School of Medicine announces 2023 Match Day results

MARCH 22, 2023

Fourth-year medical students from the Marshall University Joan C. Edwards School of Medicine found out Friday during the annual Match Day event where they will train for the next three to seven years. A total of 78 students from the Class of 2023 matched to residency programs, representing a 99% match rate for the class.

Coordinated by the National Residency Matching Program (NRMP), the main residency match process uses a computerized mathematical algorithm that pairs the preferences of applicants with the preferences of residency programs, resulting in a best result for graduating students. Marshall students, along with medical students from around the world, all opened their match letters at the same date and time.

“Matching into and completing a residency is the next step toward becoming a practicing physician,” said Bobby Miller, M.D., interim dean at the Joan C. Edwards School of Medicine. “Where they receive their residency training shapes the course of their medical careers. The future of health care looks promising with this accomplished class and the impact they will have on patients and the profession.”

More than 50% matched into primary care residencies, which are identified in West Virginia as family medicine, internal medicine, internal medicine/pediatrics, pediatrics and obstetrics/gynecology. Other students were accepted into dermatology, emergency medicine, general surgery, neurology, orthopaedic surgery, otolaryngology, psychiatry and radiology programs. Four students matched in specialty matches for ophthalmology and military residency programs. 25 students will remain in West Virginia to complete their residency training.

“On Match Day, you experience the joy of moving to the next phase of your career,” said Luke Hamm, president of the fourth-year class. “It’s one of the largest milestones in a doctor’s life.”

Across the country, in the largest match in the NRMP 70-year history, 42,952 registered applicants submitted program choices for 40,375 available positions.

Board of Governors approves athletics contracts

MARCH 22, 2023

The Marshall University Board of Governors yesterday approved personnel athletics contracts including a three-year extension for veteran men’s basketball coach Dan D’Antoni. The 75-year-old coach led the men’s basketball program to its best regular season win total in 76 years. Details on D’Antoni’s season and quotes about the decision are available here.

The board met in emergency session to consider other personnel issues that if not dealt with immediately may have resulted in adverse effects on the university.

One-Room Schoolhouse to be open for tours beginning March 27

MARCH 22, 2023

Thanks to the help of Dr. Paul Lutz (pictured at right), who brought the building to Marshall's Huntington campus, the One-Room Schoolhouse will be open again from March 27 until the end of the spring semester and from Monday, May 1 to Thursday, May 4. The hours will be from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays.

Dr. Neil Arneson, retired faculty from the College of Education and Professional Development, will be offering tours and sharing information about the educational, sociological, economic and historical importance of all one-room schools and especially those in West Virginia. On Thursdays, Arneson will be doing a living history presentation of one of the last schoolmasters in West Virginia in 1873.

Appointments can also be made for any group, university class or school for a field trip, or for Arneson to visit your location. Contact him by e-mail at arneson@marshall.edu or by calling 304-633-3935.

Dr. Allyson Bias named March Resident of the Month

MARCH 22, 2023

Allyson Bias, M.D. (pictured at right), has been named the March Resident of the Month for the Joan C. Edwards School of Medicine, announced Paulette S. Wehner, M.D., vice dean for graduate medical education.

Bias is finishing her third and final year of the pediatrics residency at the Joan C. Edwards School of Medicine, where she completed her Doctor of Medicine. Bias was selected Resident of the Month for her dedication to her pediatric patients during the recent surge of respiratory syncytial virus, or RSV, Wehner said.

“Dr. Bias has gone above and beyond during the pediatric RSV surge,” said Susan L. Flesher, M.D., professor and chair of pediatrics, in her nomination letter. “She has done an amazing job balancing resident wellness and meeting the needs of the children of this region. She even voluntarily changed her own schedule to serve as the ‘swing senior’” to be help meet patient care needs and lessen the burden on her fellow residents.”

