

Marshall University

Marshall Digital Scholar

We Are ... Marshall: the Newsletter for Marshall University 1999-Current

Marshall Publications

3-2-2022

We Are ... Marshall, March 2, 2022

Office of Marshall University Communications

Follow this and additional works at: https://mds.marshall.edu/mu_newsletter

Part of the Higher Education Commons, and the Higher Education Administration Commons

WE ARE... MARSHALL®

The Newsletter for Marshall University
Faculty and Staff

March 2, 2022

Faculty members to offer perspectives on Russian-Ukrainian crisis

MARCH 2, 2022

Marshall University will present a virtual panel discussion at 2 p.m., Wednesday, March 2, with several faculty members, including Dr. Anara Tabyshalieva, an associate professor of history with expertise on war and peacebuilding in the Russian, Eurasian and Asian regions. She was born in the Soviet Union and has worked in Russia.

Joining Tabyshalieva for “Urgent Panel: War in Ukraine” will be longtime Marshall biology professor Dr. Victor Fet, a native of Ukraine who grew up in Russia, and Dr. Kateryna Rudnytzky Schray, a faculty administrator and professor of English, whose family is from Ukraine and who has taught at the university level in that country. Dr. Stefan Schoeberlein, an assistant professor of English and native of Germany, will also join the panel and provide perspectives on the European Union reaction.

The panel discussion will be moderated by Dr. Robert Bookwalter, dean of the College of Liberal Arts. It is sponsored by Marshall Libraries and was initiated by Fet, who still has many friends and relatives in both Ukraine and Russia.

The four-member panel will answer questions such as why the invasion is happening, how the people of Ukraine are responding, what can the West do to stop the war and does the war threaten Europe?

The event is open to the Marshall community and the public here: <https://bit.ly/WarinUkraine> .

Also, at 5 p.m., Wednesday, on the Memorial Plaza, Student Government Association and the Office of Military and Veterans Affairs have planned a candlelight vigil for the conflict. It is expected that brief remarks by several members of the Marshall community will also occur. Organizers say mental health experts will be available, if needed.

Abbreviated bios of panel participants:

Victor Fet, Ph.D.- Professor, Department of Biological Sciences, Marshall University. Born in Ukraine in 1955; educated in Russia; in the USA in 1988, teaching biology at Marshall since 1995. Fet is an expert in zoology, genetics, evolutionary science, biogeography, biosystematics and the history of science. He has translated and edited books on zoology and history of science. Fet has written and published six books of poetry in Russian; translated Lewis Carroll into Russian; authored essays (in Russian and English) on Carroll and Vladimir Nabokov. Over 100 literary publications in periodicals of USA and Europe. Science fantasy books: Alice and the Time Machine; Dolly's Follies (in Russian and English). Advisory editor for Evertype (Scotland) in translating Lewis Carroll into rare languages. Editor, "Day of Russian Expat Poetry" (almanac, 2019-2022).

Stefan Schoeberlein, Ph.D. – Assistant professor of English and the director of digital humanities, Marshall University. Schoeberlein's research focuses on the intersections of science, literature and technology in the nineteenth century. He is currently concluding work on his first monograph, based on his award-winning dissertation on the mapping of the brain in the 1800s and its impact on literary production.

Originally from Germany, he has taught at Marshall since 2018. He spent a high school exchange in Donetsk, Ukraine and still has friends in Ukraine.

Kateryna Schray, Ph.D. – Professor of English and the director of the Center for Student Success. An award-winning teacher and a productive scholar, Dr. Kateryna (Rudnytzky) Schray is the founding director of Marshall's Center for Student Success. She joined Marshall's English department as a medievalist and language historian in the fall of 1996. Schray was born into a thriving Ukrainian community in Philadelphia, the daughter of a prominent Ukrainian family. Her father dedicated his life's work to advocating for human rights and religious freedom for Ukraine while it was under Soviet control, and his work became the family's mission. Schray served several terms as coordinator of the English Language Summer Program for the Lviv Theological Academy (Lviv, Ukraine) and works closely with Ukrainian colleagues on various projects throughout the world.

Anara Tabyshalieva, Ph.D. – Associate professor, Department of History, Marshall University. Areas of specialization are history of Soviet Union and Russia, history of Asia, women, war and peace, gender issues, conflict management, human security. Teaches history of Russia and the Soviet Union; history of Asia; world history; and women, war, and peace. Served as co-editor of the United Nations University volumes Escaping Victimhood: Children, Youth and Post-Conflict Peacebuilding, (Tokyo, New York, 2013) and Defying Victimhood: Women and Post-Conflict Peacebuilding (Tokyo, New York, 2012).

