

Marshall University
Marshall Digital Scholar

We Are ... Marshall: the Newsletter for Marshall
University 1999-Current

Marshall Publications

4-3-2019

We Are...Marshall, April 3, 2019

Office of Marshall University Communications

Follow this and additional works at: https://mds.marshall.edu/mu_newsletter

WE ARE... MARSHALL®

The Newsletter for Marshall University

April 3, 2019

Unity Month kicks off Friday, April 5

Dear Marshall students, faculty, and staff,

In the spirit of the Marshall University Creed, Unity Month events strive to promote an open, pluralistic, and socially conscious community.

Sponsored by the President's Commission on Diversity, Equality and Inclusion, our celebration of Unity Month kicks off this Friday, April 5, with a full schedule of programs. I encourage you to visit the commission website at www.marshall.edu/diversity and find at least one program to attend. All events are free and open to the public.

I also hope you will consider nominating someone for the annual Diversity Awards. The awards recognize students, faculty, and staff who have helped cultivate an inclusive campus environment by celebrating, supporting, or enhancing diversity either on or off campus. All students, faculty, and staff are eligible for nomination here.

As part of this year's program, students also will have the opportunity to earn a certificate in diversity. Students who attend three Unity Month events will be eligible for this certificate.

Unity Month seeks to initiate new conversations at Marshall to foster an inclusive campus and celebrate our diversity. At Marshall University, WE ARE... open to all and WE ARE... family. We hope you join us for Unity Month. Please direct any questions to Dr. Zelideth Rivas.

Sincerely,

Jerry

Jerome A. Gilbert, Ph.D.
President, Marshall University

Unity Month

MARSHALL UNIVERSITY
UNITY MONTH
Calendar of Events

Unity Month seeks to initiate new conversations at Marshall to foster an inclusive campus and celebrate our diversity. In the spirit of the Marshall University Creed, Unity Month events strive to promote an open, pluralistic, and socially conscious community.

APRIL 5
Lessons in Drag with LaWhore Vagistan and Ma. Arte Susya Purisima Tolentino
7 p.m. in the Memorial Student Center BE-5

APRIL 9
Mixed Match screening with bone marrow drive through Be the Match
6:30 p.m. in the Memorial Student Center, Shawkey Dining Room

APRIL 10
Paint & Sip (Diversity Bison)
7 p.m. in the Memorial Student Center, Don Morris Room

APRIL 11
Interfaith Dialogue
6 p.m. in the Memorial Student Center, John Marshall Dining Room

APRIL 16
Dr. Farrah Jacquéz '99
"Community-Engaged Scholarship for Health Equity"
6:30 p.m. in the Memorial Student Center, John Marshall Dining Room

APRIL 22
Diversity Awards
5:30 p.m. at the President's House

WE ARE...OPEN TO ALL. WE ARE...FAMILY.
www.marshall.edu/diversity/unity-month

Questions? Contact Zelizeth Rivas at rivasz@marshall.edu
304-696-3208 to learn more.

Event Information:

Lessons in Drag with LaWhore Vagistan and Ma. Arte Susya Purisima Tolentino

Mixed Match screening with bone marrow drive through Be the Match

Interfaith Dialogue

Community-Engaged Scholarship for Health Equity

View the Unity Month 2019 Sponsors

Message from Human Resources: Open Enrollment for PEIA is underway

Open Enrollment for Plan Year 2020 is taking place from April 2-May 15, 2019. During this time, you may make changes to your health plan, add, drop or change coverage for yourself and your dependents without a qualifying event, and make changes to your Mountaineer Flexible Benefits, if applicable.

Policyholders will receive a Shopper's Guide in the mail that provides information you need about the health coverage PEIA offers. If you do not find your answers in the Shopper's Guide, you may visit one of the benefit fairs (locations and times below). There will be representatives from PEIA, UMR, The Health Plan, Securian Financial (Minnesota Life), Mountaineer Flexible Benefits, Humana and iSelectMD to answer questions you may have. Come out and learn more about your benefits, and the new programs available to you!

For more information, please view the PEIA Open Enrollment Resources on Human Resources Website.

Local Benefit Fair Schedule for Plan Year 2020

- April 11, 2019 – 3-6 p.m. – Charleston
 - Courtyard by Marriott, 100 Kanawha Blvd E
- April 16, 2019 – 3-7 p.m. – Beckley
 - Tamarack, 1 Tamarack Park
- April 17, 2019 – 3-7 p.m. – Huntington
 - Holiday Inn, 800 3rd Ave
- April 18, 2019 – 3-7 p.m. – Parkersburg
 - Comfort Suites, 167 Elizabeth Pike
- April 23, 2019 – 3-6 p.m. – Wheeling
 - WV Northern Community College, 1704 Market Street
- April 24, 2019 – 3-7 p.m. – Morgantown
 - University Holiday Inn, 118 Pineview Drive
- April 25, 2019 – 3-7 pm – Martinsburg
 - Holiday Inn, 301 Foxcroft Avenue

The Marshall University Lewis College of Business & Brad D. Smith Schools of Business presents

The Dean's Distinguished Speaker Series

with DR. SKIP HAGEBOECK, City National Bank President/CEO

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 3, 2019

6:30 p.m.

