Cross-examination

KA, ZBT tie for first in campus blood drive

By CHRIS FRASER
Staff Reporter

Kappa Alpha Order and Zeta Beta Tau fraternities tied for first place in the campus blood drive competition. Both fraternities will be given a trophy.

The blood drive was termed successful by Bob Gregg, blood drive commissioner.

The majority of the donors in the past have been the ROTC companies. Gregg said fraternity participation made the drive a success.

He said 67 per cent of the members of each of the winning fraternities donated blood.

Other fraternity and sorority percentages were Lambda Chi Alpha, 62.72; Alpha Sigma Phi, 16.22; Delta Zeta, 9.33; Kappa Alpha Psi, 5.26; Phi Kappa Tau, 34.6; Tau Kappa Epsilon, 2.5; Pi Kappa Alpha, 1.25 and Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 1.11.

Sorority percentages were not calculated because many of the coeds who donated failed to register their sorority's name on the blood drive registration.

The percentages among the ROTC companies has not been calculated, so the company trophy has not been announced.

The delay in the ROTC company calculations was due to the failure of the company members to list their company title on the registration.

207 pints of blood were donated. Some 63 coeds were turned away because of health reasons.

Gregg said that 70 per cent of the blood donated will be returned to Marshall for the use of the students, employees and their immediate families. For further information, Bob Gregg may be contacted at the Zeta Beta Tau fraternity house.

FRENCH FILMS TODAY

The French Club will present a film today that includes excerpts from three different French plays. The film will be shown in Smith Hall room 334.

Election hearing now set Monday

By ANITA GARDNER
Staff Reporter

The Student Court session to hear the petition of Larry Sonis, Charleston sophomore, to nullify the March 13 election has been postponed to Monday at 5:30 p.m., according to Mike Farrell, Huntington senior and student body president.

The session was originally planned for Wednesday at 5:30 p.m. Farrell, the defense counsel, is allowed five days to prepare his case, according to the Student Government Constitution.

"It is my constitutional right to wait five days," he said, "and I intend to."

Sonis petitioned the Student Court to nullify the election results and to direct the Student Senate to call for a new general election "as soon as is practical."

The Monday session will probably be held in the Science Hall auditorium, according to Farrell.

In order to be admitted to the gallery of the Court, men must wear coats and ties and women must wear skirts, according to Chief Justice Caroline Massey, Ashland, Ky., senior.

According to Sonis, his case will contain different arguments than those presented at the previous Court session, which ruled that the March 13 election results were valid.

Diploma policy not to change

Diplomas will be given out individually at the graduation ceremonies May 26.

A poll was recently conducted to determine how graduating seniors wanted to receive their diplomas.

According to Nick McGrath, senior class president and Huntington senior, 200 seniors were polled. In the poll 55 per cent voted to retain the present system of handing out diplomas individually, while 45 per cent voted to change the present system.

Campus construction, destruction is heavy

Marshall is now experiencing its "ups and downs" in campus construction.

Going "up" on campus are a number of building projects and they are "coming along splendidly," according to Joseph S. Soto, vice president of business and finance.

Twin Tower Dormitory, an $8.8 million structure that will house 500 students, is on schedule and due for completion by September, 1969.

Hodges and Laidley Halls are expected to be completed by September, 1968.

James Morrow Library, recently opening the new south entrance, will be completed by midsummer.

Future plans for construction include the $600,000 communications building and the $4 million engineering-science building. These two projects are part of a $24 million capital improvements program for the nine state colleges and universities.

The "downs" on MU's campus are occurring on 5th Avenue east of Elm Street. Houses in this area are being torn down to make way for the new student center. Bond sales for the building will begin in April.

Choice '68--presidential poll is April 24

By SUZANNE MADDOX
Staff Reporter

A few weeks ago there were only a few announced candidates for the office of President of the United States; but the number is increasing. Who will be our new leader?

Just as Marshall experienced a controversial election, so will the United States experience one of the most unique elections in its history. Next month, voters will be deciding on their presidential preference. But, who are the voters?

The voters are a large group of young people known as college students. April 24, more than two million students on two hundred campuses will participate in the National Collegiate Presidential Primary, commonly termed Choice '68.

Voting will take place in the Student Union on IBM card ballots, according to Randy White, Scott Depot senior and Choice '68 coordinator. Each student is to select three aspirants in order of preference. The list will include all announced and possible candidates regardless of party affiliation.

There will also be a poll on three issues of current interest, including Vietnam.

Choice '68 is sponsored by "Time" magazine. The results will be tabulated and published in "Time."

The name of George Romney, governor of Michigan, will not appear on the Choice '68 ballot.

The project's Board of Directors decided that Romney's Feb. 28 withdrawal from the presidential race left little alternative but to comply with the spirit of the governor's announcement, according to Jim Roy, national coordinator.

