Sidewalk Repair Work Under Way

REJOICE, STUDENTS! Perhaps the days of soggy shoes and wet feet are over. Repairs to MU's "sunken sidewalks" began before Easter and continued this week. One of the wettest spots on rainy days was in front of the Student Union (above). Workman poured concrete on the existing sidewalk, thereby raising the level of the walkway. Repairs to other famous "lakes" on campus were also in progress this week. (Photo by student photographer Dave Peyton).

Main Basement Is New Headquarters For IBM Computer

The University's computer has been moved to its recently finished headquarters in the basement of Old Main, across from the faculty mail room.

According to George Mendenhall, instructor of engineering, the computer was moved to the seven-room area last Thursday and was ready for operation Monday.

The area also includes space for the registrar's equipment, storage space, a room for future offices and a conference room.

The floor of the new area is raised to allow room underneath for the computers' connective cables.

The rooms on the first floor of Old Main where the computer formerly operated are now being remodeled. They will be used as offices by the new dean of students.

The area in the basement which formerly contained the registrar's equipment is being used to store transcripts and will serve as a registration area.

Ceremony To Mark Start Of New Building

Ground-breaking ceremonies at 11 a.m. Tuesday will mark the beginning of the end of Old Main Annex, the wooden building temporarily constructed during World War II.

The Annex will be torn down to make way for the construction of a seven and a-half story classroom and office building and a three-story music building.

The half-hour ceremony, to be held at the corner of Sixteenth Street and Third Avenue, will feature city and state dignitaries. Members of the faculty, students, and the public are invited to attend.

The classroom and office building will house the departments of art, speech, journalism, sociology, mathematics, history, and languages and will accommodate approximately 2,000 people. It will be connected to the adjoining music building by a student lounge.

The office building will feature escalators running up from the second through the sixth floors and a partially covered faculty lounge on the top floor. The remaining space will consist of separate faculty and student terraces.

Construction is estimated to take about two years and is to be financed under a Marshall building program authorized by the 1963 Legislature. A $5.7 million fund is being built by the retention of tuition fees.

Interested students and faculty members are invited to attend.

Committee To Probe 'Islands of Segregation'

By LLOYD D. LEWIS
Staff Reporter

Another motion involving campus racial segregation and a resolution requesting improvements at Marshall University Heights were the top items of business at the Senate meeting last Wednesday.

Sen. Rick Diehl, Huntington senior and author of several previous resolutions and motions dealing with the campus racial situation, quoted President Stewart H. Smith in his motion to set up a special committee for "educating the student body" in this area.

In a joint resolution, Senators John Hill and David Frost asked Dean of Men John E. Shay and Vice President of Business and Finance Joseph S. Soto to make three changes for the benefit of University Heights residents.

Other business included a motion by Sen. Somchai Sutikulphanit concerning student participation in the freshman orientation program. Also, three Student Court appointments were ratified by the legislators.

Diehl's motion reads as follows:

"Be it herewith moved that the Senate appoint a special committee to help meet the challenges to the student body presented in President Smith's address at the 1965 Leadership Camp, in which he said:

"Here is your opportunity to behave like adults by assuming responsibility in helping remove the islands of segregation that exist on our campus. If we are to achieve better human and social relations on our campus, you will have to take some initiative and provide some leadership and demonstrate some real maturity in this effort."

"Be it further moved that this committee will help meet the President's challenge by investigating methods of educating the student body in order to bring about effective changes of attitudes regarding racial, ethnic and religious groups that suffer as minorities on this campus."

In outlining his purposes, Sen. Diehl said, "This motion is not directed against the Greek system but is meant to meet the challenge by investigating the possibility of educating the student body in this area, if it is needed."

The measure passed with 16 senators voting for it and Sen. Rick Jackson, abstaining.

Here is the text of the Hill-Frost resolution:

"Be it hereby resolved that the Dean of Men and the Vice-President of Business and Finance be requested to effect the following measures on behalf of the students in residence at Marshall University Heights:

"1. Establishment of a less expensive arrangement in the procurement of activity cards for spouses of regularly enrolled students which would enable them to attend Artists Series and other programs, all 'home' athletic contests and other events to which an activity card holder is entitled.