Brad D. Smith Foundation Hall Conference Center

The Dean's Distinguished Speaker Series is the highest profile speaker series at Marshall University Lewis College of Business. Bringing in a diverse mix of c-suite business leaders, the series provides the Marshall University community with insightful perspectives on effective leadership and opportunities for thought-provoking discussions.

Questions? Contact midkiff2@marshall.edu to learn more
Sponsored by the LCOB and Brad D. Smith Schools of Business

Marshall University School of Music
& The Jomie Jazz Guest Artist Series Present

THE ELLEN ROWE OCTET

Featuring

a Master Class

Wednesday, April 3 • 2 pm
Jomie Jazz Center

a Concert

Wednesday, April 3 • 7:30 pm
Smith Recital Hall

Ellen Rowe

Regina Carter

Momentum: Portraits of Women in Motion
Available Now!

For more information, contact Jesse Nolan at nolanj@marshall.edu

MARSHALL WEEKLY TIMELINE

THE HERD ATHLETICS

4/3
3P.M.
WEDNESDAY
BASEBALL VS. WESTERN CAROLINA

4/6
1/3P.M.
SATURDAY
SOFTBALL VS. WKU

4/6
12/2:30P.M.
SATURDAY
WOMEN'S/MEN'S SOCCER VS. NORTHERN KENTUCKY

4/7
12P.M.
SUNDAY
SOFTBALL VS. WKU

HERDzone.com

#HERDFAMILY

MARSHALL UNIVERSITY DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICS PRESENTS

DR. LUIS OROZCO

Dr. Orozco is a Professor of Physics at the University of Maryland, a Fellow of the Joint Quantum Institute (JQI) and Co-director of the Physics Frontier Center at JQI

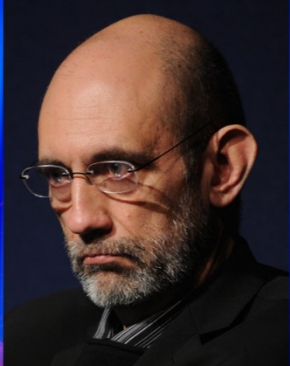

FROM IMAGINARY EXPERIMENTS TO QUANTUM INFORMATION

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 3 • 7 PM
Joan C. Edwards Performing Arts Center, Francis-Booth Experimental Theatre

THE WEAK INTERACTION

THURSDAY, APRIL 4 • 7 PM
Memorial Student Center, Room 2E28

Reception with refreshments to follow.

For more information, contact the Department of Physics at 304-696-6738. Sponsored by the Department of Physics and the College of Science

f t in @

Spring Sessions

"CBL- A Pedagogical Tool"

Thursday, March 14, 2019
3 to 5 pm | Drinko Library 138
Presenter: Kristi Fondren, Ph.D.

"Reflection"

Thursday, March 21, 2019
3 to 5 pm | Drinko Library 138
Presenter: Karen McComas, Ed.D.

"Mapping Outcomes"

Thursday, April 4, 2019
3 to 5 pm | MSC John Spotts Room
Presenter: Damien Arthur, Ph.D.

Community-Based Learning Program

Questions? Contact arthur133@marshall.edu or cbl@marshall.edu
Sponsored by the Community-Based Learning Program

Marshall University
WORLD COUNCIL
presents

WORLD FUSION DAY 4.4.19

An interactive event featuring vibrant displays of cultures, religions, nationalities and more from around the world. Join us for food, activities, music and more!

FOR INDIVIDUALS OR GROUPS THAT ARE INTERESTED IN PARTICIPATING, please contact wijayagurusi@marshall.edu to learn more

11 AM - 2 PM
MEMORIAL STUDENT CENTER PLAZA
(MSC Lobby in case of rain)

Sponsored by the Office of Intercultural Affairs
www.marshall.edu

MARSHALL UNIVERSITY JAZZ SPRING 2019 TOUR

with special guest

LANDAU EUGENE MURPHY JR.

America's Got Talent Season 6 Winner

THURSDAY, APRIL 4 • 6:30 PM

Parkersburg South High School Auditorium

FREE AND OPEN TO ALL.

FRIDAY, APRIL 5 • 7 PM

Tamarack Theatre, Beckley

Tickets: $25. Purchase tickets at <https://www.tamarackwv.com/events>

SATURDAY, APRIL 6 • 7:30 PM

Greenbrier Valley Theatre, Lewisburg

Tickets: $25. Purchase at <https://www.gvtheatre.org/single-tickets>

For more information, contact Jesse Nolan at nolanj@marshall.edu or call 304-696-3104.

Sponsored by the School of Music's Jazz Studies Program in the College of Arts and Media.

DON'T CALL ME CRAZY: Resiliency through Education

Autism Awareness Panel Discussion:

Finding Hope

Thursday, April 4 | 4 p.m. | Drinko Library, 349

Dr. Hillary Adams

Dr. Catherine Goffreda Bailey

John Barton

Zach Lewis

Dr. Elizabeth Niese

Gabriel White-Sellards

Phyllis White-Sellards

For more information and additional resources, visit

<https://libguides.marshall.edu/mentalhealth>.

Image Provided by Eryn Roles

The Don't Call Me Crazy series is a partnership between Marshall Libraries, Counseling Center and Women's Center.
For more information, contact Sabrina Thomas tho4@marshall.edu or 304-696-3627.