Romney's withdrawal from the race reduces the number of Choice '68 candidates to 13. Roy said that the governor's political philosophy of moderate liberalism remains well represented by other candidates on the ballot.

Northeastern University in Boston, Mass., was the first college in the nation to vote in the Choice '68 election.

On Feb. 16, more than 2,500 of 4,000 Northeastern students participated in the collegiate primary. Leroy Wheelock Jr., student body president, termed the turnout percentage "larger than any other election that we can recall."

Northeastern is on a cooperative quarter system — 13 weeks of class, 13 weeks of actual career work, followed by another 13 weeks of study. The unusually early election was held to give those students leaving for the second quarter work period an opportunity to vote.

Their ballots will be counted simultaneously with those of their classmates who will vote on April 24, the date Choice '68 will be held nationwide.

Senior earns extra money

Coed's art featured in newsletter

By SUZANNE MADDOX
Feature Writer

A Clendenin senior earns extra money by doing sketches for the telephone company.

Beverly White's "washes" are not the usual kind — they are of the artistic variety. A wash is a drawing done in varying values of color intensity. Miss White prefers doing washes in ink.

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. uses the washes with feature stories in its monthly newsletter, West Virginia Call. The drawings depict historical scenes of West Virginia. Miss White was featured in one issue.

Last summer Miss White worked in C&P's art layout department. She has done various kinds of drawing and art work for them since May.

"We have had numerous requests for her work from readers," said Michael Stott, editor of West Virginia Call. Joseph Gluck, West Virginia University dean of students, requested a sketch of the Forks-of-Cheat Baptist Church to illustrate his Christmas cards.

"I do the sketches to scale from photographs. The finished drawing is a composite of several photos and the information in the article," explained Miss White.

Miss White, a member of Kappa Pi, art honorary, and Phi Mu sorority, is presently doing her student teaching in art at West Junior High School. After graduation in May she plans to work toward a Masters degree.

Art exhibits set

Two senior art exhibitions will be on display during April and May in Smith Hall first floor student lounge. The exhibit opening April 8 will feature works by Ginger Richardson Stone.

A general art display will open May 6, featuring the works of Charles Evans, Clyde Collins, William Hagy, Mary Runyon, Jan Suttle, and Thomas Reddell.

BEVERLY WHITE

Medal awarded to MU graduate

Army Capt. Arthur S. Brant has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal with two Oak Leaf Clusters for "meritorious achievement in connection with military operations against a hostile force."

Captain Brant is a supply officer with the 173rd Support Battalion in Vietnam. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Brant of 2159 Donald Ave. and his wife is Peggy Brant.

Captain Brant is a graduate of St. Joseph's Central Catholic High School and Marshall University where he was a ROTC member.

Student work is 'beneficial'

"Student teaching is definitely a new experience," says Patsy Tincher, Hurricane senior, "but it is a very worthwhile and rewarding one."

"I believe that the practical application is much more beneficial than just sitting in class."

"One of the hardest things to get used to is getting up early and going all day long until four o'clock and knowing that you have to be there no matter what" said Miss Tincher.

"My biggest complaint," said Paul Dotson, Pikeville, Ky. senior, "is that the seminars break up the teaching week. Besides it seems that only a few dominate the seminars and the others are just losing time."

"Jack Rowe, Weirton senior, teaching at Huntington High School, believes that "being in the teachers position is an entirely new situation that takes several days to get used to."

"My only complaint," said Rowe, "is that we don't get paid for all of our work."

It's the PANT LOOK

By CAROLINE PENLAND
Fashion Editor

A new and sporty look for summer is the PANT LOOK. There is an exciting look for every occasion where casual or sports wear is a necessity, no matter if it's those playful hours of summer or those long hot days in a classroom.

The pant look comes in a variety of colors and styles. Popular colors for summer are apple green, lemon, tangerine, bone, chocolate, black/white or blue/white.

Fabrics in cotton and cotton blends in windowpane plaids, checks, stripes both horizontal and vertical, and dotted swiss help to give the pantdress not only a sporty look but make caring for them easier.

Styles in the pantdress include capped sleeves with dropped waistlines and an inverted pleat in front to give a dress appearance to the pantdress.

Pantskirts or culottes make quite a country set when combined with the newest outlook in blouses — the body shirt.

This new look in fashion not only comes in one piece style but also as a mini-type dress with detachable short shorts to give a different effect to the pant rage.

For the most comfortable new trend in fashion the pantdress is probably the most suitable of all.

LYNNE YOUNG, Huntington freshman, is wearing more of a dress look in the pantdress style.

CATHY HINER, Huntington junior, finds an apple green pant-skirt and matching body shirt great for not only school but also for sporty events.

RUTH ANN CORNELL, Huntington sophomore, models a one-piece pantdress in a windowpane plaid of chocolate/white with matching cap.

Pike phone-a-rama termed worthy event

What is the Pike phone-a-rama?

