Twelve Faculty Resignations Announced

The resignations of Dr. Harold E. Walker, vice president of academic affairs, Dr. Louise Burnette, chairman of the home economics department, Dr. Eugene Hoak, chairman of the speech department, and nine other faculty members were announced this week.

Dr. Walker's resignation will be effective August 31. He joined the staff in July, 1962, having received his A.B. degree at Whittier (Calif.) College, the B.D. degree from Hartford Theological Seminary and the Ph. D. degree from the University of Edinburg in Scotland.

He held pastorates in California, Massachusetts, and Kansas, taught at Friends University and Whittier College and served an internship in the office of the vice president of academic affairs at Eastern Michigan University.

Dr. Hoak's resignation as chairman of the speech department was announced at a recent faculty meeting of the department. No successor has been named, according to Frank Bartlett, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, but Dr. Hoak will remain with the university as professor of speech.

Dr. Burnett's resignation will be effective on September 1. She joined Marshall in September, 1961, after teaching in North Carolina and the University of Southwestern Louisiana.

The other resignations, effective May 31, are: Dr. Robert V. Digman, associate professor of chemistry; Dr. Gordon Moore, assistant professor of chemistry; Neil A. Tucker, instructor of business and economics; William R. Allen, assistant basketball coach and instructor in physical education; Edith Grace Zinn, assistant professor of art in the Laboratory School; Elizabeth Anne Engle, instructor in education and kindergarten in the Laboratory School; John C. Behrens, assistant professor of Journalism; Richard K. Schall, assistant professor of music; and Connee Hayes Echols, instructor of physical education.

Greeks Set Gala Event

According to Kennylee Burgess, Huntington junior, and James Thompson, Charleston senior, who are co-coordinators of Greek Week, this year's events are planned not only for fun, but also for the betterment of Marshall and Huntington.

It is hoped that by eliminating all competition from Greek Week, the various organizations will work and play together as a group. Each person is urged to think only of the Greek system as a whole.

Greek Week will officially begin April 7 with a Leadership Conference held by Kenny Cohen, president of the Inter-Fraternity Council. Cohen said the conference will be held mainly for the officers of each organization. They will discuss the individual problems of each group and also the problems that the Greek system faces.

On April 8 at 7 p.m. in Old Main auditorium, Dean Bonatati of the University of Tennessee will speak.

Dean Bonatati, the assistant dean of men will speak on the "Problems that Greek Organizations Face."

Friday, April 9, will be a "fun" day. Beginning at 8 a.m. fraternity men had better beware! This is the starting time for Sadie Hawkin's Day. The boys will sit back and take it easy while the girls carry their books, light their cigarettes, help them with their coats and even ask them to dance at the TGIF party.

The TGIF party will begin at 2 p.m. when everyone will meet at the Student Union and from there proceed to Swing Town. "Jiffing" will last till 6 p.m. and everyone will have a two-hour break before the dance and talent show begins.

The talent show will be held during intermissions at the dance, which is scheduled from 8 p.m. to midnight at Swing Town. The only stipulations for acts in the show is that at least two fraternities or sororities have to be represented in each act.

"These acts need not be polished as long as they are entertaining," Thompson said. "We are not interested in competing for prizes and no awards will be given."

Beginning at 9 a.m. Saturday all of the Greeks will gather downtown to collect money for the Boy's Club which is directed by a Marshall "favorite" — Otto "Swede" Gullickson. This project will last until 1 p.m.

At 1:30 p.m. everyone will re-

University Asks Federal Grant In EOA Work-Study Program

Marshall has requested a federal grant of $131,436.90 for the work-study program under the Economic Opportunity Act, according to John E. Shay, dean of men.

The new grant will cover the up-coming summer term, fall term and extend into the spring term of 1966.

The grant is expected to be sufficient for 704 students; 96 students for the summer term, 308 students for the fall term and 300 students for the spring term. These figures include both on-campus and off campus-jobs.

The amount of money allotted for on-campus jobs will be $126,957.60.

To receive this federal grant, Marshall must put up 10 per cent of the federal share.

Dean Shay mentioned that the government seems interested in providing jobs for freshmen. One hundred and forty-one freshmen are expected to be employed by this program and $56,000 is planned to be allotted for them.

Students selected for the work-study program must be full time students from low-income families and in need of financial aid in order to continue studies.

Any students interested in participating in the program next year should fill out the application for financial aid.

The work-study program is a long range program to convince students that they can afford to go to college.

CADET OF WEEK

Cadet Michael McCormick, a freshman representing C Company, was chosen cadet of the week at the battalion's weekly drill Tuesday. To be so chosen, a cadet must exhibit outstanding qualities of leadership and bearing, and must be well read in military science.

Goodman Makes Inaugural Address

1st Such Event For Student Government Ends In President's Pledge Challenge

By LLOYD D. LEWIS
Staff Reporter

"I pledge myself to the task at hand and challenge you to do your part in the coming year to make Marshall just a little better come this time next year."

With these words, Steve Goodman, Huntington junior, closed his inaugural address and officially assumed the duties of student body president in a ceremony conducted in Old Main Auditorium Tuesday at 11 a.m.

Also included in the inauguration program — the first of its kind at Marshall — was the final address by outgoing President Dick Cottrill, Huntington senior; the administration of the oath of office to the new student executives and senators by Student Court Chief Justice Wendell English, Bluefield senior, and the presentation of awards and certificates to persons active in student government during the past year.

