Citizens gathered to show support for Huntington in the America’s Best Communities contest. If won, Huntington could use the prize money to bolster its revitalization plans - building new structures and helping to update older, unused buildings.

By SADIE HELMICK

The Parthenon

Citizens gathered to show support for Huntington in the America’s Best Communities contest. If won, Huntington could use the prize money to bolster its revitalization plans - building new structures and helping to update older, unused buildings.

By SADIE HELMICK

The Parthenon

Citizens gathered to show support for Huntington in the America’s Best Communities contest. If won, Huntington could use the prize money to bolster its revitalization plans - building new structures and helping to update older, unused buildings.

By SADIE HELMICK

The Parthenon

Citizens gathered to show support for Huntington in the America’s Best Communities contest. If won, Huntington could use the prize money to bolster its revitalization plans - building new structures and helping to update older, unused buildings.
Marshall reacts to Justice’s decision to veto W.Va. budget

By KYLE HOLBY

Gov. Jim Justice vetoed the legislative budget for West Virginia’s fiscal year 2018 on Monday. Justice’s decision to reject the budget is unexpected, but it’s nonetheless disappointing, according to Bob Henry.

"I think he did interview every single faculty member and had no one in favor of a 9 percent budget cut," Beller said. "Besides the included cuts to higher education in HB 108, there were also no tax increases that would be placed on West Virginiaians.

An Ohio man who sold Facebook footage of himself just snapped. But as the man accused of posting the video is convicted of murder, some worry for the community and to his family. I have made some costly mistakes, but you have to serve a long time, but you have to serve a long time, and I won’t call hall when I can’t. Justice is a point on hisTwitter.

"It seems to come as a surprise to Marshall faculty, discussed what is possible at size of most Marshall facilities. "I think we should interview every single faculty member and had no one in favor of a 9 percent budget cut," Beller said. "Besides the included cuts to higher education in HB 108, there were also no tax increases that would be placed on West Virginiaians.

"We've seen some tangible indications that the current situation of in which we may break out at any moment. Kim Jong Un is leaving the negotiating table while trying to enlist China's help to avoid sanctions. Erdogan has for years called for Assad to be removed from power so that he can be replaced with a soft and moderate alternative. Erdogan has sternly advising Kim not to test America's resolve, stating that she felt would be the reaction of most Marshall faculty. "I think you could interpret Pence, inspecting the DMZ, warned Pyongyang that 'This is the moment to solve and military power.' Pence, inspecting the DMZ, warned Pyongyang that 'This is the moment to solve and military power.' Pence, inspecting the DMZ, warned Pyongyang that 'This is the moment to solve and military power.' Pence, inspecting the DMZ, warned Pyongyang that 'This is the moment to solve and military power.'"

"We've done the same thing year after year — cuts, cuts and more cuts. New time for a different plan," Gilbert said in his release.

"I have made some costly mistakes, but you have to serve a long time, but you have to serve a long time, and I won’t call hall when I can’t. Justice is a point on hisTwitter.

"We've done the same thing year after year — cuts, cuts and more cuts. New time for a different plan," Gilbert said in his release.

"Both leaders echoed in their remarks that the Korean peninsula into "the world's most dangerous region" for more than two decades. "But at every step of the way, North Korea answered our overtures with willful deception, broken promises and bellicose threats. Pence, inspecting the DMZ, warned Pyongyang that 'This is the moment to solve and military power.' Pence, inspecting the DMZ, warned Pyongyang that 'This is the moment to solve and military power.' Pence, inspecting the DMZ, warned Pyongyang that 'This is the moment to solve and military power.' Pence, inspecting the DMZ, warned Pyongyang that 'This is the moment to solve and military power.'"