Tabyshalieva is the recipient of several awards and fellowships including Senior Fellowship at the US Institute of Peace, Fulbright Fellowship, Dorothy Cadbury Fellowship at University of Birmingham (U.K.), and UNESCO Silk Road Fellowship. She has received support from the John D. and Catherine T. Mac Arthur Foundation, U.S. Institute of Peace, UNESCO (France), United Nation Development Programme (UNDP), United Nations University (Japan) and Wilson Center (Washington, D.C.) for research projects.

Marshall, West Virginia State University reach athletic training agreement

MARCH 2, 2022

Marshall University's athletic training program has partnered with West Virginia State University (WVSU) to establish an articulation agreement for a more efficient transfer of students from undergraduate studies at WVSU to Marshall's graduate athletic training program. Marshall's athletic training program is housed in the College of Health Professions.

The agreement establishes a plan of study for undergraduate students at West Virginia State University that will allow them to then enter the Professional Master of Science in Athletic Training (PMSAT) program at Marshall University.

WVSU will advise and counsel students to enroll in the prerequisite athletic training courses at WVSU that have been accepted by the PMSAT program at Marshall University. Course substitutions may be available upon the approval of the appropriate Marshall department chair and academic dean.

Each year, the PMSAT program at Marshall will reserve two seats for prospective students attending WVSU. Dr. Zach Garrett serves as the program director for the Athletic Training Program at Marshall University. He says they're excited to establish an agreement with West Virginia State University to further provide Athletic Training education throughout the region.

"To be able to establish a relationship with one of our state's historically Black colleges is special," Garrett said. "We're looking forward to what this could mean for the proliferation of athletic training students in our region and we look forward to having our first set of students from West Virginia State University."

Jay Canterbury is an instructor of sports studies and general education in the Health and Human Performance Department at West Virginia State University.

"This is a great opportunity for WVSU students to seamlessly continue their education at Marshall University," Canterbury said. "This type of partnership not only benefits both institutions by providing a pipeline for continued education, but serves the entire state and region by providing a highly qualified workforce.”

Students enrolled at WVSU who have a grade point average of 3.0 or greater may apply for admission to the PMSAT degree program. They must submit a transcript, resume and two letters of recommendation as outlined in Marshall’s graduate catalog. WVSU applicants who meet all admissions criteria for Marshall’s PMSAT program will be admitted to the two seats based on applicant ranking. Additional students from WVSU may be admitted depending on the demand for the program that application year.

For more information on the Professional Master of Science in Athletic Training degree, visit www.marshall.edu/athletic-training.

Photo: Marshall University and West Virginia State University officials discuss the agreement between their two institutions today. From left, Dr. Zach Garrett, program director of the athletic training program at Marshall; Dr. Gary McIlvain, associate dean of the College of Health Professions at Marshall; Dr. J. Paige Carney, interim provost and vice president for academic affairs at WVSU; and Jay Canterbury, instructor of sports studies and general education at WVSU.

Wake Up with the Women’s & Gender Center

JOIN US ON WEDNESDAYS
DURING THE MONTH OF MARCH!

OLD MAIN, 115
8:30-10AM

OPEN TO STUDENTS, FACULTY AND STAFF!

- LEARN ABOUT WOMEN’S HISTORY MONTH EVENTS
 - GRAB SOME SWAG
 - TAKE A MORNING TREAT TO GO

Sponsored by: Women’s & Gender Center
www.marshall.edu

Join Marshall Libraries for a new BOOK CLUB!

MARCH 2 | 5:00 - 6:30 P.M. | MICROSOFT TEAMS

Join us as we read and discuss The Night I Freed John Brown by John Michael Cummings.

*This book is available as an e-book through Marshall Libraries.

Sponsored by Marshall Libraries and Online Learning
library@marshall.edu

Body Shots XIV: Nevertheless, We Persist.

Wednesday, March 2nd • 7 pm
Joan C. Edwards Performing Arts Center

An evening of original work by Marshall students, faculty, staff, and alumni.

Free and open to the public.
Reception to follow.

Sponsored by the Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies Program and the College of Liberal Arts

MARSHALL'S CRIMINAL JUSTICE
ASSOCIATION PRESENTS

U.S. ATTORNEY WILLIAM THOMPSON,
SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF WEST VIRGINIA

THURSDAY, MARCH 3, 2022
6:30 P.M. • SMITH HALL, ROOM 154

FREE AND OPEN TO ALL.

