we sometimes blame vague conditions - vague personnel - vague labor conditions, when all the time, the real trouble lies in - vague management. The best thing today for management is a greater study of man and men, for nine-tenths of our problems, as it is in the word "management", will be solved when we have learned better - to manage men.

In a complex world which will become more complex, we have mastered machines but we have not yet mastered man. We know now how to get greater production from machines but man - his thoughts and how to make him more productive - is still our great and largely unexplored new frontier.

The study of man must necessarily begin with the man we know best - ourself. Management too often is thought of as the mere delegation of authority to others. We can, of course, delegate authority but we cannot delegate leadership. That is an art. A good leader is an artist painting pictures on the canvases of other minds. (MORE)

Do I hear you say that you have problems? Name one, if you can, that does not concern other men and your management of men. The brushes I have named are available to all. You may use them to mix well the colorful words of human understanding on the palette of honest leadership and apply them to the waiting canvases of men who create those problems for you.

Completed pictures on the minds of other men will solve your problems. These pictures will determine if you have painted a lasting masterpiece on the canvas of your life. Will you paint daubs or masterpieces? U - ARE THE ANSWER.

Every man and woman has four canvases of the mind on which we may paint. First, that individual's desire for security. Second, his desire for recognition. Third, his desire for a sense of belonging, of being wanted. And fourth, his desire for new experiences and growth. If we are to manage men, we must take into consideration MAN, his AGE or maturity and his relationship to other MEN. We must realize that every man is working for a finished picture on each of his canvases with himself as the center or focal point.

With warm, human, friendly, colorful words we apply, with brushes available to us, with light, heavy or dark strokes, the colors which will complete the masterpiece. Artistically done, these canvases will reflect the individual's dream of his tomorrow.

On the canvas of his "desire for security", we paint with vivid greens and golden dollars. On the canvas of his "desire for recognition", we paint with flaming reds to match his ego. For his "sense of belonging" we must paint with the softer emotional pastel shades of understanding. On the canvas of his "desire for new experiences and growth", we paint with brilliant blues of the expanding oceans and limitless sky.

But what are the brushes we use to apply our colors? As we start our picture, we must first pick up the brush of WILLINGNESS. We should be willing to work with him, to serve his interests, if we expect him to willingly work and serve us. The brush of ENTHUSIASM, properly used by us, will bring forth corresponding enthusiasm from him. The brush of HONESTY is a "must" if we are to paint masterpieces instead of daubs. The brush of KNOWLEDGE which our greater experience has given us must be used to paint in the broader background which will serve as a basis for his completed picture. With the brush of IMAGINATION we can stroke in the lighter lines of inspiration.

Description for Americana

Marshall College, established as Marshall Academy in 1837, was named in honor of Chief Justice John Marshall, long-time friend of John Laidley, who is traditionally accepted as the founder.

The humble subscription school; the private academy; the College, elevated to collegiate status by the Virginia Assembly in 1858; the "West Virginia State Normal School . . . to be established at Marshall College in the County of Cabell . . ." in 1867. These are the historic milestones in the development of Marshall as it is today.

The dual program of teacher education and liberal arts established in the 1837 charter was expanded in 1921 and 1923 into the four-year baccalaureate degrees offered in the Teachers College and the College of Arts and Sciences. The Graduate Division, established in 1938, became the Graduate School in 1948.

The college prepares more teachers for public schools than any other West Virginia institution. Many West Virginia doctors, lawyers and engineers have received their pre-professional education and their bachelor's degrees from Marshall.

Financial support for the college is supplied by the State of West Virginia. The ^{West Virginia} ~~State~~ Board of Education governs. Marshall is accredited by North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and the American Association of Teachers Colleges; is a member of the Association of American College, the American Council on Education and is approved by the American Association of University Women.

Office of the President

September 9, 1957

TO: MEMBERS OF THE FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATIVE STAFF

Parking space in the campus area is limited; at certain times parking near the campus becomes a critical problem. Recognizing this, the college has provided some space for parking by holders of parking permits issued by the college. A continuing effort is being made to develop additional areas for permit parking insofar as this is possible and is consistent with our policy of preserving our campus as a campus.

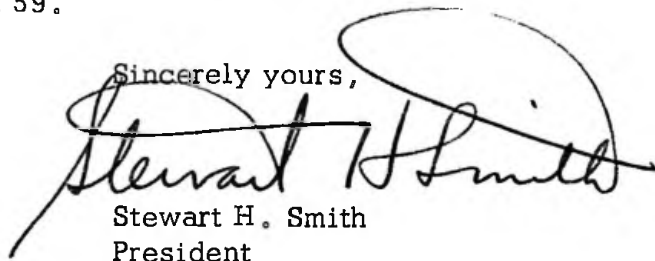

Permits for parking in the area adjacent to Science Hall (and in any other such areas as may be developed in the future) will be issued by the Office of the Comptroller to faculty and administrative staff members. These permits should be displayed on the rear window of each car. Permit parking will be on a "first come-first served" basis to the limit of the available space.

In order to make a maximum amount of space available for permit holders who live some distance from the campus, it is suggested that those who live nearby refrain from using the parking lot except for purposes of loading and unloading. This practice has been followed in the past by most of the staff members who live near the campus and is greatly appreciated. Another plan which has been suggested is that permit holders who find it practical to do so "pool" rides to and from the campus at busy times (such as Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings) to help conserve the available space. This would be much appreciated.

The administration of the college wishes to emphasize that it realizes that the parking problem is a serious one. The policy of permit parking as stated above--permits which give faculty and administrative staff permission to park to the limit of the available space, but do not assure or guarantee a parking space to each permit holder at all times--is the most workable one possible at this time. The administration of the college wishes to assure all interested persons that a continuing effort will be made to secure more space whenever possible so that a higher percentage of permit holders may be accommodated at peak times.

Other regulations pertaining to parking are outlined in the Marshall College Greenbook, 1956 edition, page 58 and 59.

Sincerely yours,

Stewart H. Smith
President

P.S. The above clarification of policy was recommended by the Administrative Cabinet on July 19, 1957 and was approved by the president.

(Royer Gets Setbacks)

HUNTINGTON, W.VA.---Marshall football coach Herb Royer was dealt a couple of setbacks yesterday, less than two weeks before his squad's opener with West Virginia State on September 21.

Regular end Olen Jones was bit by the injury bug again when he suffered a dislocated shoulder in a contact session Monday afternoon. The junior flanker missed most of last season with a cracked wrist. How long Jones will be on the shelf is undetermined, but he definitely was ruled out of the season's opener.

In another turn of events, Dana Kirk, one of seven transfers from Morris Harvey, has decided to drop football and return to the Charleston school. A senior, Kirk had a year remaining of eligibility. There was no definite reason for Kirk's departure other than the 6'4" center felt that he wasn't doing the squad any good and thought it best to quit the gridiron sport. What probably motivated his decision was the fact that Kirk, also a basketball player, could devote full time to the hardwood sport. At Marshall, he wasn't eligible to participate in basketball.

Meanwhile, Royer continued to drill his forces twice daily at St. Cloud Commons. The Marshall field boss expressed satisfaction at the way his squad was rounding into form. Royer plans to send his squad through a full scale scrimmage Saturday morning.

(Add Four to Marshall Artist Series Board)

Four prominent citizens of Huntington have been added to the board of the Marshall College Artist Series Corporation, President Stewart H. Smith of Marshall announced yesterday.

Named to the board were Mrs. Richard K. Van Zandt, Mrs. Robert P. vanElaricom, Mr. Amos Bolen, and Mr. Richard Gibson.

The new members joined the other eight members yesterday afternoon at 4 p.m. in the conference room of Old Main for the board's annual fall meeting.

The 20-year-old board governs the Marshall artist and forum programs. Prior to the additions yesterday, the board had been composed of two Marshall faculty members, two residents of the city, two students, the manager, and the chairman.

Other board members are President Smith, chairman; Curtis Baxter, manager; Mrs. Will Mount, secretary-treasurer; Ralph Edburn, Okey Keadle, Wilbur Pursley, John Corns, and Delores Smith.

(Final Scrimmage Before First Game)

HUNTINGTON, W. VA.--Marshall College coach Herb Royer will send his charges through their final contact scrimmage prior to their opener with West Virginia State on September 21 when he unveils his '57 edition in a closed session Saturday night at Fairfield Stadium. The workout is scheduled for 8 P.M. with only members of the press, radio, the Big Green Club and the Stag Club being admitted as observers.

"It won't be a full dress scrimmage," said Royer, "as we won't be fitted in game uniforms." "The scrimmage is designed as a controlled scrimmage, and we may use the freshmen for short period of times."

The Big Green mentor received a lift when center Dana Kirk returned to the campus this morning after deciding at the beginning of the week to quit football and resume his studies at Morris Harvey. Kirk explained to Royer that he was undecided, and finally has made up his mind to play football.

With the return of Kirk, Dempson Busby was shifted back to tackle. The Huntington junior was being converted to the pivot slot in the absence of Kirk.

Royer learned that end Olen Jones, who suffered a dislocated shoulder, was mending nicely and more than likely will be ready for the Big Green's second game of the season against Morehead. Other than Jones' injury, the Marshall squad was healthy with only slight muscle sprains popping up on a few gridgers. Halfback Raymon Dunlap has a slight knee sprain, while halfback Roy Goines and guard Dick Allen are bothered with pulled muscles.

After Saturday night's scrimmage, Royer will taper off on drills for the next five days. With classes beginning Monday, workouts will be confined to once a day, and Royer will concentrate on polishing up and dummy scrimmages.

FOR RELEASE SUNDAY SEPT. 15, 1957

HUNTINGTON, W.VA.---With the rough work behind them, Marshall's Big Green will begin tapering off this week in preparations for their season opener against West Virginia State Saturday night at Fairfield Stadium.

Marshall boss Herb Royer took time out from Friday's washed out morning session to reply that he was "well satisfied with the progress his 43 man squad has made up until now."

"I am well pleased with the depth situation," continued Royer, "and feel we have the personnel to employ two units." We may need a little more work as a team unit, but other than that I don't see any glaring weakness right now."

Royer does have a "problem" most grid mentors would like to have, selecting two starting halfbacks from a bevy of fine looking candidates. The only one that seems to have secured a first string job is senior Ramon Dunlap who led the squad in scoring last season with 36 points and a better than five yard per carry average.

Pushing for starting berths are Paul Miller, who was a standout in spring drills, Granville Zopp, who has been a pleasant surprise after working his legs in shape, Dewey Ballengee, a transfer from Morris Harvey, Dick Jackson, Roy Goines and Cagle Curtis, all from last year's varsity and sophomore Bob Wilson.

The quarterback situation is still unsettled, and has narrowed down between Bob Wagner and Jim Maddox. It appears that Wagner, a junior, holds a slight edge for the opening call on the basis of a strong throwing arm.

Sonny Sirianni the squad's most outstanding sophomore last season, has just about nailed down the first string job at fullback. Running behind him is Jim Thornton, another transfer from Morris Harvey.

Football Lineup---2

Up front, Royer has been manipulating two lines of almost equal strength. One, packing the most experience is Donzil Hall and Bill Ray at ends, Vernon Howell and Morris Harvey transfer John Beiletti at tackles, Co-captain Herb Hess and Dick Allen at guards and Co-captain Jim Simpson at center. All are stocked with experience with the exception of Allen a converted sophomore tackle.

The other unit which looms better defensively is Tod Fugate and Walt Davis at ends, Jim O'Conner and Rudy Colombo at tackles, Paul Burford and Bob Gardner at guards and Fred Lipscomb, a fourth Morris Harvey transfer at center.

The line was depleted by one when John Mazzie, a transfer from Potomac State transferred to West Virginia University. The Clarksburg junior will not play football at WVU, but wanted the change for academic reasons.

As far as injuries are concerned, they are at a minimum. The only warrior sidelined for the opener is end Olen Jones who is nursing a dislocated shoulder. However, he is expected back for the Green's second encounter against Morehead. Dunlap, who has been bothered with a sprained knee, is coming along well and should be ready for the State contest. He has been held out of contact drills. Two others, troubled by slight muscle pulls, Allen and Goines are just about ready.

BROCHURE INSERT

Delete, under Player Profiles, End Danny Frank, Guard John Mazzie.

Add under ends:

WALT DAVIS 6'3" 186 Sophomore Huntington, West Virginia

Ranks as one of tallest ends on squad. Rated as good pass receiver. Has good speed and good hands. Was regular end on freshman squad last year. Aggressive, but lacks experience. However, may see considerable duty this season.

(Governor's Dinner Open to Public)

A public dinner honoring Gov. and Mrs. Cecil H. Underwood will be held at 6:15 p.m., Sept. 30, in the Marshall College cafeteria, prior to the Governor's appearance at the Marshall College Community Forum.

Only 150 dinner reservations can be accepted. Persons desiring reservations will be served on a first-come basis.

Tickets, which will cost $2.25, may be purchased by contacting William D. Birke, vice-president, Huntington Publishing Co., or Kenneth Stettler, president of Stettler Tire Co.

Reservations may also be made with the President's office at Marshall.

The dinner is open to anyone who wishes to attend. Persons at the dinner will be guests of the Forum board for the Governor's speech in Old Main Auditorium at 7:45 p.m.

Governor Underwood will speak on "West Virginia and Its Future." A panel of prominent citizens will discuss the speech with the Governor. Questions will also come from the floor.

His appearance will be the first major address at Marshall by a West Virginia governor in over 30 years. Forum board members hope to make an address by West Virginia's governor an annual affair.

(Dr. Harper in Washington)

Dr. Charles P. Harper, professor of political science and director of the Marshall College Americanization Program for the training of aliens in West Virginia for their citizenship examination, is in Washington this week attending the twelfth National Conference on Citizenship.

The conference opened Sunday with a reception for the delegates at the headquarters of the National Association, and closes Wednesday. The theme this year is "IMPERATIVES FOR PEACE."

In addition to the group discussion meetings on Monday and Tuesday, there will be "CITIZENSHIP DAY" ceremonies and "NATURALIZATION PROCEEDINGS".

Dr. Harper's selection as a delegate was in recognition of his direction of the Americanization Program for the state. He has represented the college at all the national conferences held in Washington since 1950. In 1949, he was also a delegate to the fourth conference held in New York.

The Marshall College Americanization Program is in its eleventh year with a total enrollment of 854. Of this number, 472 have completed their work and have received their citizenship papers or are ready for their final naturalization examination. Fifty-two persons completed the program the past year. Students from 53 of the 55 counties have been enrolled in the program since it began, the largest numbers being 95 from Cabell, 89 from Kanawha, and 67 from Logan.

The International Nickel Company has increased its scholarship fund for certain Marshall College students in surrounding counties from $1,000 to $2,000 for 1957-1958, President Stewart H. Smith announced today.