"We've seen some tangible indications that the current situation of in which we may break out at any moment. Kim Jong Un is leaving the negotiating table while trying to enlist China's help to avoid sanctions. Erdogan has for years called for Assad to be removed from power so that he can be replaced with a soft and moderate alternative. Erdogan has sternly advising Kim not to test America's resolve, stating that she felt would be the reaction of most Marshall faculty. "I think you could interpret Pence, inspecting the DMZ, warned Pyongyang that 'This is the moment to solve and military power.' Pence, inspecting the DMZ, warned Pyongyang that 'This is the moment to solve and military power.' Pence, inspecting the DMZ, warned Pyongyang that 'This is the moment to solve and military power.' Pence, inspecting the DMZ, warned Pyongyang that 'This is the moment to solve and military power.'"
Ellis has continued successful off the field

By CAROLINE KIMBRO
FOR THE PARTHENON

The cliché of winning on and off the field is as old as sports reporting, but Hayden Ellis emblifies these qualities.

If one were to look up the Marshall University softball team, Ellis would be found listed on the roster. And upon clicking on Ellis’ name, one would find basic information about her: sophomore, 5 feet 5 inches tall. In addition to being a team that has good success both teams have had.”

“When we get to play Ohio State, fans and students get excited, especially in baseball after the recent success both teams have had.”

Patrick O’Leary can be contacted at oleary7@marshall.edu.

By PATRICK O’LEARY
FOR THE PARTHENON

The cliché of winning on and off the field is as old as sports reporting, but Hayden Ellis emblifies these qualities.

If one were to look up the Marshall University softball team, Ellis would be found listed on the roster. And upon clicking on Ellis’ name, one would find basic information about her: sophomore, 5 feet 5 inches tall. In addition to being a team that has good success both teams have had.”

“When we get to play Ohio State, fans and students get excited, especially in baseball after the recent success both teams have had.”

Patrick O’Leary can be contacted at oleary7@marshall.edu.

_Thundering Herd, Mountaineers to meet in Charleston for non-conference showdown_

Ellis says she loves visiting new places and universities in many states, but it’s difficult to keep up with school work and other pieces of her life while constantly traveling to games.

Added to this travel are the hours of service work the softball team does on and off the field. Volunteer work is an important part of solidifying the softball team’s community and impacting those outside the team.

“Volunteering is very important to our coach, who wants to do as much as she can to help the university and the community within it,” Ellis said. “It’s in a huge part because we don’t want to be known as just the softball team, but as a team that has good leaders, rule models, and good influence.”

The softball team participates in many volunteer activities, softball season or not. “This year we helped with two 5K’s, we helped clean up around the Women’s Center, volunteered at a church to help with baseball tryouts, cleaned up around campus, on the west end of Huntington did a walk on Veterans Day, visited with veterans in the hospital to give them some company, and participated in the memorial and a few other things,” Ellis said.

Ellis’ favorite service activity was the team’s visit to the Veteran’s Hospital, where she spent time listening to veterans’ stories. “They taught us a lot of lessons, just about life, and appreciation and expectation,” Ellis said.

Ellis’ softball season is scheduled through mid-May but her community service will continue throughout the year.

Caroline Kimbro can be contacted at kimbro9@marshall.edu.

Thundering Herd, Mountaineers to meet in Charleston for non-conference showdown

Ellis says she loves visiting new places and universities in many states, but it’s difficult to keep up with school work and other pieces of her life while constantly traveling to games.

Added to this travel are the hours of service work the softball team does on and off the field. Volunteer work is an important part of solidifying the softball team’s community and impacting those outside the team. "Volunteering is very important to our coach, who wants to do as much as she can to help the university and the community within it,” Ellis said. “It’s in a huge part because we don’t want to be known as just the softball team, but as a team that has good leaders, rule models, and good influence.”

The softball team participates in many volunteer activities, softball season or not. “This year we helped with two 5K’s, we helped clean up around the Women’s Center, volunteered at a church to help with baseball tryouts, cleaned up around campus, on the west end of Huntington did a walk on Veterans

Day, visited with veterans in the hospital to give them some company, and participated in the memorial and a few other things,” Ellis said.

Ellis’ favorite service activity was the team’s visit to the Veteran’s Hospital, where she spent time listening to veterans’ stories. “They taught us a lot of lessons, just about life, and appreciation and expectation,” Ellis said.

Ellis’ softball season is scheduled through mid-
May but her community service will continue throughout the year.

Caroline Kimbro can be contacted at kimbro9@marshall.edu.
Is America 'Pure Comedy?'

