14 June

Hi Sug -

Its firmed up that the 334th will return last. This will run all of the year over the 180 day mark but USAF has waived it. The reason is the availability of tankers. They may move it up later on but its just a matter of waiting to see.

Got a letter from mom and she was in good shape. Was bitching about Sancha telling me about ~~mom~~ going into the hospital. We might take your fire bird and smoke up for a weekend when I get back for some good ripe tomatoes & strawberries. How is the air condition in it? might need it to cool me off when I cop feel off you setting so close driving like that.

I think susie will be a big problem this summer. She is like mike when it comes to hippie ways. and she expects too much for nothing. It may work ^{out} when she get on her own but I think she would love to be a protest marcher and participate in sit ins. you gotta admit its interesting!

Love you & miss you much. How about more pictures. your yolo chuck.
