-- C O P Y --

Wayne, West Va.,
December 30, 1945.

Mr. F. B. Lambert,
Barboursville, W. Va.

Dear Mr. Lambert:

I am writing in accord to your letter. I will give you all information that I know concerning the Smiths, of Wayne County, and where they came from. All of this information will be as accurate as I know:

(1). My name is George W. Smith. I was born April 19, 1872. I was married on the 16th of May, 1892 to Nanie Ward; she was eighteen years of age. Nanie's parents were James S. Ward. Nanie died March 9, 1933. After her death I was re-married to Effie Staley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Staley. The date of my second marriage was September 16, 1933. My father was Dan Smith; my mother was Sarah Moran before marrying my father.. Their marriage took place at Cragston in 1867.

I began to preach when I was twenty-six years of age. Have preached most of my life in Wayne County. I have preached in every church of the Missionary Baptists in the district of Wayne County. In my actions of ministry, I was Pastor of nine churches, Spring Branch and Bethesda. I was pastor at Spring Branch for nine years, and at Bethesda for three years. Also at Centerville at White Creek, W. Va.. Centerville church is the oldest church, or Missionary Baptist church, to my knowledge, in West Virginia. I pastored here for eight years.

I pastored at Buffalo Valley Church for three years.

Pastored at Dock's Creek Church for three years,

Do Fort Gay Church for three years,

Do Greenbrier Church three years,

Do Evangel Church for one year,

Do Gragstone Do for one year.

(2) My father was Dan Smith. His birth was, to the best of my knowledge in the year 1852. There were five in our family: First child, Mahaley Smith. S he died July 4, 1939. Second child, Fannie Smith, and she died J uly 6, 1912. Third child George W. Smith. Fourth child, Jack Smith, Wayne County, R.F.D. #1. Fifth child, Ella Smith, Ceredo, W. Va..

(3) My grandfather and great grand-father came from Eastern Virginia. They came down the Ohio River in a cande. He had three sons with him in the canoe. My great grandfather was Samuel Smith. His sons wre Jack, Sam, and Harrison Smith. These three sons of Samuel were all ministers of the gospel. Harrison and Jack lived, and died in Wayne County, West Virginia.

Sam left here and went to Mud River when I was just a boy: I know nothing of his whereabouts. The name of my great grandfather's wife was Haney _ _ _ _ I do not know her last name. They were a band of Christian workers. They came to this country and organized a church, and called it the "floaters" church; they would have church in each other's homes once a month.

This counry at that time was very unsettled. They went to yearly meetings. They had to walk, Sometimes, from Wayne County up into Boone County, and carried their guns to keep wild beasts off of them.

Back east, when they were found worshipping the Lord they would fine them so many pounds of tobacco; they could not bear this any longer, so my greaat grandfather, old Monte Newman and Paton Staley, with his father were among the first settlers here in what is now Wayne County, and they were the ones who organized the "floating" church, and it was them--the old iron clad Baptsists of which the State of West Virginia is proud. Old pioneers they were, and the first to bring the gospel to this section

Mr. Lambert, I would like very much to have a copy of the information which you collect, on my family tree

Very truly,
George W. Smith.

Dear Mr. Lambert:

I received, in due time, your letter of October 24th, asking for information in regard to the family history of my father and mother. I am sorry that I have nothing available that would be of interest to you. All the old family history that I ever heard of was destroyed many years ago in fires. One was when my mother's home burned at Wayne, West Virginia, and the other was when my own home burned at Columbus, Texas. A few years ago, Judge C. W. Ferguson, Circuit Court Judge, who is my cousin, sent me some clippings from old newspapers published, I believe at Charleston long before the State of West Virginia was created. These papers are now in Texas and I have them where I can get ahold of them at ^{this} any time. They gave some information that might serve your purpose. I would suggest that you write Judge Ferguson, as I believe he has copies of the same papers and his ancestors, as well as mine, are mentioned in the papers. (do not)

My father and mother were both born in Virginia. I am not sure whether my father was born in Jefferson County, which now is West Virginia in the valley or in Bedford County. I understand that the family had perhaps lived at both places at different times. My father's mother was a Jefferson. The family tree that I once had access to, showed that she was a descendant of Field Jefferson, an uncle of Thomas Jefferson. I understand that this branch of the Jefferson family lived in Bedford. An old pamphlet that was once in the family, stated that my father's father had, as a boy, fought under Washington in the Revolutionary War, though we have no further proof of the fact.

