Humphrey not expected to disclose plans

By NANCY HINCHMAN
Staff Reporter

The possibility that Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey would announce his presidential candidacy here during IMPACT week appears remote.

Humphrey aide Martin McNamara, contacted Monday by The Parthenon, said, "He (Humphrey) will definitely not announce his candidacy in Huntington." It was speculated that Humphrey would announce his expected candidacy in West Virginia because during the 1960 campaign he had left the presidential race in this state.

The vice president will be accompanied to Huntington by Mrs. Humphrey. They will arrive at Tri-State Airport at 3:20 p.m. Wednesday.

An official greeting party for the vice president will be comprised of President and Mrs.

Stewart H. Smith, Governor and Ms. Hulett C. Smith, Miss Jane Clay, student body president; Jim Slicer, IMPACT coordinator, and state and county officials.

Miss Clay will present Mrs. Humphrey with a bouquet, and the vice president is expected to make a short talk.

According to Slicer, Marshall students are encouraged to go to the airport to greet the vice president and Mrs. Humphrey. Five buses will leave the Science Hall parking lot at 2:15 p.m. Wednesday. Any students wishing to go to the airport may board these buses. Marshall cheerleaders and pep band will be at the airport. Slicer said he would like to have at least 500 students there.

Following a motorcade to Huntington the vice president will go to WSAZ to tape an At Issue program to be televised Sunday, according to a spokesman for the vice president. Mrs. Humphrey will be guest of honor at a press tea in the Satellite Room of the Uptowner Inn.

Both the vice president and Mrs. Humphrey will attend a private reception at the Uptowner for West Virginia delegates to the Democratic Convention and the press.

The vice president will appear at Gullickson Hall at 7 p.m. for a scheduled panel discussion, "The American Dream: Fulfillment or Failure?"

Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey will leave Huntington at approximately 9 p.m.

IMPACT week will continue on Thursday with a speech at 11 a.m. in Old Main Auditorium by Dr. Lester Kirkendall. "The New Morality: Ethical Responsibility or Moral Decay?" will be Dr. Kirkendall's topic.

"The Great Society: Boom or Bust?" will be the topic of Ervin Duggan, presidential advisor, when he speaks at 11 a.m. Friday on the Student Union lawn.

Max Lerner, author and columnist, will also speak Friday. He will talk on "Pax Americana: War or Peace?" at 7 p.m. in Old Main Auditorium.

Saturday, poet Allen Ginsberg will be speaking on the lawn of the Student Union at 1 p.m. His topic will be "Free Expression in America: Fact or Fiction?"

Comedian Dick Gregory will speak at 4 p.m. Saturday on the Student Union lawn. He will discuss "Black Power: Revolution or Evolution?"

The Mitchell Trio will appear at Gullickson Hall at 8 p.m. Saturday to culminate IMPACT 1968. Tickets for the concert are on sale on the Student Union lawn. Tickets are $1.

"The Barfenon Revue" opened Monday at 8:15 p.m. at Fraternal Hall. The series of satirical skits will continue every night this week at 8 p.m. except Friday when there will be two performances at 7 and 9 p.m.

Charles Billings, associate professor of speech, is director of the show. According to Professor Billings, the skits are about everyday happenings on campus and in our nation. There are skits about the Student Union, The Parthenon, Viet Nam, and the political situation.

"The Barfenon Revue" was written by Marshall students. The students have been working on the program for approximately four weeks.

Tickets are $1 and may be bought at the door or from students on campus.

Advanced registering is May 1-10

Advanced registration for fall semester 1968 will be May 1-10, Registrar Luther E. Bledsoe announced today.

Fall semester schedules will be available in the registrar's office May 1.

Mr. Bledsoe outlined these steps for pre-registering students:

—Report to your adviser to have your schedule approved.

—Report to the Cashier's Office to give them a record of your pre-registration and to give them your billing address. This office must stamp the schedule before it can be accepted.

—Turn schedule in at Old Main 1-B with a self-addressed envelope to receive a copy of the schedule.

—Students receiving loans or scholarships must report to the Financial Aid Office to have schedules validated. Charles Kautz, assistant athletic director, will validate schedules of students receiving athletic scholarships.

Regular registration will be Sept. 13-14 in Gullickson Hall for returning undergraduates.

