

Marshall University

Marshall Digital Scholar

---

The Parthenon

University Archives

---

Fall 2-25-1970

The Parthenon, February 25, 1970

Marshall University

Follow this and additional works at: <https://mds.marshall.edu/parthenon>

---

Recommended Citation

Marshall University, "The Parthenon, February 25, 1970" (1970). The Parthenon. 938.
<https://mds.marshall.edu/parthenon/938>

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the University Archives at Marshall Digital Scholar. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Parthenon by an authorized administrator of Marshall Digital Scholar. For more information, please contact zhangj@marshall.edu, beachgr@marshall.edu.

Independent Student Party forms

The Parthenon

MARSHALL UNIVERSITY STUDENT NEWSPAPER

Vol. 70

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 1970

HUNTINGTON, W.VA.

No. 78

Group to run candidates in next election

By TOMMIE DENNY
Editor-in-chief

The Independent Student Party (ISP) is now in the organizational stage, according to John Short, Huntington sophomore and chairman of the new group.

"After viewing the dilemma in Student Government this year," said Short, "we decided that something must be done. It's now or never for students to accept responsibility in the accept government."

The new party hopes to run a full slate of candidates for student body president, vice president, senators, and class officers. Those interested in running for an office or in aiding the party's purposes must sign a pledge of support.

Said Short, "Our goal is an effective student government. The best way to go about it is to face the issues of the Marshall community and offer a platform. We plan to run committed people, committed to the issues."

The purpose of the party system is to guarantee the student body that people elected from ISP are committed to Marshall and will do a good job, said Short. "This will be the first time students can be positive they will be electing dedicated students that will show up for Senate meetings and be in their offices when they say they are," he added.

The group came up with the idea for the party, said Short, the first time Student Senate proposed a change in the constitution and could not act due to lack of a quorum.

Short pointed out the party is open to all interested students, not just independents as the name of the party might imply. "We came up with the name because we wanted to promote independent thinking, individual commitment—not Greek versus independents," added Short.

The party is also planning debates, after-dinner speeches and caucuses. "We want to invite controversy," said Short. "It can strengthen us. We want to initiate progress and initiate change using the student government as a catalyst."

"All those interested in committing themselves to Marshall and the student government should contact me soon. We are now conducting interviews for candidates."

Group named on athletics

Athletic Director Charles Kautz and MU coaches have been appointed to a committee concerned with the future of the University athletic program, according to President Roland H. Nelson Jr.

President Nelson announced that the committee will make recommendations concerning the program and establish a timetable for implementing the proposed ideas.

Ensemble in concert tomorrow

The London Gabrieli Brass Ensemble will perform at the convocation tomorrow at 11 a.m. in Old Main Auditorium.

The Ensemble was founded in 1962 by the late Lt. Cmdr. David Biddueph RN (retired), John Simcock and Richard Hill to bridge the gap in education between classical and pop music. Since then, the ensemble has played over 1,800 concerts. They give more than 500 concerts per year in schools, universities, cathedrals, music clubs and festivals. They have recorded for Pye, Polydor, Decca and now are with Deutsche Gramophon and have eight albums.

The members of the group include John Simcock, trombone; John White, tuba, and bass trombone; Bill Phillips, trumpet; Miles Hearn, French horn; and Peter White, trumpet.

The Ensemble appears regularly on BBC-TV and radio. In 1967-68 they played at the Southern Cathedrals Festival, Aldeburgh Festival, Belfast Festival, Angor Festival, Newcastle Festival, Hexon Abbey Fest and the Edinburgh Festival.

The Gabrieli Brass has successfully initiated a series of concerts for the Northern Arts Association in towns and villages where concerts are unknown. They were featured in "Canterbury Tales", the London and Broadway musical based on their early album "Canterbury Pilgrims."

Gabrieli Brass is making its second North American tour in 1969-70. The initial 1968-69 tour was booked for five weeks, but was extended to ten.

Buskirk ailing

Mrs. Lillian Buskirk, associate dean of students, suffered a mild heart attack Sunday and was admitted to Cabell-Huntington Hospital around 9 p.m.

Tests conducted Monday indicate that damage to the heart was very minimal. Dr. Russell Denison, her attending physician, can make no statement concerning her condition at this time.

