Biographical Notes:

Known as the Huntington Bird Club from its inception in 1940 until 1969, the Huntington Audubon Society focused on broader wildlife conservation, a departure from the Bird Club's focus on birds. During its existence, the Society hosted screenings and talks about subjects related to local flora and fauna and conducted projects such as bird censuses.

Scope and Content:

This collection consists of two scrapbooks, one entitled the Huntington Bird Club, 1940-1969 and another titled, Huntington Tri-State Audubon Society, 1969-[1980]. The scrapbooks contain primarily clippings related to club events, but also contain constitutions and rules, correspondence, programs, yearbooks, newsletters, and ephemera related to the group.

Processing Notes:

This collection was already processed at the time the finding aid was created. No changes in folder content or name were made.
