Beta Alpha Mu Installed As Chapter In National Business Fraternity

By ROSEMARY FLAHERTY
Staff Reporter

Last Sunday, Beta Alpha Mu, professional business organization, was installed as Zeta Rho chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi, national business fraternity.

In a ceremony which took place in the Campus Christian Center, a group of 12 professional businessmen installed the chapter.

Some of the men were Robert S. DiMetteo, eastern regional director; Richard S. Holt, national field secretary; Frank A. Fazzalare, district director for West Virginia; and William F. Weinheimer, national vice president for alumni.

Marshall faculty members who participated in the installation were Dr. John B. Minick, chairman of the department of business and economics, and Neil Tucker, instructor in business administration. The ceremony was followed by a banquet at Young's Restaurant, where President Stewart H. Smith was a guest speaker.

The local chapter of Beta Alpha Mu was begun at Marshall in 1962, and it was founded with the intention of some day going national in Alpha Kappa Psi. It consisted of three classes of membership: active, honorary, and alumni.

The club was restricted to only those male students regularly enrolled in the Arts and Sciences college, who were majoring in business administration and economics. Honorary membership was given to men elected by the fraternity, but who at the time of their initiation were not full-time students.

Alpha Kappa Psi is the oldest professional fraternity in business. It was founded in the School of Commerce, Accounts and Finance, at New York University in 1904. Zeta Rho is the 140th chapter to be installed in a college or university in the nation.

Chapters of the fraternity are established only in schools and departments of business or economics of accredited colleges and universities, which confer degrees to be eligible for membership.

One of the objects of Alpha Kappa Psi is to promote the observance of high ideals and ethics by its members and in business. Its aims are, "to further the individual welfare of its members; to foster scientific research in the fields of commerce, accounts, and finance; to educate the public to appreciate and demand higher ideals therein; and to promote and advance in institutions of college rank courses leading to degrees in business administration."

Newly initiated officers in the fraternity are: Bill Wooten, president; Carl Schuler, vice president; Ed Elkins, treasurer, Mark Howells, recording secretary; and David Sherrill, master of rituals.

Other members are: Edward Mullens, Gary Rambacher, Ron Sommerville, John Wideman, Craig Wolverson, Phil Farthing, Jerry Phelps, James Heaton, John Rife, David Groves, George Wardell, Daniel Myers, Kelvin McDonald, Charles Krolides, Sam Samworth, Lee Gouteriez, Pete Skiades, Maro Kramer, John Suter, Mike Black, Joseph Soto, Bob Applehans, and Loren Cook. Grabel Patrick Adkins, who was absent for the initiation, will be initiated in September.

Faculty advisers for the new fraternity are Richard Zerbe, instructor of business administration and Ernest W. Cole, assistant professor of business administration.

Bill Wooten, president of the organization, stated, "It is a credit to the business department and the university that Alpha Kappa Psi business fraternity has decided to honor Marshall with a chapter of the fraternity."

New Coach Picked For Basketball

By TIM MASSEY
Sports Editor

Keeping a full football coaching staff at Marshall is becoming more and more like a crazy game of musical chairs. Every time Coach Charley Snyder thinks he has all the chairs filled, he finds that more are empty.

Just as the tentative appointment of Charles Chancey as an assistant had been announced, it was learned that end coach Bob McCollins and back coach Al Brown had resigned their positions.

"I don't have anyone in mind to fill the positions yet," Snyder stated Wednesday. "Applicants will be reviewed as soon as possible," he said, adding that he didn't plan any reshuffling of the present staff in the fall.

Although both outgoing coaches were primarily football assistants, they had to double as mentors in a minor sport. McCollins coached the track team and Brown is in charge of the baseball program.

McCollins has accepted the position of guidance counselor at Rutherford B. Hayes High School, Delaware, Ohio, for next year and plans to work on his doctorate at Ohio State University.