"It's a congregation of various fraternity members who from 7:30 p.m. until midnight every Tuesday night call members of the opposite sex for various honorable reasons," according to Mike Watts, vice president of Pi Kappa Alpha and Kenova sophomore.

The phone-a-rama is held in the "Pike Cave," the basement of the fraternity house, with an average of 10 members of the fraternity participating.

The purpose of these phone calls is to promote campus relationships with girls, provide mutual non-serious conversation and to meet new women.

It is not a prank, according to John Bodo, Logan junior and president of the fraternity. All participating members are required to give their correct name.

Reactions to the phone calls are sometimes amusing, said Bodo. Some girls believe it is a prank call and pretend to be busy but usually a new acquaintance is made.

Phone-a-rama's of the past two weeks have resulted in the participating members meeting at least 30 women. In turn, each woman called has had the opportunity to meet 10 members of the Pike fraternity, since each member involved speaks to every woman called.

Often jokes are exchanged, said Bodo. An example of a phone-a-rama joke would be: "Why are football stadiums so cold?" Answer: "There is a fan in every seat."

"The phone-a-rama is a worthy event that is presently in a fad stage that may catch on," said Bodo.

"If you're a girl, remember, the Pi Kappa Alpha phone-a-rama will be calling you."

Rifles unit to compete

Pershing Rifles will attend a regimental drill meet this weekend at Columbus, Ohio. They will compete against 15 other companies from Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky.

The results of this competition and the regimental inspection held last weekend will determine the winner of the best company in the regiment. The three top companies from each battalion in the Tri-State Area are Marshall, John Carroll University in Cleveland, and University of Cincinnati.

The companies will also be competing for the best improved company in the regiment which will be decided at the end of the drill competition. It will be based on drill improvement, inspection, correspondence, and company activity within the past year.

Marshall's Pershing Rifles are being considered for this award by a recommendation from Third Battalion Commander Lt. Col. Roger Petrie, senior at Ohio University.

Right now you are probably not too concerned about "borrowing" or "collateral," yet in a few years you may need money for a down payment on a home, or for a business opportunity. Holley and Harris to open against Tech

By GREG CARANNANTE
Sports Writer

Marshall opens its 1968 baseball season at 1:30 p.m. today at St. Cloud's Field in a double-header with West Virginia Tech.

Jack Cook, head baseball coach, said that his diamond-nine are "physically ready." They have had indoor practice since Jan. 6 but have only practiced outside four times.

One of the team's bright spots this year is a well-rounded pitching staff. Returning from last year's 11-12 squad are southpaw, Paul Holley, Huntington junior; Tom Harris, Huntington senior, and Steve Miller, Proctorville, Ohio junior.

The three seniors on the team are Bob Lemley and Bob Dillon, Huntington, and Walt Garnett, Beckley.

Jim Heal, head coach of Tech, has ten lettermen back from last year's 9-4 southern divisions champs. All-conference pitcher

Heal is concerned with his pitching and his catching depth. Left-hander Terry Poling and right-hander Leon Franklin will be probable pitchers for today's games.

Other probable starters are catcher, Chet Maciorowski; first baseman, either Bob Temple or Poling; second baseman, Tom Kidd; third baseman, Dennis Engroff or Golden Adkins; shortstop, John Linkous, and outfielders, Tim Farmer, Doug Hirneisen and Gerry Angyel.

Coach Cook said that he would like to relieve his starting pitchers, Holley and Harris, after the first four or five innings, if possible.

Holley, a fast ball and curve ball pitcher, has been having arm trouble but he says that it is "coming around all right now."

"Holley has a good curve. He can throw it any time and get it over," Coach Cook added.

St. Cloud's Commons is located on 19th Street West and Jackson Avenue.

Coach Mike Fullerton will introduce his freshman baseball team April 20 when they visit Ohio University for a double-header.

The frosh schedule includes double-headers with Marietta College, April 27; Ohio University, May 8, and a tentative game with Morris Harvey, May 11.

Redd, Stone picked for north squad on sports all-star team

Marshall and West Virginia University players may meet on the basketball court yet. Bob Redd and George Stone have been chosen to play on the North squad of the third annual Operation Sports All-Star basketball game to be played at Charlotte, N. C., April 11. Ron Williams of WVU will be playing on the South team.

Players were selected by coaches and scouts of the National Basketball Association.

Playing with Redd and Stone will be Elvin Hayes and Don Chaney of Houston, Glen Combs of Virginia Tech, Wesley Unseld of Louisville, Bill D'Angelis of St. Joseph's (Pa.), Thad Jaracz of Kentucky and Art Beaty of American University of Baltimore. The tenth man on the squad is expected to be either Walt Piatkowski of Bowling Green or Tom Boerwinkle of Tennessee.

"I really feel honored to be among those chosen to play," Bob Redd said. "I really can't say how much of an honor it is."

Stone's comment: "The competition will be tough, but it will be great to play with this caliber of player."
