Low Funds May Freeze Enrollment

More Money Needed--Smith

By SAM NEAL
Feature Writer

President Stewart H. Smith, appearing on WSAZ-TV's "At Issue" program last weekend said Marshall may soon have to freeze enrollment.

He said, "Either we receive more money to provide instructors and services that are needed, or we will have to serve a smaller number of students." Dr. Smith emphasized that limiting the enrollment at Marshall is "the last thing we would want to do."

Appearing on the telecast with Dr. Smith was Dr. Stewart Allen, vice president of academic affairs. Dr. Allen estimated the school may have an enrollment increase of more than a thousand students next year, with the bulk of the increase in the freshman class.

In conjunction with this, Dr. Smith said that the university will be about 700 rooms short of meeting the housing requirements this fall. That's about 1400 students. He added that a special plea will be made to the citizens of Huntington to house university students.

Most of the half-hour news program consisted of discussion on the financial situation confronting universities in West Virginia, with particular emphasis on Marshall, and how this affected the students. One of the money problems pointed out by Dr. Smith concerned the branch colleges at Logan and Williamson which Marshall operates. He observed that because the branches must be self supporting, the students attending there must pay a high tuition.

Dr. Smith said that it was his belief the state should subsidize the education of students at branch colleges just as it does the education of students at Marshall and other state institutions by paying part of the costs.

When asked by the panel of newsmen about the effectiveness of branch colleges, Dr. Allen pointed out that nearly 95 per cent of branch college students either expect to or are going to a four-year college, which is a much higher percentage than college-age persons living in cities that don't have a branch college.

One reporter put this question to Dr. Smith, "was Marshall interested in getting the West Virginia World's Fair Pavilion?" Dr. Smith's answer was an emphatic, "NO!"

Senate Adopts Resolutions Proposed By Larry Sonis

By DOTTIE KNOLL
Staff Reporter

Freshman Senator Larry Sonis from Charleston, in his attempt to arouse campus interest in Student Government managed to have all four of his resolutions adopted at last Wednesday's senate meeting.

Senate also accepted one of two motions made by Sonis for the establishment of committees and one of three constitutional amendments.

George R. Boesch, Huntington junior, and Eddie L. Mullins, Huntington senior, were appointed junior representatives to Student Court on the recommendation of President Steve Goodman.

After the meeting it was discovered that Mullins did not qualify for the position since he was a senior. A new appointment will be made at tonight's meeting.

One of Sonis' approved resolutions included support of the possible establishment of a General College. A General College, said Sonis, is a college set up for the freshman and sophomore years. It would offer the required courses for the other colleges.

Another resolution recommended that the administration permit women to wear slacks to the cafeterias on Friday evenings and all day Saturday.

The body also adopted a resolution asking Kenneth Cohen, housing director, to explain administration policy regarding on-campus dormitory reservation.

Specifically the Senate wanted to know when a student would not be required to remain in the dormitory for an entire academic year.

The last resolution asked the dorm councils report on what they have been doing to arouse student interest on campus.

Senator Sonis made a motion to set up a Student Awareness Committee and a committee on student apathy; the latter was defeated.

The Student Awareness Committee, said Sonis, is to increase communication between the student body and the student government. It will be comprised of a representative from each of the on-campus dorms, a representative of social housing, commuting students, off-campus housing, two representatives of Huntington residents, and two representatives of temporary Huntington residents.

Two of the three constitutional amendments brought before the body by Sonis were defeated. According to Sonis they are changes in wording and don't change the nature of the intent of the document.

Senator Sonis also petitioned the Senate to ask the Student Court to interpret a clause of the constitution concerning the qualifications for student body president, John Hill, Huntington senior, appeared before the Senate and asked them to favor this petition. The motion for the request passed unanimously.

Vice President Caroline Fleming announced the Student Government manual had been rewritten.

The resignation of Jane Woodburn, co-ordinator of the election committee was accepted.