"As an alternative plan, the purchase of activity cards by married students would be optional.

"2. Increase the number of maintenance men assigned to University Heights to a number commensurate with the number assigned to dormitories on the main campus.

"3. Review program of grounds maintenance to eliminate mud-

Honorary Degrees To Be Given

Gov. Hulett C. Smith and Miss Rosanna A. Blake will receive honorary doctor of law degrees during commencement exercises on May 30. Gov. Smith will also deliver the commencement address.

Miss Blake graduated Summa Cum Laude from Marshall and is a trial examiner for the National Labor Relations Board. She received the master of arts degree with highest honors from Ohio University and the bachelor of law degree from the University of Kentucky.

She was editor-in-chief of the Kentucky Law Journal from 1944-45 and in her senior year in law school was elected to the Order of the Coif.

Her professional career includes: attorney, Court of Appeals, 1945-47; attorney, Litigation Branch, Federal Power Commission, 1947-48, and attorney, Court of Appeals, National Labor Relations Board, 1948-62. In 1962 she became a trial examiner for the NLRB.

Miss Blake is a member of the Bar of the Supreme Court of the United States, the Bar of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, and the Bar of each of the eleven United States Courts of Appeal.

Nationally recognized as a historian, Miss Blake has the largest collection of Confederate historical books, pamphlets, newspapers, and other materials in the United States.

Special Education Receives $36,700

Special education majors at Marshall have been awarded financial grants by the federal government. According to Rep. Arch Moore, R-W. Va., the grant is being issued by the U. S. Office of Education.

An amount of $36,700 is being allocated. There are two graduate fellowships at the master's level for $11,200, five senior undergraduate scholarships for $18,000, and five 10-week summer school trainingships for teachers for $7,500 being offered. Winners will be announced soon.

CONFERENCE TO BEGIN

Approximately 200 high school students from throughout Southern West Virginia are expected to arrive on campus tomorrow for the Future Teachers of America regional conference. Highlighting the session will be a speech by Mr. Don Relev, former Hungarian freedom fighter.

Peyton's Portfolio

An Open Letter To Mr. Tucker

By DAVID PEYTON Parthenon Columnist

(Editor's Note: This is an answer to Mr. Charles Tucker's "Off-beat" column which appeared in Sunday's Herald-Advertiser.) Dear Mr. Tucker:

Your article in Sunday's Herald-Advertiser was most interesting. Many students here at MU have commented on the article and many think that the article is tongue-in-cheek. Many say that you are saying what many others are saying: That college students are wet behind the ears and the very thought of students deciding to drop mandatory class attendance is just about as ridiculous as children deciding not to drink milk or eat their spinach.

But you, Mr. Tucker, are a fellow journalist. Therefore, as a member of "the brotherhood of the press", here is one journalist who will say that perhaps you did not mean the column as a tongue-in-check slap against college students.

We were particularly interested in one paragraph of your column: "It is hoped that Marshall and other college students will, when they take the reins of running the world, evolve some system where none of us have to live by rules. They sure do cramp one's social, economic, cultural, and academic freedom."

There is only one fallacy in the otherwise true statement, Mr. Tucker. We know that man must live by rules. We learned that in sociology class—a class to which we wanted to attend and not because anyone made us.

You know, Mr. Tucker, someday your hands will, no doubt, become stiff and you will have to retire from the typewriter and from the profession altogether. And when that happens, I think you realize who will be the ones who "will take the reins of running the world." But we of this age don't have any wild dreams of a future free of fears and worry.

Right now, more than 6000 college students here at Marshall are preparing to be put on the hot seat of leadership—just as soon as they leave MU. We have already been approached with problems the world has never dreamed of in ages past.

In the future, not a day will go by that we won't have to make a judgment or a decision. We shall do it. The question is, shall we be ready for it?

I think you realize that someday, it will be our world—whether the older generation wants it to be or not. It will be ours to try and make better. And to do this will require a great deal of experimentation.

You know, Mr. Tucker, that just because a group of legislators sitting at a capitol building makes a rule, it doesn't mean that it is right. Rules made right after the Civil War in the South suppressed a whole race of people. Rules and regulations can kill as well as heal.