Byrom Smith, President of the Bank at Wayne, is my first cousin, and I think he might be able to give you some information that would be of use to you. His father was the brother of Judge Ferguson's grandmother, and of my mother. My father was born in 1807, and was killed soon after the Barboursville fight, the year I was born, in 1861.

I was born on the ninth day of February, and he was killed on the 22nd day of July.

My mother's family, the Smiths, came from Chesterfield County, which is between Richmond and Petersburg. She was born in 1829, and died in 1927. I have heard her say that they left Chesterfield when she was about thirteen years of age, where they first lived in West Virginia. I am not certain, but know they lived for a while in Logan County and afterwards in Wayne. My father, after moving to that section of the country, lived in Barboursville, where he married his first wife who was a Kinsolving. He afterwards married my mother, perhaps in 1850. This constitutes about all the family history I can recall at this time.

Permit me to say that the name of Lambert is quite familiar to me, and many years ago I knew a gentleman by the name of Henry Lambert, who was quite a prominent citizen of Wayne County. I am just wondering if you are of the same family.

Thanking you for your inquiry and expressing regrets that I am unable to give you any further information.

I am,

Sincerely yours,

Mr. F. B. Lambert
Barboursville, W. Va

Dear Mr. Lambert:

Your letter of December 3rd is to hand, and for which I thank you very much. In reply will say that I fear it will be impossible for me to get any further information in regard to the family history, and as for pictures of my father and mother, I do not believe it would be possible to get anything of that kind. When my two sisters, who died in West Virginia within the last five years, I lost practically all my source of obtaining information in regard to these matters. I will send you a photograph of myself, and which you need not return.

In regard to my father's first wife, I am quite confident that the Kinsolving you mention in your letter was her father. So far as I know he was the only Kinsolving who ever lived there. I presume he must have gone there from Loudon County, Virginia, as other members of the Kinsolving family lived in Loudon County many years ago. In fact two of them became Bishops in the Episcopal Church; one being a Bishop of Texas, and the other Bishop of Brazil. They were distant cousins of the one who lived in Barboursville as I recall.

You inquired as to what battle my father was killed. In reply will say that it did not occur in battle. He was said to have been one of the 4 or 5 last men to leave the top of the hill near your city of Barboursville some time in 1861, when you had quite a little battle to occur there. Capt. Joseph M. Ferguson of Ashland, Kentucky, formerly of Wayne, was one of the men with him at that time and Capt. Henry Clay Everett, formerly of Cabell County, were with my father at the Barboursville fight. I do not remember the names of the others. Just a few days after this fight, my father was killed somewhere in the vicinity of some tributary of the Kanawha River, while attempting to ride through a picket line. Capt. Everett died in Colorado

County, Texas, in 1884, where he was living at the time. He had a brother living near Guyandotte, whose name was Talton Everett. Capt. H. C. Everett was in the whole-sale grocery business prior to the Civil War. My information is that he was in partnership with a man named Lucien Woolcott, though, of course, this was before I was born and I know nothing about it personally.

I was advised that my father had been ordered to raise another regiment and was on his way for that purpose when halted by the picket guard and refusing to halt, he was shot and died a week later from the effects of the wound. I may be in error, but my understanding is that he was taken to the home of a man by the name of Milton Reese when he was wounded and probably died at Mr. Reese's home. My understanding is that the community or the town called Milton, was named for this same Milton Reese.

I am sorry I cannot remember what my grandfather's name was--it was told to me about 75 years ago, but I have forgotten. Also, I want to thank you for your interest in these matters, and am extremely sorry that I cannot give you any definite information, as all matters pertaining to the family history were destroyed by fire many years ago. I am,

Very truly yours,

J. J. Mansfield

WILLIAM LAWRENCE MANSFIELD

Born in Wayne County, Virginia, now West Virginia, December 4, 1854; parents, Col. Joseph Mansfield, Confederate officer, and Amanda Mansfield (nee Smith), natives of Virginia. Educated in common schools, and at Bethany College, Bethany, West Virginia. Became teacher in public schools, during which time he prepared himself by home study for the practice of law, to which he was admitted in 1878, and became a leading lawyer in Wayne County.

