Greek Week Continues Today, Tomorrow

Greek Week is now well into the planned activities for the event. Last night the various Greek organizations gathered, along with many of the administration, faculty and guests, to hear Robert Bonitati, assistant dean of men at the University of Tennessee.

Dean Bonitati spoke on three main points that were asked in the following questions: Are fraternities dying? What is their place on modern college campuses? What do fraternities offer today's college students?

Starting at 8 a.m. today the sorority girls engaged in Sadie Hawkins day. Everywhere on campus today the girls will be carrying the boys' books, opening doors for them, and in general just doing all of the little common courtesies that a gentleman usually does.

Sadie Hawkins day will continue all day and will still be in effect tonight at the dance and talent show at Swing Town.

According to Greg McCarthy, chairman of the talent show, most of the organizations have at least one entry in the talent show and almost all of the groups are represented in an act. The only stipulation for entering was that at least two organizations had to be represented in each act. None of the talent will be polished acts and their will be no competition. The show will be for fun only.

After closing out Sadie Hawkins day at midnight, everyone will get plenty of rest in order to start again tomorrow morning. The events tomorrow will begin at 8:45 a.m. when all sororities and fraternities meet at the Campus Christian Center. From there they will divide into groups to solicit money for the Huntington Boy's Club. The money will be presented to Otto "Swede" Gullickson in a special ceremony following Greek Week.

Immediately following the drive at 1:30 p.m., everyone will return to the Intramural Field for the Greek Games. Among the featured events will be the girls' softball throw and tricycle race and the boys' football throw and their bicycle race. There will also be many other events.

This will be the only competitive event of the program and the trophy for the winning sorority and fraternity will be presented at the dance which will begin at 8 p.m. at Hotel Prichard. Trophies will also be presented to the one member of each organization voted on their own most outstanding member by secret ballot and no one will know who it is until the dance.

There will be two bands playing at the dance. The main band will be the Torques from Lexington, Ky. The tickets have been on sale all week and no tickets may be purchased at the door.

There have been several changes concerning the events for Sunday. First there will be a coffee hour in the Student Union beginning at 10 a.m. At 11 a.m. all of the organization will attend church at the Campus Christian Center as a group. Then at 1:30 p.m. everyone will gather at the Police Farm for a picnic. It will be informal and there will be entertainment.

When the picnic ends so will end Greek Week until next year.

Plans For Library Are OK'd

By PAUL SMITH
Staff Reporter

President Stewart H. Smith has authorized Dean and Dean Architects of Huntington to prepare working drawings and specifications for the proposed addition to the University library. The plans may be completed this summer.

The preliminary floor plans indicate the complexity of the project which also involves extensive remodeling of the existing building. According to H. W. Apel, librarian, the estimated $1,796,000 addition will more than double the square footage of the library which now seats 300. After completion it may be possible to seat as many as 800.

Preliminary plans are to remodel the ground floor to include two new reading areas near the third avenue side. The library offices will be moved to the ground floor, locating the offices of the librarian, secretary, etc., in the north-west corner of the floor. A receiving and shipping room, photographic services laboratories, and a mechanical and janitors room are in the early plans to be located in the south-west section of the floor. The present men's and women's rest rooms will remain where they are. A staff room will be constructed near the middle of the south side of the library. The Journalism Department, now occupying the north-west section, will be moved to the new classroom building.

The present stackroom will be extended to the south-east on all six stack levels. Also, stairwell towers will be erected on the east and west ends of the building to meet fire code regulations. The heating system will be removed and probably replaced with all-electric heating.

The existing portion of the first floor will be remodeled by removing all walls, turning this section into a single room. The card catalogue and the circulation desk will probably be located in the same general area as at present. The new extension at the north-east corner will be used as a periodical reading room, while the north-west corner will be a reference room.

In a meeting with the University Committee on Human Relations Tuesday, five sorority presidents indicated that they would welcome a chance for their groups to explore the ways of integrating Negro students into the extra-curricular and social programs of the University.