And so, as you no doubt realize, one generation asks for only two things: (1) The right to learn to make decisions, and (2) The right to make our own rules where we earnestly feel that need for change.

It's a new generation—a generation of youth to whom a world in a sad state of affairs has been given. And yet, Mr. Tucker, there are some who would say, "Here, you youngsters cure the ills of this old planet, but use these old ways to do it." We can't, Mr. Tucker, and I believe you know that.

It's a new generation—a generation that asks to be accepted as thinking adults and not as a group of kids that spend their time playing bridge at the Union and laughing at classes. We can't afford to do that, but what else is there to do when no responsibility is given, but held back until some time in "the great beyond?"

All we ask is that we may try our ideas now, here, today. And if we fail, the world won't crumble and fall. But, if we fail as a generation ten or 20 years from now, it may be a different story.

Do you know that there are some on this campus who feel that a "no mandatory class policy" is good and workable because they have faith in our generation?

Learning is more than playing games. It is practicing and discovering and succeeding and failing and trying again. We want to try something new—something different—something unique for Marshall U. If we succeed, we ask for no laurels. If we fail, we fail, and we shall admit we have failed.

Give us a chance to test our wings. Someday we'll have to fly and fly and if we fall, then perhaps the whole of the world will fall with us.

Letter To The Editor

(Editor's Note: The Parthenon welcomes letters to the editor. The Parthenon editors reserve the right to edit letters in accordance with the West Virginia laws of libel, good taste and space available.)

Dear Editor:

Well, it's spring and the sap is running and the birds are singing and the CIP is raising H ... about the KA's Old South celebration. [So what," you say. "Those CIP's are just a bunch of exhibitionists looking for an excuse to get their names in the paper," you might add. "What's so bad about Old South Weekend? KA isn't celebrating slavery, they're trying to show what a fine thing it is to be a southern gentleman, and how wonderful southern hospitality is. What is it that has the CIP's back up?"

No one in his right mind would be against being a gentleman, or against gracious living, or against southern or any other kind of hospitality. (And the CIP considers itself to be in its right mind.) The trouble is that the story does not end with this.

Being a gentleman, southern or otherwise, was (and is) a fine thing. The trouble is that most southerners are gentlemen only to each other. Gracious living is great, as long as one does not have to discriminate against and exploit an entire class of people in order to live graciously. Who's against hospitality? But why must that hospitality extend only to those who agree with you, or who are willing to compromise their principles?

The CIP is no more against the good things in southern society than is the KA Order, and if the KA's would come out as strongly against the evil in southern society as they do in favor of the good, the CIP would be proud to join them in their celebration, instead of opposing them.

Sincerely, ALAN L. MILLER Huntington Junior

Student Winners At Art Exhibition

Allied Artists of West Virginia has accepted exhibits from students and one teacher in the Art Department, according to Dr. Arthur S. Carpenter, department chairman.

Students who entered oil paintings were Sally Montgomery, Huntington graduate student, and Tom Richards, Huntington unclassified student. Miss June Kilgore, instructor of art at the laboratory school, also entered in the division of oils.

In graphics and drawings, Ruth Ettlting, Huntington, unclassified student, and Edward Hardman, Huntington junior, exhibited several pieces.

Vernon F. Howell, Huntington unclassified student, chose to exhibit in mixed media.

Howell won second prize in mixed media with his composition of "Fifty Fold."

Ruth Ettlting won a first in graphics. The title of her entry was "Cracking Tower," a woodcut.

The exhibition continued through April 10 at the Charleston Art Gallery.

Business Education Group To Initiate 5

Five new members will be initiated into Pi Omega Pi, the national business education honor society, at the spring banquet Saturday at Beverly Hills Methodist Church.

Following the dinner and initiation service, there will be a program of music and short talks my member graduates.

The Gamma Mu Chapter is also sending a newsletter to all members of the society since it began at Marshall in 1952.

Mrs. Irene Evans, associate professor of business administration, is the chapter's sponsor.

INITIATION SET

The Marshall chapters of Alpha Lambda Delta and Phi Eta Sigma, freshman women's and men's honoraries, will hold their annual initiation ceremonies and banquet in the Prichard Hotel's Huntington Room, Sunday, May 2, at 5:30 p.m. All active members and pledges are asked to pay the $3.25 meal cost to their respective treasurers immediately.