Late registration will begin Sept. 16, the first day of classes, and continue through Sept. 21. A $10 late fee will be charged on the first day of late registration and an additional dollar will be charged each succeeding day of late registration.

Resident tuition remains $121 while the non-resident fee is $421, a $75 increase over the previous semester. Deadline for fees payment is Aug. 9.

Living expenses in all University resident halls are the same as this semester.

KA winner in raft race

Kappa Alpha Order placed first in the off-campus competition at the Third Annual Pi Kappa Phi Chi Drum Regatta, Saturday at West Virginia Tech. The team received a trophy and $100.

Lambda Chi Alpha, which placed third in the off-campus competition, won the $15 prize for the crew best dressed in the required costumes of pirate or Huckleberry Finn outfits.

In the over-all competition, Kappa Alpha Order placed third and the Lambda Chi Alpha placed sixth.

Greek heroics

Pikes first in Greek games

By ANN JOHNSTON
Society Editor

Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity, totaling a record number of points, won first place Saturday in the Greek games, the annual Greek Week's main event.

Tau Kappa Epsilon finished second followed by Kappa Alpha Order, Lambda Chi Alpha, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Alpha Sigma Phi and Zeta Beta Tau. Three groups did not participate.

The most colorful event, the chariot race Saturday morning up Fourth Avenue from Twelfth to Sixteenth Street, proved to be exhausting to the men pulling the self-built vehicles as several collapsed during or following the race. The only passenger inside the chariot was each fraternity's president.

Saturday night at the Greek dance, Ed Deane, Huntington junior and Intrafraternity Council president, and Barbara Ferrell, Huntington junior and president of Panhellenic Council, presented the Outstanding Greek awards.

Winners of the plaque and laurel wreaths were Ann Debussey, Alpha Chi Omega; Jane Meisel, Alpha Sigma Alpha; Linda Pepper, Alpha Xi Delta; Linda Shoemaker, Delta Zeta; Joy Cloer, Phi Mu; Doris Wright, Sigma Kappa, and Caroline Massey, Sigma Sigma Sigma.

Fraternities selections included Ed Avant, Alpha Sigma Phi; Bill Leith, Kappa Alpha Order; John Kinney, Kappa Alpha Psi; Paul Matheny, Lambda Chi Alpha; Jim MacCallum, Pi Kappa Alpha; Jim Boggess, Phi Kappa Tau; David Greathouse, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Charley Kincaid, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Kyle Fossum, Tau Kappa Epsilon, and Bob Salsitz, Zeta Beta Tau.

At the games, the Pikes won the top spot in the cross-country race, bicycle relay, football throw and shuttle relay.

Takes won the tug-of-war, the first time the Pikes have ever been defeated in this event, and the golf-shot winner was the KAs.

Lambda Chis took two first places: the 100-yard dash and barrel relay.

SAEs won the chariot race, Alpha Sigs the chug-a-lug and third-place winners of the chariot race were the Zebras.

Senators in variety of actions

By ANITA GARDNER

Four motions and three resolutions, including one concerning human relations, were passed by Student Senate Thursday evening.

The human relations resolution, presented by Sen. Robert Nuzum, Huntington freshman, requested "that a special Senate committee be formed to make a comprehensive study of interpersonal relations, and suggest constructive legislation to contribute to a disintegration of those barriers which would inhibit full social interaction and cause interracial friction."

Carey Foy, Huntington junior and student body vice president, said that the Senate committee could work with the present Human Relations Committee.

The other legislation, all presented by Sen. Nick McGrath, Huntington senior, and Gregg Terry, Huntington junior, dealt with a contract for singer Dionne Warwick, asking for more money for Student Government, organizing a conference of state-supported schools, expanding the number of paperback books in the Bookstore, expressing appreciation to the IMPACT committee, and supporting peace talks on Viet Nam.

Senator Terry moved that an attempt be made to contract for Miss Warwick for Sept. 28, 1968, as a fund-raising project for Student Government and "an initial step toward providing quality social entertainment."

Senator McGrath moved that Joseph S. Soto, vice president of business and finance, be requested to appear before Senate to report on the Student Activity Fee and the possibilities of more money being channeled from that fee to support Student Government programs.