Dr. Simon Perry, assistant professor of political science and a member of the committee, suggested that the committee compile a list of speakers who are concerned with integrating campus social activities and distribute this list to fraternities and sororities.

The sorority members present said they would use such a list to find speakers or discussion group leaders to come before their organizations. The list will also be sent to fraternity presidents.

Dean of Women Lillian H. Buskirk, acting chairman of the committee in the absence of Dean of Men John E. Shay, asked the presidents to explain how, under Panhellenic rules and their own chapter regulations, members are rushed, voted upon, and selected.

Although the sequence of events may differ slightly each year, formal rush always includes a Panhellenic Tea, sorority Open Houses, Coke parties, and second and third parties. At the beginning of rush, a girl interested in pledging must sign a rush book.

The Tea and Open Houses may be attended by anyone. Invitations are necessary for the other events. Sorority members invite girls to these later parties whom they may have met at the Tea, at Open House, or whom they have known previously.

Bids for membership are sent out after third parties. Qualities listed by the presidents as important in a rushee were grades, activities, and congeniality. The

TEST SATURDAY

A test is being given in cooperation with the Educational Testing Service of Princeton, N. J., to all Arts and Sciences Colleges seniors, or those Arts and Sciences students with 90 semester hours or more, Saturday from 8 until 12 a.m. Students are required to take the test and requested to bring at least two soft-lead pencils.

Students with names beginning with the letters A-M will report to the Science Auditorium and those students with last names ranging from N-Z will report to Room 206 of Old Main.

five sorority presidents said there is nothing in their sorority constitutions to prevent the pledging of any person because of race, creed or color. Nor is it possible for only one girl to deny a rushee membership, they said.

A similar meeting of the fraternity presidents was held last week.

Low Funds Delay Hodges Renovation

Plans for the renovation of Hodges Hall which would cost an estimated $400,000 have been delayed due to lack of finances, according to Dean of Men John E. Shay.

"We are aware of the problem that it needs to be repaired," he said, "and we are disappointed that the Board of Education would not authorize the expenditures."

Dean Shay and Dean of Women Lillian Buskirk recently conducted a study to determine what they felt to be the future needs of residence halls . . . and the results were phenomenal," said Dean Shay.

Dean Shay added that they were presently considering ways of refinancing for renovation as well as for the construction of future dormitories.

Coal Executive Is Honors Speaker

Mr. David L. Francis, Chairman of the Board of Princess Coals, Inc., will speak at the University Honors Seminar next Tuesday evening on the subject of "Technological Advancement in the Coal Industry."

The Seminar will meet at 6:30 p.m. at the Campus Christian Center. Interested students and faculty are invited to attend.

This is the tenth of the semester's Seminar sessions dealing with the general subject of "Technology and Society." On April 20 Dr. Grant Venn will speak on the subject of "Automation and Education."

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

I was sitting in the den of my five-room suite at the fraternity house last Friday, busy throwing darts at a picture of Martin Luther King and cursing God, mother, and apple pie, when my slave brought in the new edition of The Parthenon. I beat him for a few minutes because I had found a copy of Plato's "Republic" under his bed in the cellar. "We can't have anything that's not intellectually stagnating around here. You know the rules." I gave him some of my old comics and sent him away.

Being a member of a Greek fraternity I don't read very well so I handed The Parthenon to my roommate. She reads pretty well but maybe that's because she's not a member of the Greek system. We just thought that it

Dear Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to commend Gerald Sigmon on his fine letter which appeared in last Friday's issue of The Parthenon. I think that we as students at Marshall, not only Greeks but also Independents, should welcome this challenge to reexamine our values and our ideals.