"I had to decide whether to stay in coaching or go into guidance. This is a good opportunity at a slight increase in salary, and I'll be only a 20-minute drive from a place where I can work on my doctorate," McCollins said, according to a story in the Huntington Herald-Dispatch.

A former Huntington High School performer and an All-Mid-American Conference guard at Marshall in 1956, McCollins joined the coaching staff last fall.

Brown, on the other hand, expressed his dissatisfaction with his role in MU's baseball program. "I felt it was impractical to have a real program under the circumstances." Every other Mid-American Conference school but one has a full-time baseball coach, and most of them have full-time assistants," Brown told the Herald-Dispatch.

"If you have a fair chance to compete, it's not bad. But when you don't, it's rough on the man having to try," he added. Marshall finished in the MAC cellar last season and is doomed for at least a tie for that unenviable position this season, having lost all 10 conference starts so far.

Brown, who indicated that he had no plans at the present time, came to his Alma Mater five years ago after coaching at Ironton, Ohio and Catlettsburg, Ky.

Chancey, a former Marshall graduate assistant with the football team, and more recently a successful high school coach at Pomeroy, Ohio, will replace Ed Prelaz. Prelaz resigned his position earlier this year to lighten his coaching burden.

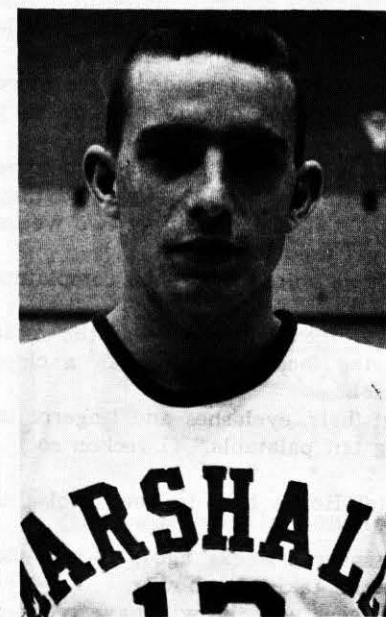

In another coaching change announced Tuesday, Jody Sword, a graduate assistant to the basketball team, was named to replace Sonny Allen as freshman basketball coach. Allen resigned his post following this past season to accept the position as head basketball coach at Old Dominion College in Norfolk, Va.

Non-Violent Group Director To Speak

James Forman, executive director of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) will be the main speaker on a program, at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Campus Christian Center.

Forman and other members of the SNCC Executive Committee will be on campus as a part of a weekend conference being coordinated by the Civic Interests Progressives and the State Youth Council of the NAACP.

Stanley Wise and Lafayette Serney, field secretaries of SNCC will speak tonight at 8 p.m. at the Ebenezer Methodist Church, 1637 Eighth Avenue.

Members of CIP hope to get two SNOC workers for the state of West Virginia this summer. A CIP-SNOC workshop will be held tomorrow at 10 a.m. at 411 1/2 Sixteenth St. to discuss plans for the summer.

Commencement Luncheon Host Will Be Dr. Stewart H. Smith

President Stewart H. Smith will host the annual commencement luncheon at noon, May 30, in the main cafeteria hall.

Among the honored guests attending the luncheon will be Gov. and Mrs. Hulett C. Smith, the Rev. and Mrs. Elmer E. Dierks, Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Hulse (Roxanna Blake) and Mrs. Blake, mother of Mrs. Hulse, the Rev. and Mrs. Woodrow W. Clark and Rev. William Villers.

Rights Group Studies Housing

The Human Rights Commission, appointed by President Smith last January, is trying to find housing facilities for students on a non-discriminatory basis.

According to John Shay, dean of men and chairman of the commission, next year's enrollment will be the largest in history. Dean Shay met with the City Human Rights Commission Tuesday. They discussed housing conditions and ways to combat the problems that arise.

Dean Shay said the Human Rights Commission has been concerned with three specific areas this year.

They are: establishing standards for housing; reviewing the findings of the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity episode; and establishing communication among the fraternities and sororities.