Senator Terry's resolution urged the student body president to convene a late spring conference of the state-supported institutions of higher education to present a plan to the West Virginia State Legislature at its January, 1969, session, concerning higher education in the state.

McGrath moved that the Bookstore "expand the number of paperback books to a reasonable number satisfactory to a center of learning, and receive lists of suggested readings from each of

Today's writing convocation topic

By HELEN MORRIS
Staff Reporter

"The bold writer of today is the one who writes a book without a four-letter word," Dr. Duncan Williams, associate professor of English, said at last Thursday's special convocation.

He quoted T. S. Eliot as saying, "A writer of fiction affects us profoundly." He pointed out that Plato would throw the poet and creative writer out of the republic because they would corrupt the youth.

"Man is what he considers himself to be. He is profoundly affected by the image of himself projected to him in literature and drama. He molds himself to fit that image."

He said the modern novel "is permitted by the anti-hero."

He deplored the growing violence and animalism in today's literature and drama.

He thought it was a significant commentary on America that when Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. was shot, the movie "Bonnie and Clyde" was being nominated for "Best Picture of the Year."

"The problems confronting America are problems of the soul . . . We will continue towards anarchy if we do not find an ideal."

Dr. Shiv K. Kumar, visiting professor of English, in presenting his side of the question, "Contemporary Literature: Culture or Anarchy?", said "We are passing through an age."

He sees the contemporary writer as "bolder, characterized with a new vision of life."

According to Dr. Kumar, the contemporary writer carries the protagonist through a series of events, most of which end in "a positive view of life."

Dr. Kumar has book published

"Critical Approaches to Fiction" by Dr. Shiv K. Kumar, visiting professor of English literature from Osmania University at Hyderabad, India, and Professor Keith McKean of Elmira College has been published recently.

According to Dr. Kumar and Professor McKean, the book has grown out of their experience teaching English to college students. They said that most students lack the background and necessary critical tools to understand fiction. They said that most instructors try to fill this gap by lecturing or recommending favorite critical articles, but that this is not enough.

The book, a collection of 26 essays, is designed to give students a better understanding of the various aspects of fiction—plot, character, language, theme, setting, and technique.

The essays have been selected to appeal to students at all levels. The beginning student should find an exciting introduction to the world of critical thought and the more advanced student should find familiar subjects treated in a fresh and subtle way, according to Dr. Kumar and Professor McKean.

Copies are now available in the bookstore.

He said "The Wasteland" is basically spiritual."

"'Bonnie and Clyde' progresses on two levels." He saw it as "an attempt to make these two characters achieve confirmation. . . . The film progresses from lovelessness to acceptance of love."

"If we have a little violence, that makes life more exciting."

"The situation is not so hopeless. God is not dead, but neither do I believe that 'God's in His heaven, All's right with the world.'"

Festival of music May 9-11

Zeta Eta chapter of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, national music honorary, will sponsor the first annual Contemporary Music Festival May 9, 10, and 11.

The festival will be highlighted by the Student Composition Contest, in which original compositions submitted by music students will be judged.

The four finalists in the contest are: Brian Cordle, Ashland, Ky., junior; Ronald Horton, Princeton sophomore; Paul Jennings, Portsmouth, Ohio, sophomore, and Gerald Stewart, Mason junior.

The finalists were determined by a committee composed of Alfred W. Blatter, assistant professor of music; Dr. Paul Balshaw, assistant professor of music, and Dale Capehart, Ceredo-Kenova senior and member of Phi Mu Alpha.

The compositions will be performed at 4:15 p.m. May 10 at the American Music Concert, a part of the festival. Contest judge is Karl Kroeger, assistant professor of music at Ohio University and guest composer.

A first prize of $50 will be awarded the winner.

Events included in the festival are a concert in Evelyn Hollberg Smith Recital Hall May 9 at 8:15 p.m. The Symphonic Band and the Madrigal Singers will perform at the concert.

As one of its selections, the Symphonic Band will play "Variations on a Theme of Billings," by Mr. Kroeger.

"The Composer in Contemporary America," a lecture by Mr. Kroeger, will be held in Room 143 of the Music Hall May 10 at 3 p.m.