Are we, who claim to be the cream of American youth—it's future leaders—willing to let this indictment of ourselves and our system go by without very serious consideration of its charges? I do not mean that we should immediately respond to these charges with a very defensive attitude, as is natural in such cases. I believe that we should carefully think about each charge made and see if it applies to us or our organizations. Are we racially biased, selfish, unchanging hypocrites? If we are, may we be willing to see our shortcomings and may we be willing to change them. No person and no organization is perfect, nor should it be assumed so when one is operating in defense of it.

I only hope that the student body of this university is mature enough to accept this criticism in the spirit in which I am sure it was given: that of self improvement. Since the attack was directed particularly at the Greeks, they may seem more to blame when they immediately jump to their own defense without honestly considering the charges and what they really mean. I think, however, that all students should accept this as a personal challenge, and if they are not mature enough to do so, I shall be very sad indeed and perhaps a little ashamed to say that I am a Marshall student.

F. JANE STERNE,
Pt. Pleasant sophomore

would be pretty hypocritical to have her spend a few days teaching us about Bacchanalian rituals.

She said that it wasn't a very interesting issue. Too much of it dedicated to "Letters to the Editor". That part was written by some agnostic who was saying that the Greek system is made up of agnostics. She couldn't figure out the rest of what he was saying. Something about the big difference being that the Greeks don't brag about it. To this I promptly countered, "Watch your Christian and can lead to hypocristian and can lead to cypocristy."

Aroused by my roommate's snickering and deep belly laughs over the letter I decided to overcome my mental stagnation momentarily and examine the boy's six points. I only have about a five-minute attention span so I had better make my conclusions brief.

1) Racial bias — Unfortunately this is true. At present a Negro would have very little chance of getting into a fraternity. It takes unanimous approval of everyone in a chapter for anyone to join. Since the Greeks have a monopoly on racism then maybe Mr. Sigmon can find around 50 Independents at random who would vote the same way on a civil rights issue. It sounds good, Mr. Freud (opps, I mean Mr. Sigmon), but it doesn't work that way in real life.

2) Religious Hypocrisy — Well, we wear tennis shoes during the pledging ceremony in case lightning strikes us for pledging these heretics. Then we try to convert these lost souls at our Monday night healing revivals. As for Judeo-Christian ideals — well, we have a karate expert down at the house but nobody knows anything about Judo.

3) Moral laxity — This definitely is true. I've never seen a Greek yet who wasn't an avowed sinner. As a matter of fact, Thursday night is "Sin Night" at the house. Then some of the members even have the nerve to go to church on Sunday. I agree with you, Mr. Sigmon. It's shame-

Dear Editor,

I would like to compliment you on your wonderful paper issue for Friday, April 2. The advertisements were the only thing worth reading, except for the two comic sections, "On Campus" by Max Schulman and "Letter to the Editor" by Gerald Sigmon which were particularly interesting. At least one of these men seemed to have known something about his subject. Of course, Mr. Schulman always does.

ROY "BRUB" SLACK

ful and I wouldn't let my daughter marry one of them.

4) Selfishness — I was going to ask one of my Greek friends in the Senate about this but his manager wouldn't let him talk. Incidentally, Gerald, who pulled your string? You aren't part of that P.A. System from Cedar Grove, are you?

5) Intellectual stagnation — I disagree with you on this point. I've noticed that many pseudo-intellectuals around here seem to think that they have the market cornered on thinking. Well, we don't get much in the line of reading material here in Radio Free Fraternity but if you would like to play chess at about $5 a game or compare the level of books read in the last week, month, year, etc., my number is in the phone book. Also, if you don't like the way I dress then you can go to the bulletin board on the second floor of the fraternity house and change the schedule.

6) Failure to change — We've been pretty lucky at our fraternity house. Not one member has died a well deserved, socially frantic death. Maybe that's because we have eliminated hazing.

In closing, I would like to admit that I didn't make very many good points in my letter. That makes us about even, doesn't it, Gerald?