Sponsored by the Criminal Justice Association. For more information, contact Kim DeTardo-Bora, co-advisor of the CJA, at detardobora@marshall.edu.

WESTUTTER.ORG

#WESTUTTER

NSA CHAPTER MEETING

Join other people who stutter, their friends, family, and speech-language pathologists to learn more about stuttering and explore new ways to cope with stuttering in a safe environment!

IF YOU STUTTER, YOU'RE NOT ALONE!

NATIONAL STUTTERING ASSOCIATION
CHANGING THE LIVES OF PEOPLE WHO STUTTER

CHAPTER: Huntington/Marshall U.
Adult Chapter

WHEN: 1st Thursday of each month
6:30 to 7:30 pm

WHERE: In person (311 Studio in Smith Hall) or join virtually

Email Jamie Maxwell (maxwellja@marshall.edu)
Bryan Matthews (bmatthewsua625@gmail.com)
for link to join!

Hosted by the Marshall University Department of Communication Disorders.
www.marshall.edu

Writers Series to welcome renowned writers for readings

FEBRUARY 22, 2022

The A.E. Stringer Visiting Writers Series will host bestselling essayist Melissa Febos and acclaimed poet Donika Kelly, Thursday, March 3, at 7:30 p.m. in the Joan C. Edwards Performing Arts Center.

Kelly is the author of two poetry collections: Bestiary (Graywolf 2016), winner of the Cave Canem Poetry Prize, a Hurston Wright Legacy award and the Kate Tufts Discovery Award; and The Renunciations (Graywolf 2021), recently shortlisted for the National Book Critics Circle Award in poetry. Kelly's works have been published in The New Yorker, The Atlantic, The Paris Review, and Foglifter. She's a professor of creative writing at the University of Iowa.

Febos is the author of the memoir Whip Smart and three essay collections. Febos's Girlhood, is a national best-seller and National Book Critics Circle finalist. Febos is the recipient of the Jeanne Córdova Nonfiction Award from LAMBDA Literary. Her works have appeared in The Paris Review, The Believer, The Sun, New York Review of Books and The New York Times Magazine. Febos teaches at the University of Iowa in the nonfiction writing program.

Dr. Rachael Peckham, professor of English and coordinator of the Stringer Visiting Writers Series at Marshall, organized the reading event.

"Donika Kelly and Melissa Febos are some of the biggest, best-selling names in contemporary poetry and creative nonfiction," Peckham said. "I am overjoyed that our campus and Huntington will get to hear them read live, especially considering that Kelly and Febos were recently named finalists for the National Book Critics Circle Award. For them to both receive this prestigious honor simultaneously is remarkable."

This event is sponsored by the College of Liberal Arts, the Office of Intercultural Affairs, the John Deaver Drinko Academy and with support of a mini-grant from the West Virginia Humanities Council. Any views, findings, conclusions, or recommendations expressed in this reading do not necessarily represent those of the National Endowment for the Humanities.

The reading is free and open to the public and can be streamed at www.marshall.edu/livestream. Facial coverings are required for in-person attendance.

MARSHALL ARTISTS SERIES

ZMM ARCHITECTS ENGINEERS

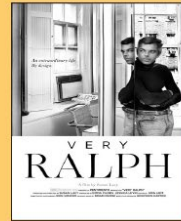

MARCH 3 - 6 @ The Keith-Albee Performing Arts Center

Thur., Mar. 3 at 5:30 p.m. 1 hr. 59 mins

Fri., Mar. 4 at 5:30 p.m. 1 hr. 33 mins

Fri., Mar. 4 at 7:30 p.m. 1 hr. 48 mins

Tickets Available at Keith-Albee Theatre *An Hour Prior to Show

STUDENTS: FREE ADMISSION WITH MU ID! Adults: $10.00

Masks required while not eating or drinking.

To view more trailers or download schedule, Scan the QR code to go to marshallartistsseries.com

Need a ride? Catch the Green Machine to Downtown!

Sat., Mar. 5 at 5:30 p.m. 1 hr. 28 mins

Sat., Mar. 5 at 7:30 p.m. 1 hr. 35 mins

Sun., Mar. 6 at 2:30 p.m. 1 hr. 42 mins

Dr. Stephen Nicholas

The Herald-Dispatch

SAVE THE DATE!