The American Music Concert will be held May 10 at 4:15 p.m. in Recital Hall. Mr. Kroeger will play a solo following the concert.

At 9:30 a.m. May 11 a panel discussion will be held in Room 143 of the Music Hall. The topic of the discussion will be "Performing Problems of Contemporary Music for the Public School Teacher."

An editorial

Students to determine success of IMPACT

IMPACT Week, which started Monday and continues through Saturday, promises to be one of the most eventful, exciting, and stimulating weeks ever at Marshall.

Slated for the program are nationally-known speakers in fields pertinent and vital to a college community.

Lester Kirkendall, Ervin Duggan, Max Lerner, Dick Gregory, Allen Ginsberg, and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey will speak on topics ranging from freedom of expression to foreign policy.

It goes almost without saying that the coordinator and staff of the IMPACT planning committee have spent long hours in preparing this program. Needless to say, it will be expensive.

Their main objective is to stimulate; their main goal, to raise and attempt to answer important questions.

Making this program successful depends not on the committee now, but on the students. It is you who must be present at the talks, discussions, and lectures.

the departments and make every attempt to secure these books."

McGrath also moved that Jim Slicer, Huntington junior and IMPACT coordinator, and his committee be sent a letter of gratitude for their "tremendous effort" in the organization of the program.

Finally, Terry presented a resolution that the Senate support the recent proposals of the United States for peace talks concerning Viet Nam.

Choice '68 vote here tomorrow

Students will have a chance to express their preference for presidential candidates Wednesday in the Choice '68 presidential poll. Voting will be from 7:45 a.m. to 5:15 p.m. in the Student Union basement.

The names of 13 candidates will appear on the ballot as well as policies on which students can express their opinions.

Candidates on the ballot will be Fred Halstead, Mark O. Hatfield, Lyndon B. Johnson, Robert F. Kennedy, Martin L. King, John V. Lindsay, Eugene J. McCarthy, Richard M. Nixon, Charles H. Percy, Ronald W. Reagan, Nelson A. Rockefeller, Harold E. Stassen and George C. Wallace.

Policies to be voted on are (1) What course of military action should the U. S. pursue in Vietnam? (2) What course of action should the U. S. pursue in regard to the bombing of North Vietnam? and (3) In confronting the "urban crisis" which of the following should receive higher priority in government spending: education, housing, income subsidy, job training and employment opportunities, riot control or stricter law enforcement.

The Choice '68 poll, underwritten by Time magazine, is being conducted on nearly 1,500 college campuses which represent more than 75 per cent of the nation's total college enrollment. The ballot is a specially perforated punched computer card. Results will be published in Time.

Herd picks up first win, loss in MAC

Falcons beat Herd by 12-2

By TIM BUCEY
Co-Sports Editor

"I waited a year to play them and still blew it."

That was what a disappointed Paul Holley had to say after dropping his second game of the season by a 12-2 score to Bowling Green Saturday at St. Clouds Commons.

The big left-hander hadn't forgot that last season the Falcons nipped Marshall with a ninth inning rally that eventually cost the Herd third place in the conference.

But as it turned out it just wasn't Holley's day. Bowling Green jumped on him for six runs in the first inning, two of them unearned due to throwing errors by third baseman Roger Gertz.

"I felt good out there," Holley said. "While I was warming up I thought I had all my stuff working for me but when I got out there, I guess I didn't have anything."

The Herd's pitching ace lasted only two-thirds of an inning, giving up four hits, including a home run to his mound opponent and winning pitcher Bill Becker, who evened his record at 2-2. Holley is 4-2.

Hitting was once again Marshall's problem as they got only six hits in the contest, including two by catcher John Mazur. Carl Hewlett, who relieved Gary Stobart in the sixth inning, powered his first home run of the season in the seventh inning. Marshall's other run was scored in the second inning when Mazur tripled and scored on a fly ball.

Becker struck out ten while going the route and walked three.

"He had a good curve ball that he used most of the time," second baseman Bob Lemley said, "but overall their pitching wasn't any better than any of the other teams we've faced this year. The difference was they hit the ball and we didn't."

In the conference Marshall is tied for third with a 1-1 record and is 12-4 overall, which is the best overall mark of any team in the MAC. Bowling Green is 1-3 in the conference and 8-6-1 in all games.