JIM MARNELL,
Huntington senior

Dear Editor,

On Feb. 22, 1965, our campus was shocked by the tragic death of Pat Woody. Pat, a junior from Williamstown, had endeared himself to the whole campus through his outstanding athletic ability but to those who knew him personally he will be remembered more for just the type of man he was.

We cannot erase the tragedy of this untimely death. But in an effort to give a tangible expression of the honored place Pat holds in our memory, the Robe, of which Pat was a member, has established The Pat Woody Memorial Scholarship Fund. This fund will establish an endowment which will memorialize the name of Pat Woody for the future. In addition, it will help support one freshman football player selected on the criteria of character, scholarship, leadership and athletic ability.

This is not just a money raising campaign for the football program. It is a memorial to a fellow student and an outstanding person.

I make only one request. Please stop for just a minute in your active schedule just to remember Pat Woody. Then if you wish to contribute to this fund, do it as an honest expression of the esteem you hold for his memory.

I believe that in the end this fund will show to all that Pat Woody was a man loved by his fellow students.

DICK COTTRILL,
Huntington senior

The club also honored outgoing officers Al Duba, Accoville junior, president; Teresa Bicknell, vice-president and Robert Campbell, secretary.

Peyton's Portfolio

Not Idle Dreams; Not A Command

By DAVID PEYTON
Parthenon Columnist

Gerald Sigmon wrote a letter last week to The Parthenon. It was a long letter and involved. Long articles are usually never read in a newspaper—people get tired of thinking. All they want to know is who won what intramural game and who's having a party this weekend.

But a great number of people read the letter written by Sigmon. And reference to the letter came up in more than one place. For instance a number of people decided to take a Parthenon to Leadership Camp at Jacksons Mill last weekend, even though many who attended the conference seem to feel the paper is worthless.

What some people failed to realize about Gerald's letter is that it, in itself, is not a cause. It is rather an effect. The letter which indicts the Greek system with various and sundry alleged "sins" initiated nothing in itself. It, rather, is the result of a growing concern on campus. It is the result of an apparent increase on the part of some to take a good hard look at organized brotherhood.

President Smith attended the leadership conference. And in his speech Sunday night before the assembly of leaders there at Jackson's Mill, even he had some words about Mr. Sigmon's letter.

And, President Smith used the letter as a springboard for a frank discussion of the Greek system. Perhaps you heard his speech. Perhaps you read it in Wednesday's issue of what we refer to as "The Senate's Scapegoat."

But it is well worth reading. We think the key sentence to the whole speech is, "During the coming year, I expect to see the fraternities and sororities at Marshall open their doors to all students enrolled at our university."

It is interesting to speculate on what President Smith meant by the word "expect". In common usage, there seems to be two types of usage of "expect". There is the type which denotes a hopeful dream, and there is the word used by a commander of an army when he says "I expect you to have these barracks clean in 15 minutes."

But, talking to President Smith later, we discovered that he meant neither of the two. He said he used the word in the context of a challenge to the Greeks. It was not an idle dream and neither was it a command or a threat.

Later on, in another paragraph, President Smith brought out the fact that many students seemed to feel "chafed" over the lack of academic freedom on campus. He said, "In your opinion, you are not treated as adults. Here is your opportunity to behave like adults by assuming responsibility in helping remove the islands of segregation that exist on our campus."

So, something caused all this discussion. It continued with charges and counter-charges from the CIP; it was nurtured in the letter from Gerald Sigmon; it was discussed and dissected at the leadership conference, and the discussion phase ended when President Smith threw the problem right into the laps of those to whom it rightfully belongs—the Greeks.

But more than that, the Greeks are representing the whole campus in this issue. If the campus is to gain a higher level of academic freedom, it must first prove itself worthy. And to prove itself worthy, the Greeks must answer this challenge.

It seems that the discussion phase should soon come to an end and an action step be taken. This is not one of those situations where action can be delayed and delayed.