In his address to the approximately 50 spectators present, Goodman emphasized that he would "stay in contact with your daily needs during my administration. Bring your problems to the student government," he added. "That's what we're here for."

Goodman also praised the new party system on Marshall's campus, saying, "It will provide a sense of competition and an improved sense of responsibility among our office-seekers. Better representation, I believe, is coming up."

Besides noting "a lack of communication between our students and our athletic teams," and promising "a more active athletic affairs program," the former Student Cabinet athletic affairs commissioner advocated "the establishment of an open-end forum committee and a good series of forums."

He continued by stating the need for "a more active State Awareness Committee—one better known to our representatives in Charleston."

Outgoing President Dick Cottrill — who received the first of several standing ovations during the program — pointed out his "philosophy of the purposes of student government" in his final address.

"The most important of these," he said, "is to provide training in democratic government. We can't fail to represent the students in the democratic way and those who point to our failings in other areas can only blame themselves here."

Cottrill further stated that the student government should "act as a liaison between the faculty, administration, and student body." He said it provides both "a unifying leadership which we need to represent ourselves to this campus and to the world" and "a workshop for this leadership."

"Our student government," he continued, "does have too much machinery but this is a 'necessary evil' in the democratic system we have."

The oath of office to President Goodman, Vice President Carolyn Fleming, Huntington junior, and the 13 newly-elected senators and three class presidents was given by Chief Justice English.

Preceding the announcement that Dean Thompson of Huntington was this year's "outstanding senior senator," former Vice President Reeder presented certificates to the senators, as did the Cabinet commissioners to their committee coordinators.

Chief Justice English, in acknowledging his Court members, said, "This is undoubtedly the most dynamic Court in the history of Marshall University."

Coffee House Open Tonight, Tomorrow

The Summit, the newly-opened coffee house sponsored by Campus Christian Center, will be open Friday and Saturday nights from 7:30 p.m. until 12:30 a.m.

All university students, faculty and administration are invited to attend, but student admission will be by ID card only. ID cards from all colleges and universities will be honored.

The entertainment tonight will be presented by the Rev. William Gardner, Campus Catholic priest, who will sing folk songs and accompany himself on the guitar.

Tomorrow night, John Sayre, director of Development and Alumni Affairs, will present a program entitled "A Journey Through Jazz."

Parthenon Tells View On 'Racism,' Asks Reasonable Policy On Drinking

The incident following the recent off-campus fraternity dance was obviously over-emphasized when some groups made it appear as a major racial issue. This situation brought adverse publicity not only to the fraternity involved, but also to the Greek system and the university.

The incident involved a legal matter. The person or persons attacked could have brought charges under due process of law. No group has the right to take the legal system in hand, determine guilt, and dictate punishment.

To construe what happened as racial prejudice is to see bias where there is none. Members of crusading campus groups must remember that they must find their support in the intelligentsia. If they continue to cry wolf they will find themselves without support when a real issue appears.

The decision of President Stewart H. Smith represents the firm judicial leadership that is needed in an academic community.

On the matter of drinking, which the dean of men blamed for the incident, the catalog reads: "The University believes that the use of liquor by a student is detrimental to his welfare. Therefore, students entering their rooming places, either residence halls or private houses, under the influence of liquor, and students who introduce liquor into any rooming place or college building will be subject to dismissal from the University. Any function sponsored by or held in the name of a recognized student organization must abide by all University regulations whether that function be held on or off campus."

Absolute prohibition of drinking, as called for in the catalog, is impracticable and has never been enforced. Reasonable consideration of this rule by the university is the best way to abolish excessive drinking. The Parthenon believes it is the responsibility of all campus groups to take the lead in promoting moderate social habits.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

The Advocates of the Beginning Party would like to express publicly their gratitude to their ardent supporters who devoted so much of their time and their talents to our campaign. We would also like to remind them that our work is not finished but just begun.

We are hopeful that they will continue to work with us in the future for the goals we set and worked for in the campaign. As the "loyal opposition" we are possibly in a better position to effectively work for the principles which we hold so dear than we could have been if successful. By not being in an official position, it is not necessary that we be politically expedient or bend with the pressures of public opinion. We do not represent any persons other than those who wish to identify with us; therefore, we can vocally condemn, physically demonstrate, and pursue in a militant manner the course we feel is right. No longer will the administration or Student Government be able to play the ostrich and hide their heads from the issues which concern us all, for every time they lift their heads an Advocate will be waiting to wipe their eyes. This must be our course in the future. The independent student has shown his contempt again for Student Government and it has slid once more into the bog of ineffectiveness.

To the independent students who refused to take five minutes to vote and thereby allowed a minority faction to continue their strange hold on your Student Government, we predict that you will get from the Student Government only what you deserve — nothing.

Our party is always open to you, and if you agree with our principles, we guarantee that you will be able to play a part in the formulation of future policies which will directly affect the student body.

For those of you who may not have been informed as to our platform and principles during the campaign, we would like to make a brief post-campaign statement of policy.

STUDENTS SPEAK

Four members of Marshall's debate squad will speak to the Washington Elementary School PTA next Tuesday. Topic for the discussion will be "Automation and Unemployment." Speaking will be Randal Jarrell, Pt. Pleasant sophomore; Mike Engle, Charleston sophomore; John Cross, Huntington senior, and Danie Stewart, Salt Rock junior.