Annual Brain Expo helps children explore brain function with fun activities

About 800 elementary school children will visit the Memorial Student Center Thursday, April 4, to learn about the brain and nervous system through activities and games.

This is the 11th annual Brain Expo to be held at Marshall. This year's event features 26 interactive stations where children explore various parts of their nervous system. They also learn how the brain controls their body and why healthy lifestyle choices lead to better brain health. Activities at the stations include touching a real brain, playing a memory game, coloring their own "brain hat," examining drug effects and building brain cell-shaped key chains.

Overseeing activities will be nearly 200 Marshall students and faculty from the College of Science, departments of psychology and communications disorders, the Joan C. Edwards School of Medicine and the School of Nursing. Community partners will participate as well, including St. Mary's Medical Center representatives, who will present a station about brain and spinal cord safety. Representatives from Cabell-Huntington neuroscience, neurophysiology and stroke departments will each host stations as well.

The event is part of Brain Awareness Week, an annual global effort founded in 1996 by the Dana Alliance for Brain Initiatives. Marshall's Brain Expo was founded by Dr. Nadja Spitzer and Dr. Brian Antonsen, both of whom are neuroscientists and faculty in the Department of Biological Sciences.

"Events like the Brain Expo are an excellent way of increasing public awareness of brain research at Marshall and in gaining the interest of students who may choose a career path in science, technology, engineering or mathematics," Spitzer said. "Through the many fun, hands-on activities, attendees get to better understand the brain. University student volunteers learn valuable skills in science communication. Our goal for the Brain Expo is to interest children in science and research at a young age through games and activities that demonstrate the relevance of neuroscience in everyday life."

Registration for this year's event is full, but anyone interested in next year's program can e-mail brainawareness@marshall.edu. For more information about the Brain Expo and Marshall's Brain Awareness Program, visit www.marshall.edu/baw.

The Brain Expo is supported by the National Science Foundation, Marshall's College of Science and the Department of Biological Sciences.

Photo: Participants in a past year's Brain Expo.

Next German Meet and Eat set for April 5

Posted on March 25, 2019

GERMAN MEET & EAT

Interested in German language and culture?

Meet other German speakers and learners to connect and converse in German (or English)! This is a casual German conversation group open to students & residents. No age limit or skill level necessary.

All are welcome!

When? Friday, April 5, 2019 @ 6 pm

Where? BAHNHOF WVRSTHAUS & BIERGARTEN
745 7th Avenue (on the corner of 8th Street), Huntington, WV

For more information contact: Anke D. McCown, email: duermccown@marshall.edu & find us on Facebook: M.U. German Club

Interested in German Language and culture? This is a casual German conversation group open to students and residents which will typically take place the first Friday of every month at Bahnhof. There is no age limit or skill level necessary and all are welcome. The idea is to meet new people and have interesting conversations in German (or English). All are welcome, hope to see you there.

When? Friday, April 5, 2019 at 6 p.m.
Where? Bahnhof Restaurant in Huntington, 745 7th Avenue (on the corner of 8th Street).

A Facebook event by the M.U. German Club is located at <https://www.facebook.com/events/262385047999681/>

Marshall University
SCHOOL OF MUSIC PRESENTS

The Marshall University Chamber Choir and
The West Virginia Symphony Orchestra Chorus

CELEBRATING LEONARD BERNSTEIN'S CENTENARY & WALT WHITMAN'S BICENTENARY ANNIVERSARY

SATURDAY, APR. 6 | 7:00 P.M.

Johnson Memorial Methodist Church, 513 10th Street, Huntington

Free and open to the public, DONATIONS ACCEPTED.

SUNDAY, APR. 7 | 7:30 P.M.

Christ Church United Methodist, 1221 Quarrier Street, Charleston

Tickets available $15
www.wvsymphone.org or call 304-957-9876

For more information, contact David Castleberry, Director of Choral Activities, at castlebe@marshall.edu.

MARSHALL UNIVERSITY TWO EVENTS IN ONE!

Brand Ambassador Meeting

Monday, April 8th
9 a.m.- Noon
Don Morris Room,
Memorial Student Center

Learn more about current marketing strategies and the university brand.
R.S.V.P. to Brandi Waiters at waiters1@marshall.edu

Licensed Product Vendor Fair

Monday, April 8th
9 a.m.-3 p.m.
Don Morris Room,
Memorial Student Center

Find licensed vendors to help promote your department or organization.
For more information,
contact: Mallory Jarrell at hay1@marshall.edu

Office of University Communications
www.marshall.edu

FACULTY, STAFF & STUDENTS
NEEDED FOR FOCUS GROUP
TO HELP MU LIBRARIES SELECT NEW SEARCH SERVICE!

11 a.m. – 1 p.m., Wednesday, April 10

or

11 a.m. – 1 p.m., Thursday, April 11

Drinko Library 138

Lunch will be provided.

Only basic knowledge of research necessary. Space is limited.
Registration is required for participation.

Register at <http://marshall.libsurveys.com/focus-group>.

For additional information, please contact Sarah Mollette at library@marshall.edu.
www.marshall.edu

Marshall University
SCHOOL OF MUSIC

PRESENTS

Beethoven
turns 250!

A celebration concert featuring
pianist DUNCAN J. CUMMING

WEDNESDAY
APRIL 10 | 4 P.M.

