FAMILY TREES OUT OF HISTORY'S FOREST.

By Eunice Proctor Perkins.

An interested reader in Alexandria, Virginia sends some additional material on the McGinnis-Ferguson family. This family had lost sight of the fact that the Arisba Ferguson named often in the deeds wife of Kelly Ferguson, was born Arisba McGinnis, daughter most likely, of Edmund McGinnis, Sr., the paternal ancestor of that name in the Ohio Valley.

Arisba married, first, John Amoss, who was dead by January 11, 1821, when Arisba Amoss married Kelly Ferguson. The relationship is fully set out in deed book 3, page 722, date 1823. It is likely that John and Arisba Amoss had a son, Stephen Amoss who received from Arisba and Kelly Ferguson certain lands that had been deeded to them by Edmund McGinnis.

The writer of the comment states that Arisba and Kelly Ferguson had two children, Edmund Ferguson and Virginia Ferguson. These children went with their father to the West, remaining for a time in St. Louis. No information is given as to the time of death of Kelly Ferguson, nor of his wife, Arisba. It will be recalled that many of the McGinnis family also went to the West.

Virginia Ferguson, mentioned above, daughter of Arisba and Kelly, returned to Virginia to live with the Ferguson family until her marriage to James Copley, to become the parents of a line of descendants in this section. Any information as to this couple, Kelly and Arisba Ferguson, other than stated above, is requested by the writer of the letter.

Information, also, was desired as to Kelly Ferguson's ancestry. The notes available to this column give Kelly as the son of John Ferguson. John was the son of Samuel Ferguson, Revolutionary soldier whose grave is in Wayne County, not far from the County seat, and who is the ancestor of the myriad descendants of that name.

According to the copy of Bible record given the writer of this column by Lucien Ferguson, Samuel's son John was born in 1775; died August 21, 1855; married Margaret McKinney. The Bible was the record of Samuel Ferguson's family (the Revolutionary soldier), and did not carry the record of his children down, except that of his son, William, who evidently had been heir to the Bible, and was the ancestor of Lucien Ferguson.

Recollections of various members of the Ferguson clan give John sons John, Jr., Kelly, Samuel and James, daughters of who married Hiram Pauley, Ezekiel Lambert, and one daughter married Edward Atkins.

Deeds in Cabell County verify some of this tradition, as follows: Deed Book 3, Pages 643-8- and 7, John Ferguson deeds generally for $1.00 parts of his land to Ezekial Lambert, Edward Atkins, and James Ferguson, date 1821-23. The land owned by John lay on the Left Fork of Twelve Pole; and by 1836 Kelly, who had lived on the land owned by Arisba in the McGonnis settlement, sold this out and came to the Ferguson section. The 100 acres with a separate house seat of twelve acres, was shifted about. John, Jr. and Jane to John, Sr. all of their interest in the above land; and thus, through various transactions among the members of this family the home farm seems to become the property, at last, of James. Part of the deeds mention John and Patsy, as of Lawrence County, Kentucky. In 1840 Kelly and John, Sr. deed the twelve acres, home site to James, and Kelly appears no more on the records of Cabell County. Whether he then went to the West, or the records appear in Wayne County, could be found from the records of that County. At least, it is pretty certain that Kelly, who married Arisba, Amoss, (born McGinnis), was the son of John Ferguson, who in turn was the son of Samuel, the Revolutionary soldier, and early settler in Cabell, now Wayne County.

McGinnis: Inquiry has also been received as to the two Edmund McGinnis's found on the early records. Edmund, who quite early signed Edmund, Jr. and wife Sarah, was the one written of in this column October 27. The other Edmund was the early preacher, his wife being Mary (Polly), said to have been Mary Hoagland, of Washington County, Ohio.

They lived many years in the County and their names appear often in the records. Deed Book 5, Page 286, positively identifies this Edmund as the son of Samuel, when he deeds to James Holderby certain lands that came to Edmund McGinnis through his father, Samuel.

This couple resided in Guyandotte, leaving, according to the inquirer, a great, great Grandson, to reside in Texas.

In 1854, Edmund and Polly deeded away the land that was "settled by John Hoagland," and appear no more on the records.

The sons of this couple were: David Allen, born about 1821 in Guyandotte; Melville and Oliver A., all of whom left Cabell County for the West, although some of the descendants returned to other parts of West Virginia in later years.

Betsy Hill, of English descent, married Johnnie Ford. Two children were born, James and Nancy; then they separated, and she married Boba Rutherford. Nancy, her daughter, married Thomas Vaughan; and Lucy, her daughter, married Wm. Ferguson. Billy and Phoebe was Thomas' parents.

Peggy McKiny married John Ferguson. Wm. Ferguson was their son. John's father's name was Samuel.

The Vaughans are French; McKiny, Irish; Ferguson, Scotch; Hills, English.

Pa, here is one thing I want you to begin with me and trace me back to Betsy Hill. In my trunk I found the history just as I gave it to you your mother give it to, and I wrote it down; So I just copied this.

I haven't got brain to tell who I am: You see, I am mixed up, Irish, French, Scotch, English on your side. and I don't know what on Ma's side. How far back can you trace them in this right? My father's name was Abraham; his father was Abram; his father was Job; and his father was Samuel. Your mother's name was Lucy; her mother was Nancy; and her mother was Betsy. Do you know their record any better? Take your time, but I want a record as far back as I can get it.