According to Dr. Constantine W. Curris, dean of student personnel programs, Dean Buskirk's duties will be temporarily handled by Dr. Donald Carson, dean of students, his staff and Mrs. Buskirk's secretary, Miss Mildred Heller.

Dellinger scheduled

By JILL WILLIAMSON
Feature editor

DELLINGER
Impact speaker

David T. Dellinger, one of the five men found guilty of inciting rioting in the Chicago seven conspiracy trials is scheduled as a featured speaker on campus during Impact Week.

Dellinger is a long time pacifist and has served jail terms for draft resistance in World War II. He is a co-chairman of the New Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam. He was a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Yale and an honor award student at Oxford in England.

His appearance here depends up on the granting of his request for bail which was filed in the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals on Feb. 21.

Pete O'Dell, coordinator of Impact Week, was asked if he expected any trouble here. He answered, "No. That's ridiculous. The students here are not prone to violence. The police department is good. . . they get a little nervous and jumpy but it's not too bad."

When he was asked what would happen if Dellinger could not appear O'Dell replied "I don't know. We signed the contract with an agreement that he would come if he isn't in jail. I would suppose our success rests with Julius Hoffman in Chicago. If not Dellinger, we'll have somebody intimately involved with the 'conspiracy'."

Impact Week will be the next to the last week in April. The general theme is 'Looking Ahead to the Seventies.'

Dr. Harlow visits MU

By TOMMIE DENNY
Editor-in-chief

Parthenon photo
DR. JAMES G. HARLOW

Dr. James G. Harlow, president of West Virginia University, visited Marshall's campus Monday while in town to address the Huntington Rotary Club.

In commenting on future cooperation between Marshall and WVU since they were both under the same Board of Regents, Dr. Harlow said, "It's quite an ignorant comment when anybody says that West Virginia institutions of higher education don't cooperate." He pointed out that for quite some time the faculties of the state's two universities have worked on a cooperative basis, joined the same professional societies and attended the same meetings all over the country.

"There is a large degree of communication between us now and what exists is quite rich," Dr. Harlow added.

"The noise and publicity associated with intercollegiate athletics blurs extensive cooperation between faculties and students, for that matter," he said.

When asked what he thought of the "tight" budget year for all West Virginia higher education, Dr. Harlow said, "I've never really seen a loose budget year. Some are more restrictive than others. But that is the story of higher education across the country, by no means peculiar to West Virginia."

Speaking about Marshall, Dr. Harlow said, "It is an institution with a fine reputation, even in Morgantown, and has served people of West Virginia for a long, long time."

Leadership seminar Friday

Speakers and program have been announced for the Student Senate Leadership Seminar scheduled for Friday and Saturday at Carter Caves State Park near Olive Hill, Ky.

"The Purpose of the University" will be discussed by Dr. Constantine Curris, dean of student personnel programs, following a cocktail party and dinner Friday evening.

"Why Man Creates," a film showing, will begin Saturday's program at 9:15 a.m.

"Are Black Students Needed or Wanted?" is the controversial topic of Associate Professor of Safety Education Marvin D. Mills at 10:30 a.m.

Rev. Hardin "Corky" King, Campus Presbyterian minister, will discuss "Is God Dead on the College Campus" at 1 p.m.

"Student Power vs the University Structure" is the topic of the student-faculty panel discussion at 2 p.m. A group-type question and answer period will follow at 4 p.m.

"We are hoping for full support from the student body, faculty, and administration," said program chairman Rick Row, Butler, Pa., senior. "We are hoping to get problems facing MU out in the open."

Interested students may sign up through Friday in the Student Union. The bus leaves the union at 3:30 p.m. Friday.

A $10 fee covers transportation, room, and board.

Weather--cloudy

Tri-State Weather Bureau forecast for today is cloudy and colder with a chance of rain turning to snow flurries.

Spring election filing tentative

Candidate filing for spring elections will be today through Friday, pending passage of the proposed student government constitution, according to Margaret Wright, Webster Springs junior.

The senate was scheduled to meet Tuesday night in a special meeting to discuss the new charter. If passed, there will be a student body election Monday to vote on the proposed constitution and spring elections will be March 11.