Woodlands Retirement Community
1 Bradley Foster Drive, Huntington

THURSDAY
APRIL 11 | 12 P.M.

Fifth Avenue Baptist Church
1135 5th Ave., Huntington

Free and open to the public.

These concerts are a presentation of the School of Music as part of the Music Alive Guest Artist and Faculty Collaboration Concert Series and Woodlands Chamber Music Series.

For more info, contact Dr. Şölen Dikener at dikener@marshall.edu.

Celebrate International Children's Book Day!

THURSDAY, APRIL 11
1-3 p.m.
Drinko Library Atrium

Join Marshall Libraries and the College of Education and Professional Development to celebrate the Outstanding International Children's Books of 2019, as named by the United States Board on Books for Young People (USBYP). Presentations and book talks will showcase new titles, as well as those named in previous years. Refreshments will be served.

READERS OF ALL AGES ARE WELCOME!

For additional information, contact Dr. Isaac Willis Larison at larison@marshall.edu or Zana Sueme at durstz@marshall.edu.

Sponsors: College of Education and Professional Development and Marshall University Libraries and Online Learning

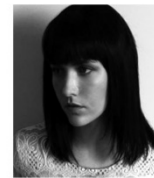

the
A.E. Stringer
Visiting Writers Series
at Marshall University

IS PROUD TO ANNOUNCE A LITERARY READING

with Authors

ELIZABETH ELLEN

JULIET ESCORIA

THURSDAY, APRIL 11
7:00 PM
READINGS, Q&A WITH AUTHORS,
& BOOK SIGNING

SMITH HALL, ROOM 154 | EVENT IS FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

Sponsored by the College of Liberal Arts and the Department of English.

For more information, contact Cody Lumpkin at lumpkinb@marshall.edu
www.marshall.edu/english

Marshall to present lecture on Confederate economic ideology and its continued presence in American politics

Marshall University's Amicus Curiae Lecture Series will continue its Spring 2019 series with a presentation by Dr. Heather Cox Richardson at 7 p.m. Thursday, April 11, in Brad D. Smith Foundation Hall on Huntington's campus.

Richardson's lecture has the same title as her newest book, scheduled to be published by Oxford University Press in 2019: "How the South Won the Civil War: The Significance of the West in American History." According to Richardson, the American Civil War should have destroyed forever the Confederacy's idea that society worked best when a few wealthy men controlled the economy and directed the lives of workers, but, due to an unusual quirk of history, Westward expansion nurtured and preserved its ideology.

Richardson holds that as more settlers moved across the Mississippi River, and the West developed its own identity, separate from that of the East or the South, the idea lived on that a few wealthy white men should oversee the economy and people of color. She contends that in the late 20th century, politicians embracing this ideology became ascendant and have shaped American politics ever since.

Richardson is a professor of history at Boston College. She earned her bachelor's and doctoral degrees in history at Harvard University. She is the award-winning author of several books, including To Make Men Free: A History of the Republican Party; The Death of Reconstruction: Race, Labor and Politics in the Post-Civil War North, 1864-1901, and The Greatest Nation on Earth: Republican Economic Policies During the Civil War. She is also a national commentator on American political history and the Republican Party.

"Dr. Richardson offers an interesting perspective on historical issues that continue to impact our current political discourse," said Patricia Proctor, director of the Simon Perry Center for Constitutional Democracy, which sponsors the lecture series with funding from the West Virginia Humanities Council.

"One of the great things about this lecture series is that it offers a diversity of views from notable scholars about the issues with which we grapple," said Proctor. "Dr. Richardson has spent her career studying and writing about 19th Century American history surrounding the Civil War and the American West, and is widely recognized for the excellence of her work. I think her lecture will offer an interesting perspective."

Later in April will be the final Amicus Curiae lecture of the semester. It is planned for 7 p.m. Thursday, April 25, at the Brad. D. Smith Foundation Hall and will feature Nancy Isenberg and Andrew Burstein. They will give a presentation entitled, "The Problem of Democracy," reflecting on President John Adams and President John Quincy Adams, their philosophies and how they are relevant today.

Marshall's Empty Bowls fundraiser set for April 12

MARSHALL UNIVERSITY AND COMMUNITY ORGANIZATIONS PRESENT
EMPTY BOWLS 2019
THE 16TH ANNUAL POTTERY AND SOUP LUNCH FUNDRAISER

Come pick your favorites among hundreds of bowls created by Marshall students and other local potters.

FRIDAY, APRIL 12 • 10:30 A.M. - 2:30 P.M.
First Presbyterian Church • 1015 5th Ave.

One bowl and soup lunch = $15 (Cash and cards accepted)
One bowl = 112 meals for those in need
Proceeds go to the Facing Hunger Food Bank.

For more info, contact Frederick Bartolovic at bartolovic@marshall.edu or 304-696-2902.

The College of Arts and Media joins local nonprofits and volunteers to host its 16th Annual Empty Bowls fundraising event from 10:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Friday, April 12, at First Presbyterian Church, 1015 5th Ave.

Community members are invited to the church to purchase bowls created by Marshall University art students and other local volunteers. Bowls will be sold for $15 each, with proceeds going to the Facing Hunger Food Bank. With their purchase of a bowl, guests also can enjoy a bowl of soup, donated by area volunteers and restaurants, and participate in a silent auction, also benefiting the food bank. Cash and cards will be accepted at the event.