According to Dean Shay, the commission hopes to change the "campus climate of opinion."

In Dean Shay's opinion the commission needs to identify the nature of the problem and then find ways to change or make things better.

Gov. Smith will deliver the commencement address and he and Mrs. Hulse will receive honorary degrees from Marshall at commencement. Dr. Dierks will deliver the Baccalaureate Sermon and the Rev. Clark and the Rev. Villers will give the benedictions at commencement and baccalaureate.

In addition to the students and faculty members that will take part in the commencement exercises, the administrative staff and all retired faculty members or their widows are invited. Also, members of the Board of Education, Board of Public Works members, all members of the legislature and their wives and special guests of the President have been invited.

President Smith estimates that 150 guests will be present for the luncheon.

$39,000 Promised For Scholarships

The first results of Marshall's $300,000 scholarship drive are promises of $39,000 in advance gifts, according to Mr. John M. Sayre, director of development and alumni affairs.

These contributions, which will extend over a three year period, have come from only a part of those contributors to be contacted, Sayre stated.

According to Sayre, many more large companies and industries are being asked to contribute. Smaller business concerns, individuals, and alumni are also being solicited for funds.

Quid Probi 'In Campis'?

By LLOYD D. LEWIS
(Exchange Editor)

For our last column of the school year, we'll return to West Virginia University for a look at the dorm food situation: bad, as always. From last Friday's "Daily Athenaeum":

"An old controversy recently has flared anew on campus. The topic in question: Do students living in dormitories have a justifiable basis for their assertion that food served in dorms is of low quality?"

"Recent issue of the Daily Athenaeum have carried letters to the editor in which students have voiced opinions pro and con on the subject.

"In one letter, an irate coed blasted the 'wilted salads' and steaks with 'worm-like creatures' delivered from dormitory kitchens

"On the opposite end of the controversy, a letter appeared Wednesday which described the food as 'delicious' and lauded the quality of dormitory cooking.

"In the hopes of obtaining a better cross-section of opinions held by dorm residents, this reporter (Stu Burge) conducted a survey in Women's Hall, Terrace Hall and Boreman Hall. The results of the research are not only interesting, they show a considerable agreement of opinion.

"A random group of 50 students was interviewed and asked a series of questions concerning the food served them in the dorms. The questions and summaries for answers:

"Is the food served in the dormitory well-prepared? Seventy-four per cent of the interviewees said no, 26 per cent said sometimes, and 0 per cent said yes.

"Is the food initially of a high quality? Ninety per cent said no, 10 per cent said sometimes, while no one interviewed said yes.

"Is there a good variety of food from day to day? Fifty-four per cent said yes, 20 per cent said sometimes, and 26 per cent said no.

"Which meal during the day is usually best-prepared? Twenty-eight per cent said breakfast, 31 per cent said lunch and 20 per cent said dinner.

"Are there too many starchy foods served? Ninety-eight per cent said yes and two per cent said no.

"If you had a choice, would you continue to eat in the dorm? Ninety-four per cent said no, while six per cent said sometimes and no one replied with an unqualified yes.

"Should a system be set up whereby students living in dorms could eat meals elsewhere and not be charged for these outside meals in their fees? (Get this:) One hundred per cent said yes.

"It appears from the figures that dorm residents are more than slightly concerned with the present quality of food they are being served.

"It further appears that these students have not 'become accustomed' to the food as one letter to the DA suggested they would. Nor does it seem likely that in the remaining two weeks of this academic year they will get used to it.

"During the interviews, students voiced additional complaints not listed in the survey.

"Dissatisfaction with the cleanliness of dishes was the most often-heard comment. Dirt in the food, however, ran a close second in the complaint department.

"Students also reported that 'hair, eyelashes and fingernails' found in food makes it anything but palatable." (I reckon so!)

Marshall students, take note! Here's how to keep cool this summer:

"At 10 o'clock last night (several weeks ago), 18-year-old Mark Dubinsky had spent 28 hours taking a shower.