This time the Greeks have to go it alone. No group, no organization, no independent students can assist them, but it could very well be that the fate of academic freedom and a higher degree of student responsibility hangs on their action. Integration of a brotherhood or a sisterhood is a big step—granted—but there is a universal brotherhood at stake in this situation.

BITS AND PIECES: We would also like to mention the fact that there were some other excellent speeches presented at the seminar. If you ever get a chance to read them, you should. . . .

So, you think you are busy. Consider the plight of Dianne Melrose, a student journalist here at MU. Last weekend, she attended two meetings simultaneously at Jackson's Mill—the seminar and the Methodist Student Movement Conference. In addition to all this, she covered both for the paper and was head of the publicity committee for both. . . . We understand from our man in the senate, Lloyd Lewis, that Carolyn Fleming is doing an excellent job at the helm as speaker of the group. By the way, the Senate is meeting in the Science Hall Auditorium now if you'd like to go over and see democracy—MU style. . . . By the way, if you have any ideas for columns about campus deficiencies or interesting sidelights, just let one of those "crazy" columnists know over in the basement of the library. They'll listen to almost anything.

Greeks Ask Money For Boy's Club

"Support the Boy's Club!" This cry will be taken up by all the Greek organizations tomorrow morning when they gather to solicit money for the Boy's Club.

The representatives from the groups will be divided into two sections. The first will meet at the Campus Christian Center at 8:45 a.m. and the second will meet at 10:45 a.m. Each section will receive his assignment and proceed to a designated area to collect money. The areas for solicitation will be the shopping centers near some of the grocery stores and the downtown area between Third and Fifth Avenues and Eighth and 14th Streets.

The drive will begin at 9 a.m. and last until 1 p.m. All of the students participating will be identified by name tags bearing the slogan, "Help the Greeks of Marshall University Support the Boy's Club."

The project will be the main service project in connection with Greek Week which began yesterday and will last until Sunday.

It was decided to participate in this drive to help the Boy's Club mainly because of the influence of Otto "Swede" Gullickson, now the interim director of the club and a former professor at Marshall.

According to "Swede" the Boy's Club could use the extra money because of the cut in the funds they receive from the United Fund, their largest source of money.

The main purpose of the Boy's Club is to build character and to put to good use the boys' spare time. This is accomplished through various activities such as different athletic events, participation in the President's physical fitness program and classes in arts and crafts. There is also a large library that is open for all the boys.

The money collected will be presented to "Swede" in a special ceremony by Jim Thompson, Charleston senior and Kennylee Burgess, Huntington junior, co-coordinators of Greek Week, and Veronica Flaherty, Huntington sophomore, chairman of the drive.

TWL Still Open For Reservations

The Travel, Work, Learn (TWL) program for a summer in Europe still has openings for either students or faculty, according to Dr. Walter Perl, professor of German, and director of TWL.

At the present time, according to Dr. Perl, 29 reservations have been made by students, but additional reservations can still be made.

Those who wish to make reservations may contact Mrs. Wanda Hughes at the travel bureau on 9th St. Dr. Perl estimated the expense of the trip at $379.80.

The group will leave Huntington June 2 and travel to Frankfurt, Germany, arriving there June 4.

Students have been assured of jobs and housing while in Germany.

COURT POSITIONS OPEN

Positions on the Student Court are now available. To qualify, applicants must be full time students in good standing with the University.

Blood Donor Prepared

Tennis Clinic, Workshop Tomorrow

The Women's Physical Education Department is presenting the first Tennis Clinic and Workshop from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. tomorrow. The subject of the workshop will be, "How to Teach Tennis Fundamentals, Strategy, and Tactics." The cost will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

MORE GRAD STUDENTS

The Graduate School has had an increase of 187 students over last semester. Of the 768 students enrolled this semester, 598 are enrolled for one course while 73 are registered for three or more courses.

PR's Slate Ohio Meet

The 30-member ROTC Pershing Rifles drill team will travel to Cincinnati today and tomorrow, to attend the Queen City Invitational Drill Meet.

