Impact '69 program begins Sunday

By NANCY HINCHMAN
News Editor

The second annual IMPACT program opens Sunday with eight speakers and various entertainment scheduled throughout the week.

Robert Welch, whose topic is "The John Birch Society: Will It Help America?," will speak Sunday at 1 p.m. on the Student Union lawn. Welch devotes much of his time to the advancement of the "anti-communist cause." He is the author of several books including "May God Forgive Us," "The Life of John Birch" and "The New Americanism."

Vance Packard, well-known social critic, will be speaking on "The Changing American Character: Today's Confusions Tomorrow's Prospects" at 8 p.m. Monday in Old Main Auditorium. Packard is the author of "The Status Seekers," "The Sexual Wilderness" and "The Naked Society."

Distribution of the IMPACT Magazine will begin Sunday at Welch's appearance. The 36-page edition contains articles by professors and students, biographical sketches on each speaker and pictures relating to the topics and speakers. The 3,000 copies of the magazines are free to students, but were published at a cost of $1,626, according to Claude Doak, Camden, N. J., senior and editor of the magazine.

The Barfenon Revue will be featured nightly at 8:15 (two performances Friday 7:15 p.m. and 9:15 p.m.) during IMPACT week at the "underground theater," 1157½ Fourth Ave. The satirical revue will have few sets, props or costumes and will depict scenes at Marshall and in the nation.

"In White America," a play by Martin Duberman, will be presented in Smith Hall 154 at 8:15 p.m. Sunday and at 8:30 p.m. April 19.

In the introduction to the play, Duberman has said "whites . . . whether from guilt, indifference or hostility, have been slow to reveal the American Negro's past." The play attempts to depict what it has been to be a Negro in this country.

A new feature this year will be the movies for "Impacted Flicks." The eight films will be shown in Science Hall Auditorium at 2 p.m. Wednesday. They include three W. C. Fields films ("The Barbershop," "The Fatal Glass of Beer" and "The Pharmacist"), two Laurel and Hardy ("Dirty Work" and "Hoosegow"), two Road Runner ("Zoom and Bored" and "Hook, Lion and Stinker") and "Charlie Chaplin."

Three concerts are planned for the week—a folk concert Monday featuring the Seagram Seven, a Marshall University Symphonic Band concert Tuesday and a jazz concert Thursday.

For times and places of all IMPACT activities see the schedule on this page.

Five top level positions are slated under reorganization

By SUZANNE WOOD
Editor-in-Chief

Two positions involved in the reorganization plan for the University's administration are scheduled to be approved by the State Board of Education Monday.

Under the new reorganization plan, there will be five positions operating at a vice presidential level. Three positions are ones already existing in the University structure, including vice president of business, Joseph S. Soto; vice president of academic affairs, A. Mervin Tyson, and the recently-created position of director of finance and budget analyst held by Joseph Peters.

The other two are newly created positions — dean of student personnel programs and the executive vice president. President Roland H. Nelson Jr. declined to release the names of those appointments until the board acts Monday.

The reorganization plan is designed "to streamline the organization of the University for the purpose of improving communications among faculty, students and the administration," according to Dr. Nelson.

The five positions will operate at a vice presidential level to form an executive committee which will be directly responsible to President Nelson. The appointee for executive vice president will serve as permanent chairman of that committee.

The new position of dean of student personnel programs will replace Dr. Harold Willey who is serving as acting dean of student affairs. The new job will be an extension of the dean of student affairs with the directors of such areas as housing, financial aid and admissions, responsible to him.

In addition the dean of student personnel programs will be responsible for all non-academic student activities.

The executive vice president, the other new position, will work with development, continuing education and with educational television.

Other business coming before the Board of Education Monday will include approval for the phasing out of the Marshall Laboratory School and approval of 29 new faculty positions.

College expecting to graduate in May preparing to teach and those teachers applying for positions must take the examination. All students taking the exam must have a registration form. These may be picked up in the Office of the Registrar or the Office of the Dean of Teacher's College.