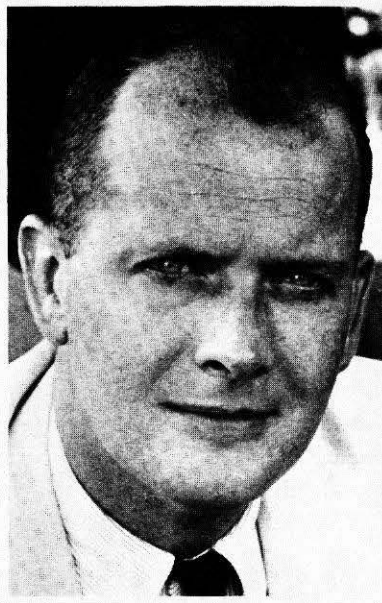

"By 11 a.m. tomorrow, if all goes well, he will have reached his goal of 65 hours in the shower at the University of Maryland's Phi Sigma Delta fraternity house.

"The stunt is the fraternities way of raising money for the university's charity organization, Campus Chest. For each hour Dubinsky spends in the luke-warm shower, the fraternity will donate one dollar.

"Dubinsky, a freshman from Silver Spring, Md., has not been alone during his ordeal. Another fraternity brother, Joel Wettstein, of New York, entered the shower with him at 6 p.m. Friday but was forced to drop out yesterday because of stomach cramps. Dennis Hurwitz, a sophomore from Baltimore, took his place.

"Dubinsky and Hurwitz, clad in bathing suits, pass the time playing with a deck of plastic cards and studying from textbooks wrapped in plastic bags."

Crazy kids! Tsk, tsk, tsk. What next!? We'll figure it out and see you in the fall.

JOHN SWEENEY

Sweeney To Talk At Alumni Dinner

John Sweeney will be the guest speaker for the annual Marshall Alumni Association dinner meeting. The dinner meeting will be held on Alumni Day, June 12, at 6:30 p.m. in the downstairs cafeteria.

Mr. Sweeney was recently appointed by President Johnson as the federal co-chairman of the Appalachia Regional Commission. Before his appointment, he was the assistant to the Under Secretary of Commerce and executive director of the President's Appalachian Region Commission.

He has held several similar positions with the government. He also served in the U.S. Navy for one year.

Mr. Sweeney has a B.A. and M.A. degree from Michigan State University in history. He also has a LL.B. degree from George Washington University.

Other activities for Alumni Day include a seminar, luncheon, business meeting and tour of the campus. The dinner meeting will be the concluding event of the day.

No Deposit Charge For Caps, Gowns

Caps and gowns will be issued to graduating seniors at the bookstore on Monday, according to Percy Galloway, bookstore manager.

In previous years seniors have had to pay a deposit in order to receive their cap and gown, but, according to Mr. Galloway, this procedure "is expensive to the student and extra work for the bookstore."

"This year," he said, "we are trying something different. No deposit will be charged—all we ask is a promise that each student will return his cap and gown."

Mr. Galloway added that if the new plan works and students cooperate in returning the caps and gowns, the same policy will be in effect for each graduating class. "This class has precedence," he said. "We trust them and if the plan works, it will be in effect for each senior class."

Inter-Fraternity Council Plans Program, Elects New Officers

The Inter-Fraternity Council has recently elected its officers for the coming year.

They are: Craig Westfall of Sigma Alpha Epsilon who is a Huntington junior, as president; Flem Evans of Pi Kappa Alpha and a Huntington junior as vice president; Tony Broh who is a member of Zeta Beta Tau and a Huntington sophomore as secretary, and Jeff Brown, Huntington junior and a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon as treasurer.

Journalism Coeds Receive Awards

Two members of Fourth Estate, women's journalism honorary, were honored with awards at the organization's annual Spring Banquet held Sunday.

Sherry Sage, Huntington sophomore, was chosen as the most consistent female reporter for her dependable and reliable work throughout the year. A sophomore from Oak Hill, Sherry Allen, was given recognition for having written the best single story during the year. Miss Allen's award was for the report of her interview with Van Cliburn.