Ethics Is Subject Of NEA Lecture

"Ethics" is the subject of the talk to be given by Mrs. Margaret Swan, guidance counselor at Marshall Laboratory School, tonight at 6:30 p.m. in the Science Hall Auditorium. She will speak at the regular monthly meeting of the Student NEA.

Mrs. Swan received her A.B. degree in English at West Virginia University, and her M.A. degree in guidance at Marshall. She has taught at Gallia Academy High School in Gallipolis, Ohio and at Big Creek High School.

President Stewart H. Smith and other administrative officials traveled to Charleston Monday in an "eleventh hour" attempt to get more money for Marshall's operating budget.

The president took with him more information explaining the needs of Marshall.

The president is asking $140,000 for operating expenses. The total budget for Marshall for the fiscal year 1966-67 is $4,377,570. This is an increase of $586,870 over this fiscal year.

The increase for next year includes $125,000 for educational television leaving $461,870 in increase for the operating budget.

President Smith says that it is absolutely necessary to have more funds in certain categories. The University needs $10,000 more to match federal funds for the work-study program. Also needed is $30,000 for additional graduate assistants to man an increased number of science laboratory sections.

Due to new legislation that has stimulated public school teachers to get additional education through the summer school program, the president says the University needs an additional $40,000 for the summer school program.

This additional money would go toward faculty salaries. According to the report taken to the legislature Monday, the University has never had sufficient funds to pay summer school faculty.

Increased funds are needed to pay it the same monthly salaries it receives during the regular sessions.

An additional $40,000 is absolutely needed for library books and educational and scientific equipment. In addition, $20,000 is needed for utilities for two new buildings.

The president took these requests to a joint committee of the house and senate last Monday and the result of these requests came after "Parthenon" press time.

The president said that this is much less than the University asked the legislature for, but he felt that this was the largest amount that the legislative committees might approve and that these additional funds were absolutely necessary.

On a program aired on WSAZ-TV last Sunday, President Smith said that unless Marshall receives additional funds, the University might have to limit registration in the years to come.

Commenting on this, President Smith said that this was not an idle threat. He said that he wanted the legislators and the people of West Virginia to be aware of the outcome of a low budget allotment to Marshall. "It's just like a streetcar," He said. "It will hold so many and no more."

PHI MU ACCEPTS

Janet Ratcliff, Huntington junior and president of the Panhellenic Council, has announced that Phi Mu sorority has accepted an invitation to join the council. Miss Ratcliff said that further details will be available at a later date.

State Budget Puts Marshall In Strait

It's way past the eleventh hour. Soon, the legislature will meet to pass the West Virginia budget for the fiscal year 1966-67, and in doing so will put Marshall University in one of the most difficult of financial straits.

Example: Last year the legislature voted to give an incentive to teachers throughout the state to go back to school for more education. This they did last summer. And the result at Marshall was an overcrowded and undermanned summer session.

Then, during this session of the legislature, the group refused to grant Marshall the needed money to increase the facilities at summer school. As a report issued last Monday states, "We have never had sufficient funds to pay our summer school faculty full salaries." And unless things have changed since Monday, we still don't have the needed money.

The legislators can establish new and far-reaching legislation till their brains fall out, but, unless the body gives financial support to these programs it becomes "as a sounding brass or a tinkling cymbal" as the old Biblical verse goes.

But we've given up any "wild ideas" about money to expand and grow. All we're looking for now is money to live—to stay alive and maintain ourselves. And the president has time and again presented this information to the legislature. But somehow they just don't comprehend that Marshall needs more money to avoid slow decay.

The President has suggested the possibility of limited enrollment next year and added that this was not "an idle threat". After all, what else is there to do?

All during the session, friends and supporters of Marshall have sat calmly by and waited for the legislature to grant Marshall more money. After all, our arguments were so convincing that the state just had to give us the needed money.

But that isn't the case. Right now, the legislature is finalizing the budget, without the needed capital for Marshall.

It's too late to write, it's time for Marshall students, supporters and friends to call and telegraph the legislators. Make it obvious that there is a University in the southern part of the state that means to fight for survival.