Known as the Huntington Works of the International Nickel Co. Science and Engineering Scholarships, the awards are made to Marshall students majoring in mathematics, chemistry, physics or engineering, and students planning to teach these technical subjects in high school or college.

The scholarships, established in 1956, range in value each semester from $100 to $250. The increased grant enables the college to award five more scholarships this year.

Students receiving the grants must be legal residents of Cabell, Lincoln, Mason, Putnam, or Wayne counties in W. Va. No applicant, who is otherwise acceptable, however, is denied a scholarship on the basis of legal residence if he or she is an employee or a dependent of an employee of the Huntington Works.

The company intends to continue the scholarships from year to year. A recipient will be in line for renewal of a scholarship each year until completion of a Marshall undergraduate program, provided he or she adheres to the required standard.

(Inco Marshall Scholarships---2)

In order to receive and keep one of the scholarships, a student must demonstrate good scholarship and good moral character. He or she must have need for financial assistance in pursuing a college program.

All recipients are selected by the student aid executive committee in consultation with college department heads.

Equal consideration is given in making the awards to students majoring in mathematics, chemistry, physics or engineering and to students studying to become high school or college teachers of mathematics, chemistry or physics.

Objectives of the scholarships established by International Nickel's Huntington division, are to help alleviate the serious shortage of trained technical personnel in this area, including teachers needed to teach technical subjects properly in high school and college and to help Marshall in its efforts to build up its science and engineering departments.

Recipients of this year's scholarships thus far are: David Colbert, freshman, 2455 Collis Avenue, Huntington; James F. Cummings, sophomore, 1227 18th Street; William E Hatfield, senior, 928 Ninth Ave.; all of Huntington. Patricia Lucille Hudgins, sophomore, 1102 Chestnut Street; Della Judith Roberts, freshman, 1106 Beech Street, both of Kenova; David Lee Lewis, sophomore, Rt. 1, Barboursville; Cheryl Nee, freshman, Ft. ("The Bridge at Remagen" by Ken Hechler)

Recent associate professor of political science at Marshall College, Dr. Ken Hechler, has added to his literary accomplishments the first complete authoritative book about the historical crossing of the bridge at Remagen during World War II.

"The Bridge at Remagen", to be released November 15, is an account of American soldiers spearheading the final surge to Berlin in 1945 by capturing the mysteriously undestroyed bridge across the Rhine River.

Hechler, a combat historian who was there to interview the first men over, presents the reasons why the Germans failed to blow up the bridge and what happened to the American troops who captured it.

General Matthew B. Ridgway said, after reading Hechler's book, "In war, time and timing are of vital importance. Nowhere is this better illustrated than in the epic of Remagen. Ken Hechler has produced an account of deep and lasting human interest, a gripping portrayal of the reactions of seasoned leaders in decisive moments of combat. It is an absorbing story, backed by extensive research, and should prove to be a great contribution to military history."

read the book and said, "Hechler tells it as it happened. People will understand exactly what it was like and how we felt going across that bridge. Maybe they'll understand the value of time, and what it means not to have time enough to be scared."

Hechler in one semester of teaching at Marshall captured the imagination of the entire student body with his originality and personality. Impressed by the city of Huntington and its people, Hechler recent told Dr. Conley H. Dillon, head of the political science department, (in New York City) that he planned to return to Huntington soon and establish residence.

(Marshall Team Ready For Opener)

HUNTINGTON, W. VA.---"We're ready to go," reported Coach Herb Royer, as he began sending his Marshall College forces through their final drill in preparation for their season opener against West Virginia State Saturday night at Fairfield Stadium. The contest, the first meeting between the two West Virginia colleges, will get underway at 8 P.M.

"Overall, we got as much done as we could," continued Royer. "The squad is in good shape both physically and mentally."

The only warrior sidelined for the opener is end Olen Jones. The junior flanker, who figured prominently in Royer's plans, is convalescing from a dislocated shoulder and is expected back next week. Other than that, the Big Green has nursed some of its minor ailments and is set physically.

State presents pretty much of a mystery to Marshall. Facing the Yellowjackets for the first time, the Big Green has not gotten a line on its new opponent and their quality is of unknown vintage. One thing the staff did discover is that State relies to a great deal on a spread formation which automatically dictates a passing game.

With that in mind, Royer sent his 43-man squad through a pass defensive workout today. Also, the Marshall field boss designed a portion of the workouts to iron out his kicking game. End Donzil Hall and halfbacks Paul Miller, Cagle Curtis and Bob Wilson took care of the punting phase. Hall and Halfback Raymon Dunlap applied their toe to extra point conversions while tackles John Beiletti and Jim O'Conner supplied the kick off power.

60

The two opening spots in the starting backfield appear to have been plugged. Royer has just about made up his mind to start junior Bob Wagner at quarterback and Miller, a sophomore, at right halfback. Completing the backfield are Dunlap, the squad's leading scorer last season, at left halfback and Sonny Sirianni, the squad's leading ground gainer, at fullback.

In the line, Royer will employ Bill Ray and Hall at ends, Beiletti and Vernon Howell at tackles, co-captain Herb Hess and Dick Allen at guards and co-captain Jim Simpson at center.

The second line unit labeled for heavy action are Todd Fugate and Walt Davis at ends, O'Conner and Rudy Colombo at tackles, Bob Gardner and Paul Burford at guards and Fred Lipscomb at center. It is with these two lines of almost equal strength that Royer pins his hopes on the use of two platoons.

From spectator interest, Marshall will be sporting a California look. For the first time in the history of the college, a card section, under the title of The Greenbackers, will flash their color patterns throughout the contest. The special designed section comprises about 400 students.

(Tutoring System Planned for Marshall)

Tutoring services for freshmen at Marshall College are being planned by the joint efforts of Phi Eta Sigma, freshman Men's honorary fraternity, and Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's honorary, for the 1957-58 school year.

The primary aim of these two honor groups is to raise the freshmen scholastic level of the college by cutting down the number of failures, thus helping to prevent the discouragement of students who might leave school due to scholastic difficulties.

A fee of $1.00 per hour will be charged to insure that only those who are serious about wanting help will apply. Twenty-five cents will go to Phi Eta Sigma or Alpha Lambda Delta and the remaining seventy-five cents will go to the tutor for his service.

Only members of Phi Eta Sigma and Alpha Lambda Delta will tutor unless the demand requires other qualified students. No tutor will be asked to tutor in a subject in which he is not qualified by previous membership in the same class and no tutor will be asked to tutor in a subject he does not want to instruct, even if he has taken the class before.

(Marshall Tutoring System---2)

Students will have two means of obtaining a tutor. Through the cooperation of the Dean of Men and the Dean of Women's offices the student will receive an application slip, which, when filled out, will be deposited in the Phi Eta Sigma box in the Dean of Men's office.

A list containing classes tutored, tutors, and where they may be contacted will be placed in the Dean of Men's office, the Dean of Women's office, the Student Union, and other convenient places. Then the student can directly contact the appropriate tutor.

Tutoring will be done in vacant classrooms at the college at a time suitable to the tutor and the student. Due to the limited size of the two organizations, the number of subjects in which they will tutor will be limited to the principal sources of trouble classes, such as mathematics, English, Languages, the sciences, and business.

In stating their policy, the leaders of the group had this to say, "We realize that in order for us to get the cooperation of the faculty and to be ethical, we must not become a means of buying information concerning previous tests by various teachers or even the tests themselves. We will not sell or give information to the student who comes to us since this would give him an advantage over other students!"

"We will promise to endeavor to see as much as possible that the student covers and understands the material assigned to the best of his and our ability."

(Marshall-West Virginia State Revue)

HUNTINGTON, W.VA.--Marshall's Big Green took time out to review their opening 14-7 win over a hard hitting West Virginia State eleven and then began preparations for Morehead's invasion Saturday night.

Head man Herb Royer was very well pleased with the running phase of his offense which accounted for all of Marshall's yardage, 391. But the passing left much to be desired, as all nine passes fell harmlessly to the ground.

The contest did support the belief that the Big Green's strongest punch was at halfback, with the fullback position also giving a standout account of itself. Roy Goines, Ray Dunlap, Paul Miller and Cagle Curtis led the halfback brigade while Sonny Sirianni carried most of the fullback duties.

Marshall emerged from their opener with an assortment of bumps and bruises, with the most serious one being a kidney injury to starting right end Donzil Hall. The senior flanker at the moment is a questionable starter this weekend.

Left end Bill Ray, who suffered leg cramps during the action, and halfback Ray Dunlap, who was bothered by a sore knee in the third period, are both expected to be ready for Morehead. Also waiting to be given the word for duty Saturday is end Olen Jones who missed the opener with a dislocated shoulder.

Royer sent his squad through a scrimmage today, using the gridders on the second and third units who didn't see much action last Saturday. He avoided contact with the first team that played most of the contest against the fired-up State squad.

For the rest of the week, Royer said that he will work hard both on offense and defense. He is hoping to assemble a passing game that will have his offense clicking on both cylinders.

(Freshman Court)

Thirty-six offenders in two sessions have come before the Marshall College Freshman Court.

Philip Barnhart, Moundsville junior, and judge of the court, announced that this legal body is, "Attempting to give a more constructive atmosphere to freshman indoctrination than in the past."

Tickets are handed out to offenders who break such rules as not wearing name tags, beanies, or carrying handbooks, and not being able to recite various passages concerning the tradition of the college.

The eight members composing the freshman judiciary have acquitted but one of the 36, who have come before them.

The ratio of female to male offenders has been running approximately five to one. Judge Barnhart asserted that he believed this to be due to the fact that the male members of the enforcing body who hand out most of the tickets, seem to be more likely to hand out tickets to females than to their own sex.

The procedure used in confronting the offenders before the court is to have the accused carry a candle before his face into the courtroom. The judge also has his face illuminated in candlelight. The defendant has an opportunity to state his defense.

Questions are then asked of the defendants concerning the tradition of the college and whether they can uphold it.

All penalties handed out have a constructive nature. These range from picking up paper on campus to cleaning up the student union. Others have wrapped goal posts before games and some wear signs in support of the football team.

Some amusing incidents have resulted during the appearance of defendants in court.

One girl hadn't been wearing either her nametag or beanie. Her defense was that she had been suffering from amnesia at the time of the offense. This explanation was accepted by the court but to help her "remember" what she had done wrong, the young lady was permitted to carry a sign relating her period of lapse of memory.

Most of the offenders have seemed to be helped by their experience in court, according to Judge Barnhart. One young lady showed an indifferent attitude toward the situation when entering the courtroom. But, upon leaving the legal chamber, she apologized to everyone for her actions and appeared to be enthused in trying to uphold Marshall's tradition.

This year, as in past years, the first offender was supposed to scrub the bust of John Marshall which is displayed before the administration building of the college. Since vandals had broken the bust in an episode last spring, the freshmen circulated a petition that the president of the student body be substituted for Mr. Marshall. President David Kirk, Huntington senior, was greeted with a bucket of soapy water and a wet rag at a recent pep rally.

(Student Government)

Every full-time student of Marshall College is playing a part in formulating plans for his government.

Officers whom the students elected during the second semester of the past school year, are anticipating several problems stemming from the growth of the institution.

David Kirk, Huntington, has assumed the duties as president of the student body and is being aided in his task by Vice President Norman Haddad, Beckley.

The purpose of Marshall student government is to provide an instrument which will make it possible for all students to have a voice in programs making Marshall a better college.

The construction of this organization is such as to represent democratically all members of the student body and is designed to reflect student opinion, and to crystallize and make effective any constructive program.

Besides these qualities, initiative and civic development are encouraged in training for intelligent citizenship.

Many activities of the campus are sponsored by the Student Government. Some of these are: Homecoming, Life Planning Week, Parent's Week-End, Leadership Camp, and the Junior-Senior Prom.

Four new faces are becoming familiar to Marshall football spectators. Kitty Casto, Parkersburg sophomore; Beverly Lowe, Williamson sophomore; Christine (Tinkey) Barrett, Matewan sophomore; and Dick Matthews, Wheeling freshman, comprise the new list of cheering aspirants.

The four seasoned members of the team that lead the cheering at any pep rally or sports contest are Judy Fearon, Wheeling senior and head cheerleader; Jodie Kearns, Huntington senior; Barbara Varney, Williamson junior; and Don Lawrence, Wheeling junior.

Every spring there is a two-week practice session before the final tryouts in the campus gymnasium. All would be megaphone carriers take part in this and the field is narrowed down to the desired number. Those who are selected come back in the fall and start practising the cheers and are issued their uniforms.

All but one coed has had previous cheering experience.

This summer, Jodie Kearns and Judy Fearon represented Marshall at cheer leading camp in Syracuse, Indiana. The purpose of this camp is to teach the basic elements of cheering and to help find new cheers and build school spirit. Representatives from every part of the country may be found at the camp during its session.

(Marshall meets Morehead Saturday)

HUNTINGTON, W.VA.---Marshall's Big Green bumps into an old Kentucky rival Saturday night at Fairfield Stadium, facing an eager Morehead eleven at 8 p.m. in the season's second contest for both schools.

In their openers last week, Marshall downed West Virginia State, 14-7, while Morehead turned back Maryville, 12-0.

The Marshall-Morehead series began in 1908, during which time they've encountered each other 14 times, with the Big Green holding the upper hand, 11-2-1. Saturday night's battle is a renewal of the series that ended with Marshall's victory in 1954, 19-7. The victory gave the Green a string of four straight triumphs over the Eagles, with the last Morehead win being a 51-6 lacing in 1950.

Coach Herb Royer worked his Big Green forces hard all week, even turning a traditional easy Monday drill into a bump heads session. At the end of the rough work, Royer remarked that he was well pleased with the way the squad looked.

In Morehead, Marshall will be meeting a club that employs the split T system with virtually the same personnel returning from last year's eleven. Although they compiled a 2-6 record in '56, Morehead was nevertheless outscored by only 36 points in the eight games. Their freshmen and sophomores of last season are expected to develop to a great extent this campaign.

Marshall's injury list contained the name of two gridgers that are doubtful performers against Morehead. End Donzil Hall, who opened against West Virginia State, is still painfully bothered by a bruised kidney. Hall didn't don any pads during the week's workouts. The other, end Olen Jones, hasn't fully recovered by a shoulder dislocation that caused his to miss the opener.

Expected to replace Hall in the starting lineup is Tod Fugate who saw action with the second unit. Standing 6'3" tall, Fugate at 198 pounds is the squad's biggest flanker.

Catching the coaching staff's eye in practices this week was Dick Jackson a left halfback who didn't see any action against State. Listed on the third unit, Jackson's hard running has elevated him to the second team and is ticketed for duty against Morehead.

