The is no doubt, but this man served in the Revolutionary War. The report of the S. of W. for 1833, says so. and Amherst Co. records say so. Please give me all possible details, as I am writing a history.

Your recent communication requested information about a soldier or veteran.

If you will fill out the other side of this form and return it to the National Archives and Records Service, Washington 25, D. C., a search will be made in the pension and bounty land warrant application files and, if necessary, the carded records of military service in the United States or Confederate volunteer organizations. You will be sent, at no cost to you, a report which will tell you whether or not we have been able to find a record of the person in whom you are interested. If a record is found, the report will also tell you the price for which you may have photocopies made of the pertinent documents contained in it. Please send no money until you are notified of the price of photocopies. The National Archives is unable, with its limited staff, to prepare summaries of the information contained in the records on soldiers and veterans.

You may not have all the information called for by the form, but the more of it you are able to give, the greater will be the likelihood of a successful search.

Please use a separate form for each soldier or veteran. Our practice is to make record searches regarding soldiers or veterans only when requests are submitted on the form, because we receive a large number of such requests and we have found that the use of the form insures effective record searches. Additional forms will be sent to you on request. Please place your name and address on each form submitted, even though you submit more than one form within the same envelope. Each form you submit results in a separate record search and a separate report. If, therefore, you submit two or more forms at the same time, you may receive from us the corresponding reports at different times.

The pension application files in the National Archives relate only to claims based on United States military service between 1775 and 1934, exclusive of service during World War I. For information from files relating to claims for pensions based on Confederate military service, 1861-65, you should address an inquiry to the appropriate official in the capital of the State from which the service was rendered or in which the claimant(s) resided. The bounty land warrant application files in the National Archives relate only to claims based on United States military service between 1775 and 1855.

- We have searched the pension and bounty land warrant application files, but we have not found a file for the veteran in whom you are interested.
- We shall search for a record of the soldier in whom you are interested among the carded records of military service in the United States and Confederate volunteer organizations. We shall then send you a separate report of the results of this additional search.
- The information given by you is not sufficient to enable us to make an effective search.
- Inquiries concerning the pension application file of the veteran in whom you are interested should be addressed to _____, citing the file number: _____.
- We have found pension and/or bounty land warrant application files for several veterans who fit the information furnished by you, and we are unable to distinguish between them. Someone would have to study these files and perhaps other records more closely than we are able to in order to decide which, if any, of the files relates to the veteran in whom you are interested. (See second paragraph below.)

Each order you submit for photocopies of documents results in a separate search for the file cited and in a separate photographing operation. If, therefore, you submit at the same time orders for photocopies of documents in two or more files, you may receive them from us at different times.

It is not possible for the limited staff of the National Archives to prepare summaries of the information in the pension or bounty land warrant application files or to read the documents in a file in order to answer specific questions. In addition to the documents checked above there may be other documents in the file(s) cited or among other records, relating to the veteran in whom you are interested. If you wish to exhaust all possibilities afforded by this Service of obtaining information about him, you may come to the National Archives and examine the relevant records yourself, or you may employ someone to examine them for you. On request we shall send you a list of persons who have indicated their willingness to make searches in records for a fee.

Mr. F. P. Lambert
Barboursville, West Virginia

Dear Mr. Lambert:

1. I have your letter of December 31st. It seems that you were at the University right on the heels of my stay there. I completed my law work with the College of Law in 1910.

2. I am sorry you are not getting the assistance you deserve from Belle and can't understand it. Have you mentioned the matter to her in the last month or so? It might be that she would be in a better frame of mind now. From what you say, I would gain the impression that she is peeved or disgruntled about something. I'll tell you what might help you considerably in getting more of the history of my paternal grandfather's family; that is, my father's father, who lived, at the time of my father's birth, at the mouth of Buffalo, a tributary of Mud River, some four or five miles down-river from Hamlin. One of Uncle Dan's sons (whose first name for the moment I have forgotten) lives at Hamlin, and I saw and talked with him two or three years ago. He seems to be an intelligent man who ought to know much of his grandfather's history, because he spent his life right there. Remember I have not been in Lincoln County except for one or two visits in more than fifty years, and such knowledge of the family as I had has slipped me pretty badly.

3. If you will get in touch with Joe E. Wilkinson at Hamlin, he will be able to put you in touch with the son of Uncle Dan to whom I refer. Joe I think was born in Lincoln, practiced law here for about twenty years, and then moved to Hamlin where he has been practicing for about ten years, and if you will get him on the phone, or write to him, I am sure he will give you the name of the Bias to whom I refer, who I think will be of much help to you if you will contact him. Sorry I cannot now recall his first name.

- Page 2 -

I wish you well in your undertaking, and want you to know that I want to cooperate in any proper way that I can.

Very truly yours,