Student Research & Creativity Symposium

DEADLINE FOR SUBMISSION OF ABSTRACTS: MARCH 4, 2022

Inaugural event celebrating and recognizing undergraduate and graduate student research and creativity across Marshall University that will:

- Showcase student work
Contribute to the growth of a research university
Demonstrate how students' accomplishments contribute to the community

TUESDAY, APRIL 19TH | UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 20TH | GRADUATE STUDENTS

- Guest speakers
Panel lunch
Student presentations

Link for submission:

For more information, contact: Dr. Philippe Georgel | georgel@marshall.edu
Dr. Carl Mummert | mummertc@marshall.edu

Annual HerdCon event to take place Saturday

MARCH 2, 2022

Marshall's Libraries and Online Learning division is once again sponsoring Marshall's annual pop culture convention, HerdCon, planned for Saturday, March 5, in the Memorial Student Center on the Huntington campus. Doors open at 10 a.m.

The event will feature a variety of pop culture events including more than 50 vendor and artist tables and a cosplay contest hosted by featured guest and HerdCon Cosplayer-in-Residence, Alicia Lewis of Kiss a Frog Cosplay.

Other events and activities include table-top and collectible card gaming, guest speaker panels, live music, local food trucks, a guest appearance by Wonder Woman of Slay that Cosplay, virtual Quick Draw with local artist JR Earles, and a featured guest appearance by Batman and the Batmobile of Heroes-4-Hire, taking place from from 12 – 4 p.m. on the plaza.

For cosplay contest details, gaming and panel schedules, and lists of participating vendors and sponsors, please visit www.marshall.edu/herdcon.

The event is free to the public. Limited VIP packages are available for $25 and include a souvenir ticket, event T-shirt, artist print, and HerdCon and sponsor swag! VIP packages are available at www.marshall.edu/herdcon under the Merch tab.

To get into the comicon spirit, event organizers are hosting a free HerdCon Song Along pre-con event at 6:30 pm. on Friday, March 4, on the Memorial Student Center Plaza, hosted by Tammy Faye Sinclair and featuring HerdCon musical guests Katwoman Cosplay and Cecaelia Smith. Guests can pick up their VIP packages, event T-shirts and other collectible HerdCon items during the Song Along event.

Sign up to perform at the Song Along at https://marshall.libwizard.com/f/herdcon_songalong. For event questions, comments or to sign up to volunteer, contact herdcon@marshall.edu.

Dance workshop to take place Sunday

MARCH 2, 2022

The Marshall University School of Theatre and Dance is offering a free dance workshop and informal showing, led by MaShawn Morton and Shelby Nelson Burcham. It will be a dance improvisation and composition class and will go on from 1:30-3:30 p.m. Sunday, March 6, on the main stage of the Joan C. Edwards Performing Arts Center. It will be followed by a showing at 4 p.m., which is open to the public.

The workshop is free and open to all.

PRESIDENT SMITH'S LISTENING TOUR

Don't miss the opportunity to be #HERD by our new president!

Check out the complete schedule at www.marshall.edu/listen.

“Seek first to understand, then to be understood.”
—Stephen Covey

www.marshall.edu/listen

School of Medicine announces Excellence in Diversity and Inclusion award winners

MARCH 2, 2022

The Joan C. Edwards School of Medicine announced its 2022 Diversity and Inclusion Award winners Feb. 23 during a virtual ceremony.

“Our Multicultural Advisory Committee initiated these awards in 2015 to recognize outstanding schools of medicine and pharmacy staff members, residents and students who best create a safe, positive and nurturing environment that promotes achievement for all, said Shelyv L. Campbell-Monroe, Ph.D., associate dean for diversity and inclusion.

The 2022 Excellence in Diversity and Inclusion Award winners are as follows:

The Drs. Joseph B. and Omayma T. Touma Excellence in Diversity Lifetime Achievement Award recognizes an individual who has made major, innovative and cumulatively outstanding contributions to enhance the practice of equality and diversity while devoting a major portion of their professional career to the effort.

- Joseph I. Shapiro, M.D., vice president and dean of the School of Medicine

The Pharmacy Diversity and Inclusion Excellence Award recognizes a Marshall University School of Pharmacy student who promotes and supports the needs, values and respect of underrepresented communities and who is sensitive to the issues of diversity and takes action to promote the ideals of inclusion, equity and community.