We believe that the student body should have a voice in policy decisions that directly affect them. We believe that the student body should be consulted and their advice and suggestions be given the highest regard. We do not believe that any mortal (or group of mortals) is omniscient — this includes the administration.

We believe in the dignity of man and the sacredness of the individual. We abhor discrimination — whether it be racial, religious, class or any other prejudiced form. We believe that any organization which practices discrimination at Marshall should be compelled to change their system or be ejected from the Marshall campus.

These are a few of our basic beliefs. If you agree with them, we ask you to join us. If you do not agree with them, we ask you to search your soul.

To our opponents we would like to express our hopes that you will make the necessary changes and rise above the pressures which are trying to prevent your doing so.

To our loyal supporters we would like to say: We shall finish what we have begun.

The Advocates of the Beginning,
CHAIRMAN JOHN CROSS,
Huntington senior;
VICE-CHAIRMAN LOWELL

Set Qualifying Examination For Tomorrow

A qualifying examination in English composition will be given at 9 a.m. tomorrow in Science Hall Auditorium for students whose last names begin with letter A-L. The Parthenon erroneously reported the time of the examination as 2 p.m. in Wednesday's issue.

Passing this examination is a requirement for graduation and all Teachers College students must pass it prior to being admitted to student teaching.

Eligible to take the examination this semester are students in these categories: engineering majors who have completed 68 or more hours, other students in four-year programs who have completed 58 or more hours, and students in two-year programs who have completed 45 or more hours.

Those students who are exempt from the examination are students who had A or B in English 102A, 104A, or 215A; and foreign students for whom English is not a native language.

No prior registration is necessary. Students are to bring to the examination their I-D cards, a dictionary, a line-guide, and a ballpoint pen.

The next exam will be given May 15 for those students whose last names begin with the letter M-Z.

It's Government, Not Death March

By DAVID PEYTON
Parthenon Columnist

Did you ever hear of a lemming? Well, a lemming is a little European mole-like creature, that has a peculiar habit. Every so often, lemmings from all over Europe start migrating North in large numbers and their migration turns into mass panic until the lemmings can't stop running and wind up jumping into the sea, committing suicide by the thousands.

The Marshall University Student Government reminds us of a lemming death march. The government of Steve Goodman and Carolyn Fleming will begin in earnest next week. But, if past governments are any prediction of things to come, the senate, court and cabinet of the Goodman administration could end up doing the same thing the lemmings do.

But the Student Government has it over the lemmings. The Student Government can think about what it's doing and where it's going. Lemmings can't do that.

It may sound strange, but perhaps now is the best time for an assessment—not of the Goodman administration but of the Student Government in general.

President Stewart H. Smith has some very interesting things to say about Student Government and yet how many senators and future cabinet members and committee members know President Smith's ideas about Student Government.

We were interested in what President Smith had to say about Student Government, so we took some time to talk about it with President Smith. There seems to be a move in Student Government to consider the Student Government as a separate entity on campus. Well, this could not be further from the truth. As President Smith said, every administrator, every group on this campus should be working for one thing—a better Marshall University.

And just where does the Student Government stand as far as power goes? As a matter of fact, who in the Student Government cares about it? President Smith says that although the Student Government is "somewhat responsible" to the students, the government receives all power from the Board of Education, of which President Smith is a representative on this campus.

And just how does President Smith feel about the Student Government? This is a question that all senators and governmental officials should want answered. President Smith said that he feels the Student Government is an important group on this campus. He said that he always encourages student groups to present positive programs for the betterment of the University.

And has anyone ever thought of asking President Smith about ideas for the Student Government? Remember, the Student Government is working for Marshall University, just like every other group on campus.

So, if the lemming could consider its situation, it would never plunge into the sea with its comrades. Then, perhaps, if the present Student Government would stop right now and consider its situation, it wouldn't wind up at the end of next year in such a perilous situation.

Not only should the government assess its relationship to the administration, but it should assess its relationship to the students on this campus, but the government had better develop nerves of steel before it tries to tackle the latter.

A government's main purpose should not be to destroy itself, like the lemming. Only animals act like that.

BITS AND PIECES: In last Wednesday's Parthenon, "Locomotive" Lloyd Lewis proposed a Spring Weekend dance on a (now, get this) train. Leave it to one of those crazy columnists. Let's face it. It's a great idea. . . . MU is once again a rain forest and the sidewalks have become canals. What we need is a ferry service from Old Main to the Student Union since it doesn't seem we're going to get the sidewalks repaired. . . . People on campus were jumping and shouting with joy Tuesday due to the signs which proclaimed "Fulton Lewis is coming". Let this be a plea to the campus to confine all exuberance over this announcement. . . . Fact of the week: West Virginia Fourth District Congressman Ken Hechler, former faculty member at MU, marched in the march to Birmingham last Sunday—not as a congressman but as an individual. . . . And as an individual, we would like to compliment the Kappa Alpha Order on its seemingly discreet judgment in planning this year's Old South Weekend. . . . Why don't you make an effort to go to the Summit Coffee House at the Christian Center this weekend? We think you will be pleasantly surprised. . . . With no offense meant to the Botany Department, the left handed definition of botany is the art of insulting flowers in Greek and Latin.

African Problems Discussed In 1st Of Series Of Lectures

By WILLIAM COHEE
Teachers College Journalist

How many African nations have failed in their first attempt at self rule? The answer is: only one — the Congo. This little recognized fact was brought out by Joseph Okunlola in the first of a series of five lectures held each Thursday at 4 p.m. in North Parlor.