The legislature can extend their session. Call for an extension of the regular session to consider the matter of higher education in southern West Virginia. And if there is an extension of the session, then travel to Charleston if necessary.

Marshall supporters have stood by long enough. It's time for a little action. It's time to raise some hell in the southern part of the state. It's time to let a few legislators know that we are fighting for survival and we intend to fight until the last legislator leaves the house chamber and the doors of another legislature swing shut forever.

Sonis Is Praised As Efficient, Hard Working

Marshall Student Government has been in dire need of efficient, hard working, and original student senators for some time. They have found one this year in the person of Larry Sonis, a freshman senator from Charleston.

Since his election as freshman senator, Sonis has shown a dedication and creativity that has been lacking in Student Government since Jack Hill showed the same qualities while he was a senator.

Senator Sonis has placed a multitude of bills before the Senate this year, almost all of which were original and much needed.

Two of the most needed bills brought before the Senate by Sonis and passed were the Student Awareness Committee, and the Student Apathy Committee. These committees are aimed at improving communication between Student Government and the student and combating the growing apathy on campus.

Students and fellow senators of Larry Sonis should watch this senator. If we had more like him in Student Government many of the Student Government's problems would soon be solved.

We salute him in his efforts and say, "keep up the good work".

'Swede' Lives On In Hearts

"Swede" Gullickson, the living legend at Marshall, died Thursday at his home.

It's difficult to think of Swede as dead. After seeing him in class or at a ball game or leading a cheer at a pep rally, many began to believe that Swede would never die.

And, in truth, Swede will never die. As long as Gullickson Hall stands — as long as there is a Marshall student to cheer to the top of his lungs—as long as there is an intramural program at Marshall—as long as there is spirit and tradition at Marshall — Swede will live every day of the year.

Swede, the man, is gone. Swede, the legend, will outlive any of us by a hundred years or more.

Letters To The Editor

To The Editor:

This letter is written to once again confront the students of Marshall with a very important situation.

The drinking-policy on Marshall's campus has been under consideration by President Smith, Dean Shay, and the Student conduct and welfare committee. Time and time again the students have been asked for their opinions and suggestions. Yet, we have not taken an interest in this subject.

The University's current policy states that "use of liquor by a student is detrimental to his welfare."

According to a faculty-staff survey taken by the Office of Student Affairs (these statistics are taken from an article which appeared in "The Herald-Advertiser," January 23, 1966), 90 professors said the school should prohibit drinking on university property, but only 23 favored a ban on drinking at all times. Seventy-two favored restrictions in fraternity and sorority houses.

The administration and the faculty have both taken an interest, WHY don't WE do as much?

I would like to see every student who has an opinion on a fair drinking-policy stop in and see President Smith or Dean Shay, or write them a letter. They have repeatedly asked for our suggestions.

First of all remember, this will directly affect us, the students. After a decision has been made, we can blame no one but ourselves, if we don't take a stand now. Secondly, we must accept this invitation to present our ideas in order to show the administration that we, as adults, can make intelligent, mature suggestions in matters which affect us, while students at Marshall.

NEW 'SUMMIT' POLICY

A new policy governing the Summit, the Coffee House sponsored by the Campus Christian Center, went into effect last weekend.

The Rev. Mr. William R. Villers, Methodist Campus pastor and director of the CCC, explained, "During the semester break additions were made to the Summit which require a new policy of a 10 cent donation per person per evening to aid in defraying the expenses."

Drinking Policy Study Could Bring Revisions

The sub-committee of the Student Conduct and Welfare Committee will write recommendations to President Stewart H. Smith in the near future for revisions of the drinking policy.

John E. Shay, dean of Student Affairs said the present policy was brought into question after a fraternity had requested permission to serve alcoholic beverages at a function in the fraternity house.

President Smith refused the request and referred the matter to the Student Conduct and Welfare Committee.