"As Empty Bowls has been a partnership effort with the food bank for sixteen years, we see a variety of results from that partnership," said Cynthia Kirkhart, executive director of the Facing Hunger Food Bank. "First and foremost, the connection of the students' artwork and academic pursuits to provide the bowls is a wonderful symmetry of academics, art and service. I am always thrilled to provide the students with the total number of meals that their class production requirement provides.

“As an example, the first-year students make 20 bowls each, representing 2,250 meals. The advanced students make 40 bowls each, and that student is providing 4,500 meals with that number of bowls. Then you add the event itself, with the community coming out and purchasing the bowls and sitting together with a simple meal of soup, bread and a drink, understanding the same impact on hunger that their purchase is making to those needing hunger relief.”

The class for which Marshall students create the bowls is about both art and community involvement.

“Empty Bowls is an opportunity for Marshall University art students to understand how their art can make a positive impact on their community,” said Frederick Bartolovic, associate professor of ceramics and organizer of the event. “It is challenging sometimes for artists to get the opportunity to make such a direct impact on their communities. As students form the shape of each bowl, they know that single piece will help to feed over 100 people.”

When they begin the semester, most of the students have never thrown a bowl before, he said.

“The learning curve is steep,” Bartolovic said. “Yet with each bowl they throw, they hone their skills and the bowls get amazingly good. The Empty Bowls assignment comes about halfway through the semester, so by that point, my students are already making their best work.”

This event also gives students the joy of seeing people buy their art, he said.

“Once the day comes, the bowls are set out and each student gets to see people interested in their bowls and the happiness that can come from a handmade object being introduced into someone’s life,” Bartolovic said. “In this way, the benefits are twofold. It’s an amazing experience that takes a semester of hard work, but it results in students who become engaged with their community, literally in a hands-on way. That is inevitably a fulfilling and rewarding experience that allows young artists to be community activists, directly demonstrating how art can make a positive influence on our community.”

For more information about the event, contact Bartolovic by e-mail at bartolovicf@marshall.edu or by phone at 304-696-2902.

Marshall University
SCHOOL OF MUSIC
PRESENTS

Marshall Trombone Ensemble Concert

FRIDAY
APRIL 12 | 7:30 PM
SMITH RECITAL HALL

The 15-member group is under the direction of Dr. Michael Stroeher, Professor of Trombone, and Thomas Cavender, Graduate Assistant. They will perform Classical and Modern compositions as well as popular music and movie themes.

Event is free and open to the public.

For more information, contact Michael Stroeher stroeher@marshall.edu
Sponsored by the School of Music in the College of Arts and Media

Marshall, West Virginia Science Adventures to host 3rd Annual Easter Science Blitz

The College of Science and West Virginia Science Adventures will host the 3rd Annual Easter Science Blitz from 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday, April 13, at the Science Building on Marshall's Huntington campus.

The event, which is free and open to the public, begins with a science-themed Easter Egg hunt at 1 p.m. on Buskirk Field, followed immediately by 25 hands-on science activities for kids and families throughout the Science Building.

"This is a great opportunity to get your child excited about science while at the same time giving them the chance to explore Marshall's campus and science labs," said Dr. Suzanne Strait, director of West Virginia Science Adventures.

Faculty/Staff Achievement: Dr. Tammy Johnson

Dr. Tammy Johnson, dean of admissions and executive director of enrollment services at Marshall, has been named to the American Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers (AACRAO) Leaders in Enrollment Advancing Diversity (LEAD) Curriculum Work Group.

The LEAD initiative, launched at the 2018 Strategic Enrollment Management Conference, will take a multi-pronged approach to identifying and preparing a diverse group of senior enrollment management officers (SEMO) to take on leadership roles in Enrollment Management in North America and across the globe.

Johnson said she is grateful for the opportunity to contribute to the program, and looks forward to seeing the impact it will have on new enrollment manager professionals at a national level.

“Due to the number of retiring enrollment management officers who will be leaving the field over the next decade, it is imperative that current professionals contribute to the development of those who will hold those positions in the future,” Johnson said. “It is also critical we, as a profession, seek to identify and train future enrollment management officers who reflect the diversity of those who will seek higher education. By encouraging and developing these professionals, who will be the higher education enrollment decision makers over the next few decades, AACRAO will positively and directly affect the direction of enrollment management for years to come.”

The AACRAO LEAD Curriculum Work Group is composed of diverse individuals who hold executive, senior and mid-level positions in enrollment management from a variety of locales, institution sizes and types.