Filing will be from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. and candidates must furnish a glossy picture. Filing fees are $5 for student body president and vice president, $4 for class officers and $3 for senators.

Standing Room Only

A Page Of Opinion

By LES SMITH
Managing editor

A Comment

Senate apathy apparent

Student Senate's apparent disconcert of important constitutional changes facing that body was again evident at Thursday's meeting.

One third of the 33 senators failed to attend the meeting and six others left before the most radical of proposed constitutional changes could be considered. The meeting adjourned shortly afterwards and again Senate recessed with its work unfinished.

This lack of a quorum is not new to Student Senate. Thursday's meeting was the third of the past eight sessions which have had to be terminated due to excessive absences—some excusable, others unnecessary.

Evidently quite a few senators place other activities over the duties the student body elected them to perform. And as provided by the constitution, a sizeable absence of members is sufficient to stall the entire body.

Many of the senators who do attend the meetings, draft the new legislation and work are genuinely concerned about the progress expected of Student Senate. They were quite upset as a result of Thursday's meeting. And with good reason. With spring election scheduled two weeks from today, MU still has no approved system to elect Student Government officers. Candidates have no idea what offices they are eligible for or under what branch of Student Government they will possibly serve.

Senate's main problem is that it is not responsible to anyone and positions have been used for reasons other than to serve the students the senators represent. The high rate of absences and continuous turn-over of members indicates not everyone is willing to stick out the long, tedious process of constitutional reform.

One suggestion recently proposed has been the establishment of student political parties. Besides running as independents supported by semi-factions, candidates could run under a party and receive their support.

Student parties' contributions to improving the Senate would be to make individual senators responsible to the political group they represent. A senator would have to work toward the party's goal, attend the meetings to represent the party's interests, and be forced to answer directly to a specific group of students.

Such focusing on specific problem areas concerning students would replace petty issues constantly brought before Senate and force Senate to take more of a leader's role in representing the student body.

FRANKLY SPEAKING by Phil Frank

Letter: new drop-add system criticized

TO THE EDITOR:

An important area of student prerogative has finally been lost. Beginning with an ex cathedra announcement from Vice-President Tyson's office in Summer 1969, and ending in a Parthenon article of Feb. 4, 1970, the entire procedure for a just change of schedule has been eliminated. Paraphrasing the Registrar, The Parthenon said, "The failing of prerequisites, class cancellations, and overloaded sections are the only basis of adding or dropping classes..." Where, formerly, student dissatisfaction with instructor or course was considered as a valid basis for schedule change, now, only procedural difficulties are a valid basis.

How did this revolution occur? Before the majority of students could return to campus, Dr. Tyson's letter attempted to institute the new system in one blow. This attempt partially failed. Though it was not possible to add and drop courses simultaneously, it was possible to add a course one day and drop another the next! No doubt aware of this comic opera situation, the loophole closed when it was announced that no classes could be added to a schedule which was by administrative standards, perfect.

As a result, the present system forces students to retain a schedule based on inadequate information, falsely equates the abilities of the faculty, and flagrantly disregards the role of student value judgment:

(1) The Schedule of Courses distributed through the Registrar's Office is notoriously inaccurate. Though incomplete listings of instructors often are the result of premature planning, these still force the student to choose between Mr. STAFFs, and also to run the risk of finding a second-rate instructor teaching in place of a first-rate one.

(2) It is plain to students that not all members of the faculty are of equal quality. Yet, the new schedule change system leaves little room for student dissatisfaction based on the quality of the instructor or of the course.

(3) For a week after classes have begun, students ought to be allowed to judge both the quality of the course and the quality of the instructor. Further, they ought to be able to reject a course without the penalty of being unable to add courses after having dropped others, a consequence of the present system.

Therefore, what is the significance of the new schedule change system? (1) Student evaluation of the faculty and the curriculum as exercised through the old "drop-add" policy, has been squeezed out by administrative rigidity. (2) Interestingly, student value judgement has implicitly been declared irrelevant.

What might be done to change the present system?

(1) Hold no registration until after classes begin.

Such a procedure would allow the student to make a tentative schedule without the fear that it had become a summons to the purgatory of incompetence.

Also, there would remain a place for student value judgement. Finally, the administration would find that in planning the curriculum it would, at length, have to heed student (and faculty) desires.