The Office of Student Affairs conducted a faculty-staff survey on the issue, held open meetings with the Student Senate, the fraternity presidents and faculty advisors and observed that the survey showed that the majority of faculty and staff believe the University has a responsibility regarding the use of alcoholic beverages by students.

Most of the faculty-staff indicated in a questionnaire that drinking should be prohibited on University property, in fraternity and sorority houses, rooming houses and apartments, and at all University events both on and off the campus.

EVERY LITTLE DROP counts—and the Registrar's staff is probably counting each one. Gail Beckett, Chapmanville junior, plays her part in the "Old Main Bucket Brigade." Steve C. Szekely, superintendent of buildings and grounds, contributed the problem to the thawing of the ice in the gutters and on the roof.

CLUB TO MEET

The International Club will meet tomorrow at 6:30 p.m. in the Campus Christian Center. The constitution will be ratified and new officers will be elected. All members are urged to be present.

The replies indicated, however, that the University should not prohibit students from drinking at all times.

In answer to the original issue, the majority felt that drinking should not be permitted in fraternity or sorority houses even for specified functions.

The University's current policy states that "Use of liquor by a student is detrimental to his welfare," and notes that students entering their place of adobe under the influence of liquor or introducing liquor into their rooming places or University buildings, are subject to dismissal.

Language Club Elect Officers

New officers have been elected for the Modern Language Club. Anita Rinehart, Wary junior, was elected president. Jackie Moss, Charleston junior, was named first vice-president and Virginia Plumley, Huntington sophomore, was named second vice-president.

Bill Myers, Milton sophomore, was elected recording and corresponding secretary. Randy Johnson, Oak Hill freshman, is the new membership secretary.

Greeks Set Procedure For Rush

Sorority and fraternity rush is in full swing with the onset of second semester.

The Panhellenic Council has announced that sorority rushing will begin Feb. 9 with registration for rush in the television room upstairs in the Student Union between the hours of 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. This will continue through Feb. 10.

Feb. 12, all sororities will have open house between 1-4 p.m. All rushees are asked to meet in front of the Student Union at 12:45 p.m.

Feb. 14-17, coke parties will be given at 4-5 p.m. and at 6:30-7:30 p.m.

Feb. 18, rushees are to sign preference sheets in Dean Buskirk's office between 8 and 10 a.m.

Feb. 18 at 4 p.m. bids will go out.

Rushing for fraternities is well underway. Smokers, the fraternity equivalent to sororities' coke parties, began Monday and will continue through Thursday.

Bids for fraternities will be given out Friday afternoon.

BRIDGE TOURNAMENT

Marshall will be one of more than 200 colleges and universities throughout the country which will participate in the 1966 National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament today. Dr. Neil L. Gibbins will serve as the local tournament director.

Rumanian Folk Ballet To Appear Friday

SIX MEMBERS OF the Rumanian Folk Ballet are shown dancing to their country's folk music. The group will appear in Huntington in its first American tour as part of the Community Artist Series, Friday, February 11 at the Keith Albee Theater. Students may buy tickets for $1 at Becker Music Store.

Tutoring Service Is Available

Hang on, Freshmen, help is on the way! For all baffled, bewildered, and bedraggled freshmen, Alpha Lambda Delta is coming to your rescue.

Alpha Lambda Delta, freshmen women's scholastic honorary, is sponsoring a tutoring service exclusively for freshmen. For a $1.50 fee per hour, members of the club will tutor in the following classes: Speech 103, English 100, 101, and 102, Music 175, Mathematics 120, Social Studies 104 and 105, Science 107 and 108, general botany and general zoology, and the beginning French and Spanish classes.

Students may obtain applications for this service from the Office of Student Affairs. After completion, the applications are to be placed in the Alpha Lambda Delta mailbox in the east end of Old Main.

A tutor will contact the student and arrange a meeting in a vacant classroom at a time convenient for herself and the student.

A Last Tribute To 'Swede'

The best way to pay tribute to Otto A. "Swede" Gullickson, retired professor of physical education, is to have some of his friends and associates give their impressions of him.

