Background Note:

Mary Burnside Reynolds was a genealogist who researched the ancestry of her father's family, The Burnside and her mother's family, the Morris family. She was the youngest of four siblings born to the parents of Minnie Belle Morris and Edwin Ambrose Burnside. A Pt. Pleasant native, Mary Burnside shared her love of researching her family history with her brother Don Gilham Burnside. The two siblings would compile a long history of their Burnside ancestors and write joint histories of their mother's Morris family. Mary Burnside attended Marshall Academy and graduated in 1918 along with fellow classmate Wendell S. Reynolds. Mary Burnside married Wendell Reynolds in 1925 and moved to Huntington WV. Wendell Reynolds was a journalist and editor for the Huntington Advertiser for over fifty years. Mary collected newspaper clippings, images/photos, and books about steamboats on the Ohio from the early 1900s to the 1970s-80s.

Scope and Content:

The collection contains primarily genealogical notes on the Burnside, and Fulton families. The Burnside family especially is the largest series in the collection and takes up more than half the size. Ms. Reynolds researched and collected prominent documents of members of the Burnside family including a diary, newspaper clippings, articles, and books. Ms. Reynolds also collected an extensive amount of records of her ancestors including census records, war records, and records from the families' origins in Great Britain. She also collected various materials relating to her interests including items relating to steamboats and British history and ancestry. Several scrapbooks are included in this collection as they catalogue many of Ms. Reynold's research and also show a glimpse into her personal life with her husband, Wendell S. Reynolds. This collection also contains many letters of correspondence from Ms. Reynolds and her brother, Don Gilham Reynolds, who helped her compile their family ancestry. These letters are addressed to historical institutions, distant family members, and other genealogists which demonstrate Ms. Reynolds' exhaustive search for information on family members.

The collection is divided into 6 series: Series 1, Burnside Family; Series 2, Fulton Family; Series 3, Morris Family; Series 4, Maritime Materials; Series 5, British Materials; Series 6, Artifacts and Miscellaneous.

Processing Note:

Some items contained within the collection are housed in separate folders in order to maintain their integrity. Included within the collection are the following materials: brass, glass, and steel. There also included several newspaper clippings within this collection, but all have been photocopied in order to preserve their information. Finally, several scrapbooks have been dismantled but the contents cannot be separated from the scrapbook folders, so they have been included in the collection unaltered.