After an application and selection process, the following members were chosen:

- Alton Austin, Registrar/Director of Enrollment Services, College of Central Florida
- Arlene Cash, Vice President for Enrollment Management, Frostburg State University
- Helen Garrett, University Registrar and Chief Officer of Enrollment Information Services, University of Washington
- Rakin Hall, Executive Director, Office of Admission, University of Utah
- Rachele Hernandez, Senior Vice Provost for Enrollment Management, The University of Texas at Austin
- Tammy Johnson, Dean of Admissions and Executive Director of Enrollment Services, Marshall University
- Malisa Lee, Associate Vice President for Enrollment Management, California State University Fresno
- Irlanda Price, Associate Vice President, Student Development, Medicine Hat College
- Tiffany Robinson, Assistant Vice Provost/University Registrar, University of Kansas
- Brenclveton “Donte” Truss, Vice President for Enrollment Management & Student Success, Shippensburg University
- Paul “PJ” Woolston, Vice President for Enrollment Management, Marian University

AACRAO SEM Advisory Board Member Dr. Tomikia LeGrande, Vice Provost of SEM at Virginia Commonwealth University, will chair the committee, which will also be supported by AACRAO staff Tom Green, Associate Executive Director, and Melanie Gottlieb, Deputy Director. Program assessment will be designed by the workgroup members with assistance from Oscar Joseph III, Chief Enrollment Management Officer, Anne Arundel Community College.

8TH ANNUAL LIVE
ART
AUCTION

MONDAY, APRIL 15 | 7:30 P.M.
BLACK SHEEP BURRITO AND BREWS
279 9TH STREET IN HUNTINGTON

Proceeds assist students traveling to Florence, Italy, during the annual College of Arts and Media study abroad program in May.

TABLE SALES BEGIN AT 5 P.M. • LIVE AUCTION STARTS AT 7:30 P.M.

Donations of artwork may be dropped off at the front desk of the Visual Arts Center weekdays, 9 a.m. - 4p.m.

For more information, contact Hanna Kozlowski at hanna.kozlowski@marshall.edu or Jill Trefz at trefz@marshall.edu.
www.marshall.edu

Celebration of Teaching!

Save the dates for opportunities to celebrate teaching at Marshall.
(Additional information coming soon.)

OPEN CLASSROOMS:

Observations of Teaching
April 2019

PRESENTATIONS:

Inquiry-Based Teaching and Learning
Hedrick Faculty Teaching Fellow, Dr. Carl Mummert
April 16, 4-5 pm | April 25, 4-5 pm | May 1, 4-5 pm

FACULTY RECEPTION:

Honoring faculty and featuring our Open Classroom Hosts
May 8, 2019 | 3-5 pm

Questions? Contact ctl@marshall.edu to learn more. Sponsored by the Center for Teaching & Learning.

RCBI event to connect manufacturers with aerospace industry

As part of its RCBI AERO operation, the Robert C. Byrd Institute will sponsor a free seminar, "Doing Business with the Aerospace Industry," Thursday, April 25, from 6 to 7:30 p.m. at its Huntington Advanced Manufacturing Technology Center (1050 Fourth Avenue). Manufacturers interested in becoming aerospace suppliers and those who would like to expand operations are encouraged to attend the event.

A representative from the Aerospace Industries Association will highlight the state of the aerospace industry in the United States, what the industry is looking toward in the future and what major aerospace companies are looking for in subcontractors or partners, particularly when it comes to quality (such as AS9100), cybersecurity and workforce standards.

RCBI AERO works to enhance aerospace businesses, diversify the region's economy and develop new job opportunities by connecting local manufacturers to the larger supply chain to benefit West Virginia. RCBI AERO is a U.S. Economic Development Administration (EDA) i6 Regional Innovation Strategies initiative – the only one in West Virginia.

Because seating is limited, registration is required by April 24 at www.rcbi.org/go/aeroseminar. For more information, contact Smith by e-mail at jsmith@rcbi.org or by phone at 304-781-1688.

Seasoned neurologist and neuropsychologist join Marshall Health

Neurologist J. Ivan Lopez, M.D., and neuropsychologist Steven P. Brown, Psy.D., ABPP, join the Joan C. Edwards School of Medicine, Marshall Health and Cabell Huntington Hospital, bringing more than 50 years of combined experience to the department of neurology.

Lopez, a board-certified neurologist, has been named professor in the department of neurology at the Joan C. Edwards School of Medicine. He typically sees adult and pediatric patients for headaches, seizures and stroke. He also performs procedures involving Botox® for various diagnoses such as migraines and spasticity.

He earned his medical degree from La Salle University in Mexico City, Mexico. He completed his neurology residency at the University of South Alabama in Mobile, Alabama. He is certified by the United Council for Neurologic Subspecialties in Headache Medicine and the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology with a special qualification in Child Neurology. He is a fellow of the American Academy of Neurology and the American Headache Society.

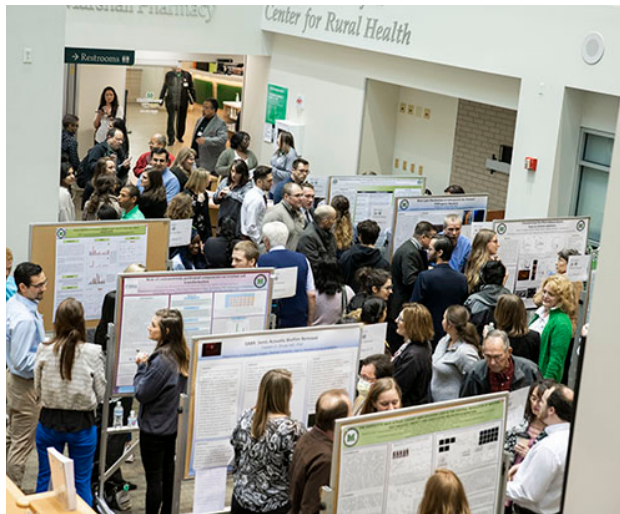

Brown, a board-certified neuropsychologist, has been named assistant professor in the department of neurology at the Joan C. Edwards School of Medicine. He has combined experience in U.S. Air Force, VA and private hospital settings, with specialization in the evaluation of adults with traumatic brain injury, stroke, Parkinson's disease, multiple sclerosis, ALS, memory disorder, brain tumor and psychiatric disorder.