They will also compete against other Pershing Rifles groups in a meet sponsored by the Pershing Rifles Regimental Headquarters at Ohio State University. The Queen City meet is sponsored by the University of Cincinnati.

In Cincinnati the PR's will attend a Regimental Ball on Saturday night plus other social activities.

Selected members of the PR unit will represent the group in individual drill competition, a rifle team match, straight squad drill, and straight platoon drill. In individual drill competition will be cadets who are outstanding in military bearing, manual of arms, and drill and ceremonies.

The current officers of the Pershing Rifles unit are David O'Kane, Parkersburg junior and Commander; Thomas Milton, Huntington senior and Executive Officer; Joe Soto, Huntington junior and S3-S4 officer and Doyle Jones, Mason City junior and S1-S2 officer.

"N-1 Company," the PR's name, also have two sponsors who will attend the drill meet. They are Patty Johnson, Huntington sophomore and Sally Vest, Huntington freshman.

at the store. The drawing is April 29.

The ZBT's will attend an organizational meeting for the Mental Health Drive today.

The Spring Weekend Committee will have a pre-Easter ticket sale in the Student Union next week. Tickets will continue to be sold after Easter in the Union and downtown at Davidson's Record Shop.

Members of the Cavalier fraternity held their spring formal last Saturday night at the Uptowner Inn. This weekend they will have their annual retreat at Camp Mad Anthony Wayne.

Student Nurse's Association will sponsor a bake sale at Tradewell's Supermarket on 16th St. from 9 to 3 p.m. tomorrow. Nursing students will be there at all times to sell various baked goods.

A soft drink party will be held at the Holiday Inn Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m. for girls who wish to participate in the "Miss Huntington Pageant." The winner of the "Miss Huntington" contest will compete in the "Miss America Pageant" which will be April 30. The girls must be single and they must be between the ages of 18 and 28.

Laidley Hall will hold its annual house party from 8 p.m. to midnight today. The event will be a campus get-acquainted party sponsored by the sophomore girls at the dorm. Invitations have been sent to the men's dormitories and the fraternity houses, but all are welcome to attend. Games and dancing are on the agenda and refreshments will be served in the lounge at 11 p.m. The upstairs halls will be used for dancing and music will be provided by record players.

Members of West Hall held a "hootenanny party" in the dorm Tuesday night. Entertainers for the event were Terry Goller, Steve and Judy, Huntington High School seniors. A variety of songs were sung.

Panhellenic Council Selects 5 Officers

Janet Ratcliff, Huntington sophomore, heads the list of Panhellenic Council officers for the coming year.

Other officers will be Rita McCullough, Charleston sophomore, vice-president; Donna K. Cramer, Williamstown sophomore, treasurer; Jennifer Nagle, Huntington junior, corresponding secretary and Donna Broom, St. Albans sophomore, recording secretary.

These officers will take office at a meeting Wednesday. The offices are rotated between the different sororities each year and are not elective offices.

Each sorority is allowed to have three representatives at the meetings but they only have one vote. These representatives consist of the sorority president, rush chairman, and one other representative.

At the end of the last meeting, the new officers were installed and the outgoing president, Kathy Kelly, Erie, Pa. senior, was presented with an engraved silver tray in recognition of her service.

Speaks Sunday

DR. RONALD V. WELLS, president of Crozer Theological Seminary, Chester, Pa., will be guest speaker at the 11 a.m. Sunday service in Campus Christian Center. The title of his sermon will be, "To Tell the Truth."

Two Scholarships Newly-Established

Two new scholarships have been established at Marshall.

One of these, the Preiser Scientific Scholarship, which was established by Preiser Scientific, Inc., is an annual award of $200 to be made to an outstanding junior majoring in chemistry, biology, physics, mathematics or other related fields. The award will be based on high scholastic performance and upon recommendation of a committee. A recognition medal and certificate will accompany the scholarship.