Three Students To Get Journalism Certificates

Three graduating seniors will be awarded Certificates in Journalism this June. Another student, Gary Kearns, was graduated in January.

KAY SAGE

Kay Sage, from Bluefield, has worked as staff reporter, society editor, and news editor of The Parthenon. At present she is editor-in-chief.

Her activities include Fourth Estate, the Journalism honorary, of which she was president last year and is corresponding secretary this year. She is past president of Sigma Kappa, historian of Fagus and was named to Who's Who. Last summer, Kay worked at the Huntington Publishing Company on the society section and as editor of the television section.

Kay is not certain of her future plans, but she would like to work in public relations.

Patricia Ann Austin, from Cedar Grove, has worked as staff reporter and news editor of The Parthenon.

She is a member of Fourth Estate, and since 1963, has been active in civil rights programs. She is past executive secretary of the Civic Interest Progressives (CIP), and is now chairman of that organization. In addition, she is acting chairman of Students Now for Action and Progress (SNAP).

Upon graduation, Pat would like to gain experience by working as a news reporter. Following this, she wishes to work for a newspaper, preferably in the Huntington or Charleston areas.

Robert Oney, from South Charleston, has worked as reporter and copy editor of The Parthenon. He has also been a lab assistant in the photography laboratory.

He has been historian of Tau Kappa Epsilon for two years and a member of Beta Alpha Mu, business fraternity.

Bob's future plans are tentative, but he is interested in the fields of management, advertising, and reporting.

Gary Kearns, from South Charleston, was graduated in January. He worked in the positions of news editor and managing editor of The Parthenon.

Gary is now working as a reporter on a Lynchburg, Va., newspaper.

Faculty Member Gets Grant-In-Aid

Dr. Ned D. Heindel, assistant professor of chemistry, has been awarded a grant-in-aid by the Society of Sigma Xi, national science honorary.

The $500 award has been made to Dr. Heindel to aid in his study of new synthetic methods for 1,4-Thiazines and 1,4-Benzothiazines of pharmaceutical interest.

Dr. Heindel explained his research as "trying to develop new methods to make compounds of known pharmaceutical interest."

This will include such things as improving the quality and market value of medicine to remove worms from dogs.

This grant, said Dr. Heindel, will cover his expenses, those of an assistant, and the cost of any equipment necessary. He has not chosen an assistant, but he explained that he probably will need one to help him with the research that must be completed by next January.

English Institute To Feature Wain

The second session of the Fifth Annual English Institute will be held at 7:30 p.m. April 29 in Old Main Auditorium.

Speaker for this session will be John Wain, English novelist, essayist, poet and critic. His subject will be "Signals in the Dark: The Range of Attitudes in Present-Day English Writing."

Students from Huntington East High School will present the one-act play "Impromptu" by Tad Mosel under the direction of Mrs. Catherine Cummings. This play won first place in the Marshall contest and top honors in the state drama competition at Morgantown.

All interested faculty and students are invited to attend.

PRESENT PROGRAM

W. G. Kearns, assistant professor of speech, and two students, Lynn Slavin and Jeff Cowden, presented a program for the Charleston Society of Women Accountants April 10 in the Press Club in Charleston.

Spring Weekend, the all-campus weekend, is just a week away. Tickets have been on sale all this week on campus and downtown at Davidson's Record Shop. Activities planned include: a concert, featuring Jay and The Americans; and a dance, featuring Marv Johnson, The Exciters, and The Vibrators.

A Square Dance is on the agenda for Sigma Kappa sorority tonight at the Varnum farm with Harry Mills doing the calling. Following the dance, there will be a hootenanny featuring the Troubadors, a folk-singing group.

Tomorrow night the Sigma Kappa's will have their Spring Formal at Spring Valley Country Club from 8 to midnight with the Collegiates playing. The spring pledges will be presented.

The sisters of Alpha Xi Delta will have a "Scavenger Hunt" tonight and then return to the house for an informal dance.

The Alpha Xi's will have their formal at the Hotel Frederick tomorrow night from 8 to midnight. Johnny and the Mystics will play.

