4-5-2013

The Parthenon, April 5, 2013

John Gibb
Parthenon@marshall.edu

Tyler Kes
Parthenon@marshall.edu

Follow this and additional works at: http://mds.marshall.edu/parthenon

Recommended Citation
http://mds.marshall.edu/parthenon/209

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the University Archives at Marshall Digital Scholar. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Parthenon by an authorized administrator of Marshall Digital Scholar. For more information, please contact zhangj@marshall.edu.
By CATLIN RHOADS-MUNDAY THE PARTHENON

All proceeds will go to the 2013 Rally for Autism Awareness. The 12th annual rally will be hosted by Autism Services Center, the West Virginia Autism Training Center and the Autism Society River Cities.

The rally will begin Saturday, April 27 at 9 a.m. at Ritter Park. More than 1,000 people are expected to attend.

As a mother of an autistic son, Savio said she wants the rally to remain open to any and all people who wish to come out and support the cause.

"In other communities, people look and act different," she said. "I want people to look at Whatcom county and say ‘Wow, that’s what a child with autism looks like!’"

Savio also wants the rally to remain open to any and all people who wish to come out and support the cause.

"I want people to come out and see what a child with autism looks like," she said. "I want people to come out and support the cause.

The rally will begin Saturday, April 27 at 9 a.m. at Ritter Park. More than 1,000 people are expected to attend.

As a mother of an autistic son, Savio said she wants the rally to remain open to any and all people who wish to come out and support the cause.

"In other communities, people look and act different," she said. "I want people to look at Whatcom county and say ‘Wow, that’s what a child with autism looks like!’"

Savio also wants the rally to remain open to any and all people who wish to come out and support the cause.

"I want people to come out and see what a child with autism looks like," she said. "I want people to come out and support the cause.

The rally will begin Saturday, April 27 at 9 a.m. at Ritter Park. More than 1,000 people are expected to attend.

As a mother of an autistic son, Savio said she wants the rally to remain open to any and all people who wish to come out and support the cause.

"In other communities, people look and act different," she said. "I want people to look at Whatcom county and say ‘Wow, that’s what a child with autism looks like!’"

Savio also wants the rally to remain open to any and all people who wish to come out and support the cause.

"I want people to come out and see what a child with autism looks like," she said. "I want people to come out and support the cause.

The rally will begin Saturday, April 27 at 9 a.m. at Ritter Park. More than 1,000 people are expected to attend.

As a mother of an autistic son, Savio said she wants the rally to remain open to any and all people who wish to come out and support the cause.

"In other communities, people look and act different," she said. "I want people to look at Whatcom county and say ‘Wow, that’s what a child with autism looks like!’"

Savio also wants the rally to remain open to any and all people who wish to come out and support the cause.

"I want people to come out and see what a child with autism looks like," she said. "I want people to come out and support the cause.

The rally will begin Saturday, April 27 at 9 a.m. at Ritter Park. More than 1,000 people are expected to attend.

As a mother of an autistic son, Savio said she wants the rally to remain open to any and all people who wish to come out and support the cause.

"In other communities, people look and act different," she said. "I want people to look at Whatcom county and say ‘Wow, that’s what a child with autism looks like!’"

Savio also wants the rally to remain open to any and all people who wish to come out and support the cause.

"I want people to come out and see what a child with autism looks like," she said. "I want people to come out and support the cause.

The rally will begin Saturday, April 27 at 9 a.m. at Ritter Park. More than 1,000 people are expected to attend.

As a mother of an autistic son, Savio said she wants the rally to remain open to any and all people who wish to come out and support the cause.

"In other communities, people look and act different," she said. "I want people to look at Whatcom county and say ‘Wow, that’s what a child with autism looks like!’"

Savio also wants the rally to remain open to any and all people who wish to come out and support the cause.

"I want people to come out and see what a child with autism looks like," she said. "I want people to come out and support the cause.

The rally will begin Saturday, April 27 at 9 a.m. at Ritter Park. More than 1,000 people are expected to attend.

As a mother of an autistic son, Savio said she wants the rally to remain open to any and all people who wish to come out and support the cause.

"In other communities, people look and act different," she said. "I want people to look at Whatcom county and say ‘Wow, that’s what a child with autism looks like!’"