In 1886 purchased the Wayne News, and made it an influential newspaper in the State.

Elected to the Legislature from Wayne County in 1897, serving for several years in that capacity, serving in 1899 as Chairman of Committee on Taxation and Finance, and declined to serve as Speaker in session of 1899. One of the best parliamentarians in the House, and served on Rules Committee in 1899, also Chairman of joint party Caucuses.

In June 1899 he became the managing editor of the Charleston Gazette, resigning this position later to become the Managing Editor of the Fairmont Index, owned by Hon. O. S. McKinney and Col. C. L. Smith.

In 1904 was the Democratic party nominee for Auditor of the State.

Later he retired to Huntington, West Virginia, and served for several years as business manager for the Herald Dispatch. He had unusual forcefulness as a writer, and great efficiency as a newspaper executive. His health becoming impaired, he acquired property and spent some years at Lakeland, Florida.

Later, he returned to Huntington, and his final years were passed at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Stuart H. Bowman, in Huntington.

He married Isabella Frizzell, daughter of Alfred M. and Mary Catharine Frizzell, of Ceredo. Mrs. Mansfield died April 14, 1911, in Huntington. In subsequent years Mr. Mansfield was remarried to Miss Clara Goen of Huntington. He died June 6, 1922, being survived by his last wife for several years.

Mr. Mansfield's brother, Joseph J. Mansfield, when a young man located at Columbus, Texas, where he engaged in the practice of law.

Eventually he was elected Judge of the Circuit Court in his area. Later, after a vigorous race, he was elected to Congress, defeating Hon. S. M. Sparkman, who was then Chairman of the Rivers and Harbors Committee. He soon became an active figure in Congress, and eventually became Chairman of the Rivers and Harbor Committee, which position he still holds. Judge Mansfield is now serving his 24th year in Congress, and is one of the influential figures in the House at Washington.

Other children of Col. and Mrs. Amanda Mansfield were Fletcher Mansfield, who located at Brownwood, Texas, where he still resides, a very successful farmer; Mrs. Americus Myers, who died recently at Glenville, West Virginia; and Mrs. Columbia Davis, who died many years ago at Wayne.

Upon the death of Colonel Mansfield, his wife married Dr. Walker at Wayne, and of this union two sons were born, Charles E. Walker, long Clerk of the Circuit Court of Wayne County, and Dr. Everett Walker, for many years a member of the medical staff at the State Asylum at Weston.

Mr. F. B. Lambert
Barboursville, West Virginia

Dear Sir:

My grandmother on the Smith side was Martha Jane Smith. She died in 1911 at the age of seventy. She was a sister of Aunt Amanda Smith Osborne, who was the mother of Honorable Joseph Jefferson Mansfield, Congressman from Texas. She was the daughter of John Smith and Elizabeth C. Perdue Smith, his wife. John Smith immigrated to Wayne County about the time of the inauguration of Andrew Jackson as President of the United States the first time from Petersburg, Virginia. John Smith married his wife, whose name was Perdue, several years before he left that section of the country and came to Wayne County. His wife was a member of a very prominent family of French-Huguenot descent around Petersburg, Virginia. On the way to Wayne County by covered wagon John Smith, his wife and young children met Andrew Jackson in his resplendent carriage on the way to Washington to be inaugurated President of the United States the first time.

Albert Smith was a brother to my grandmother. Albert Smith was father of Byron Smith, the present cashier of the Wayne County Bank.

John Smith who died a few years ago in Oklahoma was also a brother of my grandmother. One of his sons, Willis Smith, died recently in Kenova, West Virginia.

Aunt Sarah Walker was another one of my grandmother's sisters and she died a few years ago in Kansas.

Aunt Mary Ann Sanson was another one of my grandmother's sisters and two of her very prominent children were R. S. Sanson of Wayne, and Lee Sanson of Huntington, West Virginia.

Amanda Osborne, Sarah Walker, Mary Ann Sanson, Albert Smith and John Smith were all past ninety at the time of their death. Some of them reached the ripe old age of ninety-eight. Uncle Scott Sanson, son of Mary Ann Sanson is now ninety-three.