Sunday the sisters will have a picnic at St. Clouds.

Alpha Chi Omega sorority will have a picnic followed by an informal tomorrow at Camp Mad Anthony Wayne from 6 to midnight.

Members of Tau Kappa Epsilon are having a house party tonight.

The brothers and dates will have a picnic at Carter Caves Sunday.

"April Showers" will be the theme of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority's formal tonight at the Hotel Frederick. The Bluenotes will provide the music.

The second semester pledge class will be presented at the dance.

The sisters will hold their Spring Retreat all day Saturday and Sunday at the house.

The brothers of Kappa Alpha attended a party with the Tri-Sigs last night.

The pledges and actives of Delta Zeta will have a slumber party. They will also decorate for their Spring Formal which will be held tomorrow night at Riverside from 8 to midnight. The Bluenotes will play and the DZ of the year will be presented.

Sunday the DZ's will have their annual Spaghetti Dinner in the Student Union from 4 to 7 p.m.

The sisters of Alpha Sigma Alpha are celebrating their first annual State Day tomorrow. It will be held in the Owens Illinois Club house. Chapter members from Glenville State College and Concord State College will attend plus all alumnae chapters in West Virginia.

There will be a slumber party for all active members at the sorority house Saturday night.

Rho Rho chapter of Alpha Sigma Alpha activated two pledges April 9. They were Donna Staley, Wayne junior and Nancy Leslie, Ceredo freshman.

Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity members will have a house party tomorrow night.

The brothers of Lambda Chi Alpha will have a house party tonight starting at 7:30 p.m.

Zeta Beta Tau fraternity will have an informal at Camp Mad Anthony Wayne tonight from 8 to midnight. The theme for the dance will be "Robin Hood."

The brothers will attend church as a group Sunday.

Alpha Sigma Phi actives and pledges will have a house party tonight starting at 8 p.m.

The Robe, men's honorary will sponsor a TGIF party today at 3 p.m. at Camp Mad Anthony Wayne. The party is open to the entire student body.

Faculty Considers Parking Problem

The report of the Physical Facilities and Planning Committee on the subject of paid parking for faculty and students was discussed at the April 15th meeting of the administrative cabinet. The report is now being referred to the general faculty for consideration.

The report states the inadequacy of existing parking facilities and also offers a list of 22 proposals for consideration. Although parking space has become available from time to time, the amount of parking space has not increased in proportion to the yearly increase in enrollment and staff.

The report states that at the present time, the parking situation does not constitute an emergency in so far as the staff is concerned. There is apparently somewhat of an emergency situation with respect to student parking at present, in that more than 300 students who have requested permits to park in lot F have been denied.

It is anticipated that the enrollment and size of staff will continue to increase to the point that the parking problem will become critical within the next few years unless some acceptable solution to the problem is found.

Under the now existing circumstances, it is not possible to provide adequate policing of parking and traffic on the campus, as no funds are provided for compensation of patrolmen.

Based upon the information presented to the Planning Committee by the administration in a meeting last year, the only alternatives to the problem are to institute a system of paid parking or to allow the parking situation to continue to deteriorate. The consensus was that paid parking constituted a possible long-range solution to the problem and a study of the factors involved in the establishment of a system of paid parking was made.

The sub-committee selected for this study was composed of Joseph S. Soto, vice president of business and finance; Walter C. Felty, associate professor of social studies; Charles S. Runyan, professor of education; and serving as chairman of the committee, Samuel T. Stinson, associate professor of engineering.

The 22 proposals set forth by the sub-committee deal with rules and regulations for the initiating of a paid parking system on campus. Some of the proposals are mentioned below.

The scale of payments for parking permits would be varied according to the location and desirability of the parking space. Priority as to the choice of parking space would be given to handicapped faculty and staff, handicapped students, and proximity of space to job site of staff members, in this order.

The assignments of spaces for faculty and staff would be made on a permanent basis, and all others would be made on an annual, semester or summer term basis.

Violations of the parking rules would be subject to fines and revocation of parking permit after the fourth offense.

The conclusion of the report suggests that if the proposals be adopted, the plan should be initiated on July 1, 1965, or as soon thereafter as may be practicable.