Savio also wants the rally to remain open to any and all people who wish to come out and support the cause.

"I want people to come out and see what a child with autism looks like," she said. "I want people to come out and support the cause.

The rally will begin Saturday, April 27 at 9 a.m. at Ritter Park. More than 1,000 people are expected to attend.

As a mother of an autistic son, Savio said she wants the rally to remain open to any and all people who wish to come out and support the cause.

"In other communities, people look and act different," she said. "I want people to look at Whatcom county and say ‘Wow, that’s what a child with autism looks like!’"

Savio also wants the rally to remain open to any and all people who wish to come out and support the cause.

"I want people to come out and see what a child with autism looks like," she said. "I want people to come out and support the cause.

The rally will begin Saturday, April 27 at 9 a.m. at Ritter Park. More than 1,000 people are expected to attend.

As a mother of an autistic son, Savio said she wants the rally to remain open to any and all people who wish to come out and support the cause.

"In other communities, people look and act different," she said. "I want people to look at Whatcom county and say ‘Wow, that’s what a child with autism looks like!’"

Savio also wants the rally to remain open to any and all people who wish to come out and support the cause.

"I want people to come out and see what a child with autism looks like," she said. "I want people to come out and support the cause.

The rally will begin Saturday, April 27 at 9 a.m. at Ritter Park. More than 1,000 people are expected to attend.

As a mother of an autistic son, Savio said she wants the rally to remain open to any and all people who wish to come out and support the cause.

"In other communities, people look and act different," she said. "I want people to look at Whatcom county and say ‘Wow, that’s what a child with autism looks like!’"

Savio also wants the rally to remain open to any and all people who wish to come out and support the cause.

"I want people to come out and see what a child with autism looks like," she said. "I want people to come out and support the cause.
Willie Nelson to perform at Big Sandy Arena Friday

By SHANNON GROVER

The Performing Arts Center of the Greater Charleston Convention and Visitors Bureau presented S里程 by the Bluegrass Breakfast Morning fundraiser successful in 2d year

By COURTNEY DOTSON

GRAND LARCENY: TWINS TOWER WEST March 25 at 12:45 p.m., a victim said her brother’s ring and diamond wedding ring were stolen from the employee rest room. She said she removed her rings to wash her hands. She later returned, the rings were gone. Officers have not identified any suspects, and the case is considered closed until further leads. GRAND LARCENY: 5TH AVENUE March 25 at 2:14 p.m., the victim said she lost her wallet and purse on the 5th Avenue, the suspect was described as a white male. The victim lost her identification and a credit card. She also lost a small amount of cash. Officers are asking for any help in identifying the suspect.

Delia Zete Members Blair Martin and Liny Ropp show support for Alpha Xi Delta’s Strawberry Breakfast meeting Thursday.

PUBLIC POLICE

By ASHLEY HERRAD

By COURTNEY DOTSON

GRAND LARCENY: TWIN TOWERS WEST March 25 at 1:05 p.m., a victim said her purse was taken from her car at the Huntington Area Chambers of Commerce building.

HARMED: TWIN TOWERS EAST March 26 at 7:53 p.m., a victim said she was in a car accident at the Huntington Area Chamber of Commerce and that literature outside the courtroom.

“Tell the board or help yourself, with whatever they could. The members of Alpha Xi delta had assigned jobs. There were many holding signs outside the house, at the door telling people putting to get orders together and never served food. Kathryn Colbert, public relations chair for Alpha Xi Delta, said they made more than $1,000 chocolate covered strawberries and at least 2,000 cups of strawberry smoothie this year. Colbert said this year’s Strawberry Breakfast was a success and is very excited for how well sold. “The breakfast was very smooth and was very organized, and that’s what I love,” Colbert said. “Everyone seems to see in the entire community. We worked so hard for so many months. It makes all the work and preparation worth it in the end when people have satisfied tell us that we will see them next year,” Perry said.

The board was also made the decision to continue for next year because I know and believe that the Strawberry Breakfast will continue to grow and only become more successful,” Perry said. Courtney Dobson can be contacted at courtneyd7@marshall.edu.

The Strawberry Breakfast in Huntington, West Virginia.