Or, (2) Return to a modification of the old system. Let those in charge of the college offices try to grin and bear it for one week; perhaps, the computer might help.

Or, (3) Limit schedule changes solely to students on the Dean's List.

This action would reduce the number of changes to be made, and might be an incentive to get on the list.

Some final suggestions are in order if the present system is retained. Its retention ought to be avoided even at the price of vocal, organized dissent such as was seen two years ago when student action successfully thwarted a gambit not to list the names of instructors in the Schedule of Courses. Further, students should preregister or register for all the class hours which their grade point averages entitle them. Then, during the "W" period, withdraw from those classes which they find inadequate. Such is the only loophole that the new system allows for value judgement.

ROBIN FLEMING
Huntington senior

Parthenon letter policy

Do you want to write a "letter to the editor"?

Here's how:
The letter must be signed. It must be in good taste--in the judgment of The Parthenon. It cannot be libelous (that is defame someone's good name and reputation).

The Parthenon reserves the right to correct spelling and language, to condense letters without changing their meaning and to reject any letters.

The letter should be typed (double-spaced) and the writer must then present it in person to an editor of The Parthenon who will ask to see your ID card. This precaution is taken to prevent bogus letters from appearing in the newspaper.

Clothing is needed--Strawn

"We are in urgent need of good used clothing," said William Strawn, director of counseling and testing center.

"We have students in serious need of clothing to stay in school. We need clothing of all sizes and types and I'm asking all students and faculty to check their closets for clothes they have outgrown or become tired of."

For clothing pick up, call 696-2324 or take articles to the Counseling and Testing Center, 1618 5th Ave.

"Any student who needs clothing may also call this number," said Strawn.

The Parthenon

MARSHALL UNIVERSITY STUDENT NEWSPAPER

Established 1896

Member of West Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Full-leased Wire to The Associated Press

Entered as second class matter, May 29, 1945, at the Post Office at Huntington, West Virginia 25701, under Act of Congress, March 8, 1879.

Published Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday during school year and weekly during summer by Department of Journalism, Marshall University, 16th Street and 3rd Avenue, Huntington, West Virginia 25701. Off-campus subscription rate, $4 per semester, plus 50 cents for each summer term.

All full time students paying student activity services fee are entitled to copies of The Parthenon

STAFF

Editor-in-chief.....	Tommie Denny
Managing editor.....	Les Smith
Sports editor.....	Tim Bucey
News editor.....	Marti Vogel, Wayne Faulkner
Campus editors.....	Cathy Gibbs, Steve Frame, Mary O'Dell
Feature editor.....	Jill Williamson
Picture editor.....	Jack Seamonds
Chief Photographer.....	Charlie Titlow
Advertising manager.....	Helen Morris
Assistant advertising manager.....	Anita Gardner
Circulation manager.....	Robert Borchert
Graduate assistant-business/advertising.....	Gary Sweeney
Editorial counselor.....	Barbara Hensley
Faculty adviser.....	Ralph Turner

Herd plays final home game

By TIM BUCEY
Sports editor

The final home appearance for the Thundering Herd including six seniors will give MU a chance to revenge an earlier foul-plagued loss to Kent State.

Playing their final game tonight at 8 p.m. at Memorial Fieldhouse will be Joe Taylor, Dayton, Ohio, who holds some hope of playing pro basketball; 6-8 Bob Didur, Utica, Mich.; 6-1 Pat Brady, Fort Mitchell, Ky.; 6-4 Ricky Hall, McDowell, Ky., and 6-3 Larry Osborne Wheelwright, Ky. Phil Kazee ended his career earlier when an ankle injury sidelined him.

The contest will be the first between a Mid-American Conference opponent and expelled member Marshall since the verdict was handed down last Thursday, but Flashes Coach Frank Truitt does not see it as affecting either his team's or the Herd's play.

"I don't think it will affect either of us. All these kids want to do is go out and play basketball," Truitt said.

Kent has had its problems this year having won six and lost 16 and currently in last place in the MAC. Two weeks ago Truitt suspended three players for being in an 'off-limits' bar, but all three were recently reinstated.