Probably getting the opening whistle call Saturday are: Fugate and Bill Ray at ends, John Beiletti and Vernon Howell at tackles, co-captain Herb Hess and Dick Allen at guards, co-captain Jim Simpson at center, Bob Wagner at quarterback, Ray Dunlap and Roy Goines at halfbacks, and Sonny Sirianni at fullback.

Good Thing Big Green Hasn't Played Big Foes

By DON HATFIELD

It's a good thing Marshall hasn't reached the "meat end" of its schedule yet.

That was the general feeling today following the Big Green's 21-0 victory over Morehead Saturday night at Fairfield Stadium.

Marshall has now won two games, losing none. However, it's pretty obvious the Big Green needs a bit more work.

"We've still got a lot of work to do," said Coach Herb Royer this morning.

"We're still making a lot of mistakes. It's a good thing we're making them against teams we can still beat, even with mistakes. But starting next week, we won't be able to make any and win."

Herb was referring to his team's Mid-American Conference game Saturday at Western Michigan.

Good Team

"Western has a good team this year," he said. "They're all fired-up up there. Our scouts tell us they'll be tough. We're expecting a real ball game."

The bright spots in Marshall's weekend performance involved its quarterback Bob Wagner, halfback Dick Jackson and end Tod Fugate.

Wagner exhibited a passing arm which few realized he possessed. He also ran well. Jackson missed the opener against State because of a bad leg. But he was in fine form Saturday and showed promise of being a real spark in the Marshall attack.

The play of Fugate, filling in as Marshall has both regular ends — Don Hill and Olan Jones — out, was outstanding.

"He did a real fine job," said Herb of Fugate. "I would say Wagner, Jackson and Fugate played very well. Of course, so did the line."

Fumbled 4 Times

In spite of the mistakes — which included losing possession of the ball by fumbles four times — Royer was fairly optimistic today.

"We're coming along," he said. "At times we looked pretty ragged, but at times we looked pretty good, too, Saturday. We're passing better. And we showed good depth at our halfbacks, with Jackson back and running well. We use either him or (Ray) D. Goines. And of course we have (Roy) Goines, too."

"We've been pretty much experimenting with our teams. Now, I think we know pretty well how to set up."

Herb said the sparkling play of Fugate may make it rough on Hill or Jones when they return to duty this week.

change," he said, revealing that he planned to keep the backfield just as it is.

Herb added that he expected his team to be in top physical condition for Saturday's game.

Wagner and Jackson teamed for two fine pass plays Saturday. Jackson scored on one — a 31-yarder—and would've accounted for another TD had he not stumbled to the ground in making a catch. As it was, the latter play covered 37 yards and put the ball on the Morehead five from where Dunlap took it over.

Big Ray scored twice, going 15 yards for the other tally.

Goines was injured in the game, but Royer said today he was "only shaken up," and would be ready to go Saturday.

Big Green, State Enter Final Stages of Drills

By ERNIE SALVATORE

Advertiser Sports Editor

Marshall and West Virginia State coaches began putting the finishing polish on their squads today and plan more of the same tomorrow for their opener here Saturday night at Fairfield Stadium.

And, the outlooks of the respective camps were marked by their sharp contrasts. Here in Huntington Big Green coach Herb Royer's only problem was the status of junior end Olen Jones, whose shoulder injury has healed rapidly enough to merit consideration for Saturday night action.

"But, I don't think we'll use him," Herb said. "After all, he might hurt it again and we'd lose him for some of our later games. By keeping him out of the opener I'll have the chance to give some of the other ends some game experience."

While not taking the Yellow Jackets lightly, Royer expressed the view that it was a relief this year not to have to prepare a team for a backbreaking opener as was the case in 1955 and '56 when Ohio and Xavier were faced in inaugurals.

"This time, we've had no such pressure and we've been able to concentrate more on refinements of the game with our various units."

Royer planned a kicking drill today and a very light workout tomorrow at St. Cloud Commons. He hopes to be able to announce his starting lineup tomorrow night and the identity of the second unit under his "two unit plan."

At Institute the situation was a lot grimmer for Coach Mark Cardwell who, faced with the proposition of taking on his toughest opening game foe in the school's history, has been forced to lay the whip to his charges.

He has been driving the Jackets with plenty of contact sessions and game-style scrimmages to whip them into shape. Some injuries have resulted but Cardwell said "the boys are in fighting trim and we don't plan to make the trip

Tomorrow has been proclaimed "Governor's Day" at Marshall College in honor of Governor Cecil H. Underwood's visit to the campus.

The governor will address the college Community Forum audience at 7:45 P. M. in the college auditorium. His subject will be "West Virginia and Its Future."

Raymond Brewster, editor of The Herald-Dispatch, will preside and introduce the Governor and a panel of speakers who will lead a discussion following his address.

Members of the panel will be Mrs. Ray K. Sullivan, past president of the Junior Department of the West Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs; Hugh D. Stillman, division manager of the Appalachian Electric Power Co.; Professor Conley H. Dillon, head of the Department of Political Science at Marshall, and Tom E. Carter, Marshall student. Marshall President Stewart H. Smith will be moderator.

Governor Underwood is scheduled to arrive on the campus at 6 P. M. He will be met by the ROTC drum and bugle corps and then will inspect the ROTC honor guard while the college band plays.

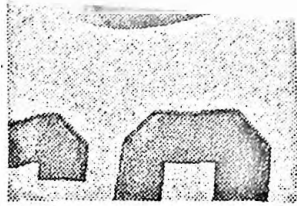

At 6:15 P. M. Governor and M. J. Underwood will be guests of honor at a dinner in the col-to Harrisburg.

Among the battered and bruised are sophomore guard Taylor Perry, an Advertiser Golden Gloves light heavyweight open champ, with a strained neck muscle, and freshman end Fred Houwen who has a pulled leg muscle. Of the two, only Perry is a regular and Cardwell said Taylor will be ready for a starting job come Saturday night.

Cardwell was loud in his praise today for the work of State's returning lettermen. He's also pleased with the progress of eight freshmen who joined the squad this year.

Of the yearlings, here's his observations:

John Brown, a 200 pound guard from Harper's Ferry: "Has good potential." George Lewis, 180 pound, half back from Cincinnati: "A speedy flashy back, is in the thick of the fight for a starting position". Ronald O'Neal, 165 pound quarterback: "Is pushing regular Elmer Burney to put out his best effort." James Lawson, 200 pound tackle: "Is expected to see a lot of action this season as he is a most promising player on defense. George Newkirk, 175 pound end: "Is showing rare ability of pass catcher". Gerald Phoenix, 180 pound end. "Is rugged on defense, and a good place kicker. And, Lawrence Spearman, 165 pound tackle. "A mighty good little man, and expected to be a capable reserve". The latter five freshmen all hail from Harrisburg, Penn.

State Line Has Edge In Weight

By ERNIE SALVATORE
Advertiser Sports Editor

Marshall hopefully opens its 1957 football season tonight against West Virginia State at Fairfield Stadium.

But, early hopes for a big, runaway victory over the Yellow Jackets were tempered considerably by mid-morning when a blanket of thick, grayish clouds drifted over the city, bringing with them the promise of scattered showers by the time the 8 o'clock kickoff arrives.

For Big Green coach Herb Royer, starting his fifth season, this could create some offensive problems in view of the weight edge the visitors hold in the line. Up front Coach Mark Cardwell's club averages 207 pounds per man, a pull of three pounds over the 204 boasted by the Big Green.

Some of the big guys Marshall is going to have to try to move around with its winged-t double-tea locking are 6-1 270 pound freshman Donald Matthews and 6-4 205 pound junior Percy Giles at the tackles and 6-2 240 pound senior co-captain Wyatt McGinnis at center. A slippery field could make the problem a difficult one to solve.

Marshall Experienced

Where state holds a weight edge, Marshall has experience, depth, and speed—not only in the line but in the backfield as well. Royer has split his 44-man squad into two first string units and plans to alternate them throughout the season's nine games.

His starting unit has five seniors, four juniors and two sophomores, while the No. 2 eleven, as it's officially called, has six sophomores, three juniors and two seniors.

Speedy Backfield

Royer's starting backfield also boasts much speed and scoring potential. Quarterbacked by junior Bob Wagner, fresh from one year of understudying the departed Bill Zban, it has senior Ray Dunlap and sophomore Paul Miller at the halves and bull-like Sonny Sirriani at fullback.

Dunlap finished in a tie for second in the Mid-American Conference's scoring race last year with six touchdowns for 30 points. He was Marshall's high scorer. He also boasted the best ball carrying average on the club with 195 net yards in 36 attempts for 5.4. Sirriani, the "clutch runner," was the top ground gainer with 241 yards in 48 attempts and 5.1 average.

In Miller, Royer feels he's uncovered a "sleeper." Paul, who hails from Parkersburg, was the star of the spring drills and has continued to shine in three weeks of practice. He's an explosive runner and like Dunlap can turn on blinding speed when given an opening.

Lot Of Action

Named to the second unit and slated for a lot of action are sophomores Todd Fugate and Walt Davis at the ends, sophomores Rudy Colombo and Jim O'Connor at the tackles, junior Bob Gardner and senior Paul Burford at guards and either Dana Kirk, a senior, or Fred Lipscomb, a soph, at center. Soph Jim Maddox, ex-Barboursville all-stater, is the quarterback flanked by Dewey Ballengee and Roy Goines at the halves and Jim Thornton at fullback.

Not to be forgotten are halfback Dick Jackson and end Olen Jones, laid up with injuries. Jones won't dress for tonight's game while Jackson will be used if needed.

Cardwell's attack is centered around the pin-point passing of left-handed quarterback Elmer Burney, a Pennsylvania junior. Burney is described by those who have seen him play as one of the cleverest kids at his position in the business.

A crowd of between 2,000 and 3,000 is expected to see Marshall start trying to end five straight losing years, four of them under Royer. Herb, however, has overhauled his offense, brought in Spike Underwood, ex-East head coach, to coach the linemen, and feels this may be the year when his fortunes take a turn for the better.

After tonight, Marshall plays Morehead here next Saturday before playing two straight road games—both of them conference contests. First comes Western Michigan, then Toledo.

Details Of College Land Purchases Are Disclosed

H.D. 9/6/57

(See Page One Story)

The locations, owners and prices of the first pieces of property Marshall College intends to acquire in a $600,000 campus expansion program were disclosed yesterday when the State Board of Education authorized the exercise of options on 12 parcels.

The options cover:

1852 Fourth Avenue, 3,000 square feet, owned by J. F. and Orpah Adkins, price $9,000.

1844 Fourth Avenue, 3,000 square feet, owned by Willis and Alice Short, price $8,000.

1854 Fourth Avenue, 3,000 square feet, owned by Irvin and Lula Morrison, price $10,000.

1829-31 Fourth Avenue, 3,000 square feet, owned by Raymond Tweel, Betty Lou Tweel and James Tweel, price $6,500.

1835 Fourth Avenue, 3,000 square feet, owned by George and Irene Hughes, price $7,000.

1843 Fourth Avenue, 3,000 square feet, owned by Asa and Emma Hurley, price $5,500.

1849-51 Fourth Avenue, 6,000 square feet, owned by Pat Massey, price $8,750.

1848-50 College Avenue, 9,000 square feet, owned by Pat Massey, price $17,500.

1824 College Avenue, 3,000 square feet, owned by the Thomas Hamlin estate, Glen Niday, administrator, price $5,500.

1810 College Avenue, 3,000 square feet, owned by Marcella Berry, price $7,500.

1734-36 Fifth Avenue, 3,900 square feet, owned by the Huntington Realty Corp., price $10,000.

1738-48 Fifth Avenue, 11,700 square feet, owned by Samuel and Mary Lucas, price $26,000.

$4.6 MILLION BUDGET

The options on which board action was taken represent the first phase of the campus expansion program. The options are being acquired through the cooperation of the Huntington Board of Realtors. The five per cent commission on sales will go into the board's treasury.

The proposed budget of $4,462,963 submitted by Marshall President Stewart H. Smith includes $2,078,000 of budgeted funds for construction. An issue of $400,000 of revenue bonds is contemplated to supplement appropriated funds on one of the projects.

Proposed new construction includes a classroom and auditorium building costing $1,500,000, an $800,000 men's dormitory, half financed by the revenue bond issue, renovation of two dormitories and furnishings at a cost of $75,000, repairs to the James E. Morrow Library, $53,000, and repairs to Old Main, $50,000.

The Old Main project had been scheduled this summer, but the allocation in the 1957-58 budget was found insufficient when bids were opened and the appropriation was turned back to the state.

SALARY INCREASES

Other items in the budget include $1,936,897 for personal services, an increase of $371,267; $168,248 for current expenses, up $34,248; $63,397 for repairs and alterations, up $12,397; $186,600 for equipment, up $132,600, and $30,421 for library books and periodicals, up $10,000.

The personal services item would provide 15 per cent salary increments for administrative personnel and 10 per cent increments for others of the staff. It also would provide for 27 new positions — four administrative, 19 instructional and four clerical.

The budget is subject to action of the Board of Public Works and the 1958 Legislature.

First Land Purchases Authorized

New Budget Asks Staff Expansion

The State Board of Education yesterday authorized the exercise of 12 options to expand the Marshall College campus and took under consideration a proposed 1958-59 Marshall budget calling for nearly $2,500,000 of new buildings.

The options cover 55,500 square feet of land adjacent to the present campus area. The prices total $121,500.

Exercise of the options is contingent upon release of $600,000 to Marshall by the Board of Public Works. The Board of Education voted to ask immediate release of the money, which was appropriated by the 1957 Legislature conditioned on a specific state treasury balance as of last June 30.

Managers Meet Set At Marshall

Approximately 600 management men from 90 industries in the Tri-State area will attend the 13th annual Foremen-Manager Personnel Conference at Marshall College in Huntington Friday and Saturday.

Getting under way Friday at 6:30 p. m., the conference will open with a banquet in the Georgian Terrace Room of the Hotel Frederick. Cloyd Steinmetz, director of sales training for the Reynolds Metal Co. in Louisville, Ky., will speak on "Tapping the Creative Power of Your People."

Stewart H. Smith, president of Marshall College, will welcome the conference delegates Saturday at the 9 a. m. meeting in the college's Old Main auditorium.

Five group meetings are scheduled during the conference, which ends with a luncheon session featuring Glenn Gouche, vice president of Parade Publications Inc. of Chicago, Ill.

Co-sponsored by the Huntington Foreman-Managers Club and Marshall College, the conference is open to all Tri-State industries.

Reservations may be made with Paul H. Collins, director of adult education at Marshall and chairman of the conference planning committee.

Les Brown's Swing Band Here Tonight

The Keith-Albee Theater will be the focal point for swing band fans in the Tri - State Area tonight when Les Brown and his "Band of Renown" present a concert under auspices of the Marshall College Artists Series. The concert starts at 8:30 P. M.

