

Marshall University

Marshall Digital Scholar

Guides to Manuscript Collections

Library Special Collections

1997

0665: Ellen Dorcas Harn Papers, 1871-1977

Marshall University Special Collections

Follow this and additional works at: https://mds.marshall.edu/sc_finding_aids

Part of the Appalachian Studies Commons, Higher Education Commons, and the Social History Commons

Ellen Dorcas Harn Papers, 1871-1872

ACC 1997/11.0665

Special Collections Department
James E. Morrow Library
Marshall University
Huntington, West Virginia
2019

Ellen Dorcas Harn Papers, 1871-1872

Summary:

Title: Ellen Dorcas Harn Papers

Span Dates: 1871-1872

Creator: Various

Repository: Marshall University Special Collections, Morrow Library (Huntington, WV)

Processed by: Elizabeth James, 2019

Accession Number: 1997/11.0665

Date Completed: November, 2019

Access to Collection: Open

Extent: 0.25 feet

Donor: Evan K. Evans

Search Terms:

Marshall College

Marshall State Normal School

Women educators

Teaching

Biographical Notes:

Ellen Dorcas Harn (January 18, 1829-April 30, 1930) was a Marshall College faculty member circa 1870-1871.

Additional information about Ellen Dorcas Harn can be found through her personal autobiography she contributed to a Harn Family autobiography:

https://steveredman.com/ellenharnmanuscript2.htm#_Toc124670933

Information extracted from that autobiography and relevant to her time in West Virginia, and thus these letters, is included below:

“Mr. Williams having taken charge of West Virginia College in the fall of 1869 I entered that school as its preceptress and; also taught the district school in a room of the college. In August 1870, I received the appointment of second assistant by the Board of Regents in the State Normal School at Fairmont, W. Va. I as transfered to that institution, much to my own gratification. Owing to a change of the political status of West Virginia in the fall of 1870 my teaching head with the rest of the teac[her]s, received decapitation. The winter of 1871 I taught a winter school near Flemington, W. Va., and at its close entered the State Normal School at Oswego, N.Y. in order to acquaint myself with the methods of teaching in that institution. Returned to Flemington, W.Va. in February 1873, and taught the following summer and winter the village school of Flemington. In September of 1873 entered the Protestant Methodist Academy at Prunty town W. Va. as second assistant and teacher of the public school, held in the same building. The denominational school not proving a success, I took charge of the public school of that town as its principal, with two assistants, during the year of 1874-5.”

Scope and Content:

This collection is composed of letters from friends and contemporaries of Ellen Dorcas Harn during her time in teaching in West Virginia and New York in 1871 and 1872. These primarily consist of letters from former students and friends at Marshall keeping her apprised of personal and school activities. Writers include Clayton Barton and Lucy Thompson.

Processing Notes:

This collection was already processed at the time the finding aid was created. No changes to folder titles, order, or content were made.

Preferred Citation:

Ellen Dorcas Harn Papers, Accession No. 1997/11.0665, Special Collections Department, Marshall University, Huntington, WV.

Access and Use:

For more information or to use any collection, contact:
Special Collections, Morrow Library
Marshall University
One John Marshall Drive
Huntington, WV 25755
(304) 696-2343
speccoll@marshall.edu

ContainerContents

Box 1

Folder

Dorcas Harn Letters, 1871-1872