Among those suspended were Larry Wilson the team's leading rebounder with a 7.7 per game average. He has not seen action since his suspension though, and Coach Truitt said he would not make up his mind about a starting lineup until Wednesday.

The other two suspended were subs Andy Meyer and Dave Ressabeck.

In Saturday's win over Western Michigan the Flashes started Tom Lagodich, the 6-7 co-captain who averages 14.5 per game, Co-Captain Bruce Burden, a 6-0 guard averaging 11.2, 6-7 forward Roger Evans who averages 11.1, Mike Foote, a 5-11 guard averaging 9.4 and 6-0 guard Tom Hintz, who averages 3.2 per game.

Evans has taken over the rebounding lead with eight a game.

Reviewing the Marshall lineup, Truitt said, "We always have a tough time matching up against them. Marshall's got a real strong front line in there that gives us problems, but I was pleased with the job we did on them," the Kent coach added referring to the earlier 78-70 win over MU in which the Flashes scored 32 points via the foul line.

In that earlier contest Joe Taylor was held to one of his lowest scoring nights with eight points.

"Lagodich did an outstanding job on him," Truitt said. "Also, Evans who held Russell Lee to nine points in the second half played his best defense of the year during the final ten minutes of play." Lee had 26 points in that contest, 17 in the first half.

For the Herd, it appears that Lee with 503 points will not surpass the all-time sophomore school high of 579 points by Walt Walowac. Lee, averaging 24 points per game, has only two games left in the 23 game schedule, whereas Walowac played 26 games in setting the record.

Others scoring in double figures are Joe Taylor with 15.5 and Blaine Henry with 12.7. Dave Smith continues to lead the rebounders with 9.8 per game.

One doubtful Marshall starter is Bob DePathy who suffered a slight concussion over a week ago against Bowling Green.

This game will be preceded by the first annual Intramural All-Star game between teams from the American and National Leagues.

Experience, hitting problems

By JOHN HACKWORTH
Feature writer

EDITORS NOTE: This is the first of a three-part series taking an in-depth view of the Marshall University baseball team's prospects for the upcoming 1970 season.

With only two returning regulars back from last year's 14-12-1 baseball squad, Marshall Coach Jack Cook feels that experience and hitting will be his big question marks.

Glenn Verbage, Huntington junior, and Roger Gertz, Logan senior, are back to handle second base and third base respectively. Excluding the pitching staff these are the only regulars Coach Cook will welcome back to practice, which formally starts this week.

Gertz, who has been elected team captain this season, batted .291 last year with 25 hits in 86 trips to the plate and 10 runs-batted-in.

Verbage also had a handy bat for the Herd as he hit .286 with a team high 16 RBI's and three home runs.

"Those two will be a good basis for a solid defense," Coach Cook said. "They're capable of hitting well and should do a fine job for us."

When you get past Verbage and Gertz, however, the reliable men (who have very much experience at all) get scarce.

Jim Stombeck, Huntington senior, who shared the catching chores with John Mazur, last year and Carl Ray, Huntington senior, who started the last "five or six games" for the Herd, are the only outfielders who saw any action last season.

MU will be without the services of hard-hitting Horlin Carter, who has graduated, and Gil Koury, who is not playing this season.

Coach Cook has high hopes on John Wiseman, Sissonville sophomore, to help out in the outfield. "John looks like he's going to be able to do the job," Cook said. "We're expecting great things of him; he's got what it takes."

Other hopefuls for an outfield spot are footballers John Hurst and Skip Williams, Tom Majher, Huntington freshmen and Steve Grimm, Parkersburg freshman.

Coach Cook is hopeful of Williams and Majher to help out in the hitting department. "We believe Williams can hit but we haven't been able to see anyone yet because of the net (batting) not being up," Cook commented. "Majher can help us out a lot if he hits the ball, too."

All-stars to compete

The preliminary to the Kent State game today will be played by the intramural all-star basketball selections.