Admission is not included in Artists Series season subscriptions. Tickets will be on sale at the box office.

Voted No. 1 in the nation in several polls, the "Bands of Renown" features Jo Ann Greer, Butch Stone, and Stumpy Brown, Les' younger brother. The group has made scores of personal appearances, and has played for armed forces units in Europe, Japan, Alaska and Korea.

After the concert Mr. Brown, a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity, will meet with members of the local chapter of TKE.

Bowling Green, Miami Appear MAC's Strongest Once Again

Mid - American Conference teams entering their second day of pre-season drills today, and the title picture seemed once again to include mainly defending champion Bowling Green and perennial power Miami. Bowling Green leads in the number of candidates with 68. It lost only nine lettermen last year, has 20 more returning this season, and counts on 35 up from the 1956 freshman team.

Miami is comparatively strong. The Redskins have 67 men out, lost 13, has 19 back, and expects 30 from the frosh.

But that's where comparison stops as far as these teams and the remainder of the MAC is concerned.

There is, however, balance shown between the others. Kent State, and Western Michigan have 55 candidates, Ohio 58, Toledo 50 and Marshall—a low 44.

Kent actually has the most lettermen returning in the loop at 21. Our own Marshall has the least — 12.

Coach Herb Royer expected 20 up from the freshmen, however, and hopes to overcome the loss of the 16 who graduated.

Royer opened drills yesterday and continued them today. He's scheduled two sessions daily, at 9:30 A. M. and 3 P. M. He indicated earlier that he may shift the afternoon practice to a night drill if the weather gets too hot.

Sessions are now being conducted at St. Cloud Commons. Should he shift to night drills, he'd move to either Inco Park or Onized Field.

Why the conference's seven teams compared with one another can be plainly seen in the adjoining table, listing number of candidates, lettermen, etc.

MAC Outlook

Double Cast Announced For College Theatre Comedy

Marshall College Theatre will present the two-act English drawing-room comedy, "The Reluctant Debutante", as their opening show for the 32nd season. The show will open Tuesday, November 12, and will run through Friday, November 15, in the college auditorium.

The selection was announced yesterday by Professor Clayton R. Page, director.

The play is double-cast with the exception of three roles. In the cast are:

FAY MURRAY, Milton senior, as Sheila Broadbent, the mother; Herbert Proffitt, Spencer junior, as Jimmy Broadbent, the father; Kay Humphrey, Huntington senior, and Linda Gardener, Huntington freshman, as Jane (title role); Carol Compton, Huntington senior, and Nancy Sparks, Charleston sophomore, as Mabel, another mother; Nancy Robinson, Huntington freshman, and Linda Henderson, Huntington freshman, as Clarissa, Mabel's daughter;

Joe Boradaille, Charleston senior, and Charles Ricketts, Huntington sophomore, as David Bulloch, a young peer and unsuccessful suitor; Bryan Compton, Huntington senior, and Norman Keyser, Huntington freshman, as David Hoyle-Johnston, the successful suitor; and Jane Garrett, Huntington senior, as the Broadbent maid.

Miss Garrett will also serve as assistant to Director Page.

Professor James McCubbin, of the speech department, will be technical director and will design the stage settings.

Prof. Page said he decided the play would be suitable for college and community audiences alike after seeing it in London last year after more than a two-year run there, and again in New York where it was beginning a successful run.

The play concerns a mother who has a debutant daughter and who wants to unload her on society and some suitable young nobleman. The daughter, however, complicates the plot by having a mind of her own and some different ideas about her mother's choices for her marriage.

Kirk Given Methodist Youth Job

The official board of the Beverly Hills Methodist Church last night approved the appointment of David Kirk, Marshall College senior, as youth director.

The group also elected Dr. Roy A. Edwards Jr. as chairman of the board, and approved the appointment of Mrs. Russell Dickey as a full-time church secretary.

Kirk is a pre-ministerial student at Marshall, president of the student body, and a member of the varsity basketball team.

Scout Supervisor

He will be in charge of activities for high school and college groups, and will supervise scouting.

Kirk succeeds Miss Ella May Redfean, who resigned last month to work on a Master's Degree in christian education at Columbia University.

Dr. Edwards, psychiatrist and former superintendent of Huntington State Hospital, was elected to fill the unexpired term of Roy Reger, former head of the Huntington FBI office who recently was transferred to Arizona. Dr. Edwards' term will expire next June.

The appointments of Kirk and Mrs. Dickey were made on the recommendation of Dr. John W. Hollister, pastor of the church.

Marshall by 18, Says Smith

Here, Adv. Sept 26 92
over North Carolina State.

By DR. ALLEN N. SMITH
College football gets down to serious competition this week with every leading team in the country swinging into a action, including Michigan. The Smith Touchdown Tendency System of Ratings rates the Wolverines 14-point favorites over Southern California in a high-voltaged intersectional tilt.
Other intersectional clashes are figured to result in a 6-point victory for Illinois over UCLA, a 7-point superiority for Georgia Tech over Southern Methodist, a 14-point decision for Minnesota over Washington and a 13-point defeat of Texas Christian by Ohio State. Stanford should down Northwestern by 7 and Texas should uphold the Lone Star State's honor with a 6-point triumph over Tulane. Army is slated for a 20-point win over Nebraska while Pittsburgh is toppling Oregon by 14.

Easy Win
The top eastern scuffle pits rugged Penn. State against improving Pennsylvania. However, the Nittany Lions are again loaded with talent and should come away with a 20-point win. Other Eastern encounters should see Brown downing Columbia by 13, Navy overpowering William & Mary by 27, Colgate victimizing Cornell 7, and Princeton gaining a point victory over Rutgers.

High class football is the early season fad in the South and when the smoke clears the Touchdown Tendency System sees a 6-point victory for Mississippi over Kentucky and a 7-point margin for Tennessee over Auburn. Duke's Blue Devils figure to bowl over Virginia by 13 while Clemson is nipping North Carolina by 7. Maryland rates a 6-point advantage

MARSHALL SETS CLOSED DRILL TOMORROW NIGHT

Marshall coach Herb Royer will send his charges through their final contact scrimmage prior to their opener with West Virginia State on September 21 when he unveils his '57 edition in a closed session Saturday night at Fairfield Stadium. The workout is scheduled for 8 P. M. with only members of the press, radio, the Big Green Club and the Stag Club being admitted as observers.

"It won't be a full dress scrimmage," said Royer, "as we be fitted in game uniforms." "The scrimmage is designed as a controlled scrimmage, and we may use the freshman for short periods of time."

The Big Green mentor received a lift when center Dana Kirk returned to the campus this morning after deciding at the beginning of the week to quit football and resume his studies at Morris Harvey. Kirk explained to Royer that he was undecided, and finally has made up his mind to play football.

With the return of Kirk, Dempson Busby was shifted back to tackle. The Huntington junior was being converted to the pivot slot in the absence of Kirk.

Royer learned that end Olen Jones, who suffered a dislocated shoulder, was mending nicely and more than likely will be ready for the Big Green's second game of the season against Morehead. Other than Jones' injury, the Marshall squad was healthy with only slight muscle sprains popping up on a few gridders. Halfback Ramon Dunlap has a slight knee sprain, while halfback Roy Goines and guard Dick Allen bothered with pulled muscles.

After Saturday night's scrimmage, Royer will taper off on drills the next five days. With classes beginning Monday, workouts will be confined to once a day, and Royer will concentrate on polishing up and dummy scrimmages.

Marshall Press Day Is Today
Marshall College's football candidates will have it comparatively easy this afternoon. They'll only have to assume a fighting stance and stay in it long enough for flash bulbs to pop and cameras to grind.
For, it's the annual Marshall Press Day. A luncheon at the college cafeteria gets things started at noon.
The picture boys will move to the gridiron about 1 o'clock.

HHS, East, Vinson, WVU, Green Picked

By DICK LEONARD
Associated Press Sports Writer

Some football team — Notably Huntington and Wheeling — keep forgetting to read this department's football predictions before they go on the playing field.

Their thoughtlessness kayoed Beckley and Parkersburg from the championship race last week and caused our prognosticating average to dip. Huntington throttled Beckley, 12-0, and Wheeling bounced Parkersburg, 13-0.

We picked 31 games right, lost on seven and had three ties for an 816 average last week.

This week's fearless football forecast:

- West Virginia over Virginia — A solid vote on a solid line.
- Marshall over West Virginia State — Big Green warms up.
- West Virginia Tech over Potomac State—Golden Bears off on the right foot under their new coach Ray Watson.
- Charleston over Beckley — Flying Eagles lose second straight.
- Huntington over East Bank — The Pony Express keeps rolling.
- Morgantown over Fairmont East — Mohigans by a hair.
- Huntington East over Logan—The Highlanders take the high road to victory.
- Gary over Bluefield - Beaves don't have the experience.
- Grafton over Clarksburg Washington Irving — A shaky vote for last year's Class AA champion.
- Winfield over Poca — On Coach Leob McCoy's big line.
- Princeton over Oak Hill — Tigers rebound from last week's loss.
- Huntington Vinson over Milton — Tigers are roaring.
- Parkersburg over Marietta, Ohio — Ditto for Big Reds.
- Fairmont West over Shinnston—Polar Bears have the power.
- Stonewall Jackson over St. Albans — Generals on the march.

Purdue should gain a one-touchdown victory over Notre Dame in a leading midwestern contest. Michigan State and Wisconsin look forward to pleasant outings. Michigan State rates a 20-point choice over Indiana while Wisconsin is shocking Marquette by 27.

Miami Choice
In the Southwest, Baylor, exhilarated by its Sugar Bowl victory over Tennessee and its 7-0 win over Villanova, is a 7-point favorite over Houston. Texas A. & M. is rated 20 points over Texas Tech.

In the West, California is calculated to dump Washington State by 6.

Mid-American Conference champion Bowling Green is picked to lose by 7 against Xavier while always powerful Miami should get by fellow conference member Western Michigan by 26. In other MAC games, Marshall is an 18-point choice over Morehead, Kent State by 20 over Baldwin-Wallace and Ohio University by 14 over Toledo.

Rush Season At Marshall Opens Today

Here, Adv. Sept 26
The sorority rushing season at Marshall College will be formally opened today at the Panhellenic tea, to be held from 3 to 5 P. M. in the Student Union. Miss Peggy Tolley, rush chairman, is in charge.

All women interested in pledging a Greek letter sorority are invited to attend and sign the rush book.

Following the tea, rush rules will be in effect, and rushees may not visit sorority houses except to attend rush parties.

Rush parties are scheduled for coming week, as follows: Monday, 7 to 9:30 P. M., Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Sigma Alpha, Delta Zeta and Sigma Sigma Sigma; Wednesday, 7 to 9:30 P. M., Alpha Sigma Alpha, Alpha Xi Delta and Pi Kappa Sigma.

Following the first parties, each sorority will hold two more before rushee preference slips and bids are turned in.

Funeral For M. P. Loy Tomorrow

(Picture on Page 39)

Funeral services for Professor Melvin Parsons Loy, 66, 1924 Underwood avenue, who died yesterday at a local hospital, will be held tomorrow at 2:30 P. M. at the Klingel-Carpenter Mortuary. The Rev. Lloyd O. Barker, pastor of the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church, will officiate assisted by the Rev. John Henry Shadburn, pastor of the Cross Roads Methodist Church. Burial will follow in Ridgelawn Cemetery. The body is at the mortuary where friends may call.

Professor Loy, who had been head of the biological science department at Marshall College, retired from that post in June.

He was born October 21, 1890 at Romney, W. Va., a son of the late William H. and Clerza Ann Poland Loy. He came to Huntington 32 years ago and had been a member of the college faculty since that time.

Professor Loy was a member of the West Virginia Academy of Science and served as chairman of the biological division of the academy. He also was a member of the National Science Teachers' Association, the Huntington Kiwanis Club, and the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church where he had served as chairman of the board of deacons. He also was a Mason.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Charlotte Turley Yoy; one daughter, Mrs. Wallace G. Robbins of San Mateo, Calif., three sisters, Mrs. Clarence Doyle, Mrs. Earl Tharpe and Mrs. Leta Poland of Romney; two brothers, Earl Loy and Victor Loy of Romney, and twin granddaughters, Jule and Gale Robbins.

Active pallbearers will be Jack Apple, John E. Jenkins., Joseph Vaughan, Harry Watts, Duncan Daugherty Jr. and Thomas Bassford. Honorary pallbearers will be members of the board of deacons of the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church and the faculty of Marshall College.

PROFESSOR Melvin Parsons Loy, 66, 1924 Underwood avenue, retired head of the biological science department at Marshall College, died yesterday in a Huntington hospital. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2:30 P. M. at the Klingel - Carpenter Mortuary. Burial will be in Ridgelawn Cemetery. College Tops Another Hurdle for Expansion

Marshall College moved closer to acquisition of additional campus space today following release of $600,000 yesterday by the West Virginia Board of Public Works.

The board, acting on a request of the State Board of Education, voted to release the money appropriated by the 1957 Legislature. The appropriation had been on condition that the surplus on June 30 exceed a certain sum. That condition was met by the Treasury balance.

The board of education, meeting earlier this month, voted to exercise options on 12 pieces of property covering 55,500 square feet of land adjacent to the present campus area. The prices total $121,500 and represent the first phase of the campus expansion program.

Commenting on the release of the money by the Board of Public Works, Marshall President Stewart H. Smith declared:

"This is indeed good news. It means we have passed another hurdle — and this was a big one."

Several local attorneys now are working on abstracting the titles to the property. As soon as they have completed their work, President Smith will send their reports to the Attorney General. If he approves, the college will proceed to close the deals.

The options on the property are being acquired through the cooperation of the Huntington Board of Realtors. Board members are doing the work as a civic project and charging only two and one-half per cent commission instead of the regular five per cent. The commission on sales will go into the board's treasury.

College Land Acquisition Before Board

The State Board of Education will be asked today to launch a $600,000 campus expansion program at Marshall College.

At a board meeting in Charleston, Marshall President Stewart H. Smith will ask the board to exercise options on certain tracts of land already selected through the cooperation of a committee from the Huntington Board of Realtors. Cost of these tracts is about $100,000.

Raymond Brewster of Huntington, vice-president of the board, will ask that the board request the Board of Public Works to release the full $600,000 for land purchases provided under authority of the state budget enacted in March by the Legislature.

JONES HURT, WILL MISS FIRST GAME; KIRK QUILTS

Marshall football coach Herb Royer was dealt a couple of setbacks yesterday, less than two weeks before his squad's opener with West Virginia State on September 21.