According to Associate Professor and Pediatric Residency Director Audra Pritt, M.D., “Dr. Bias is a model resident—hardworking, kind and knowledgeable. She showed tremendous leadership during unprecedented times in the fall respiratory season as one of our co-chief residents. We are so proud to have Dr. Bias on our pediatric team at Marshall Health.”

After graduation in June, the Ona, West Virginia, native will move to Augusta, Georgia, where she will complete a three-year Post Pediatric Portal Program (PPPP). The PPPP allows pediatricians to train in both psychiatry and child and adolescent medicine (CAP) in a three-year integrated program that leads to credentialing in both psychiatry and CAP.

As part of her Resident of the Month recognition, Bias received a plaque and designated parking spot.

‘Rocketman’ film with live orchestra to take place March 31

MARCH 22, 2023

Mountain Health Network will present Rocketman Live in Concert Friday, March 31, at 7:30 p.m. at the Keith-Albee Performing Arts Center as the final event of the 86th season of the Marshall Artists Series.

The critically acclaimed, Oscar®-award winning epic musical fantasy charting the life of the legendary Elton John, Paramount Pictures’ Rocketman will be presented live in concert, with a full orchestra performing its iconic soundtrack live to picture. The film will be projected onto the huge Keith-Albee movie screen, while the orchestra on stage brings to life the stunning soundtrack – the music of Elton John.

Rocketman depicts the fascinating and tumultuous story of Elton John’s life and journey to becoming one of the most decorated and successful icons of popular music. Directed by Dexter

Fletcher and written by Lee Hall, the film sees award-winning actor Taron Egerton take on the lead role of Elton, singing his way through Elton's success with ubiquitous hits such as "Your Song," "Tiny Dancer," "I'm Still Standing" and many more.

Rocketman opened to critical acclaim and rapturous standing ovation at the Cannes Film Festival and captured the hearts of critics and audiences alike. Empire Magazine hailed it "a sequin-encrusted delight," as the film grossed over $195 million worldwide. Rocketman won two Golden Globe® Awards, including Best Performance by an Actor in a Motion Picture, Musical or Comedy for Taron Egerton and Best Original Song for "I'm Gonna Love Me Again," written by Elton John and Bernie Taupin. Rocketman was nominated for four BAFTA Film Awards, including Best Leading Actor for Taron Egerton, Outstanding British Film of the Year, Best Make Up/Hair and Best Sound. Rocketman also received an Oscar® for Best Achievement in Music Written for Motion Pictures (Original Song) for "I'm Gonna Love Me Again."

Tickets for Rocketman Live In Concert are $98.42/$87.45 and $76.49. For tickets call the Marshall Artists Series Box Office at 304-696-6656 or order tickets online at Ticketmaster.com. You may also visit our box office located in the Joan C. Edwards Playhouse on the Marshall University Huntington campus. Box office hours are Monday through Friday, noon to 4 p.m.

Rocketman Live In Concert is sponsored by Mountain Health Network Marshall Health, Huntington Federal Savings Bank, Neighborgall Construction, Boggs Roofing, Air Systems Inc., Brian and Brittany Ferguson, Marsha Slater State Farm Insurance, iHeart Radio, WSAZ and The Herald Dispatch.

About Rocketman

Rocketman is an epic musical fantasy about the incredible human story of Elton John's breakthrough years. The film follows the fantastical journey of transformation from shy piano prodigy Reginald Dwight into international superstar Elton John. This inspirational story – set to Elton John's most beloved songs and performed by star Taron Egerton – tells the universally relatable story of how a small-town boy became one of the most iconic figures in pop culture.

About Elton John

Elton's career achievements to date are unsurpassed in their breadth and longevity. Elton is one of the top-selling solo artists of all time, with 1 diamond, 40 platinum or multi-platinum, and 23 gold albums, over 50 Top 40 hits, and he has sold more than 300 million records worldwide.