Other Fourth Estate members who were honored for exceptional reporting are: Rosemary Flaherty, Huntington sophomore; Kathleen Six, St. Albans sophomore; Dottie Knoll, Pt. Pleasant sophomore; Jeanine Caywood, Pickaway sophomore, and Diane Melrose, Parkersburg freshman.

Also at the banquet, outgoing president Carolyn McDonel, Norton, Va. junior, initiated this semester's pledges into active membership in Fourth Estate.

According to Craig Westfall, "This new administration has as its purpose, to bring about a closer relationship between the Inter-Fraternity Council and the individual Greek organizations on campus."

Several tentative programs have been set up. Among these are (1) academic improvement program for fraternities; (2) increased scholarship fund for fraternity men; (3) revision of the Inter-Fraternity Council constitution and the revamping of the judicial board; (4) compiling a list of bands, places for banquets and dances, and members of the faculty and administration who would be willing to chaperone social functions; (5) a service project which will extend over a semester, with participation of all fraternities.

Westfall said, "The new administration wants to make the Inter-Fraternity Council an organization which will assist the fraternities in any manner and by means at its disposal. Until recently it has been a figure head organization which had done as little as possible for the fraternities."

DODRILL RESIGNS

David R. Dodrill, director of information and publications, has resigned and will leave Huntington June 1 to become news bureau representative of United Fuel Gas Company in Charleston.

Mr. Dodrill received his A.B. degree in history and political science from Berea College, Berea, Ky., in 1961 and his M.A. degree in journalism from the University of Iowa in 1963.

A native of Richwood, W. Va., Mr. Dodrill attended Richwood High School.

Dr. Robert Digman To Teach At A-B

Dr. Robert V. Digman, associate professor of chemistry, has been named chairman of the Division of Natural Science at Alderson-Broaddus College at Philippi, W. Va. Dr. Digman will assume his position starting the fall term.

MU Golfers Visit Ohio U. To Play In MAC Meet

Hicks To Lead MU Thinclads In Final Meet

Marshall's track team will join the Big Green's golf and tennis teams as they compete in the MAC Spring Meet today and tomorrow at Athens, Ohio.

Coach Bob McCollins' thinclads will be hoping to improve on their seventh place finish of last year. Other teams entered are host Ohio U., Miami, Western Michigan, Kent State, Bowling Green and Toledo.

Pole vaulter John Bentley and broad jumper Bob Bloom who scored MU's only points in last year's meet will be back for another shot. Both placed fifth in their specialities last year.

George Hicks, who has been Marshall's most consistent performer this season, is also given a chance for a place, but he will have to improve on his best jump of six-feet four and one-half inches if he is to compete with Kent State's Norm Curry, Miami's John Gehring and Bowling Green's Ken Bryant all of whom have cleared 6'6" or better.

Other MU participants who are expected to compete include Mickey Jackson, Arthur Miller, Gary Prater, Ellis Wiley, Earl Jackson, Steve Mays, Richard Dillon, David Hansen and Ken Cathell.

Western Michigan is the defending champion, however the Broncos will face a strong challenge this year from Ohio U. and Miami.

Some of the top contestants in the meet include Barry Sugden of Ohio U., who is favored in the 440 and 880, Western's Henry Williams and Toledo's Moses Newsome in the sprints and Miami's fine miler Rick Cunningham.

The Big Green golf team is in Athens, Ohio, today and tomorrow participating in the annual Mid-American Conference Spring Championships.

Coach Buddy Graham and his linksters left yesterday at 1 p.m. in order to make preparations for today's matches. The championships will consist of two 18-hole matches and from these events the individual and team champions will be decided.

The Thundering Herd will take a 12-7 record into the matches today and Graham feels that they should do very well.

Coach Graham stated that if the team played real well they have a chance to win despite the home course advantage of Ohio University. "Ohio has a good team," he said, "and with the home course to their advantage they have been labeled the favorites."

