This collection of depositions supplements the collection received in October 1981. They were donated in January 1982, by the clerk of the district court in Charleston and comprise twenty-four cubic feet, or approximately 775 volumes. The index was prepared by Dianna Polk in the fall of 1982, and typed by Janie Bailey, Emma Barnes, Barbara Christo, and Linda Nance in the summer of 1983. The word-processed version was typed by Amanda Quait in 1998.

The number following the name refers to the number of the deposition in which that person took part, either as the deponent or an examining lawyer.

Scope and Content: The collection consists of the depositions of the survivors of the Buffalo Creek Flood in 1972, plaintiffs in the lawsuit against the Pittston Coal Company, filed in the U. S. District Court, Southern W. Va., Huntington, W. Va. Includes depositions of children who survived the Buffalo Creek flood of 1972 as well as grade reports of selected children and depositions of scholars Robert J. Lifton and Kai Erikson concerning survivor guilt.