President Stewart A. Smith said, "Professor Otto 'Swede' Gullickson served on our faculty for a period of 33 years, from 1930 to 1963. The intramural program which he developed was one of the finest in the nation. Everyone loved him. He exerted a positive and wholesome influence upon thousands of students.

"He stopped in my office to see me frequently. He was always cheerful, optimistic, enthusiastic. I have never heard him say an unkind word about anyone.

"Swede" was the most popular speaker at football pep rallies. He and I shared these programs together and I always gladly gave him most of the time for his talks were contagiously effective.

"We named our Health and Physical Education Building for him. This was our tribute to a wonderful man whose influence for good touched all who knew him."

Dr. J. Frank Bartlett, dean of arts and sciences, recalls, "Professor Otto A. Gullickson, 'Swede', was a student's professor. Filled with contagious enthusiasm, he infected his students and inspired them toward their goals. When the occasion demanded, he would take you up one side and down the other but with that effervescent charm that left no ill feeling. Were he here he would have us give a wave of the hand and say, 'So long, Swede.'"

Dr. N. Bayard Green, professor of zoology, recalled, "I was most closely associated with 'Swede' in Alpha Phi Omega, a service organization formed in 1949. 'Swede' was quite active in this group and was always sort of a sparkplug at the smokers and other meetings . . . he liked young people so much; they were an important part of his life . . . he was a friend to everybody."

Curtis Baxter, professor of English, said, "He was a genuine inspiration to everyone who knew him, and there were very few in this community who did not know 'Swede' Gullickson. I have always valued his warm friendship through the years. His influence in all of Marshall's activities will not be forgotten."

Miss Charlotte E. Berryman, professor of physical education, commented, "He had one of the finest outlooks on life and youth I have ever seen. I came to Marshall in the fall of 1927 and he came in the fall of 1929. He was always friendly and a perfect gentleman. I worked with him both at the Congregational Church and while the men's physical education department was in the same building as the women's. He was the finest. He did much for the rehabilitation of physically defective boys. Knowing him, I'm sure that was the way he would have wanted to go."

Luther E. Bledsoe, registrar, said, "'Swede's' enthusiasm never dimmed. He was still as enthusiastic about the institution and students at his death as during his teaching. It was his life. He was dedicated to young people. I don't know quite how to describe 'Swede'. He was a unique character. As far as I'm concerned, there'll never be another 'Swede'."

"Swede" told Mr. Bledsoe two days before his death, "I'd give anything to come back. I'd teach nine hours for nothing."

Neal B. "Whitey" Wilson, director of athletics, recalls, "To my knowledge, he was the only person ever to receive a lifetime pass to every athletic event at Marshall. 'Swede' was very highly respected and came around to the Athletic Department frequently."

In a eulogy to "Swede" during halftime at Saturday night's basketball game, Frederick A. Fitch, professor of physical education said, "We take this opportunity to express our respect and admiration for a most loyal friend and number one booster of Marshall University.

"I can think of no better way to express this appreciation of having had 'Swede' with us than to dedicate ourselves to his creed of life.

"This creed has been placed on a plaque and mounted in one of the entrances to Gullickson Hall, a campus building named in his honor.

"The creed that 'Swede' lived by is, 'I believe that young and old alike, provided an ample opportunity to express themselves in wholesome recreational activities of a competitive nature, will do a better job of being good citizens and neighbors in the daily rounds of living. To this purpose I have dedicated my life.'"

Steve Goodman, Huntington senior and student body president, has addressed the following letter to "The Parthenon":

I am sure that I speak for all students in expressing the profound sorrow resulting from the death of Otto "Swede" Gullickson. I believe it would be a gross understatement to say that "Swede" was, at best, the most loyal supporter Marshall has ever had. "Swede" Gullickson WAS Marshall and our campus will not be the same without him.