The title of Mr. Okunlola's lecture was "The Scramble for and from Africa."

The visiting administrator said that in the past Africa's animals have been more often spoken of than her people since Africa's discovery in 1425.

The first serious consideration of Africa came at the Berlin Conference in 1885. It was attended by France, Britain, Portugal, Spain, Italy, Holland and Germany. These powers partitioned Africa among themselves. Mr. Okunlola classified this as the scramble for Africa.

Mr. Okunlola stated that all was calm on the "Dark Continent" until 1914. This is the date designated as the beginning of the scramble from Africa.

In 1908 the Dutch had instituted the beginnings of local rule on the continent. Leopold II brought rule close to the governed. Trouble actually began in 1919 as the defeated Germans were driven out.

The number of independent nations in Africa rose from four in 1950 to 35 today. The only real trouble came in the Congo. Mr. Okunlola explained that a lack of educated people caused most of that trouble. In 1956 the Congo had only one college graduate. As of 1959 no Congolese had become doctors, lawyers, or engineers. They also had no previous experience at self rule.

Mr. Okunlola pointed out Africa's economic importance. Africa produces all but four of the world's 53 important industrial metals. These include one-half of the world's gold and four-fifths of its uranium. In addition: coffee, cocoa, oil, skins, peanuts, and many other important products come from Africa.

No Dope Addicts, Pushers, Fiends Uncovered In This Campus Survey!

By Parthenon Feature Writers

Contrary to popular belief, Marshall students are not drug addicts, dope fiends, or pep pill patsies—at least that's the opinion of 102 students interviewed by The Parthenon's feature writing staff.

In conducting our interview, we found no students with needle-pocked arms—except a few with runny noses and glassy eyes who were hopped up on penicillin and APCs legitimately procured from the Health Clinic. We found no Mary Jane (marijuana) addicts although there were many poor souls who finally admitted after intense questioning that they were hopelessly addicted to Mary Jane's cousins—Phillip Morris, Herbert Tarayton, and Sir Walter Raleigh—some at the unbelievable rate of consumption of two packs a day.

These people confessed that they experienced all the symptoms of the typical drug addict who is unable to obtain his drugs, such as extreme nervousness and restlessness, the sweats, the shakes, and an innate craving and insane desire for just one more draw.

We found no students who continually relied on "Ny-tol" or "No-Doz", to either get to sleep or to keep from it as the case may be, although we did discover many slaves to the terrible caffeine habit.

We found no students who were nervous and physical wrecks, broken both in mind and body and pitiful slaves to a merciless habit. We found no students or outsiders lurking secretly in the dark corners of the Union, whispering low and glancing nervously about, "pushing" or "passing" their product to habitual or future addicts.

Yellow jackets, bennies, and goof balls were unfamiliar terms to most of the students interviewed and were not used by any of them.

2 Poetry Contests Open To Students

Dr. A. Mervin Tyson, chairman of the English Department, has received information on two poetry contests open to undergraduates.

The Lyric Foundation for Traditional Poetry Award of $100 will be made for the best original and unpublished poem of 32 lines or less.

There will also be a second prize of $50 and 10 honorable mentions, each in the amount of $25.

Poems must be mailed not later than June 1, 1965, to "College Contest," The Lyric, Brems Bluff, Virginia, 23022. Winners will be announced in the fall.

The other contest is The Promethean Lamp Poetry Contest.

For submitting the best poem, a student may win $100. Second prize will be $50 and third prize $25.

Those entering must pay an entry fee of $2 and will receive a copy of the "College Poetry Anthology" and a year's subscription to "The Promethean Lamp" magazine.

Deadline is next Wednesday. Poems and entry fees should be sent to The Editors, 2174 34th Street, Sacramento 17, Calif.

Last week you said you were considering the merits of mink farming.

2. With graduation drawing near I realized how much more there was for me to learn.

You didn't also realize, did you, that when you graduate your dad will cut off your allowance?

3. I must admit the thought did enter my mind.

Has the thought ever entered your mind that you might get a job and make a career for yourself?

4. What about my thirst for knowledge?

Just because you work doesn't mean you have to stop learning.

Many Events Planned For Spring Weekend

Spring Weekend, as it is to be called, will take place April 30 and May 1.

According to Jean Diehl, Huntington junior and coordinator for the committee, Spring Weekend may become an even bigger social event in the future than Homecoming.

The major stress for the weekend is on informality for all events, nominal cost, and accessible events, since all events except one will take place on campus.

Committee members are: Mrs. Diehl; Dan Bobbitt, Huntington senior, entertainment chairman; Carolyn Fleming, Huntington junior, Saturday night dance chairman; Kathy Burke and Bert Wright, Huntington juniors, Friday night co-chairmen; Barbara Beverly, Huntington senior, secretary; Sherry Sage, Huntington sophomore, publicity chairman; Jim Wellman, Huntington senior, Saturday afternoon chairman, and Parrish McKittrick, ticket and sales chairman.

The events to take place will begin on Friday afternoon with a mass T.G.I.F. party on campus. Several combos will play for this, either at intervals or at different places on campus. There will be no cost for this.

A concert will be held in Gullickson Hall at 8:30 p.m. Friday featuring Jay and the Americans. This event will be open to the public also, but students will have first opportunity to buy tickets.