Regular end Olen Jones was hit by the injury bug again when he suffered a dislocated shoulder in a contact session Monday afternoon. The junior flanker missed most of last season with a cracked wrist. How long Jones will be on the shelf is undetermined, but he definitely was ruled out of the season's opener.

In another turn of events, Dana Kirk, one of seven transfers from Morris Harvey, has decided to drop football and return to the Charleston school. A senior, Kirk had a year remaining of eligibility. There was no definite reason for Kirk's departure other than the 6'4" center's feeling that he wasn't doing the squad any good and thought it best to quit the gridiron sport. What probably motivated his decision was the fact that Kirk, also a basketball player, could devote full time to the hardwood sport. At Marshall, he wasn't eligible to participate in basketball.

Meanwhile, Royer continued to drill his forces twice daily at St. Cloud Commons. The Marshall Field boss expressed satisfaction at the way his squad was rounding into form. Royer plans to send his squad through a full scale scrimmage Saturday morning.

College Groups Charge $1 an Hour

Tutoring Set for Frosh

Tutoring services for freshman at Marshall College are being planned by the joint efforts of Phi Eta Sigma, freshman men's honorary fraternity, and Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's honorary, for the 1957-58 school year.

The primary aim of these two honor groups is to raise the freshmen scholastic level of the college by cutting down the number of failures, thus helping to prevent the discouragement of students who might leave school due to scholastic difficulties.

A fee of $1 per hour will be charged to insure that only those who are serious about wanting help will apply. Twenty - five cents will go to Phi Eta Sigma or Alpha Lambda Delta and the remaining 75 cents will go to the tutor for his service.

Only members of Phi Eta Sigma and Alpha Lambda Delta will tutor unless the demand requires other qualified students.

No tutor will be asked to tutor in a subject in which he is not qualified by previous membership in the same class and no tutor will be asked to tutor in a subject he does not want to instruct, even if he has taken the class before.

Students will have two means of obtaining a tutor. Through the cooperation of the dean of men and the dean of women's offices the student will receive an application slip, which, when filled out, will be deposited in the Phi Eta Sigma box in the dean of men's office.

A list containing classes tutored, tutors, and where they may be contacted will be placed in the Dean of Men's office, the Dean of Women's office, the Student Union, and other convenient places. Then the student can directly contact the appropriate tutor.

Use Vacant Classes

Tutoring will be done in vacant classrooms at the college at a time suitable to the tutor and the student. Due to the limited size of the two organizations, the number of subjects in which they will tutor will be limited to the principal sources of trouble classes, such as mathematics, English, Languages, the sciences, and business.

In stating their policy, the leaders of the group had this to say, "We realize that in order for us to get the cooperation of the faculty and to be ethical, we must not become a means of buying information concerning previous tests by various teachers or even the tests themselves. We will not sell or give information to the student who comes to us since this would give him an advantage over other students."

"We promise to endeavor to see as much as possible that the student covers and understands the material assigned to the best of his and our ability."

Les Brown's Concert in City Tonight

The fall music season gets underway here tonight at 8:30 with the appearance of Les Brown and his "Band of Renown" at the Keith-Albee Theatre.

Featuring Jo Ann Greer, Butch Stone and Stumpy Brown, the concert is being presented under the auspices of the Marshall College Artists Series.

Admission is not included in Artists Series season subscriptions. Tickets will be on sale at the box office.

Having completed his tenth season on radio and television with Bob Hope, Les Brown and his band has been voted No. 1 in numerous trade magazine polls.

Brown comes here from an engagement at the Palladium in Los Angeles.

Marshall Sees Record Registration

Marshall College enrollment apparently was headed for a new record yesterday.

Luther E. Bledsoe, registrar and director of admissions, reported that more than 3,500 full-time and part-time students had already enrolled for the first semester of the 1957-58 term, and pointed out that students will continue to register throughout this week.

He was confident that the final figure would be above the record of 3,569 set last fall.

"We are already running ahead of the enrollment figure of the same time last year," Mr. Bledsoe said, "and it is reasonable to expect that late enrollment will continue at the same pace. It looks like a new record will be set."

First-semester registration two years ago was 3,340. In the post-World War II peak in 1947-48, it was 3,439.

$600,000 For Marshall Land Released

Marshall College was given the green light yesterday to spend $600,000 for additional campus land.

The West Virginia Board of Public Works, acting on request of the State Board of Education, voted to release the entire amount of $600,000 appropriated by the 1957 Legislature. The appropriation had been on condition that the surplus on June 30 exceed a certain sum. That condition was met by the Treasury balance.

The Board of Education, meeting September 5, voted to exercise options on about $100,000 worth of property in the vicinity of the college.

The board also voted to ask the release of the entire $600,000 so that the land purchases could be continued.

Marshall-State Tickets on Sale

Individual tickets for the West Virginia State - Marshall College football game Saturday, September 21, will go on sale next Monday, Marshall business manager Whitey Wilson said today.

They can be obtained at Walgreens, Humphreys Southside Pharmacy and the athletic department. Wilson added that season ticket sales are picking up and available only at the athletic department.

Individual ticket prices are $2, $1.50, $1 and $.50, the latter for children.

The largest contribution to date to the fund for a new $250,000 Student Christian Center for Marshall College was received yesterday from the International Nickel Co.

Works Manager Elmer M. Kline presented the check for $5,000 to Chairman John G. Berthold of the fund's industrial division.

At the same time, it was announced there will be a mass dinner meeting of workers in the drive at the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church at 6:30 P. M. next Tuesday.

Marshall-State Tickets On Sale

Ticket Manager Neal B. Wilson reported yesterday that tickets for Marshall's home opener with West Virginia State Saturday night at Fairfield Stadium have been moving a fast clip.

Wilson announced that single game tickets for the contest can now be purchased at Walgreens and Humphreys South Side Pharmacy. He also revealed that season ticket books for the Big Green's five home encounters may be bought at the athletic department for $10. Season book orders will be accepted by phone at JA 2-8352.

Frosh Week To Begin Sunday

Marshall College opens its fall semester Sunday, beginning with Freshman Week.

Freshmen and transfer students will take part in a week's activity of being tested, getting acquainted and registering for classes.

Dormitory freshmen who have not been tested report to their dormitories Sunday. Freshmen who have been tested check in Monday afternoon.

After the placement testing program Monday morning and afternoon, the freshmen will begin a program of getting acquainted with faculty, deans, and students.

Registration for freshmen will be held Thursday from 8 A. M. to 4 P. M. Upperclassmen will register Friday from 8 A. M. to 4 P. M. and Saturday from 8 A. M. to noon. Part-time and evening students will register Friday from 7 to 9 P. M.

Marshall Forum To Open

Governor Begins Series Tonight

The 1957-58 Marshall College Community Forum Season will be inaugurated tonight by Governor Underwood. He will speak on "West Virginia and Its Future."

The program will begin at 7:45 in the college auditorium. Admission will be by season membership only. Season tickets may be purchased today at the Becker Music Store or at the door tonight.

$10 Prize

A panel discussion period will follow the governor's address. Forum Manager Curtis Baxter said a prize of $10 will be awarded for the best question coming from the audience.

Underwood will be introduced by Raymond Brewster, editor of the Herald-Dispatch and vice-president of the State Board of Education. Brewster will be chairman of the panel.

Marshall President Stewart H. Smith will serve as moderator.

Other members of the panel will be Mrs. Ray K. Sullivan, past president of the Junior Department of the West Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs; Hugh D. Stillman, division manager, Appalachian Electric Power Co.; Dr. Conley H. Dillon, head of the Marshall Department of Political Science, and Tom E. Carter, a Marshall student.

Governor's Day

Dr. Smith has proclaimed today "Governor's Day" on the Marshall campus in honor of the Mountain State's chief executive.

Governor and Mrs. Underwood are scheduled to arrive on the campus at 6 P. M. They will be honored with a performance of the Reserve Officers Training Corps drum and bugle corps and the governor will inspect an ROTC honor guard. The college band will also play.

The Underwoods will be guests at a dinner in the college dining hall at 6:15 P. M., and following the forum program they will be honored at a reception in the North Parlor by the Faculty Wives Club.

Sen. Douglas Fears War With Soviet

The launching of Russia's earth satellite points out the need for further efforts by the United States, both in the development of satellites and ballistic missiles, Senator Paul Douglas (D-Ill) said here last night.

The senator appeared on the second Marshall College Community Forum program of the current season.

He called for coordination of the U. S. missile program under a single agency and increased appropriation for the work.

The senator was interviewed by three noted newsmen: John C. Metcalfe, editor of "Background," Washington newsletter on world-affairs; Kenneth G. Crawford, Newsweek Washington Bureau chief, and William E. Stringer, Washington bureau chief of the Christian Science Monitor.

The senator told the forum audience it would be a miracle if the United States can avoid war with Russia. He said the U. S. is faced with a great moral question, the choice being whether to enter into a war with great destruction of physical life, if it comes to that, or to exist under a tyranny type of government.

Senator Douglas congratulated West Virginia, Huntington and Marshall on the early steps each took toward integration in the schools and colleges.

Richard T. Matthews, a Wheeling freshman, won first prize of $10 for having asked the question judged best in a discussion period following the program. Matthews asked: "What seems to be the trouble with people of the United States when they let things like Little Rock happen?"

The senator replied that "We are all human beings with defects and weaknesses. I don't regard these failures as an indication of inferiority!"

Kent Lineup Juggled

Ray's Steady Play Lauded

By ERNIE SALVATORE

Advertiser Sports Editor

Bill Ray, the former Barboursville star when the Pirates were contending for state championships, came in for a bushel of praise today from Marshall coach Herb Royer.

"The movie show that Bill has been a good, consistent man out there at left end," said Herb this morning. "He hasn't been flashy, he hasn't been catching passes — but he's been doing his job. He's always up to par and against Toledo he was better than par."

Ray is a 6-1 200 pound senior.

Royer said that only one change was being considered in the Marshall lineup for Saturday's night game here against Kent.

"We may move (Vern) Howell back in there at left tackle in place of (Rudy) Colombo," said Royer. "Rudy's been doing a good job and he's tough. But, Howell has the edge in experience."

The Kent game, Marshall's first at home after two straight weeks of winning conference games on the road, is expected to serve as the true measuring stick of this year's Big Green.

"Kent plays a reckless type of ball," said Herb. "If we can get the jump on them — we can do the whole job. We'll be up for Kent."

Marshall enters the Kent game unbeaten in four starts and tied for first in the conference with Miami which rocked Kent last week, 27-14. Biggest surprise in the league was Western Michigan's 14-14 tie with defending champion Bowling Green — throwing the race into a turmoil.

Three more conference games are scheduled this week. Besides the Marshall-Kent affair, Toledo meets Bowling Green and Ohio plays Miami. Western takes on non-member Washington University of St. Louis.

Here's a brief look at the other member schools:

What Do You Think?

High Adv. By The Inquiring Photographer Sept. 30 1957

QUESTION: Do you think summer term courses are easier than regular term subjects? Asked of students who have attended both summer and winter classes at Marshall College.

JUDY FEARON, 524 Fifth avenue: "I think the summer courses are somewhat easier, but you have to realize students are studying under different circumstances. The weather is usually warmer, classes are held daily rather than two or three times a week, and the entire routine is more compact. Professors realize that the students are under a constant strain and make every effort for the classes to be enjoyable and interesting."

JERRY WORKMAN, 1514 Fourth avenue: "Summer courses require consistent studying because all the classes are piled together and if the student gets a little lax or behind he will find himself trying to catch up all the way through a course. Summer classes are much shorter and the professors have to cover a lot of material, to be certain the student is comprehending what is required."

ROD HALL, 1607 Sixth avenue: "In the winter students have much more time for their studies. In the summer you are cramped for time, and the requirements are the same. Most of the professors don't let up and the weather is usually unbearable. One advantage in favor of the students during the summer is that they don't have as many examinations as they do in the winter. But the ones they do have are tough."

VICKI BLEVINS, 1913 Fifth avenue: "Some are not as difficult as others. Although you can find both difficult and simple courses anytime. In the winter more work is required of the students. They have to do more outside assignments, and have to prepare for each class session. During the summer most research work is limited because of time. Students have very little time in the summer and consequently have to 'cram' everything."

Both WVU, Marshall to Play on Road

By The Associated Press
West Virginia University's vaunted football defense gets a severe test at Wisconsin Saturday, while Marshall carries a 2-0 record into its first Mid-American Conference test against Western Michigan at Kalamazoo.

The West Virginia trek to Madison comes after the Mountaineers' 14-0 victory over Virginia Tech, their 22nd in a row in the Southern Conference and one which probably wrapped up a fifth straight loop title.

Wisconsin, meanwhile, opened with a 60-6 smothering of Marquette. West Virginia — perhaps significantly — failed to complete any of four passes attempted Saturday and had one intercepted.

Ten Carded

Ten games in all are on the state's collegiate schedule this week. West Liberty, 2-0 in loop play, meets (1-1) West Virginia one of five State Conference games.

Other state league play, with circuit records to date, includes these attractions:

Potomac State (0-1-1) at home to Salem (0-1) on Friday; Concord (1-0) at Glenville (0-2); Shepherd (0-1) at Davis and Elkins (0-0), and Fairmont State (2-0) at West Virginia Wesleyan (0-1), all Saturday or that night.

Bethany, 1-0 so far, meets Thiel at Greenville, Pa.; Bluefield State (1-1), against all foes entertains Virginia State at Bluefield, and WVU freshmen play George Washington's frosh at Clarksburg in non-league contests Saturday.

Underwood Opens Forum Here Tonight

Governor Underwood will inaugurate the 1957 - 58 Marshall College Community Forum season at 7:45 P. M. tonight in the college auditorium in "Old Main." The subject of the governor's address will be, "West Virginia and Its Future."

The governor will be introduced by Raymond Brewster, editor of The Herald - Dispatch and vice president of the State Board of Education, who will preside as chairman of a panel which will lead a discussion period following Mr. Underwood's address.

Dr. Stewart H. Smith, president of Marshall, will serve as moderator.

Other members of the panel will be Mrs. Ray K. Sullivan, past president of the Junior Department of the West Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs; Hugh D. Marshall Welcomes 33 Frosh

By ERNIE SALVATORE
Advertiser Sports Editor

Freshman football practice got started at Marshall this week with 33 yearlings reporting to Coach Bill Chambers.

But, with freshman week activities demanding much of their time, final organizations of the 1957 Little Green squad won't be completed until Friday or Saturday, Chambers said. By then, he hopes to have a roster ready for publication.

Meanwhile, as many of the frosh who are able to find free time are practicing once a day at St. Cloud Commons. Chambers is stressing fundamentals along with conditioning exercises.

Nothing Fancy

"Nothing fancy," said Bill, "we just want to get them loosened up. Next week, we'll begin to step up the drills."