- Simeon Cullens, third-year pharmacy student

The Diversity and Inclusion Excellence in Student Service Award recognizes fourth-year medical students who have gone above and beyond their medical school commitment to mentor and encourage ethnic minorities and individuals from the most deprived areas to pursue their dreams of becoming physicians.

- Jacob Kilgore, fourth-year medical student
- Japri Miller, fourth-year medical student

The Diversity and Inclusion Advocacy Award recognizes a medical student, faculty, resident or staff member who has demonstrated a commitment to diversity by serving as a role model and by contributing to the education of the schools of medicine and pharmacy community regarding lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, queer/questioning (LGBTQ+) individuals and issues.

- Conner Levy, fourth-year medical student
- Mitchell “Mitch” Shelton, fourth-year medical student
- Caroline Fresch, third-year medical student

The Excellence through Diversity Award is given to faculty, resident, staff or alumni who go above and beyond to exemplify valuing people and the diversity goals of the schools of medicine and pharmacy through their participation and involvement with diverse individuals, groups and outreach programs while also providing leadership to encourage meaningful interaction and activities among diverse groups to improve campus climate.

- Omolola Olajide, M.D., professor and endocrinology fellowship director, department of internal medicine
- Malinda Walford, M.D., internal medicine resident

Community-Based Learning Program

Spring 2022 Sessions

"CBL- A Pedagogical Tool" Monday, March 7 12 – 1 pm Virtual	"Reflection" Monday, March 21 12 – 1pm Virtual	"Managing the Project" Monday, April 4 12 – 1 pm Virtual
---	--	--

For more information and registration: www.marshall.edu/cbl/community-based-learning-workshops
Questions? Contact kempers@marshall.edu or cbl@marshall.edu

The Giving Palm

Panel Discussion & Book Drive

The Giving Palm is a non-profit organization that provides books focused on diversity to hospitalized children in an effort to promote literacy.

Join us for a panel discussion

Q&A with Local Authors

Monday, March 7th | 3pm | Drinko Library, room 402

Virtual attendance via Microsoft Teams also available

Donate books directly from our Amazon wish list, by scanning the QR code or if interested in directly providing books, email thegivingpalm@gmail.com.

Accepting Donations now through March 31st!

For an approved list of books, the link to join the panel discussion virtually or for more information on the cause, visit: www.thegivingpalm.org.

JOIN US

HERD Insights

Small Business Webinar Series
Supported by John Rulli

Catching Fraud in Business Transactions

Warning Signs and Emerging Issues

Casey Baker

- Assistant Professor of Legal Environment
- 13 Years Practicing Law in Ohio and West Virginia
- Multiple Publications on Cryptocurrency & Financial Regulation

Steven Borecky

- VP, United Community Bank, Atlanta
- 11 Years Commercial Banking Experience
- Portfolio Specialist

REGISTER HERE!

Monday, March 7 10 - 11 am Live Webinar | Q & A

Marshall to present two new art exhibitions

MARCH 2, 2022

Marshall's 36th Annual Juried Student Exhibition will be on view March 8-31 in the Birke Art Gallery, located in Smith Hall on the Huntington campus. The exhibit features students' best artworks from throughout the past two years, as selected by an outside juror.

Meanwhile, Indeterminacy and the Measurement Problem by artist Gabe Michael Kenney will be on view through March 17 in the Charles W. and Norma C. Carroll Gallery, located in the Visual Arts Center on 3rd Avenue in downtown Huntington.

"For students in the School of Art and Design, (the Annual Juried Student Exhibition) is one of the most highly anticipated events of the year," Gallery Director Jamie Platt said. "This show is a unique opportunity for student artists. Testing their artwork in an arena of their peers outside of an assignment is something many of these students have not had a chance to do yet. It is exciting to watch them practicing the skill of public presentation that will be a big part of their professional lives."

Eight of the artworks will be awarded cash prizes totaling $3,000. This year's juror is artist and educator Danielle Riede, who grew up in the United States and Iceland, received her Master of Fine Arts in Painting from Virginia Commonwealth University and studied with Daniel Buren at the Kunstakademie Duesseldorf.

Riede's international exhibition record includes galleries and museums in Mexico City, Athens, Berlin, New York, and many other cities. Riede is the recipient of numerous awards, including the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts Fellowship, the Virginia Commission for the Arts Fellowship in Sculpture and a New Frontiers Grant from Indiana University. She is currently the Randolph H. Deer Professor of Painting at Herron School of Art and Design at IUPUI (Indiana University-Purdue University Indianapolis).