Graham also mentioned that Dick Shepard, Huntington sophomore, is a strong possibility to win the individual title.

Ohio's team has been led this season by Bobby Littler Jr. Littler, the son of the famous pro Bob Sr., is also in contention for the individual championship. Shepard, the Herd's number one man, has defeated Littler once this year while losing once to him on the Ohio home course.

Shepard, a sophomore, has led MU golfers during the past season. He has won 11 of 19 matches with one resulting in a tie. He has held the highest average on the team, sporting a torrid 73.2 for the season.

Co-captain Joe Feaganes has held down the second highest average on the team, shooting a 76.6. He led the team in the win-loss column, winning 14 matches, losing three and tying two. He also won the most points for the team amassing 56½ points.

Pete Donald, Huntington sophomore, was second to Feaganes with 50 points. Donald had a 76.8 average this season and he won 12 matches against four losses and three ties.

George Somich, a senior from Allentown, Pa., is playing in his last match as a Big Green linkster. Bill Spensky, Weirton senior, is also in his last match.

Somich is the other co-captain and will be a big loss along with Spensky to next year's team. George had a 76.9 average and won nine matches while losing eight and tying two.

Spensky also did a fine job for the Herd this season winning 12 matches and 48 points from his opponents. He lost only six matches and tied one in holding a 78.2 average.

Rounding out the squad is Dave Herndon, Stollings junior. He shot an average of 81.8 in winning eight matches this season against seven setbacks and two ties.

Marshall's tennis squad, ending its regular season with a 5-8 record, will be in Athens, Ohio, today to compete in MAC spring meet.

The Big Green netters will be led by two promising sophomores, Craig Wolverton and Gary Jefferson. Other members of the squad are Wayne Wookey, Jim Wellman, Lou Sammons, and Jim Hovey.

MU 9 CLOSES SEASON

The only ray of hope left for Marshall's baseball team this season is that it will have company in the Mid-American Conference basement.

The Big Green will face Miami of Ohio in its final two games today at 3:30 p.m. and tomorrow at 2 p.m. A sweep of the series would mean that Marshall and Toledo would be deadlocked for sixth place in the conference standings. But a loss in either contest would doom the Big Green to last place.

Marshall's overall record dipped to 6-17 Tuesday when Marietta College clubbed five Green hurlers in a 17-5 romp at St. Cloud Field.

Steps Explained For Registering

By PAUL SMITH
Staff Reporter

Students who did not register in advance for the fall 1965 term should pay particular attention to the regular registration procedure.

The student must first secure a request for registration permit form. He may pick up one from the Registrar's Office or clip out the one reproduced in the May 7 edition of the Parthenon. The form must be filled out completely and returned to the Registrar's Office between Aug. 20 and Sept. 1.

Otherwise the student will have to pick up a permit form from the Registrar's Office on Sept. 1. After submitting the form, the student will be notified as to which of the three dates he will report for registration. The time of day that he is to report will also be supplied.

Now the student will be able to register at his prescribed time as soon as he arrives on campus. Students should try to get schedules approved before May 20 or they will have to get approval early in September. Fees, tuition, etc. will be paid during the registration process.

2 Seniors Receive Graduate Awards

Two Huntington seniors have received graduate awards to continue their studies in political science.

Charles Ross has received an Andrew Mellon Fellowship at the University of Pittsburgh. The stipend is $2,500 plus the waiver of tuition and fees. He will be able to devote his entire time to his academic work.

Harry Kelly has received an assistantship-internship at the University of Tennessee. He will receive $1,500 plus tuition and fees during the academic year. The following summer he will work as an intern with the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies with compensation of $1,250. Recently he began studies in the field of social sciences.

MARCHING BAND

Students who wish to join the Big Green Marching Band for next fall should contact Howard L. Bell, assistant professor of music, in Music 110 before the semester ends. Advanced registration will be necessary to assure a place in the band.