MR. CLEAN

Would you believe one male MU student was so concerned with cleanliness he was prompted to write an announcement to the janitor? Scrawled on a paper towel and left on the lavatory sink in Smith Hall was the question, "Are we supposed to bring our own soap?" Written on the same towel was this response (perhaps from a janitor) "Are you supposed to take the soap out of here?"

ACTION ON POVERTY

As a result of the movie "Hunger In America," shown Wednesday night, students will meet at the Campus Christian Center Sunday at 11 a.m. to plan action to be taken in areas of concern of recreation for needy children, tutoring, and parent-child centers in depressed areas.

Journalism head leaving

Dr. William E. Francois, chairman of the Department of Journalism, has submitted his resignation to accept a position in the School of Journalism at Drake University at Des Moines, Iowa.

Dr. Francois, who came to Marshall in 1959 as a member of the faculty of the Department of Journalism, is completing his third year as chairman.

Drake University announced that Dr. Francois "will be one of the key individuals in continuing the development of a vital news-editorial program at Drake." He will assume the position of professor of journalism Sept. 1.

Under his chairmanship of the department here a master's degree program in journalism was instituted, enrollment has shown major increases, an honors program was started, the first review for accreditation was conducted, Parthenon publication increased from two to four times a week and faculty and staff within the department nearly doubled.

A native of Chicago, Ill., Dr. Francois was an Army paratrooper during World War II, and worked on newspapers in Indiana, Idaho and Dayton, Ohio, before coming to Marshall. He has B. S. and M. S. degrees from Northwestern University and received the Ph. D. in mass communications in December, 1967, from Ohio State University.

The title of his dissertation for the Ph. D. was "Designing, Developing and Testing Programmed Instruction for Beginning News Writers." At Marshall he has developed and instituted programmed instruction for the beginning reporting classes.

Drake University is a private non-denominational university with an enrollment of 7,000 students, including 4,500 full-time.

DR. WILLIAM E. FRANCOIS
... leaving Marshall

by Jim Slicer

With the upcoming IMPACT '69 harnessed and ready to move this Sunday, I have an opportunity to present some thoughts and comment on the program. Due to the fact that I was coordinator of IMPACT '68, nevertheless, I will attempt to evaluate and to outline reasonably my ideas on the subject.

For those people who attend this year's IMPACT, a fair warning is necessary. IMPACT is not a propaganda wheel of the left or right, student government, or any other highly-suspect collaboration. Despite the mutterings of certain "men of the cloth" and overaged red-haired Federalists, the only philosophy espoused by IMPACT is the free expression of ideas.

Finally, I want to use this opportunity to proffer some acknowledgments of efforts given to last year's IMPACT. When we started in October of 1967, with an initial budget of 250 dollars, few people recognized the scope of our plans. In the early stages this presented real disagreement and divided opinion within my committee and student government as well. During the formative period of October, 1967, through February, 1968, when a great deal of the internal bickering—so typical of student projects—flourished within the internal operations of student government, a few people were instrumental in allowing me the freedom to function. To them goes the thanks of not only myself but all people who feel that IMPACT is an important and necessary part of a university community. I refer to individuals like Mike Farrell, then president of the student body, Frank Cummings, my superior on the cabinet, Charles Kincaid, my editor who helped unravel many of the problems we faced, and Jocelyne McCall, my secretary and possibly the only person capable of working with me and yet maintain some semblance of sanity.

Concert review Dynamite duo singularly explosive

By WAYNE FAULKNER
JUDY VISSMAN
Staff Reporters

Double dynamite, Sam and Dave, turned out to be only singularly explosive as only Sam of the soul duo appeared on stage Wednesday night at the Keith-Albee Theatre.

According to the band leader in an announcement to the audience, Dave had taken the wrong plane and could not be there.

Nevertheless, Sam, the Soul Men, and the Shondells, among others, performed quite enthusiastically before the 2,000 people to open annual Greek Week activities.

Of the nearly three-hour concert, Sam sang 30 minutes, singing "Something Wrong With My Baby", "I Thank You" and "Soul Man" a portion of the audience came to its feet.

When asked why Dave did not show up, Rich Warden, IFC president said, "Dave missed his plane out of New York and couldn't make it. As far as the contract goes, we paid the contract except for Dave's salary.

We could have stopped the show but I thought it better to let it go on."