On May 1, Saturday afternoon, various sport events will be held. These will include mock swim-mink relays, which might include swimming across the pool under some type of obstacle; and a rolla rama, which will entail skating around an obstacle course on campus.

Saturday night an informal dance will take place at the Field House from 8 to midnight. The 13 Screaming Clowns, and the Olympics will be featured.

Tickets for the entire event will be on sale at various places on campus and downtown—either the week before Easter or immediately following.

Prices for students are as follows: A package deal for the entire weekend can be bought for $5 per couple. However, if bought separately, tickets for the concert will cost $2.50 per couple or $1.50 stag. For the dance the price will be $3.50 per couple or $2 stag. Non-students may purchase a concert ticket for $1.50 per person. The dance will be open to Marshall students only.

According to Mrs. Diehl, it is hoped that all students will participate in these scheduled activities since the entire weekend is planned for them.

Christian Center Slates Activities

The Rev. Mr. William R. Vil- lers, Campus Methodist minister will deliver the sermon at the 11 a.m. Sunday service in the Cam- pus Christian Center.

The title of his sermon will be "His Choice" and the scripture to be read is John 6:22-40.

The weekly dinner will be held in the fellowship hall of the Cen- ter at 6 p.m. All persons are in- vited to attend.

Dr. Herbert Dawson, associate professor of psychology will speak at the Ecumenical program at 6:30 on the subject of "Family Plan- ning."

Snake In The Grass?

NO, IT'S A BOA constrictor in the jacket. The pet snake finds a quiet nestling place in the jacket of Tom Rose, Williamson junior. Rose and two other students are the owners of three boa constrictors which they keep in the Animal Feeding Room, in the basement of Science Hall.

Pet Constrictor Has Pneumonia

Pneumonia and a possibly serious mouth disease have cast un- certainty over the fate of Porgy, a seven and one-half foot boa constrictor. The reptile's owner, Steve Nelson, Huntington senior, is fighting further complications of both diseases with daily in- jections of penicillium and Vitamin B extract.

The pneumonia condition was discovered last Sunday, although Nelson believes Porgy may have contacted it during shipment from Florida. Nelson, Steve Hutchinson, St. Albans sophomore, and Tom Rose, Williamstown junior, con- sulted Dale Piatt, a Marietta, Ohio biologist, when they noticed a clogging of the snake's nasal pas- sages.

Besides Porgy, the three stu- dents are caring for two other boa constrictors. The other two snakes, which arrived only re- cently, measure seven and one- half feet, and four feet.

Dr. Bayard Green, Chairman of the Zoology department, and Howard L. Mills, Professor of Botany, are advising the students in the care of the reptiles. They are presently housed in the base- ment of the Science Hall in the Animal Feeding Room.

'Wimpole Street' Will Start Tonight

Performances tonight and to- morrow night will conclude the University Theatre's production of "The Barretts of Wimpole Street."

The three-act comedy will be presented at 8:15 p.m. in Old Main Auditorium. Students will be ad- mitted by activity cards, while faculty members will have complimentary tickets. These tickets are available in the office of Clayton Page, associate professor of speech.

Regular adult admission will be $1 and 50 cents for children.

Directing the 16-member cast is William G. Kearns, associate professor of speech.

ALUMNI BOARD MEETS

Marshall Alumni Association held a board of directors meeting March 17. Guests speakers were Dr. Harold E. Walker, vice presi- dent of academic affairs, and Joseph Okunlola, representative from Nigeria. They explained the foreign student exchange program at Marshall.

Shipwreck Crew Is Ready

"TURN THOSE SHIPS BACK — We may need it, but we don't want help!" Bill Allen, St. Albans junior, standing left, seems to be saying. Other "castaways," standing, are Linda Rider, Oceana sophomore, Sheila Stafford, Welch junior and Tom Owens, St. Albans sophomore. Seated are Bari Baker, Huntington junior and Chuck McKenzie. The annual TKE Shipwreck party will be held at 8 p.m. tonight at Riverside Country Club.

Roaming The Green

An event which is appearing more often on the list of social activities for sororities and fraternities is the TGIF (Thank goodness it's Friday) party.

The older students will remember a few years ago when everybody went "jiffing" on a Friday afternoon. This week several of the fraternities are returning to the practice.

The brothers of Tau Kappa Epsilon will gather at Swing Town this afternoon for a TGIF party. Later this evening they will entertain with a party at their house, beginning at 8 p.m. Tomorrow afternoon they will have a decorating party at Riverside.

The theme for their informal will be "Shipwreck" and the music will be provided by the Turbans. To close the week-end, the brothers will take their dates on a picnic.

The sisters of Sigma Kappa attended a party with the brothers of Tau Kappa Epsilon at the TEKE house Tuesday night.

Zeta Beta Tau will have a big brother-little brother party tonight. After the party the pledges will spend the night in the house in order to be ready for the house improvement party tomorrow morning.

Sunday morning the ZBT's will attend church as a group at the Campus Christian Center. This afternoon the brothers will attend a planning conference concerning the Mental Health Drive. They will be in charge of the drive for the Huntington area.

Also this week-end, three of the brothers will attend a sectional convention at Chapel Hill, N. C. Tony Broh, Bernard Goodman, and Augie Dailer, III will visit the Alpha Pi chapter.

Tuesday night the men of Sigma Alpha Epsilon had Dr. Mervin Tyson, professor of English, as a special guest for dinner. Dr. Tyson spoke on "Language and How It Has Changed." The brothers are having a member of the faculty as a guest for dinner every other Tuesday. Tomorrow at 8 p.m. they will have a houseparty.