Assisting Chambers this year are Jim Conard and Phil Fisher, a couple of undergraduate lettermen whose careers were curtailed because of injuries. Conard, former Huntington high star, is serving as middle line coach while Fisher is doubling as end coach and trainer.

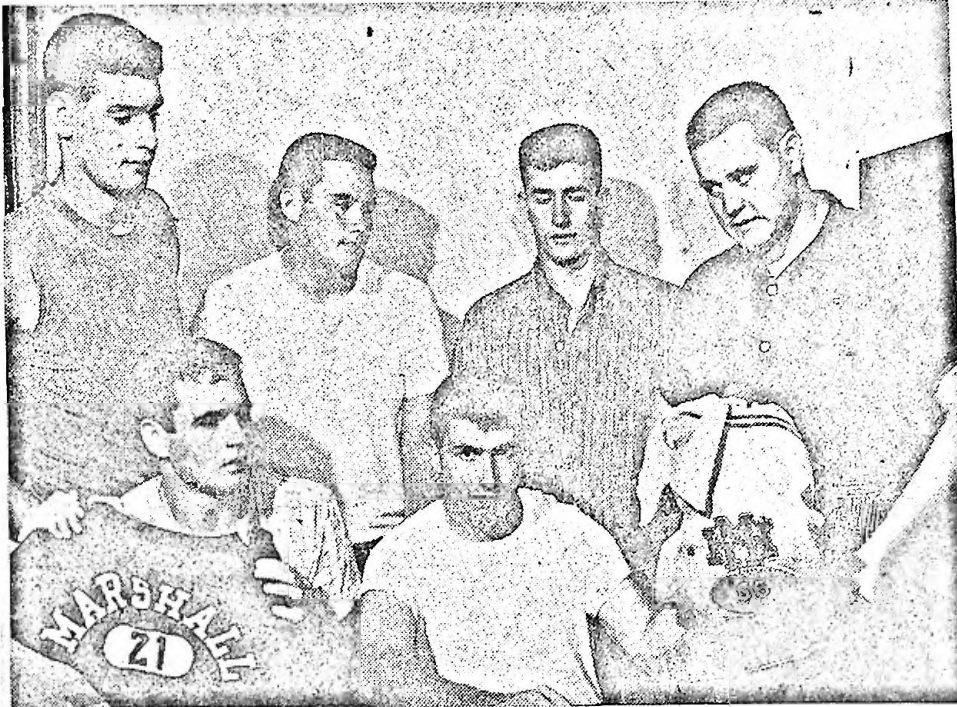

Conard, who was to have been one of the top tackles on this year's varsity, suffered a broken ankle in spring training. Fisher was hobbled by a bad knee.

Three Game Card

The Little Green plays a three game schedule this year, opening with Ohio at Athens October 25. Last year the yearlings played four games, losing three and tying one.

"We'll have more time to work this year before our first game," Chambers said. "We didn't have much time last year. So, we should do better."

After Ohio, the Little Green hosts Xavier November 5 at either St. Cloud or Fairfield Stadium, and closes out with Greenbrier Military School at Lewisburg November 16.

The seven transferred to Marshall College this fall when the Charleston institution dropped football from its inter-collegiate athletic program.

Leadership Camp Opens

The fourth annual Leadership Training Camp, sponsored by the Marshall College student government, began today at Camp Clifside near Charleston.

The camp, scheduled to end Saturday, will enable students to formulate plans for the coming year and to determine problems facing them and the college.

Ann Crockett, Huntington junior, is chairman of the leadership committee, which is in charge of the camp.

Other committee members are Shirley Mitchell, Huntington senior, registrar; Hannah Wyant, Huntington senior, recreation; Margy Minchan, Huntington senior, food, and Don Ferguson, Huntington junior, transportation.

Students pay their food expenses. United Carbide and Carbon Chemical Co., Charleston, has donated use of the camp.

College Forum Panel to Meet

Members of the audience panel for the first Marshall College Community Forum program of the season will meet next Wednesday at 2:30 P. M. in President Stewart H. Smith's office to discuss final plans for the program.

The speaker for the forum program on September 30 will be Governor Underwood whose subject will be "West Virginia and Its Future." The program will begin at 7:45 P. M. in Old Main auditorium.

Members of the panel who will lead a discussion following the governor's address include Mrs. Ray K. Sullivan, past president of the Junior Department of the West Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs; Hugh D. Stillman, division manager of the Appalachian Electric Power Co.; Professor Conley H. Dillon, head of the department of political science at the college, and Tom E. Carter, Huntington junior at the college.

President Smith will serve as moderator of the panel.

PHILS, 5 TO 1 TAPERING OFF

Gridders Open Year Saturday

By LOU SAHADI

Herb Royer, the astute individual who masterminds Marshall's football fortunes, studied yesterday's steady rain from behind his paper cluttered desk and said, "that won't stop us, we'll be out there today. You never can tell, we may be playing a game under those conditions before the season is over with."

So, any anticipated hopes his gridders may have entertained of having the afternoon off were literally washed down the drain. His decision may have been motivated by personally bird dogging Xavier in their opener against St. Joseph's Sunday.

"They looked awfully good," replied Royer. "They're big and rough."

"And when aren't they," offered line coach Spike Underwood, who accompanied Royer together with end coach Bill Hillen on the Cincinnati expedition.

Turning to the day's order of business, Royer revealed that he was ready to begin tapering off his workouts for Saturday's opener with West Virginia State, reiterating he was "well satisfied with the progress his 43-man squad has made in the pre-season grind."

"I am well pleased with the depth situation," reported Royer. "What's more, the staff and I feel we have the personnel to employ two units. We may need a little more work on a whole, but other than that I don't see any glaring weakness right now."

Fortunately, the injury bug hasn't been a pest at the Mar-

'Underestimated Them,' Says Royer of Jackets

By ERNIE SALVATORE

Advertiser Sports Editor

Saturday's tight squeak with West Virginia State "may be a blessing in disguise, not only for the coaches but the players, too," a displeased Herb Royer said this morning.

He was referring to his Big Green's hair-raising 14-7 opening triumph over an underdog Yellow Jacket eleven before close to 8,000 folks at Fairfield Stadium.

"We made the mistake of underestimating them," Herb continued. "We — the coaches — tried to keep our feelings of an easy first game from the players. But, I guess we didn't and the players thought they had a pushover, too. And, after the game started and we ran into trouble, we never could relax. Our players had the pressure on them throughout and couldn't operate with confidence."

Good And Bad

Marshall got into trouble on a bad break and won the game, finally, on a good break. Sonny Srianni's fumble with 3:10 of the second quarter remaining set up State's only touchdown. The fumble was recovered on State's 23 by halfback Ray Harris. Three plays later The Institute team had its touchdown, George Williams going over from eight yards out. Bob Carter's place kick tied it at 7-7.

Then, in the fourth period, State quarterback Elmer Burney hesitated just long enough in trying to get a punt off on a fourth and three situation to be thrown for a three yard loss back to his 34.

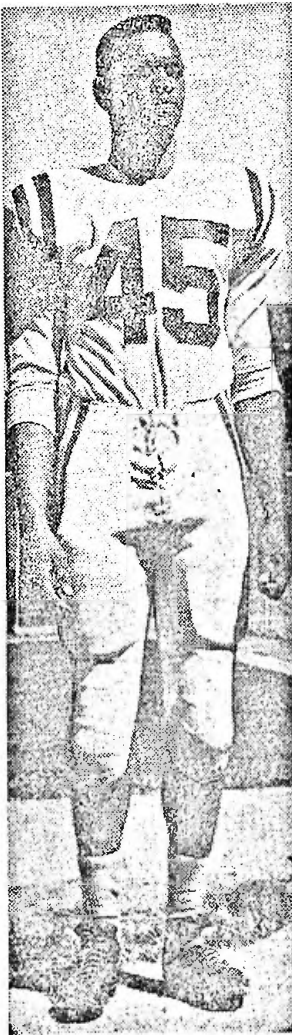

On the next play reserve junior halfback Roy Goines went the distance for Marshall's game winning touchdown. Soph tackle Jim O'Connor made good his second straight extra point and that was the ball game.

Best Back

Speaking of Goines, easily the best back Marshall had, Royer said the former Douglass star was now a first string man "and the fellow the rest will have to beat out."

Besides his touchdown jaunt, Roy carried 14 other times for 112 yards and a fine 7.4 average.

"Goines is an exceptional ball carrier," said Herb. "And, he's not our fastest back, either. But, what gives him the edge is that when he hits the line he's running 100 per cent — he's going as fast as he can. The other backs think they are but they're not."

Royer rated Ray Dunlap, Dick Jackson and Paul Miller as faster than Goines but Roy gets the nod for quickness.

Dunlap, incidentally, got Marshall's first touchdown on a one-yard smash which ended a

78-yard opening game drive that seemed to indicate State was a perfect first game "patsy."

Royer thought Marshall's ability to move the ball between the 20 yard lines was good "but inside the 20 everything kept going wrong."

Statistics gave Marshall a tremendous edge — 33 first downs to seven, 391 yards on the ground to 67 and down the line except for passing.

Marshall failed in nine passing attempts by Bob Wagner and Jim Maddox but State hit six of 15 for 85 yards.

"We told our quarterbacks to stick to the ground if they found they could move the ball. So, they did," Herb added. "We should have thrown more."

"I know one thing," he went on, "if we can't move the ball any better in the scoring zone than we did against State, then we're in for trouble because everyone seems improved. Morehead (Marshall's foe here this Saturday night) is improved and the scores show all those Mid-American Conference teams are improved, too."

See Movies

Royer and his staff spend the morning examining game movies and he said "they showed a lot of mistakes that we made."

To remedy the errors, Marshall will be given a tough week of practice, beginning today.

"Ordinarily we take it easy on Monday and gradually step up the pace," the coach said. "Not this time."

The Big Green came out of the game in good physical shape. Only injury was to Don Hall, regular end. He hurt a kidney and it isn't known for how long he'll be out.

MARSHALL'S BIG GREEN (ABOVE) OPENS ITS 1957 FOOTBALL SEASON SATURDAY
Coach Herb Royer's Charges Meet West Virginia State at Fairfield Stadium

Royer Feels Progress Is Good As Marshall Awaits Grid Opener

By ERNIE SALVATORE

Advertiser Sports Editor

With its opener against West Virginia State here six nights away, Marshall entered the final week of its pre-season football preparations today. And, head coach Herb Royer feels the club's progress through 21 practice sessions has been good.

"We seem to have a little more depth than in other years," he observed this morning. "And, so far, we haven't been hit by serious injuries."

If Herb is keeping his fingers crossed, who can blame him. The former Marshall quarterback is starting his fifth campaign here still searching for a winning season. In four years he has a record of 12-22-2.

40 Still Out

At present the squad numbers 40 players, a drop of only four since practice began September 1. He and his aides have spent much time lining up two squads of equal strength to be used as units during the nine game schedule which lies ahead. The third team will be used as substitutes for the first two.

Last Saturday the Big Green went through its last strenuous game condition scrimmage prior to the opener. It began with the No. 3 unit playing a freshman unit for 20 minutes. Then the No. 2 team battled a second frosh unit for 20 more. The No. 1 team followed with a scrimmage against No. 3 and the drill ended with No. 1 and No. 2 playing.

"At times it looked like we had a pretty good football team out there. When the No. 1 and No. 2 units were in there against each other, some really good football was played. The blocking was sharper and the play keener."

One A Day

Today, with the beginning of first semester classes, the team will start one a day drills. All will be held at St. Cloud Commons, beginning at 3:30.

Royer plans to stress the refinements of the game this week with most of the heavy preparations out of the way.

"We're going to do a lot of work in getting the individual assignments down pat," he said. "The ball handling needs polish, too. In this winged-T that we're going to use this year, a lot of timing is required because of the double-teaming the linemen do on blocking and because of the trap plays that are used and the pulling of guards out of line to lead interference. It's the one thing that's wing in every respect except for the quarterback being up close. The assignments vary on each play."

Royer said that there would be at least one controlled scrimmage this week.

No Other Way

"We've got to get one more in," he said. "There's just no other way."

You get the idea that Herb is working extra hard this time around, but, that he's not letting ago he began a season in which he said he's quit if he didn't have a winner. He had a loser but was kept as coach following an overhaul of athletic department and college policies in relation to athletics. Now, he's approaching his job like a man who knows he has a lot of time and no more deadlines but who nevertheless hopes to get his program moving ahead forcibly once and for all.

Marshall's Big Green bumps into an old Kentucky rival Saturday night at Fairfield Stadium, facing an eager Morehead eleven at 8 P. M. in the season's second contest for both schools.

In their openers last week, Marshall downed West Virginia State, 14-7, while Morehead turned back Maryville, 12-0.

The Marshall-Morehead series began in 1908, during which time they've encountered each other 14 times, with the Big Green holding the upper hand, 11-2-1. Saturday night's battle is a renewal of the series that ended with Marshall's victory in 1954, 19-7. The victory gave the Green a string of four straight triumphs over the Eagles with the last Morehead win being a 51-6 lacing in 1950.

Coach Herb Royer worked his Big Green forces hard all week, even turning a traditional easy Monday drill into a bump heads session. At the end of the rough work, Royer remarked that he was well pleased with the way the squad looked.

In Morehead, Marshall will be meeting a club that employs the split T system with virtually the same personnel returning from last year's eleven. Although they compiled a 2-6 record in '56, Morehead was nevertheless outscored by only 36 points in the eight games. Their freshmen and sophomores of last season are expected to develop to a great extent this campaign.

Marshall's injury list contained the name of two gridders that are doubtful performers against Morehead. End Donzil Hall, who opened against West Virginia State, is still painfully bothered by a bruised kidney. Hall didn't don any pads during the week's workouts. The other, end Olen Jones, hasn't fully recovered a shoulder dislocation that caused him to miss the opener.

Expected to replace Hall in the starting lineup is Tod Fugate who saw action with the second unit. Standing 6'3" tall, Fugate at 198 pounds is the squad's biggest flanker.

Les Brown's Band Gives Colorful Jazz Recital

By WALTER H. PERL

Les Brown and his "Band of Renown" gave last night in the Keith-Albee Theatre a colorful recital before a large college and town's audience. The concert was sponsored by the Marshall College Artist Series as a special feature in the new endeavour to get our town acquainted with modern Jazz on the concert-stage.

Les Brown's band followed earlier recitals of Duke Ellington, Louis Armstrong, Tex Beneke and Count Basie and due to the different origin of the players, it has a quite different style. It is basically more even balanced, less dynamic, limited to lyrical dance-tunes and conservative swing-music; it preserves the character of a dance-band which also is accustomed to provide the back-ground music for Bob Hope's famous television-shows.