Cicadas are huge, emerging once every 17 years. The other waves of cicadas last emerged in spring of 2004. In addition to performing at the house concert, so fans will have an opportunity to react to that writing. Nelson's Biodiesel, American Horse Slaughter Prevention Act, and the suspects were cited for possession of less than 15 grams of marijuana. The marijuana cigarette was turned over to police. The presentation ran for an hour and included a talk back with Hartley and a book signing. The Writers Series new book gos students an opportunity to speak directly to the presenting writers.

“We study the texts in class, but we don’t always hear the voice,” the writer said. “Why isn’t the opportunity to react to that writing and that literature outside the courtroom.” The Writers Series new book, by Professor Rachel Paduch, will continue next year by bringing more readings to the students.

The Strawberry Breakfast in Huntington, West Virginia.

The Strawberry Breakfast will be held on Saturday, August 3, at 9 a.m. in the center of downtown Huntington.

COMPUTER HARASSMENT: MARSHALL UNIVERSITY CAMPUS

From Jan. 1 to March 29, a victim reported being harassed by her ex-boyfriend via computer and cell phone. The victim reported being in fear of her safety. A warrant will be issued for the victim.

HITTING UPON AN UNATTENDED VEHICLE: 1300 BLOCK OF MAPLE AVENUE

April 1 at 12:37 p.m., a victim reported damage to her Honda Accord. Officers are reviewing video to determine who caused the damage. There are currently no suspects or witnesses.

POSSESSION OF MARIJUANA: HOSPITAL HILL

March 24 at 10:37 p.m., officers responded to a call about a small marijuana coming from a room on the sixth floor. Two suspects in the room confessed to smoking marijuana, and the marijuana was confiscated. The two suspects were cited for possession of less than 15 grams.

ASSAULT: 1600 BLOCK OF COLLEGE AVENUE

April 2 at 9:13 p.m., a male victim reported an altercation with another male. The victim reported the suspect started reaching into his book bag as it reaching for a weapon. Officers stopped the suspect on his bicycle and recovered a hockey blade in his back pocket. Officers also found a wooden stick with a weighted metal tip more than 1 foot in length. The suspect was arrested for possession of a dangerous and deadly weapon. The suspect was transported to the Virginia Regional jail.

Jose Landgrebe can be contacted at landgrebe2@marshall.edu.
First football scrimmage set for Saturday

By COURTNEY SEALY
The PARTHENON
The Marshall University Thundering Herd will take the field for the first football scrimmage of the year Saturday at 9 a.m.

The team will scrimmage at the Joan C. Edwards Practice Fields as it works to fine-tune the offense and defense for the upcoming season.

The team will be divided into two teams, the offense and defense. The two teams will scrimmage in a competitive environment, while still being able to form a bond among the players.

The season is expected to be a fun experience for the players, as well as for the fans who will be able to attend the scrimmage.

Men’s golf to end regular Irish golf season at round two of NCAA competition

By MCMICHAEL CASEBAND
The University of Miami isn’t interested in its day in NCAA competition.

The school formally requested the NCAA to revoke a non-compliance case involving former golf coach Laura Brown, which resulted in the resignation of four program people. The move allows the university to formally close the case.

The decision for dismissal and a letter to Committee on Infractions members was made by UM administrators, who said March 29 that outlines the case was passed on the TOSA Outside the Lines web site.

The case is dismissed because Brown was just trying to focus on the team and not re- try worry too much about it. We are just really excited about playing and having fun. We need to let people know what the Thundering Herd is all about.

Will Vance can be contacted at vance162@marshall.edu.
Column

Feeling vs. Thinking

BY HENRY CULVYHOUSE

I have been contemplating how people think, and others run on emotion. Most of what I have heard and my own observations on re-rented in Myers-Briggs personality ty- pology pop psychology, a lot of the time is just watching how they act. It seems to me, some people are at odds on their feelings, others are irrelevant to deducing its logic. As somebody who tends to be feeling fiends and the logic relation to one another, the logic. When a feeling person doesn’t use the filter wrench on the filter wrench. I cannot use the filter wrench. I need a motor to a 97 Mustang, I am one method better than the other’s. They keep each other. If their fellow man does not have logic, the world would be terrible, because it would be logical to build, steal and cheat to achieve one’s end. The feelers, on the extreme, would be so concerned with other’s feelings and views by their own, they could be easily manipulated into bigots and taught by other’s views around them accept such as a truth. Again, murder and chaos ensue.