Last Saturday Alpha Zeta Delta and their sister sorority of the month, Delta Zeta visited the Huntington Galleries to view the junior high school exhibit.

Monday night the following newly-elected officers of Alpha Xi will be installed: Jane McCaskey, president; Jennifer Nagle, vice-president; Harriet Lawson, recording secretary; Jane Virgallito, corresponding secretary; Laura McGrew, treasurer; and Jane Woodrum, membership chairman.

The Pi Kappa Alpha's will hold a big brother-little brother party at the boat docks tonight, following TGIF at Swing Town. Saturday at 8 p.m., weather permitting, the brothers will have a weiner roast at the home of Jim Odum.

Last week-end brothers, Pete Perdue and Bill Adkins attended an Interfraternity - Relations meeting at Ohio State University.

The brothers have three new additions at the fraternity house. Their cat, Mrs. Blaum, became the mother of three kittens Monday afternoon.

The brothers of Kappa Alpha are busy making preparations for their annual "Old South" week-end which will take place April 31-May 2. But, they will take time out this afternoon for a party given by the pledges for the actives.

Lambda Chi Alpha will have a blanket party tonight in Ohio.

Sigma Sigma Sigma will have its annual "chicken dinner," Sunday from 4-7 p.m. at the Student Union. Tickets may be purchased for $1 from any Tri Sigma or at the door. Carry-out orders will be taken and deliveries will be made on campus. Also door prizes will be given.

Last Sunday the Tri Sigmas honored their alumnae and patronesses with a tea at the sorority house.

Alpha Sigma Alpha will help their alumnae with a car wash tomorrow at Sears between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. The cost is $1.25.

Tonight at 7 p.m. the pledges of Alpha Sigma Phi will give a stag party for the actives at Uncle Tom's Cabin. Saturday the Beta Delta chapter of Marshall has been invited to attend the installation of Gamma Zeta chapter at Bowling Green University. The induction ceremony will be followed by a dance later in the evening.

The brothers of Alpha Sigma Phi recently elected the following officers: Dick Hodges, president; Bob Hill, vice-president; Art Clark, treasurer; Larry Medars, secretary; Wally Dunham, social chairman and editor; Fred Tallman, corresponding secretary; Tod Mayes, chaplain; and John Beaver, scholarship chairman.

Freshman Orientation Program Will Expand To Four Weeks

From now on we will try to refer to our incoming students as "new students"—not "freshmen," according to Dave Frost, Huntington sophomore and newly elected president of the junior class.

This is one of the new features of the freshman orientation program for the coming year. Continued Frost, "we want to make our new students feel like they are more a part of the campus. We also plan to change the freshman enforcing system so that the new students will receive more counseling and less hazing."

Last year there were two separate sessions of orientation for incoming students: a week in August and one in September. Under the new program there will still be a week of instruction in September. But there will be four separate weeks in the summer, beginning the last two weeks in July and continuing through the first weeks in August, in which students and their parents can become acquainted with the campus.

Four separate summer sessions will allow smaller groups of students to register, thereby eliminating much of the confusion accompanying registration.

Encouraging parents to come with the students is one of the main aims of the new orientation program, says Frost. They will be provided with places to stay, taken on tours of the campus and buildings, and given an opportunity to meet the social and academic deans, thereby learning what is expected of their sons and daughters here.

More literature concerning campus life will be sent to the students before they arrive. There will be less free time during the orientation period. Frost continued, "We hope to obtain ticket books with discount prices from town business establishments, theaters, etc., which will also help acquaint the students and their parents with Huntington."

Approximately 1,800-2,000 new students are expected next term. About 70 guides will be selected to handle all orientation sessions.

Candidates for guides are being interviewed this week by a five-member committee in the Student Government Office. Students may apply today for guide positions.

REVIEWS 2 BOOKS

Dominic Bisignano, assistant professor of English, has reviewed two books in recent issues of the Huntington "Herald-Advertiser." A review of Alfred Neumeier's "The Search for Meaning in Modern Art" appeared in last Sunday's edition. The previous Sunday Dr. Bisignano wrote a review on "Art and Technics" by Lewis Mumford.

WAC Officer Due On Campus Tuesday

Lt. Barbara A. Wingate, Women's Army Corps selection officer for Kentucky, will visit the campus next Tuesday.

She will conduct interviews with women interested in a career as an officer in the Women's Army Corps. She will discuss both the college junior and the college graduate programs that are now available.

The junior program includes a four-week summer program conducted at Ft. McClellan, Ala., which provides a look at the career opportunities offered by the Army.

The graduate program is titled, "The Direct Commission Program." It is a two-year training and service program and service beyond the two year period is optional.

For information on arranging an appointment with Lt. Wingate, persons should contact Robert Alexander, director of placement.

Thinclads To Open At Kentucky Relays

MARSHALL TENNIS Instructor Miss Jackie Steele will conduct a clinic here during the month of April. Miss Steele, a graduate student and instructor in physical education, credits tennis for helping her obtain an education and enter teaching.

Tennis Clinic To Open

Tennis Helps Instructor Make Career Decision

By PRISCILLA COX
Teachers College Journalist

"If it had not been for Tennis Inc., I would have probably been a high school dropout." This statement was made by a former West Virginia tennis doubles champion, Miss Jackie Steele. Miss Steele is a graduate student and instructor in physical education at Marshall University.