The second is the Louise Fay Haworth Scholarship, which was established by Mrs. Eloise Campbell Long.

Mrs. Haworth was a former Music Department voice teacher and Mrs. Long is a Huntington resident interested in music.

Library Plans OK'd

The existing second floor reading room will be enlarged to include new rooms on the ends of the building. The entire second floor will house the Collegiate Library, an open shelf collection of between 4 and 5 thousand volumes with seats for about 400 readers. A group study room and a closed reserve room will be included on the second floor. New men's and women's rest rooms and a lounge will also be located in this area on floors 1, 2, and 2A.

Also planned is the construction of a new floor—2A—to be located between the second and third floors. It will be created by lowering the ceiling of the main reading room and building a new intermediate floor. The level would include general library carrels, individual study areas for graduate students, in the north-east section. The West Virginia Collection as well as other special collections would locate in the north-west section. A university archives will be located near the center of the north side.

All Spring Sport Teams In Action This Weekend

Marshall's spring sports will be in full swing this weekend with all four sports, track, baseball, tennis and golf in action.

The tennis team will journey to Kent State to engage the Golden Flashes. Coach John Noble's team will be made up of Jim Wellman, Wayne Wookey, Lou Sammons, Jim Hovey, Gary Jefferson, and Craig Wolverton.

Baseball

The Big Green baseball squad left yesterday for a two game road trip to Kent State where they will play today and tomorrow.

The Golden Flashes had a 1-2 season record going into the weekend series, but are expected to be at the top of the MAC when the season closes. They lost two close, rain-shortened games last weekend by one run each.

The Big Green is hoping they can bring two victories back home which will rouse more interest in the baseball program at Marshall.

John Mullins, lefthander from East Bank, will be one of the starters for the Big Green in the weekend series with Kent State and Charles Newton, Point Pleasant senior, who lost the opening game to Marietta; Bob Lambert, Logan junior, or Tom Baker, Huntington junior, will get the other starting assignment.

Kent State shared the conference baseball title last season with Ohio University but defeated the Bobcats in a play-off to determine the MAC representative to the N. C. A. A. tournament. Kent then was beaten in first round action by the tough Minnesota Gophers.

Track

Marshall's track team, with a meet's experience under their belt, will travel to Athens, Ohio tomorrow to take part in the Ohio U. Relays.

Coach Bob McCollins feels that his team should show an improvement over last week's performance in the Kentucky Relays. "The experience that we gained last week will help us. That was the first time that I had seen the boys run and I know a little more about their potential now," commented McCollins.

Big Green competitors include Mickey Jackson in the 100 meter dash, 220, broad jump and 440 relay; Bob Bloom in the 100, 220 and broad jump; Gary Prater and Ellis Wiley in the mile and two-mile runs; John Bentley in the pole vault; Arthur Miller in the high hurdles; George Hicks in the triple jump and high jump.

Other entries are Frank Moneras in the 100, 220, sprint medley relay, 440 relay, 880 relay and mile relay; Steve Mays in the sprint medley, and the 440 and 880 relays; Richard Dillon in the 440 and 880 relays; Bob Pruett in the 880 and mile relays; Earl Jackson in the sprint medley; David Hansen in the mile relay.

Intra-Squad Game Set

By WOODY WILSON
Sports Reporter

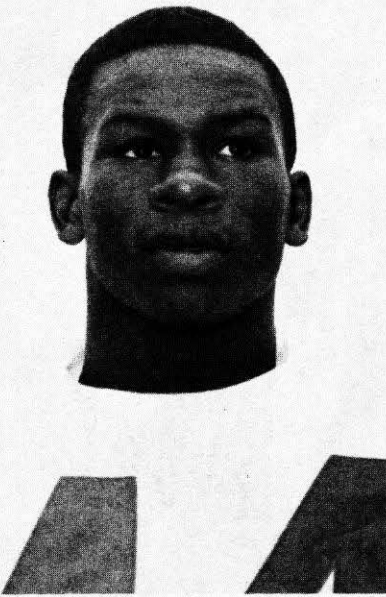

Coach Charlie Snyder will put 53 Marshall football players into battle tomorrow in a control-type scrimmage on the Old Main Intramural Field. This will be the fourth control-type scrimmage of spring practice and is scheduled to start at 9:30 a.m.