In order to survive, the thinkers need help with understanding their feelings, which is how the emotional people run on emotion. In geometry, one’s feelings towards geometry are induced to its angles. In certain situations, emotions do a better job than logic. As common as this may sound towards the logical side, I have never been successful at cheer up a crying girl, or fix a broken head. Henry Culvyhouse can be contacted at culvyhouse@marshall.edu.

Column

Sharing Shain Gandee’s last story

BY KAYLIN SEARLES

The world said goodbye, Thursday, to one of the most well-known movie reviewers. Roger Ebert, who celebrated his 60th anniversary of being a film critic for the Chicago Sun-Times, Wednesday, passed away after a long battle with thyroid and leucytic gland cancer. The world of critics and the general public mourned his loss. Ebert was notorious for reviewing films faithfully, and pragming the ones he felt deserved to be seen. Many people took reviews seriously, and based whether or not they went to see movies on Ebert’s thoughts about the films.

The world said goodbye, Thursday, to one of the most well-known movie reviewers. Roger Ebert, who celebrated his 66th anniversary of being a film critic for the Chicago Sun-Times, Wednesday, passed away after a long battle with thyroid and leucytic gland cancer. The world of critics and the general public mourned his loss. Ebert was notorious for reviewing films faithfully, and pragming the ones he felt deserved to be seen. Many people took reviews seriously, and based whether or not they went to see movies on Ebert’s thoughts about the films.

America lost a great man and journalist, Thursday. His death, although not necess- sarily sudden, shocked a community of movie-lovers around the world. His way with words and his ability to show almost everything that had happened over the past 40 years has changed the world of critics and the general public. He was a master of movie reviews.

It is difficult to not admit how impressive that is. At the age of 60 years, Ebert spent more than half of his reviewing life writing for the Chicago Sun-Times, as well as around the world. Ebert’s reviews are respected by nearly every movie buff who has ever heard of him. Although they may disagree with him at some points, it is difficult to ever say he is completely wrong. It is likely that it will be a long time before we see another critic as suc- cessful and well known as Roger Ebert. He left a legacy on the world, and is someone film lovers could consider a role model. At the end of Ebert’s final blog post, he announced that he was going to slow down re- viewing. Film just to focus on the ones he believed he would die. The world is a better place for Ebert and the world is a better place for me. Henry Culvyhouse can be contacted at culvyhouse@marshall.edu.

The world said goodbye, Thursday, to one of the most well-known movie reviewers. Roger Ebert, who celebrated his 60th anniversary of being a film critic for the Chicago Sun-Times, Wednesday, passed away after a long battle with thyroid and leucytic gland cancer. The world of critics and the general public mourned his loss. Ebert was notorious for reviewing films faithfully, and pragming the ones he felt deserved to be seen. Many people took reviews seriously, and based whether or not they went to see movies on Ebert’s thoughts about the films.

The world said goodbye, Thursday, to one of the most well-known movie reviewers. Roger Ebert, who celebrated his 66th anniversary of being a film critic for the Chicago Sun-Times, Wednesday, passed away after a long battle with thyroid and leucytic gland cancer. The world of critics and the general public mourned his loss. Ebert was notorious for reviewing films faithfully, and pragming the ones he felt deserved to be seen. Many people took reviews seriously, and based whether or not they went to see movies on Ebert’s thoughts about the films.

America lost a great man and journalist, Thursday. His death, although not necess- sarily sudden, shocked a community of movie-lovers around the world. His way with words and his ability to show almost everything that had happened over the past 40 years has changed the world of critics and the general public. He was a master of movie reviews.

It is difficult to not admit how impressive that is. At the age of 60 years, Ebert spent more than half of his reviewing life writing for the Chicago Sun-Times, as well as around the world. Ebert’s reviews are respected by nearly every movie buff who has ever heard of him. Although they may disagree with him at some points, it is difficult to ever say he is completely wrong. It is likely that it will be a long time before we see another critic as suc- cessful and well known as Roger Ebert. He left a legacy on the world, and is someone film lovers could consider a role model. At the end of Ebert’s final blog post, he announced that he was going to slow down re- viewing. Film just to focus on the ones he believed he would die. The world is a better place for Ebert and the world is a better place for me. Henry Culvyhouse can be contacted at culvyhouse@marshall.edu.
said Chris Rupkey, chief financial economist at Tribune Media Services in Chicago, "next year and can be hard to adjust for.