The Herd will be at the University of Kentucky today and Holley may get another start in that game. This weekend the Herd is back home against the University of Toledo.

Baseball team seeks 13th win today at UK

The MU baseball team will seek its 13th win of the year today when it plays the University of Kentucky at Lexington, Ky.

Herd Coach Jack Cook was undecided as to who would be his starting pitcher. He said he would probably go with either Paul Holley, Carl Hewlett or Gary Stobart.

"I don't know much about UK," Coach Cook said. "I only know that they beat Auburn twice last week."

"Their (UK) record hasn't been too good, but since Auburn is suppose to be strong this year, they must be coming into their own."

Ohio State wins invitational

MU golfers placed fifth Saturday

By DONNIE SCAGGS
Sports Writer

Marshall's golf team finished fifth Saturday at Ohio State against Ohio State, Michigan State, Indiana, Purdue, and Illinois, all from the Big Ten Conference.

Ohio won their invitational on their 7,100-yard course. Indiana finished second, seven strokes behind the host team, with a 388-377-765. Purdue placed third with a 393-385-778. Michigan State placed fourth with a 385-399-784.

Marshall finished fifth, 35 strokes behind the Buckeye hosts with a 406-387-793. The only team Marshall defeated was Illinois which finished sixth with 411-405-816.

"We could have played better," Golf Coach Buddy Gaham said. "Injuries and sickness to the boys hurt us." Brecht Peoples, the team's sixth man, injured his wrist and was unable to play. "We don't know how long it will take before Brecht will be able to play," Gaham said, "he really wants to play again." Frank Sexton and Mike High were recovering from colds and were not up to their usual ability.

Ken Bowen, team captain, shot MU's low score with a 78-75-153 which placed him seventh among individual scorers. Frank Sexton, MU's number one man, finished 14th in the 36-hole tournament with 79-76-155.

Other Marshall scores were: Mike High, 78-79-157; Jeff Billie, 85-77-162; Marc Sprouse, 86-84-170 and Vernon Wright, 86-80-166.

"Saturday's match was good practice for our upcoming Marshall Invitational," Gaham said.

The Marshall Invitational will be played Friday and Saturday at Guyan Golf and Country Club and Spring Valley Golf Course.

Participating in the invitational will be Dayton, Miami of Ohio, Western Michigan, Ohio University, Morehead, Xavier, Louisville, Eastern Kentucky and possibly the University of Kentucky. Marshall is now two and two in the MAC.

Stone offered pro contract

George Stone, Covington, Ky., senior, has confirmed that he has been offered a contract to play basketball for the Los Angeles Stars of the American Basketball Association.

Stone, who was recently honored as the Most Valuable Player of the North-South all-star

Herd defeats BeeGee's, 3-2

By TOM MURDOCK
Co-Sports Editor

The Thundering Herd baseball team picked up its 12th victory Friday afternoon at the expense of the Bowling Green Falcons of the Mid-American Conference.

The Falcons, who were 0-2 in the conference, scored runs in the first and fourth innings to have a 2-1 lead going into the bottom of the ninth.

MU tied the score at two all and pushed home the winning run on a single by Gary Stobart in the 11th inning.

The 3-2 victory partially eased the bitter defeat that Herd pitcher Tom Harris received last season at Bowling Green. However, the senior hurler was not around to pick-up the win after pitching 10 innings.

"I was getting my curve ball over," said Harris, "but I didn't really rely on it until the later innings."

Although Harris was not around at the end, he did not have any regrets.

"The main thing," he said, "is that we won."

Trailing 2-1 in the bottom of the ninth, Herd third baseman Roger Gertz came to the plate. John Mazur, the Herd catcher, was on third base with one out. Gertz tried a squeeze bunt and missed the ball. Mazur then appeared trapped in a run-down between third and home. He somehow managed to get back to the third base bag without being tagged out.

Gertz then tried another squeeze bunt and missed the ball again. The Falcon catcher dropped the ball and Mazur, who had been rushing toward home, slid over the plate with the tying run.

"We were lucky to win that one," said Gertz. "I don't know what happened, I missed that ball twice."

The winning blow then came as Stobart hit a hot-shot ground ball to the shortstop. Horlin Carter raced home from second with the winning run.