The student instructor began her career in tennis when she was a sophomore in high school. Miss Steele was twice awarded scholarships to the Charleston Tennis Club in 1958 and 1959, for her outstanding ability in tennis. She is the only girl in the history of the organization to be awarded the scholarships twice in succession.

After she graduated from high school, Miss Steele attended a summer workshop sponsored by Tennis Inc., of Charleston. It was through the workshop and the influence of the director, Mr. Hugh Thompson, Jr., that she became interested in furthering her education.

In regard to her instruction at Tennis Inc., Miss Steele commented, "Before attending the workshop, I was a very self-conscious individual who cared less about learning and associating with other people. Without their guidance and inspiration, I would have never ventured into the teaching profession."

In the past, Miss Steele has been a member of the Charleston Junior Wightman Cup Team. For approximately six years she has been one of the instructors in the summer program sponsored by Tennis Inc. This program benefits about 800 youngsters yearly in Charleston.

Miss Steele is presently in charge of organizing a similar tennis clinic in Huntington. This clinic will be the first of its kind in this area.

According to Miss Steele, the clinic will be a non-profit organization designed for students of all ages who are interested in developing their talent in tennis. It is especially designed for high school and college tennis coaches, physical education teachers, recreation directors, YMCA-YWCA leaders and officials of tennis clubs.

The clinic is scheduled to open April 10.

First MU Intra-Squad Contest Brings Tight Pitching Duel, 2-1

Marshall's baseball team had its first intra-squad game Tuesday.

It was a pitching duel between young pitchers out for the first time at Marshall. There were just three runs scored in the five inning game.

The men who seemed to be hitting the ball pretty good were Tom Langfitt, Dunns Station, Pa. junior, Don Rockhold, Parkersburg sophomore and Charlie Yonker, New Haven sophomore, according to Coach Alvis Brown.

Coach Brown mentioned three men that would have chances to be starting pitchers.

ATHLETES COMMENDED

The Marshall Alumni Association commended the basketball and wrestling teams at the sports banquet on March 17.

Keith Taylor, a member of the Alumni board, presented each team with copies of a letter that commended them for their efforts.

Marshall's track team will not be in action until a week from tomorrow when they journey to Lexington, Ky. to participate in the University of Kentucky Relays.

Coach Bob McCollins' thinclads were slated to open their season last Saturday at the Denison Relays but an unexpected snowstorm halted their plans. The team, traveling in automobiles, made it as far as Ironton, Ohio, but the roads were too treacherous to continue.

The delay of the season's opening might be a help to the Big Green in one respect. Several key members of the team were suffering from injuries or illnesses. Sprinter, hurdler, and broad jumper Bob Bloom of Weirton has been suffering from a pulled muscle, while distance runner Gary Prater had a touch of the flu and high jumper George Hicks missed practice last week with an illness. In addition sprinter Bob Pruett was not available because he had to take some tests.

While Marshall was unable to compete in the Denison meet, some of its brother Mid-American Conference schools did well. Miami took first place in three events, including a school record high jump of 6'7½" by John Gehring.

The Redskins also picked up victories in the mile run and the mile relay, with Rick Cunningham accounting for the mile victory and also anchoring the mile relay team. For his performance he was named the outstanding performer in the meet.

Ohio U's two-mile relay team of John Fox, Bob Crooks, Darnell Mitchell and Barry Sugden took first place in a record-breaking time of 7:43.2.

SHARPSHOOTERS!

The Counter-Guerrilla Platoon won the first round of the ROTC battalion rifle championship March 18. The total score was 1192 out of a possible 1500. Individual scores were: Jim Brennan, Huntington freshman, 251; Gary Rumberg, freshman, 248; William Owen, Scott Depot freshman, 243; John Wideman, St. Petersburg, Fla., sophomore, 235; and Carl McClanahan, Chesapeake freshman, 215.

Marshall Seeking Football Games

Marshall Athletic Director Neal "Whitey" Wilson is looking high and low for anyone interested in playing the Big Green a football game on Oct. 9, 1965 at home and Oct. 8, 1966 away.

So far Wilson has written to every college in several surrounding states had come up with nothing but "nays".

"Most of the schools are already committed on that date," Wilson said. "But I'll keep on trying," he promised. Nine states have already been covered with no results. This includes every school in West Virginia.

4 MU Players In Chess Tourney

Four players will represent Marshall at the first Annual West Virginia Intercollegiate Individual Chess Tournament tomorrow at Morris Harvey College in Charleston.

Fred Smith, Huntington junior, Jim Arnell, Huntington senior, Butch Cremeans, Huntington junior and Jerry Warsing, Pineville senior, will play in the Swiss system of five rounds, sponsored by the Golden Eagles Chess Club, from 10:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The players will compete for a first-place trophy and a team trophy. The team trophy will be given to the college with the highest score compiled by the top four scorers from that school. The title and the final standings will be determined by (1) Solkoff, (2) Median, then (3) Sonnenborn-Berger tie-break systems.

The tourney, directed by Char-

Tennis Opener Will Pit Bobcats Against Green

The Big Green tennis team will hold its first match this season when the Bobcats of Ohio U. invade the MU courts Saturday at 10 a.m.

Coach John Noble is undecided thus far on who he plans to use in each position but will make his decision this week-end prior to the match. So far the team is running strong with contenders in hot competition for the top positions.