The Big Green football team was scheduled to hold its first regulation spring practice game last night at King Field in Barboursville. The 53-man squad was to be divided into Green and White units.

"By the end of this week we should be able to tell how inexperienced our younger boys are and whether they can fill the shoes of the graduated seniors on last year's team," said Snyder when asked how spring practice was progressing. "We are still too green."

In the scrimmage tomorrow, Snyder indicated he would start the same units that were expected to start in last night's regulation game.

Snyder said the White team would be as follows: ends — sophomore Ken Simpson and junior John Land on offense and sophomores Parish Coleman and King Queen on defense; tackles — senior Bill Bobbitt and sophomore Jim Preston on offense and sophomores Jim Maerker and Bill Murrell on defense; guards — sophomores Woody Seagraves and Jerry Rinehart on offense and junior Dennis Miller and sophomore Mike Keener on defense; center and linebacker — sophomores Paul Dotson and Lynn Dodd; backfield — senior Howard Lee Miller at quarterback and junior Andy Socha and sophomores Claude Smith and Tom McLaughlin at running backs will be made up of senior George Cyrus, junior Jack Rowe and sophomores Buddy Peaytt and Jim Heaton.

In last Saturday's control-type scrimmage, Snyder expressed happiness about the play of offensive ends Ken Simpson and John DeMarco, running backs Mickey Jackson, Claude Smith, and Jim Mandeville, linebacker Tom Good, and quarterback Howard Lee Miller. "These boys did pretty good but as a whole we still are too green and need more scrimmaging," remarked Snyder.

There was no scoring done by the first two teams against each other but the second team did manage finally to score a touchdown against the third team. This was the only scoring of the hour long scrimmage.

NEW COURSE SLATED

A new course, titled, "300 Recreation Swimming," will be offered by the Physical Education Department during the second term of summer classes.

The purpose of the one hour course which will be open to men and women is to develop skills in the use of small water craft and water related activities such as: scuba, snorkel, skin diving, water skiing, and other aquatic activities of a recreational nature.

Instructor for the course will be Frederick A. Fitch, professor of physical education.

Busy Weekend Ahead For MU Golf, Baseball, Tennis Teams

"We expect a real close match," predicted coach Buddy Graham. "They (Toledo) have a couple of good golfers back plus one or two up from the freshman squad." Expected to make the strongest showing for the visitors will be Bill Buss, a veteran swinger for the Rockets.

After downing Ohio U. and Dayton in its first two matches, the Big Green finished last in a triangular match against Ohio State and Bowling Green last Saturday at Columbus. "We had a lot of trouble with the soggy greens," said Graham. "It's colder up there and it takes the greens longer to thaw out than it does here."

Education Teachers Attend Conference

Four instructors from the Education Department will attend the Annual Spring Conference of the W. Va. Association of Higher Education held Friday at Glenville State College.

Those attending are: Dr. Woodrow Morris, chairman of the Education Department; Dr. Lawrence Nuzum, professor of education and director of secondary student teaching; Jack Jervis, assistant professor of education; and Thomas Hatcher, education instructor. They will discuss the problems of carrying on programs of student teaching with other W. Va. educators.

Graham praised the steady play of Joe Feaganes and Dick Shepard and indicated that he was pleased with the steady improvement of Pete Donald's game. Donald's 79 was the low score by a Marshall player in Columbus.

"We'll do alright against any of our opponents if we can get good games from either David Herndon or Bill Spensky along with steady performances from the rest of our squad," he added.

Marshall is now 2-2 on the season.