The little man with the big heart and a twinkle in his eye spelled success for any pep rally no matter what size the crowd might be or how good the weather. "Swede" was there and his stories about Marshall's good old days hardly ever changed, but these stories always had the same effect — ENTHUSIASM AND STUDENT SPIRIT. His outstanding contributions in the field of intramural sports and his personal interest in the welfare of the University shall not be soon forgotten.

I find it very hard to express anything but grief and sorrow in the face of a human loss such as the passing of our beloved "Swede" Gullickson. However, I am sure he would not want this, but desire that we all continually strive for the love and devotion he possessed for his school, Marshall University.

Slumping Herd Meets Eastern

By DAVE COLLINSWORTH
Sports Co-Editor

Coach Ellis Johnson's slumped Thundering Herd cagers will try to get back on the winning trail tonight when they invade Richmond to battle Eastern Kentucky. Game time is 8 p.m. in the Maroons' 7,000-seat Alumni Coliseum.

The Herd, which has now dropped five of its last six games including a 70-69 overtime loss to Toledo last Saturday, beat Eastern 88-75 here on Dec. 11.

The Big Green has a 8-7 record and will need a victory to keep above the .500 mark.

Coach Johnson will probably open up with the same lineup that he used against Toledo. That would include George Stone, Tom Langfitt, Bob Redd, Bill Whetsell and Orville Stepp. Also expected in action are Bob Allen and George Hicks.

Hicks and Redd played an important role in the Herd's first win over the Maroons. The spring-legged duo alternated guarding Eastern's all-american candidate Eddie Bodkin and held him well below his season's average of 22 points per game.

Bodkin, a 6-7 senior, has turned in some outstanding performances during his three-year career. One of his best games came this season when he poured in 37 against Harvard in the Motor City Tournament at Detroit. His performance earned him most valuable player in the tournament.

Along with Bodkin the Maroons are expected to start 6-8 John Carr, 6-9 Jerry Bisby, 6-1 Bill Walton and 6-2 Doug Clemmons.

MU will be seeking to iron out its offensive problems. The Herd has seen its one-time 96 point average dip to 85.5.

In its last six games the Big Green has managed only 74 points per contest, while the opposition has averaged 83.

Such things as a bad shooting slump, a rash of turnovers and an injury to playmaker Joe Dawson have been important factors in the bad streak.

Dawson, who suffered a knee injury in the Western Michigan game Jan. 29, may be out for the season. He is to have the knee examined this week to determine his playing status for the remainder of the year.

The Big Green's loss to Toledo was one of two defeats it suffered last week. The other came at Morehead on Thursday—94-79.

In the Morehead game MU fell behind 10 points at the half and was never able to get close in the second stanza. It was the 12th straight time the Kentuckians have beaten the Herd.

Whetsell and Langfitt were high for Marshall with 18 apiece, while Stone added 17.

On Saturday the Big Green lost perhaps its toughest game of the season when TU's Jim Cox hit a 10-foot shot at the final buzzer of the overtime period to turn defeat into victory for his team.

Cox, the MAC's leading scorer, dribbled the length of the court for his basket after a driving layup by Stepp had given Marshall a 69-68 lead with 15 seconds left.

The Rockets actually won the game at the foul line, connecting on 18 of 23 free throws compared to Marshall's 13 for 20. The Big Green had two more field goals.

The visitors, still in the thick of the conference race, jumped into a 36-29 lead at intermission and pushed it up to 44-35 with 12:31 remaining.

At this point came a technical foul against Coach Johnson. A stray dog happened to wander onto the court. As to how it got into the building no one seems to know. The referee, obviously not a dog lover, chased the animal off the floor. Coach Johnson, who had been perturbed by the officiating throughout the evening, picked up the dog, put a pair of glasses on it and pointed it at the official who quickly slapped a technical on the MU coach.

After the game Coach Johnson said, "it was just too good a chance to pass up." "I don't think the technical cost us the game" he commented, "in fact I think it fired us up. Without something like that, we may never have come as close as we did."

Following the incident the Herd began whittling the lead down, finally pulling even at 50-50 with just over six minutes left. After that the teams traded baskets. At the end of regulation time it was 60-60.

