HERD RONDS ON BLAZERS, 56-14

Marshall rolls up 657 yards of offense, becomes bowl eligible

By WILL VANCE
SPORTS EDITOR

The Marshall University Thundering Herd (6-3, 4-1) continued to roll Saturday, trimming the University of Alabama at Birmingham Blazers (2-7, 1-4) 56-14 at Joan C. Edwards Stadium. The win made the Herd 5-0 at home this season and made the team bowl eligible with six weeks of the season.

The Herd blew out the Blazers behind an offensive explosion of 677 total yards, 491 in the first half, in Marshall history. The defense also did a good job setting the offense up, including the Blazers opening possession.

On the third play of the game junior transfer Issac Nevels stiffarmed the ball from UAB quarterback Jonathan Perry and senior defensive tackle Brandon Sparrow recovered on the UAB 12.

“Don Sparrow recovered on the UAB 12,” Sparrow said. “We were hungry for a win.”

The Blazers were able to hang around for much of the first half behind a pair of fantastic Herd defense touchdowns. With the score standing at 28-14 the Herd took possession of the ball with 1:36 remaining in the half. Earlier they try to get to halftime like in similar situations this season, the Herd must had down the field and scored on a ninety-yard Kevin Grooms run, giving the Herd a three-touchdown lead at the half.

“We were talking all week about that killer instinct,” junior quarterback Rakeem Cato said. “As players and coaches we have to have a killer instinct and start putting teams away when we can. Our team responded well to that.”

The Herd put the game away for good early in the second half when junior linebacker Darryl Talley sacked the quarterback in the second touchdown of the game on the first drive of the second half.

“We wanted to start off fast and get points on the board,” Sparrow said. “We were hungry for a win.”

The Herd put the game away for good early in the second half when junior linebacker Darryl Talley sacked the quarterback in the second touchdown of the game on the first drive of the second half.

“To come back in the second half and take it right down and score right away was critical,” head coach Doc Holliday said.

The Herd running game sealed the deal, racking up 381 yards on the ground, the 100-yard best rushing effort in Herd history. Those separate Herd runners accumulated over 100 yards on the ground, with Talley earning 110 yards and a pair of touchdowns, sophomore Steward Bailey with 110 and a touchdown and Kevin Grooms with 109 and a touchdown. It was the first time three Herd runners had gained over 100 yards in the team history.

Those three backs are all playmakers,” coach Holliday said. “They work hard and had a great week of preparation and it showed out there today.”

Much of the credit for the success on the ground can be attributed to the offensive line, which incurred excellent runs blocking all game.

“Every day we tell them to be patient the hole will open up,” junior center Chukwuka Ezeigbo said. “We may not get it right the first time, but if they’re patient the hole will be there and that happens today.”

The offensive line also blocked well, keeping pressure away from Cato and helping him on an efficient 14-of-20 passing performance for 278 yards and three touchdowns.

“Maybe my senior year of high school was the last time I was barely touched,” Cato said.

The Herd was led in scoring by junior Tommy Shuler with six catches for 109 yards and a pair of touchdowns. The catches moved Shuler to No. 7 on the Herd’s all-time receptions leader list with 189, and No. 18 for his career average of 14.4.

The Food and Drug Administration announced Thursday in taking the necessary steps to ban the use of artificial trans fats from food. Essentially the choice to consume trans fats in our food become common practice other animal fats were banned decades ago, but trans fats carry their own risks. The agency said it estimates this has saved 25,000 heart attacks and 73,000 deaths each year.

The fight against trans fats dates back to the mid-1990s when the Center for Science in the Public Interest petitioned the FDA to require labeling of trans fats, but the food industry fought back by opposing any search that documented just how bad trans fats are.

Eventually, the evidence just couldn’t be ignored and the FDA ruled in 2006 that trans fats be listed on nutrition labels, and that foods containing it be spaced evenly. But now appears the government agency is attempting to let it go.

There has been some backlash with some people arguing that the government is taking away your freedom, but that is up to the consumer to decide what he or she wants to eat, but, since the ruling, trans fats have already been removed from many grocery aisles and restaurant menus.

The Grocery Manufacturers of America said since 2005 manufacturers have drastically reduced the use of trans fats by more than 71 percent. McDonald’s stopped cooking its French Fries to trans fats within the last decade. In 2007, New York banned trans fats from all of its public schools.

The 2006 ruling was a wake-up call that we’re routinely told to avoid them, but this is a long-term issue, and major food corporations prepared for the day it goes into effect. This has been the final nail in the coffin of trans fats and we’re better for it.

FBI to ban trans fats, but why now?

College student’s favorite Overseas is up again. It’s the season of anticipation and worry for some, and excitement and new beginnings for others. We all have to put this semester on hold for a few moments to get prepared for what we will accomplish this year.