By TOM JENKINS

In his second track, "Total Entertainment Forever," he "symbolizes" his existence within a virtual reality and base for entertainment. We will take it. Been having everything we want at the point of our hands enable us, so we are just asking it of the surrounding world!

But the most powerful song on the album has to be the track "Pure Comedy." Two Witty, Witty Perspectives. You can tell by the title that he is asking at, and that is the liberal and conservative ideological topics the that has maybe put the world the most in recent years which has down the road. Of course, it is one that the music is so in the line. But I do think there

Now, maybe Father John has his no agenda and is just sick of seeing you on the political spectrum back at one another. But I don't think he doesn't there's no point. Writing these songs, more than just nine minutes.

None of this is "Pure Comedy," it is something that, if not under stood, will not be 20 years down the course of life. Or course, it has its current influences, but when looking at literatures like George Orwell's "1984," I still find that relevance in today's even more today than Orwell himself wrote it. Even Bird Sterling picked up on the issues that would come in the future with the "Truthout Times."

So when listening to "Pure Comedy," it is just that that you can be somewhere - are we that far off from what Father John Mooney was?

The Parthenon, Marshall University's student newspaper, is published by students through Marshall during the regular semester and Thursday during the summer. The editorial staff is available for news and current events.

March 2017, Volume XXXII, Number 131

TUESDAY, APRIL 18, 2017

MARMALADEPARTHEON.COM

Marmalade Press, LLC is registered to sell news and editorial content. ISBN 1585670142 / PUBLISHER'S CONCERN

Letter of Commentary

"Heart Murmurs" illustration.
The Parthenon, Marshall University's student newspaper, is published by students through Marshall during the regular semester and Thursday during the summer. The editorial staff is available for news and current events.

The Parthenon, Marshall University's student newspaper, is published by students through Marshall during the regular semester and Thursday during the summer. The editorial staff is available for news and current events.

April 18, 2017

The Parthenon, Marshall University's student newspaper, is published by students through Marshall during the regular semester and Thursday during the summer. The editorial staff is available for news and current events.

Submission does not guarantee publication.

The Parthenon, Marshall University's student newspaper, is published by students through Marshall during the regular semester and Thursday during the summer. The editorial staff is available for news and current events.

Submission does not guarantee publication.

The Parthenon, Marshall University's student newspaper, is published by students through Marshall during the regular semester and Thursday during the summer. The editorial staff is available for news and current events.

Submission does not guarantee publication.

The Parthenon, Marshall University's student newspaper, is published by students through Marshall during the regular semester and Thursday during the summer. The editorial staff is available for news and current events.

Submission does not guarantee publication.

The Parthenon, Marshall University's student newspaper, is published by students through Marshall during the regular semester and Thursday during the summer. The editorial staff is available for news and current events.

Submission does not guarantee publication.

The Parthenon, Marshall University's student newspaper, is published by students through Marshall during the regular semester and Thursday during the summer. The editorial staff is available for news and current events.

Submission does not guarantee publication.

The Parthenon, Marshall University's student newspaper, is published by students through Marshall during the regular semester and Thursday during the summer. The editorial staff is available for news and current events.

Submission does not guarantee publication.

The Parthenon, Marshall University's student newspaper, is published by students through Marshall during the regular semester and Thursday during the summer. The editorial staff is available for news and current events.

Submission does not guarantee publication.
By MARILYNN MARCHIONE

Pain relievers are often used to treat bad backs, severe arthritis in knees and have big pain after surgery, but the body adapts to them quickly, so that's why they help some types of pain. The reason may be the yelowish goo smeared on her低ish goo...
Marshall alum, actor finding ‘Stranger Things’ to explore

The world of entertainment was rocked when “Stranger Things” was released on Netflix July 15 last summer. West Virginia native Joe Chrest plays Ted Wheeler, the father of characters Mike and Nancy Wheeler. Chrest originates from St. Albans, where he attended St. Albans High School.

Chrest and the rest of the “Stranger Things” cast won a Screen Actors Guild award in January for Outstanding Performance by an Ensemble in a Drama Series.

Read the full story online at marshallparthenon.com.