During a 20-minute intermission George O. Fraley, associate dean of students, made presentations for outstanding Greek from each chapter. Selected for this honor were Jane Clay, Charleston senior, Alpha Chi Omega; Iris Hudson, Elizabeth senior, Sigma Sigma Sigma; Jane Allen, St. Albans senior, Sigma Kappa; Paula Cyrus, St. Albans junior, Alpha Sigma Alpha; Linda Defet, Clarksburg senior, Phi Mu; Lynda Shoemaker, Huntington senior, Delta Zeta, and Sandy Longfellow, Ormond Beach, Fla., senior, Alpha Xi Delta.

pha Epsilon; Tom Hensley, Huntington junior, Tim Haymaker, Pineville senior, and Mike Hettlinger, San Francisco, Calif. senior, Sigma Phi Epsilon (three-way tie); Bill Leith, Martinsburg senior, Kappa Alpha; David Brumfield, Kenova senior, Lambda Chi Alpha; Dave Cleek, Charleston senior, Tau Kappa Epsilon; Jim Summers, Charleston senior, Zeta Beta Tau; David Henderson, Logan senior, Kappa Alpha Psi; Gary Whited, Vienna senior, Alpha Sigma Phi; and Charles Cox, Holmdel, N. J. senior, Phi Kappa Tau.

Greek Week activities continue this week with the chariot race at 7 p.m. today on Fourth Ave. from 13th to 16th Street. Also tonight there will be a TGIF at the Library beginning at 8 p.m.

Why does a perfect size 7 look perfect only 21 days every month?

It has nothing to do with calories. It's a special female weight gain... caused by temporary water-weight build-up. Oh, you know... that uncomfortable full feeling that sneaks up on you the week before your menstrual period. This fluid retention not only plays havoc with your looks but how you feel as well.

(It puts pressure on delicate nerves and tissues, which can lead to pre-menstrual cramps and headaches, leaves emotions on edge.)

That's why so many women take PAMPRIN®. It gently relieves water-weight gain to help prevent pre-menstrual puffiness, tension, and pressure-caused cramps.

PAMPRIN makes sure a perfect size 7 never looks less than perfect. Nor feels less than perfect, either.

Advanced registration continues to April 15

Advance registration is moving in a "smooth orderly flow," according to Registrar Luther E. Bledsoe.

"Due to the fewer amount of students who register for summer courses compared with regular semester registration we are not pressed for time," said Bledsoe.

The computer will not be used to process the schedules for summer courses.

Instead schedules will be checked for closed classes and students admitted to open classes at the time of registration.

This will end the agony of waiting for your schedule to return, only to find that classes that you signed for were closed, leaving your schedule unprocessed.

Mr. Bledsoe explained that about 50 per cent of the students who plan to attend summer school will advance register. These students will register fairly proportionately over the six-day period leaving the waiting lines to a minimum.

"The one problem that will arise," said Bledsoe, "is that too many students register for classes between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m."

Mr. Bledsoe stressed the fact that pre-registration ends at 4 p.m. April 15. No one will be permitted to advance register after that time!

Advance registration procedure is as follows: (1) Report to adviser to have schedule request form approved and signed, (2) Take approved schedule request form to the cashier and pay tuition and registration fees and have I.D. card validated, (3) Take your schedule request form, receipt(s) of fees paid and I.D. card to Old Main 1b and (4) Report to class on Tuesday, June 17 for first term and Tuesday, July 22 for second term.

Dorm deposit is due May 1

Students who want to be assured of a dormitory room next year need to pay only a $25 deposit by May 1 instead of the entire $222.48 as previously arranged, according to Warren S. Myers, housing director.

The balance of the payment must be made by July 15, or the student loses his deposit and must pay the full amount. He would also then be placed on a waiting list for any available room, said Myers.

The student would be subject to the same terms if the $25 dollar fee is not paid by May 1. If the fee is paid and the student decides not to live in a dorm, he loses his deposit.

This new system is strictly on a trial basis for the first nine weeks of the next fall semester, according to Myers.

Grid drills begin Saturday

The "Thundering Herd" football team will begin its spring practice Saturday with 20 returning lettermen, said Coach Perry Moss.