The players are: American League, Dennis Blevins, Bluefield sophomore; Fred Wilson, Tuscaloosa, Ala., freshman; Kevin Gilmore, Harrison,

N.J., sophomore; Jim McFarland, Fairlawn, N.J., junior; Don Hall, McDowell, Ky., junior; Charlie Wendell, Fayetteville senior; J. C. Jones, Slab Fork freshman; Lee Lehman, Wheeling junior; Denny Humrichouser, Polk, Ohio, junior; John Snyder, South Charleston senior; Roger James, Hauppauge, N.Y., senior; Larry Sanders, Tuscaloosa, Ala., sophomore; Glen Justice, Baisden senior; Bob McClain, Mt. Hope junior; Ken Munkle, Cranford, N.J., sophomore; and coach, Walt Garnett.

National League, Glen Verbage, Huntington junior; Tom Clark, Weirton sophomore; Charles Crank, Huntington senior; Bill Crouch, Charleston junior; Bob Solada, Indianapolis, Ind., junior; Tom Rowe, Weirton sophomore; Charles Chaney, Huntington sophomore; Bill Mullnix, Huntington sophomore; Bob Wright, Williamson junior; Larry Carter, Huntington junior; Gary Kinder, Charleston senior; Roger Gertz, Huntington senior; Joel Gensler, Huntington sophomore; Curt Greenlee, Jacksonville, Fla., freshman; Mark Pope, Huntington freshman; and coach, John Ferguson, Huntington sophomore.

Game time is 5:45 p.m.

Campus briefs

INCREASE SHOWN

Enrollment at branch colleges shows an increase over the first semester with Williamson's enrollment of 265 and Logan's 447 full-time students, according to Paul Collins, director of adult education.

ELECTED OFFICERS

Newly elected officers of the Young Republicans Club are Bill Atkinson, Logan junior, president; Dewey Maynard, Huntington junior, vice president; Ron McCann, Huntington sophomore, recording secretary; Mary Jane Peddicord, Huntington sophomore, corresponding secretary, and Lee Clark, Huntington sophomore, treasurer.

Public concert scheduled tonight

A public concert will be given today at Smith Music Hall auditorium at 8:15 p.m. by the Marshall University Collegians.

The stage band concert will be directed by Professor J. D. Folsom of the music department. The free concert is open to the public.

*****
$5.00 Month Adv.
*****
ROYAL TYPEWRITERS
Budget Plan
The "rent to own" Store
Free Parking
Open Sat. all day, Mon. 'til 9
*****
Crutcher's
1701 Fifth Ave.
Ph. 525-1771
*****

Classified

FOR SALE: 1967 Skyline Mobile Home, 2 b.r., w.w. carpet, a.c., screened-in patio, situated on 85 x 100 ft., rental lot. Down payment and assume loan. Phone 736-6247 after 6 p.m.

Adv.

"Are you a tired West Virginian?"

Young people feel there is no reason to stay in West Virginia!

Marshall's Young Democrats Club will meet
Thur. 3:15 P.M. IN SMITH HALL AUDITORIUM.
U.S. senatorial CANDIDATE JOHN J. MCOWEN will speak.

Everyone concerned with the future of West Virginia must attend.

Adv.

"You can steal my girl . . . but not my Falls City Beer."

Falls City Brewing Company, Louisville, Kentucky

Reading program has light turnout

By DONNA RIFFE
Feature writer

Although there are many MU students whose reading proficiency is low, the turnout for the reading improvement program has been discouragingly light, according to Dr. Taylor Turner, director of the Reading Center.

He further explains: "I would think that the students would take the initiative to get into a program that is offered to them to improve their reading abilities. Few have. Unfortunately, some students are not as mature as they like to think they are!"

The low number of participating students is one of the main reasons the Center director has revised the reading improvement program for Marshall students. Established by Dr. Turner, the program has been in operation during the last three semesters. It has been open to all Marshall students on a voluntary basis as a non-credit course.

In an attempt to get more student involvement, the Reading Center and the Department of English are jointly going to conduct at least two sections of this reading improvement program this semester. Students involved will mainly be from certain sections of English 100 and English 101. The program has just started.

Another revision Dr. Turner would like to make would be to offer the program at another time to students, preferably before they get "bogged-down" with regular studies.

In addition to the reading improvement program, the Reading Center offers several other services to Marshall students and the community.

Two special reading programs are now in effect. According to Dr. Turner, the Center can also be a service to any student teacher needing assistance as she teaches reading.

The Center is still maintaining the reading study skills program. It is designed for students with basic reading deficiencies. "The student interest is much higher," he explains, "but the number of students that can be accepted is very restricted because of the large amount of individual instruction involved."