Fewer Star Players

As a band it shows a fine ensemble play and coordination in the different trumpet, trombone and saxophone sections, but it has by far less virtuoso-players or stars than the other groups we heard earlier, and its well groomed musicians display sometimes an almost collegiate character. Les Brown, the bandleader for the last 17 years, shows his descentance from Duke University and Ithaca conservatory. He leads his ensemble with smooth gestures of his hands and often the rhythm of his body; he almost sings with the band, if he does not play the saxophone.

In the artistic way the colored bands of Ellington, Count Basie and Armstrong's Combo impressed us stronger. The contribution of the American Negro musician to the development and perfection of Jazz is most important, and some of our all white bands as Les Brown's or Tex Beneke's seem in comparison almost a bit pale and tame in their more conservative style.

Lyrical Numbers Good

The two hour program had however its merits, especially in the lyrical numbers, which the 16 members of the band rendered very well. Among them were many tunes of yesteryear as "The Little Brown Jug," "Sentimental Journey," "I Got My Love to Keep Me Warm," "Mr. Wonderful," "I Am Going to Love You Come Rain or Come Shine." More dynamic was a good performance of "Slaughter on Tenth Avenue" and "April in Paris" in Count Basie's arrangement, yet, Basie's band was more colorful and original.

Two exotic numbers, a Samba and an Afro-Cuban composition showed the even qualities of the drummer, Lloyd Morales.

The singer Jo Ann Greer displayed the pretty appearance of a collegiate beauty-queen, and did her best to interrupt the monotony of instrumental Jazz-sequences with vocal arrangements of well known Jazz-songs. Her fine voice was sometimes a bit distorted by the speaker-system; it is not easy to sing with strong band accompaniment.

The two part-time comedians of the group, Butch Stone and Stumpy Brown. Les's kid brother, amused the audience with some burlesque singing and dancing in a parody on rock and roll style and provided so a clever finale. However we gladly would have missed the so-called comedian at half-time with his rather primitive off-color jokes, and instead settled for a regular intermission.

The President of the local Beta No chapter of the Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity, Richard Burton, handed to "Brother" Les Brown the annual top-award of the group for the best dance band of the year and in return the Tek's and the Audience were awarded with a rather amusing Jazz version of Tschalkowsky's Nutcracker-suite. We guess, however the late Russian composer would have turned bewildered around in his grave, if he had heard it.

Towards the end the audience warmed up considerably after hearing Les Brown's band for two hours in a rather cool style. We are grateful that the musicians who seemed a little tired after their strenuous three months' tour of Europe and North-Africa, stopped in our town before going back to their homes in Hollywood, so that we were able to hear Jazz in a quite different, more lyrical manner.

Meeting Marshall's Needs Duty Of Public Officials to State

Those inclined to question reports of the acute shortage of scientists and engineers should take a look at the latest announcement of the Manufacturing Chemists' Association.

"The U. S. Office of Education has reviewed the engineer supply and demand picture 1955-56," the statement said, "and, based on anticipated increases in the gross national product, concludes we will have a shortage of 8,000 engineers per year for the next 10 years. This is anticipated despite an annual increase in the number of engineer graduates . . .

"The U. S. Office of Education also reports that in 1950 there were 136,000 science teachers. This number has dropped to 75,000 full or part-time science teachers . . .

"The American Society of Engineering Education tells us that over the next 10 years the number of chemical, metallurgical and petroleum engineering teachers at the college level must show increases ranging from 53 to 78 per cent in order to take care of the anticipated number of students."

The shortage exists in spite of the fact that the number of scientists and engineers is rising each year. According to the Manufacturing Chemists' Association report, there are three reasons:

1. Rapid technological developments and expanding industrialization over the last 50 years. This has outstripped the training of technical manpower.

2. Rapid increase in population in recent years, anticipated future increases, bringing the total to 200 million by 1957, and the demand for a continually higher level of living. These factors have required a steady increase in industrial growth.

3. The need to find substitutes for the declining supply of raw materials requires more and more research by more and more scientists.

To meet the growing demands, the association declared, there must be more technologists in the work force, more science teachers at all levels and more laboratories and school buildings.

To help meet the shortage the association last year launched a million-dollar education program to continue for five years and to reach down even to the elementary school level.

This year the program is being extended particularly in high schools. The purpose is to stimulate interest in science and engineering careers "by exposing interested high school students to more of the drama challenge of scientific experiment in fields pertaining to everyday living."

The best proofs of the shortage of scientists and engineers are the long columns of advertisements in metropolitan papers offering employment in these fields.

Furthermore, the biggest industrial corporations of the country send recruiting teams to colleges and universities each year offering high-paying jobs to young graduates.

This is a fair indication of the opportunities awaiting bright students preparing now to enter college. Those looking forward to the assurance of good incomes and to the opportunity for service to the nation should consider the engineering or science field.

There is a tendency among some students to shy away from such courses because they are not supposed to be so easy. Such an attitude should challenge the character and intelligence of those who respect their own ability.

To run from a job or an opportunity just because it requires effort is the first step toward a life of failure.

If there are not enough intelligent, conscientious young people in this country willing to train themselves for its scientific and engineering needs, the nation itself faces inevitable decline.

But we don't believe our students are so stupid or so spineless. The young brothers and sisters of those who faced the test of fire to win World War II have enough of the same spirit to meet peacetime needs.

What they lack in many cases is information about the challenge to them, the opportunity for professional study and facilities at the colleges and universities for all who apply with the proper qualifications.

The burden is upon the older generation to provide information, guidance and physical equipment for study. It rests particularly upon public officials who can supply such needs as those asked by Marshall College in its new budget.

A particular need at the college is a $1,500,000 classroom and auditorium building. It was requested last year but was denied by state officials.

The refusal put the college and the state behind another year in meeting what amounts now to little less than an emergency in the whole field of education.

There is a shortage not only of scientists and engineers but of teachers at all levels. As the largest teacher-training school in the state, Marshall has thus a double responsibility.

It cannot hope to meet the demands upon it for training unless state officials supply its need for personnel and physical equipment.

This brochure has been compiled and edited with the sincere hopes that it will assist in every way those who will exercise their efforts in presenting Marshall College to the public on sports pages throughout the nation. We generously thank all who allot their energy for the best interests of the college. If there are any further requests, or any other way in which we can aid you, please do not hesitate to let me know.

LOU SAHADI
Sports Publicity Director

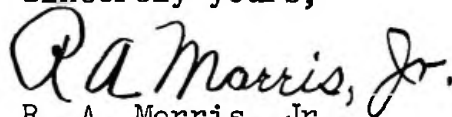

The Marshall College Athletic Department has prepared this brochure for the information and use of those persons who are interested in the Marshall College football team and it's opponents, past and present.

We hope we have provided you with the facts, statistics, and briefs necessary for your use. If there is any further information needed, we shall be glad to attempt to provide it.

Marshall College is striving in its athletic program to produce teams which will be worthy of their opponents in skill and sportsmanship. To do so requires a great deal of effort by many people. We would appreciate your comments on our progress.

Hoping that you feel a friend of our school, we shall look forward to your visit or return and that we can be of service to you.

Sincerely yours,

PRESS BOX FACILITIES

Requests for working press tickets, radio broadcasting, television rights, game photography and information for Marshall College's football games should be addressed to LOU SAHADI, Sports Publicity Director. It is requested that you make your application for working press space as early as possible, at least a week prior to the contest desired. The press box is strictly and exclusively for members of the working press, and admission to the press box is by special press pass only.

Due to the limited space of the press box at Fairfield Stadium, admission to the box will be granted only to working press, radio, and visiting scouts. It is therefore asked that you keep your ticket requests at a minimum to avoid creating a congested atmosphere for those in attendance in the press box. We will provide all the usual services, and make your working conditions as comfortable as possible. Wire and telephone service from the box can also be arranged for your convenience.

Photographers desiring to take action shots of the games will be admitted to the playing field with a special stamped press pass. Requests for desired games should also be made prior to game date.

TICKET INFORMATION

The following prices have been established for all of Marshall's home games:

Reserved Seat - $2.00 and $1.50
General Admission - $1.00 and .50¢
Season Ticket - $10.00

MARSHALL BRAIN TRUST

HERB ROYER, Head Coach

With a bright ray of optimism, Royer begins his fifth year at the helm of Marshall's grid forces. Although his elevens have produced a 12-22-2 record in four years, the feeling is that Royer will finish above the .500 mark this time around.

The popular Big Green mentor is a former athlete in the days of the great Cam Henderson's coaching tenure. Herb operated as a quarterback and halfback from 1934 through 1937, and was named to the All-Buckeye Conference teams in '36 and '37. The year he received his diploma, Royer signed a pact with the Detroit Lions, but later decided to return to Marshall as a Henderson assistant the same year. He remained in such a capacity for two years.

In World War II, Royer served as a Navy lieutenant for three years, 1942-1945. Following his discharge, Herb began coaching at Logan High School. Compiling successful squads at Logan, Royer was hired as head coach of West Virginia Tech in '48. His very first year at Tech, he molded an unbeaten team, 9-0-1, that earned him the Coach of the Year award in West Virginia. His two year record at Tech was 14-4-1. He later returned to Logan in 1950, before coming to Marshall in 1953. Royer is married, and is the father of two daughters.

FORREST UNDERWOOD, Line Coach

Underwood is the latest addition to the Marshall coaching staff, replacing Sam Clagg who decided to devote full time to teaching in the geography department. Underwood is a native of West Union, W. Va. who played his college football at Davis and Elkins when Cam Henderson was head coach. Underwood performed for D&E in '32, '33, '34, and '35, but received his college degree from Marshall in '37. As a tackle for D&E, Underwood was named to the All-West Virginia squad three consecutive years beginning his sophomore year and gained a berth on the 1935 Little All-American team.

In 1938, Underwood played for the Cleveland Rams, moving over to the Cincinnati Bengals the following year. In 1940, Spike was hired as assistant football coach at East High School. He remained in such a position until 1946, when he was elevated to the head coaching job. He stayed at East until 1954, and in those years produced winning football, 55-35-6. Spike tutored such players as Bobby Moss, Ogden Thomas, Bob Fetty and Bob McCollins. Married, he is the father of a boy currently on the frosh team.

MARSHALL BRAIN TRUST

ED PRELAZ, Backfield Coach and Trainer

Acting in a dual capacity, Prelaz was also entrusted with the head coach wrestling duties this coming winter. The powerfully built Prelaz is tremendously popular with the players as an inspirational factor. Ed will begin his fifth season on the Marshall staff this fall. Prelaz was named "Trainer of the Year" by Scholastic Coach magazine in 1956 for his heroic feat in saving an injured player's life in '55. Marshall halfback Dyke Six was hit so hard in a game against Kent State that his jaws locked causing him to swallow his tongue. Prelaz, acting quickly, dashed on to the field and inserted an oral screw into Six's mouth and recovered the injured player's tongue and saving the youngster's life. The story appeared in Sports Illustrated magazine and in newspapers throughout the country.

Prelaz was a star halfback during his college days at Marshall. He was an All-Ohio Valley Conference back in '51, but received a head injury the next year that ended his football career abruptly. Ed received his AB in '53 and his Masters from West Virginia University in '56. Recently married, Prelaz is an expectant father sometime during the winter.

BILL HILLEN, End Coach

Proved to be a valuable aide to the Marshall staff during his first year. Well liked by players and respected for his knowledge and as a hard conscientious worker. Hillen replaced Dan Wickline last August, and quickly adapted himself to his new surroundings. Hillen is a graduate of West Virginia University, receiving his BS degree in '55. He played four years at end for the University, being named to the first team All-Southern Conference eleven his senior year. The same year, he played in the Blue-Gray All-Star game at Montgomery, Alabama.

In the summer of '55, Hillen was in the camp of the New York Giants. However, he returned to West Virginia University in August as a coach with the freshman team. He is currently working on his Masters during the off season at Morgantown. A native of Smock, Pennsylvania, Hillen also was a recent bridegroom.

MARSHALL BRAIN TRUST

BILL CHAMBERS, Head Freshman Coach

Chambers begins his third season on the Marshall coaching staff. Last season was a tough one for Bill, as his frosh eleven dropped three games and tied one in four outings. However, none of the losses were by more than two touchdowns. Chambers also serves as head coach for the Marshall baseball team. He accumulated his diamond experience as a pitcher in the Texas League.

Bill is a local product, attending high school at Huntington High. He did his undergraduate studying at the University of Kentucky where he was a three letterman in football, baseball and track. Before coming to Marshall in 1955, Chambers was head coach at Milton High School. Previous to the Milton position, Chambers taught and coached at Jackson High School in Jackson, Tennessee.

JIM CONARD, Assistant Freshman Coach

Conard was forced to quit football this season, although he had a year remaining of eligibility. Acting upon doctor's orders, Jim was informed that his injured leg could not stand up under the strain of the gridiron. Doing the next best thing, he accepted the post as freshman aide.

During his football playing days, Conard was the first string tackle in his junior year last season. A native of Huntington, Conard will receive his degree in physical education next year.

PLAYER PROFILES

ENDS

DANNY FRANK 6'1" 201 Sophomore Benwood, West Virginia

Played football in high school. Shifted to end on frosh squad where his speed makes him good pass receiver. Lacks experience at this position, but will see second line duty. Can also be used as kickoff man.

TODDY FUGATE 6'3" 195 Sophomore Milton, West Virginia

Played at Morehead as a quarterback in first year. Spent four years in service. Returned to Marshall as a quarterback, but had to sit out year for eligibility purposes. Transferred to end during spring drills. Lacks know how, but should improve as season progresses. One of three brothers who starred at Milton High School.

DONZIL HALL 5'11" 168 Senior Spencer, West Virginia

Smallest lineman on squad in both height and weight. Became regular most of year because of aggressiveness and determination. Can be used for field goals and extra point kicking. Might also be used for long distance punting. First team All-Conference baseball, third base. Physical education major.

OLEN JONES 6'1" 190 Junior Clendenin, West Virginia

Appears heading for regular left end berth. Will show improvement over last season. One of few sophs to play regular last fall. Outstanding on defensive side. One of the most aggressive tacklers on squad, and one of the hardest workers. Played fullback in high school.

THOMAS LAMB 5'11" 190 Sophomore Glen Rogers, West Virginia

Played fullback on '55 freshman team. Shifted to end as sophomore, but sat out last season because of inexperience. Has good speed and is strong. Hard worker with a good attitude. Will be strong candidate for first string duty.

WILLIAM RAY 6'1" 191 Senior Barboursville, West Virginia

Saw limited service in '56, but may have a good season in last year. Lacks speed to be top notch pass receiver, but is stickout on defense. Played first string frosh in '54. Should be strong contender this time around. Played on 1952 undefeated Barboursville team. Member of South squad in '53.