"It's sure nice to win games like that," said a happy Coach Jack Cook after the game. "But what a way to make a living!"

According to Coach Cook, the best thing about the win was seeing that we can score with just any of them up there."

Club visits space center

By ELLEN LAING
Feature Writer

A $200 grant from the Bendix Foundation enabled part of the Physics Club to visit the Marshall Space Flight Center, division of NASA, at Huntsville, Ala.

The club received the grant after submitting a paper describing their project on "Measuring Color Indices of Selected Globular Clusters" to the Bendix Foundation. The Foundation gives grants to outstanding student sections of the American Institute of Physics for completing various projects.

The Physics Club has also used the funds to buy parts and build electronic gear to complete their astronomical project. According to Charlie Miller, Huntington senior and club president, the project uses sophisticated electronic equipment to replace the human eye in taking critical measurements of the brightness of stars — photoelectric photometry.

The club has been working on this project since January, when the grant was received. Miller explained that the completion of a modified telescope gave the club the Bendix grant. The project was a group proposal and the idea was submitted to Bendix so money would be available to complete the project.

Miller explained that the club's purpose in going to Huntsville was to talk with several men who are interested in the project. Dr. Parnell, a former Marshall physics professor now working for NASA at the Marshall Space Flight Center, discussed the project with the group. Harry Adkins, head of the astrophysics section of the Space Flight Center, was also consulted.

Miller will be working with him during the summer on a similar project.

Campus briefs

ALPHA DELTA ELECTS

The winner of the television given away by Alpha Delta Advertising Honorary is Nick McGrath, Huntington senior. Newly elected officers of Alpha Delta for next year are President Ed Hofmann, Parkersburg junior; Vice President Dee Goldberg, Dunbar junior; and Secretary-Treasurer Rick Douthitt, Huntington junior.

FACULTY HOUSING

A new building will soon be under construction at 1610 6th Ave. for housing Marshall faculty members. B. C. Jones of Point Pleasant will construct the 12-unit structure. Each unit will have two bedrooms, furnished kitchens and air conditioning. Six of them will have fireplaces and some will have wall-to-wall carpeting. Completion date is set for September 1.

150 TAKE EXAM

One hundred and fifty students took the English Qualifying Exam April 20, according to Dr. Jack Brown, professor of English. Dr. Brown also said that there was no picketing during the time of the exam.

KAPPA DELTA PI

Kappa Delta Pi, education honorary, will meet Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the North Parlor of Old Main. Miss Carolyn Jones will speak on "Creativity in Art" Mrs. Philip Modlin, chairman of the music committee, will present the musical selections. Plans will be made concerning the annual spring banquet.

SENATE SEATS AVAILABLE

The senior class has four vacant senate seats available. Two of the vacancies have resulted from lack of attendance at meetings and the other two have resulted from a new constitutional change. Interested persons should apply at the Student Government office.

ASSEMBLY MEETS TONIGHT

The second meeting of the John Marshall Assembly will be in Room 154 of Smith Hall from 7:30 to 9 p.m. today. The discussion topic is "The Student Body At Marshall University Should Be Given Significantly More Voice in Administrative Policy."

Six students get geology survey work

Five geology majors and one geography major were appointed by South Dakota Geological Survey to exploratory field positions which will begin early in June, according to Dr. R. E. Janssen, geology department chairman.

Survey work will involve drilling, mapping and exploring for sources of underground water in various parts of South Dakota. It will be supervised by Darrell I. Leap, associate geologist. Mr. Leap was graduated in geology from Marshall in 1960.

Financial aid date set

Pre-registration for students who want financial aid next fall will be May 1-10, according to George Fraley, director of financial aid.

The following procedure must be performed by students receiving financial aid: (1) the student must have his schedule approved by his advisor; (2) the student brings his schedule to Mr. Fraley for his approval; (3) registration is continued by taking schedule to the cashier's office; (4) a letter of reply must be sent to the financial aid office by Aug. 1 stating that the student will attend school next fall.

If for any reason the student decides not to attend next fall, he must withdraw from school himself and notify the financial aid office. If this procedure is not followed, the student will receive FIW's and will be billed for a portion of his tuition fee.

A letter of instruction containing pre-registration information will be sent to all students receiving financial aid.