He earned his doctorate in clinical psychology from Biola University in La Mirada, California. He completed a pre-doctoral internship at Wright Patterson USAF Medical Center in Ohio and a postdoctoral fellowship in clinical neuropsychology at the Medical College of Wisconsin in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. He is certified by the American Board of Professional Psychology in Clinical Neuropsychology.

Lopez and Brown are accepting new patients and referrals at Marshall Neuroscience, an outpatient department of Cabell Huntington Hospital, located in the Marshall University Medical Center at 1600 Medical Center Drive in Huntington. Lopez is also seeing patients at Marshall Health – Teays Valley, located at 300 Corporate Center Drive in Scott Depot. For appointments or referrals, call 304-691-1787.

Photo: Dr. J. Ivan Lopez and Dr. Steven P. Brown have joined Marshall Health.

Student research showcased at Health Science Research Day

More than 100 students and post-doctoral, residents and fellows participated in the 31st Annual Marshall University Health Science Research Day Friday, March 22, at the Marshall University Medical Center.

Organized and sponsored by the Joan C. Edwards School of Medicine, the Health Science Research Day also partners with the School of Pharmacy and the College of Health Professions to highlight original research and educational innovations by undergraduate, medical, pharmacy, nursing and other health professions students, as well as graduate students and postdoctoral trainees in medicine, biomedical sciences, and clinical and translational sciences.

“Over the last several years we have seen a dramatic change in the Research Day presentations,” said Uma Sundaram, M.D., vice dean for research and graduate education at the Joan C. Edwards School of Medicine. “More graduate and medical students are doing research, the quality of the research has greatly increased and the research that is being done is very relevant for the health issues West Virginians face.”

This year's keynote address was delivered by Bishr Omary, M.D., Ph.D., of the University of Michigan, where he serves as research advisor to the dean, professor of molecular and integrative physiology, professor of internal medicine and the H. Marvin Pollard Professor of Gastroenterology. During his keynote, Omary, the incoming president of the American Gastroenterological Association, presented on the intermediate filament cytoskeleton in health and disease.

The daylong symposium also featured oral and poster presentations in the areas of clinical science, basic science, case studies, medical education and quality improvement. More than 25 faculty members from the Schools of Medicine and Pharmacy served as judges and selected the best abstracts in categories of basic science, clinical research, education and case study.

Listed below are the 2019 Marshall University Health Science Research Day winners.

Basic Science

- Poster Abstract: Lexie Blalock/Biomedical Sciences on a systematic approach to identifying the immunogenic proteins of the unculturable intestinal commensal, segmented filamentous bacteria
- Poster Abstract: Timothy Adkins/Biomedical Sciences on Inhibition of Mitochondrial Protein Synthesis to Stimulate the Effect of 4-Hydroxy Tamoxifen in ER(+) Cell Lines
- Oral Abstract: Taylor Boggess/Biomedical Sciences on Investigating the role of astrocytes in the development of synaptic connectivity in neonatal abstinence syndrome
- Oral Abstract: Molly Butts/Clinical and Translational Science on the unique regulation of ethanol on sodium-dependent glutamine cotransport in intestinal epithelial cells

Clinical Research

- Poster Abstract – Student: Emma Nellhaus/Division of Addiction Sciences, Family and Community Health on inclusion of positive self-reporting by mothers of substance-exposed neonates increases the predictability of NAS severity over toxicology alone
- Poster Abstract – Post-Doctoral: Henry Heisey/Psychiatry on multimorbidity among adults with intellectual or developmental disability
- Oral Abstract – Student: Cecilia Nease/Pediatrics on obesity and attention deficit hyperactivity disorder (ADHD): When epidemics collide- a longitudinal study of body mass index (BMI) patterns in pediatric patients with ADHD treated with stimulant medication
- Oral Abstract – Post-Doctoral: Meghan Pauley/Pediatrics on physician compliance with obesity guidelines and related complications

Case Study

- Poster Abstract – Student: Taylor Maddox/Family and Community Health on neonatal withdrawal following in utero exposure to kratom
- Poster Abstract – Post-Doctoral: Tamara Murphy/Psychiatry on two ankylosing spondylitis patients treated with adalimumab associated with ParietoOccipital cerebral abscesses and neuropsychiatric sequelae

Education

- Poster Abstract: Emily Sloane/Obstetrics and Gynecology on using patient satisfaction questionnaire as an assessment and feedback tool for medical students in third-year clerkship

WMUL students win National Broadcasting Society/Alpha Epsilon Rho awards

Students from Marshall's public radio station, WMUL-FM, received five first place awards and 13 honorable mention awards during the National Broadcasting Society/Alpha Epsilon Rho (NBS/AERho) 28th Annual National Student Audio/Video Scriptwriting and 56th Annual Audio/Video Production Awards Competition ceremony, held March 9 near Philadelphia.