In the classes you take. It is always best to take advantage of ratemyprofessor.com. As you do not want to take another class in a subject you are not enjoying.

You find these classes by logging on to myMU, clicking on the registration system, and then clicking on the Look-Up Classes tab once you hit the student page.

I always have back up codes in the event. I am not able to get a class that I originally intended. Classes, especially humanities and Spanish, fill up quickly. If you do not want to take another class in its place, you can simply go by the professor of the class you want to take and ask for an override.

It is always better to take advantage of ratemyprofessor.com. As you know, your professor plays a major role in the classes you take. It is always best that you find a professor that fits your expectations of a teacher. It can make your college education process smoother.

Registration begins at midnight. It would be wise to find your account on campus with the best Wi-Fi. I can position some students lost their Internet connections as soon as the clock stuck midnight.

Please, make sure your desktop or laptop is ready to go as soon as it is time for you to register.

The most important thing is to be logged on to your myMU account and ready to go about 30 minutes before you hit the registration pages. You simply go to the same tab that you did when you were looking up class codes. Although you will not have access to the registration pages yet, you can simply refresh your page until you are allowed to type in your codes and register for your classes. Again, have your class codes in hand and ready to type in those numbers in along with your social security number.

This time can be stressful, but these classes are not just for fun. You can always change the courses you want to take much later as well as the opposition and your professor plays a major role in the classes you take.

Do you think the NSA was in the wrong with its ‘interrogation sting’?

No, they shouldn’t have done it. 95%. That’s how we can humanize this. I don’t think the NSA was guilty of anything, but they should have, since New Jersey has more major food corporations for the day it goes into effect. They don’t come better than that. They are not even considering the possibility of what they have committed.

What do you think of the controversy surrounding the government’s handling of the controversy between the government and the NSA?

Given these staggering numbers, why has the government no business banning trans fats, and that it is up to the consumer to decide what he or she wants to eat, but, since the ruling, trans fats have already been removed from many grocery aisles and restaurant menus.

Holliday and his team hit the road for the first time this season, traveling to the American Athletic Conference Championship. Thursday’s game looks to be the last between the Herd and Golden Hurricane. Kick-off will start at 7:30 p.m. in Tulsa.

“Happy for the group, we did an excellent job of extending the lead to 30 plus,” Bertson said. “We did a poor job of maintaining, a little sloppy down the streets.”

The Herd will have a short week of preparation before traveling to Tulsa, Okla., to take on the Tulsa Golden Hurri- cane (2-7, 1-4) Thursday night. The Herd will wear spe- cial helmets to commemorate the 40th anniversary of the 1971 plane crash tragedy.

The new original content deal builds upon a movie distribution agreement Netflix reached last year with Disney, which will bring Star- wars, Pixar Animation Studios, Marvel and Lucascf to the streaming service, beginning in 2016.

Netflix has been investing in multiple content and original series, such as its Emmy-nom- inated series “Stumptown,” the show based on the detective novel by Cameron Bacher, and the prison series “Orange is the New Black.” The Los Gatos company credits this one-off on-demand programming as an example to aspiring B2B domestic subscribers.

Netflix’s original TV deal also allows Disney to offset some of the risk of developing the programming. “Netflix is defining the future of the production business,” said Watson. “That is a huge win for me and for Chael Padon. “It is good business for Disney”

McConaughey's performance sells 'Dallas Buyers Club'

By Cary Darling

FORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM (WCT)

Matthew McConaughey is looking for a new and better performance in his last two films, getting better and better, and his performance in the film "Dallas Buyers Club" is a truly moving experience. The actor delivers a powerful performance, which is a crucial factor in the film's success.

"Dallas Buyers Club" is a true story about the era of the AIDS crisis in the 1980s, about a Texas man who was diagnosed with AIDS and had to fight for his life. The film is directed by Jean-Marc Vallée and stars Matthew McConaughey, Jared Leto, and Jennifer Garner. The film was released in October 2013 and received critical acclaim for its powerful performances and its realistic portrayal of the AIDS crisis.

In the film, McConaughey plays Ron Woodroof, a man whose love-'em-and-leave-'em lifestyle was about to be challenged by the diagnosis of AIDS. McConaughey's performance is one of the highlights of the film, as he brings a sense of raw emotion and honesty to the role.

Jared Leto also delivers a powerful performance as Rayon, a transgender woman who joins the fight against AIDS. Leto's performance is a testament to the power of cinema to tell a story and to bring about change.

The film also features an impressive cast, including Jennifer Garner, who plays Dr. Eve Saks, a doctor who helps Woodroof and other AIDS patients.

"Dallas Buyers Club" is a film that should not be missed, and McConaughey's performance is a true example of the power of cinema to tell a story and to bring about change.