Play Tickets Now On Sale

Tickets for "The Pajama Game" are now on sale in the Speech Department office in the basement of the Science Hall. They will be sold from 1 to 4:30 p.m. Mondays through Fridays.

All seats will be reserved for the musical which runs May 5-8 in Old Main Auditorium.

All downstairs seats except two seats on each side aisle and four or five rows in the back will sell for $2.50. All seats in front of the aisle in the balcony will be reserved for the same price.

The remaining seats will sell for $1.75.

If tickets are bought in advance, special prices will apply to Marshall students, faculty, staff, parents of MU students, children, and public school students.

The special advance prices are $2.00 for the regular $2.50 tickets, and $1.00 for the $1.75 tickets.

All tickets sold at the door will be for the regular prices only.

The performance on May 8 is reserved for parents of Marshall students. Students, faculty, and parents residing in Huntington are encouraged to come on May 5, 6, or 7.

French Society Will Initiate 15

Fifteen students will be initiated into Pi Delta Phi, the national French honorary fraternity, tomorrow at 5:30 p.m. in the Hotel Frederick.

Dianne Hinkle, Huntington senior, Mary Ellen Golden, Huntington unclassified and Rebecca Williams, Bluefield unclassified, will also become members.

Following the initiation will be dinner and a program. The program will consist of the presentation of honorary members, guests, and members. Also, a panel discussion of the study of music in France will be conducted by Mrs. Mary Shep Mann, Mrs. Robert Shepherd, and Dr. Robert Wolff, all of whom studied music in France.

CHARLES LLOYD

Student Awarded Tufts Scholarship

Charles Lloyd, Huntington junior, has been awarded a National Defense Scholarship in French from Tufts University in Medford, Mass.

The scholarship will consist of $75 a week from June 24 to Aug. 8, a seven week period.

Charles Lloyd is one of 40 persons awarded this scholarship. All are undergraduate French majors who have completed their junior year, and who plan to teach in elementary or secondary schools upon completion of their undergraduate studies.

This is the first year that this scholarship has been awarded to undergraduate students. It has previously been awarded only to teachers and some graduate students.

Predictions are favorable this week in the Big Green golf circle as Coach Buddy Graham says his linksters will have a 7-3 record following the three matches scheduled this week.

"We've had some rough days so far but that win over Bowling Green Monday was encouraging. I think we'll win all our matches this week if we continue to play the same kind of golf," Graham predicted.

Marshall's record going into Thursday's triangular match with Morris Harvey and Marietta at Marietta was 4-3.

The Big Green clobbered Bowling Green last Tuesday 16-2, avenging an earlier 19-17 setback to the Falcons. Dick Shepard, Huntington sophomore, paced the Green linksmen with a blistering four-under-par 68, defeating BG's Pat McGohan, 3-0.

In an impressive team showing, George Somich, Allentown, Pa., senior, defeated Chuck Darnell 3-0, firing a 73. Joe Feaganes, Huntington junior; Bill Spensky, Weirton senior, and Dave Herndon, Man senior, all triumphed. Pete Donald, Huntington sophomore, tied Ron Whitehouse.

The Green will host Miami Saturday in a return match. The Redskins edged out Marshall 18-17 last Thursday on their home course.

"It's hard to beat Miami on their home course," Graham explained. "I think a home course advantage is greater in golf than any other game." This has proved true of Marshall. The Green has beaten three opponents in a row on their home grounds.

Tau Kappa Epsilon Continues To Lead Intramural Standing

By WOODY WILSON
Sports Writer

Tau Kappa Epsilon still leads the intramural point standings but runner-up Pi Kappa Alpha has closed to within 20 points.

Tau Kappa Epsilon has a total of 328 points while second-place Pi Kappa Alpha now has a close 308.

Pi Kappa Alpha won the intramural point standings last year by edging Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Third place in the point standings is still held by New Men's Dorm. They have a total of 290 points.

Sigma Phi Epsilon is in fourth with 259 points while Zeta Beta Tau has taken fifth place with 154 points.

Lambda Chi Alpha and Sigma Alpha Epsilon are next in the point standings with 145 and 114 points, respectively.