Marshall's students competed with others from colleges throughout the United States.

"No other school won as many grand prizes or won more overall awards than WMUL-FM's student broadcasters in the NBS scriptwriting, audio, online and academic paper categories," said Dr. Chuck G. Bailey, professor of radio-television production and management in the W. Page Pitt School of Journalism and Mass Communications at Marshall University and faculty manager of WMUL-FM.

"Winning at this national level speaks well for Marshall University, the College of Arts and Media, and the W. Page Pitt School of Journalism and Mass Communications, as the student broadcasters of WMUL-FM consistently earn top honors in direct competition with nationally recognized colleges and universities."

NBS was founded in 1943 to enhance the development of college and university students in telecommunication, broadcasting, cable and other electronic media. Alpha Epsilon Rho is the national honorary society composed of members selected from National Broadcasting Society (NBS) chapters.

The grand prize award winning entries in production were:

Audio Feature Package

"Game Jam," written and produced by Landon Mitchell, a senior from Ottawa, broadcast during the 5 p.m. edition of "Newscenter 88" in April 2018.

Audio Magazine Program

“Herd Roundup,” with host Luke Creasy, a recent graduate from Huntington, broadcast in March 2018.

Audio Sports Package

“Men’s Basketball Prepares for the Big Dance,” written and produced by Spencer DuPuis, a junior from Leesburg, Virginia, broadcast during the 5 p.m. edition of “Newscenter 88” in March 2018.

Audio Sports Segment

“Ajdin Peneva Profile,” written and produced by Spencer DuPuis, broadcast during the 5 p.m. edition of “Newscenter 88” in March 2018.

Audio Studio or Live Performance Segment

WMUL-FM’s Classroom Concert Series, featuring Charleston’s “Three’s Company Blues – Burns Like Whiskey.” The live interview was conducted by host Austin Creel, a senior from Parkersburg. The producers were Sam Adkins, a senior from Huntington, and Michael Stanley, WMUL-FM’s operations manager from West Hamlin. The program was broadcast and posted online in November 2018.

The honorable mention awards in production went to:

Audio Newscast

The 5 p.m. edition of “Newscenter 88,” broadcast April 6, 2018. The students who participated in this newscast were Spencer DuPuis, producer; Adam Rogers, a graduate from Milton, anchor; Makaylah Wheeler, a sophomore from Huntington, anchor; Tristan Poston, a junior from Huntington, weather; and Nick Verzolini, a sophomore from Stewartstown, Pennsylvania, sports anchor.

Audio/Radio Newscast

The 5 p.m. edition of “Newscenter 88,” broadcast Nov. 14, 2018. The students who participated in this newscast were David Adkins, a sophomore from Huntington, producer; Taylor Speight, a junior from Washington D.C., anchor; Leslie Wilson, a community volunteer from Huntington, anchor; Tristan Poston, weather; and Spencer DuPuis, sports anchor.

Audio News Package

“Science Blitz,” written and produced by Landon Mitchell, broadcast during the 5 p.m. edition of “Newscenter 88” in April 2018.

Audio Feature Package

“Young Lego Builders,” written and produced by Olivia Zarilla, a senior from Ona, broadcast during the 5 p.m. edition of “Newscenter 88” in February 2018.

Audio Magazine Program

“Aircheck: Pursuing Passion: The Voice of the Herd Steve Cotton,” with host Luke Creasy, produced for broadcast in December 2017.

Audio Magazine Program

“Herd Roundup,” with host Spencer DuPuis, broadcast April 6, 2018.

Audio Sports Package

“Malik Thompson Feature,” written and produced by Savannah Matney, a sophomore from South Point, Ohio, broadcast during “Herd Roundup” in October 2018.

Audio Sports Segment

“This Week in Marshall Athletics History: October 15-21,” written and produced by Spencer DuPuis, broadcast during the “Cutting Edge Sports Radio Network Pregame Show” prior to the Marshall football game v. Florida Atlantic in October 2018.

Audio Sports Program

“Sportsview featuring Marshall Sports Information Director Jason Corriher,” with host Luke Creasy. The program was produced by Spencer DuPuis and was broadcast in April 2018.

Audio Studio or Live Performance Segment

WMUL-FM’s Classroom Concert Series, featuring solo artist Joey Andromeda. The live interview was conducted by host Austin Creel. The producers were Sam Adkins and Michael Stanley. The program was broadcast over WMUL-FM and posted online in September 2018.

Audio Entertainment and/or Music Program and Video Entertainment and/or Music Program

WMUL-FM’s Classroom Concert Series, featuring solo artist Brad Goodall. The live interview was conducted by host Austin Creel. The producers were Sam Adkins and Michael Stanley. The program was broadcast over WMUL-FM and posted online in May 2018.

Audio Entertainment and/or Music Program

WMUL-FM's Classroom Concert Series, featuring the band "Colly." The live interviews were conducted by host Austin Creel. The producers were Sam Adkins and Michael Stanley. The program was broadcast over WMUL-FM and posted online in April 2018.

The next regular issue of We Are...Marshall will be distributed April 10, 2019. Please send items for consideration to WAMnewsletter@marshall.edu by 5 p.m. Monday, April 8, 2019.

To read the content of this newsletter online, please click on the following link:

www.marshall.edu/wamnewsletter/April-3-2019.