The public is invited to a reception from 5-6:30 p.m. Wednesday, March 23. Awards will be announced at 5:30 p.m. The awards presentation will be simulcast to Instagram @marshalluartanddesign.

The Birke Art Gallery is open to the public. For gallery hours, please call 304-696-4312 or visit the website. <https://www.marshall.edu/art-galleries/>.

The Indeterminacy and the Measurement Problem exhibit in the Carroll Gallery features the works of Kenney of Columbus, Ohio, in a cerebral, mixed-media installation combining printmaking, sculpture and performance. Kenney is a conceptual artist interested in the role of consciousness in day-to-day perception. His artworks are inspired by research into “the Observer Effect,” the disturbance of an observed system by the act of observation.

The public is invited to a reception for Indeterminacy and the Measurement Problem, where visitors to the gallery will have an opportunity to engage with the artist. The reception will be from 4-5:30 p.m. Wednesday, March 9. Kenney will stage a performance during the reception, and immediately following the reception, he will give a talk about his work in Room 209 of the Visual Arts Center. For those who cannot attend in person but would like to watch the artist talk, there will be a virtual option at 5:30 p.m. via Zoom. Admission is free, but registration is required at <https://www.marshall.edu/art-galleries/news-and-events/> . Gallery hours are 10 a.m.- 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

All events are free and open to the public. Masks are required in both galleries regardless of vaccination status. Due to the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, all events are subject to change. For updated information, call 304-696-7299 or visit the website. <https://www.marshall.edu/art-galleries/>.

New medical school scholarship designated for Fayette County residents

MARCH 2, 2022

Gerald G. “Jerry” Blackwell, M.D., has dedicated his career to treating cardiovascular disease in Appalachia, never forgetting his Fayette County, West Virginia, roots.

Blackwell, a 1983 graduate from the Joan C. Edwards School of Medicine, and his wife Cynthia L. “Cindy” Blackwell recently established the Blackwell Family Scholarship to help future medical students from his home county. The award also grants second preference to students from the surrounding counties of Greenbrier, Kanawha, Nicholas, Raleigh and Summers. The award is renewable for up to three years.

The Blackwells relocated to Kingsport, Tennessee, where he has been practicing cardiology since 1995. During his career, he served as chief executive officer of Wellmont CVA Heart Institute and chief clinical officer of Ballad Health. In 2020, he was named president and chief executive officer of MedAxiom, a company of the American College of Cardiology and the cardiovascular community’s premier source for organizational performance solutions. He was recognized as the School of Medicine’s distinguished alumnus in 2018.

“Marshall University is where Cindy and I met and began our life together 40 years ago,” Jerry Blackwell said. “Our families have multigenerational roots in West Virginia and a gratitude to that heritage that will never fade. We are honored to give back to the Marshall University School of Medicine – with the intent to pay it forward to the next generation of proud students.”

For more information or to make a gift to the Joan C. Edwards School of Medicine, please contact Linda Holmes, director of development and alumni affairs, at 304-691-1711 or holmes@marshall.edu. For news and information about the Joan C. Edwards School of Medicine, follow us on Twitter @MUSOMWV, like us on Facebook or visit jcesom.marshall.edu.

About Marshall University Joan C. Edwards School of Medicine

The Marshall University Joan C. Edwards School of Medicine is a community-based medical school established in 1977. Located in Huntington, West Virginia, the School of Medicine trains physicians, scientists and other professionals to meet the unique health care needs of rural and underserved communities. Learn more at jcesom.marshall.edu.

STUDENT CENTER FOR THE PUBLIC TRUST

BUSINESS ETHICS CASE COMPETITION

Join us for a reception and the final round of competition!

CASE TOPIC: DEALING WITH SUPPLY CHAIN ETHICS CHALLENGES

SPECIAL GUEST SPEAKER

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 9TH
6.00-7.00 PM
MSC, DON MORRIS ROOM

TO REGISTER, SCAN HERE:

Food and drinks will be served.