Coach Noble does not feel he has as good a team as last year's. This, he said, was due to the loss of two of last years players, Bill Carroll and Bob Brown. "This will weaken the team's strength," reported Noble, "plus we will be weaker in the M. A. C. This years conference teams will also be much tougher than last year." Last season's lone victory in the conference was over Ohio U.

Coach Carroll Widdoes' Bobcats will bring a nine man team to Huntington Saturday on their first step of a southern trip. "The Bobcats have a much stronger team than that of last year," said Noble, "and they should be a harder team to contend with."

Professor Regula Receives Degree

Walter E. Regula, assistant professor of mathematics education, received the doctor of philosophy degree at the winter convocation of Ohio State University.

Before joining the Marshall faculty in September 1962, Dr. Regula was an instructor in mathematics at Ohio State. He was also a member of the National Science Foundation Academic Year Institute at Ohio State in 1960.

He is a graduate of Baltic High School, and received the bachelor of science in education and master of arts degrees from Kent State University.

Bartlett, Warren To Attend Meeting

Dr. J. Frank Bartlett, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences and Dr. John R. Warren, dean of the Graduate School, are scheduled to attend the 70th Annual Meeting of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, Monday through Thursday.

The two deans will travel to Chicago for the meeting which will emphasize the theme "Appraisal of Changes in Education."

More than 4,000 delegates are expected to hear reports on the latest developments in educational theory and practice through general sessions, special sessions, workshops and group meetings.

Big Green Squad To Hold Scrimmage

By WOODY WILSON
Sports Reporter

The Marshall football Big Green will hold their first game-type scrimmage of spring practice tomorrow at 9:30 a.m. on the Old Main intramural field.

The squad has already had two light control - type scrimmages under their belts and coach Charlie Snyder plans to have three or four more plus the regular game-type scrimmage every weekend.

"We plan to use four teams tomorrow as much as possible," said Snyder. "Our biggest problems that we are faced with as of now are too many inexperienced players and a lack of depth in the offensive backfield."

In the scrimmage tomorrow Snyder's offensive unit will look

OOMPH! THREE gridders engage in a blocking drill during one of the daily spring football practices held on the Old Main Intramural Field. The MU squad has 30 days in which to complete 20 days of practice. This is the second week of drills.

After the two light control-type scrimmages, Snyder was very high on five sophomores. "Charles Rine, Tom McLaughlin, Tom Wilkinson, Dennis Parker, and Bob Hale all have impressed us very much," exclaimed Snyder. "If a couple more of the sophomores come of age before next season like these have, we'll probably be able to platoon two teams. At least I hope we can platoon next football season."

Snyder also said that the most improved boys so far in spring practice are last year's sophomore subs. "Juniors to be Mike Patterson, Curt Keese, and John Land, and senior Dave Arritt have been the most improved football players in spring practice," he added.

Clyde Owens, a part-time middle-guard the last two seasons, Alex Sansosti, a second string quarterback the last two years, Fred Anderson, and Gene Gatrell will not suit up for tomorrow's scrimmage because of injuries. Owens and Sansosti has knee injuries while Anderson has a neck injury and Gatrell has a broken hand.

"NOW THAT'S NOT THE WAY WE REHEARSED IT" — Coach Charley Kautz (left) appears to believe that guard Charley Rine could make a few adjustments and improvements during a recent practice session at the Old Main Intramural Field. The Big Green gridders will hold 20 days of spring practice as they ready for the fall.

Greek Week Set For April 7-10; Competition Is De-Emphasized

turn to campus for the Greek Games. This will be the only competitive event scheduled. All of the organizations will have to pay an entry fee. This money will go into a scholarship fund.

Gallery Members Sought On Campus

The student membership drive for the Huntington Art Gallery will begin Monday.

According to Edward Hardman, vice president of Kappa Pi, the art honorary fraternity, the cost of the one year membership will be $1. Previously the cost was $10.

Some of the benefits received from the membership include permission to attend pre-showing of art shows and exhibits, opportunity to attend lectures and movies, a subscription to the monthly news bulletin, and a discount of $5-$6 on art workshops.

Tickets will be on sale in the Student Union from Monday through April 5 from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m. Tickets can also be purchased from any Kappa Pi member.

Students buying a membership will receive a temporary receipt and then a membership card from the galleries.

STUDENT UNION

Shawkey Student Union, erected in 1932 and named in honor of former University president, Morris P. Shawkey, is the center of campus social activities.

The addition to the building in 1955 doubled its facilities which now include snack bar, dance floor, meeting rooms and offices.

The events will include such things as a bicycle and tricycle race. The events will be the same as last year except that the girl's tug-of-war will be eliminated.

Saturday night between 8-12 an informal dance will be held at Hotel Prichard. Music will be provided by the Torgues, a band from Lexington, Ky., and the Satellites from Charleston, W. Va. Tickets will cost $3 a couple since there will be two bands and there will be continuous music.

One of the biggest changes in Greek Week is the elimination of a Greek King and Queen. In order to cut out competition and to honor more than just two people, there will be 15 awards presented at the dance to outstanding Greeks.

Each organization will choose, by secret ballot, its most outstanding member. The votes will be counted by three members of the Greek Week Committee and will be kept secret till the dance.

Sunday everyone will gather in the Student Union for a coffee hour at 10 a.m. and from there they will proceed to Old Main auditorium for a church service. At 2 p.m. a picnic will be held.