He holds the record for the biggest-selling single of all time, "Candle in the Wind 1997," which sold over 33 million copies. "Diamonds," the Ultimate Greatest Hits album, reached the Top 5 of the UK album charts on its release in November 2017, becoming Elton's 40th UK Top 40 album in the process. This release celebrated 50 years of his songwriting partnership with Bernie Taupin. August 2018 saw Elton named as the most successful male solo artist in Billboard Hot 100 chart history, having logged 67 entries, including No. 1s and 27 Top 10s.

Among the many awards and honors bestowed upon him are six GRAMMYS, including a GRAMMY Legend award, a Tony and an Oscar; a Best British Male Artist BRIT Award; induction into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame and the Songwriters Hall of Fame; the Kennedy Center Honor; Legend of Live Award; 13 Ivor Novello Awards between 1973 and 2001; and a knighthood from HM Queen Elizabeth II for “services to music and charitable services.”

In 1992, Elton established the Elton John AIDS Foundation, which today is one of the leading nonprofit HIV/AIDS organizations and has raised over $450 million to date in the global fight against HIV/AIDS. In June 2019, French President Emmanuel Macron presented Elton the Légion d’honneur, France’s highest award, for his lifetime contribution to the arts and the fight against HIV/AIDS. Elton was awarded the Companion of Honour in the 2020 new year honours list. The highest acknowledgement in the list, Elton became one of only 64 people to hold the honor. September 2019 saw The Royal Mail issue a set of 12 stamps as a tribute to Elton being one of the most popular and enduring music artists of all time. Elton is one of only two individual music artists to be featured in a dedicated stamp issue.

MARCH 22, 2023

The Joan C. Edwards School of Medicine announced its 2023 Diversity and Inclusion award winners March 16.

“We are excited to recognize outstanding schools of medicine and pharmacy faculty, staff members, residents and students who best demonstrate an outstanding commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion”, said Shelvy L. Campbell-Monroe, Ph.D., associate dean for diversity and inclusion.

The 2023 Excellence in Diversity and Inclusion award winners are as follows:

The Drs. Joseph B. and Omayma T. Touma Excellence in Diversity Lifetime Achievement Award recognizes an individual who has made major, innovative and cumulatively outstanding contributions to enhance the practice of equality and diversity while devoting a major portion of their professional career to the effort.

- Paulette S. Wehner, M.D., vice dean of graduate medical education

The Pharmacy Diversity and Inclusion Excellence Award recognizes a Marshall University School of Pharmacy student who promotes and supports the needs, values and respect of underrepresented communities; who is sensitive to the issues of diversity; and who takes action to promote the ideals of inclusion, equity and community.

- Simeon Cullens, fourth-year pharmacy student
- Hannah Carreon, third-year pharmacy student

The Diversity and Inclusion Excellence Student Service Award recognizes fourth-year medical students who have gone above and beyond their medical school commitment to mentor and encourage ethnic minorities and individuals from the most deprived areas to pursue their dreams of becoming physicians.

- Fatih Koc, fourth-year medical student
- Richard Mensah, fourth-year medical student

The Diversity and Inclusion Advocacy Award recognizes a medical student, faculty, resident or staff member who has demonstrated a commitment to diversity by serving as a role model and by contributing to the education of the schools of medicine and pharmacy community regarding lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, queer/questioning (LGBTQ+) individuals and issues.

- Uma Sundaram, M.D., vice dean of research and graduate education
- Leah Ching, fourth-year medical student

The Excellence through Diversity Award is given to faculty, resident, staff or alumni who go above and beyond to exemplify valuing people and the diversity goals of the schools of medicine and pharmacy through their participation and involvement with diverse individuals, groups and outreach programs, while also providing leadership to encourage meaningful interaction and activities among diverse groups to improve campus climate.

- Esiemoghie Jatto Akhigbe, M.D., resident physician at Marshall Health
- Tiffany Davis, Pharm.D., clinical assistant professor at the School of Pharmacy