ENDS

BILL ROBERTI 6'1" 186 Sophomore Clarksburg, West Virginia

Best pass receiver on freshman squad the past campaign. Has fair speed, good hands. Lacks experience and size to play outstandingly on defense. Ticketed for limited service because of inexperience. Played basketball in high school.

TACKLES

RICHARD ALLEN 5'11" 224 Sophomore Beckley, West Virginia

Paired with Columbo as regular tackles on freshman squad. One of fastest linemen despite size. Played under Jerome Van Meter at Beckley. Had difficulty working into shape after four years in service. Looked impressive in latter part of spring drills. Has physical qualifications to be as good as he wants.

JOHN BEILETTI 6'2" 210 Junior Lawrence, Pennsylvania

Regular tackle on Morris Harvey eleven last season. Impressive in movies of last year's Marshall-Morris Harvey contest. Displayed lots of desire and aggressiveness. Strong and fast. Could also be used as a guard. Will be solid contender for starting job.

RUDY COLOMBO 6' 242 Sophomore Clarksburg, West Virginia

One of biggest and perhaps strongest man on squad. Exceptionally strong on defensive side, however, needs work and experience in blocking. Should lose 10 pounds to aid agility and speed. Was regular freshman tackle and may push veterans for starting role. Youngest of 21 children!

VERNON HOWELL 6'2" 216 Junior Huntington, West Virginia

Regular tackle most of last season. Considered one of top sophomore prospects in '56. Has good speed for a tackle. Should have big year with added experience. Not flashy, but dependable, conscientious type of player. Played at Huntington High School and is transfer from Syracuse. Played end at Syracuse and could play position if need arises.

DAVID LOWE 6' 210 Sophomore Spencer, West Virginia

Sat out most of season at Morris Harvey because of a lack of experience. Showed well in spring drills according to former Morris Harvey coach Eddie King. Played in Little Kanawha All-Star game. May still be a year away.

TACKLES

ALPHA MAYFIELD 6'1" 205 Sophomore Dellslow, West Virginia

Played fullback at Morgantown High School. Shifted to tackle during spring workouts. Still a year away because of inexperience at new position. Exceptional speed. Should develop.

JIM O'CONNOR 6'4" 236 Sophomore Astoria, New York

Transfer from Indiana. Expected to gain starting berth. One of few sophs slated for first string line duty. Has exceptional record in high school, and was offered many scholarships. Big and strong, with good leadership qualities. Has possibilities of being one of the outstanding tackles in the conference as a sophomore. Married. Business administration major.

KEN PARKER 6' 210 Junior Romney, West Virginia

Graduate of Potomac State Junior College. Lack of knowledge of Marshall system may handicap him during first part of campaign. Good speed and desire. Good student of the game. Intends to coach.

DON PETERS 6' 205 Junior Rock Oak, West Virginia

Teammate of Parker at Potomac State. Also slightly handicapped with unfamiliarity of Marshall system. Sat out last season with broken leg. Has good recommendation from coach Dana Lowe. Works farm at home. Physical education major.

GUARDS

PAUL BURFORD 5'11" 196 Senior Clendenin, West Virginia

Was running at first string guard along with Hess in spring drills. Has lots of endurance. Should be regular this year. Expected to show considerable improvement over junior year. Veteran of 1954 North-South All-Star game. Has good speed. Plays hard. Rated better offensively than defensively. Just recently married.

ROBERT GARDNER 5'11" 193 Junior Beckley, West Virginia

Waw some action last season. Expected to see more action during junior year. Aggressive linebacker. Lacks confidence. Plays good defensive game, but needs work on offense. Played tackle at Woodrow Wilson High School in Beckley. Member of '55 South squad.

GUARDS

BILL GILLESPIE 5'10" 188 Sophomore Williamson, West Virginia

Small, but compact built guard. Played regular along with Trimboli on freshman squad last season. One of hardest working members on team. Spent four years in service. Has maturity, but still a bit short on experience. Could see considerable service.

HERB HESS 5'11" 194 Senior Lumberport, West Virginia

Co-Captain. Played regular past two seasons Broke into lineup as sophomore. Should be one of outstanding guards in conference during senior year. Dependable team leader. Saw some service last season as a center. One of hardest tacklers on team. Linebacker on defense. Lacks top speed, but makes up for it with aggressiveness and agility. Played on '54 North squad.

JOHN MAZZIE 5'10" 198 Junior Clarksburg, West Virginia

Transfer from Potomac State. Highly rated as an aggressive type lineman. Must adapt self to Marshall system. Potential unknown, but could be real contender for starting berth according to reports. Hard worker. Stays in good condition.

DAN TRIMBOLI 5'10" 186 Sophomore Huntington, West Virginia

Huntington Vinson product. All-State "B" team for two years. Starred at Vinson. Passed up by many college coaches because of size. Regular with frosh until injured in mid-season. Makes up for lack of size with aggressiveness, quickness, hard work. Could see considerable action during latter part of season.

ROBERT WILLIAMS 6' 195 Senior Elizabeth, West Virginia

Had to work into shape after getting service release. Entered Marshall in 1950, but went into service for four years. Good conscientious hard worker on field. May come into his own during senior year. Saw limited service in '56. Honor role student, age 27. Physical education major. Married. Wife is a school teacher.

RICHARD BUNCH 5'10" 177 Junior Huntington, West Virginia

Graduate of East High School. Small, but aggressive. Packs plenty of hustle. Rather play football than eat. Was captain of high school team. Didn't see much action last year. Expected to see limited duty this time around.

DEMPSON BUSBY 6'3" 221 Junior Huntington, West Virginia

Was listed as a tackle in spring drills but shifted to center to plug gaps. Big and strong. A bit short on agility and speed. Still a year away, but could be pleasant surprise if he learns new position rapidly. Huntington High School product where he was a teammate of Marcum.

DANA KIRK 6'4" 195 Senior Delbarton, West Virginia

Played three years at Morris Harvey. Also was member of basketball squad. Has enough size and experience to be regular performer. Could make it possible to employ two platoon system at center. Also can be used at end. Good linebacker. Excellent on pass defense. Interested in coaching.

FRED LIPSCOMB 6'3" 191 Sophomore Webster Springs, West Virginia

Was understudy at center to Kirk at Morris Harvey. Saw some service, but still will not have as much experience as other centers on squad. Could be used at end if necessity arises. Good rugged defensive performer.

JIM SIMPSON 6' 206 Senior Mullens, West Virginia

Co-Captain. Began career as guard, moved to tackle, and now transplanted to center. Was regular tackle last season. Looms as strong contender for first string job. Has good potential, and probably can make change without too much difficulty. Honor roll student. Veteran. Married. Physical education major.

QUARTERBACKS

JIM MADDOX 5'11" 171 Sophomore Barboursville, West Virginia

Played on undefeated '54 Barboursville team. First team selection all-state. Transferred from Dayton. Sat out last year. Strong contender for quarterback job although only sophomore. Standout in spring drills. Good field general. Very adept at bootleg pass or run play. Accurate passer. Married. Business administration major.

QUARTERBACKS

JIM SINDLEDECKER 6' 172 Sophomore Fairmont, West Virginia

Regular quarterback on freshman squad last season. Fastest of four listed quarterbacks on squad. Lacks experience, and may be held out during this campaign. Good ball carrier, but only fair passer. Should develop in junior or senior year.

ROBERT WAGNER 6'1" 183 Junior Logan, West Virginia

Saw limited service last year behind Zban. In line for first string berth. Strong throwing arm. Especially good on long passes downfield. Good hands for ball handling. Lacks speed and quickness, but should improve on both. Being groomed for punting duties. One of best tacklers in defensive backfield.

HALFBACKS

DEWEY BALLENGEE 5'11" 184 Sophomore Charleston, West Virginia

Played at Stonewall Jackson High School where he was outstanding track star in 100 and 200. Saw considerable service as a freshman with Morris Harvey. Dangerous break-a-way runner. Looked impressive in spring drills according to report from Charleston. Lack of familiarity of Marshall methods may handicap at first, but has great potential.

CAGLE CURTIS 5'8" 158 Senior Huntington, West Virginia

Was impressive as a sophomore. However, put on weight last year which seemed to slow him down somewhat. Great break-a-way runner. Will push Dunlap for starting job. Lots of determination and desire. May come into his own during final year. Saw limited service as a junior. Full name is Chris Cagle, after Army star of late 20's.

RAMON DUNLAP 6' 181 Senior Huntington, West Virginia

Listed as No. 1 halfback. Leading scorer on squad with 36 points last season. Saw considerable service as a junior, and was regular left half latter part of season. Second team All-Conference. Expected to have banner year with two years experience under his belt. Learned his football as member of paratroopers. Has speed to burn. Fastest man on squad. Runs 100 in 9.8. Has great potentialities. Developed rapidly, as he didn't play any high school football.

ROY GOINES 6' 172 Junior Huntington, West Virginia

First Negro to play football at Marshall. Shared right halfback slot with Jackson after Hellyer was injured. Looked good in spots. Strong runner. Good defensive back. Has fair speed, but is especially good on pass defense. Should see considerable action this fall. Contender for starting position. Likeable, has respect of teammates. Good student. Graduate of Douglass High School.

RICHARD JACKSON 5'11" 179 Junior Huntington, West Virginia

Saw considerable action as a sophomore. May have good year with experience accumulated last year. One of hardest workers on squad. A little short on confidence, but regarded as strong contender for right half slot. Exceptionally good speed. Very fast starter. Was great break-a-way runner in high school. Didn't play freshman ball because of a broken arm.

BOB LESTER 5'8" 151 Sophomore Crum, West Virginia

Smallest player on team. Played quarterback on freshman squad, but shifted to halfback during spring drills. Good speed. However, lacks experience and may be held out. Makes up for lack of size with hard work and determination.

PAUL MILLER 5'10" 174 Sophomore Parkersburg, West Virginia

Played under Jim Scott at Parkersburg. Spent two years in service. Was great surprise of spring drills. Came from fourth string halfback position to strong candidate for starting role. Exceptionally good ball carrier. Lots of determination and drive. Lacks experience on defense. Will push for first string job.

BOB WILSON 5'11" 182 Sophomore Pomeroy, Ohio

Only Ohio boy on squad. Outstanding performer in high school. Regular back on freshman squad. Power runner with fair speed. Can play either halfback or fullback. May be used as utility man in backfield. Lacks experience for regular duty, but may surprise. Does some punting.

GRANVILLE ZOPP 5'9" 171 Junior Meadow Bridge, West Virginia

Played some ball as sophomore in '54. Spent three years in service. Had difficulty getting legs in shape during spring drills. May find himself this fall.

SCOTT JARRELL 5'11" 185 Sophomore Edwight, West Virginia

Played high school football at Marsh Fork. Saw considerable service at fullback for Morris Harvey during freshman year. Looked good in spring workouts at Morris Harvey. Good defensive player. Highly recommended by coaching staff as rugged competitor. Likes contact. Has possibilities for regular duty, but still of unknown quality.

HOBB LYKINS 5'10" 185 Sophomore Charleston, West Virginia

Played as halfback on freshman squad. Spent one year at Greenbrier Military School. Shifted to fullback during spring drills. Showed considerable improvement, and along with Miller, could be sophomore surprise. Especially strong runner. Ruggedly built. Questionable on defensive side of picture. Ticketed for heavy duty.

SAM SIRIANNI 5'9" 181 Junior Clarksburg, West Virginia

Shared fullback duties with Templin as sophomore. Listed as No. 1 fullback. Showed considerable improvement during spring drills which should place him among leading ground gainers in conference. Especially effective on trap plays. Good defensive man as corner linebacker. Exceptionally strong for size. Very good for short yardage, but can scamper all the way. Very hard worker. Stays in shape all year round. Loves to play. Played in '55 North-South All-Star game where he led both teams in yardage among runners. Leading ground gainer on squad last season. Averaged 5.1 yards per carry.

JIM THORNTON 6' 204 Junior Winfield, West Virginia

Biggest back on squad. Good blocker and power runner. Held out most of year at Morris Harvey because of an injury. Played high school ball under Bob Anderson, former Marshall gridder. Potentialities unknown. Pre-law major.

OUTLOOK FOR 1957

In a quiet undertone of optimism, Coach Herb Royer begins his fifth year as boss of Marshall's grid legions friskily hoping for his first successful season.

"We feel if we can get by our first four games, we'll be able to keep on rolling," was the capsule analysis the genial Big Green mentor depicted.

The principal reason Royer pointed to the first four Saturday engagements against West Virginia State, Morehead, Western Michigan and Toledo as a format is, as lady luck would have it, the easiest part of the Big Green's nine-game schedule. And Royer is shrewd enough to realize that the schedule break will afford his many sophomores the opportunity to bone up for the rugged half of the campaign.

"Our big problem is to get our sophomores ready to play and that can only be done through game experience," Royer remarked. "Then again, the schedule arrangement will also serve as a morale booster for the entire squad to overcome the defeatist attitude of the last four years."

No one more than Royer is aware of the dark ages of Marshall football that encompassed him in his first four years, during which time his elevens have produced a 12-22-2 record. No one wants to win more than the mild mannered Royer. He's been subjected to winning as a player on Marshall's great '37 team that compiled a 9-0-1 mark, and on up to the coaching ranks at West Virginia Tech where he molded an unbeaten team in 1948 that earned him the "Coach of the Year" award in West Virginia.

Waiting to greet Royer at the opening whistle are 13 returning lettermen. Graduation losses sapped 13 of last year's lettermen while injuries have cut the careers of a few veterans.

However, alleviating the situation to a great degree is an expected influx of transfers, led by a bevy of Morris Harvey gridders.

"We'll have more depth as a result of transfers," said Royer, "but, as far as experience is concerned, it won't be too strong." We have a fine looking crop of sophomores, and may have to depend on quite a number of them in the line.

Marshall will have a new look in the offensive department as Royer and his staff have incorporated the Wing T series to blend in with the split T system. If it proves satisfactory, the Big Green may lean entirely on the new offense.

With a group of quarterbacks that can throw and run in good fashion, Marshall may revert to a wide open offense in off-setting the ball control theory of the past seasons. The backfield corps, although not big in size, is nevertheless gifted with speed. The spring drills revealed strong competition at the halfback posts with the quarterback job as open as the state of Texas. One complete backfield, that has been subjected to regular or part time duty is available.

Defensively, the problem of big, strong ends must be remedied some way. The line is buttressed by size at tackles, but up and down the rest of the line beef is lacking. The whole defensive picture is clouded by one question, experience.

No approaching football season is without its ifs, if the sophomores come through, if the transfers adjust rapidly to the Marshall system, if the shift in player personnel works smoothly, and if the entire squad erases the mark of defeatism stamped upon the dressing room walls the past four years. Yet, if Royer gets a break along the line in any of the above unanswered questions, the gray skies can turn into blue for the first time in six years.