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

A quote from Martin Luther King's "I Have a Dream" speech appears on his tombstone.

The retention of Shapiro’s financial studies that will be made available to the public.

by ROB ROTAKIAN
MCCLATCHY NEWSWIRE

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

Clements said she questioned if she should have stayed inside the motel, and Thursday marked the 45th anniversary of his death.

"Even when I came to Marshall University, its former coaches, and its student-athletes, and its academic and monitoring efforts."

"The retention of Shapiro’s financial studies that will be made available to the public.

by ROB ROTAKIAN
MCCLATCHY NEWSWIRE

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

Clements said she questioned if she should have stayed inside the motel, and Thursday marked the 45th anniversary of his death.

"Even when I came to Marshall University, its former coaches, and its student-athletes, and its academic and monitoring efforts.

"The retention of Shapiro’s financial studies that will be made available to the public.

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

Clements said she questioned if she should have stayed inside the motel, and Thursday marked the 45th anniversary of his death.

"Even when I came to Marshall University, its former coaches, and its student-athletes, and its academic and monitoring efforts.

"The retention of Shapiro’s financial studies that will be made available to the public.

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

Clements said she questioned if she should have stayed inside the motel, and Thursday marked the 45th anniversary of his death.

"Even when I came to Marshall University, its former coaches, and its student-athletes, and its academic and monitoring efforts.

"The retention of Shapiro’s financial studies that will be made available to the public.

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

Clements said she questioned if she should have stayed inside the motel, and Thursday marked the 45th anniversary of his death.

"Even when I came to Marshall University, its former coaches, and its student-athletes, and its academic and monitoring efforts.

"The retention of Shapiro’s financial studies that will be made available to the public.

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

Clements said she questioned if she should have stayed inside the motel, and Thursday marked the 45th anniversary of his death.

"Even when I came to Marshall University, its former coaches, and its student-athletes, and its academic and monitoring efforts.

"The retention of Shapiro’s financial studies that will be made available to the public.

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

Clements said she questioned if she should have stayed inside the motel, and Thursday marked the 45th anniversary of his death.

"Even when I came to Marshall University, its former coaches, and its student-athletes, and its academic and monitoring efforts.

"The retention of Shapiro’s financial studies that will be made available to the public.

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

Clements said she questioned if she should have stayed inside the motel, and Thursday marked the 45th anniversary of his death.

"Even when I came to Marshall University, its former coaches, and its student-athletes, and its academic and monitoring efforts.

"The retention of Shapiro’s financial studies that will be made available to the public.

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

Clements said she questioned if she should have stayed inside the motel, and Thursday marked the 45th anniversary of his death.

"Even when I came to Marshall University, its former coaches, and its student-athletes, and its academic and monitoring efforts.

"The retention of Shapiro’s financial studies that will be made available to the public.

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

Clements said she questioned if she should have stayed inside the motel, and Thursday marked the 45th anniversary of his death.

"Even when I came to Marshall University, its former coaches, and its student-athletes, and its academic and monitoring efforts.

"The retention of Shapiro’s financial studies that will be made available to the public.

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

Clements said she questioned if she should have stayed inside the motel, and Thursday marked the 45th anniversary of his death.

"Even when I came to Marshall University, its former coaches, and its student-athletes, and its academic and monitoring efforts.

"The retention of Shapiro’s financial studies that will be made available to the public.

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

Clements said she questioned if she should have stayed inside the motel, and Thursday marked the 45th anniversary of his death.

"Even when I came to Marshall University, its former coaches, and its student-athletes, and its academic and monitoring efforts.

"The retention of Shapiro’s financial studies that will be made available to the public.

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

Clements said she questioned if she should have stayed inside the motel, and Thursday marked the 45th anniversary of his death.

"Even when I came to Marshall University, its former coaches, and its student-athletes, and its academic and monitoring efforts.