There is little doubt that the sophomores will be the key to Marshall hopes for getting on the winning track in 1969.

"Our sophomores will have to come on strong for us" said Moss, "because we simply don't have the hard-core, experienced lettermen returning to get the job done for us."

Larry Banks, Baltimore Md., freshman, said that he will not return because he "doesn't want to play ball anymore."

Dennis Blevins, Bluefield, freshman said, "I'm going out to make the team and play football."

Some former football players have decided to engage in other sports including baseball and track.

"The boys we've got coming back will be out to prove that going winless wasn't their fault and I'm sure that many of them will play some real fine football for us," said Moss.

"Overall I expect we'll be greener but better this year," Moss continued, "I think we'll have more talent out there, we should be bigger and faster. Even more important we'll have more people battling for starting positions so we should have more depth."

Moss said that all the boys will be working as a unit to have a successful season.

Mike D'Antoni likes 'everything' at MU

"It was the type of ball, the guys I will play with and the fans too." These were the reasons Mike D'Antoni gave for turning down scholarship offers from Duke, West Virginia, and others to come to Marshall.

"Sometimes there would be 10 phone calls a night telling me that I should go here or come there to play, but it wasn't too bad," said the young cager whose brother, Danny, will be one of his coaches next season as a graduate assistant.

When asked if there was anything about Marshall that affected his decision to sign with MU, he replied that it was "just everything that made me choose Marshall."

"I had been to Marshall so many times the past two years. I was familiar with everything."

Mike said his parents were satisfied with his decision. Mrs. D'Antoni commented, "I'm glad it's over with. I think Marshall is as good as any school. I think his choice was just fine. Danny was happy here and I'm sure that Mike will be too."

TENNIS MATCH SATURDAY

The Marshall tennis team which has already won more meets this season than they did all last year will face the University of Cincinnati on the Gullickson Hall courts at 12:30 p.m. Saturday. The team is 2-4 this year with wins over Roanoke College and the University of Richmond.

Falcons baseball foe

The MU baseball team takes on the Falcons of Bowling Green University at Bowling Green in a single game today at 3 p.m.

It is the Mid-American Conference opener for both teams who will play a double-header on Saturday. Marshall goes into the game with a 3-4-1 record while the Falcons are 8-5.

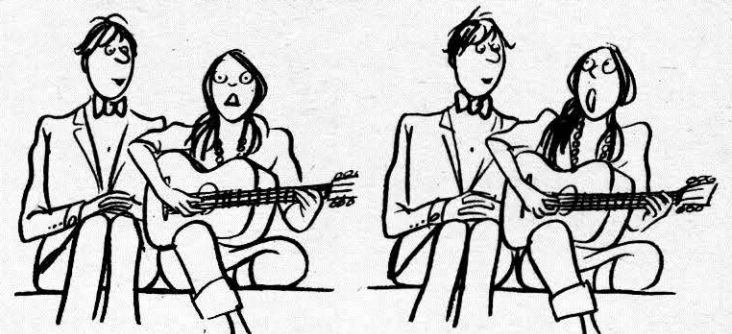

Carl Hewlett with a 1-0 record will go against either Ron Wellman, 3-0, or Bill Grein, 2-1, in Friday's game. Tom Stimpson, 1-0, will pitch the opener Saturday and either Paul Holley, 0-1, or Gary Stobart, no record, will start the nightcap. Bowling Green coach Dick Young has not decided who will pitch on Saturday.

One major change in the MU lineup is the moving of Gary Stobart to first base replacing Jim Dinwinddie. "He (Stobart), said Coach Jack Cook, "did a good job at Morehead so we'll go with him at Bowling Green."

Coach Cook expressed some concern over the pitching staff. "We're not getting the good pitching, we don't hit. Down at Morehead, we had the bases loaded twice and runners on first and third once and failed to score all three times. We don't make that key play."

Falcon coach Dick Young also has his pitching problems as the only veterans on his staff are both out. Doug Huur is hospitalized because of illness and Steve Moore has an injured arm.

Tuesday Marshall travels to Charleston to take on the Morris Harvey Golden Eagles.