Sponsored by Student Center for the Public Trust

Artists, Scholars, & Innovators

A LECTURE SERIES

Adipocyte Na,K-ATPase Oxidant Amplification Loop in the Pathogenesis of Experimental Uremic Cardiomyopathy: A Target for Novel Therapeutics

PRESENTED BY

Dr. Komal Sodhi

Associate Professor in the Department of Surgery and Biomedical Sciences and recipient of the 2020-2021 Marshall University Distinguished Artists & Scholars Award (Senior Recipient for Science and Technology)

Thursday, March 10, 2022
4-5 pm | Virtual (live, remote)

Learn more:

Hosted by the Center for Teaching and Learning
Learn more by contacting ctl@marshall.edu.

chatandcreate

February 25
March 11 & 25
April 8 and 18
12-2 PM

*Please join us for free cookies, coffee and conversation.
Recovery resources will be available.*

Memorial Student Center
2w16a, Room 20

Sponsored by the Marshall University Collegiate Recovery Community
www.marshall.edu

Marshall University
SCHOOL OF MUSIC

PRESENTS

Faculty Recital Songs of Pangea

SUNDAY, MARCH 20 • 3:00 PM

Smith Recital Hall

Featuring:

Dr. Julio Alves, guitar

Dr. Henning Vauth, piano

Dr. Alexander Lee, tenor

Join us for this musical event celebrating unity across the divides.

They will perform music from different regions that once made up the unified Pangean mountain range, now broken into segments across the Scottish Highlands and Appalachia.

Free and open to all.

Sponsored by the School of Music in the College of Arts and Media.

SATURDAY, MARCH 26, 2022 | 10:30 AM - 2:00 PM | LIVE REMOTE SESSION

ADJUNCT SATURDAY

Are you an adjunct faculty member interested in teaching and learning?

Are you interested in honing your teaching skills?

If you answered "yes" to any of these questions, please consider participating in the Adjunct Super Saturday Faculty Forums on Teaching and Learning. Super Saturday is a professional development opportunity for new and experienced adjunct faculty. Programming encompasses several components related to teaching at Marshall.

SESSION 1: 10:30-11:30AM

Focused on teaching with technology. Much of the information is centered around the Collaborative (TECI) classrooms and the ins-and-outs of Blackboard (Blackboard beyond just the grade center).

SESSION 2: 11:45AM-12:45PM

Focused on various pedagogical approaches. Many of the learning strategies discussed in this session will be centered around both the scholarship of teaching and learning and how different strategies impact learning and cognition.

SESSION 3: 1:00-2:00PM

Focused on specific teaching and learning activities. This session will include specific examples of possible assignments and ideas for the classroom.

Please register for this event at www.marshall.edu/ctl/adjunct-super-saturday
You will receive a link to join the session a day prior to the event.

Hosted by the Center for Teaching and Learning
Questions? Contact ctl@marshall.edu

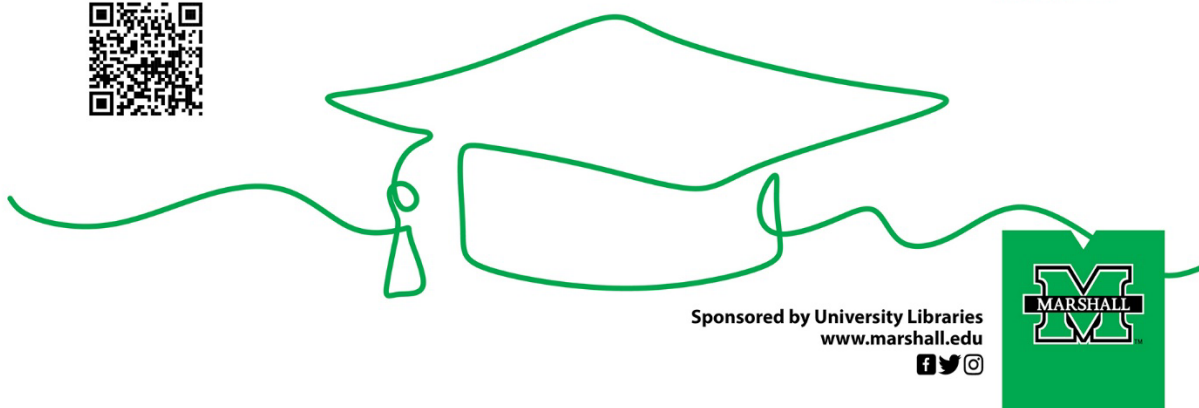

ELECTRONIC THESIS AND DISSERTATIONS DEADLINE

Attention grad students! If you are graduating this semester, please make sure that you are adhering to the timeline for submitting your thesis or dissertation. View all important deadlines here:

YOU MUST SUBMIT IT
FOR REVIEW BY APRIL 1

Sponsored by University Libraries
www.marshall.edu

Period Product Supply Drive

EVERY DAY IN MARCH

Did you know?