"The retention of Shapiro’s financial studies that will be made available to the public.

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

Clements said she questioned if she should have stayed inside the motel, and Thursday marked the 45th anniversary of his death.

"Even when I came to Marshall University, its former coaches, and its student-athletes, and its academic and monitoring efforts.

"The retention of Shapiro’s financial studies that will be made available to the public.

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

Clements said she questioned if she should have stayed inside the motel, and Thursday marked the 45th anniversary of his death.

"Even when I came to Marshall University, its former coaches, and its student-athletes, and its academic and monitoring efforts.

"The retention of Shapiro’s financial studies that will be made available to the public.

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

Clements said she questioned if she should have stayed inside the motel, and Thursday marked the 45th anniversary of his death.

"Even when I came to Marshall University, its former coaches, and its student-athletes, and its academic and monitoring efforts.

"The retention of Shapiro’s financial studies that will be made available to the public.

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

Clements said she questioned if she should have stayed inside the motel, and Thursday marked the 45th anniversary of his death.

"Even when I came to Marshall University, its former coaches, and its student-athletes, and its academic and monitoring efforts.

"The retention of Shapiro’s financial studies that will be made available to the public.

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

Clements said she questioned if she should have stayed inside the motel, and Thursday marked the 45th anniversary of his death.

"Even when I came to Marshall University, its former coaches, and its student-athletes, and its academic and monitoring efforts.

"The retention of Shapiro’s financial studies that will be made available to the public.

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

Clements said she questioned if she should have stayed inside the motel, and Thursday marked the 45th anniversary of his death.

"Even when I came to Marshall University, its former coaches, and its student-athletes, and its academic and monitoring efforts.

"The retention of Shapiro’s financial studies that will be made available to the public.

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

Clements said she questioned if she should have stayed inside the motel, and Thursday marked the 45th anniversary of his death.

"Even when I came to Marshall University, its former coaches, and its student-athletes, and its academic and monitoring efforts.

"The retention of Shapiro’s financial studies that will be made available to the public.

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

Clements said she questioned if she should have stayed inside the motel, and Thursday marked the 45th anniversary of his death.

"Even when I came to Marshall University, its former coaches, and its student-athletes, and its academic and monitoring efforts.

"The retention of Shapiro’s financial studies that will be made available to the public.

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

Clements said she questioned if she should have stayed inside the motel, and Thursday marked the 45th anniversary of his death.

"Even when I came to Marshall University, its former coaches, and its student-athletes, and its academic and monitoring efforts.

"The retention of Shapiro’s financial studies that will be made available to the public.

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

Clements said she questioned if she should have stayed inside the motel, and Thursday marked the 45th anniversary of his death.

"Even when I came to Marshall University, its former coaches, and its student-athletes, and its academic and monitoring efforts.

"The retention of Shapiro’s financial studies that will be made available to the public.

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

Clements said she questioned if she should have stayed inside the motel, and Thursday marked the 45th anniversary of his death.

"Even when I came to Marshall University, its former coaches, and its student-athletes, and its academic and monitoring efforts.

"The retention of Shapiro’s financial studies that will be made available to the public.

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

Clements said she questioned if she should have stayed inside the motel, and Thursday marked the 45th anniversary of his death.

"Even when I came to Marshall University, its former coaches, and its student-athletes, and its academic and monitoring efforts.

"The retention of Shapiro’s financial studies that will be made available to the public.

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

Clements said she questioned if she should have stayed inside the motel, and Thursday marked the 45th anniversary of his death.

"Even when I came to Marshall University, its former coaches, and its student-athletes, and its academic and monitoring efforts.

"The retention of Shapiro’s financial studies that will be made available to the public.

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

Clements said she questioned if she should have stayed inside the motel, and Thursday marked the 45th anniversary of his death.

"Even when I came to Marshall University, its former coaches, and its student-athletes, and its academic and monitoring efforts.

"The retention of Shapiro’s financial studies that will be made available to the public.

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

For first time, majority of Americans back legal pot

Clements said she questioned if she should have stayed inside the motel, and Thursday marked the 45th anniversary of his death.

"Even when I came to Marshall University, its former coaches, and its student-athletes, and its academic and monitoring efforts.

"The retention of Shapiro’s financial studies that will be made available to the public.