The Herd had four men in double figures. Stepp paced the attack with 21 points, followed by Stone with 17 and Whetsell and Redd with 12 and 10 respectively.

Cox was the high man for the Rockets with 20 points. Bob Aston and Bill Backensto chipped in with 15 each.

A boisterous crowd of 5,000 watched the affair including members of the board of public works and state legislatures.

Following tonight's game MU will return home on Saturday to face small college power, Steubenville.

Grapplers Seek Second Win, Tackle Rival Ohio U. Tonight

The Thundering Herd wrestling team will be seeking its second win of the season tonight when it tackles Ohio University at Athens, Ohio. The match is scheduled for 8 p.m., with a meeting of the schools' freshman squads proceeding it.

The young Herd grapplers, entering tonight's match with a 1-6 record, will also be searching for their first conference victory. Previous conference losses have been to Toledo, Kent State, Bowling Green, and defending MAC champion Miami Saturday. Their only win has been over the University of Cincinnati, 19-17.

In the loss Saturday to tough Miami, 32-2, heavyweight Tom Wilkerson picked up the Thundering Herd's only points when he drew with Miami's Buddy Young.

Besides Wilkerson's draw, five wrestlers were decisioned and three pinned. Those being decisioned were: 123-Dave Cramp, 130-Russell Hodges, 137-Jim May, 145-John Mahood, and 152-Bob Pickens. The three pinned were: 160-Charles Smith, 167-Tom Busbee, and 177-Herb Young.

The Herd's next match is Saturday in Huntington against Eastern Kentucky at Gullickson Hall. It's slated to begin at 2 p.m.

MIX TONIGHT

There will be a mix at the Student Union tonight from 8-10 p.m. ID cards must be shown at the door.

Redd Airborne Against Rockets

SOPHOMORE SENSATION Bob Redd zeroes in on the basket last Saturday night over the outstretched arms of Toledo's Jim Cox (45). Marshall's Tom Langfitt (23) and Bill Whetsell (42) jockey for position under the basket with two unidentified Rockets. The Herd dropped its second straight game, losing a heartbreaking 70-69 decision in an overtime. Redd, hampered by fouls all night, finished with 10 points. (Photo by Jim McDowell.)

Freshmen Run Record To 8-4-1; To Battle EK Maroons Tonight

Marshall's spirited freshmen will seek win number nine tonight at Richmond, Ky. against the Eastern Kentucky yearlings, a team the Little Green beat 83-77 in early December.

Coach Jody Sword's quintet has an 8-4-1 record after splitting a pair of games last week.

Tonight's contest could shape up as a battle of two sparkling guards, Marshall's Dan D'Antoni, a 5-10 ball-handler supreme from Mullens, and Eastern's Bobby Washington, a 5-11 deadly left-handed shooter from Lexington, Ky. Both were all-staters in high school and both are currently leading their teams in scoring.

In the first game Washington scored 23 points, while D'Antoni tallied 17.

Other Little Green starters are Mike Watson, Jess McCarty, Dallas Blankenship and John Mallet.

Blankenship led Marshall scoring in the first meeting with 21 points. Watson was the big rebounder in the earlier game with 13 retrieves. Both Watson and McCarty have been slowed by injuries recently.

Not to be overlooked is front line reserve Herbie Stephens who has sparked the Little Green on numerous occasions with his hustling defensive play.

The Little Green turned back Lockborne Air Force Base last Saturday 93-80 at the Field House after suffering its worst defeat of the season to the Morehead frosh 89-64 two nights earlier.

Against Lockborne the MU frosh sprinted to a 53-43 lead at intermission and were never headed although the visitors from Columbus did threaten as they cut the margin to two points on three occasions midway through the second half. But some dazzling outside shooting by D'Antoni and Blankenship broke it open.

D'Antoni and Blankenship paced the MU attack with 33 and 29 points respectively. Watson tossed in 14 markers. Center Jim Weatherly was high for the Airmen with 23.