1 IN 4 STUDENTS IN THE U.S. CAN'T ACCESS PERIOD PRODUCTS.

Our students need your help, period.

Please donate pads and tampons
at a drop-off location near you!

MSC, 2W16
OLD MAIN, 115
COMMONS, LOBBY
TOWERS, LOBBY

Sponsored by: Women's & Gender Center | SGA
www.marshall.edu

2ND ANNUAL LCOB TEACHING AND LEARNING CONFERENCE

Keynote Address:

DAN HOLLIS

*Professor of Journalism and Mass
Communications*

Panel discussions
Short presentations

“The Road Back from COVID”

Twists, Turns and Triumphs in Teaching and Learning

April 8, 2022
8 a.m. - 4 p.m.

Memorial Student Center
Student Resource Center
Conference Room, 2W16

Register here:

Sponsored by the Lewis College of Business.
www.marshall.edu

83RD S Awards Banquet

SATURDAY, APRIL 9, 2022 | BRAD D. SMITH FOUNDATION HALL
RECEPTION 6 P.M. | DINNER & AWARDS 7 P.M.

For more information, visit HerdAlum.com or contact the MU Office of Alumni Relations at (304) 696-3134 or alumni@marshall.edu.

@MarshallUAlumni

2022 Spring Commencement

Saturday, April 30, 2022, Mountain Health Arena

Celebrating all undergraduate, graduate and doctoral candidates

9 AM CEREMONY

- Business
- Education
- Science
- CECS

2 PM CEREMONY

- Health Professions
- Arts and Media
- Liberal Arts
- Regents

Don't forget to complete the participation form.

If you have completed the Commencement participation form, your spot is already confirmed.

Office of the Registrar
www.marshall.edu

Assessment newsletter available online

The Office of Assessment and Quality Initiatives, part of the Division of Academic Affairs, has issued its Spring 2022 newsletter online. It can be found at <https://www.marshall.edu/assessment/files/2022/02/2022-AssessmentNewsletter.pdf>.

2022-2023 Scholarship Application Now Open!

Apply for hundreds of scholarships in one place!

www.marshall.edu/sfa/scholarships

* Completion of the scholarship application does not guarantee an award will be made.

 Awards for Fall 2022 will take place starting June 1, 2022

For more information contact the Office of Student Financial Aid
304-696-3162 • Email: sfa@marshall.edu • www.marshall.edu/sfa

Coronavirus Statistics:

New Cases Since February 15, 2022

Students: 34

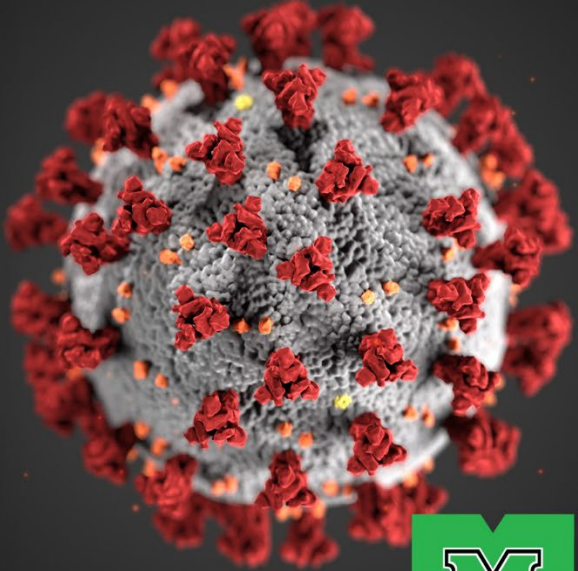

Faculty: 2

Staff*: 10

 Includes auxiliary employees (Sodexo, Aetna, Rec Center, etc.)*

All testing is being done in partnership with Marshall Health, Cabell Huntington Hospital, Pleasant Valley Hospital, Q Labs Inc. and MedExpress Urgent Care.

The most recent information is always available at www.marshall.edu/coronavirus/dashboard.

Stay Informed...

For COVID-19 and Marshall University updates, visit:
www.marshall.edu/coronavirus

For additional information, visit:
www.cdc.gov

The next regular issue of We Are...Marshall will be distributed March 9, 2022. Please send items for consideration to WAMnewsletter@marshall.edu by 5 p.m. Monday, March 7, 2022.

To read the content of this newsletter online, please click on the following link:

www.marshall.edu/wamnewsletter/March-2-2022.