Another program involves elementary and secondary students from Cabell and surrounding counties. Parents, often following the advice of teachers, send their children to the Center to be diagnosed and instructed. Graduate students in the Reading Specialist Program in Education work with these children during the course of the year.

The director emphasized that there is someone at the Center during regular hours to help with specific reading problems. Located in the basement of Old Main, the Reading Center is open 8 a.m.-noon and 1 p.m.-4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Teach-in advanced

Plans for an environmental teach-in on campus April 22 are being advanced and planners hope to gain campus recognition as an official organization.

The group is writing a constitution this week and expects to submit it to Student Conduct and Welfare Committee next month, according to Jeffrey G. Nemens, assistant dean of students for activities and programs.

Once recognized as a campus organization, the teach-in would have the use of campus bulletin boards for advertising. It was also noted that the group could make a motion in the Student Senate to have classes dismissed on April 22.

It was announced at the meeting that Impact will furnish an environmentalist speaker on the morning of April 22, and there may be speakers available from Environmental Teach-In Inc. in Washington.

Plans were also discussed on the possibility of having high school students on campus for the teach-in or the presentation of programs in high schools on or before April 22.

'Grass' film tonight

The film, "Marijuana - CBS Reports", examining the use, effects, and legality of the drug, will be shown at 10 p.m. today at the Campus Christian Center. William J. Strawn, from the Counseling and Testing Center, will lead a discussion following the film.

This will be the last of the Encounter programs featuring discussions on drugs. Beginning next Wednesday the topic will be foreign policy with speakers from the political science and sociology departments.

Parthenon photo

PAM SLAUGHTER, Huntington senior, has been named to succeed Jim Wooton as student body president. Jeff Stiles, Huntington senior, president pro-tem of the senate, is the new vice president. A new president pro-tem was to have been elected Tuesday in a special session of the Student Senate.

Ad Hoc study elects

The Ad Hoc Committee for the study of a merit system met Monday to organize and initiate its study. Dr. Louis B. Jennings, professor of Bible and religion, was elected chairman.

Members of the committee from the College of Arts and Sciences include Dr. Simon D. Perry, professor of political science; William Cook, associate professor of economics; and Dr. George Ward II, professor of psychology.

Representing Teachers College were Walter C. Felty, associate professor of social studies; Dr. Bill K. Gordon, assistant professor of education; and Dr. Lawrence H. Nuzum, professor of education.

Patrick H. Morgan, assistant professor of engineering, is the committee member for the College of Applied Science.

The School of Business is represented by Dr. E. E. Browning, professor of business administration, and one-at-large member is Dr. Jennings, professor of Bible and religion.

Other officers elected included Dr. Nuzum, vice-chairman and Dr. Ward, secretary.

Adv.

PEP TALK

The Master told us there's blessings in giving, surely that pertains to everyday living.

TROY McCOY

HUNTINGTON'S FINEST DRIVE-IN THEATRE Adv.

Phone 75309

Tri-State DRIVE-IN Chesapeake, Ohio

IN-CAR HEATERS! CARTOONS • 7:00 NO. 1 AT • 7:15

Tonight - 7:15

"DAZZLING"
Once you see it, you'll never again picture 'Romeo & Juliet' quite the way you did before!"

ROMEO & JULIET
OLIVIA HUSSEY / LEONARD WHITING
MILD O'SHEA / MICHAEL YORK
JOHN McENERY

Plus Late No. 3 Show

Plus-Co-Hit-9:50

Every father's daughter is a virgin

GOODBYE, COLUMBUS
RICHARD BENJAMIN
JACK KLUGMAN

TECHNICOLOR

Plus Late "Will Penny" Charlton Heston

© Bristol-Myers Co., 1970.

How would you feel if your father smoked pot?

If it were all right with him, would it be okay with you? How okay? Anytime he's home? What about while driving? What about at work? Even if he's a pilot? If pot should be legal, can anyone smoke it? Including the President? The Supreme Court? What about your kid sister? How about your mother? Think about it.

A message to stimulate thinking from NoDoz—the pill that helps you think when you're tired.

NoDoz keep alert tablets.

Adv.