Marshall Thinclads At Full Strength

Coach Bob McCollins will take his Big Green track team to Morehead tonight for a duel meet with the Eagles.

It will be the first duel meet of the season for the Marshall thinclads, following appearances in the Kentucky Relays on April 3, and the Ohio U. Relays on April 10. The Big Green failed to score in the first meet, however, they did manage to grab a third place in the tripple jump and a fourth in the 880 relay in the OU event.

Sprinters Bob Bloom and Mickey Jackson missed the Kentucky meet and distance runner Gary Prater was forced to sit out the Ohio meet. All three should take part in tonight's dual meet.

Torrid OU Invades Big Green Today

By TIM MASSEY
Sports Editor

Marshall's baseball team, somewhat relieved after breaking a five-game losing streak, will jump from the frying pan into the fire today and tomorrow by hosting red-hot Ohio University at St. Cloud's Athletic Field.

Coach Alvis Brown's nine, behind the two-hit pitching of Mike Fullerton and Butch Newton, ended a win drought that began April 9 at Kent State by trouncing Morris Harvey 9-1 at Charles' on Tuesday.

Fullerton, who notched his second win in three starts, blanked the Golden Eagles for six innings, allowing only a single and three walks. Newton spilled him in the seventh and went the rest of the way, giving up a single and fanning five batters. The only run scored against the Big Green was unearned.

Third baseman Don Rockhold furnished the offensive punch for Marshall with a single, double and triple in four trips to the plate, accounting for two runs. In addition, the Parkersburg sophomore played errorless ball while handling five assists and stole a base.

The win gave the Big Green a 3-6 record on the season. All the victories have been against non-conference foes.

Powerful Ohio, which finished in a tie for first place in the Mid-American Conference last season, comes to Huntington on the wings of a four-game winning streak, including a double-header sweep over Notre Dame. The Bobcats are 10-1 on the season, dropping a 2-1 decision to Western Michigan in one of their two MAC starts.

Coach Brown indicated Wednesday that John Mullins would get the pitching assignment today. Tom Langfitt, who started the season at first base, will get the nod at shortstop in an effort to beef up the hitting attack at that position. Dan Hartley will remain at first base and Lowell Leach will replace Charley Yonker behind the plate.

Langfitt is 12th among MAC hitters with a .346 average, while Tom Patterson and Carl Nelson are 16th and 17th, respectively. Mullins is MU's leading conference hurler with a 3.24 earned run average although he has 0-3 record.

Green Netters Journey To EK

Marshall's tennis team will resume action on Tuesday when it travels to Richmond, Ky. for a match with Eastern Kentucky. Coach John Noble's netters will take a 1-1 record into the match.

The Big Green dropped their opening match 6-3 at Kent State, and then bounced back with an impressive 8-1 victory over Morehead on the Eagle's home court last week.

In the win at Morehead MU captured all six of the singles matches and added two of the three doubles matches to pick up their first victory of the young season.

Sophomore Craig Wolverton is Marshall's only undefeated singles player with a (2-0) record. Seniors Jim Wellman and Wayne Wookey, juniors Jim Hovey and Lou Sammons and sophomore Gary Jefferson have all broken even in the first two appearances.

Following Tuesday's encounter with Eastern the Big Green will open their home schedule with three matches in as many days, facing Morris Harvey on Thursday, Miami one week from today and Eastern Kentucky again on the following day. All home matches will be held on the courts next to Gullickson Hall.

1. Now that graduation's getting close, have you given any thought to the kind of work you'd like to do?

I want to work for The Good of Mankind.

3. Is it required?

It helps. And I'll certainly need a pair of sandals.

5. I'll be doing much the same thing. I've also lined up a job that affects society in a positive way. And if I do good, I'll move up, and my decisions will be even more important in the scheme of things.

But where's your beard? What about sandals?

2. I might have suspected.

I'll probably grow a beard.

4. What do you expect to earn?

All I ask is the satisfaction of knowing I'm helping to Build a Better World.

6. You don't need them in Equitable's development program. All you need is an appetite for challenge and responsibility, and the desire to do the best possible job. The pay is tops, too.

You know, I'm afraid a beard would itch—could you get me an interview with Equitable?
